Dear Bro:

Liverpool 19th 4th mo: 82 thine we have ~~not~~ and we are glad of it, and more especially because you were well, also little Ann that there is yet hopes that she may recover, by those ~~you~~ may understand that we are all well, but think the time long that stay here, but that is not all ~~we~~ know not when we got away, for there is many things in the way to tedious to inform, but I have thoughts to be at your month trig to morrow, and if any of you be there I can tell more at large, I have delivered the letter inclosed to the man I trusted to write forth W; according to thy req.

I have taken abire, I went to Henry there and did say him here forth went to one of the custom men to advise him about it, and in short returned me this answer, he if thou canst prove that the man did engage to carry goods to Barbadoes, upon his neglect thou maist have what damages <sup>thou</sup> wastest, if it be more than the worth of goods, remember us very dearly to dear Phoe: Phoebe to those little ones, and let him know that I cannot yet him a full answer, because I know not how things will be, I if I can see him at the meeting I may ~~write~~ <sup>write</sup> more to him, so with dear love to thy self thy dear wife and whole family being always glad to hear from you, but in especially of your health and well being with hearty desires by us in word we bid you farewell and remaine up over loving Bro: & Sister in that Wth first brought into acquaintance

Wth Jane Yardley.

we were very glad to hear that things were so well at London.
