deare friend in that which is vntchangeable, from enor lasting to euerslasting which is the Lords vntchangeable blessed truth, which hee hath made manifest in ouer hearts, and god stood it abroad in ouer hear which Dauid thes and of comfort it selfe forth ow vnto another, our fa and Lam in which we are bound by to gather in neuer to be for gotten in which I dearely salute thee, at this time w thy deare wife, son and daughter, and in the good and life that liues for, our I dearely sa nt you, and imbrace, in the Chrimes of my faith Lam, in which you are now and deare vnto me more then tongue can saye than of your selfe, we deare friend I am not vnconformable of your erise, because of the sinney and his iustice that hee Dauid thes by, to staye fearfull on his way, be of good comfort, the god of heauen will ouer turne and ouer turne all his Dauid whose Right it is to Dauid, and will confe nd all his and your sinnyes and the day haue a year, and blessed are all those that in done to the end, my heart is full, and as I said I beare a share with you, and soe doe I write Dauid a few lines from your vnto them to stylen Crise at London or els wher I had thought to a write to you againe before I went from London, but I went out in haste, I did not folde my name, to say to with. some I found him what I I wrote to me, I take ing on the seventh day of this instant in the morn and landed at the Brils on the first day in the evening, soe I am well ouer in way blessed by the name of the Lord with Gibson is heare his low is to the, my love to all friends as then rem
