Disclaimer

The African American Legacy: The Carol Mundy Collection, 1794-2010 contains materials, graphics and artifacts that may be offensive and disturbing. Librarians and archivists strive to preserve this history in a sensitive manner, providing historical context and updating biased terms in metadata description. The University of Central Florida Libraries recognizes the description of digital and archival materials is an iterative and imperfect process and will continue to consult the misrepresented and underrepresented communities for updated language.

MAN AND HIS SHOES.

How much a man is like his shoes !
For instance, both a soul may loose;
Both have been tanned; both are made tight—
By cobblers; both get left and right.
Both need a mate to be complete;
And both are made to go on feet.
They both need heeling; oft are sold.
And both in time will turn to mold.
With shoes the last is first; with men
The first shall be the last; and when
The shoes wear out they're mended new;
When men wear out they're men dead, too !
They both are tread upon, and both
Will tread on others, nothing loth.
Both have their ties, and both incline,
When polished, in the world to shine;
And both peg out. Now, would you choose,
To be a man or be his shoes?
