deare and well beloved friend and Bro: and lively affection for the works sake, which the Lord hath called thee unto and most honorably in the eyes of many, and is dayly honoring blessed be his name for ever, and now deare friend my verie Cordiall love salutes thee, and kindly embrasseth thee, in the eternall off Divine love, which the Lord hath shed abroad in my heart. / Truly thou art deare unto, and verie deare my heart is full, and my Coar. own. our loves, and my heart is ever melted in mee, in the Remembrance of the times, and seasons which we have enjoyed in the Lords power and blessed yofaimes, and ~~all~~ Continueth the same to all that put their trust in him, and though absent in body yet present in spirit, joying and beholding the good order of the gospell, the power of god, which yofaimes our so: and Land, glory to the Lords eternall power for ever more. a and n. faith my soule, and now deare James, by this thou may understand, I write to thee from London, the evening I went aboard the ship: bound for ffrees Land, on the first day morning, we went down to Gravesend, and on the 2: day we went to sea, and on the 3: day, in the evening we anchored at the Tagel, and on the 4: day we came to harlingen, to the meeting, and there I stayed till the first day over, and came to Amsterdam with friends to the yearly meeting, where we have had a blessed season, the Lord has wonderfully asered, to the gladding of our soules, and I am to take shipping, to morrow evening, towards Jam. but the Lord will, friends there are requited, but the Lord is with them, let mee hear from thee, before thou goe from England, my deare love is to thy wife yehimbas and yehob and all friends as thou free, I have little more, yho: Green is here, but he will goe for England in a short time, I have only my intercessor, with mee, for in haste I rest and bid thee fare well in the Lord
