NEWS YOU CAN USE FROM THE JOHN C. HITT LIBRARY

Special Collections & University Archives Spotlight

Exhibition, April 11 – June 10, 2016—“Joy Postle: Artist Without Limits”

Florida artist Joy Postle Blackstone pioneered the art of depicting Florida wildlife like no other. She developed her talent for capturing the world around her through mediums such as oil paints, watercolors, pencil sketches, pen and ink, as well as the written word through her writings and poetry. Joy’s dedication to her art propelled her through numerous hardships. Her passion and devotion to her work has earned Joy a special place in the history of Florida. Exhibit is available on the 5th of the library.

The Wood Beyond the World by William Morris, 1894

The UCF Libraries Special Collections & University Archives is pleased to announce a addition to the Book Arts & Typography collection, The Wood Beyond the World by William Morris, written and published in 1894. Part of an early movement of fantasy and science fiction literature, inspiring authors such as C.S. Lewis and J.R.R. Tolkien, the book itself shows the exquisite printing and book design of the Kelmscott Press, a historical printing house in England regarded as one of the most influential fine presses.

2015 Books Arts Student Competition Winner — Nikki Navaille

Special Collections & University Archives department is excited to announce that Stitched, by Nikki Navaille, is the 2015 UCF Student Book Arts Competition winner. Using pattern pieces and fabric scraps from sewing projects created throughout her life, Stitched reflects Nikki’s love of sewing. Even the text is sewn.

For information about the upcoming 2016 competition, visit or call Special Collections.
