And Am. My dear friends whose remembrance lives with me and whose love was ever precious to me with you both together or asunder my love with my wife and kindly salutes you both hoping of your welfare and prosperity with the Lord God in whom our love often reaches to you and say and send it abounds towards you our friends though outwardly far removed and separated from our goat you are near to us in spirit in which we in our measures can reach to you blessed be the Lord God for ever this providing hath all the faithful they can reach beyond words and joy one another far beyond all expression walk to you our dear and dear friends our love freely reaches at this time and with kisses and kisses of sincere love we kindly salute you both and also desire you in our name kindly to salute your dear mother if she be yet alive also and his dear wife and sweet babe salute with our dear love for indeed we dearly love you all and desire your welfare as our own our love to Edward to Philip and to John and to the rest of your family remember our dear love also give the ordered and ban dial salutation of our love to our dear friend William Garry and his wife from whom I should be glad to re
