WORLD TOURISM ORGANIZATION

DEPOSITORY LIBRARY UPDATE:

Last year our Library achieved the distinction of becoming a World Tourism Organization (WTO) Depository Library. Though this program is open to all libraries worldwide, only four other university libraries in the United States can make this claim: Cornell University, New York University, Northwestern University, and the University of Hawaii.

What exactly does this mean? Because our Library will now receive all WTO publications (in English, French & Spanish), it means a wealth of scholarly information with a global focus available to students and faculty. Describing their mission on their website, WTO states "As the leading international organization in the field of tourism, [we] undertake large research, analysis and data-gathering projects in a variety of segments and regions. The results of such projects are regularly released in numerous publications and constitute a valuable and reliable source of information."

Some recent WTO publications which the Library has received are:

City Tourism and Culture: the European Experience, 2005.

Indicators of Sustainable Development for Tourism Destinations, 2004.

Making Tourism Work for Small Island Developing States, 2004.

Tourism Congestion Management at Natural and Cultural Sites, 2004.

Tourism Market Trends: Asia, 2005.

Tourism Market Trends: Middle East, 2005.

WTO World Tourism Barometer.

To find these and other WTO publications in our library, you may search the Library's online catalog by author under World Tourism Organization. All items are integrated into the Library's regular collections. The next time you visit the UOF Library at Rosen College, look for some of these and other WTO publications. And, by the way, check out the plaque indicating our Depository Library status mounted on the wall just inside the Library's front doors.

George Millay: Water Park Pioneer

...Now on Display

George Millay's fusion of water and marine life entertainment has earned him the title "Father of the Water Park Industry." As the creative mind behind the founding of Sea World in 1964 and Wet'n Wild in 1977, Millay figured out how "to turn water into gold."

Today, at 76 years old, George Millay continues to develop new ideas for family entertainment despite an ongoing battle with cancer. In 2004, Millay was presented with the Lifetime Achievement Award by the Themed Entertainment Association. While George Millay's name might not be as recognizable as Walt Disney's, his contribution to the theme park industry will forever be distinguished and appreciated.

Millay's "love affair with the ocean" began as a small child learning to swim off the California coast in the cold waters of San Francisco Bay and the warm beaches of San Diego. At 18, he followed in his father's footsteps and joined the Navy before studying meteorology at UCLA. By 1958, after a few years as an account executive, George launched the first test of his creative and business skills when he opened The Reef Restaurant. The restaurant helped George lay the foundation for his future theme park ventures.

A book is a version of the world. If you do not like it, ignore it; or offer your own version in return...
