ARTHUR RANOUS PLEASES LARGE AUDI- ENCE AT RECITAL

NEGRO SPIRITUALS ESPECIALLY PLEASING AS RENDERED BY THIS ARTIST'S CLEAR AND SYMPATHETIC BARITONE

A large audience gathered at the Winter Park Country Club, on Thursday evening, Jan. 22, to hear Mr. Arthur Ranous. Mr. Ranous possesses a splendid baritone voice, sympathetic in quality. His enunciation is exceptionally clear. He is always hailed with the greatest enthusiasm. The program covered a variety of moods, each number being thoroughly enjoyable.

Mr. Ranous opened his program with two Elizabethan lyrics. A group of French songs followed, and then came the Negro spirituals. There is something pathetically appealing about these songs, aside from their amusing character, and Mr. Ranous brings this out with admirable clearness. The Irish and English group, which were enriched by the beauty and clearness of his singing, were next. It was in all respects a most satisfying program—well chosen and well rendered.

A BIG TIME COM- ING IN FEBRUARY

1920 FOUNDER'S WEEK TO CONTAIN SERIES OF NOTABLE EVENTS

The Founder's Week Committee is perfecting its plans this week and it is expected that a detailed program will be ready within a few days. From the present indications, the series of events arranged will be of more than engaging interest, and will place the 1920 exercises on a new plane.

The Week, which is in reality Commencement under another name, will extend from February 18-22. The annual concerts of the Glee Clubs and Orchestra have been arranged for the opening night. Following the concerts will be a fast game of basketball between Rollins and the University of Florida. The 19th will be devoted to Water Sports, including the annual inter-collegiate and inter-collegiate events for which handsome cups are to be awarded. In the evening the annual Athletic Banquet is to be held, followed by a lecture by the famous Hamlin Garland, who spoke during last Founder's Week. The 20th will be Founder's Day with addresses by two of the leading men of

PROMINENT LECTURER TO ADDRESS STUDENTS SUNDAY

DR. ERICKSON, PEACE COMMISSIONER, TO SPEAK IN KNOWLES HALL TOMORROW

Dr. Erickson, the famous peace commissioner from Albania, arrived on the campus Friday afternoon and is a guest of the college in Chase Hall. He is known to be one of the best platform speakers in the country and just now has an unusually interesting theme, having recently come from the peace negotiations in Paris.

Dr. Erickson spoke before the student body this morning during the chapel hour and told of some of Albania's problems. Tomorrow afternoon in Knowles Hall at four o'clock he will make an address to which the townspeople and other friends have been invited.

Last week Dr. Erickson spoke at Yale University. Before coming to Winter Park he lectured before the Daytona Forum to one of the largest audiences of the year.

NOTED ATHLETIC MEN VISIT ROLLINS

R. C. Cubbon, B. P. E. Regional Secretary of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A., who is in charge of the physical education of eleven Southern states, visited Rollins January 24 and 25. Mr. Cubbon's visit was the result of an invitation extended by the College Athletic Director in the interest of the Memorial Field and new gymnasium called for in the larger plans for Rollins.

Mr. Cubbon is a man of wide experience and reputation. He is a graduate of Springfield College, has held successfully several positions and, during the war, was director of athletics for the Southeastern department. Mr. Cubbon has just declined an offer to direct physical education for the largest Association in the world, because he believes the South has wonderful possibilities in physical education.

Regional Secretary Cubbon Confers With Director Greene

In going over the athletic plans under consideration, Mr. Cubbon said that Rollins had a splendid program mapped out and hoped that the college would proceed immediately with the construction of the new field. He offered many valuable suggestions and said that when he made his trip through Florida next year that he wanted to visit Rollins and put on a demonstration in mass play. Mr. Cubbon said that Rollins had a mighty pretty location, wonderful possibilities, and that Winter Park was the best town he had seen in Florida.

STATE PRESS COMMENDS HIGH SCHOOL CONTEST

IRVING BACHELLER HIGH SCHOOL ORATORICAL PRIZE OF $100 RECEIVING STATE-WIDE NOTICE

That the Irving Bacheller High School Oratorical Prize of $100 which was recently announced by Rollins College for Founder's Week is receiving state-wide notice is evidenced by the fact that the press of the state has printed many complimentary notices regarding the worth of the prize and its timeliness. The generous donor, who is connected with the college, is being highly commended for his interest in the cause of education.

WIRELESS STATION PLANNED FOR ROLLINS

Plans are being made to install a wireless outfit for the Naval Unit very soon. The Headquarters will be located in the gymnasium and wireless towers are to be erected between the gym and the boathouse. A receiving phone for the radio will be installed in the gymnasium and it is the intention of those in charge to have a portable sending apparatus which may be taken out in boats and communications sent to the receiving station.

As soon as the wireless is installed classes of instruction will be formed and will be continued throughout the remainder of the year. There will probably be three classes a week. Commander Hagerty will be the instructor. He is now preparing the instruction boards which will be ready when the classes start.

LEAP YEAR DANCE SETS PACE FOR PAN

"One year in four,
"When girls have the floor."

Leap Year was given social prominence at a very delightful dance held in the Lyman Gymnasium Saturday, January 24th. Those receiving included Mrs. Dyer, Miss Barrett, and Cahncellor Brooks.

The hall was artistically decorated in Rollins colors of blue and gold interwoven with Spanish moss.

The music furnished by Jump's orchestra from Orlando, was exceptionally good. Between the dances delicious punch was served.

The young ladies carried out the role of gallant remarkably well in their conduct of the dance. The young men no doubt learned much by being in the position of "sought" instead of "seeker."

It is generally conceded to have been one of the most enjoyable dances given in Rollins this year.

THE BACHELLER PRIZE

It is with two-fold gratification that Rollins announces the prize of $100 offered by Mr. Irving Bacheller for the best oration given by a Florida high school boy at Knowles Hall during Founder's Week. First, Rollins has always had the interest of high school boys at heart and welcomes any meritorious attempt to bring them in closer touch with Florida's oldest seat of learning. Second, that Irving Bacheller, of nation-wide fame and popularity, should offer the prize lends a dignity we cannot overlook.

Mr. Bacheller's books have a human interest that is irresistible. Mr. Bacheller, himself, is equally so. To have him a resident in Winter Park and acting as Chairman of our Board of Control brings him into intimate touch with the students. The boys call him a "thoro good fellow" and we need say not more.

That Mr. Bacheller believes in en-

WHAT THE COLLEGE VOTE SIGNIFIES

The significance of the straw vote taken on the ratification of the peace treaty at nearly 500 colleges last week does not arise from any superior intelligence that may be claimed for the college man. This referendum is instructive in its results because it covered every part of the country and included the votes of nearly 140,000 persons. Of this number, nearly 98,000, or considerably more than two-thirds, expressed themselves in favor of unreserved ratification or of ratification with compromise reservations. Less than 28,000 votes were cast in favor of the Lodge reservations and only 14,000 in favor of rejecting the treaty altogether.

[This would mean that proposition 1 (unreserved ratification) received about 70,000 votes.]

It is rarely that any straw vote, whether taken at college or elsewhere, shows so strong a drift of opinion in one direction. Ninety per cent. of those who voted were in favor of having the treaty ratified in some form or other and that is probably a fair appraisal of public opinion throughout the country as a whole.

[Only ten per cent of the votes favored proposition 2.]

Seventy per cent. favored ratification without drastic changes, and whether this be taken at its face value or not, it undoubtedly indicates that a speedy compromise on the issues now before the Senate would be welcomed by our people as a whole.

It is a mistake to think that the universities and colleges of the United States, taking them as a whole, draw their students from any single class of the population. The state universities and the small country institutions of the South and West are recruited very largely from the families of farmers and wage-earners. Yet they have for the most part shown a stronger partiality to unreserved ratification or compromise than have the older universities and colleges of the East. The opponents of ratification would have been quick to make use of this referendum had the result been to their liking.—Boston Herald.—(From "The Exonian", Jan. 21, 1920).

couraging a high standard of work among our high school students is indicated by the following paragraph quoted from the announcement sent out by the College last week:

In offering this prize it is Mr. Bacheller's desire to stimulate thought on the present-day problems of America among the young men of Florida, to emphasize careful consideration of questions with which they are confronted, and to encourage diligent research. The oration will, therefore, be judged on the originality of its thought and the force with which it is presented in composition and delivery.

We hope that every high school in the state will be represented in this contest, tho' this is scarcely probable since it is quite a new feature in our Founder's Week. Our own Academy students will do well to exert themselves in this very creditable contest, and surely, if successful, Rollins will be proud that one of her students has won The Bacheller Prize in Oratory.

OUTSIDE OF THIS EVERYTHING'S ALL RIGHT

I have been bawled out, bawled up; held up and held down, bull-dozed, black-jacked, walked on, cheated, squeezed and mooched; stuck for war tax, excess profits tax, per capita tax, state tax, dog tax and syntax; Liberty bonds, baby bonds, and bonds of matrimony, Red Cross, green cross, and the double cross; asked to help the Society of John the Baptist, G. I have worked like hell and have been worked like hell; have been drunk and gotten others drunk, lost all I had and part of my furniture; and because I won't spend or lend all of the little I earn and go beg, borrow, or steal, I have been cussed and discussed, boycotted, talked to and talked about; lied to and lied about; held up, hung up, robbed and dam near ruined; and the only reason I am sticking around now is to see what in H— is coming next.

PERSHING FAVORS METER-LITER-GRAM

Commander of A. E. F. Notifies World Trade Club He Is Warm Supporter

WASHINGTON.—General John J. Pershing, convinced of the merits of the metric system by the experience of the American Expeditionary Forces in France, has written the following statement on behalf of the metric movement to secure for the United States the advantage of the general use of the meter, liter, and gram:

"The experience of the American Expeditionary Forces in France showed that Americans were able readily to change from our existing system of weights and measures to the metric system. I think the principal advantages of the metric system are summed up in the fact that this is the only system which has a purely scientific basis. Not the least advantage of the fact that the metric system is based on scientific principles is the facility which that system gives to calculations of all kinds, from the simplest to the most complex.

"I believe that it would be very desirable to extend the use of the metric system in the United States to the greatest possible extent."

TOPPERWEIN IS A REAL ARTIST

"Ad" Topperwein, the Rifle Shot, Turns out Heads Like the Above of Uncle Sam, in About Four Minutes

"Ad" Topperwein, the San Antonio, Tex., rifle shot, and we can add without the least fear of contradiction that he is the greatest rifle shot in the world, is quite an artist in other lines too.

Before taking to shooting as a means of livelihood Topperwein was a cartoonist on the San Antonio Express and when he passes up the shooting game Topperwein will again do cartoon work with pen and ink. He loves nothing better than to sit in hotel lobbies or in the dining rooms while on his trips and make sketches of people who pass through, and his sketches are exceptionally good.

While on the trip with the Winchester Shooting Team through the South last Fall Topperwein decorated the gun cases of his team mates with Indian Heads, Mutt and Jeff, Uncle Sam, Mexicans, cowboys, etc., and this work attracted attention every place the team shot. Topperwein can do a pen and ink head of Uncle Sam or an Indian Chief in about 20 minutes.

If you wish to find out just how capable an artist Topperwein is come out to the rifle and trapshooting exhibition that he gives here on February 16 and 17 and see him cut out the profile of Uncle Sam, or an Indian Chief, or our old friend Mutt with bullets from a 22 automatic rifle. He turns out these heads in about 4 minutes. The rifles are loaded for him by Boyd Duncan, the youthful professional trapshooter, who is traveling with Topperwein as his assistant. Topperwein pumps about 100 shots a minute into the sheet tin, and the heads are perfect in every detail. You have got to see this shooting to realize how good it is.

Two exhibitions will be given daily, 10 in the morning and 4 in the afternoon. The exhibitions will be as free as the air and every one is cordially invited to attend—and if there is anything you want to know about guns or ammunition ask Topperwein. He knows.

Oh! Glorious day for me,
Thou year of 1920.
Whenst thou around did roll.
Love which has been denied
To me for three years past,
Is now mine for the asking.

Oh! Glorious Providence,
One more thing to me,
I beg of thee to grant,
That in my search around
This great big world, I may Obtain my heart's desire—

LEAP YEAR.

The custom which ordains that a woman may propose marriage to a man in leap year dates back to 700 or 800 years. An act of the Scottish parliament passed about 1228 made it a crime punishable by a fine for an unattached man to refuse to become the life partner of a woman who had the courage to "speake ye mon she liked!"

The custom in a milder form is referred to in a book published in 1606 entitled "Courtship, Love and Matrimony:"

"Albeit it has now become a part of the common lawe in regarde to social relations of life that as often as every bissextile year doth return the ladys have the sole privilege during the time it continueth of making love unto the men, which they doe either by wordes or by lookes, as to them it seemeth proper and moreover, no man shall be entitled to the benefit of the clergy who doth in any wise treate her proposal with slight or contumely."

MR. RANOUS SINGS BEFORE CHAPEL AUDIENCE

Mr. Arthur Ranous, well-known baritone, afforded the students a delightful surprise last Wednesday morning by singing a few negro melodies during the chapel period. One of the selections, "The Old Ark's a Moverin" was familiar to the students, it being one of the folk songs which Miss Dyer taught.

Everyone showed their appreciation of Mr. Ranous by their hearty applause and were much disappointed when they failed to bring him back for a final encore.

It will only be a little while before we will have a war in this country to decide whether to call it The United States, Greater Ireland or New Jerusalem.

Several interesting and extraordinary articles of more than 200 years old have been added to the extensive museum at Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis. This large collection of antiques consists of pewter, hammered brass kettles and china, besides Indian war weapons of the Mashona tribe of Umtali, Africa.

At this time we wish to extend special mention to the following publications which are among those which have been received by this department since the Christmas holidays:

- "The Bates Student."
- "The Colby Echo."
- "St. Lucie Tribune."
- "The Spokesman."
- "The Kansas City Collegian."
- "The Excelsiorite."
- "The Florida Alligator."
- "The Lawrentian."
- "The Q."
- "The O'High."
- "The Huron Alphomega."
- "The Middlebury Campus."

The University of Florida is to have added to its list of athletics in the near future boxing as a form of inter-collegiate sport. This new sport will be under the direction of W. M. Tiller and with the ever-increasing enthusiasm throughout the country, especially in the South, should rank high among the major sports.

Why Not?

They were a very saving old couple, and as a result they had a beautifully furnished house. One day the old lady missed her husband.

"Joseph, where are you?" she called out.

"I'm resting in the parlor," came the reply.

"What! on the sofy?" cried the old lady horrified.

"No, on the floor."

"Not on that grand carpet?" came in tones of anguish.

"No, I've rolled it up."

ROBERT HUTCHINSON

Robert Hutchinson, or "Bob" as he is more familiarly known to his friends, was graduated with the Class of 1918 after a college career of more than usual interest. "Bob" thought enough of Rollins to come down from New England four consecutive years and in the process traveled five thousand miles.

During his undergraduate days he was active in athletics and made both the football and basket ball teams. He was also active in other student interests, being Y. M. C. A. delegate to the Blue Ridge Conference in June following his sophomore year. He was also a member of the Delphic Society.

Immediately after graduation Mr. Hutchinson entered the radio department of the Navy and served his country in that way. Last spring he was released from service and is now head of an electrical plant in Three Rivers, Mass.

Y. W. C. A. MEETING

A very interesting and enthusiastic Y. W. C. A. meeting was held last Tuesday night. Miss Woodside, who lived in Africa for several years, was the speaker. Her father and mother were missionaries in Africa for over thirty years and Miss Woodside herself had charge of the education department of the mission. She told several of her unique experiences which held the attention of everyone present. Miss Woodside's talk was not only interesting but it gave us all a little better idea of the sacrifices and hardships, and, on the other hand, the rewards of a missionary in "Darkest Africa."

the country. The faculty recital and President's reception will close the day. The 21st is Alumni Day although quite a number of undergraduate events are scheduled, among which are the conclusion of the tennis tournament and the inter-class debate for the Delphic Cup. The Irving Bacheller Prize of $100, to be awarded for the best oration by a high school boy of Florida, will also be contested for on the afternoon of this day. The day will close with the Junior Prom. An impressive vesper service on Washington's Birthday will close the 1920 Founder's Week, making it one of the most notable in the history of Rollins.

Watch the mustaches, girls. There may be one real one out of the bunch.

cago, visited Rollins last Monday. Mr. Stagg has been coaching at the University of Chicago for twenty-seven years and is acknowledged to be one of the three or four most famous physical directors in this country. He is a graduate of Yale and while there made an enviable record in athletics, pitching on five successive championship baseball teams and playing end on the 'Varsity eleven. The President of the University of Chicago has stated that Mr. Stagg has done more to transform Western Athletics than all other agencies combined. The Athletic Field of the University is called Stagg Field in his honor.

In discussing the athletic plans for Rollins, Mr. Stagg said he saw great possibilities for development here. He went into detail in going over the plans of the location of the base-ball fields, the varsity football field, location of the grandstand, and construction of the cinder track. He considered the gymnasium plans excellent and said that they could not be improved upon.

The visit of these two prominent athletic men is appreciated by Rollins. Their presence gave added encouragement to those who are promoting athletics. In discussing the securing of team material, Mr. Stagg said, "I very much admire the program you are promoting here. I hope you never stoop to anything less."

cation and the stimulation of thought on the present-day problems of America among the young men of Florida.

The Orlando Reporter-Star, one of the most progressive dailies of the state, carried a front page story in one of last week's issues about the contest. A quotation from this article reads as follows: "Some high school boy from the state of Florida will not only carry away a substantial prize in money, but will participate in a recognized effort toward higher education when the Irving Bacheller prize of $100 is awarded by Rollins College at Winter Park during Founder's Week, February 18-22. And he can claim Apalachicola or Key West as his home just as well as Orange county, for the contest is open to high school boys of the whole state.

"Mr. Bacheller, a winter resident of Winter Park, whose fame as an author is co-extensive with the printed English language offers an award of $100 to the high school boy of Florida who writes the best oration upon a theme relating to some present-day American problem, and also finds time to act as chairman of the Advisory Board of that sterling educational institution."

Only Natural

"And you say the father of the prodigal son fell on his neck and wept? Why did he weep?"

"I guess you'd weep too, if you fell on your neck."

—Ex.

"We drank from the same canteen," exclaimed the old soldier.

"But weren't you afraid of microbes?" suggested his granddaughter.

"No, dear, no microbes could live in the stuff we were drinking."

SOPHOMORES ENJOY LIVELY CLASS DINNER

On January twenty-first, the College Sophomore class made its grand debut into Rollins Society. Everything at the dining hall was going on as usual, when suddenly, just outside the door there came a loud burst of enthusiasm.

Too—oo! Too—oo! Too—oo! Too! Too! Too! Too!

No, it was not the Dinky. The blasts were too mighty for that.

2—2, 2—2, 2—2, 2—2

One-nine—two-two

Nineteen—twenty-two.

Hurrah! Hurrah! Hurrah!

And the whole thing was given away. The Sophomores, as they marched into the dining hall were greeted with hearty applause—we believe even the Freshmen responded, although they seemed quite properly squelched.

A special table had been prepared, behind which stretched in its colors of green, white, and gold, the banner of 1922.

Between courses, the Sophomores showed more class spirit and real "pep" by giving other yells and by singing the class song, which Miss Dyer so cleverly parodied from, "Mary and the William Goat."

NEW STUDENTS REGISTER

Several new students registered at the Dean's office for the second semester last Monday. Among these were: Miss Sarah Jaicks, of Oak Park, Ill., who is entering the Academy; Vera Tidwell, of Orlando, who has been attending the University of Alabama and who enrolled at Rollins as a Sophomore; Robert Hatch, of West Palm Beach, who enrolled in the Academy; Lillian Perkins, of Jacksonville, Florida, who is entering the Sophomore Academy class; J. Irvin Chaffee, of New York City, and Edward Fohl, of Pittsburg, Penn.

The Sandspur regrets the loss of two members of the staff thru their not returning to school for the second semester. Miss Ruby Atkinson returns to her home in Oberlin, Ohio. Miss Emily Theed will remain, at home in Miami, Florida.

Call for Mr. Pyrene

"Ikey, I hear you had a fire last Thursday."

"Sh! next Thursday."

Too Often

Prof. (teaching Wallace the alphabet)—"Now what comes after 'G'?"
Byrd—"Whiz!"

FORMER STUDENTS RETURNS FOR SECOND SEMESTER

Irvin Chaffee and Eddie Fohl were students at Rollins last year and have been attending schools at their Northern homes during the first semester. The saying "beter late than never" certainly applies and their many friends at Rollins welcome them back to the "Old School."

I was seated in the parlor
And I said unto the light,
Either you or I, old fellow,
Will be turned down tonight.

IN ATHLETIC FIELD DRIVE

The last issue of the "Sandspur" gave space to a letter from Harry Nickerson, Chairman of the Memorial Athletic Committee for the state of Maine. Below is a letter from Thomas Evans Jr., Chairman for the Memorial Athletic Committee for the state of Ohio. The interest of such former students is an encouragement to those at Rollins who would make this Memorial Field possible.

January 17th, 1920.

"Dear Former Student:—

Around the first of December, 1919 you received a letter from Mr. Ray Greene giving you in detail the amount of money he is going to get for the Rollins College Athletic Memorial. He has asked me to follow up this campaign in our state.

FIRST. Ohio Students' quota is five thousand dollars.

SECOND. Ohio Ex-Students list contains only seventy names.

THIRD—The minimum for each is placed at Fifty Dollars and the maximum is up to you, and the terms of payment of maximum and minimum are most liberal.

"Now let us do something for ourselves, let us be just a little selfish if you please, and put this proposition clear out of sight, and the entire ex-student and resent student body is asked to contribute less than 30 per cent of the grand total necessary for the construction of this great memorial.

"The word Retrogress has been eliminated from the Rollins category for some time, and the word Progress has been most ably substituted, and it is certainly up to all of us to give everything we possibly can to put this proposition across.

"Make a $100 subscription if you can, or more, or not so much if you can't, but whatever the amount, check it to Mr. Greene with a hearty good wish, and remember at the most there are only seventy of us..

"Yours for a greater Rollins, always,
(Signed). THOMAS EVANS, JR."
Ohio Chairman.

In Bible Class

"Who can tell me," asked the professor, "what became of the swine that had the evil spirits cast into them?"

Red Palmer raised his hand—"They must have been made into deviled ham."

TARGET SHOOTING GAINS POP-ULARITY AMONG THE GIRLS

The girls are becoming quite expert with the rifles. Monday morning about ten of those interested in that line of sport paddled across the lake and hit the trail for the shooting gallery. Bullseyes were common and although no high individual score was made, some pretty shots were recorded.

At first, firing was at stationery targets at a distance of fifty feet. Bottles were set up, and one after another fell to pieces before an accurate hail of lead. The moving targets were exciting and many hurtling bottles crashed to the ground under the steady aim of the clever shots. (Ask Mr. Hagerty about the close shave he got while counting scores.) He and Prof. Blair engineered the shoot, with Miss Eckerson as girl's chaperone.

Next Monday is reserved for men's target practice. The girls are expected out in force Monday after next.

In Math.

Pof. H.—"What are you laughing at? Not at me!"

O. B.—"Oh! no."

Prof.—"Then what else is there in the room to laugh at?"

Ted—"Say Jim, what kind of leather makes the best kind of shoes?"

Jim—"I don't know, but banana peelings make the best kind of slippers."

Mary had a little lamb
You've heard that fact before
But have you heard she passed her plate
And had a little more?

She—"I have a friend who suffers from the heat."

He—"Where does he live?"

She—"He isn't living."

Little drops of water
Frozen on the walk
Make the naughty adjectives
Come in peoples talk.

Foreign lady in drug store—"I want some powder."

"Mennens?"

"No, vimmens."

"Scented?"

"No, I will take it mit me."

Wonderful

Bill—"Why is Glassey like a hound?"

Will—"Because he makes a little hare (hair) go a long ways."

Too Bad

"Yea," murmured the convicted murderer as he entered the prison, "I guess I'll have to hang around here."

Aw Grow Up!

Boyle (confidently)—"I can go with any girl I please."
"Sterno"—"The trouble is you don't please any."

A Matter of Course

Freddie (on golf links)—"That fat guy is always crossing my tee. What shall I do to him?"
Rowe (ex-Gob)—"I'll dot his eye if he don't watch out."

At the Follies

Rounder—"Say did you ever notice the expression on a chorus girl's face?"
Boulder—"Can't say that I have."
Rounder—"Look up some time."
—Ex.

Here Also

Prof. (at lecture)—"Any of you know when shingles first came into use?"
Dud—"When I was between five and six years old."
—Ex.

No Doubt

Carey (absently)—"Where have I seen your face before?"
Fair woman—"The same place you see it now."

Are We Right?

"Red"—"My plate is damp."
Jerry—"Hush, you goof, that's your soup."

Those Mustaches

The foolishness, the silliness
Of some boys that I know,
Who have to raise a mustache
It's the only thing will grow,
They shave their faces as usual
Except the upper lip;
Then darken that with charcoal
And think that they look flip.
"Now don't I look much older?"
Asked one young man of me.
"Oh, scarcely; for your action
Are worse than one of three."

"Let's start a mustache club," he said,
And raise a mustache small
No, let's be Bolsheviks instead,
And do not shave at all."

So watch these misplaced eyebrows,
Upon the upper lip;
You surely don't look older
But we grant they do look flip.
(Apologies to Q. H.)

Heard at the Beanery

"Well," said the waiter to Cheesey, who had just had his coffee refilled for the seventh time, "You must be very fond of coffee."
"Yes, indeed," answered George, "or I wouldn't be drinking so much water to get a little" —Ex.

It's So

"The amount of money a fellow's father has doesn't seem to cut much figure here."
"No; it's the amount of the father's money the son has."—Record.

All the Same

Dean—"Which death would you prefer to die, Joan of Arc's or Marie Antoinette's?"
Doris—"Joan of Arc's, because I prefer a hot steak to a cold chop."

An Idea

He—"Please let me hold your hand
a minute."
She—"All right, but how are you going to know when the minute is up?"
He—"Easy, I'll have to hold your second hand." —Ex.

Miss E.—"I don't see, Alden, how you can be so stupid."
Smut—"Why really, it isn't a bit hard."

It Depends

"Who are your favorite screen actresses?" asked Zorbaugh.
"They vary" replied Jerry. "A great deal depends on the likes and dislikes of the girl I have with me at the movies." —Ex.

Good Night, Nurse!

Pat Sullivan (up to his old tricks)
—"Good morning, little one. Haven't
I met you somewhere before?"
She—"It's quite likely. I used to be a nurse in the insane asylum." —Ex.

Hard Luck

Schultz—"Someone told me that you were fired out of Math. yesterday."
Stan—"Yes, I didn't laugh at Prof's pet joke."

How Did He Know, Indeed!

He—"That guy gives me a pain. He said I was a tightwad."
She—"Well——?"
—"How does he know whether I am generous or not?" I never bought anything for him." —Widow.

At Tampa

Easter—"Did anybody comment on the way you handled that automobile?"
Skid—"One made a slight remark,
'Fifteen bucks or the jail.'"

Where Is He?

Breathes there a boy with soul so dead
Who never to himself has said,
I'd like to break my Prof's—ink bottle?" —Ex.

Proof

"What did Columbus prove by standing an egg on end?"
"That eggs in his day were cheap enough to be handled carelessly." —Ex.

Not Always

Prof. B.—"When two bodies come together with some force, is heat generated?"
Fred—"Not always; I hit a guy
once, and he knocked me cold."

Yawners

There are those who yawn because they are weary.
Some people yawn for a purpose.
Others yawn for want of anything else to do.
It is possible to yawn with one's eyes.
Some women yawn to show their teeth.
Husbands yawn audibly.
Lovers never yawn.

Leap (?) Year

Pratt—"I hear that Mary is a toe dancer."
Bill—"She sure is, the toes of my shoes are ruined." —Ex.

Shave, Duke

Rowe—"I've had something hesitating on my lips for some time now and—"
She—"Oh, Johnnie, how I do hate
those little mustaches."

Extra Weight

Look Red, I weigh three pounds
more than you do."
"Aw, you're cheatin'! You've got your hands in your pockets."

Bill Shakespeare (revised)

To be, or not to be;
That is the question—of the hour
For me you bet
And yet
Why ponder, yonder
O'er life's illusions?
Nix—not for me.

Prepared

She—"Oh, George, think of coming to ask papa's consent in such shabby clothes."
He—"That's all right, I had one suit ruined."

Aren't They

Prof.—"Do you know that your shoes could tell a wonderful industrial history?"
Student—"Mine couldn't! Both their tongues are tied."
She—"Those trousers of yours look a bit warm."
He—"They're on their last legs."

One Hope Left

T. Tompkins (after trying his voice)—"Do you think I can ever do anything with my voice?"
Miss Dyer—"Well, it may come in handy in case of fire."

Equal

The devil sends the wicked wind
That blows the skirts knee-high,
But heaven is just, and sends the dust
To fill the bad man's eyes.
—Orange Peel.

Gas Masks

She—"What's the national air of Italy?"
He—"Garlic and onions."

At Rollins (?)

"Who is that co-ed?"
"How dare you? That's my grandmother."

You Win

M. H.—"Why are you so sad, Winnie?"
R. W.—"Because I'm a woman of sighs."

Adieu

At last we have a sigh of rest,
The weekly crime is wrote,
Next time we get this job
We'll cram it down your throat.
