BIG CELEBRATION FOR ARMISTICE DAY AT ROLLINS

FLORIDA EDUCATOR OPENS SERIES OF LECTURES HERE

VICE-PRESIDENT FARR DELIVERS SCHOLARLY LECTURE AT OPENING OF LECTURE SEASON

"Development of Narrative" is Subject Treated by University of Florida Professor

The lecture season at Rollins was opened most auspiciously last Wednesday evening, when Vice-President Farr, Ph. D., head of the Department of English Literature at the University of Florida, spoke in Knowles Hall to a large assembly of students and townspeople, using as his subject the "Development of Narrative."

Dr. Farr was introduced by Chancellor Brooks, who spoke of the close relations existing between the University and Rollins. He spoke of Dr. Farr's work as head of the great field of English Literature at the University and of the fortunate circumstance that gave Rollins students an opportunity to hear one of the state's foremost scholars.

Dr. Farr expressed himself as being most happy to make a third visit to Rollins, as he had twice previously been here. Then taking up the sub-

Formal Recognition of New Members is Very Impressive

The formal recognition of the new members of the Y. W. C. A. was made by the annual "candle ceremony," held in Knowles Hall, Tuesday evening. A candlelight service with nine large white candles, representing the cabinet officers, and small candles in miniature holders, were placed on a table in the center of the platform. After the regular devotional exercises the President, Eusebio Russell, opened the ceremony by telling the significance of the candle lighting, that of

BLUE AND GOLD VS. ORLANDO AMERICAN LEGION. AQUATICS IN AFTERNOON

DEAN SPRAGUE AND JUDGE CHENEY SPEAK AT HIGH SCHOOL

Ter-Centennial of Pilgrims' Landing to be Fittingly Observed

November 11th will be here soon, and with it, due celebrations on Rollins Campus. Of course, it will be a "grand and glorious feeling" to wake up and remember that there are no classes to sleep through, but nevertheless things will be lumping all day. About 10:30 in the forenoon, there will be a rousing football game between Rollins and the Orlando American Legion, which everyone will turn out to see. (Happy thought! Admission is already paid.) (If you have an association ticket.)

Then, in the afternoon, water sports of all kinds on Lake Virginia will keep up the interest. A 40-yard race between our famous Red Spear and Mr. Wilber Flowers, of Orlando, is to be looked forward to. Swimming and diving contests for men and women, a race with hands and feet tied, tub and other comedy races, canoe squad drill and many other interesting events are on the program. Great preparations are under way by school organizations for decorated floats, which will add a great deal to the attractiveness of the scene. Other organizations wishing to participate in this should make immediate arrangements with the chairman, Miss Dyer, in order to enter the lists. In the evening there will be a college and community program at the High School auditorium, during which time Miss Dyer will conduct a sing, and Dean Sprague will speak on "Armistice Day and a New Democracy." Judge Cheney will talk on the "Ter-centennial Landing of the Pilgrims."

Fast Aggregation to Meet Legion in First Real Game of Season

With the first game of the season to be played at 10 a. m., Thursday, the football team, under the direction of Coach Brewster, is rapidly developing into a team that will put up a real struggle with the Orlando rivals. This year's line promises to be one of the features of the team, as nearly every man on the line has fought for the Blue and Gold in former years.

The positions have not been officially filled by Coach Brewster, but probably the line will be made up with Ward at center, Robbins and Palmer at ends, K. Warner and H. Thayer at tackles, Evans and Williams at guards. All of these men have been out to practice faithfully, and are expected to distinguish themselves in the game.

The backfield is a mystery to all of us, because of injuries acquired by the candidates. Probably Wright will play quarter, Boyle, Seelye or Starr at left half, Proemke at right half, and Dow at full.

The school has been behind the team so far, now let's continue the good support and have everyone out to the game at 10 o'clock sharp.

NOTABLE COLLECTION OF BOOKS TO SCIENCE LIBRARY

PROF. MYRON A. MUNSON, AUTHOR AND PROFESSOR, GIVES BOOKS ON GEOLOGY TO CARNEGIE LIBRARY

Donor Was on Faculty When First Class of College Was Graduated; Is Now Resident of New Haven

A letter conveying to the Carnegie Library the most valuable collection of books for the current year was received a few days ago from Prof. Myron A. Munson, well-known author and professor of New Haven, Conn. This collection is a life-time work on the part of Dr. Munson and covers the fields of geology, mineralogy, chemistry, botany, and a number of books on subjects closely related to these sciences.

Dr. Munson will be remembered by the early students of Rollins as Professor of Geology for the first graduating class, that of 1899. He is the author of a number of widely-read books, including "Macaulay's Treatment of William Penn," "A Review of Caverly's History of Pittsford," "Traditional History of Moriah," "Eulogy Upon Colonel and Doan Samuel Lyman," "God's Doing" and News that will bring "pop" to both town and campus is that which reached Rollins late last week, that Dr. and Mrs. Ward were on route for Florida. They had planned to come by water, but found at a late date that no accommodations could be secured for the car, hence a change to rail was made necessary.

They will make one stop on route, in the mountains of North

SUPPORT THE RED CROSS

The American Red Cross, to hold its Fourth Membership Roll Call November 11-25, still has the task of preventing a further dying off of European population. At least as yet be subscribed to the war-suffering population in Europe, or disease, poverty and destitution will increase the death rate.

Total loss in actual and potential life was rated at 35,329,000. It was estimated that of this number 9,819,000 men had been actually killed in battle; that the birth rate had decreased by 20,200,000 as the result of the mobilization of 56,000,000 men between the ages of 20 and 45; and that lowered vitality, economic blockades and war epidemics had accounted for 5,341,000 deaths.

Do you want to be well informed?
 Do you want to think in larger terms?

Read more.
 Read the best things in today's literature and keep up with the world's progress.

Read the masterpieces of all time; those books which have withstood the battering of ages of various kinds of criticism.

Wide reading is the best way on earth to obtain a fine vocabulary, one with which you can express yourself exactly. Have you not heard persons say, "I know what I want to say, but I can't say it"? One who is well read is sure to be able to write more clearly and forcibly. Think it over, notice those in your classes who are great readers. See if they are not in the first ranks.

ROLLINS FOREVER!

By the Late Professor F. E. Lord

I'm off for Rollins now, she said,
 Because the skies are blue, she said

And the hearts of the boys are true, she said—
 Rollins forever!

A flame of beauty the cardinal flies;

What cheer? what cheer? what cheer? he cries;

T'was't! sweet! sweet! my heart replies—
 Rollins forever!

Blue are the waters down below,
 And full of shadows where we row,

Sometimes of moonlight, too, you know—
 Rollins forever!

Gold grows on the trees for us,
 Golden apples of Hesperus;
 Nor dragon to keep them away
 from us—
 Rollins forever!

The "mockers" he chaffs and laughs at us,
 And jokes and scoffs and scolds at us;

Et'soon he'll learn to sing with us
 Rollins forever!
 Forever Rollins thy Blue and Gold

Our hearts and minds shall steadfast hold,
 As the sun in the heavens or the stars untold;
 Rollins forever!

K. E. KICKS

Mrs. Morie McElroy of Orlando has returned from a visit to New Orleans. Mrs. David Fishback will remain in Lexington, Ky., for several weeks, before returning to her home in Orlando.

Mrs. Fayette Froemke, of Lake Alfred, will pass through Winter Park on her way home, Sunday.

Mrs. Arthur Schartz and Miss Louie Smith delightfully entertained their fraternity sisters and a few of the new girls Tuesday afternoon at a four o'clock tea.

Mrs. John K. List has returned from Wheeling, W. Va., and is at her home in town.

Gussip has it that Bummy or Hanna will rash Sauerkraut and Shrimp parties weekly in their rooms. "EEEE!"

Koske and Whitehead are both racing each other to see which can "one step forward and two step backward" from the Beesmy to Cloverleaf. Their two side kicks, Freddie and Bill, are included, of course.

Miss Edwards has a "Daytona Trip" up her sleeve — girls — better be sweet!

The K. E.'s are planning a swimming party at Mrs. Henry Kart's estate, Cloister Grove. Mrs. Kart is one of the enthusiastic honorary members of the fraternity.

ALPHA ALPHA SCANDAL

Wright & Wright

Owing to their accident the two Wrights are now hitting the hay with us. Bob keeps us up all night telling stories and Larry keeps the maid from making the beds by his late rising. We are hoping to find a happy medium soon.

Chancellor's Gift

We want to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Brooks for his gift. The Chancellor presented us with a very appropriate picture, the motto of which runs like this: "Command a Married Life But Keep Thyself a Bachelor." Evidently the Chancellor still remembers his "goods" side days.

In Memoriam

Alpha Alpha is in mourning over the loss of "Rowdy" Sloan. "Rowdy" has been our official mascot ever since the house was organized and his death is a blow to us all.

PHI ALPHA POAM

Cuba

"Bob" Sedgwick was a visitor at the house for the last part of last week. The gay life of Rollins with its dances and punch was too much for him, because when he left it was understood that he would not return to the somber lights of "The Windy City."

Drunk

Don Knowles was caught drinking Shaving Lotion Sunday. Maybe the dance was too much for him and he should have accompanied Bob.

Quotation

Dance

A few of the Alumni of Phi Alpha who attended the dance were: Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cheney, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Tilden, Mr. and Mrs. John K. List, Harold Hill, Fayette Froemke and Robert Sedgwick. Mrs. Hiram Powers and Mrs. Chauncey Boyer, wives of Phi Alphas, also attended.

U. of F.

Messrs. Jones and McIlwain, representing the Florida Upsilon chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, were guests of the fraternity Saturday night and Sunday.

While in Winter Park, Dr. Fary was entertained at dinner by the Phi Alpha Fraternity, the other guests being Chancellor Brooks, Dean Sprague, Dr. C. K. Hoyt and Dean James G. Glass of Orlando. Immediately following his lecture on Wednesday evening, the Delphic Literary Society held an informal reception in his honor, which was attended by the active members and a number of faculty.

HE WHO FIGHTS AND RUNS AWAY MAY LIVE TO FIGHT ANOTHER DAY

Gentle Hints Dropped by Kappa Epsilon and Sigma Phi

A young gentleman from the University of California recently permitted his curiosity to override his good sense, and he who reads may find a moral particularly if he be an Alpha Alpha or perchance a Phi Alpha man.

It is generally conceded that it is not good form to go where one is not invited, but John evidently had never heeded this admonition, and when the Gamma Phi Beta girls planned a little society breakfast he elected to attend. Hoping to look his sweetest, Johnnie donned a wig and fetching feminine apparel and minced along with all the other nice little freshmen.

Sad to relate, as a freshman

Johnnie outclassed them all, and cast such appreciative glances toward certain charming young ladies that suspicion was aroused. Perhaps Johnnie only wanted to show that he was a connoisseur, who knows? Be it as it may, the ire of the multitude was soon aimed in his direction, and instead of coquettish glances in return for his enraptured admiration, our hero received such missiles as parasols and china. The brave young man ran, feeling that far once safety lay in an absence of numbers, and returned to the waiting arms of his frat brethren so nobly scarred that he was voted the croix de guerre. He escapes from the distinction of being the only male who has ever entered such sacred portals, and often ponders upon the adage, "The end justifies the means."

PATRONIZE OUR ADVERTISERS

This paper is made possible, to a large degree, by the ads. Business men believe in the Sandspur as a business-getter or they would not give us their advertising. Students should remember this and show that they believe the merchants have a superior stock of articles. Make your purchases of the firms who are represented in these columns. Advertising should not be regarded as charity work. Rollins students spend money. They should spend it where it will do the most good.

HEARKEN YE, SCRIBES!

Why shouldn't YOU write for the Sandspur? By the time you come to college you are supposed to know the English language and the first principles of composition. You can do wonders with that knowledge.

The Sandspur is a paper for the students of Rollins College and published by them. It is the one way to tell all the people of the college everything that has happened during the past week. If you have a message, the Sandspur is the place to put it.

You MUST realize that this is YOUR paper!

ARMISTICE DAY

On the night of November 11th our whole country will celebrate Armistice Day and the Landing of the Pilgrims by holding a National Sing. The celebration in Winter Park will be held in the High School auditorium at 7:30 P. M. under the joint auspices of town and college.

Program

Part I

1. Community Singing: "America."
2. Invocation: Dean Luther Pardee.
3. Community Singing: "America the Beautiful."
4. Address: "The Landing of the Pilgrims," Judge John M. Cheney.
5. "The Pilgrims": Original poem, read by Rev. C. A. Vincent.
6. "America Triumphant": Rollins Girls' Glee Club.

Part II

7. Community Singing: "Dixie," "The U. S. A. Forever," "Battle Hymn of the Republic."
8. Address: "Armistice Day," Dean Sprague.
9. Community Singing: "The Star Spangled Banner."
10. Folk Songs of the Allies:
 - (a) Italy: "Come Back to Sorrento," Mrs. Kovi-Brooks.
 - (b) France: "La Madelon," Mrs. Brooks.
 - (c) Great Britain: "March of the Men of Harlech," Public School Chorus.
11. To Deum: (Poem by John Oxenham).

Besides the two events of historic importance: The Landing of the Pilgrims at Plymouth Rock in 1620 and the signing of the Armistice, which ended the great war, is a third event of interest: The signing of the Mayflower Compact, November 11th, 1620.

(The following is from the Atlanta Seminary Historical Leaflet:)

On the 11th of November the passengers gathered in the cabin of the Mayflower, and this is the agreement which they drew up and signed:

"In the name of God, Amen. We whose names are underwritten, the loyal subjects of our dear sovereign lord, King James, by the grace of God of Great Britain, France and Ireland, defender of the faith, etc., having undertaken, for the glory of God and advancement of the Christian faith and honor of our king and country, a voyage to plant the first colony in the northern parts of Virginia, do by these presents solemnly and mutually in the presence of God and one of another, covenant and combine ourselves together into a civil body politic, for our better ordering and preservation and furtherance of the ends aforesaid; and by virtue hereof to enact, constitute, and frame such just and equal laws, ordinances, acts, constitutions, and of-fices from time to time as shall be thought most meet and convenient for the general good of the Colony, unto which we promise all due submission and obedience. In witness whereof, we hereunder subscribed our names at Cape Cod, the 11th day of November, in the year of the reign of our sovereign lord, King James, of England, France and Ireland the eighteenth, and of Scotland the fifty-fourth. Anno Domini, 1620."

The reader may not see clearly what all these words mean. What they amount to is this: That the Pilgrims founded that day a free State, a democracy in which all the grown men might have equal voice and vote.

Valuable Books Donated to Rollins Library

Maa's Doing for Minnesota," and a genealogical and biographical account of "Capt. Thomas Munson" in two volumes.

It was near the close of 1888, with a view to ameliorating the family health, that Dr. Munson resorted to Winter Park. The 2nd of January, 1889, he temporarily enlisted as a Rollins teacher. Prof. Austin had gone to New Hampshire seeking benefit for Mrs. Austin's declining health. Prof. Munson was assigned to Senior Latin, which, at that stage, was Livy. After the fatal termination of Mrs. Austin's illness her husband resumed his collegiate duties.

About this time Prof. Smith resigned the chair of German and President Hooker asked Prof. Munson if he was willing to substitute in that field the rest of the college year. He was and filled the vacancy with great credit to himself.

The following college year, 1889-1890, Prof. Munson was assigned to regular college work, mainly with the advanced branches—pre-eminently with the geology for Seniors. The first period of the year Rhetoric and English Literature were taken up; later, Geology and English Literature.

It may be interesting to read the following testimonial which President Hooker gave Prof. Munson at the time of his return to the North: "It gives me great pleasure to say that Rev. Myron A. Munson has been an instructor for the past year in Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla. His work has been in the departments of Literature and Geology. He has been thorough and enthusiastic and successful in his work and has secured deep interest and thoroughness on the part of the students. I commend him as a teacher of very rare fitness for his work in the lines in which I have known that work. Any work of instruction which he is willing to undertake he will do not only well but excellently."

Phi Alpha Gives Masquerade Dance on Halloween Night

Gymnasium Distinctively Decorated; Music by Rollins Jazzers; Costumes make Charming and Bizarre Scene.

Mesdames Cheney, Powers, Boyer, Elders and Muscalobite Serve as Patronesses

It is useless to say that the first dance of the year, the Halloween ball given in the Gymnasium Saturday evening, was a success; all who attended know that.

According to the plan this year of having each of the four fraternities give one of the several dances, Phi Alpha Fraternity was given charge of the initial ball.

The guests of the evening assembled at eight and were greeted by Mesdames D. Cheney, C. A. Boyer, H. Powers, C. Tilden and P. Muscalobite, wives of Phi Alpha men and patronesses of the dance.

One of the features of the evening was the striking decorations. The effect was carried out in moss and magnolia, assisted here and there with college pennants and Halloween adornments, and over all was hung a roof of streamers in black and maroon, colors of Phi Alpha. In addition a large maroon banner with the Greek symbols for Phi Alpha worked in black, greeted the eye from its border of green magnolia opposite the entrance. Thus the decorations brought an ensemble of suggestions, a Halloween dance at a college in tropical Florida given by a Greek-letter society.

Many were the variations of costumes, which ranged from the oriental to the old-fashioned masque; charming was the music played by the college orchestra; and delightful were the refreshments of hot chocolate and cake served by a couple of darkies during the intermission.

Much credit and special mention is due the orchestra, composed entirely of college men. Their music was great. Freddie Ward and Lawrence Wright made things interesting by perambulating among the dancers, while Max Sloan, making his debut on the traps, and Clintworth "stuck by their guns" (the only reason probably being that it was well nigh impossible to move the drums and the piano about with any ease).

Mr. Jones, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Florida Upsilon chapter, with his friend, Mr. McIlwain, were special guests of Phi Alpha for the dance.

Class of '24 Picnic

When the freshmen had fully organized themselves, they were so proud of their class and its spirit that they decided to give a picnic to celebrate the honor and glory of said class. So late one afternoon they all piled themselves, to say nothing of enormous quantities of food, into numerous canoes and started off. As the Wrights were good enough to offer them the hospitality of their grounds, they planned to assemble there. After the various enchantments of raiding orange groves and dandling to the merry tune of the "Vic," everyone gathered around the huge fire and consumed the "hot dogs" and marshmallows which had been thoughtfully added to the feast.

Perhaps it is wondered why the knees of the trousers of one fair youth were not so spotless as they might have been? It is said that while being caught in the act of slipping away in a canoe with three other charming people, he absently hid himself under one of the other boats with an absolute disregard for his trousers! Frances Bell and John Hill intimidated but deluded the crowd by a very spooky ghost dance.

The moon came up very considerably and in conjunction with the "Vic" made the trip home perfect.

MR. BUTLER IN CHAPEL

We were very pleased to have with us in chapel the other morning Mr. Charles Butler, well known as an evangelistic singer. In fact, Mr. Butler was formerly connected with Billy Sunday. Mr. Butler visited the campus with Rev. Hymen of Sanford.

Seldom is chapel so entertaining as it was the morning Mr. Butler spoke, giving us reminiscences, anecdotes, inspiring poems, and, above all, several vocal selections, which brought encore upon encore from the students.

One of Mr. Butler's poems, "What Pep is," proved so good that we are reproducing it herewith:

What Pep Is
 Vigor, virility, vim and punch—
 That's pep.
 The courage to act on a sudden hunch.
 That is pep.
 The nerve to tackle the hardest thing.

With feet that climb and hands that And a heart that never forgets to sing—

That's pep.

Sand and grit in a concrete base—

That is pep.

Friendly smile on an honest face—

That's pep.

The spirit that helps when another's down,

That knows how to scatter the darkest frown,

That loves its neighbor and loves its town—

That's pep.

cling,

To say, "I will," for you know you can—

That's pep.

To look for the best in every man—

That's pep.

To meet each thundering knock-out blow,

And come back with a laugh, because you know.

You'll get the best of the whole darned show—

That's pep.

Mary Bourke: "I just put my hand on the hot stove, what shall I do?"
 Prof. Curbin: "Read Carlyle's Essay on Burns."—Ex.

About an Office

Bell: "If it's heads we go to bed, and if it's tails we stay up."
 Ward: "And if it stands on edge, we study."

So Say We All

Prof.: "Who discovered America?"
 Marlan: "Ohio."
 Prof.: "No, Columbus discovered it."
 Marlan: "Yes, that was his first name."—Flambeau.

You Tell 'Em

Tourist (gazing at volcano): "Looks like hell, doesn't it?"
 Native: "How those Americans have traveled!"—Lampoon.

Wow! Bang! BVD!

I know a giddy girlie
 Who dresses like a whiz;
 And though her mind's not off made up,
 The rest of her sure is,
 —Princeton Tiger.

Ready! Aim! —!

It was midnight on the ocean,
 Not a street car was in sight;
 The sun was shining brightly,
 And it rained all day that night.

As the sexton rang the dish rag
 Some one set the church on fire;
 "Holy smoke!" the preacher shouted
 From his pulpit in the spire.

And the noiseless sound of foot-prints
 Soon was heard 'mid broken glass,
 Where a barefoot girl with shoes on
 Stood sitting in the grass.

Oh, the preacher's heart was broken
 When he heard the fire-chief stare
 Through the smoke-filled void of ashes

At the corpses that weren't there.

Bald bachelors, whose wives had fled,
 Felt flames run through their hair;
 Now their heads resemble heaven, for
 There is no parting there.

Chick—on!

Any maiden's pulse will quicken,
 Nor will e'en the purist kick,
 When you say that she's a chicken,
 With the accent on the chick.
 —Ex.

Potter: "He's made nothing but a fizzle all his life."
 Swope: "How is that?"
 Potter: "Oh, he is a manufacturer of saltier water."—Ex.

A Sure Sign of Fall

Prof. (in Biology): "When do the leaves begin to turn?"
 Mary K.: "The night before exams."—Ex.

Just About Right

Wife: "I tell you I must have a new dress, I have worn this one since—since—"
 Hubby: "Oh, why don't you say you have worn it since it was knee high to a chicken?"—Ex.

Ain't It the Truth?

Anne: "You would be a good dancer if it wasn't for two things."
 Ward: "What are they?"
 Anne: "Your feet."

Is Love a Disease???

He: "You say there are microbes in kisses? What's the disease?"
 She: "Palpitation of the heart."—Ex.

When Leaving for School

Son: "Bye, Dad; don't forget to write, even if it is only a check."—Aphomega.

Call for the Sultan

Ward (trying to think of a joke): "Grab, give me a subject."
 Warren: "King of England."
 Ward: "A king is no subject."

In Training

Ye athletes now with muscles large
 Doth revel in his might,
 He trains and trains and trains by day,
 And dissipates at night,
 K. C. Collegian.

Good Reasoning

Pa: "What is your reason for wishing to marry my daughter?"
 Chap: "I have no reason, I am in love."—Ex.

Inference

Bell: "Say, Froemke, there would be more room in this seat for me if one of us would get up."

I. C. S.

Speer: "And in what school did you say Miss Kern got her degree?"
 Marlan: "Oh, she took a correspondence course and became a Bachelor of Hearts."

Gone to the City

Swope (from the country): "Are people killed very often here?"
 Warner: "No, only once."

Force of Habit

Stude: "He says that a girl is a treasure."
 Ditto: "That's just the sort of thing that miser bugs."—Ex.

Pleasant Thought

She: "My face is my fortune."
 Her: "Somebody short changed you."—Ex.

Indeed?

Knowles: "Prof. is a very bright man."
 Starr: "What did he say?"
 Knowles: "Nothing much, only approved of everything that I said."—Ex.

A man had a quarrel with his wife,
 When asked why, he said: "She drinks."

"Do you drink yourself?" asked the magistrate.

"That's my business."
 "Any other business?" said the official.

All in All

Mistress Mary, quite contrary,
 How fast does your flivver go?
 Ten up and down, ten straight ahead,
 Which is twenty an hour, you know.
 —Southern.

One of the Deadly Sins

Miss Edwards: "Do you play croquet here?"
 Speer: "Oh, no! We consider it a wicked game."

He Must Be a Loser

Thayer: "Do you think betting is wrong?"
 Caldwell: "Well, the way I generally bet in."—Foolscap.

Please, Pretty Please

Bell: "Prof., do you drive your own car?"
 Prof. Podmore: "No, I have to coax it."—Ex.

"It says here that if you want to develop anything you should exercise it regularly," said OM Fogy, as he looked up from his paper.

"Hah!" commented Old Grouch, "If that was a fact, a woman's jaw would be as big as her chest."

Willis: "Faw, what is discretion?"

Faw: "Discretion is something that comes to a man when he is too old to benefit by it, son."

Ben Through the Mill

"Brown acknowledges that he knows nothing about women."

"What an immense experience with them he must have had."

"You can lead a student to lectures, but you can't make him think."
