Hello, Biology Faculty,

I am Sandy Avila, the Interim Science Librarian and new Library Liaison to the Biology Department. I look forward to working with you and your Library Liaison, Dr. Joshua King, to order new books to support Biology Department teaching and research.

I also look forward to providing library research consultations and instruction classes to biology students.

Please feel free to contact me to let me know how I can be of service to you.

Lake ecologists see winter as a key scientific frontier

Date: November 28, 2016

Summary:

As long as ecologists have studied temperate lakes, the winter has been their off-season. It's difficult, even dangerous, to look under the ice, and they figured plants, animals and algae weren't doing much in the dark and cold anyway. But an international team of 62 scientists looking at more than 100 lakes has concluded that life under the ice is vibrant, complex and surprisingly active.
