Dr. Cheryl Green

Dr. Cheryl Green was a founding member of the School of Social Work and served as an Associate Professor in the School of Social Work and held many other positions in the school during her time at UCF. She received several faculty awards, mentored countless students and colleagues and was funded over $250,000 in grants for her research in the field of social work.

Dr. Cheryl Green was always on the alert to help family, friends and students. Her influence will long live to be felt by those who were encouraged, helped and cheered by her advice. She was a soul with infectious laugh and witty humor, constantly speaking words of encouragement and urging her colleagues to higher and nobler ideals. By her kindly disposition and selfless dealings with her associates, she endeared herself to all, the memory of which will be a worthy monument to her dedicated life.

Dr. Tee Collins

Dr. Tee Collins was a beloved professor in the College of Arts & Sciences and served as a mentor to numerous UCF students. Dr. Tee Collins, a Harlem native was the first African-American animator to establish his own studio in New York. He was best known for his creation of the character Wanda the Witch on "Sesame Street." His new animation aired in the first episode of "Sesame Street" in 1969 and carry over into the book "All About Sesame Street." Dr. Tee Collins received two international broadcasting awards for his work.

Dr. Tee Collins is also credited with creating the first animated black princess (Princess Nzinga) ever on video for his work on "The Songhai Princess."

The Joseph C. Andrews Mentoring Breakfast

Joseph C. Andrews (1939-2002) was a faithful UCF employee for 14 years. At his passing he held the position of Head of UCF Library Collection Management Department, in the Information Technologies and Resources Division. Joseph was dedicated to making UCF a welcoming and successful environment for all students in general and multicultural students in particular. His life embodied the spirit of this Mentoring Breakfast.

LEGACY~Leadership and Mentoring Program

UCF Black Faculty and Staff Association and the Office of Diversity Initiatives launched a leadership development and mentoring program in 2006 – LEGACY.

The LEGACY Program is an effort to increase retention and success, develop leadership, and assist students in reaching their personal, academic, and career goals by pairing underrepresented student of color, who are sophomores, juniors, and seniors, with a mentor at the University of Central Florida and/or the surrounding community.

If you would like to receive more information about the LEGACY Leadership and Mentor program, contact Kwame Walker at legacy@mail.ucf.edu or 407-823-6479.

The Black Faculty & Staff Association at UCF would like to say “Thank You” to the many individuals, departments, offices and colleges for supporting the Mentoring Breakfast. Your support is greatly appreciated and received.

CALVIN MACKIE, Ph.D.

President and CEO, Channel ZerO Group, LLC

Partner, Golden Leaf Energy, LLC

Chair, Louisiana Council on the Social Status of Black Boys and Men

Dr. Calvin Mackie is an award winning mentor, a former engineering professor, an internationally renowned motivational speaker, and a successful entrepreneur. His message as a mentor, speaker, and entrepreneur continues to transcend race, gender, ethnicity, religion, and time. After starting college in remedial reading because of weak SAT scores, Calvin Mackie earned a Bachelor of Mechanical Engineering from Georgia Tech and a B.S. in Mathematics from Morehouse College in 1990, a M.S. in 1992 and the Ph.D. in 1996 in Mechanical Engineering from Georgia Tech. He served on the Tulane University faculty from 1996-2007, where he received tenure and was promoted to Associate Professor in 2002. As a professional speaker, in 1992 he founded the Channel ZerO Group LLC (CZG), an educational and motivational consulting company and has presented to numerous civic, educational institutions and Fortune 500 corporations. Through his national and international travels and online mentoring presence, Mackie reaches millions of youths and professionals annually.

In 2008, Dr. Mackie participated in the inaugural class of Fellows in the Effective Leadership Program of the Center for Leadership and Public Values at Duke University and the College of Business of Southern University. In 2005, former Louisiana Governor Kathleen Blanco appointed him to the Louisiana Recovery Authority, the guiding agency to lead the state's rebuilding efforts following Hurricanes Katrina and Rita. Dr. Mackie was featured prominently in Spike Lee's HBO Katrina documentary, When The Levees Broke: A Requiem in Four Parts (HBO 2006) and it's successor If God Is Willing and Da Creek Don't Rise (HBO 2010). In 2004, President Bush awarded him the 2003 Presidential Award for Science, Mathematics, and Engineering Mentoring in a White House Ceremony. Dr. Mackie has received numerous other awards including the, the 2003 National Title One Distinguished Graduate for Louisiana, 2002 Black Engineer of the Year Award for College Level Educator, the Pi Tau Sigma/ASME Excellence in Teaching Award in Mechanical Engineering for 1999-2000 and 2001-2002. In 1996, he received a patent on a device to retrofit luggage stowbins on 737 and 757 Boeing commercial airliners.

In 2009, Louisiana Lt. Governor Mitch Landrieu appointed Dr. Mackie to the Louisiana Council on the Social Statue of Black Boys and Black Men.
