FRENCH PUPILS APPEAR IN FINAL PLAY OF SESSION

M. GLATZ PRESENTS "LE MARCH-AND DES LUNETTES" AT THE FREEMAN HOME

Small But Select Audience Attends

Another French play was given last Wednesday afternoon, April 28th, by the students of Madame M. Glatz de St. Imier. The play, "Le Marchand des Lunettes," which in an extract from the selection "Le Passant" by Francois Coppe, was interestingly interpreted by Miss Persida Mladenovitch as Le Merchand, Miss Wilhelmina Freeman as Jules, the grandson of Madame Legrand, and Mr. Warren Ingram as the grandmother, Madame Legrand.

Miss Persida, has made wonderful progress under Madame's able teaching, considering the fact that she first studied the French language with a Serbian teacher. Miss Wilhelmina Freeman has had but seven months of French, and Mr. Ingram but one year under Madame Glatz.

To lengthen the program and add interesting features several dainty selections were rendered by Misses Helen Hanna and Mae Clock, who are just finishing their first year in this study, Della Clifford McManus, who has studied but seven weeks, and Emile Swigel and Nina Marsh, second and third years respectively. A fitting climax to the afternoon's entertainment was the "Tableau Vivant" enacted by Miss Ruth Waldron representing France, who recited admirably "Le Marseillaise," Persida

INTER-HIGH SCHOOL "MEETS" BECOMING POPULAR

That Inter-High School "Meets" are growing in popularity in Florida is evidenced by the fact that the present "Meet" season, which closes tomorrow with the Rollins Interscholastic Aquatic Meet, has been the largest and most successful in the history of the state. This movement which is one possibly of far-reaching results is bound to gain much impetus next year.

In addition to the meets held this year and which will be continued next, Southern College is contemplating holding an Inter-High School Basketball Tournament.

The University of Florida opens the annual high school season with its State Track Meet held at Gainesville, usually about the middle of April. The total number of men entered in this year's events was 122, making it the largest ever held. Winter Haven High School and Duval High School had the largest number of men entered, thirteen each, and Leesburg was second with twelve men. Other schools entered were: Palatka, Marianna, Ocala, Tallahassee, Quincy, Vero, Daytona, Orlando, Trenton,

The college officials in charge of the Interscholastic Water Meet, wishing to extend every courtesy to the visitors from the state high schools, have arranged a canoe trip through Lake Virginia, Osceola and Maitland for this afternoon beginning promptly at four o'clock. The two large "war" canoes, each holding eleven persons, will head the parade and will be followed by as many smaller canoes as are needed to accommodate the crowd.

TWO NEW DOCKS ERECTED FOR WATER MEET

In order to give every possible consideration to the contestants in the high school water meet, two new docks have recently been built into Lake Virginia, one leading out from the college boat house and the other leading out from the college pump station. These docks will serve as starting and ending points for a number of the contests.

Rollins students will also make good use of this new aquatic equipment, not only for the intra-mural struggles but also for the daily swims that are most popular during the warm days.

MILLION DOLLAR ENDOWMENT CAM- PAIGN LAUNCHED

TRUSTEES WILL RAISE $500,000;
DR. WARD UNDERTAKES
TO SECURE LIKE SUM

Mr. C. H. Morse Subscribes $100,000.

Perhaps Dr. Ward has never received a more appreciative welcome than was given him Tuesday morning in chapel, when he appeared for the first time in many weeks, his absence being due to severe illness.

After the routine of the chapel service was over, Dr. Ward outlined briefly the new $1,000,000 endowment campaign which has just been launched for Rollins college. The trustees have assumed the task of raising the first $500,000 and Dr. Ward has agreed to secure the remaining half million. This million dollar endowment will be in addition to the $250,000 approximately which the college has at the present time, and will make possible many great improvements for Florida's oldest institution of higher learning. Mr. Charles H. Morse of the Board of Trustees has already given $100,000 toward this amount. The quota for Winter Park has been placed at $50,000 and the local Rollins club is undertaking to engineer this part of the campaign. Already $19,385.00 of the $50,000... has been subscribed although the committee has only been at work three or four days. Monday evening, an entertainment was given by the local club when the plan of raising the money was outlined. Among the speakers were Dr. Ward, Judge John M.

BACHELLER ORATORICAL CON- TEST TO BE HELD AT ROL- LINS NEXT YEAR

Of interest to the high school students who are visiting in Winter Park just now may be the announcement recently given out by the Prize Contest Committee of Rollins College to the effect that the Oratorical Prizes of $60 and $40 for first and second places respectively will be held next February, during Founder's Week.

This contest is open to the girls and boys of the eleventh and twelfth grades in the senior high schools of Florida. The orations must contain not more than fifteen hundred words and will be judged from the standpoint of thought, originality, and expression. The subjects, any one of which may be selected, are as follows: "The Making of a Man"; "What is Americanism?"; "The Kind of President We Need"; "Americanization in the High School"; "The Character of Roosevelt"; "What is Really Worth While in Life?"

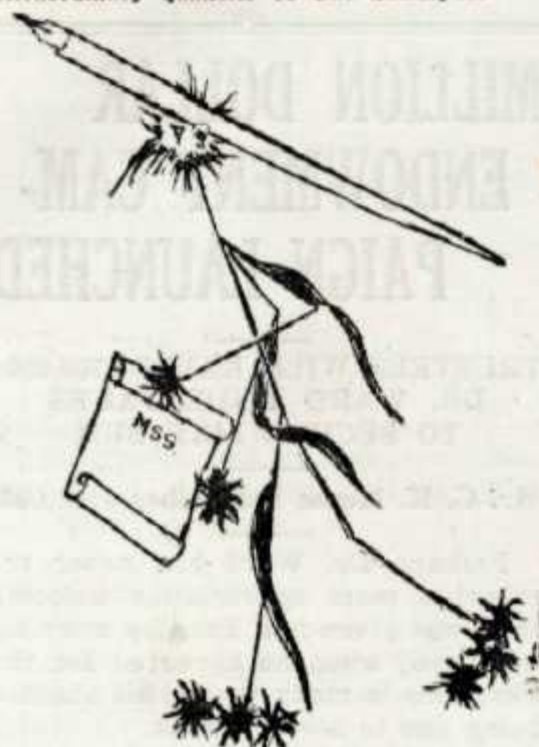

These generous prizes are offered by Irving Bacheller, the distinguished author, who serves as chairman of the Advisory Board of Rollins College. In offering these prizes it is

WELCOME HIGH SCHOOL AQUATIC TEAMS

"Come on in, the water's fine," is the cry with which Rollins greets you. Everything else has been suppressed today—"ducked," so to speak—so that all may be free to flirt with Neptune and the Goddess of the Lakes. We bid you welcome to Rollins and to all that Rollins affords in the way of enjoying life to the fullest. We ask you to make yourselves "just one of us" and get a taste of the zest of living on the shores of Lake Virginia, and of "sky-larking" around Lake Osceola "where the great chief's wigwam stood." All lovers of water-sports can find enough facilities here to ply their art to their heart's content—everything is available except "shooting rapids," and at that, you can make the "shooting" just as rapid as you want when your canoe runs afoul of a 'gator in Snake Run! And those who are fond of serf bathing are reminded that Winter Park is but a short drive to Daytona Beach, perhaps the best and most famous beach in the world. Parties of students frequently make the trip over and back on Mondays, either in private cars or on the "Orange Belt Bus."

We trust that the Meet will in every respect come up to your expectations, and that you will return to your respective schools more than ever ardent believers in and promoters of water sports. We hope that you will do all in your power to spread the "infection" so that our fair state of Florida will in the future stand for a great deal more in the way of utilizing her splendid facilities for water sports. It is our opinion that this wonderful sport has been sadly neglected by our schools, and Rollins stands ready to do all in her power to put it on the interscholastic program, as it is at present on the unofficial program of the college as well as of many high schools in the state.

THE "MATTER WITH AMERICA"

What's the matter with America these days?

Too many diamonds, not enough alarm clocks.

Too many silk shirts, not enough blue flannel ones.

Too many pointed-toed shoes, and not enough square-toed ones.

Too many serge suits and not enough overalls.

Too much decollette and not enough aprons.

Too many satin upholstered limousines and not enough cows.

Too many consumers and not enough producers.

Too much oil stock and not enough savings accounts.

Too much envy of the results of hard work and too little desire to emulate it.

Too many desiring short cuts to wealth and too few willing to pay the price.

Too much of the spirit of "get while the getting is good," and not enough of the old-fashioned Christianity.

Too much discontent that vents itself in mere complaining, and too little real effort to remedy conditions.

Too much class consciousness and too little common democracy and love of humanity.—Fargo (N. D.) Forum.

Why Go To College?

BY DR. HOYT

To the Editor of "The Sandspur":

One of your wide-awake staff asked me to answer the question, "Why Go to College?" That question has been answered many million times by mere citations of the results of college training,—citations by college folk and non-college folk, by the wise, the noted, the rich, and by ordinary people in all ranks and ranges of occupation. I do not believe there is any other human conclusion more nearly unanimous than the accumulated answer to that question; and the college boys in the war completed the experimental proof—so ready for any emergency, so versatile in expedients, so jolly in a large-hearted way, so self-forgetful, so dependable, so serviceable wherever they were called, so many of them at the forefront in all the more responsible places, and so on and on.

It occurs to me to make a summary of reasons in a mnemonic form, thus: "Why go to college?"

1.—For Fun:

No other period of a wholesome life can have more opportunities for real, rich, rollicking fun, fun that grows more deeply and also intellectually funny, fun that gives a man or a woman a happy expectation and attitude for all the more sober later years; freshman fun, green as grass if you please, but just as lush and lively in growth; and then on through all the brighter wit and wisdom of the riper years; but always fun, plenty of it of all welcome sorts.

2.—For Fullness:

It is the one kind of training that delves deep into one's resources, and connects all parts of his many-gifted self with all other values of every kind in this rich old world. The average graduate is ready, resourceful, inventive, responsive,—in a word capable, because his dormant faculties have become active. Distinction in a broad sense has come to one in ten thousand non-graduates; to one in forty graduates—at least about thus it has been figured in various tests. The graduate is like a complex machine with all the parts in working condition; the non-graduate is like some one part or some few parts.

3.—For Force:

No other experience can surpass the genuine college training to give power,—power to think, to speak, to act, to direct, to be a leader somewhere. Wherever you may go you will find a college man or woman here and there at the forefront of some activity. Statistics again suggest that the chances for leadership are increased seventy per cent by the college training.

4.—For Finish:

It has always been the belief that college education in its best form gives discipline, culture, a finish that is not of the superficial kind—mere suavity and glitter—but a liberal-mindedness, a large heartedness, self-reliance co-mingled with consideration for others, the finely tempered character that wins affection and wields influence. And even in our rough-hewn America, much of this finer product of a well rounded discipline has helped make many communities homes of the graces. But, in any case, every graduate may carry out of the college halls a refinement of manner and a nobility of character that he could have found in no other way.

Most college graduates will say with me that the day when one decides to go to college is the real birthday of his life.

Very truly yours,

C. K. Hoyt.

My Creed.

"I would be true, for there are those who trust me;
I would be pure, for there are those who care;
I would be strong, for there is much to suffer;
I would be brave, for there is much to dare.
I would be friend of all—the foe, the friendless;
I would be giving and forget the gift;
I would be humble for I know my weakness;
I would look up—and laugh—and love—and lift." —Selected.

MR. AND MRS. EDWARD W. PACKARD GIVE SILVER CUP TO HIGH SCHOOL CONTESTANTS

Mrs. and Mrs. Edward W. Packard, winter residents of Winter Park, are the donors of the Packard cup which will be awarded at the banquet in the college dining hall this evening. The cup is handsomely engraved and will give much gratification to the proud winner in tomorrow's water events.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Packard are greatly interested in Rollins college and in the high school students of Florida. At the time they generously donated the fund which makes this beautiful cup possible, they expressed themselves as greatly pleased at having a part in the school life of the boys and girls of Florida, and in particular the water sports of the high schools. The cup is given by them jointly, as it is their custom to do such things together. Mr. Packard is a millionaire identified with many of the great interests of the north, and Mrs. Packard, who possesses a most charming and magnetic personality, is one of the best known social leaders of New York and Greenwich, Conn.

A Call to Teachers.

Are YOU going to teach? Stop, think first. It means a hard life, poor pay, work never done, and hours of worry over thankless boys and girls. Does it pay, I wonder?

How about the thousands of schools closed for lack of teachers, now, when the education is the most needed to make full-blooded Americans? THE COUNTRY NEEDS YOU.

Salaries are going up where they belong and will stay there when others fall. What other occupation keeps you in better touch with your college training? What offers greater opportunity for familiarization and research in your favorite studies? And where do you come in closer contact with human lives in the making? Your influence may not seem great then, but the few you do start on the right path of life make your struggle worth it. Here's your chance for service. THE WORLD NEEDS YOU.—The Bates Student.

Pledge of the Athenian Youths.

We will never bring disgrace to this our city by any act of dishonesty or cowardice, nor ever desert our comrades; we will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the city, both alone and with many; we will revere and obey the city laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others; * * * We will strive unceasingly to quicken the public's sense of civic duty; that thus in all these ways we may transmit this city, greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us.—The University News.

Harvard Has New Swimming Team Captain.

A. H. Brackett, '22, of Jamaica Plain, has been elected captain of the swimming team for next year. During the season that has just closed he won more points than any other individual on the team. He scored 66 points; the next highest point winner made 32. Brackett was entered in the 50 and 100-yards dashes. In the eleven meets of the season he won eight first places, as well as two second places in the New England Intercollegiate meet. Most of the members of the swimming team return to College next year, and the 1923 team has several good swimmers who will be eligible.

In its final contest of the year the swimming team defeated the Boston University team, 32 points to 20, March 23, in the Boston Y. M. C. A. tank. The Harvard team won first place in every event except one.—Exchange.

DELPHIC SOCIETY DRAMATIZING O. HENRY

The Delphic Literary and Debating Society, of which Rex Beach was once president, is just now hard at work dramatizing three short stories from the pen of O. Henry. The work was started several weeks ago and the plays are now almost ready for study. Just as soon as the rush of May Day is over rehearsals will start. The plays are to be one-act and there will probably be three in all.

Mrs. W. D. Freeman has offered the use of her handsome home, and the play will probably be given there, following the success of the French plays given under the direction of Madame Glatz.

To play hard, but fairly; to win if possible, but to take defeat cheerfully;—this is the creed of the true sportsman. In other words, use every fair means to gain a victory, but if the other fellow emerges victorious, be a "good loser."—Ex.

According to the testimony of railroad officials, the hoboes or tramps are going to work. Prohibition is given as the cause, because there are no longer the free lunch, the liquor and the saloon stove.

SENIORS OF ACADEMY ENJOY BANQUET

The most interesting social event that the Senior Academy class has held this year was the banquet given in the college dining room Tuesday, April 22. The table was set for sixteen and was beautifully decorated with a floral arch from which green and white streamers were hung buried in a bank of white roses in the center. The class colors of green and white were also carried out in the favors tied to the place cards in the individual bonbon dishes. Miss Annie C. Bellows, class adviser, sat at the head of the table while the president of the class, Miss Rose Powers, was given the place of honor. After the meal Miss Bellows called for extemporaneous speeches from various members of the class. Miss Powers' speech was on "Class Spirit."

Those present were the Misses Bellows, Powers, Hartzog, Coulter, Sutherland, Anna Gram, Hill, Frances and Margaret Bell, and Neal; Messrs. Zorbaugh, Berk, and Paul Potter.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB SINGS IN ORLANDO

Last Monday evening, the Girls' Glee Club gave a short program at a State Librarians Convention, which was held in the Baptist church, in Orlando. This brief recital added greatly to the evening's program, and was very much enjoyed by everybody.

WEEK-END HOUSE PARTY AT WINTER GARDEN

The Tilden home in Winter Garden was the scene of a jolly house party the past week-end. Miss Doris Tilden and Mrs. Markwood, as hostesses, deserve the highest praise for affording a congenial crowd of college students an unceasing round of fun and welcome relief from the toils of school.

The guests for the week-end were: Misses Elizabeth Murphy, Anna and Bertha Gram, Florence Bumby, Kate McKenny, Katherine Barnes and Mary Whitehead.

Motoring out for the evening Saturday were the Messrs. Roger Sherman, Wm. Sherman, Hill, Ingram, Markwood, Magruder, and two Sigma Nu men from Stetson, Bob Davis and J. W. Russell.

PICNIC IN HONOR OF MISS BANKS

A picnic was given last Monday by the G. S. C. in honor of Miss Mary Louise Banks, the house guest of Miss Vivian Barbour. The rest of the afternoon was spent in bathing at the Seminole dock. Miss Gertrude Davies was a guest from the college.

Y. W. C. A.

Those attending the Y. W. meeting of last Tuesday night were greatly repaid by a very interesting talk upon instances concerning the Y. W. C. A. organization. Miss Bellows led the devotional exercises and then introduced Miss Elizabeth Russell, former Rollins student. Miss Russell told, in an admirable manner, something of her experience in Y. W. war work, in a "smokeless powder" plant. She afterward told of the fascinating work as secretary in a north Georgia mill town. We feel very grateful to Miss Russell for giving us such a splendid idea of the work of an association secretary.

The Court of Appeals for This

You can always repeal a bad law, but you can't do the same for a bad banana.

Speaking of Appeals:

The poor, starving, half-clothed, poverty-stricken, famished subject bowed low before the throne. Producing from his pocket a banana skin, he threw it at the king's feet. "I appeal," he cried. The king glanced down. "Ah, but your appeal is fruitless." Whereupon the suppliant swooned.

DANCE FOR VISITORS IN GYM TONIGHT

Probably Biggest Dance of the Year Will Be Given In Honor of High School Teams

At the meeting of the General Social committee of the College last Wednesday afternoon, arrangements were completed for what will probably be the best-run and most enjoyable dance of the year. There are nine strong committees in charge and it is expected that if the visitors do not have the time of their young lives, it won't be the fault of Rollins.

Mrs. William Chase Temple, wife of the late capitalist and developer of Florida, is General Chairman of the dance. Her broad social experience has brought in many new ideas and she is working ceaselessly for the success of this affair.

The wives of a number of the trustees have accepted invitations to act as patronesses and receive. These ladies are: Mrs. George Morgan Ward, Mrs. James Brooks, Mrs. William Chase Temple, Mrs. Charles H. Morse, Mrs. George L. Dyer, Mrs. Charles L. Smith, Mrs. William R. O'Neal, Mrs. Edward H. Brewer, Mrs. Harley B. Gibbs, Mrs. John T. Fuller, Mrs. Alton B. Whitman, and Miss Ida M. Barrett.

The scheme of decoration will be black and white with apple blossoms

FRATERNITIES TO RACE IN WAR CANOES BETWEEN EVENTS

In order to vary the events of the day it has been agreed between the fraternities on the campus to pull off two races with the war canoes. Some time between the events this morning Phi Alpha will appear against Alpha Alpha for the men's honors, and in the afternoon, the sororities will have a show. The Kappa Epsilon girls will race the Sigma Phi's and it is expected that these races will be one of the drawing cards of the day.

of crepe paper. The decoration committee has been at work for some time and it is expected that the gymnasium will present almost a fairy-land appearance.

The music and dancing will begin at eight o'clock. A dancing committee composed of Misses Russell and Richards and Messrs. Hill and Glassey will take care of introductions and see that all visitors are provided with partners. The dancing will be as varied as possible, there being one Paul Jones and one draw dance in addition to the Grand March which will be led by the May Queen, Miss Winifred Stone of the Junior Class. A spot light dance has also been arranged, and two big spot lights will be placed in the gallery to play on the dancers.

DANCE FOR VISITORS TONIGHT

During the intermission a series of specialty dances has been prepared by Miss Idabel Edwards, director of athletics for the girls. Miss Lucy Anderson will interpret the "Siren's Song," Miss Nancy Hartzog, whose success in the gymnasium exhibition will be remembered will give the "Scarf Dance," and Miss Doris Tilden will give an Egyptian dance which is said by those who have seen it to be of unusual beauty.

Mrs. C. L. Smith has charge of the refreshments which will consist of punch (throughout the evening) and ice cream and cake.

After the first encore each dance will be a "break", and for this dance it will be a "leap year" break or at least "equal suffrage" as both boys and girls are entitled to do the breaking.

MISS ROUS RETURNS FROM CONCERT TOUR

ENTHUSIASTICALLY WELCOMED TO MANY LARGE CITIES WHILE AWAY

Miss Marion Rous, of the Rollins Conservatory, returned this week from a concert tour of several large cities. The cordial welcome she received and fine impression which she left in these towns are shown by articles in the leading newspapers of the various cities. During the trip, Miss Rous visited many former Rollins students. At Chattanooga, where she stayed for several days, and gave her lecture-recital, she visited many places of historic interest. In Cleveland she gave her recital at the Duchess Theatre. During her stay in this city, Miss Rous met Mrs. George Madden Martin, the celebrated author, who spent her childhood in Winter Park and Orlando and remembers Lake Maitland particularly. Miss Rous was also enthusiastically welcomed at Louisville, Kentucky, where her lecture-recital was heard at the Y. W. C. A.

The following excerpts from prominent newspapers display the great appreciation of Miss Rous' worth shown in the various cities where her recitals were heard:

The Daily Times, Chattanooga, Tenn.:

"The recital given last night at the court house auditorium by Miss Marion Rous, was Chattanooga's first experience of modernism in piano music. Miss Rous is a handsome and amiable woman and a pianiste of splendid ability.

"The 'G Minor Rhapsodie' was perhaps the most notable number, being dazzlingly brilliant and apparently a compromise between the conventional rhapsody and the unyielding severity of modernism. It required consummate technical ability to play it, but Miss Rous seemed merely to revel in its colossal difficulties.

"The program ended with the brilliant 'Shepherd's Hey' by Percy Grainger, a composition in much more conventional style, whose sparkling measures were played in the dashing style required by it.

This excellent recital has done very much, musicians say, to advance musical ideas in Chattanooga, and all present testify to their pleasure in the performance and to the conspicuous ability of the charming artiste."

Cleveland Plain-Dealer, Cleveland, O.:

"Music—futuristic, cubistic, impressionistic, but not always altruistic, formed the main subject matter of Marion Rous's piano recital and spoken discourse at the Duchess Theatre last night.

"After the first two or three numbers, one had much the sensation that comes while waiting a renewed attack upon a sensitive molar. One felt like asking whether it was likely to hurt as much as it did the time before. However, not all the music was wierd, bizarre, capophonic. Much of it, after the opening selections had been disposed of, was most attractive, and Miss Rous, who is an accomplished performer and a captivating and informing speaker, made a hit, even though some of the musical curios in her collection did not.

"After a good deal of the super-ultra-modern, Dohnanyi's beautiful and majestic 'G. Minor Rhapsody' came as a benediction. It is a bit overlong, but splendidly effective, all the same, and in it, Miss Rous revealed pianistic attributes of a high order; a well modulated and musical touch, very considerable power, and a brilliant and facile technique. A dashing performance of Percy Grainger's 'Shepherd's Hey' concluded the program.—James H. Rogers."

Louisville Herald, Louisville, Ky.:

"Let's be honest about it. Miss Marion Rous soared way over my head. The dainty, charming young person's exploits in the why and wherefore of cubic cadenzas and futuristic framework left me defenseless and weak. With a last feeble breath, I am just able to whisper that I hold by the ancients and refuse to be led astray by reminders that, in his day, Wagner was denounced for his Music for the Future; and that his leit-motley tricks, inspired, in that heathen time, led mostly to laughter.

"The lecture recital at the Y. W. C. A. on that cryptic subject 'What Next in Music?' was nevertheless an engagement excellently worth while. If some among us refuse to surrender the old faiths and repudiate the old creeds, it cannot hurt us, if we are firm, to be made acquainted with the new gospel and to be instructed how to orientate ourselves in these subtle scales where all notes are free and equal, and to steer among dissonances that have been tamed and domesticated. Some of us are too old for a new set of ears, and others too obstinately set in our ways, and we do not like to get the impression that the howling of hungry wolves and the chromatic cacophonies of wild women are alike expressions of a supreme art. We cannot revolt for no better reason than that insurgency is the fashion of the day, and red to us, will always mean danger.

"But, as I have hinted, Miss Rous is delightful, an artist to her fingertips—such wonderful finger-tips they are—and one who, when she deigns to descend from Ornstein—a most offensive cuss—and Palmgren—mildly lunatic—could come right down to good old English earth with such a glorified folk song as Grainger's 'Shepherd's Hey'."

"Oh, where did you get that hat, you little beggar?"

DR. WARD CLASSED AS "STATESMAN"

BLUE BOOK LISTS PRESIDENT
GEORGE MORGAN WARD AS FOREMOST STATESMAN
OF FLORIDA

Floridians in general and especially those in this section of the state will be interested in the 1919 edition of the "American Statesman," the well-known blue book of this country's most distinguished men, which has just come from the press. It will particularly concern every one connected with Rollins College to know that its president, Dr. George Morgan Ward, is rated foremost among the Floridians listed. This cyclopedia, which contains five thousand biographies, gives a representation which is a criterion of distinction, and presents a standard biographical reference, giving appropriate notices of those who are identified with the welfare of the American Commonwealth. The work is thoroughly national, covering every part of the United States, and records in enduring form something of the history of the foremost leaders and patriotic Americans, making a most invaluable acquisition to the world's libraries and historical archives. Coming next to Dr. Ward is Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, Florida's senior senator. Among other statesmen from Florida are named: Dr. Lincoln Hulley, Senator Park Trammell, Congressman Sears, Hon. Stephen M. Sparkman, Hon. Herbert J. Drane, Hon. William A. Blount and a few others.

Almost a page is given over to recounting the work of Dr. Ward as an Educator, Clergyman, College President, and Statesman. He was born in 1859, studied at Harvard, Dartmouth, Boston University, John Hopkins, Andover Theological Seminary, and has received honorary degrees from Dartmouth, Rollins, and the University of Florida.

For three years Dr. Ward took a prominent part in business; was later General Secretary of the International Society of Christian Endeavor, during which time he spoke in every city of importance in the country; was president of Wells College in New York for ten years, has been in charge of the famous Poinciana Chapel in Palm Beach since 1900, was elected vice-president of the American Humane Society in 1916, and for twelve years has been at the head of Rollins College, Florida's oldest institution of higher learning.

Wherever he has appeared President Ward is remembered as one of the most brilliant orators of the country and a thinker of magnetic appeal. During the great war he spoke in the largest camps in the country and accomplished much for the cause of the Allies in the great drives. His personality is one of great power and as a true American, those who know him claim he has no equal.

"The face value of courage shows up when it faces misfortune."

"If a young man kisses a girl she does not want him to tell it—but she is disappointed if he doesn't repeat it."

MILLION DOLLAR ENDOWMENT CAMPAIGN

Cheney, and Arthur Schultz, Chairman of the soliciting committee. Mrs. James Brooks delighted the audience with a number of beautiful songs.

According to the present plan, the campaign will end on October 1, next. In the meantime, every Rollins alumnus and former student will be reached and as many outsiders interested in the college as possible. In view of interest already manifest those in charge of the campaign are most enthusiastic.

The success of the campaign for the first $500,000 guarantees the success of the second half million part of the program.

Convinced of the very great significance of this enterprise, it is confidently expected every former Rollins student in Florida and elsewhere, and every interested friend of the college will identify himself with this campaign by contributions in proportion to his ability and help push it thru to an early completion.

FRENCH PUPILS IN FINAL PLAY

Mladenovitch, representing her mother country, Serbia; Wilhelmina Freeman representing America, and Nina Marsh as Alsace-Lorraine.

All of the students interpreted their parts with feeling, fine understanding, good pronunciation and splendid expression, due to Madame's method of instruction. They are to be congratulated on the wonderful progress they have made and upon their success in giving an afternoon of pleasure to those who attended.

Miss Della Clifford McManus, violin, and Mr. J. F. R. Glassey, cornet, rendered music for parts of the program.

Madame Glatz, before coming here, taught very successfully in London. Among the many pupils who profited by her whole-hearted and interested teaching, were two young men who entered Eaton College, England, both standing at the head of their classes in French. One of these was Theodore Etorpe, son of Lord Etorpe.

The students of Madame Glatz may be interested to know that she is now engaged in writing a new French play.

VARIED EMPLOY- MENT OFFERED BY M. E. CHURCH

CENTENARY HAS 13,000 JOBS FOR COLLEGE GRADUATES

Thirteen thousand professional openings for young men and women with college training in practically any branch of arts or science are being created by the Centenary expansion of the Methodist Episcopal Church during the next four years, according to announcements by the Life Service department of that denomination. Graduates of technical and professional schools are also included in the demand.

Each year 675 teachers will be required in Methodist colleges, normal, intermediate and primary schools, kindergartens, orphanages and day nurseries; 350 recreational and educational directors in rural communities, sociological experts and foreign language settlement workers for industrial centres, church managers, and secretaries, industrial, mechanical and agricultural experts, graduates of technical, medical and nurses' training schools, besides 1850 ministers.

These appointments are for all parts of the earth, far and near, where colleges, schools, orphanages, hospitals and demonstration farms are maintained by the various departments of the Methodist Episcopal church organization. Many of the appointments will be filled by applicants who come through the Student Volunteer Movement with chapters in nearly every college in the United States. The program which creates this demand for college graduates is based upon the $113,000,000 Centenary fund, raised by the Methodist Episcopal Church recently for a general expansion of its activities.

U. OF M. HAS SUNDAY PAPER

The University of Michigan has started the publication of a Sunday paper. This is a departure from the custom of college publications in general and directly follows the plan of city dailies. This edition has from ten to twelve pages and contains feature stories by both students and members of the faculty. It is not known that any other college paper publishes a Sunday issue.—The Lawrentian.

As Seen Through Other Eyes

THE FLORIDIAN'S CREED AND COVENANT

(By William Fremont Blackman)
(President of Rollins College from 1903 to 1915)

I BELIEVE IN FLORIDA, land of the open and fathomless sky, of lambent stars, of mountainous opalescent clouds, of soft benignant airs, of incessant summer, of unstinted and vivifying sunshine, of responsive and fecund soil.

I BELIEVE IN FLORIDA, laved on every hand—cooled and warmed and cleansed and fed and decorated—by the azure and teeming waters of tropic seas, and by countless and sparkling lakes and streams.

I BELIEVE IN FLORIDA, land of wide-stretching and open woods, of limitless green prairies and glades, of dense and vine-hung hammocks, of mysterious bays and swamps, all in their various forms lovely and fruitful; the land of fragrant pine and mourning cypress, of moss-draped oak, of waxen magnolia, of comely palm, of regal poinciana, of flaming vine, and of shy and brilliant orchid.

I BELIEVE IN FLORIDA, land of the orange and pomelo and spicy kumquat, of peach and pear and persimmon and loquat, of pineapple and guava and mango and avocado; of corn and cotton and cane and cattle, and of whatever else is anywhere borne of trees or grown by the soil of the earth.

I BELIEVE IN FLORIDA, the home of creatures strange, curious and beautiful—the saurian monster, the gliding reptile, the darting dainty lizard, the aquatic manatee, the egret in snowy nuptial array, the roseate spoonbill, the exuberant mocking-bird, the flame-like, flute-like cardinal, the wood-pecker with ivory bill and the humming bird with ruby throat, the painted butterfly sipping nectar in winter days.

I BELIEVE IN FLORIDA, land of romantic legend and adventurous history, of towns the most ancient and the newest, of swiftly-growing cities, of farms and orchards, and of wide and inviting solitudes still awaiting man's coming.

I BELIEVE IN FLORIDA, magnet and meeting-place for men and women of the North and the South, the East and the West, and countries over-sea, Americans all, one blended and indissoluble and free people. I believe in her eager boys and winsome girls, in her schools and colleges, in her churches of divers faiths, in her institutions of philanthropy and mercy, and in her press, the voice and the instructor of her common mind and will.

IN FINE, I BELIEVE IN FLORIDA, the commonwealth old yet young, unformed as yet, tho palpitant with energy and faring forth into the future with high hope and swift step; and believing thus, I COVENANT with all her citizens of like mind to give myself to her service, mind and heart and hand and purse, to explore and develop her hidden resources, to celebrate her praises truthfully, to win worthy citizens for her void spaces, to till her fields, to keep pure her politics, to make more efficient her schools, to strengthen and unify her churches, to cleanse and sweeten her social life, and thus to make her in full fact what she is by human right and Divine power,

THE QUEEN OF COMMONWEALTHS.

THE CRACKER'S CREED AND COVENANT

(With Apologies to Dr. Blackman)
(Written in 1915 by Sherwood Foley and "Dick" Darrow then in the Senior Academy Class.)

I BELIEVE IN FLORIDA, land of the dark and forbidding sky, of intangible stars, of mountainous thunder clouds, of damp and foggy atmosphere, of unexpected rain, of debilitating sunshine, of untillable and sandy soil.

I BELIEVE IN FLORIDA, contaminated on every hand—cold and hot and dirty and uncultivated and abandoned—by the otygian and filthy waters of tropic swamps, and by innumerable and mushy bogs and runs.

I BELIEVE IN FLORIDA, land of the dense and rooty palmetto, of limited and unknown prairies and opens, of impenetrable and briary jungles, of sulphurous springs and wells, all in their various forms of disagreeable and worthless; the land of odorous pine and unavailable cypress, of unsplittable oak, and scrubby firs, of prevalent sawgrass, of thorny cactus, of entangling vine, and of innumerable and affectionate sandspurs.

I BELIEVE IN FLORIDA, land of the yam and grapefruit, and acrid kumquat, of polk-berry and lemon and tangerine and satsuma, of prickly pear and pecan and acorn and sweet potato; of grits and kasava and sorghum and razorback, and of whatever else is anywhere rejected from trees or extirpated from the soil of the earth.

I BELIEVE IN FLORIDA, the home of creatures strange, curious and pestiferous—the microscopic red bug, the venomous reptile, the buzzing biting mosquito, the destructive garfish, the buzzard in gloomy funeral plumage, the azure bluejay, the vicious sandfly, the beast-like bird-like ant, the gnat with tireless obnoxiousity, the spider with poisonous sting, the blackened crow gobbling crops in harvest days.

I BELIEVE IN FLORIDA, land of unaccountable superstition and doubtful history, settlements the most delapidated and misrepresented, of rapidly decaying decampments, of "places" and groves and of endless and uninviting solitudes eternally awaiting man's coming.

I BELIEVE IN FLORIDA, magnet and meeting-place for exiles and fugitives of the North and South, the East and the West, and countries over-sea, vagabonds all, one blended and disreputable and pursued people. I believe in her lazy boys and languid girls, in her asylums and chain-gangs, in her revivals of various beliefs and in her institutions of misanthropy and malevolence, and in her press, the voice and instructor of an uncommon mind and will.

IN FINE, I BELIEVE IN FLORIDA, descrepit and unknown, deformed already but with succumbing energy going forth into the future with little hope and slow tread; and believing thus I COVENANT with all her citizens of like mind not to give myself to her service, heart and soul and body and pocketbook, nor to explore or develop her lacking resources, to explain her shortcomings truthfully, to induce deserving citizens from her boundaries, to abandon her fields, to neglect her politics, to give no aid to her schools, nor to strengthen and unify her churches, to disregard and lose sight of her social life, and thus to make her in full fact what she is by human right and Divine dower,

THE SCUM OF COMMONWEALTHS.

CONTEST

Mr. Bacheller's desire to stimulate among the students, thought on present-day problems in America, to emphasize careful consideration of the questions confronting us, and to encourage diligent research.
It is hoped that a number of the contestants in the Interscholastic Water Meet will enter this worth while contest.

ville against Memphis each win and lose a contest, while rain postponed one each in the three series. New Orleans and Atlanta split a four-game series.
New Orleans won two straight from Birmingham in the second half of the week but today the teams switched to New Orleans where Birmingham won.
Mobile and Atlanta each won a game in the first two of their series and today Mobile made it two out of three, Chattanooga dropped two out of three to Memphis in the last half of the week. Little Rock bested Nashville in their contests of the last three days of the week, two out of three.—Florida Times-Union.
The Rollins team left early Thursday morning by car, for Gainesville, where two games were staged with that of The University of Florida.

Southern College comes here next Wednesday and Thursday, for the last two games of the Rollins schedule. Come all ye fair ones!
Be sure and get your score card. You'll need it when Old Rollins "Gets Rolling Along."
The Southern players will be lonesome without their familiar sand hills, and hiding-place behind third base.

Banking at Rollins

Elsa S.—"I can't get my balance in this canoe."

Rose P.—"Well what do you thing this is—a bank book?"

Bird's Eye View

Byrd—"A plane is determined by three straight lines."

Prof.—"WHAT?"

Byrd—"A-eh-uh plane is determined by three straight points."

So THERE You Are

Prof (in Biology)—"Where do the bugs go in the winter time?"

Branham (absently minded)—"Search me."

Maybe His Head Warped

Florence—"What makes your hair so funny? Did you have it cut?"

Red—"No; I washed my head last night and my hair shrunk."

&3--*x?

Johnny (looking at the elephant)—"Gee, that's a damn big animal, ain't it?"

His Mother—"Johnny! How many times do I have to tell you not to say ain't?"—Ex.

Yesterday

I come, sweetheart, a lover true
To ask that question old of you.

'Twas only "no" I heard you say.

Ah yes, you said it yesterday,

Fair one.

But that was yesterday, my dear,
That trivial "No" shot past my ear.

'Tis sad but true, I'll pine away

If you won't make it yes-ter-day.

He won.—Ex.

Just Grievance

Eddie—"Why is Margaret so angry with everybody?"

The other Eddie—"She found a label on the back of her Tomokan picture saying: "The original of this picture is carefully preserved."

"Call for Mr. Vincent."

"Remove your number tens from my optics, Carey."

"Come up for air, Nap."

Those telegrams!

"Skid" and the cracker box at the Southern gym!

About 3:30 Sunday morning when we arrived home, someone raised up from the bottom of the bus and in a subdued and pious tone remarked, "I always knew that I would eventually reach Paradise if I behaved myself."

First he learned to be a "convincing talker" and was arrested as a confidence man; next he purchased "the Secret of Making People Adore You" and lost all his friends; third, he purchased "the Magic Receipt For Millions" and joined the bread line; and as a last resort he plunged on a memory course and promptly forgot all his troubles.—Ex.

In the Dark

He (jealous)—"I have seen you running around with a lot of fellows lately."

She (consoling)—"But, dear, I am on my last lap now."—Ex.

To translate Cicero.—D. H. S. Porpoise.

Mary—"Don't you think that long hair makes a man look famous?"

Bill—"I don't know. It makes them look foolish when their wives pick them off their coats."

The Parent's Lament

Little Willie, mean as hell,
Pushed his sister down the well.
Mother said, when she drew water,
"Tis so hard to raise a daughter."

W. O. W., P. U. U., T. W. U.

She—"—and as I was passing the Monastery,—"

He—"Where is the Monastery?"

She—"Chase Hall."

He—"Explain, s. v. p."

She—"Full of Monks."

Potter—"Lucy, can you imagine anything worse than having red bugs?"

Lucy—"Yes, indeed. Suppose you had them and they chirped."
