ADVERTISING CHRISTIANITY

I asked a successful advertising man one day what was the secret of successful advertising, and he replied: "Displaying your goods in such a way as to make people want them." Very simple, but if we look at this remark we see it is perfectly true. This is just what Christ wants us to do to make Him known to the world and He put it thus: "By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples IF YE HAVE LOVE ONE TOWARD ANOTHER." To use again the words of my advertising friend "to display our goods in such a way as to make people want them." Whilst a Chaplain with the troops at one station where I used to visit we had a man who was always ready with a testimony when an opportunity presented itself. He was full of the Christ spirit and he would tell it out in wonderful ways, but no matter what he had to say whether it were new or old, he would never close without saying this: "What the world needs is more love." I am sure he was right, for it is what the Master was so anxious about amongst His followers, and only as we practice this virtue amongst our fellowmen will we be successful in spreading His Gospel for the "world is dying for a little bit of love." Love in the home, in the shop, in the store, in the office, in the street, Love EVERYWHERE that Christ might be glorified therein, for love is the "fulfilling of the law."

FORTY COUNTIES VOTE AGAINST REAPPORTION- MENT AMENDMENT NOV. 7

5,042 VOTE DEFEAT

Overwhelming Defeat For Pro- posed Measure; Hillsborough Led Victors.

Tallahassee, Fla., Nov. 23, 1922.—(Special to The Rollins College Sandspur)—Forty counties in the state contributed to the defeat of the proposed reapportionment amendment. These included Baker, Bradford, Brevard, Broward, Calhoun, Citrus, Clay, Gadsden, Glades, Hamilton, Hardee, Hernando, Highlands, Hillsboro, Holmes, Jackson, Jefferson, Lafayette, Lake, Lee, Levy, Madison, Manatee, Okaloosa, Pasco, Pinellas, Polk, Santa Rosa, Sarasota, Seminole, Sumter, Suwannee, Union, Wakulla, Walton and Washington. Hillsborough gave the largest majority against being 664 to 1,953, making a total against of 1,289.

FORCEFUL PAPER DELIV- ERED AT ASSEMBLY HOUR BY FORMER U. OF V. MAN

INTELLECTUAL PAPER

M. C. Wilson Heard Thursday; Subject: "Some Achievements of Science."

Thursday, November 16, the Rollins College community had the pleasure of hearing M. C. Wilson, a former University of Virginia professor, deliver a forceful paper on "Some Achievements and Some Promises Offered by Modern Science." This proved to be perhaps the most intellectual period of the college assembly hour held this year, for Mr. Wilson's paper proved to be one which must have taken considerable thought in its development.

After going into detail as to the development and the prospects for further development in the scientific world Mr. Wilson concluded his paper as follows: "Assuredly there is much reason to feel that the dawn of Writes on Development of In- struction Methods in Busi- ness Departments.

(By Professor Eldridge Gray)

Many business men frequently remark that "class room" work is but mere theory and that the student is greatly handicapped upon entering the Commercial world.

In many cases this is true, but the general effort now among the leading professional colleges is to so present the subject matter of the various courses that this difficulty is rapidly disappearing.

Instruction Methods Present a Major Problem

There is, without doubt, a major problem in regard to this change in instruction methods and procedure. In the past the work of the Economist has been confusing to the active business man because of the fact that the former was more socialistic in his viewpoint while the latter was particularly individualistic.

The new and rapid change in general business practice, from the "closed-door" attitude to the co-operative and "service" policies, has made it possible for instruction to become not only more directly practicable but also of immediate value of the industrial world. Consider the research departments of Harvard, Northwestern, and the like, where many of the difficult problems confronting the individual proprietor and corporation are solved.

As a direct result of these research efforts and the closer relation between the stores, shops, factories, and the class room, there has been built up a series of "precedents" for some of the major problems of commerce.

Even though these precedent cases are limited to a large degree to particular industries, the time is not far off when all lines of commerce will have, through the efforts of the business research bureaus, available data upon which to base new and better methods.

"Problem" Method Found Most Advantageous

The instruction method which has of recent years been found most advantageous in the business administration departments of various colleges, is that of the "problem," or "case" method. This practice is very

UNDERTONES

The following article taken from the Cornell Sun is reprinted here with the thought that the "glove fits the hand" of a great many of us here in Rollins:

"There is nothing more detrimental to the morals of an organization than an undertone. Specifically speaking, an undertone is a sort of low guttural muttering that creates a lot of disturbance without being discovered. You can't walk around the ladies and catch an undertone, and say, 'Ladies and gentlemen, I have in my hand a large, well-fed, thriving undertone!' No, indeed. If you want to catch an undertone, you have to disguise yourself as a Bolshevik or a Soviet or something, and sneak around cigar stores, or fraternity houses, thus taking the undertone unawares.

"To get down to specific cases, an undertone is something like this: 'Say, buddy, you think Cornell has a football team, don't you? Well, let me tell you that if they were got up against a real team like Yale or California they couldn't win in a million years. The trouble with that team is this, * * *

And on, ad infinitum. Or this: "The honor system is my idea of a good joke. The only place they can afford to have an honor system is at Sing Sing, where they're all in separate cells. So don't let anyone ever kid you into thinking you're got to 'ston cribbin' boy."

"That's what an undertone is. It goes slinking around knocking something all the time, and doing its best to start a revolution. But if you tried a million years, you couldn't get it out in the open where you could get a full swing on its receding jaw. It is essentially a humble ventriloquist."

"If you've got a kick coming, get out in the middle of the field and kick, but DON'T BE AN UNDERTONE."

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Yes! That's just what we are getting in our classes every day. It is the digestion of such food that seems to be the stumbling block for so many of us. The college term is the time for study. Study is what makes a man a success. Have you ever thought that you might not be a success in life? Do you think that you are endowed with a certain genius that is bound to carry you through? Have you an abnormal supply of luck that will lift you above your fellowman? If you have, don't read any further! This is written for the most of us, for that know what we don't know. It is not such strokes of genius that makes successful living. Rather it is the thorough preparation in the little things that builds mental and moral strength sufficient to cope with the big problems of life. Just now, those little things are in the form of the daily preparation of our class work. It may seem unessential that you get each and every assignment, but you can't afford to miss any one of them. Don't procrastinate, make every minute of your college life count. You can't afford to waste it. DIG HARD!!

DEBATING

Debating is a form of college activity that seems to have lost its hold on the Rollins students. Can we not bring it to the fore by taking a more genuine interest in the opportunities offered this year? Rollins is planning to have several inter-collegiate debates. It is just as much an honor to represent your school on a debating team as on any other sort of team. We need more debaters! Stetson, Southern, Florida, Brenau want to try their skill against our debaters. There isn't much time for preparing for these opponents, so not one minute can be lost. This is a call for loyal Rollins students who think that they can prove themselves in debate. We have such students here—let's get them into the PUSH.

AFTER THE HATTER

The time is approaching for the annual meeting of the rival teams of Stetson and Rollins. This is the biggest game of the season, for both teams and intense rivalry is always manifested by the rival student bodies. Last year we gave Stetson the first drubbing received at our hands in many years. This year we intend to increase the dose! To do this means that every man, woman and "child" at Rollins College will have to give the team support such as they have never received before. This motive will be the climax of a highly successful season from a Rollins viewpoint. Shall we not therefore give the team such a backing that they will "carry through" the game with the best sort of sportsmanship? Sportsmanship that, win or lose, will give Rollins a reputation for FIGHT even with the rival team. We want that game, and if we want it hard enough we'll get it! Let's live with that purpose in mind until we come home from the game with the Hitler scalp dangling from our belt!

BACHELLER PRIZE ESSAY

CONTEST TO BE HELD AT ROLLINS ON FEBRUARY 22

In order to stimulate interest in good English and in sound Americanism among the students of the eleventh and twelfth grades of Florida senior high schools, Irving Machet ler, the distinguished author, who is a resident of Winter Park, and a trustee of Rollins College, offers each year two gold medals, one to be given to a young man and the other to a young woman, for the best essays written on the subjects named by the Prize Contest Committee. This year the delivery of the essays will occur on February 23, 1923 during Fessler's Week at Rollins College.

The subjects for the proposed essays will be announced in the very near future, as those students who are inclined to try for the medals will have practically two months in which to prepare the essays. The rules of the contest require that all essays must be in the hands of the Prize Contest Committee, Rollins College, Winter Park, Florida, not later than January 20, 1922.

The essays are judged by the committee who base their decisions upon thought, originality and expression. The six best essays, three by young men and three by young women, will be chosen from the group and those six will be the ones delivered at the Essay Contest in February. Miss Gayle Marshall, representing San Jose High School, and Mr. Edward McGill, representing Waldo High School, were the winners in the Contest last spring.

WINTER PARK SOCIAL ITEMS

By MRS. ELFRIDA KOLBE

Mrs. E. B. Mendon charmingly entertained at her home on Lake Kalhoun at bridge on Wednesday afternoon, November 16.

Prizes were given for high score and low score, which were won by Mrs. Symes and Mrs. Hotard, respectively. Dainty refreshments were served.

The ladies of Circle II of the Methodist church and Circle II of the Congregational church have been busy canvassing the town for subscriptions to the new Winter Park weekly which will put out its first issue about December 1. The ladies receive a certain percentage out of the subscriptions they obtain.

Mrs. A. P. McLaughlin and Miss J. Cavannah from Bloomington, Ind., arrived in Winter Park on Thursday, November 16, to visit Mrs. A. J. Sample for a few days.

Mrs. McLaughlin was the founder of the Deaconess Hospital in Omaha, Neb., and served it for 50 years. She will make her home in Haines City for the winter.

Mrs. Ralph Lucius entertained the ladies of Circle II of the Methodist church at her home on Tuesday afternoon, November 14. After a short business meeting the afternoon was spent in needlework. Dainty refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Bowers, of Maltland, and Mrs. G. Fitzhugh, of Rollins College, were the guests of Colonel and Mrs. Haines of Altamont on a week end motor trip to Miami.

TOWN NEWS

Dr. W. M. Burr, who was very ill, is convalescing nicely at his home on New England avenue.

Mr. C. A. Banister, Miss Cora and Clarissa Cooper, from Michilinda, Mich., arrived in Winter Park on Friday, November 17, to spend the winter here.

Mrs. A. Stewart, of Cleveland, O., has been visiting at the home of Miss Mary Zell for a few days.

Mr. Zell and Miss Mary Zell motored to Jacksonville Friday, November 17, with Mrs. Stewart, in which city Mrs. Stewart joined her husband.

The Bridge Club entertained at a cafeteria supper at the beautiful home of Mrs. A. W. Mason on Lake Oseola on Friday evening, November 17.

Each member of the club furnished one article of food, from which a most delicious supper was enjoyed. The evening was spent in playing bridge. Prizes were given for high and low scores.

Mrs. A. Mendon of Chicago, Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. A. Hotard were the invited guests.

SKELETON OF NEW CITY CHARTER IS COMPLETED

DURING THE PAST WEEK

The skeleton for Winter Park's new charter was completed the past week by the Charter Committee. Mayor Treat reported that the filling in would take a comparatively short time and that the charter would be ready to be presented to the people for discussion in the near future. Several councilmen stated that they are watching the progress of Orlando's new charter at present, and that possibly they would wait until Orlando had acted before pushing the charter here.

Those familiar with the situation state that public opinion is becoming more and more favorable to the proposed change in Winter Park's city government. A number of town meetings are planned for the near future to bring the question directly before the people for discussion.

TAU LAMBDA DELTA NEWS

Tau Lambda Delta takes the pleasure to announce as pledges: Clyde Currie, Brendt Watson, Jack Evans, Clarence Dyer, and Kenneth Winslow.

Ted Carroll, one of Tau Lambda Delta's summer pledges, has a very bright looking future as a lawyer, shown by his well-founded arguments in the Delphic debate last Wednesday night.

Van, the roving kid, left for Illinois one day last week by the way of New York on the Hob Nailed Express. We wish him what luck we can and hope that from this adventure many great benefits may be derived.

Paul Potter, one of our home-made athletes, displayed his ability as a basket-ball player in the Gym, Thursday night. He was one of the outstanding stars of the evening and has every chance to make the Moonshine five.

At a meeting Thursday morning, officers were elected for the Y. M. C. A. Charles Warner was elected president; Ted Carroll, vice-president, and Aaron Shreve, secretary and treasurer. To do it we must put out a little energy and show a little pep. Can we do it?

Someone said that Carroll and Currie were right on deck at the Kinsman football game, and showed some real fight. That's the stuff, fellows, surely you went there for nothing else.

Tau Lambda has had a number of very interesting visitors, here of late. I'll say it has, ask Reottle or Warner, or even Ted. To all who might be concerned, especially visitors, we take pleasure in announcing that we have a handy telephone and a sunny door laid.

SIGMA PHIRE DEPARTMENT

What's all the racket in Ash Can Alley? Another Anniversary; this time its "Chicken" Wing and "Donkey" Barnes. Such ancients and dignitaries, they are at least three years old. Move darn fast! Duckie, Margie and Lou went to Orlando especially to see Wallace Field, and just to show how unappreciative men are the inconsiderate thing had gone on to Atlanta without so much as dropping them a line. We girls certainly do miss the line if not the man.

The Sigma Phi's went to a bridge and tea in Orlando, given by Mrs. J. D. Ferris, Jr., in honor of Miss Louise Hinkins, whose engagement to Mr. Delaney Way of Orlando has been recently announced.

Who would miss the "Eternal Flame" if it went out? T. P. Page and Lou would for they saw and are still trying to flame-it. They are getting to be regular movie fiends and have a little bank, so that they may bank on seeing all the future productions of like character.

What makes the water cooler in Ash Can Alley? The key starts it gets from the Sigma Phi's Department.

Hot Tar

Good morning Glory!

Well, just one week till the big game of the season. Honestly, folks, we are already beginning to feel sorry for our friends, the Hatters.

Say, have you noticed how the right side of our famous line has been strengthened since Sir Bender has assumed the right tackle position, and our friend Ken Warner has taken over the guard. This Bender boy seems to have the fight. Well, old timer, hit Stetson far all you are worth.

Captain Ruxer Wolf is a sweet football player, eh, what? He gets 'em coming and going, doesn't he Appadite?

"Now you quit trying to kid me, I would like to know who is that tall, strong, curly-haired MAN that plays tackle for the Rollins team"—overheard in Lakeland. Hey, Page Six Suttell, he's wanted on the radio phone.

Florida certainly is strutting her stuff this year, isn't she? Well, let's give the U. of F. the old locomotive for the fight she is displaying.

"Now you know that boy wanted to hit me just because I sat down on him," said Trowbridge on the bus, having Adair Field in Lakeland after the Southern game.

That old left side of the line is the stronghold of the Tars this year. Show me the team that can easily pierce the left sides of our royal fighting strength formation and I'll introduce you to SOME team.

Five more days till the Turkey Day Turnout with Stetson. Will we win the game Thursday? Is there any question about it?

Hey, watch the dust of this boy Emory in the Stetson battle! Just between you and me and the gate post, it is rumored that this big boy will be awarded a position on the mythical college all-state football team at the end of this season. Anyway, to come down to brass tacks this Buckeye state boy has "partially" been playing good football for the locals this fall, easily outclassing any of his opposing centers, even to the "mighty Baby Gunn."

Didja go with the "super varsity" down in Kissimmee Monday a week ago? Well, if you didn't, you certainly missed seeing one sure enough scrap for the youngsters certainly did fight down there in the Cow City. One of the funny things about that game was that when Umpire Schwars would call Kissimmee off side the headliners would immediately let out a yell that "Rollins off side." Nuff said!

Anyway the supers won the game, and just think three or four of the men were imported from "The Phillips" crack aggregation.

You can't mention one man in the Kissimmee game without mentioning them all, but just on the side the Sandspur picks the following as the best performers for the Super Varsity down in Kissimmee—Ward, Currie, Carroll, Lenney, Van Sinderen, Potter, Thompson, Captain Conway, E. Colado, Drawbridge, Joyner, Haeffling, Kolbach and Palmer.

RED Palmer, especially, starred. It is a certainty that the locals won the game because of his timely appearance. When he came out on the field to enter the contest the referee called the two captains together and advised them to call the game lest someone might get hurt. Hoorsay for ROJO.

Yesum, we had the bestest time 'n'everything down at Lakeland.

"Lakeland will shine tonight!" was characteristic of that city Armistice Day night, wasn't it, gang? Now you quit! The Lakeland folks certainly did spread themselves Armistice Day. Well, we thank you for our part of the proceeds.

The Southern team certainly does fight. They were able to score twice against Rollins and then they score against the Stetson crew. Well, the Methodists will hereafter be known as fighters. They are game clean through. Keep it up, Coach Alderman, and it won't be many moons till the old Blue and White will be "strutting it's stuff" as in the days of yore.

Did you notice this boy Sanders that pastimes at quarter for the Southern eleven, when you were down at Lakeland Armistice Day? Well, if you didn't meet the fellow, let me introduce him to you. He was that bird which done west and copped one of our forward passes and ran fifty yards, two feet and five and sixteen hundredths inches for a touchdown for the Southerners when we played 'em. Well last Saturday he must have got mad for he didn't do anything else but snatch a Stetson pass for a seventy-four-yard run for the only Southern score of the game. Keep your hooks on that guy Southern, for he is sure to make a dandy college player before he closes his scholastic career.

Coming back to the old home lot, what do you say of giving the Tar football squad fifteen rubs just to show 'em that our hearts are in the right place?

The other day I was walking down the street in one of Florida's prominent small cities and I heard a young fellow say to his companion, "Well, that Rollins crew is haunted by the Stetson Jins, so I feel safe in believing that the Hatters will win the Thanksgiving Day game." How about it gang, didn't we bury that old Hatter Jins last year? Is it going to rise this year? Well, I should say not! Let's bury it deeper than ever.

G. Colado is a hard fighting end, isn't he? Well, anyway, he certainly is proving his value to the Tars this year.

And you can tell it to the widow if you want to, but this Lenney and "Kentucky State" Potter are rattling good substitute ends.

If So, Why Not?

Good Bi-cycle.

Room—"Sky, can I borrow your hat again?"

Mate—"Errs, why the formality?"

Room—"Oh, I can't find it."

Shoe Clerk (to college man)—Do you prefer long or short vamps?

College Man—Why, personally, I like the short blonde variety.

Thanksgiving is coming and so are Pete Keeley and Charlotte Swain. What more could we want to be thankful for? With the game and the proverbial turkey that Mrs. Steele promises us we surely ought to have the time of our young lives.

Pledge Wing has a flighty time with her "Duckie" roommate, but they get "greyed" down every so often and, anyhow, working agrees with some people.

Well, so long folks, Sigma Phi hopes you get so much turkey that you will have to hire a taxi to get to the game! But don't forget that when you do get there you will have to yell and scare poor little Stetson, too—Do! Land. Happy Thanksgiving, beaucoup turkey!

PHI ALPHA FOAM

Welcome

To our campus, Rollinsites! As this is the first time we have broken into print this year, may we say again—Howdy!

Neophytes

Are funny things aren't they? Yes, and we have nine of them! The names of Curtis T. Atkinson, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and John F. Joyce, Franklin, Tenn., were left out of the last issue of the Sandspur by some error.

The Fraternity team blossomed out in new uniforms of maroon and black, the frat colors, in Winter Garden the other night. Snappy looking crew—numbers "everything. After the game, we had some refreshments at the home of Miss Florence Bumby. Thanks Flo!

PHI OMEGA DOTS

Friday the 17th was a red letter day for Phi Omega, for Martha Sanderson celebrated her first birthday—yes, her first birthday—that is unless Mrs. Steele made a dreadful mistake in the number of candles on Martha's birthday cake.

Two birthday parties on one birthday is "going some," according to Phi Omega, but that's what Martha had. The first event of the day in compliment to our "year old" or "older" sister was a tea at the home of Mrs. Fuller of Winter Park, where Phi Omega's, their pledges and friends were delightfully entertained by Ellen Fuller, her mother and sisters.

Later in the evening the party progressed to Mrs. Sanderson's in Orlando, where a several course birthday dinner was enjoyed and Martha cut her third birthday cake of the day. After games were played, Phi Omega piled into cars "Cloverleaf bound" all realizing what a "full day" can be.

"HANNIBAL SQUARE" DESIROUS OF BEING INCORPORATED WITH THE CITY

"Hannibal Square," the colored settlement west of the tracks of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, has expressed a desire to become incorporated into the city of Winter Park as soon as possible. It is estimated that the population of this settlement is approximately four hundred, possibly more. In the past history of Winter Park, "Hannibal Square" gained an almost state-wide notoriety for political corruption. It was for this reason that the "square" was "legislated out" of the city limits in 1897, and since has remained a settlement with no authority in city elections. Previous to this action by the respectable citizens of Winter Park in 1893, the town suffered for four years from a sort of carpet bag rule. The politicians who engineered the corruption of "Hannibal Square" are at the present time dead, with one exception.

Old citizens believe that the negroes in this section do not really desire to incorporate, as it will mean heavy taxes, a burden from which the "square" is at present free. On the other hand Mr. H. A. Ward stated that he believes the majority of both negroes and whites would favor the incorporation of "Hannibal Square" into Winter Park. Mr. W. H. Schultz seemed to be of the same opinion and said: "The best people in 'Hannibal Square' want to become a part of this town in order to secure police protection. They also want the benefits of sanitary inspection laws, and the improvement of streets and property generally."

Mayor Trent, H. A. Ward, and W. H. Schultz attended a meeting recently, where the improvement committee of "Hannibal Square" presented their case. That no immediate action will be taken on the matter seems to be likely at this time.

The incorporation of "Hannibal Square" can be secured in two ways. By one method the proposition would be presented to the voters of the Winter Park and the "square" with the necessity of approval by both. The second method would require an act of the city council to secure an act of the state legislature.

a new era is nearing—an era to be entered in by series of great discoveries. It may be years yet before the grand unknown may be revealed—again almost any day, it may be uncovered by wireless or radio.

"Who would venture to say that the world's next great epic will not record the adventures of some chemist or some physicist or some biologist, who armed not with sword given by Pallas, endowed not with the caduceus of Mercury, but trusting in his own God-given powers of investigation applies them patiently and persistently in discovering and slaying the hydra-headed monster of disease.

"Certainly the field offers opportunity for high adventure, where mental and spiritual prowess must supplant physical prowess of the heroes of myth, where the guerrier will be, not the Golden Fleece, not the prize won in blood. Our new knight, "the whitest soul of chivalry," will proudly wear his surcoat as bright as any Sir Galahad for his mighty deeds will have won for all his fellow men the prize of health and peace and plenty."

PROFESSOR HART GIVES FURTHER INFORMATION (Continued from Page 1)

similar to the law college instruction methods and though it is not as complete, there are many features which are found vastly superior to former methods.

The great historical background of our courts has provided a voluminous supply of "precedents," as witnessed by the court reports—digests—and specific texts. These cases furnish particular circumstances and show how conclusions have been deduced and the law promulgated.

New Texts Are Based on Actual Research

The new texts in Business Administration subjects are being built up on this plan. There are now available, case books on Sales Management, Marketing, Retail Stores, etc. These texts are the results of years of research and review of data from the Harvard Graduate School.

By use of collateral and specific readings from well-chosen texts and current business periodicals, such as Journal of Accountancy, System, Harvard Business Review, Magazine of Wall Street, Forbes, etc., the student soon accumulates a working basis for the interpretation of particular problems as submitted. His ability to think clearly and upon a specific subject is thereby quickened. Generalization is left out and the exact conditions and obstacles are faced immediately. This makes the study and approach to particular fields of activities of more intrinsic value for the most obvious reason that the student can visualize himself in the active life of commerce more readily than by taking a general theory and trying to apply it to a confused situation.

Control With Actual Business Affairs Too Much "Generalization" on Part of Student

Furthermore, the delightful associations developed with business men, through their courtesy in permitting inspection trips through their plants and the willingness also to give special lectures on their particular fields of activities, keeps the contact with current business problems up to the minute.

Kollins School of Business Admin- istration Building Up Research Bureau

As rapidly as possible, this department is building up a research bureau and collecting industrial data from the many sources available in this state. As the work progresses this effort will be of direct and productive value to many lines of industry.

Tours of inspection are to be made whereby the students are shown the immediate application of the various problems upon which they have been working. In addition several businessmen and teachers have gladly assisted and will continue to assist by giving lectures in their particular field.

To train the executive type of graduate, with a full appreciation of the detail involved, is the present aim of business training in this department, and it is hoped that the near future will bring some fulfillment of this endeavor.

INFUENCIAL CITIZENS FAVOR THE ESTABLISH- MENT OF TOURIST CAMP

A number of influential citizens of Winter Park favor a plan whereby a regulation tourist camp will be established near this city under the control of the city government. The site under consideration is the land on which the Orlando motion picture company has been filming a part of its first photo-play recently. On this site the promoters of the proposition expect to locate a tourist camp with all possible conveniences for the auto camper.
Winter Park has never had a tourist camp, but those favorable to one believe that auto campers would bring a good deal of business to this city.

Mayor Trent and other prominent citizens believe that a tourist camp is a necessity. In the past the opposition to this civic improvement has been strong, especially by the local labor element, who believe that certain types of auto tourists carry away a good deal of local money which would otherwise go to local workers.

Others are opposed on the grounds of expense to the city, and state that a camp which would comply with all the regulations of the State Board of Health would be expensive.

She Fooled Him

Polly—Have you a dress suit?
 Johnston (hopelessly)—Yes.
 Polly—Good. I'd like to borrow it for the fellow I'm going to ask to our dance.

Mercy!

Shreve (confidentially)—She's a fast girl!

Scotty—Yes, I heard she made five laps in an evening.

World Champion

John—That freshman is the greatest soup eater in the world.

Jane—Why, how's that?

John—Well, I've seen soup siphoned and gargled, but he's the first one I ever saw who rodeled it.

A great munny girla say "no" at first, but, like photographers, they know how to retouch their negatives.—Ex.

Prof. Mahery: "What is a blotter?"

Cutter: "It's something that you look for while the ink dries."

Good Experience

Mrs. Hart—So you want to come out far rowing crew; ever rowed before?

Patey—Only a horse, ma'am.

Short and Sweet

Two farmers met on a country road and pulled up their teams.

"Si," said Josh. I've got a mule with distemper. What did you give that one of yours that had it?"

"Turpentine—Giddap!"

A week later they met again.

"Si, I gave my mule turpentine and it killed him."

"Killed mine, too—Giddap!"

Prof.: "Ah, you were in the foot-hall game in Tampa."

Em.: "Yes, sir."

Prof.: "And you got hurt in the fracas?"

Em.: "No, in the shoulder."

Fond Memories

May G.—"Do you remember that lovely ride we had last summer behind that cute little donkey?"

Larry—"I certainly do."

Mary—"Well, Larry, do you know, dear, I never see a donkey now without thinking of you."

Ignorance Is Bliss

There was a young man so benighted,
 He never knew when he was slighted;

He went to a party,
 And ate just as hearty
 As if he'd been really invited.

I'll Say She Does

1899—Do you know what Patey Makinson reminds me of?

1900—Can't imagine, what?

1901—One of those fancy dishes in a French restaurant; it looks good at first, but the first mouthful changes your mind.

That He Might

An automobile knocked Herrington down the other day. The driver stopped and Frank sat up.

Driver—"Hey, look out!"

Frank—"Why, gosh, you're not coming back, are you?"

Kismet

She smuggled closer as he questioned her. "Do you believe in fate?"

She leaned back with a contented sigh. "I think what is going to happen will happen."

Fresh—"Heavens, I don't understand about this trouser button in my soup."

Walter—"I don't either—you know only women are employed in the kitchen."

The fellow that spends all his time hanging out on the corner ranks as a producer along with the hen that sits on a door knob, except that she is at least honest in her intentions.
