NEW ATHLETIC ORGANIZATION WELL PLANNED

THE ATHLETIC ORGANIZATION FOR ROLLINS TENDS TO MAKE STUDENTS "FIT FOR LIFE" OR "FIT TO FIGHT"

It is a great satisfaction to be able to dash down the track and cross the line ahead of your opponent; it is a good feeling when the basket ball game is won, to realize that you were able to stick thru those last few minutes of play without "caving in." Fighting one's way thru life physically, keeping clean, exercising daily, bathing properly, dressing for the weather, and taking care of one's whole body is what it means to be "Fit for Life." And it takes all that to be "Fit to Fight."

The present athletic program endeavors to develop material for life. Our objectives—"Activities for all," "Discovery and development of Varsity material," "Loyalty to college and country," "A more rugged vitality," "Fit for life, or fit to fight"—tend to bring out in the finished material, a physical being, who is really fit.

At present there are twenty athletic activities in which everybody is privileged to engage. The program will be enlarged in the near future.

The Dean of the College is chairman of the Faculty Advisory Committee, which is composed of a chairman and a female and male member of the faculty, who represent both sides of the student body.

The Athletic Council is composed of female and male representatives from each class in the college and in the Prep. department. The officers of the Council are chairman, vice-chairman, secretary and treasurer. These officers form the executive committee of the Council, before which important matters are brought.

TO ALL SOLDIERS, SAILORS AND MARINES OF ORANGE COUNTY

The Orlando Memorial Post of the American Legion urgently requests you to meet at the Board of Trade rooms at 3:45 p. m. Sunday, November 9th for the purpose of attending the Memorial service for our dead "buddies."

Wear civilian clothes unless at present in the service.

Let us turn out to a man and show our love and respect.

To the Public:

The Memorial service to be held by the American Legion next Sunday at 4:15 p. m. in the Phillips Theatre will be open to the public, and all are invited to attend in honor of the brave soldiers who went out from Orange County, and gave their lives for their country during the World War.

Remember the time and place and show your respect by being present.

By order of M. B. Swift, Post Commander.

S. K. Guernsey, Post Adjutant.

HALLOWEEN'S BRILLIANT MASQUE BALL GREAT SUCCESS

Ruth Hoyt Takes First Prize for Most Attractive Costume; Pratt Foley has Best Comic Make-up

One of the largest crowds in the history of Rollins attended the annual Halloween Masquerade Saturday evening from seven-thirty to eleven o'clock. Masques were not removed until after the grand march. The grand march, as usual the feature of the evening, was led by Pauline Phelps, and Richard Haggerty, assisted by Dorothy Richards and Smith Fletcher.

The gymnasium was beautifully decorated under the direction of Margaret Sutherland. Palmettos, moss, and colored lights were cleverly arranged in various artistic effects. Black cats, owls, moons, and weird lights all combined to give a true Halloween atmosphere. Seats for the dancers were arranged around the room which was brightened by gaily colored pillows and rugs.

The floor was crowded during every dance with a throng of happy dancers in gaily colored costumes. Many of the costumes were beautiful, some ridiculous, some clever. All united to give a delightful effect, especially enjoyed by many spectators seated in the gallery. Favorite costumes among the men were uniforms used in the service. Aviators, doughboys, gobs, and numerous individuals in all varieties of non-descript species of uniforms were every where in evidence. Even the Crown Prince was present. Red Cross nurses were ready to care for any for whom the excitement of the evening should prove too much.

Ribbons were awarded for the most appropriate and clever costumes. First prize for the young ladies went to Ruth Hoyt who wore an elaborately designed Harlequin costume of black and gold. First prize for the men was awarded to James Foley who was dressed as a woman. Among the costumes deserving honorable mention were those of Helen Hanna and Mabel Townsend as Night and Day, Mae Clock as an Egyptian dancing girl, the Waterhouse girls as a Colonial gentleman and his fair lady, and Miss Eckerson in a Halloween costume petite and bewitching. Among the men, Karl Tompkins, as the Crown Prince of Germany had probably one of the cleverest and most unique costumes on the floor. The most erratic and astonishing figure on the floor was probably that of George Arrants whose costume was indescribable. Carey Roberts gave a most realistic imitation of a gentleman of distinct Hebraic descent.

Punch was served to the dancers during the evening. Music was furnished by the band.

PEP SHOWN BY UNK SAM'S BOYS AT ROLLINS

EX-SERVICE MEN ATTENDING ROLLINS MEET TO ORGANIZE CLUB

That Rollins College in general, and Rollins students in particular have plenty of "pep" was evidenced Sunday when immediately after lunch all ex-service men on the campus met in the Frat room in the Lyman Gymnasium, to discuss the possibilities of forming a club among themselves. For some time the ex-gobs, leather-necks, doughboys, aviators, etc., on the campus had been talking over plans among themselves for the club and as a consequence this meeting was called, to get the fellows together in some kind of a live organization.

John Rowe was elected temporary chairman and called the meeting to order. The idea of forming a club was put before the meeting and met with instant approval. After the plan had been discussed several minutes, the chair appointed a committee, composed of Raymond W. Greene, Gerald Kinnear, Prof. Burt Hazeltine, Dudley Wilson, and Lloyd Boyle to draw up a constitution, and plans, for the coming months. This committee will designate the next meeting, at which time they will make their report. The meeting closed with everybody greatly pleased that something had been started and all looked forward with enthusiasm to the next meeting.

When a bunch of fellows, who have served "Unk" Sam in various branches of the service, get together, there will be a REAL meeting of REAL fellows. These same men intend to make things lively in the "good times" line during the coming months of the present college term, so let everybody "stand-by" for the next meeting.

President George Morgan Ward returned from New England Thursday evening where he has been filling several speaking engagements.

Irving Berk, a well known Rollins student of Akron, O., will arrive on the campus Monday to take up special college work. Irv's late entrance has been occasioned by a sprained ankle.

The Messrs. Rodriguez arrived from Havana, via Tampa, Wednesday evening and have enrolled in the special Spanish department.

FRESH-SOPH DEBATE IN DELPHIC SOCIETY

New Officers and Members Announced for First Semester

If we remember rightly, and come to think of it we do, it was in the good old days when Nero fiddled for Rome that Sophos and Frosh first came to fistie misunderstandings about class precedence. And precedent be hanged, the Rollins classes of '22 and '23 are to hold forth before the Delphic shrine next Wednesday evening, Nov. 12, from 7:30 to 9:00 when words will fall as do the gentle drops from heaven or as the prickles from the cedars of Lebanon.

All of the foregoing has to do with the first open meeting which the Delphic Literary Society will hold this semester. The program committee consisting of Isabel Foley, Emily Theed and Frederic Ward, has prepared a series of mental contortions as appealing to the Delphic literati as is the more or less classic "Ja-da" to the Jaz-crazed indulgent. To begin with, a cordial invitation has been extended to the four college classes to attend the meeting which will be held in Knowles Hall to hear, in particular, the arguments, pro and con, on the question: "Resolved, That Sophomores should have more privileges than Freshmen." Vesta Higginbotham and Alvord Stone, backed by Sophomore and Senior moral support claim that they will have no difficulty in proving the affirmative. The Freshman and Junior colors will rally behind Edna Wallace and Charles Fohl in their effort to show up their wise and foolish opponents.

New Officers and Members

Following several business meetings, the list of new members, entitled to wear the Delphic white and gold, has been announced as follows:

Agnes Boggs, Mae Clock, Charles Fohl, Robert Galt, Helen Hanna, Dorothy Harrison, Vesta Higginbotham, Frances James, Sexton Johnson, Nina Marsh, Ruth Marshall, Elizabeth Murphy, Frank Palmer, Easter Russell, Lindsley Rowe, Loanna Schorer, Alvord Stone, Emily Theed, Frances Waddell, Winnie Waddell, Jean Wagner, Ruth Waldron, Edna Wallace, and Frederic Ward.

The officers elected for this semester are: Sexton Johnson, President; Ruth Greene, vice-president; Frank Palmer, secretary; Alvord Stone, treasurer; Program Committee, Isabel Foley, Emily Theed and Frederic Ward.

Important Committees Appointed

Two very important committees of investigation have been appointed. The first of these, composed of Charles Fohl, Ruth Waldron, and Edna Wallace has been asked to report on the possibility of inter-collegiate debates for the year. The second committee, composed of Jean Wagner, Elizabeth Murphy, and Lindsley Rowe, has been requested to take up the matter of the annual play to be presented during Founder's Week.

"STICK TO IT"

Established in 1894 with the following editorial:

"Unassuming yet mighty, sharp and pointed, well-rounded yet many-sided, assiduously tenacious, yet as gritty and energetic as its name implies, victorious in single combat and therefore without a peer, wonderfully attractive and extensive in circulation; all these will be found upon investigation to be among the extraordinary qualities of The Sandspur."

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

The Red Cross campaign of 1920 began November 2 and will continue until November 11, the first anniversary of the Armistice which ended hostilities in the greatest war of all history.

The day after the Armistice, people began to ask what the Red Cross proposed to do next, assuming that the Armistice concluded both the war and the Red Cross war program. Experience has enlightened us. Endings and beginnings are not so abrupt. For months after the Armistice, an extensive war program was continued, and continues yet in diminishing proportions. 1920 will be a year of completions and beginnings, terminating the old, developing the new. The former is chiefly a foreign operation, the latter a domestic undertaking.

It is designed to concentrate the main strength of the American Red Cross in the future on the needs of the United States. The accomplishments of the past are a pledge to the future.

Does any one question the need of the Red Cross method at home? Has the work of organizing our land for

TAKE CARE OF YOUR BOOKS

School books are not, as a rule, cheap, and one of the small ways in which we can do our bit in the fight against national economic waste is by taking care of our property. Don't leave your school books lying around in public places where they may be stolen or taken by mistake. And above all write your name plainly in your books so that there can be no question as to whom they belong; so that the temptation to "swipe" them will be less strong; and so that there will be no financial loss caused by the necessity of buying new books. Let's help in this big fight by avoiding carelessness in this respect.

the promotion of public health and public welfare advanced so far that the interpenetrative Red Cross, reaching into every hamlet, can do nothing to assist a work for which it has been trained through an unparalleled experience of war relief? Does nobody in the United States need neighborly assistance in emergency? Are there no victims of disasters? Are all the mill-towns hygienically perfect? Is no additional action needed to check tuberculosis and prevent other diseases? No problem of infant mortality? Has the war itself left no problems of after care, no vocational dislocations, no social maladjustments? Have we cast out one devil, Imperialism, only to bring in other devils of strife and dissension? Have we no program of service with which to fill our empty hearts? We cannot and must not believe it.

1. The Red Cross does not aspire to monopolize the task and privilege of finding the remedy for all our social ills. It seeks to be the assistant rather than the chief, to supplement existing agencies, official and volunteer, to stimulate activities where none exist.

2. Government health officials have said repeatedly that they would carry out any public health program with an organized Red Cross personnel to aid as agents of inspection and instruction. The War Risk Insurance Bureau has officially recognized the unique advantage of the Red Cross organization to assist in following up individual cases and dealing with individual soldiers' and sailors' families.

For the purpose of making the Red Cross vision a reality, people are more necessary than money, and the Red Cross during the war revealed an unexampled capacity for drawing people into combined service. The people responded because they were patriotic. The present summons to membership is still a call to patriotism. It is an imperfect patriotism which remains lethargic until the bugle blows for war. He who intelligently loves his country in times of war will persistently live for it in times of peace. If a country is worth dying for, it is surely worth living for. When the people shall have learned to sacrifice themselves as readily on the altar of the commonwealth as they sacrifice themselves on the altar of war, the world will be saved, and not until then. If you love your country, if your fellow men are dear to you, if you believe in practical Christianity, lend the Red Cross a helping hand; DO IT NOW!

THE ROLLINS ALPHABET

- A—Stands for art in the form of a curl,
That sticks to the brow of a Cloverleaf girl.
- B—Stands for "Beanery," down by the lake,
Now be sure to go early, don't make a mistake.
- C—Stands for "Chase" about which the girls rave,
A trap for the "Rats" and a home for the brave.
- D—Stands for "Dudley" who went "over there,"
He's a brave man in battle, but his sweethearts are rare.
- E—Stands for "Easter", no, it isn't the day,
It's the name of a girl, and she's pretty they say.
- F—Is for "Freshmen," that big crowd you have seen,
Say, if they ran the campus, it sure would be green.
- G—Is for "games," we are behind them you bet,
Just give us a chance, we haven't seen any yet.
- H—Is for "hats" and the girls have a few,
If they use all the feathers, what are the birds going to do?
- I—Stands for "insects," of which the red bug is one,
That makes us scratch when the picnics are done.
- J—Stands for "Jazz"; just leave it to Clark,
He's the one biggest jazz artist in Winter Park.
- K—Stands for "Kinnear", who's on the committee,
All the smokers surely need pity.
- L—Stands for "Lakeside," but they will soon call it "Shoe",
For there are so many children over there they don't know what to do.
- M—Stands for "money," quite handy to own,
If you haven't any, they surely leave you alone.
- N—Is for "neckties," they're wearing 'em wider,
If you don't think I am right, just look at Snyder.
- O—Is for "Ohio" which must look mighty queer,
For the whole population is living right here.
- P—Is for "Pauline," just leave it to her,
When she plays basketball things are bound to occur.
- Q—Is for "quit", a thing Oh so rare,
When Margaret goes on a "tear."
- R—Is for "Ray", in command of the gobs,
Who wear more stripes than they have jobs.
- S—Is for "smoke", it's great to inhale,
If they catch you, they will put you in jail.
- T—Is for "Townsend", so fair and so fat,
Leave it to her, she sure vamped Pat.
- U—Is for "Unit", part of the Navy,
Ephriam will be Captain someday, maybe.
- V—Is for "Vivian," grown up in a year,
Milwaukee last summer, I wonder if t'was beer.
- W—Is for "water" which is so often the cry,
Boys, please bring over some water, the cooler's dry.
- X—Is for "exams" which are a bunch of junk,
Everybody is saying, "I'm going to flunk."

MISS EDWARDS PRESENTS CARNEGIE LIBRARY WITH VALUABLE BOOKS

(Miss O'Neal)

The Rollins College Library has been most fortunate in receiving a collection of books and pamphlets which will serve the needs of the class in community service, now studying under the leadership of Dr. Vincent. Miss Grace Edwards, who has spent many years in social service work in the cities of the North has given this valuable collection, that the work of the college along this line might be advanced. She personally selected this collection, so that the books and pamphlets listed are most adequate for the purpose.

Although the books are primarily for those interested in community work others will enjoy them too. The question is such a vital one for this present period that all students should be able to take back to their homes a new ideal of usefulness and helpfulness in the community.

Mr. Simon N. Patten in his "New Basis of Civilization" says there is a great significance in recent social changes with which the practical social worker is so actively engaged. Here is the basis of a new civilization; here is evidence that economic forces can sweep away poverty, banish misery, and by giving men work bring forth right and enduring character within the race.

Each college student should read also, a collection of essays and addresses by L. Briggs, "Routine and Ideals." He says: "The youth who loves his Alma Mater will always ask not 'what can she do for me?' but 'what can I do for her?'"

A few new books on the list are, "A New Conscience and an Ancient Evil," and "The Spirit of Youth and the City Streets" by Jane Addams. "The Family and Social Work", "The Spirit of Social Work" and "The Practice of Charity," by Edward T. Devine. "The Care of Destitute, Neglected and Delinquent Children" by Homer Folks.

Come in and look them over.

Whew!!!!

Carey (at table)—This stuff looks like Florida syrup.

Sedgwick—Do they really make syrup down here?

Carey—Sure thing.

Sedgwick—You know I wondered what those tin cans were for, that I saw hanging on the trees around here.

Teacher (to Glassey, who is selling Sandspurs)—"Cold, Mr. Glassey?"

Glassey—No sir, selling 'Sand spurs' keeps up the circulation."

Miraculous

Monday morning Snyder went canoeing—and didn't even get wet. Congratulations.

(In Biology)—"Name three things containing starch."

Jack B.—"Two cuffs and a collar."

Y—Is for "Yeomanette," a woman's job,

Carey does it and yet he's a gob.

Z—Stands for zero of which Rollins has none,

Oh! I believe I did hear that Cheesey got one.

—G. A.

All classes of sport have been commercialized to far too great a degree, and it has not been in the best interests of sport by any means. The best thing under the circumstances has been decided upon by the Rollins Athletic Council. Perhaps the Winter Park and the College boys together can muster a worth-while team such as neither alone could hope to put into the field, and under the capable coaching of Captain Boyer such a team may do great credit to both the town and the institution, and leave no place for adverse criticism such as would be the case if any action had been taken which might have left the amateur status of the team in question. Courage of one's convictions is rather rare quality nowadays and the Rollins Athletic Council is to be congratulated upon having it.—The Winter Park Post.

As the various schools are resuming work, it is interesting to note how large a part is played by athletics.

This is as it should be, and we are sure that in no other way could the same advantage be gained. Physical development is the first to be thought of, but it is only one of the many. There is the spirit of pride in the team, and the team work, which is a good cure for selfishness. Self-control must be learned, and courtesy to opponents. The ability to take defeat gracefully or manfully is a lesson that is hard for all of us to learn, but our spirit of fair play demands that we take defeat without growling. The whipped team never feels good, but they should not let their loss make them accuse their opponents of cheating, as some teams have done.

The "anything to win" spirit must never be permitted, and a good coach will see that the boys "play fair" in every sense.—The Spokesman.

"Avoid the easy, lazy job. Shun the position that calls for little or no exertion, that does not put your powers to the test, that does not keep you constantly on tiptoe in an effort to fit it well—better, in fact, than it was ever filled before. Don't run away from difficulties, from hard work, from hard knocks, if need be. Hammering hardens and strengthens a young man. It tests his mettle. It develops him. It teaches him self-reliance, self-confidence, grit. It drums out cowardice and timidity, and makes him unafraid to stand up and fight until he learns how to win out."—The Southern.

Tough Luck

Man's hair turns gray before woman's,

That's known in every clime,
The explanation's easy, for
He wears his all the time.

He—"I'm living just across the lake from you now."

She—"Indeed? I hope you'll drop in sometime."

Bill H—"Carey, if you were building a house, where would you put the piazza?"

Carey R—"Farthest away from the street light."

Alumni News

Miss Mary Brannham who has been at the Hostess House of Carlstrom Aviation Field, Arcadia, Florida, for the past two months will attend the U. D. C. Convention in Tampa next week before returning to her home in Orlando.

Miss Florida E. Howard, a graduate of the Musical Department of Rollins, has been appointed Musical Director of the public schools of Orlando.

Miss Marguerite Drennen is again at her home in Elkins, West Virginia, after having served her country in France for the past two years as secretary to an American Red Cross unit.

Miss Mary R. Robinson of Orlando has recently returned from a very interesting trip to Havana and other points of note in Cuba.

Mrs. F. Gray Rush (Elizabeth E. Knox) and three children have returned to their home in Orlando from Asheville, N. C. where they have spent the past two months.

Mrs. W. M. Glenn, who will be pleasantly remembered by her Rollins friends as Miss Lois Sample, has recently taken a little girl from a children's home in Illinois, for adoption.

Mrs. John T. Fuller, a trustee of Rollins and a former student, will give a book review of "The Tale of Two Cities" at the Baptist Church, Orlando, on Thursday, November 13, at 8 p. m. This promises to be very interesting and instructive as Mrs. Fuller is a very able speaker.

Mrs. Leroy B. Giles (Nell T. Broward) has returned to Orlando from a delightful summer spent in Vermont, New York, and points of interest in Canada.

Mrs. W. W. Yothers (Ada Bumby) of Orlando spent several pleasant weeks in Washington this fall, being there at the time of the parade of General Pershing and the First Division.

Mrs. A. B. Whitman a graduate of the musical department of Rollins has the distinction of being the first woman candidate for office in Orlando in the coming election for city commissioner.

Mrs. Merle McElroy (Fletcher McCarty) of Orlando enjoyed meeting several former Rollins students while away for a few weeks this fall. Among those inquiring for Rollins news were Mrs. Lillie Drennen Davis and Mrs. W. B. White (Mary Lee Drennen) of Birmingham, Alabama, and Mrs. J. V. Hewitt (Fannie Drennen) of New York City.

Miss Grace Boone, '07, has recently opened an Expression Studio at her home in Orlando. After receiving the A. B. degree from Rollins, Miss Boone gained valuable experience as a successful teacher in the Orlando High School and was later graduated from the Leland Powers Expression School where she was pupil of Leland Powers himself.

Winifred Hanchett, for many years a student at Rollins, is a Senior in Delaware College, Newark, Del., and expects to get her degree this spring.

tant matters are discussed and to which they are referred. The Council itself acts in turn as an executive body. All business matters that concern the student body in athletics are brought before the Council for settlement.

Each activity has a manager who attends to all business matters in connection with his or her particular activity. The college coach takes care of the major activities, while other coaches are appointed to take charge of the minor sports. As teams are made up entirely of college students, everybody finds himself getting regular daily exercise and recreation.

Our intercollegiate program calls for games with the University of Florida, Stetson University, Southern College and Ruskin College. Our intramural activity includes games between classes, Frats, dormitories, and clubs.

Y. W. C. A.

The first meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held Tuesday evening at 7:15 in Cloverleaf parlors. Florence Smith lead the meeting and several of the "old Cabinet girls" took part. Francis Bell spoke of the great work that the Blue Triangle is doing in the cities. Ruth Green told of what the Y. W. C. A. at Rollins had meant to her; Ruth Hoyt spoke of the importance and splendid opportunities of the college Y. W. C. A. Miss Bellows then spoke of the purpose of the college organization—our duties and privileges as Y. W. C. A. girls, and invited all Rollins girls to join. Miss Alberta Arnold of Orlando sang a very beautiful solo which added a great deal to the enjoyment of the evening. After the benediction the meeting was adjourned.

We feel that all the girls want to join these friendship meetings, so—don't forget to hand in your name!

SOPHOMORE THEATRE PARTY

Who would dare say that the Sophs were not the liveliest and most enthusiastic bunch on the campus after the delightful theatre party of last Monday night?

As the clock struck 7:30 p. m. the Sophomores and their guests arrived in front of Sparrell Cottage and in a few minutes more, were on their way to Orlando in three cars which belong to members of the class. Arriving in Orlando they hastened to the Phillips Theatre and spent two very enjoyable hours seeing Mary Pickford in "Daddy Long-Legs." Afterwards the crowd adjourned to the "Palace" where fifteen banana splits were disposed of. The members of the class present were Vesta Higginbotham, Nina Marsh, Frances Waddell, Irena Bigelow, Warren Ingram, and Alvord Stone, with their class adviser, Miss Dyer. Their guests were Mrs. Dyer, Helen Waterhouse, Anna Gram, Rodolpho Gusman, George Arrants, Charles Ward and Robert Sedgwick.

CLOVERLEAF SERENADE

Last Thursday night nearly every girl in Cloverleaf was lifted about two feet in the air by an earsplitting noise coming from the front of the dormitory. Was Cloverleaf tumbling down, or was it just the world coming to an end? The girls raced frantically down the hall and peered out of the front windows expecting to see the moon, stars, and big chunks of sky strewn over the lawn. But what was this long line of white clad figures filing slowly past? It must be spirits from the unknown world gathered in a body and returned to earth to implant terror in the hearts of the Rollins girls. The spirits marched slowly around the building, yelling, beating tin pans, and blowing horns. Next, they were seen grouped by the steps. Soon triumphant yells shook the atmosphere, and with a last gleam of light, the mysterious phantoms disappeared in the darkness, as they had come.

DORIS TILDEN,

A JOLLY PICNIC

Monday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock a merry crowd canoed over to the Seminole landing. By 7:15 a delicious supper was prepared, consisting of coffee, steak, sandwiches, potato salad, pickles and cookies. Those enjoying the good-time were: Thelma Carter, Charlotte Clock, Uarda Robinson, Leslie Schultz, Donald Vincent and Douglas Robbins, Mrs. Harcourt chaperoned. The jolly crowd returned to the college at 9:45—but not without making plans for another picnic in the near future.

"DUD" SPRINGS ONE

Dudley Wilson was the "shining star" in formulating the plans for a picnic at Shaffer's Landing last Monday, while Earle Shannon acted as chief commissary for the occasion. And judging by the quantity of eats Shan obtained, one would have thought that he was preparing for a trip to Europe. After lunch the canoes started for the landing, arriving there about four-thirty. A fire was quickly built and with John Rowe as "chief cook and wood-gatherer," hamburger steak and potatoes were soon burnt unrecognizable. Pickles, baked potatoes, hamburger steak, cakes, coffee, rolls and apples constituted the menu, and a box of chocolates was produced as a grand finale. "Shan" broke all records by consuming 8 hamburger sandwiches, 14 pickles, 12 cakes, 9 cups of coffee, 6 potatoes and 'steen apples. About 6:30 the canoes started on their homeward journey arriving at the campus at 7:30 p. m.

The party consisted of Esther Russell, Hazel Watts, Earle Shannon, John Rowe, Dudley Wilson, and Miss Eckerson as chaperone.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

On the evening of the 24th of October, Ruth Greene entertained in honor of Margaret Smith. The guests arrived at the hour of six (all dressed up to add to the dignity of the occasion). At 6:15 a delicious chicken dinner was served. When the last course was brought in, there was a big birthday cake with "many" candles. All the candles except five were blown out by the honor guest.

The remainder of the evening until ten o'clock was spent in playing Rook at which game some of the guests showed great skill.

Those present were Margaret and Florence Smith, Ada, Alice, and Martha McKnight of Orlando, and the hostesses, Mrs. Greene and Ruth Greene.

Miss Margaret Smith was the victim of another birthday party given by the Sparrellites on the evening of the 25th. The favorite diversion of the evening was the eating of ice cream and cake. The cake, by the way, was decorated with pretty red candles. "How many candles?" asks some one. Well, we never tell tales outside of school.

Miss Ruth Hollinger, of Altoona, who is teaching school this year at Umatilla, spent Saturday afternoon, Oct. 25th, with Mrs. Emma J. L. Talant in Mt. Dora.

Rollins Songs

(Put these in your Scrap Book)

ALMA MATER

Set like a gem amid the waters blue,
Where palms and pines their fragrant
incense brew;

Oh, Alma Mater, as the swift year runs

Sing we thy praise, thy daughters and thy sons.

Sons who uphold thy fair unsullied
fame,

Daughters who love thine ancient honored name,

True to thy colors blazoned far on high—

Gold of the sun and blue of bending sky.

Far from thy walls, wherever we may go,

Still with a heart where loyal memories glow,

Still with a song for Rollins ringing clear,

Guide of our youth, O Alma Mater,
dear.

—Rose Mills Powers.

Music by Homer Stanley Pope.

ROLLINS GOES ROLLING ALONG

(Tune: U. S. Artillery Song)

Year by year, day by day,
In the same old lucky way,
Good old Rollins keeps rolling along.
We will boost, we will shove
For the college that we love,
So old Rollins keeps rolling along.

CHORUS

Then it's hip-hoo-ray
For the blue and gold so gay,
Shout out the chorus loud and strong!
Where'er you go you will always know

That old Rollins is rolling along.

(Shout) KEEP HER ROLLING!

That old Rollins is rolling along.

Students come, students go,
All the different kinds we know,
But old Rollins keeps rolling along.
Some may holler and spout
Still they don't put themselves out
To keep Rollins a-rolling along:
Chorus.

PREXY RIDES IN STATE

ENTIRE COLLEGE WELCOMES DR. WARD AT DEPOT. IS DELIVERED HOME IN ANCIENT CARRIAGE

Rollins, Nov. 4, 1919:—The entire student body and faculty turned out Wednesday evening to welcome Dr. Ward back to Rollins from a trip north. After an early study hour, the bugler and light flashers made it known that it was time to meet the train. A grand chariot (a remnant of the Halloween celebration) was fitted up with rugs and pillows, to convey the doctor to the college. It was drawn by almost the entire population of "Chase Hall" and "Lakeside." The fiery chargers drew up in state at the door of Cloverleaf, where they assisted Mrs. Nash into the carriage, dashing on to the station, followed from afar by the girls.

When the train whistled, Tommy and Glassey drew the crowd together for cheers. As Dr. Ward stepped off the train he was greeted by fifteen peppy rahs, given with a will from the students. The long lines drawn up on either side of the carriage rather astounded Dr. Ward, when it came to shaking hands on both sides at once. However, those who did not shake hands, were just as glad to see him home again. With a lot more rahs, laughing and cheering, they started off with the carriage, en state.

It surely was a gala night for Rollins, when it welcomed its president home. Never were cheers given with such good will or was a welcome more truly meant than that which Rollins gave to its beloved president.

Prof.—"Your answer is about as clear as mud."

Snyder—"Well, that covers the ground, doesn't it?"

First Goof.—"What is the height of your ambition?"

Second Goof.—"Don't know exactly, but she comes about up to my shoulders."—Ex.

Stan. F.—"Can a person be punished for something he hasn't done?"

Miss G.—"Of course not."

S. F.—"Well, I haven't done my Spanish."

At the Ball

One—Mable is a little bear, don't you think?

Another—Which way?

One—Either or both.

Faculty Live Upstairs in Pinehurst

Sophomore—"Was Miss Rous present at the organization of the Conservatory Club?"

Academy—"Yes, but I was obliged to call her down."

Rowe (to tailor)—"Why do you have an apple as your trade mark?"

Kuppenheimer—"Well, well, if it hadn't been for an apple where would the clothing business be today?"

Why Pratt

Bill—"Saw you out with your sister last night."

Foley—"How did'ja know it was my sister?"

Bill—"You walked right by the drug store."

BOYS, DID YOU FIND YOUR GIRL?

Although a number of inmates of Chase Hall have appeared at dinner in rather tacky costumes, they will have to do better if they wish to win fame over the Cloverleaf girls.

Friday night after a lively time of dolling up with rouge, lip sticks, eyebrow pencils, and other makeup necessities, the girls of Cloverleaf quietly lock-stepped their way to the beanery. To say that the spectators were greatly surprised to see the line burst into the dining hall and perform the snake dance around the tables would be putting it mildly.

There was great variety of style, especially in head dress. Oh, those high coiffures and tight pigtaails adorned with gaudy ribbons!

After dinner the motley array returned to Cloverleaf where the evening was devoted to singing and dancing.

PICNIC AT PALM SPRINGS

Mr. John Boone, a former Rollins student, again entertained a few Rollins men, with a motor trip and picnic to Palm Springs. "Chick" Fohl, John Glassey, "Red" Palmer, and "Tommie" Tompkins were the fortunate guests this time. All reported that they had a "swell" time, and evidently they had plenty to eat, for only one of them went to dinner that night.

After the Game

The football game was over, and at the parlor grate

A maiden and a long haired youth were lingering rather late.

They talked of punts and drop-kicks, but found it rather tame,

'Till Cupid put his nose guard on and butted into the game.

Quoth he, "It's mighty funny, if I don't arrange a match,"

So he lined the couple up and made them toe the scratch,

The youth was growing nervous 'neath the weight of new found bliss,

And he kind of thought the scrimmage ought to end up with a kiss.

He charged upon the center and tackled left and right,

And the way he held that chair for downs was simply out of sight;

He tried an osculation, just an amateur affair,

But lost it in a fumble, and instead it struck the air.

Then he landed on her ear, and heard the maiden say,

"You're penalized for holding; likewise for offside play."

With set teeth he tried another, this time succeeding fine."

For he scored an easy touch-down, On the crimson two-yard line.

As they sat there by the grate, Communing soul to soul,

The parlor door swung open and— Her father kicked the goal.

Why is a meal eaten at sea like a difficult riddle?

Because one is forced to give it up.

TARGET PRACTICE

Thirty men paddled across Lake Virginia last Monday, to the rifle range, to try their skill in "hitting the bull's eye". (We hardly think target practice is necessary however, as it has been rumored that a 10 pound cat fish was shot on the way over!) Douglas Robbins was reported the best shot, as he made 25 hits out of a possible 25.

SANFORD HIGH AND WINTER PARK MEET IN GRIDIRON CONTEST

Although Friday was a rainy day, the weather did not prevent a large crowd of enthusiastic rooters from witnessing the Sanford-Winter Park football game. It was a good game throughout, there being many exciting plays executed. Winter Park scored her first touchdown in the second quarter, and her second in the third quarter, both attempts to kick goal were failures. Sanford scored her one and only touchdown in the third quarter; the try for a goal failed. Many Sanford people were present to witness the game.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL ELECTS OFFICERS

Thursday afternoon, Oct. 30th, the athletic council held its regular weekly meeting in the fraternity rooms. A live meeting was held and much business was discussed and disposed of. An election of officers for the council was held resulting as follows: J. T. Branham, chairman, Winifred Stone, vice-chairman, Ruth Waldron, secretary, and Warren Ingram, treasurer. Mr. Greene placed before the council the extensive plan which is being worked out for the promotion of athletics, and explained the part the council should take in its promotion. Much enthusiasm was shown by all the members toward this movement and no doubt each one will do his part in promoting it.

CONSERVATORY NOTES

The Convention to be held by the F. F. W. C. at St. Petersburg from Nov. 18-22nd, is of special interest to us in that Rollins is to be represented by Miss Rous, Pianist, and Miss Greenup violinist, who will be accompanied by Mrs. Harcourt. All who have heard these artists play, will appreciate what a great treat is in store for all who attend this convention.

Another event of great interest, will be the coming of Mrs. Wm. D. Steele, Chairman of the Music for the National Federation of Women's Clubs. She will stop at Winter Park, on her way to St. Petersburg, where she is to give an address, and conduct the meeting on the opening night of the Convention. Mrs. Steele is a woman of magnetic personality, and is an inspiration to all who come in contact with her. She won a national reputation for her splendid work during the war along the line of community singing. She is unusually inspiring as a song leader, and it is hoped that the student body of Rollins will turn out at the big meeting which is to be held in Knowles Hall, some afternoon about the 15th of November. A committee, of which Mrs. George M. Ward is chairman, is planning an informal reception to be given in Mrs. Steele's honor, at Carnegie Library, following the address.

The Rollins Business Orchestra made its first appearance as a professional organization, at a meeting of the Audubon Society Monday afternoon, November 3, at the residence of Dr. C. E. Coffin. A very pleasing program was given, consisting of a cornet solo by Miss Frances James, manager of the organization, a flute solo by Miss Edna Wallace, and a duet for both cornet and flute, the accompaniments being played by Miss Ada Brockman. This ambitious organization is working steadily, trying to work up a large repertoire, so as to be ready for engagements for any occasion.

On Wednesday afternoon at 4.45, the first of the monthly Student Recital was held in Knowles Hall. These recitals are held regularly, for the purpose of giving students an opportunity to become accustomed to playing or singing before an audience. Both the Winter Park students and those who are enrolled in the Orlando Studio, take part in these recitals, and all visitors are welcome. Students of Miss Rous, Mrs. Harcourt and Miss Waterman participated Wednesday. The program, together with the names of the students, will be announced in the next issue.

The Men's Glee Club held a business meeting last week in Pinehurst, and elected Mr. John Glassey manager, and Mr. Robert Sedgwick, secretary and treasurer. Plans for the future were discussed, and it is hoped that the Club may secure a number of engagements during the season.

THE WOOING OF REBECCA

When Abram was old, and wel stricken in age,
He called to his servant, whom he wished to engage
In the matter of finding a wife for his son;
In a far-off country was this to be done.
The servant went forth with ten camels at hand,
The project was this, as we understand:
He would go unto Nahor to get this fair daughter,
To the fountain of youth where the women draw water.
To the maiden most lovely, to her he would say,
"Give me to drink from thy pitcher, I pray."
If the maiden complied, with a right good will,
Then, thought the servant, she'll fill the bill.
Soon, with her flocks, came a damsel most fair.
He turned, and thus he addressed her with care,
"Weary am I from my journey afar, Give me, I pray thee, a draft from thy jar."
This she did gladly, and, to his delight
She watered his camels, ere he could alight.
The servant, approving of action so splendid,
Immediately saw that his quest was now ended.
"Tell me, I pray thee, whose daughter art thou?"
He asked with such freedom as he could allow.
"The daughter of Bethuel," she gently replied.
"My name is Rebecca, and where I abide
There is lodgement and provender plenty for you."
(He had asked if she'd lodge him, himself and his crew).
He went to her home and there told her his mission.
For Isaac, his master, he made the petition.
Finally, she answered in words that were terse,
That she would go with him, for better, or worse.
Thus did Rebecca her husband obtain.
But we in our country, why, we would not deign
To leave to the toils and concern of another,
The choice of a husband, or even a lover.
But then, it was custom, and, well it worked out,
For of their fervent love, there is surely no doubt.
