Special Collections

Book Arts Competition Winners!

The University of Central Florida Libraries Special Collections Department is pleased to announce the winners of the 2005 Book Arts Competition. They are UCF students Carolyn Davis, Christina Ottenwalder, and Whitney Stanton. The competition includes an award of $250 for the winning entries, which will be added to the Libraries' Book Arts Collection. Check out Special Collections' Book Arts site for more information on the contest and winning entries.

You Are Invited to a Community Forum

How would you define community at UCF? How do you think we build community among people with diverse backgrounds? Join faculty, community members, and student leaders on Wednesday, February 22 from 3-5 pm in the Fairwinds Alumni Center, as they try to answer these questions. This forum is a spin off of the exhibit entitled "Connecting the Community: Maitland and Eatonville," that is on display through March 31 in the UCF Library.

Community Visions for the 21st Century will use the exhibit's reflections on the components of community building and inclusivity as a spring board to discuss and envision 21st century notions of community in Central Florida.
