Phineas, your horse I sent to John's care & was worth before I sold him & am so that winded with my wife's and in your hand better than formerly, altho I have been out of order & with some more work when I should have & good as new, whether then you let me have the horse to Affair & some while I stand for I should bring you more back if I have had the horse to afford I would take things with me from my life to Affair if not I will take I have some good the day to put my wood in & my not our words are in the day no more but that I am thy friend
