WHAT'S GOING ON

Reflections Caught on the Mirror of Sanford Life Today

(A Weekly Feature)

Novices to the number of thirty-three will cross the burning sands to become members of the Shriners when the ceremonial is held here Wednesday.

Work on the memorial fountain and flag pole at the municipal pier under construction now will probably be finished by Armistice Day, on which day the American Legion will dedicate the pole. Final plans decided upon for the celebration include a parade, boat races, a football game, and other features.

The Department of Agriculture's plan of lending money to farmers made destitute by the hurricane in Southern and western Florida is so wound up in red tape as to be practically worthless. The farmer must prove his neediness, sign notes for the fertilizer and seeds secured, which places another burden on unfortunates already overburdened. Why not give the seed to them?

The Sunday issue of the Times, on which the writer has some authoritative "inside" dope, will be a surprise to the most ardent supporters of the city's morning "sheet." Look out for it.

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, with L. C. Bebout as secretary, and prominent men from all over the county working for it, is fast developing into a result-producing organization.

Merchants of Sanford are showing whole-hearted co-operation with the Shriners in decorating for the coming ceremonial and in other ways. Should there be any dark spots in the colorful line of shops, however, the negligence will

SHRINE CEREMONIAL

The Sanford Shrine Club has arranged with Morocco Temple of Jacksonville, Florida, to hold a Shrine Ceremonial in Sanford Wednesday, October 20th, and the following program will be started Tuesday, October 1th at 8 P. M.:

Band Concert by Sanford Municipal Band in front of Armory on Hood Ave., from 9 to 12.

Street dance, music furnished by Seminole Syncaptors, from 12 to 2 A. M.

Midnight show, Honey Bunch Musical Co. at Milane Theatre.

Wednesday, October 20th, Shrine parade at 11 A. M. Immediately after parade exhibition drill by Morocco Temple Patrol.

Luncheon at noon for Nobles and their wives.

First section of Ceremonial at 2 P. M.

Boat ride on Lake Monroe for ladies at 2 P. M.

Band concert by Morocco Temple Band at 5:30 P. M.

Shrine dance at 9 P. M.

reflect most on the store failing to "dress up."

Walking down First street one day last week an apparently new building struck our eye. 'Twas the Princess Theatre, in a new stucco coat. "Atta boy, Mr. Tectel!"

An epidemic of matrimony in its most acute form seems to be sweeping the newspaper offices of the city. There is apparently no way of obtaining immunity.

The new packing house of C. C. Fosgate and Company at Forrest City is more than an indication of the fact that Seminole county is expanding rapidly agriculturally.

A new committee at the Chamber of Commerce is working on a program for tourist entertainment. Good stuff!

That cold spell last week certainly fooled us.

The action of the police department in designating express and stop streets will prevent a lot of needless accidents. Enforce it rigidly, or it is worse than useless.

The first annual lawn fete given by the ladies of All Souls church drew a tremendous crowd Wednesday night. Miss Irene Brandt was awarded a diamond ring as the winner of the popularity contest.

The arrival of a physical director for the local Y. M. C. A., expected this week, should give great impetus to the work of this body.

KIWANIS CONVENTION

Local Kiwanians are making preparations to attend the State convention to be held at Lakeland October 25 and 26. The local organization will no doubt make as fine a showing as any other attending.

NO FENCE LAW

Marion County will put into force the no fence law on January first. The no fence law means that all cattle must be fenced allowing farmers to have their farms on the open highway without any fences. Such laws have to be local option laws or county laws since Florida legislature has never seen fit to pass a state wide law fencing up the cattle.

SEMINOLE COUNTY FORWARD

"Seminole County—Forward," will be the slogan of the re-organized Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, which started a big program this week. L. C. Bebout, secretary of the organization stated that it will be the aim of the Chamber to have Seminole county and its resources stamped on the minds of prospective home seekers and investors in all sections of the United States and the sister nation of Canada.

"Seminole County," said Secretary Bebout, "can easily become the center of attraction for those contemplating a sojourn in Florida. Seminole's ideal location, its climate and fertility of its soil place it on par with any county of the state, and we have every opportunity to offer the investor or the homeseeker that any county in any other state in the Union, has to give its new settlers.

"We are entering on a progressive era, and Seminole county will take front rank among the really substantial counties, because of our facilities for industrial and commercial development, our exceptionally fine lands for cultivation and the raising of poultry and livestock. Seminole county—forward means that we are to advance in every phase of our activity, because of our far-sighted and progressive citizenship, our natural resources and our desire to supply a variety of products to the great market centers, as well as give a hearty welcome to those desiring to settle in a county where life is pleasant the year around, where the environment is exceptional for the rearing of children, and the opportunities are for the making of a comfortable living.

"The banks of our county show that the forward movement is on, as their deposits and resources are increasing steadily. This is the barometer of business. When the financial institutions of a county show steady gains, the fact is paramount that the farms and business enterprises are progressing.

"In increasing our population, we have in mind the welfare of the energetic and progressive residents already within our county, our primary purpose being to make our ideal acres produce, to establish industries which will hum with activity of manufacture, and bring new business enterprises which will give us a greater variety of the necessary things of life without having to call so often on our sister counties and other states for our daily needs. 'Seminole County—Forward' will be the keynote of our activities."

New industries are being attracted to Florida now by the great development of high tension electric lines in all parts of the state. This idea of continuous current day and night in any part of Florida means that industrial plants can have a cheaper and better current for power and lights than a small plant can hope to obtain. It means a bigger and better Florida in every way.

AN ERROR

Through typographical error the telephone number of the Blue Bird Beauty Shoppe was wrongly given in last week's issue. To make appointments you should call 349-J and receive the well known courteous attention of Mrs. Tucker or Mrs. Wagner.

The largest swimming pool in the West was built at the Pickford-Fairbanks Studio for certain scenes for "The Black Pirate." It holds 700,000 gallons of water.

There are six principal villains in "The Black Pirate," and one beautiful Princess. Billie Dove plays the Princess, and the villains are San de Grasse, Donald Crisp, Anders Randolph, Charles Stevens, Charles M. Belcher and Roy Coulston.

AMUSEMENT SECTION

THE WEEK IN LOCAL THEATRES—NOTES FROM STAGE AND FILM

THIS WEEK AT THE MILANE

A roistering tale is "The Black Pirate" at the Milane theatre Monday and Tuesday, a glorious riot of adventure. To the colorful exploits Douglas Fairbanks and a pirate crew has been added the most perfect Technicolor yet flashed upon the screen. Colored pictures, no doubt about it, are here. "The Black Pirate" proves that it can heighten, instead of distracting from, the vividness of a thrill!

Never did more villainous crew board the peaceful merchantman than that headed by Douglas Fairbanks. With a gay "yo ho" and a muttered curse, he takes us back to the old dark days when buccaneers sailed the Spanish Main.

Treasure chests in secret hiding places, sparkling water and gray sky, these are the background for a swash-buckling adventure story. Then there are alarms, and excursions and gallant, incredible rescues.

And there is Doug, too, in a part he must have loved. When he's not skimming up the rigging he's fighting duels, swimming through green-blue waters or taking a vessel single handed. That exploit, of course, is the very essence of Fairbanks. Swarming up the slippery sides, he is a pirate crew in himself. He does every one of the magnificent, unbelievable things that little boys dream of.

This picture, besides being the world's first exquisite color film, is one of the greatest pictures ever produced, fit to be ranked with "The Birth of a Nation." To show what pains were taken to secure realism, it is necessary to know that the casualties occurred while "The Black Pirate" was being filmed were the heaviest ever recorded in a Fairbanks production. "Doug" suffered a broken rib; Ted Reed, production manager, a broken shin bone, and Roy Coulson, pirate, had a sword run nearly through the Achilles tendon of his right leg; while Donald Crisp suffered a dislocated finger while firing a vintage of 1600 pistol.

"It's no gentle business, this thing of playing pirate," said Fairbanks.

"The King on Main Street," "The Grand

Duchess and the Waiter," "A Social Celebrity" and now—"The Ace of Cads." Every one of them a long time coming but each well worth waiting for! Why? Because of Adolphe Menjou, king of sophisticated comedy and newly appointed "Ace of Cads."

Adapted by Forrest Halsey from Michael Arlen's story, "The Ace of Cads," arrives at the Milane on Thursday. The picture is noteworthy because—

It serves as Luther Reed's first directorial assignment. Paramount is lucky to have recognized this "comer" before any of its competitors.

Performances of all the players, Alice Joyce, Norman Trevor, Philip Strange and Suzanne Fleming included, are far above par. Miss Fleming, said to have been discovered by Men-jop himself, joins the ranks of Ziegfeld girls on their way to-screen eminence.

The story as it has been handled is a thing of absorbing interest. Colorful to an extreme, the action covers a period from 1906 to the present year. Scenes take place against backgrounds provided by Paris, London, the World War and an English Guards regiment.

Briefly, "The Ace of Cads" was a man who had one great love. The passage of time, the frailty of human nature or the horror of poverty could not kill it. Imagine this if you will and then think of Menjou as the lover. Superb—that's the word.

Every coroner wears a silk hat, as does Raymond Griffith in Paramount's "You'd Be Surprised," which comes to the Milane theatre Friday.

But—never was there such a coroner as Ray! He is very much annoyed because of being asked to solve a murder mystery while on his way to the theatre. Two expensive tickets are burning holes in his pocket and he has only twenty minutes before curtain time.

As a result of the complications hinted at, "You'd Be Surprised" is Griffith's cleverest comedy—while at the same time containing enough thrills to satisfy the most ardent lover of Conan Doyle situation. Your spine will tingle at the picture's mystery. Then—at the next minute you'll be laughing—trying to solve it.

Dorothy Sebastian, the girl in the case, is "in" it right up to her neck, as are Earle Williams and Edward Martindel. Director Arthur Rosson deserves credit for having taken Jul Furchman's story and given the screen something distinctly new.

Incidentally Griffith has made a special request to those who see the picture. "Don't tell your friends who the real murderer is. This will keep "You'd Be Surprised" a real mystery right till the very end—at which time the amazing solution is finally unfolded."

In Warner Bros.' production of "Across the Pacific," directed by Roy Del Ruth, coming to the Milane theatre next Saturday, Mont Blue plays one of the big, two-fisted he-man roles

LITTLE PICTURES FROM SOCIETY THE FASHIONS

Bridge luncheons and evening card parties continue to feature the local social calendar, numerous society leaders entertaining delightfully in this manner during the past week.

Outstanding among the many bridge sessions held was the meeting of the Duplicate Club at the lovely home of Mrs. Hawkins Connelly on Wednesday evening. Light refreshments were served following several interesting progressions.

A distinctly out of the ordinary program was held at the Woman's Club Wednesday when the literature department of the organization played host at a realistic and colorful Japanese tea party, costumes and decorations beautifully carrying out the general scheme.

Stenciled leather of soft tan with irregular darts in red is the unusual material used for one of the sportiest of Fall coats. The lining is half nutria with the length finished out in plain leather.

Coming as a surprise to the many friends whom he has acquired during his rather short stay in the city, the wedding of Daniel A. Sheehan, circulation manager of The Sanford Times, to Miss Mary Clyde Phillips, lovely Tampan, was announced last week.

The Sisters Bridge Club was delightfully entertained Wednesday evening at the cozy home of Mrs. S. M. Wiggins on Magnolia avenue.

Miss Lillian Shinholser, attractive bride-elect of Earl Edward Jones, was the guest of honor at a pretty party given Friday evening by Mrs. T. W. Williams and Mrs. R. L. Griffin at the home of the latter.

Mrs. Brooks White of Jacksonville, prominent in D. A. R. work throughout the state, was pleasantly entertained by Mrs. John Leonardi at an informal party on Saturday afternoon.

The silhouette of the hour, wider in the upper portion with perfectly straight lines for the skirt, is exploited in one of the most popular of negligees designed by Paris modistes.

The St. Agnes Guild held one of their most interesting meetings of the year on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Chris Matthews on Elm Avenue.

The Gude Tyme Bridge Club was entertained on Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Verne C. Messenger at her lovely home on Myrtle Avenue. Mrs. T. D. Inabet was awarded a late novel for holding high score.

Ladies of the community are preparing a cordial welcome for the wives and sweethearts of Florida Shriners who will accompany Nobles here on Wednesday for the Shrine Ceremonial.

NOW SUZANNE KNOWS THAT MOVIELAND IS FAIRYLAND!

How would you like to have a gentleman take you to the most exclusive, expensive shops on Fifth Avenue, New York, and buy you about two thousand dollars worth of clothes?

(This question is addressed to all girls who have ever said, "Gee, I wish I had a new dress.")

How would you like it? Especially if this gentleman had you try on the dresses and then, if you liked them and he liked them, would buy them without even asking the price?

That's what happened to Suzanne Fleming. And she's no "Peaches" Browning, either.

Suzanne was equipped with half a dozen complete costumes, from stockings to evening capes recently. The nice gentleman who bought them for her was H. M. K. Smith, costume director at the Paramount Long Island studio, where Suzanne, the newest motion picture "find," played the ingenue role in Adolphe Menjou's starring picture, "The Ace of Cads."

Suzanne, 18 years old, was picked by Mr. Menjou from a tableau in the Ziegfeld American Revue to play her first screen role in "The Ace of Cads," and three days later she was acting before the camera, her big blue eyes still wide with surprise. It all came so suddenly that it was "just one big, three-day thrill," to use Suzanne's own words. But ask her what part of it was best—that is before she found herself the object of Adolphe Menjou's most amorous screen attention—and she'll tell you that it was having Mr. Smith buy her the clothes she wears in the picture.

Philadelphia will have a squadron of air police to stop stunt flying over the city. Twenty years ago Kissimmee passed an ordinance to take care of airplanes and it caused much merriment among the newspapers.

Fifty-nine contracts for road construction in this state were let by the State Road Department between January 1 and August 13, 1926, according to a current issue of Florida highways, the department's official publication.

The Florida National Egg Laying contest starts at Chipley on November first. Florida counties are getting ready for the big contest and many of them are making special arrangement to be there. We can now look for the farmers in West Florida to start their hens laying eggs by electricity on a twenty-four hour shift.

The building permits issued so far this month in this city amount to $32,227.

Chamber of Commerce Activities

Aims of the Chambers of Commerce representing Sanford and Seminole County, respectively, were discussed at the weekly luncheon of the Sanford Chamber Friday at the Seminole Cafe. Hearty cooperation between the city and county organizations was promised and the support of the members of the city Chamber and Sanford residents generally, was asked in the county-wide work which is being taken up by the reorganized county body.

During the discussion, Mayor Forrest Lake asked for information on the amount of millage levied by the county for the support of the County Chamber of Commerce, and was told by County Commissioner E. H. Kilbee of Geneva, who was in attendance at the meeting, that two mills was levied last year for this purpose.

Mr. Lake also brought up the matter of the disposition of the money collected for the purpose. He was told by R. J. Holly that the funds would be expended by a board of directors, selected from various parts of the county, and that all bills would be approved by the Board of County Commissioners. While no particular section would receive money from the fund, all would share equally in the publicity and development work of the County Chamber. Support of the County Chamber by the people of Sanford was asked.

County Commissioner Kilbee asked that the people of Sanford give the commissioners their good will and cooperation, rather than their criticism, in the work that is before the board, stating that the board has the interests of the entire county at heart and could do nothing without the friendship of all the people.

R. J. Holly was asked to give the members the information which he possessed on the prospect of bringing a big league baseball team here for spring training next year. He said there already has been correspondence with the St. Louis and Boston teams of the National leagues, the Rochester team of the International league and the Indianapolis, American association team. The manager of the Indianapolis team is expected here soon to look over the ground.

Mr. Holly said another letter is expected soon from Rogers Hornsby, manager of the St. Louis world champions, in the matter of that club training here. He made it clear that Sanford is not offering a bonus to any of the teams, offering only the best baseball park in the state, cooperation of hotels and a good baseball town.

Fred T. Williams, county engineer, made a report on the condition of the various road projects in the county, saying that the work is progressing in a satisfactory manner, several important roads having been completed or near completion.

President E. A. Douglas introduced J. C. Morris, scout executive of the Central Florida Scout Council, who brought greetings from boy scout officials, and asked for support of the local work.

Secretary E. J. Trotter of the Chamber asked for more regular attendance on the part of the members, and requested the cooperation of the various civic clubs of the city.

in which he has gained such wide popularity. The whole picture reflects his enthusiasm.

Before it had been three days in production, that certain subtle that presages a masterpiece was in the air. Frankly, it was turning out bigger than any one had expected. In the first place, its theme is one of national interest and historical importance.

Adapted from the Charles D. Blaney story by Darryl Zanuck it tells with dramatic emphasis and sympathy the story of a Southern boy, divested of his estate and sweetheart, who enlists for the Spanish-American War. The greater part of the action part of the action occurs in the tropical setting of the Philippine Islands, where he is instrumental in ending the heroic insurrection of Aguinaldo.

Scenes of camp and campaign life alternate with his fight against the climate and the advances of a native girl to whom for strategic reasons he must finally make love in the face of his late betrothed.

CHURCH NOTES

METHODIST

There will be a Sunday school Training School held in Orlando next week from Sunday until Friday. At this time all who are interested in doing special work and getting certificate of credit in Sunday School training may do so with little trouble and expense. During the following week there will be a similar school held in Deland and it is hoped that many of our people will take advantage of one or both of these schools.

Miss May Chapman carried her Sunday school class of girls on a picnic to Palm Springs on Thursday evening. She was assisted in entertaining by Miss Mitchell and Mr. Sturdivant. The girls reported a fine time, even if it were a little too cool for bathing.

Mrs. B. E. Clark has taken charge of the Junior League, much to the delight of the children who have become so fond of Mrs. Clark during the story hour at the library. The meeting time has been changed to Tuesday afternoon, immediately after school, at the church. In another week the Sunday school rooms will be ready for use, but until that time the Junior League will meet in the Intermediate League room.

We had a splendid attendance at Sunday school last Sunday, which was Promotion Day. The work done by the Junior and Primary grades was unusually good and it was an inspiration to see how proud the little folks were of the recognition given them by the Sunday school and their department superintendents.

Dr. W. A. Cooper will preach for us Sunday morning. Dr. Cooper has filled the Sanford Methodist church pulpit before many times and those who have had the pleasure of hearing him on those occasions know what an eloquent speaker he is. At this time Dr. Cooper is the executive secretary of the Hospital Commission of the Florida Conference, which is one of the most important positions of our church.

CONGREGATIONAL

At a recent meeting of the Ladies' Union of the Congregational church it was voted to build at once a new garage to correspond with the parsonage at 811 Palmetto Avenue.

On October 23 there will be a sale of home cooked food by the ladies of the Union.

December 10 and 11 have been set aside in the calendar as the days for the Church Bazaar. Various committees have been appointed to handle the supper, decorations, publicity, and the Christmas book.

Because of the rapidly growing number of pupils in the Church school since the Closely Graded System was adopted it has been necessary to use every room in the Church and every room at the Parish house, even to the back porch. The old tower room has been fitted out as an office for the use of the superintendent and secretary of the school.

High School Days

A Weekly Feature By HELEN MARENTETTE

We were not as fortunate in football Saturday but at any rate we can say that our team played fair and square. Our captain was hurt and it surely was a handicap, as he made our only touchdown. We hope he will be in condition to play next Saturday against one of our bitterest rivals, Orlando. It promises to be a very good game and there should be a good attendance from both the students and the citizens. We have three new additions to the team. It is not certain that they will be able to play Saturday as they came in after the list had been sent to the Athletic Association and special permission must be given.

Quite a commotion was caused in Chapel on Wednesday morning when Mr. McKay announced there would be no school Friday because of the Teachers' Convention in Orlando. We do feel sorry for the poor teachers. This is one time they'll be working while we're playing.

The pep meeting in Chapel Friday night was quite a success except the Freshmen boys would not sing the school song. We advise the Freshman boys to learn it 'cause they'll have very little peace until they do. Come on Freshmen' show 'em you can.

Melvin Barnes, George Mitchell and Edward Anderson will represent Sanford at the "Older Boys' Conference" in St. Augustine Saturday and Sunday.

The soccer game Wednesday between Sanford and Groveland was the first ever played by Sanford here. To many of us it was the first we had ever seen and it proved to be a very fast game, full of action.

The officers of the Senior and Junior classes were elected last week. For the Seniors, Bill DuBose, president; Louise Thrasher, vice president; and Ruth Henry, secretary and treasurer. For the Juniors, Pearl Robison, president; Henry Russell, vice president; and Elizabeth Brown, secretary and treasurer.
