Talk Sexy to Me:

How Gender Influences Conflict and Negotiation Processes and Outcomes AND What You Can Do To Overcome Disadvantages

As part of the Academic Affairs Diversity Taskforce Diversity Speaker Series, Dr. Amanda Main shares the theoretical underpinnings of why men and women behave so differently in the workplace, what outcomes we are seeing from this reality, and what women can do to increase their effectiveness in these difficult situations practically and easily.

Finally, all participants will receive an electronic journal to track their own progress in identifying and making desired changes toward being a more effective conflict resolver and negotiator.
