PROCRUSTINATING

It is said that procrustination is the evil of the hour. In this time and age when the things about us move at an rapid a pace, when we realize that our sojourn at the best is short, it is a crime to put that which should be done today off until some future time. It is our duty as men and women of this generation to make it the best and most productive in all ways of any generation. The world will never stand still it either goes forward or backward. Just which way the world and the institutions in it go is up to us. We must take advantage of every opportunity put before us, not let a single one pass us by. While here in school we must learn and learn with the idea that these lessons which we are now learning are strengthening our minds so that we may be the better fitted to fight life's battles when we have to go forth into the world and master its problems and perplexities. If only the modern college student would go to his work with the idea that it is the foundation of the life he is to live and that all he does must revert back to that foundation which he established while in college, he would peruse the printed page more diligently and let some of the minor things go. Studies come first then recreation. It is a crime to sacrifice the years of college to the minor things of life and let those things which are more important slip by. Take advantage of today. Don't put off your work until tomorrow. Tomorrow may be too late.

SPIRIT

A school never has progressed and never will progress until it has instilled in every member of that school a spirit that will not die. A school should mean more than a mere place of learning. It is like a mother, wherever you get wherever you are the school to which you went will uphold you, and it is only right that you should support the school. No matter how small a school is there should be an unquenchable spirit. A spirit which dominates the class - room, one that dominates athletics and one that takes social activities under its wing.

There was a lighthouse keeper on the coast of Malus. He had charge of the light on one of the most dangerous rocks on that barren coast. One night, as he was sitting at the lamp watching its mighty beam sweep the storm swept waters, he saw a ship. A ship in distress, laden with human cargo. What did he do? Well, because of the terrible storm he did not launch his boat, let that ship with its passengers perish. Everyone knew about it. Knew that he had let them souls sink into eternity simply because it was too rough to get them safely. Time went on and this keeper seemed to go about his duties in a daze. One day during one of the fiercest storms that had ever struck that coast a ship was seen foundering in the ocean having been thrown upon the rocks. It was sure death to the one who attempted to save them. This keeper, however, launched his boat against the pleadings of his wife and set out to save the people on board the sinking vessel. After great effort, he saved the eight people on board, but when he had made the last trip he expired. He died, but in so doing he had straightened his account with the Maker and had wiped out the gooding shur from the thoughts of his fellowmen.

Now let us, students of Rollins College, wipe out the gooding shur, and get some spirit in this college. Rollins will become just as great as her students make her. No more or no less. She can never achieve greatness through the untiring work of the faculty or trustees, but it must rise to fame through the men and women who attend this grand old college. Take an interest in this place, strive to make your stay here as beneficial as possible.

WINTER PARK AND ORLANDO

Pledge day has come and the Sigma Phi's are happy to announce as pledges, Margaret Wing, Tampa, Fla.; Eleanor Dunbar, Spartanburg, S. C., and Inogene Clark, Gorham, Maine.

It seems that the Sigma Phi's have had somewhat of a scrumptious time at Fannie's this past week. They all say that they have never eaten so much and so heartily for a long time. Jolly good fun and all. Fifteen Raas for Fannie, they all say.

Hear ye! Hear ye! It is now time to look for gray hairs in Kid Lou's head. Another milestone has passed with "Ye familie" celebration held in Trash Can Alley. Among those present were, "Krazy Kat" Shreve, "Owl" Conard, "Dog" Parkinson, "Lion" Clark, "Igmita" Dunbar, "Chicken" Wing, "Tad Pole" Puga, "Nightengale" Wallace, "Donkey" Barnes (his, ha), "Fox Gray," "Fossum" Slumassa and "Jack Rabbit" Jasper.

Sigma Phi's announce as an honorary member, Mrs. E. B. Merson, of Winter Park.

The Kappa Epsilon announce the following pledges: Mary Grigsby, St. Petersburg, Fla., and Ada McKay, of Tampa, Fla.

It is reported that a bunch went down to Pine Needles, the Freeman domicile, the other evening and spent a most enjoyable time. I guess they did from all reports, and by the way some mention was made of the fine cake and the amount consumed by a certain eminent personage on the campus, known as Dorothy Gray. Did you really eat quite a bit? Can't blame you if you did.

The Tau Lambda Delta's took the family Ford to the game and from all accounts had a bumpy good time. The old fiver comes in handy sometimes and that's the spirit to show. Get behind the team, go to see the game, even if you have to ride in a Ford instead of walking. Lesser if two evils.

The publication of this issue of the Sandspur has been placed in the hands of that body of students known to all members of Rollins as the Freshman class, otherwise known as the "Frosh." Because of the various activities of these members it has been somewhat hard to entice them to write for this issue. Nevertheless the contents of the paper is credited to them. If it be good, bad or indifferent the blame rests upon the shoulders of the class of '22. This is the first literary manifestation of the Raas, and all we hope is that it will do the class credit. It is somewhat difficult to organize an entire class and gather material together for a single issue. Nevertheless here it is for your approval.

While walking through a crowded downtown street the other day, I heard a little urchin to his comrade turn and say, "Gee, Jimmy, I'd be happy as a clam if I only was der feller dat my mudder t'inks I am.

Gee, she t'inks dat I'm a wonder and she knows her little lad Could never mix with nothin' that is dirty, mean, nor bad."

My friends, be yours a life of toil or unadulterated joy.

You, too, can learn a lesson from this small unlettered boy.

Don't try to be an earthly saint with your eyes fixed on a star.

Just try to be the feller that your mother thinks you are.

Author Unknown.

PHI OMEGA

Phi Omega announces as pledges: Muriel Hardesty, Philadelphia, Pa.; Virginia Nagle, Melbourne, Fla.; Fernie Dakin, Jacksonville, Fla.; Ellen Fuller, Winter Park, Fla.; Charlotte Wulstein, Orlando, Fla.; Katherine Faulkner, Asheville, N. C.

FLATTERY

Why it is that
All girls like
To be flattered
Is beyond me.
It seems that a Fellow can't get Along with a
Girl unless he flatters
Her.

Well, we all like
To be flattered,
But, gosh, it's bad.
There is a
Saying that Flattery is like
Perfume,
To be smelt of
And not swallowed.
But it seems that
Too many of us
Mortals imbibe of
The perfume.
It's just Human nature.

A CLOVERLEAFITE'S REFLECTIONS—INEZ REED 'EM AND WEEP

Well, well, here we are. The Freshies. Ha, just a few words concerning the Cloverleaf Brand.

My, but we've been pious since that special counsel meeting the other nite. They read the rules to us laying particular emphasis on certain ones which the majority seem to have forgotten ever existed. We were all very sweet and quite and promised "Ma" faithfully we'd be good children, but you know, gents, it is certainly hard to remember all the rules, especially the third floor gang. Why, they have these proctors on the third floor instead of the usual one. Is not that terrible? But then it is hard for us infants to remember we are in college instead of in a nursery. For instance, the other nite, I honestly felt a pang of pity for the poor harassed proctor. It was right shifty if you will remember, and certain members of the "gang" went visiting for the nite. The chewing gum brigade got going good in room 43 and offered us some very choice selections. Speaking of the brigade brings to my mind a notice which I want to set before the public eye. Any inmate of Cloverleaf who thinks they have the velocity to qualify, please see "Red" Simmons, "Big Baby" Richardson, or "Inez" Reed immediately. We are in great need of another boxer and a horseshoe. But to get back to my subject here you observed the sudden tennis craze among our fair co-eds? Solutions are now in order for such violent exercise, more especially among our nobs—what shall I say—among our more plump members? To pass on, about this Sunday canoeing now. "Blinker seems to me those canoes of yours are somewhat popular." Someone has just brilliantly said that perhaps it is the natural beauty of lake Virginia, which is attracting the attention of so many. I'll bite, is it that?

About the Lakeland game, I hope you took notice of the fact that Cloverleaf turned out 25.44 per cent strong, even our infirmity crew managed to make the grade. And let me tell those who failed to see that superb contest, that it was some game in spite of old Sol in all his glory—our best. And did those boys of our step out? I mean to say that they didn't do anything, but, let's go boys. Here's to our coming fight with Stinson, may our boys plunge forward and win! Team carry on, Cloverleaf's lack of you to the last play.

Did you ever take her to a dance and after paying at the door find that you had only 17 cents left? Then, after a rotten evening of worry have the dear young thing suggest, "Let's eat." And while you were wondering how to break the news have a friend come up and say: "Hello, old man! Here's that ten dollars I borrowed last month."

Neither did I.—Punch Bowl.

Attendant—Me man, don't you see that "No Smokin'" sign?

Me Man—Well, I'm not smoking.

Attendant—But you have a pipe in your mouth.

Me Man—Sure, and I've shown on me feet, but I'm not walking.

"Did you notice that girl who just passed?"

"The one with the bright blue sweater, silk stockings with roses about three inches apart, sport shoes, bobbed hair and—"

"Yes."

"Not particularly."

She lay in his arms,
Her arms clasped tightly
Around his neck.
The room was quiet,
A sweet fragrance of Flowers wafted in through
The open window,
Added a sweet perfume
To the summer breeze.
She cooed to him and
He answered in tones
Low and melodious.
Soon the stillness of
The night was broken.
By a sigh which escaped
From the fairy like creature,
In his manly embrace.
He leaned over and

IPSE DIXIT and GALILEO

There was much learning but little real knowledge in Galileo's time (1564-1642). Aristotle was swallowed in bad Latin translations. Iperse dixit. No one checked him by what seemed vulgar, coarse experiment.

Galileo fought against the dead hand of tradition. He did not argue about Aristotle, but put him to the test. Aristotle led his readers to believe that of two bodies the heavier will fall the faster. Galileo simply climbed to the top of the Leaning Tower of Pisa and dropped two unequal weights. The "best people" were horrified; they even refused to believe the result—that the weights reached the ground in equal times.

"Look at the world, and experiment, experiment," cried Galileo.

The biggest man in the 16th century was not Galileo in popular estimation, but Sulciman the Magnificent, the Ottoman Emperor, who swept through Eastern Europe with fire and sword and almost captured Vienna. Where is his magnificence now?

Galileo gave us science—established the paramount right of experimental evidence. Sulciman did little to help the world.

Hardly an experiment is made in modern science which does not apply Galileo's results. When, for instance, the physicists in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company study the motions of electrons in rarified atmospheres, or experiment to heighten the efficiency of generators and motors, they follow Galileo's example and substitute facts for beliefs.

BLONDES

I have been asked to give a dissertation on that light complexioned female known to the entire world as a blonde. It is with great consternation and fear that I write this article for I well know that in doing so I am putting my life in jeopardy.

We all have had our experiences with the blonde. Some regret, some are happy and some are neutral. We all know the blonde to be a flighty creature, a girl of many moods, and as many admirers. What is it that we admire about so fair a creature? That is a question to be answered by the individual. In writing this article all that I have to draw from is memory. Memory of a few of those flaxen-haired creatures who have come into my life as it were. It is rather a question for biblical students as to whether the woman responsible for all our sorrow today, namely mother Eve, was a blonde or a brunette. It seems more probable that she was a blonde. That is just like them to get men into trouble then leave them there. It seems that they enjoy to see them suffer. It may be that the natural blonde, I mean the one whom God gifted with that fair complexion, will get a lot of blame which she does not deserve. It is difficult to distinguish the true blonde from the ambitious brunette who changes the color of her hair, so as to be admired by all men.

Why it is difficult for it is nigh too impossible to be a master in the art of dying.

If it were not for the blonde where would the lawyers be? They, the blondes, are those bipeds which men marry one day and divorce the following week. The ones which appear first before a justice of the peace and then before a divorce lawyer. If it were not for those creatures there would be more than one father's son who would be in a great deal of time and money. Speaking of the slightest dollar, why they live on it. The blonde has her good as well as her bad points. Take for instance, she is very adept in extracting money, therefore, she would be a good bill collector.

Why blame the blonde. She herself is an innocent thing. It is the men who make her as she is. Wrong, why that word is not in her vocabulary. She is as far away from the sin of the world as the ocean is from the shore. Quite a distance. She reminds me of a pigeon. She will coo and coo and then sometimes she will peck you. "Oh, death where is thy sting?"

BRUNETTES

Well, well, a deep subject. I don't mean the well I mean the brunettes. The saying is that the blonde rules the world, but Ye Gods, who rules the boom, that's the important question. It can be answered very briefly, the brunette. When a man comes home after a quiet night at the club who is sitting up at that unearthly hour waiting to tack him in his bed—after she has hit him over the head with the family rolling pin? By the way, if you have the slightest intention of marrying a brunette take an interest in some rolling pin factory. It sure will save you money in the end. Women of the dark type take such an interest in their husband's affairs. It sure does not pay to fool them, if that were possible. They have such latent power, which comes to the surface ever so often. If you see a man saying, Yes, dear, to his wife, you may be sure that the wife is a brunette. The brunettes are a very essential curiosity. There must be some one to offset the frivolous nature of the blonde and believe me, the lady with the dark hair, dark eyes, and firmly set mouth is the one to do it. If it were not for these damzels why the men of the age would drink of oblivion sooner than they do. It is the dark-haired woman who keeps the men from fighting themselves to extinction. The men have too much to do in fighting the brunettes to think of fighting amongst themselves. It is divided we stand and united we fall with men and brunettes. Necessary yet a danger, sweet yet terrible, sensible yet facetious, that is the brunette. The creature whom we love and fear, respect and disobey, serve and hate, the ruler of the domestic domicile. All hail to that pugnacious creature, the Brunette.

Foolishness

Where can a man buy a cap for his knee?

Or a key for the lock of his hair?

Can his eyes be called an academy?

Because there are pupils there?

On the crown of your head?

What jewels are found?

Who travels the bridge of your nose?

If you want to shingle the roof of your mouth.

Would you use the nails of your toes?

Or heat the drum of your ear?

Can the calf of your leg eat the corn on your toe?

Then why not grow corn on the ear?

Can the crook in your elbow be sent to jail?

If so, what did it do?

Neutrality Idea

Playing a pigskin chase in his college comedy, "Little, But, Oh, My!" made Ernest Truex a football fan. So Rutgers Neilson took him up in Ohio New York City, to see a New York University-Rutgers College game.

"Well, Ernie," asked Neilson, "since I graduated from N. Y. U. and inherit the name of Rutgers where do you think I ought to sit?"

"On the fence!" aptly voices Truex. "Topics of the Day" Films.

Roughing It

One of the roughest players in college football went West to work on a ranch. His reputation had preceded him, and the cowboys asked him to teach them the game. So, the collection made up two husky eleven, outlined the rules, and finished with:

"If you can't kick the ball, kick an opponent. Already get busy?"

"Where's the ball?"

"Oh, shoot the ball!" retorted a cowboy puncher, "let's get into the game."

ROLLINS VS. SOUTHERN COLLEGE

Some game! Hot and fast from beginning to end. A great cheer from the large crowd of Rollins rooters greeted the team as it came on the field down at Lakeland. "Sugar," the mascot, led the "grang" out on the field. He was diked out in the school colors and ran ahead of the team chasing the "pizkin" down the field like a veteran.

Seeds did some work Saturday that really looked good. He was right there with the stuff it takes. O' George was what you'd call "picking 'em up and laying 'em down." Fair is well; say he played a fine game.

Emery was out of the game on account of the shoulder he got hurt while playing in Tampa.

As this issue goes to press, the coach is planning to send the second team to play Kissimmee High School. Due to their excellent work in practice and the good showing down at Lakeland, they are going to have a chance of their own to win.

How did you like the way Charlie Ward held down center? He showed some of the old-time fight from the first whistle till the last. Charlie made a specialty of intercepting passes this trip.

It was worth a mint to see Prof. Padmore when his "super-velocity" changed through Southern for several touchdowns in the last period. He was sniffling all over and was with us in giving fifteen for the rules, who can exceptionally well Saturday.

Will you ever forget the first touchdown? Seeds sent the ball aloft and Rex Wolf did the rest. A little duck, a little speed, squeaked a goal and the scrap was on.

Some of the boys say that they enjoyed themselves right well at Lakeland. That's good.

GOOD GAME, SOUTHERN!

That score 13-13 was quite pleasing wasn't it? Come on now, let's get together and make a similar one or better with Stetson.

A bar of music attracts no drinkers.

Last Saturday, Armistice Day, the Rollins football team went to Lakeland, where they trimmed Southern College by a score of 13 to 13. It was some game, so they say. Great track meet. Made the people cross-eyed following the plays. You can imagine how fast they were. It is reported that Trowbridge on the suggestion of the referee removed the chewing gum from his mouth, also that he spread himself over three men which he saw in front of him.

There were no many touchdowns that almost every man on the team had a chance at making a score. It would not have been right to let one man make more than one touchdown, so just as soon as a player made a score he was taken out and a substitute put in his place.

Southern, however, did fine work with her passes. If it had not been for our All-Winter-Park center, Chas. E. Ward, they would have run up a larger score. They were outclassed in that the Rollins team was heavier and more experienced.

The boys say they never saw so many pretty girls, kind of took their minds off of the game watching the blooming damsels on the side lines. There were no dirty tackles as the field was in good shape and not a mud hole as was the Tampa field.

One thing that both teams can boast of, and that is the fact that there was but one penalty during the entire game. Good, clean football. That's the kind that counts.

Southern's first touchdown was the result of a good pass. The second was the result of an intercepted pass. The second score for Southern was somewhat of a fumble, but they sure earned their first one.

Good work, team. We are behind you. Do as well at the Stetson game.

FORGIVENESS, I CRAVE

If you play with the hearts of women,
Be they old or merely maids,
Be sure, my son, you'll regret it,
As surely as spades are spades.

2

You've laughed and joked with the other boys,
At the way you've strung 'em along,
Never considering the pain you've caused,
Nor thinking of the wrong you've done.

3

But wait, some time you'll really love,
And then you'll begin to pay,
For the hearts you've broken will give you no rest
In your dreams, your work, or your play.

4

For the day you find yourself in love
With a girl so wondrous fair,
You'll think of the hearts you trifled with,
And you'll begin to doubt she's square.

5

You'll see their faces as you talked to them,
You'll remember the look in their eyes,
As you spoke of love and other things,
God! but you'll hate those lies.

6

Some day it will all come back to you,
And the question you'll ask will be,
"I've fooled and played with a dozen
girls,
Do you s'pose she's playing with me?"

7

When you kiss the lips of the girl you love,
As you leave her at the door,
You'll wonder, in spite of all you can do,
If she's been kissed that way before.

8

For the things she does in innocence
Will fill your heart with doubt,
And the moments you spend away from her
Will tear your heartstrings out.

9

You'll never think she's doing right,
The she does and tries her best,
You'll be jealous of every man you see
And think she's like the rest.

10

For you'll think of the many girls you've kissed
And you'll reason that this is true—
The things I do to the other man's girl
The other man to my girl can do.

MORAL

If you can't be good be careful,
If you can't be careful charge it up to profit and loss.

QUEER

First Fresh—"Hey, who got my black shoe? I've got somebody's tan one."

Second Fresh—"That's a embroddones! I'm in the same fix, and trying to make an eight-fifteen class."

GIRLS

I wonder
Why it is that
Girl when you
Go out with her
Will persist in Telling you of
Her various lovers.
Just as though you
Cared with whom
She was in love,
But they will Always do it.
Another one is
That old gag of Democratic friendship.
You know, they want
To be a friend to
All and partial to None. Wonder if
That is possible.
Never tell a
Girl that you
Care for her,
Just as soon as
You do that
You can count your cause lost.
The eternal feminine.
Be indifferent.
Treat 'em rough,
Tell 'em nothing,
They will do
All the telling.
Give them enough
Hope, then
Watch them flounder.
Don't let a girl ride you.
Tell her to shorten the Skirts or get off.
Also not to drag
Their fet when Riding.

"You surely are fresh," said the hen as she laid the egg.—Bliss.

SELFBISHNESS

It is only natural that people think of themselves first then of the other fellow. It is a tendency of the human race to take care of themselves first. That is right to a certain extent, but in some cases a person thinks only of himself and does not give a thought to his fellow beings. Such an attitude is entirely wrong. Wrong because of the fact that we should realize that we are just one unit of a great universe. A single human being with millions of others who are just as important as we are. When a person can realize that he is not the only one that causes the world to progress, when he can understand that there are many more who have just as important part to play, why then that person is not selfish. A person who has ample means and ability should share some of it with others. The noble idea of life is to live as a Christian, observing the rules laid down in the Bible. The best way that we as individuals can make our lives count is to help those about us in all possible ways, putting our own personal whims and desires last and not first as is the usual way.

There is not a small college in the south which has more possibilities than has Rollins. Situated in one of the prettiest, if not the prettiest town in Florida, on five lakes. Centrally located and having an ideal climate the year around. A college like Rollins should never despair of someday becoming one of the biggest institutions of higher learning in the south. In order that this may become a reality everyone, students of today and tomorrow, faculty and trustees, must get together and boost Rollins so that she will be able to go over the top. It is possible and can be accomplished. All that is needed is many loyal supporters and above all co-operation. That is the prime requisite, co-operation, without that it is impossible to accomplish a thing. All must work together and support one common cause.

The Village Flapper

Under the swinging door stars shine
The village flapper waits,
The flap, the clever lid is she,
Who never lacks her dates.

Laughing, smiling, petting,
All set for another bloke,
Each evening sees a man picked up,
Each morning sees him broke.

And so through life she lightly glides
Many a happy hour,
But get the poor girl's career there
When the diamond rings come out.
—Punch Bowl.

John (just waking up)—"Maui!"

SCORING WITH FOOTBALL FUN

Football is an unnatural sport engaged in by armies of players and thousands of spectators. Of course, women don't play football, but they compose a large part of the spectators at the gridiron battles. The girls can cheer as loud as the boys. And they wave the flag of their favorite team—Harvard, Rutgers, N. Y. U., Princeton or Yale—adding color to the scene. Playing football is no child's play, it takes hard work. In the old days brown was a necessary asset, but with the modern open method of playing, men of lighter build often do the best work in getting under a forward pass and touching the pigskin over the goal line. Nowadays, football attracts almost as many fans as does baseball in its season. "Topper of the Day" films often score a smile from wild football fan, and you can join the "spectators" by reading our joke lineup.

Advice to Spring Fever Patients

A. Advice to the inexperienced man.

1. If you make love in a hallway don't lean on the door bell.

2. When canoeing pile the pillows in one end at the start. A good start is half the race—and, besides, you'll relieve her mind.

3. Remember that kisses are like muzz. The kind that lasts the longest is the most popular.

4. If you are canoeing on a moonlight night with a fair young maiden, park your frat pin in a safe deposit vault.

5. If she turns around in your arms don't be misled. Every little movement has a meaning all its own.

6. If she has an artificial complexion, look out. Painters' oil is unpleasant to say the least.

7. Never take the same girl out twice in one week. Variety is the spice of life.

B. Advice to the inexperienced maiden.

Advice to the Inexperienced Maiden

1. Don't let him know that you are new to the game. Just act natural and you'll fool him.

2. If he asks you for a kiss, say NO. He'll know what you mean. If he should borrow one don't let him keep it too long.

3. If you ask him into the parlor either pull down the shades or put out the lights—or both.

4. Don't ask him if you are the first girl he has kissed. Never tempt any man to lie.

5. If you want to make a hit, when he asks you out to supper order ice cream and let the chicken alone, even if it breaks your heart.

6. Don't hold hands in the movie—while the lights are on.—Squid.

Frosh—Have you "Hot Lips?"
Salesgirl—Sir!

There she stood in front of him. Her dark eyes gazing into his azure depths. Slowly he moved forward, a look of intense sadness and love in his eyes. He thought of the time that he first saw her. Those wonderful eyes so full of love and devotion seemed to shine down upon him in his misery. If it were not for the thought of her he might have been tempted to leave them all alone. It was a risky business at the best. But when he thought of her he knew that he must keep on. Her beautiful black hair, superb form and perfect feet made him cry out: "Oh, if I only had another horse like her."

The other day I heard two lads arguing. The argument was the outcome of a remark that the younger boy had made. He told his elder that his father was greater than Steinmetz.

"Greater than the man who makes lightning, impossible. What does your father do to warrant your making the statement that he is greater than the wizard, Steinmetz.

The younger boy immediately replied, "Why, father makes moonshine."

COSMETICS

I wonder

Why it is that

Girls think it

Necessary to Improve their natural

Loveliness by Adding that artificial

Beauty to their features.

Maybe it is because they

Hate their natural looks.

I think it was

Shakespeare who said

God has given you one

Face and

You try to make of

It another.

Isn't that true though?

Girls are funny

Creatures any way.

Always so different.

I wonder what

They would Think if men started

To use cosmetics.

There is one good reason

For paints and powders,

They cover up the dirt.

It would be all right

If the females would

Learn to apply these

Creams so artistically.

But, ye gods, the way they

Are smeared on is a Shame.

No wonder the fellows

Stare clear of them. It is Dangerous. They can't afford

To die from lead poisoning.

There is plenty of Natural beauty without

The use of carmine

Complexions.

Artificially yours,

ROUGE.
