

1680-12-02

Roger Longworth, Phineas Pemberton, December 2, 1680

Roger Longworth

PRINT Identifier: 16092

 Part of the Archival Science Commons, and the History Commons

Find similar works at: <https://stars.library.ucf.edu/printmigrationnetwork-pemberton>

University of Central Florida Libraries <http://library.ucf.edu>

This Correspondence is brought to you for free and open access by the Quaker Correspondence at STARS. It has been accepted for inclusion in Pemberton Correspondence by an authorized administrator of STARS. For more information, please contact STARS@ucf.edu.

Citation

Roger Longworth, Dublin, Ireland, to Phineas Pemberton, n.p., 1680-12-02, vol. 1, pg. 155, Pemberton Family Papers, 1641-1880, 0484A, Historical Society of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, PRINT, 16092, <https://stars.library.ucf.edu/printmigrationnetwork-pemberton/293/>.

This Correspondence is brought to you for free and open access by the Quaker Correspondence at STARS. It has been accepted for inclusion in Pemberton Correspondence by an authorized administrator of STARS. For more information, please contact STARS@ucf.edu.

Thomas Domberton

Decemr 22 of y^r 22 m. 00

Dear friend and Bro: in Bowels of my heavenly father, send I dearly salute thee, my will be send in the Lord, my servants I send as to the Lord for thee, that thou and all the Lord's people may be preserved faithful unto the end, for the reward is thy shall be given, that thy servants count with the Lord for I have heard thy breailings be to the Lord that thou may be kept, in the land of life, which the god of life hath breailled in to our souls, by which we are made living unto the Lord, to worship him in the land of the living, in which we have living refreshment, flowing as a river and joy as a mighty stream, and thou blessed will thou be for our and all thy undertakings, and thy vine shall not cast the fruit, before her time, and thy fields shall yield her increase, and thy cities an, shall sit about thy table as doves, and and grow as the olive, and blossom as the rose in cedars wood, and as willows by the water Brooks, and as plants in a pleasant field, which the Lord hath planted, and he will water them ever more, and he will be a tender father, unto them, and give them the former, and the latter rain, and cause the down of heaven to rest upon them, and the fountains of his Son to distill, as pleasant drops and this is the Lord's own doing blessed be his name for ever, faith my faith, who hath bewailed it unto his servant, for with my dear Son to thee, and thy dear wife father and mother in the truth

Thy friend
Roger Longworth

Dutton 22 Jan. 1688

From Roger Longworth to Phineas Pemberton.

p. 155a