

1678-02-05

Roger Longworth, Ann Harrison, James Harrison, Phebe Pemberton, and Phineas Pemberton, February 5, 1678

Roger Longworth

PRINT Identifier: 15795

 Part of the Archival Science Commons, and the History Commons

Find similar works at: <https://stars.library.ucf.edu/printmigrationnetwork-pemberton>

University of Central Florida Libraries <http://library.ucf.edu>

This Correspondence is brought to you for free and open access by the Quaker Correspondence at STARS. It has been accepted for inclusion in Pemberton Correspondence by an authorized administrator of STARS. For more information, please contact STARS@ucf.edu.

Citation

Roger Longworth, Amsterdam, Netherlands, to Ann Harrison, James Harrison, Phebe Pemberton, and Phineas Pemberton, Bolton, Lancashire, England, 1678-02-05, vol. 1, pg. 75, Pemberton Family Papers, 1641-1880, 0484A, Historical Society of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, PRINT, 15795, <https://stars.library.ucf.edu/printmigrationnetwork-pemberton/58/>.

This Correspondence is brought to you for free and open access by the Quaker Correspondence at STARS. It has been accepted for inclusion in Pemberton Correspondence by an authorized administrator of STARS. For more information, please contact STARS@ucf.edu.

Ja. Harrison & Ann
Pemberton & Phoebe Amsterdam y^r 26 y^r 11 mo: 1644
In the City of New York.

Dear friends you have often borne in my Remembrance since I saw your faces, and I have written 3. or 4. times to you since I went from England and I write to you since I came down into the Low Countries about a mo:
ago, I was then going into fress Land and amden, where I have had good families, and I desired to a had a few lines from you, which I have not had as yet, I desired in my last to hear from you, and ordered how you might direct it to fress ~~Swiss~~ at Callistoffer, it may be it did misfortune well dear friends my desire is to hear from you, for my Lord in the Low Dutch often come thence me to words you, in abundance more then my tongue or pen can express, the largeness of the Low off over gods gifts we know one another in his blessed truth, & the times and seasons of refreshments, which hath come from the hand of the Lord, by refreshing of our souls, glory and honor and everlasting renown be given to his name for ever, I have formerly given you account in short of my travels, in these countries, the Lords power and presents hath been and is my support, and hath carried me through all and over all difficulties, and his name and truth spreads a broad and many are inquiring the way to him, and the Lords day is founded in these parts and many are allured, and the Lord is with is servants who goes forth in his name and in his power, his presents is enjoyed, which is more then borne wine and oyle, blessed be his name for ever, who is my reward, and not mine only but also all the saints full, for now dear friends my Lord is to you all, and the god of my life be with you all, and bless you all, in his heavenly love and life and good and power, that is over blessed for ever, for dear friends I hope to be in England in 2. or 3. weeks time (if the Lord will if winds serve) ~~I shall have a line or two from you direct~~ ~~it to him without delay~~ for with my Lord to all friends, and ~~inquire after me~~ my Lord is to them and you all, I have well

Rodger Longworth

1731 Jan 11 1731

Handwritten text, likely a letter or account, written in cursive script. The text is dense and covers most of the page. It appears to be a letter from Roger Longworth to James Garrison and others in Boston. The text is written in a cursive script that is difficult to decipher in many places due to the handwriting and the age of the document. There are some legible words and phrases, but the overall meaning is obscured by the script. The text is written on a single sheet of paper that is folded in half. The handwriting is in dark ink and is quite fluid. There are some corrections and additions throughout the text. The paper is aged and shows signs of wear, including creases and discoloration. The text is written in a cursive script that is characteristic of the 18th century. The overall impression is that of a personal letter or a business account. The text is written in a cursive script that is difficult to decipher in many places due to the handwriting and the age of the document. There are some legible words and phrases, but the overall meaning is obscured by the script. The text is written on a single sheet of paper that is folded in half. The handwriting is in dark ink and is quite fluid. There are some corrections and additions throughout the text. The paper is aged and shows signs of wear, including creases and discoloration. The text is written in a cursive script that is characteristic of the 18th century. The overall impression is that of a personal letter or a business account.

Roger Longworth
Amsterdam

11 mo 26. 1677

to James Garrison and others.
Boston.