To The Tourist Coming To Florida

Members of the Florida Cottage and Trailer Park Association, organized to do whatever may be necessary to better park conditions for the benefit of the traveler, or tourist, are, this year, publishing their own directory of Florida parks.

All parks listed in this directory are members of the Florida Cottage and Trailer Park Association. Large and small parks both, are listed in order that you may easily find the one whose accommodations are within the reach of your purse.

Each park listed is certified to by the Sanitary Department of the State Board of Health. You can visit each and every one listed in the full knowledge that conditions are entirely satisfactory from the standpoint of health and cleanliness.

Each section of the State is segregated in the directory for your convenience. Simply turn to the section you want to visit, refer to the map for that section where you will find the location of each park listed by number. The number will correspond with the picture and description of the park.
