Doane

Dublin in Ireland the 2 day 6 mo 1680

And Right well beloved wife my love flows towards thee, it runs into thee, & the paper of kindness it meets with all, & a lovely entertainment it finds in thee, so that it is constrained to lodge with thee, & is fixed upon thee, the waves of the great deep cannot quench it, the distance of place cannot destroy it, neither can the waves of the great waters so barr its passage, but it runs its course, & the kind apprehensions that are with thee have thine passage also, therefore it is free love, not from or by any thing below, but from above, where & from whom it did at first, & now doth spring & in this I am with thee, tho' far from thee, & the enjoyment is very lovely & contented Doane by these thou may know that from Liverpool I will write to thee & in my 2^d of signified of my being driven back & also of my & Doane from Dover aboard again about 9th of the night 4th day left where we lay near the shore until the next morning, & then set sail & landed here 7th day about noon so that we were 3 nights & almost 3 days upon the water & 2^d going out & were pretty much vexed the wind being sometimes contrary & the Rad and storm of was sick from about 2 in the after noon on 4th day until 7th day morning & for about 20 hours of that time was in a vomiting condition, the storm was but short but sharp it made sea boys so sick as to vomit that had been 2 years at sea, yet I kept pretty well, yester morning I went to a meeting & was not very well before I went but when I came there was so full I could not stay but came back to Corin, & lay on bed until 2 in the after noon & then got up to have good afternoon meeting but was so full I could not stand I was so extremely sick with a violent pain in my head I did believe it was for want of a stool not having one of 4 days & 4 nights I told my Curm, he made me a suppositor I went forth with to stool & was as quickly well as I was full & am now very rarely only sick with vomiting with in, & with out with being loosed in the vessel, my goods are about the vessel as yet & have done no business, & can give thee no cert thereof, but am afraid of a bad market, salute Doane father & mother, & my Doane Babes Ann & Abigail with my unfained love, My love to thy grandmother M^r. H. S. J. N. L. J. F. & G. Lydia but I have not seen her sister as yet but have of her in w. M. H. 2: & H. W. A. & to friends in general I do so pray work I hope had been here went from here 4th day but was a week being exceeding sick here for a day or 2 was so full that had any way I believe had not able to be at meeting yester day 2 weeks but was recovered afore he left the City I have nothing more to say in it remain ever as to you & her as to a Hell, I know not as yet when I shall be for home but as soon as I shall be glad to have from thee I dreamed when I was at sea that one of our little ones was dead direct thy letter to me at Francis Cooks over agt the Joysons Army near Colledge green in Damass Street, I have not time to add but that I am thine in true love
 J. M. H. J. M. B. L.

Doane father
 my dear love salute thee, by what is a love thou may know that I am pretty well remain ever the moneys I ordered thee to pay but I believe it may be done afore this comes to thy hand my love to a m. & his wife I love not thy but am thy truly loving son
 J. M. H. J. M. B. L.

With salutes you
 all my kind love
