Friend I then the Bran of lime & was the bags by John Satyer w^{ch} I hope are come safe to hand I take the leave of them kindly from thy m^r the lime is too deare of 12^d per bushell it was all the dead fallen lime there was not one stone in it that was not fallen but there was full half a bushell of stones unburnt if it was of thy m^r lime if thou wilt know what I write I shall not give too much for it but if thou procure it thy where do not give above 12^d per bus for it for that more then it is worth; I am still in a very weak low & declining condition & my dysenterie is so grounded & rooted now that I have little hope of recovering it thro' I may continue under it some considerable time; my deare love to thy m^r m^r & thy self is all as I send from thy loving father

Thy mo^r & affectionate lover
