NINE HIGH SCHOOLS ENTER STUDENTS FOR CONTEST

BACHELLER PRIZE ORATORICAL CONTEST CLOSING DECEMBER TWENTIETH

High Schools of Florida Urged to Make Entries—Contest to Be Held Founder's Week

Mr. Irving Bacheller, the distinguished author, has provided a first prize of $60 and a second prize of $40 to stimulate interest in well expressed and sound Americanism among the students of the high schools of Florida.

In offering those prizes it is Mr. Bacheller's desire to stimulate among the students thought on present-day problems in America, to emphasize careful consideration of the questions confronting us, and to encourage diligent research. Repeated revision of the oration for clear, concise, simple but impressive word structure will be needed, in the drill for delivery, effectiveness in conveying and impressing the thought naturally and without overstrain will be the criterion.

The Contest Committee, composed of Dr. Hoyt of Rollins College, Editor Russ Mills Powers of the Winter Park Post, and M. J. Okerlund, Principal of the Winter Park High School, is communicating with every senior high school in Florida, urging them to be represented in the contest.

Nine high schools have already signified their intentions of entering contestants. But those schools which have not yet responded cannot be too strongly urged to give this contest the proper consideration and serious attention which it naturally demands. The importance of such an event cannot be over-emphasized. The high schools of the state of Florida must not fail to appreciate this special consideration from a man as well known as Irving Bacheller.

No contestants can be entered after December 20, but that still allows every accredited high school in Florida the opportunity of entering a representative, if they have not already done so.

Every senior high school in Florida should be represented because of the material benefits to be gained, as well as an expression to Mr. Bacheller for his interest in the educational advancement of Florida.

ROLLINS CLOSES FOOTBALL SEASON BY 31-0 VICTORY

ROLLINS GRADUATE HEADS NEW YORK PUBLISHING CO.

Recently Elected President of One of the Most Influential Publishing Companies in the United States

It is of more than passing interest to observe the mark that is being made by Rollins graduates. They are found in all fields of human endeavor and scattered throughout every part of the country. But when a Rollins boy fights his way to the top of his chosen path of industry in the metropolises of the United States, New York City, unusual interest is taken locally.

The Iron Age, of New York, is a publication known throughout the iron and steel industry, not only of the United States, but of the world, as the greatest journal and authority of the trade, and its facilities and organization for the gathering of news and the dissemination of its influence are unequalled by any other trade journal. Its record of continuous publication for a period of 45 years marks its stability and it forms the "bible" of that vast army of workers in every station engaged in America's third largest industry.

Upon the retirement as president and manager after many years' service, Mr. William H. Taylor, because of ill health, and his coming to Florida for a period of recuperation and rest, at a meeting of the directors of the Iron Age Publishing Company

DR. WARD TO PREACH AT VESPER SERVICE DECEMBER 19

Miss Dyer Preparing Unusual Program of Old French and English Carols for Last College Function Before Holidays.

The Sunday immediately preceding the Christmas vacation is always set aside at Rollins for the annual Christmas Vesper Service, at which time the churches in town combine with the college in a union evening service that is always one of the most inspiring of the year.

Plans have been working out for some time in preparation for this service and it is expected that this year's service which falls on the evening of Sunday, Dec. 19, will eclipse anything of the past. Dr. Ward's sermons are always a great inspiration but his Christmas address is one of especial merit and one that is never missed by those able to attend. That he will as usual give the address is a great satisfaction to all those looking forward to this event. Miss Dyer has both glee clubs training for the rendition of some beautiful old French and English Christmas carols and as an added feature Miss Jean Knowlton, soprano, will sing a solo.

The services will begin promptly at eight o'clock, will be held in Knowles Hall, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

ORLANDO LEGIONERS POWERLESS BEFORE SMASHING ROLLINS BACKFIELD

WRIGHT AND FROEMKE STAR FOR COLLEGE, BILL ANDERSON AND KINCAID FOR ORLANDO

Coach Brewster's gang of warriors experienced but little difficulty in taking the final game of the season from the American Legion of Orlando at the Fair Grounds last Saturday afternoon, for they were able to pile up 31 points on their opponents and lost not a point themselves.

Quite a crowd of spectators, some from the college and some from Orlando, viewed the open field bombardment with wild enthusiasm. It was a mixed crowd that left the field after the game. Some fell flat and others the opposite, however one feeling was in common; it had been a good, clean scrap.

First Quarter
During the first period the ball was in Rollins' possession most of the time. Rollins kicked and Orlando failed to gain. Rollins' ball. Three first downs were made and then after an end run, which brought the ball to the 12-yard line, Captain "Geoff" Boyle took the ball over on a cross buck just off tackle. This seemed to pave the way for victory. Orlando received the second kickoff and lost the ball after a few unsuccessful attempts to pierce Rollins' "stone wall." At this stage of the game a humorous play happened. Wright took the ball on Rollins' first down and skirted left end. "Dud" Wilson, an old Rollins football hero, was playing this end for Orlando. A truck meet started and "Bob" ran rings around Wilson. A regular hare and hound race. On the next down the ball was carried by Wright to the 5-yard line and Dew carried it over without any effort.

Second Quarter
After Rollins' second touchdown Orlando again received the kickoff. Several first downs were made. Rollins at last took the ball away on downs and started down the field again. On the second play Wright was knocked out and had to be removed from the game. Capt. Boyle

The Rollins Sandspur

Established in 1894 with the following editorial:

"Unassuming yet minkily, sharp and pulated, well-rounded yet many-sided, judiciously intemperate, yes to girly and energetic as its name implies, vigorous in single combat and therefore without a peer, wonderfully attractive and extemperate in circulation: all these will be found upon investigation to be among the extraordinary qualities of The Sandspur."

Subscription Price

Per Year $2.00. Single Copy 15c
Entered an second-class matter Nov. 24, 1912, at the Postoffice at Winter Park, Florida, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

It is always pleasing to us to note the fine loyalty of former Staff members. Here is what "Styx" Butterfield says, "I think the Sandspur is the very peppiest school paper edited and that it has the best old school in the world behind it." She also requested the paper be mailed her.

Here is another from Gerald Kinneer, now a student at Oberlin: "Gosh, I've enjoyed these papers immensely. I drop all work, no matter how urgent, when the old Rollins Sandspur comes."

SLANG AT VASSAR

Slang at Vassar, like a soft voice at a football game, is non-existent. Do not think I am trying to hoodwink a suspicious public or make us out better than we are. I conscientiously set myself the task of reminding the slang that we might be using, expecting to find myself swamped with material, and lo and behold, I am forced to admit that it is something in which we are entirely lacking, something which offers a large field for the future college-woman to develop.

Of course we have our idiosyncracies. We call the Library the "Lib" and we pursue the studies of "Geo" and "Pezzo" and "Chem," and we do our experiments in the "Lab." Perhaps the nearest approach to slang is in the historic Soap Palace (so called from its peculiar brown-and-white marble decorations, resembling a certain kind of soap.)

There is a movement on foot now, I believe, to promote a more respectful attitude toward this Ancient of Days and call it the front vestibule of Main Hall. We have a "mud-rush," too: it is just what its name implies and it happens three times a day.

We also have "Block's," a corruption of the name "D'Labosch's," which means the place where the laundry is done. Then there is the Flag Shop, which a few people playfully call the "Shag Flap," and it is there that you eat the dark and delicious "devil" compounded of chocolate, strawberries-cream and its namesake alone knows what else. Also our professors have sometimes been called by names other than their own, names which will not be found in the college catalog, such as "Aunt Mary" and "The Drunken Duchess."

The expressions which I have mentioned, though—and I have mentioned all that are current—are limited to the names of persons or things; they are all local, and they have absolutely no meaning when detached from the Vassar campus. Vassar, it seems, has been particularly remiss in its failure to contribute permanent or picturesque slang to the fraternity's lexicon. Its wisdest approaches to slang are only suggestions, and its conservatism is in the whole disapprovingly intelligible in the individual.

K. E. RICKS

A letter from Liz Morphy says that she will be down after the Christmas holidays. Liz will spend the season visiting relatives in Orlando.

Another loyal K. E. who is returning for a visit is Pauline Phelps of Youngstown, Ohio. "Fud" will spend Founders' Week at Rollins.

Miss Edwards and Dolly Barrow were guests of Helen Dickinson Sunday afternoon. The party motored over to Station.

Mary Kanaka was one of Mrs. Wright's dinner guests Sunday evening.

Helen McKay is the energetic coxswain of the girls' war canoe crew.

DANCE AT COUNTRY CLUB

The first of a series of dances for the benefit of the Woman's Club will be inaugurated this evening at the Winter Park Country Club. Excellent music will be provided and it is expected that a number of the college people will attend.

Wilhelmina Freeman was the guest of Mrs. last week-end.

ALPHA ALPHA SCANDAL

Assembly

Friday night will be known hereafter as Alpha Alpha assembly night. All brothers and pledge brothers must be in "the house" from 7:30 P. M. to 9:00 P. M.

It is the plan of the fraternity to arrange a series of short talks on these evenings in order to show the fellows the value of a college fraternity, both in their lives and in the life of the college.

Notice!

After reading the above article all members and pledges please arrange all dues, etc. accordingly. Any girl that gives an Alpha Alpha fellow a date or in any other way detracts his attention from "the house" on a Friday night had better watch out.

Something New

It has often been said that "there is nothing new under the sun." This may be true and still it may not. However in our case it is far from the truth. Here is it.

Our new acquisition is in the form of a new cook. He is new in more ways than one. First of all, Henry, for it's a "him" this time not a "her," cooks in a way that shows us that at some time or other he must have been head chef in the Hotel McAlpin. Besides being an expert chef he is also a very efficient tailor. Yes, sir; he cleans, presses, mends, and everything.

While his first ability as chef is confined strictly to the house, the second feature, that of tailoring, is to be at the service of any of the fellows in the college who have been looking for a reliable, prompt, and efficient tailor. Call Winter Park 372 and ask for Henry. His work and his prices will surprise you.

Dean Barrett was a guest at the Freeman home during the week-end.

MUSIC SHOULD BE INTEGRAL PART OF SCHOOL SYSTEM, SAYS CLAXTON

United States Commissioner of Education Would Make Music One of Graded School Studies

"Instruction in music in the public schools," he said, "is a development in our educational system I most heartily favor, and which I have advocated on every possible occasion.

"I see no reason why we cannot include the study of music as a regular course along with that of mathematics, reading, writing, and other studies, making it just as important and essential, and giving it a very real and definite value in our school curriculum.

"As a graded study, from the kindergarten through the grades up to and including the high school, we must have music instruction which would result in implanting in the student a knowledge of, as well as a love for, real music through the teaching of its fundamentals.

"In Germany, as is well known, music instruction in the schools has long been recognized as of essential importance. The German graduate of high school or college knows the fundamentals of music because he has had the musical training, grade after grade, and is, therefore, a potential musician. We speak of German 'talent' for music. I think this is incorrect. It is simply a matter of education. We have just as much of that sort of 'talent' in this country. What we should do is to educate it."

"Let us, for a moment, look into what this instruction in music as a regular school study would mean in its development along only one line. Take in the choirs of the several kindred churches in the city of Washington there is a large proportion of voluntary singers. These singers are not musically educated; if they were they would not be volunteers, nor would they be justified in giving their services gratis. Many people attend church services for the music as much as for the preaching. The kind of music produced by the volunteer choirs of the city leaves anything but a favorable impression and produces anything but a devotional attitude. Singers who would otherwise attend stay away. This would not be the case if the singers knew music; people would be attracted instead of being repelled. With education in music a generally recognized part of our public school courses of study, the singers in our volunteer choirs, as well as in musical functions everywhere which utilize voluntary singers, would be able to produce the kind and quality of music people would delight to hear, and through hearing which they would profit.—Musical America.

DEAN SPRAGUE TO SPEAK AT ANNUAL MEETING OF FLORIDA EDUCATION ASSOCIATION AT TALLAHASSEE

Will Discuss the Rural School Problem Before Large Gathering of State Teachers, December 31

The complete programs issued by the Florida Educational Association for its annual meeting at Tallahassee, December 28-31, contain an announcement of much interest to Rollins faculty and students. As one of the chief speakers on the Rural School Program, of which committee Miss Amelia Kendall, Orange County Rural School Inspector, is chairman, appears the name of Dr. Robert J. Sprague, Dean of Rollins. Dr. Sprague's subject will be: "Are the Schools Reaching All the Children of Florida?"

It is expected that the annual meeting will be well attended by teachers and school officers from all over the state. Mr. H. J. Dams, Chairman of the Executive Committee, has worked hard on the details of the meeting and has recently sent out a circular urging a full attendance. Prof. B. B. Lane is president of the association.

Among those attending from Rollins and Winter Park are Miss Amelia Kendall, who is chairman of the Rural School Section of the association work, and Dr. Robert J. Sprague, Dean of Rollins.

DR. RUSSELL CONWELL, FAMOUS COLLEGE PRESIDENT AND LECTURER, TO SPEAK HERE

Arrangements have just been completed with the Rev. George Hymn, pastor of the Baptist Temple in Sanford, to bring to the Rollins forum one of the most noted lecturers on the platform today—President Russell Conwell, D. D., of Temple University, Philadelphia.

This will be Dr. Conwell's first trip to this part of Florida and his many admirers will look forward with much anticipation to hearing him. Perhaps Dr. Conwell's most famous lecture is "Acres of Diamonds."

ROLLINS PROFESSORS TO JUDGE PRIZE SPEAKING CONTEST AT WINTER GARDEN

Much interest is being manifested at present over the Prize Speaking Contest which is to be held at the Winter Garden High School next Saturday evening, when two ten dollar prizes, one to a girl and one to a boy, will be awarded the victors in this annual contest. This is the third of these contests and it is expected that the orations, which have been carefully prepared, will be of unusual merit.

Miss Amelia Kendall, Rural School Inspector, and Mr. J. A. Poldmore, Instructor in English of Rollins, have been asked by the high school authorities to act as judges for the occasion.

RESERVATIONS ALREADY BEING MADE FOR COLLEGE YEAR

An indication of what the enrollment for the college year 1920-21 may be, can be gathered from the fact that applications for admission and deposits on rooms for next year have already been received in the college office.

One application from a mother out in Kansas is most interesting. A part of the letter accompanying it reads: "We like the 'pop' and 'push' of your colleges; we like the courses of study; we like the beautiful lake; and, after studying catalogs from a number of colleges, we have decided to try Rollins for our daughter."

ROLLINS CLOSES FOOTBALL SEASON WITH WIN OVER STRONG LEGION TEAM

went to quarter and Seeley, the featherweight of the squad, was put in at left half. Froemke missed a drop kick from the 30-yard line by less than a foot. Orlando then took the ball on their 20-yard line and after several good gains by Anderson and Kincaid, were forced to kick. Seeley recovered and carried the ball to Rollins' 40-yard line. The half ended here.

Second Half

Rollins kicked and Orlando carried the ball to the 35-yard line. Attempts to carry the ball were repulsed and Orlando was forced to kick. Seeley carried the ball to the center of the field and from there it was steadily shoved toward Orlando's goal. Rollins at last lost the ball on a fumble and it was Orlando's ball. The Legionners tried three downs and failed. Anderson punted, but it was blocked and rolled over the goal line. Robbins immediately fell on it for the third touchdown of the game.

Fourth Quarter

Orlando failed to make first down and the ball went over. Rollins tried a few passes, making two out of three for a total of 20 yards. Our men at last lost the ball on an intercepted pass, after which Orlando tried the passing game. Froemke intercepted one and dashed 20 yards for a touchdown. Orlando again received and after three downs punted to Wright, who had been sent in again. Rollins lost the ball and Orlando tried the passing game. And also again did Froemke intercept a pass and tore away for 25 yards, chalking up the final score. The game ended with the ball on Orlando's 20-yard line.

The lineup:

Rollins	Legioners
Palmer (Butler) R. C.	Wilson
Cotting (Williams, Bell) R. T.	Brown
Thayer (McKinley) R. G.	Tresler
Ward C.	Anderson
Warner L. G.

ATHLETIC NOTES

Football experts are trying to dope out which college holds the eastern championship but about all the teams have been either beaten or tied during the season.

There is great interest in the game at Jacksonville today between the Haverhill, Mass., High School team and Duval High of Jacksonville, Florida. Last week defeated Newton, Mass., High for the championship of New England. It will probably be Haverhill's game if the weather doesn't get them, which is unlikely.

It will be hard work picking a second team for the Klamath game and several men will be used. An effort will be made to run off a series of class games in addition to the others in order to give every man an opportunity to star in the game all winter. It will also mean more "pop" in the school and rivalry between the classes.

You tell him Casket, I'm coffin.

Miss Ethel Perkins of Jacksonville, who was a student in the Conservatory last year, was a visitor on the campus last week.

Mr. Maynard Froemke, former Rollins student and now Editor of the Lake Alfred News, came up to see Rollins clean up the American Legion last Saturday. His young brother, Harley, sure played a good game.

Mrs. G. B. McDonald, formerly Mary Patterson, who attended Rollins in 1894-97, spent last Sunday visiting friends here.

The Rev. Kerr Boyce Tupper, D. D., LL. D., was one of Dr. Ward's callers last Monday.

Fraternity Girls Give Charming and Interesting Thanksgiving Ball

KAPPA EPSILON HOSTESS AT THANKSGIVING DANCE

Distinctly charming and of unusual interest was the dance given Thanksgiving evening by Kappa Epsilon.

The frat girls spared no pains to make their ball the leading event of the season and the result was in decorations a complete transformation of the gym into a dense jungle. This was a pretty symbol of Kappa Epsilon. Heavy Spanish moss pendant from the beams and balcony gave the effect of stalactites, which was peculiarly charming. Perhaps the most striking feature of the decorations was the huge K. E. sign in soft red and white electric lights, which met the eyes of the dancers upon entering. Seats for the guests were arranged around the room which were brightened by gaily covered pillows and rugs. The red and white color scheme was carried out in every detail, even to the programs and stamped initials on the napkins.

Those receiving were Mrs. Geo. M. Ward, Mrs. J. K. List, Miss Ida M. Barrett, and the active chapter.

The very latest popular music was played by Branch's Orchestra of Orlando.

Music was served throughout the evening and was supplemented during the intermission by delicate sandwiches and coffee.

The dances at the college this year are being conducted by the fraternities and for the present are not strictly college functions, though all faculty and students are invited. With this arrangement in mind limitations are extended by each fraternity conducting a given dance, to their friends, no general invitation being extended to former students or friends in Winter Park, as heretofore.

As the athletic Association encourages the athletic work and as the Christian Associations conduct the religious work, so the fraternities will manage this part of the social activities on the campus.

Friends and former students are expected to spend this notice that all may thoroughly understand this arrangement.

AN OLD-TIME "WEEBIE" ROAST

A jolly party of girls paddled out to the Semole picnic grounds Monday afternoon about dark and spent a few hours in roasting weenies, singing and telling jokes. Those enjoying this feed were: Helen Dickson, Marion Richard, Mary K. S.

46, Dolly Darrow, Miss Hill, Eva Middleton, Ruth McKee, Elmore Mendel and Helen Everhard. Miss Edwards chaperoned.

CHRISTMAS BAZAAR IN GYM TODAY

Those who have been making plans for the Y. W. C. A. Bazaar know that it is going to be a real success, but it is up to the rest of the students to go over to the gym this afternoon and find out for themselves. Take a tip, fellows; here's a good chance to buy your sweetie a nice little token, or if you can't do that, you can at least buy a few dishes of ice cream for the bunch.

Come out and show the real Rollins spirit by buying a few articles and thus help the poor little kiddies of the West Tampa Mission.

SIGMA PHI GIRLS ENTERTAIN

Last Monday evening at 9:45 a hilarious crowd gathered in Gertrude Dixie's room for a spread. The main idea of the party was to "eat," and this idea was carried out to the nth degree. The refreshments, which consisted of fruit salad, coffee, and sandwiches, rapidly disappeared. Many thanks to Gertrude and Hazel for doing all the work. They could do a fine catering business if they tried. At the last minute, a speech by a Sigma Phi girl seemed to have a dampening effect on the guests, but they were all polite enough to say they had had a wonderful time. Prizes were awarded to Catherine Barnes and Charlotte Swann for eating the most, although Frances Hall came in for a close second.

FIRST SUUDENT ASSEMBLY MEETING IS A DECIDED SUCCESS

Conducted by Charles Spear, President of the Student Association, Will Be Developed to a Greater Extent

The first student assembly hour is a matter of history, but its far-reaching effects for good will long be felt by all who participated in the program either as speakers or auditors. A feeling of closer unity between faculty and students was quite manifest and the hour from beginning to end was one of both profit and pleasure.

After brief devotional exercises, Charles Spear, as president of the Student Association, took charge of the meeting. As a sort of cheer introduction, Charlotte Swain delighted the assembly with her interpretation of modern jazz music. Following her, Chancellor Brooks spoke long but to the point on the purpose of the assembly hour, explaining that it has been given to the students to use in any way they can for the good of the college, by the discussion of campus problems and emotions. He further stated that the hour will serve as a time in which speakers of note, as often available here during the winter season, will be given the opportunity of meeting the student body and putting them into closer contact with the problems of the great outside world from which the students, unlike those of other lands, view curiously enough at all.

Dean Sprague, speaking on student organization, was next on the program. His careful planning to avoid the formality of speaking from the platform was promptly frustrated by Chancellor Brooks, who rose to declare that even though the Dean is negligent and absent, he was not to be exempted from the requirement. The Dean surprised the vote crowd by jumping to the platform. Dean Sprague's talk emphasized the importance of having among students an organization of a self-governing nature as a medium of expression of the wants, thoughts and feeling of the student body.

Coach Brewster, who spoke next on "Athletics," was given the real Rollins applause which always greets him upon his appearance during the chapel hour. His speech, though brief, was full of "pop" and was just the sort of spirit which made the football team what it was in the face of great odds.

Lead, Herby, Football Captain, a Maxwell Olson, Basketball Captain and Francis James, Girls' Basketball Captain, then spoke in behalf of their various teams. Humor had its share in these and they were about as full of "pop."

The program ended with a short one conducted by Miss Spear, President of the Student Association, in which she declared that the origin and its present place in the world of music. To illustrate the jazz qualities in the music of which she spoke, several negro melodies were sung by the assembly.

Altogether this first student assembly hour was a decided success. It must be remembered that it is a new venture at Rollins and should be considered in only the experimental stage. That it can be made a potent factor in the development of the higher ideals of student life at Rollins is a foregone conclusion.

RECORD ATTENDANCE WHEN COACH ADDRESSES Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. had its regular meeting on Tuesday night immediately after dinner. Coach Brewster was the speaker of the evening and gave us an interesting little talk on sticking to a thing once one has started it. He emphasized tenacity of spirit in trying to forge ahead. The rivalry being of a right sort makes everyone a booster for ROLLINS. "If you can stick to a thing in the face of great odds, you are bound to win," says the Coach, "and if you don't believe it, look at what the football team has done." He said that the only way to get anything done is to go into it with all your might, and if you do this, nothing can stop you from accomplishing your goal. And the only way anything is ever done is by putting all one's might into it. In doing this one gets out of life a whole lot more than one puts into it.

A record crowd was out last week; now, fellows, let's see if we can't double it next Tuesday. The only way to do it is by putting all your might into it. So support the "Y" with all your might, and it will be a great success this year. Come and swell the crowd.

MISS TALLMAN OF WEST TAMPA MISSION ADDRESSES Y. W. C. A.

There was a large attendance at the Y. W. C. A. meeting in Knowles Hall last Tuesday evening. The service was led by Ada Brockman. Miss Daisy Tallman, one of the instructors from the West Tampa Mission, spoke to the girls about the various phases of the work there. Her talk was so interesting that it roused great enthusiasm among the girls for the Y. W. Bazaar, which is to be held December 11, for the benefit of the West Tampa Mission. After a few words from Mrs. Vincent the meeting closed.

PERSONALS

Among those attending the trustee meeting last Saturday afternoon were: Mrs. W. B. O'Neal and Mrs. A. B. Whitman of Orlando; Mrs. C. L. Smith of White Park; Mr. E. H. Babinick of Tavares; Dr. George D. McCarty of Jacksonville; Judge J. H. Coney and Mr. W. B. O'Neal of Orlando; Messrs. C. H. Krome and E. H. Brewer of Winter Park; Dr. C. H. Bellows of Winter Park.

The Y. M. C. A. closed its regular service last Tuesday evening with a record in the campus.

NOW HEADS IRON AGE PUBLISHING COMPANY IN NEW YORK

held on November 19, Fritz J. Frank was elected to succeed Mr. Taylor as president. Mr. Frank's business career has been a continuous connection with publishing, and his knowledge of the industries represented by the Iron Age has been intimate and of long standing. His school training was taken in Florida, to which state his parents removed from Pennsylvania in 1884, when he was a boy of 12. He graduated from Rollins College, with the degree of A. B., in 1896. While at Rollins he was among the leaders of his class and took a prominent part in the work of the literary society which was a forerunner of the present Delphic Society. He was also a member of the Sandspur staff.

Mr. Frank's chosen work began in 1898, when he became western business manager of the Colliery Engineer, a Scranton (Pa.) publication of national circulation in the coal mining field. Mr. Frank's headquarters were in Chicago at this time. He was impressed at that time, when American manufacturers were doing relatively little in the export trade, with the importance of cultivating relations with foreign buyers, and in 1903 and 1904 he made a tour of the world investigating possible markets for American mining machinery. In 1906 he left the Colliery Engineer and became the Chicago representative of the Mining and Scientific Press, that relation continuing up to 1919, when he came with the Iron Age as advertising manager in the New York territory. In 1911 he was made secretary of the David Williams Company, predecessor of the Iron Age Publishing Company, and since 1919 has been vice-president of the latter company.

Mr. Frank has a wide acquaintance in the iron and steel and machinery trades, is experienced in business journalism and is thoroughly committed to the Iron Age's traditions and standards, among which are complete independence of editorial expression and making the reader's interest paramount to all other considerations. With the added loyalty of a strong organization there is warrant for promising even a greater Iron Age and larger capacity for service to its splendid constituency in the years just ahead.

WINTER PARK VS. PALATKA

The first local basketball game of the season was played Friday, December 2, in Lyman Gymnasium, between the Winter Park town team and Palatka. The town boys were completely outclassed in every way and the score ended in favor of Palatka 36-15.

The Palatka quintet was fast and their teamwork very good, the ball being in their hands most of the game. The best playing on their team was done by their right forward, Hodge, who made six field goals, many of them being fast and difficult shots.

The Winter Park aggregation clearly showed their lack of practice, as their pass work was poor, while they also displayed a lack of point on their shooting. In spite of their lack of practice they put up a game fight, showing that they had the live spirit. One-third of their points were made on fouls, Shannahan only missing three out of eight free shots. "Smut" Fletcher played well, while in the game, as he made two field goals in a short time, and only missed a few impossible shots.

A great many remarks were made upon the fine refereeing of Coad Brewster, as he made a fast game by abiding strictly to the rules. Both teams tried to observe the rule more, as over 22 fouls were made and these were mostly by holding. A very good crowd was in attendance. The line-up:

Winter Park—15	Palatka—28
Shannahan (11) L. F. H. Hodge (11)	B. Taylor R. F. H. Hodge (11)
Hunter Center Keller (11)	Rodenbaugh L. G. Garnas
Hotard R. G. Bennett (11)	Fletcher for Taylor (4)
	Kerse Berse for Hotard,
	Plye for Hunter.
W. Taylor for Rodenbaugh.

Winter Park—First half, 3; second half, 6; total 15.

Palatka—First half, 24; second half, 6; total 30.

Referee, Brewster; timekeeper, Roberts; scorer, Starr.

You tell him, Outja, I haven't the spirit.
