COLONIAL ORANGE COURT IN ORLANDO

Orlando, truly the city beautiful, nestles in the lake district of Florida. Flowers bloom the year 'round. Thirty-one palm-fringed lakes and thirty-two tropical parks contribute to her charm. The thoroughfares are lined with majestic tropical oaks and over the entire city hangs the enchantment of an Old World, Spanish conquest, adventure, and romance.

The Colonial Swimming Pool at the Orange Court Hotel. Crystal blue water runs continuously from deep wells at fifteen hundred gallons per hour. The pool room is steam-heated on cooler days. Its use is free to guests.

The Colonial Orange Court at Orlando is one of the most beautiful hotels in central Florida. It is an ultra-modern, sound-proof and fire-proof structure of 275 rooms. Facilities include steam heat, free parking, and a convenient storage garage. Both hotel units and completely equipped housekeeping apartments are available. Among the unique attractions are a public sun parlor, a game room, a ballroom, a swimming pool, and a mature orange grove maintained as a part of the hotel's grounds. The hotel affords two excellent dining facilities — a very charming grill serving food at popular prices and a beautiful formal dining room.

The Orange Court Hotel maintains a complete hotel staff and service the year around.

The accommodations are all most attractively furnished. Any convenient arrangement in suite is available. Kitchenette and dinette facilities may be had in connection with every sized unit from one to five rooms.

A view of the beautiful Spanish Garden showing the private sun balconies covered with Flame Vine, Turks Cap, and Jasmine.

The Bok Memorial Tower, a comfortable motor tour through the lake district of Florida's scenic hill country, is a poem of architectural beauty.

Two golf courses within a few minutes of the Orange Court; there are sixteen courses within driving distance of the hotel.
