deare [dear] Samuel [Samuel Carpenter] as to the [3^d^] [3rd] about the [p...] I know not that I thought of it since we settled the acctt [account] I know it depended upon my memory chiefly [chiefly] & [and] its [it's] now too late to search papers I rather choose to depend upon thy [your] book & [and] therefore allow it to thee [you] & [and] order thee [you] to Charge me with it in thy [your] book, but there is another thing I have often thought of & [and] yet always mist [missed] speakeing [speaking] with thee [you] about it but this gives me the opportunity of remembering it after our acct [account] [ink blot] was settled & [and] I Comn [coming] home running over things in my mind I cold [could] not remember I saw any beare [bear?] in the acctt [account] except it was included [included] in same of the general sum, [posted?] thither [there] of wch [which] I thought to desire thee [you] to enquire [inquire] lest there shold [should] be any error that way if thou [you] finds any Charge me [wch/wth] [which/with] if on my side & [and] give this as my ordr [order] to my expender [expenditure]

to allow it wth [with] consideracon [consideration] for want of it I have sent abig: [Abigail Pemberton] my wife telling me thou [you] art [are] neglected by reason of the maids [maid's] attendance on Jos: [Joseph] I desire let her not watch in the night for shee [she] then will be cast down & [and] so thou [you] mayst [may] ^[h...]^ sick [...] of one I am much tyred [tired] with writing this & [and] conclude thyne [yours] in true love
