Dearely [Dearly]

beloved freind [friend] phebey pemberton [Phebe Pemberton] these few lines are to Informe [inform] thee [you] a litt le [little] how it has been with mee [me] sins [since] I saw thee [you] for I know thy [your] desires are to here [hear] of my well fere [wellfare]
It has been much [otheroies?] [otherwise] with mee [me] then [than] it was before when I met with so much excercise [exercise] of body which I gave thee [you] som [some] account of so that I have hope I shall, ^not^ bee [be] as I was before [page tear] It is now fife [five] weeks wanting one day or too [two] ~~which gives~~ sins [since] I perseved [perceived] my self [myself] to bee [be] quickned [quickenened] [pregnant] which gives mee [me] som [some]
In cordyement [encouragement] and hops [hopes] that I shall not be as before deare [dear] phebey [Phebe Pemberton] I greatly want thy [your] company and assistanc [assistance] [page tear] my [me] thinks [methinks] [I think] I see my Los [loss] more then [than] Ever [daly?] [daily] more and more and thy [your] motherly advise [advice] would be a great comfart [comfort] to mee [me] pse [please] Let mee [me] here [hear] from you as often as you can conveyantly [conveniently] for it will bee a great comfart [comfort] to mee [me] to here [hear] often from you but more to see you, deare [dear] freinds [friends] I have writ [written] 2 letters [letters] before these and mist [missed] the opertunaty [opportunity] my deare [dear] Husban [Husband] writs [writes] to you now and gives you a more ful [full] account how things are upon his account, my deare [dear] Love to you both, feare well [farewell] yours [your] Dutyful [dutiful] Child Mary Bowne
