

University of Central Florida
STARS

The Rollins Sandspur

Newspapers and Weeklies of Central Florida

2-22-1933

Sandspur, Vol. 37 No. 19, February 22, 1933

Rollins College

Find similar works at: <https://stars.library.ucf.edu/cfm-sandspur>
University of Central Florida Libraries <http://library.ucf.edu>

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Newspapers and Weeklies of Central Florida at STARS. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Rollins Sandspur by an authorized administrator of STARS. For more information, please contact STARS@ucf.edu.

STARS Citation

Rollins College, "Sandspur, Vol. 37 No. 19, February 22, 1933" (1933). The Rollins Sandspur. 363.
<https://stars.library.ucf.edu/cfm-sandspur/363>

FLAMINGO AND SANDSPUR WIN STATE PRIZES

F. I. P. A. Holds Fourteenth Annual Convention On February 17, 18

An event which stirred the pulses of the nation was the attempted assassination last week of President-elect Roosevelt in Miami.

It was not known until awhile after the shooting occurred in Bay Front Park following Roosevelt's address at a fete gathering which at the world-be assassin had aimed at the President-elect, or at Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago, who was standing by Roosevelt's car at the time. Mr. Cermak received a bullet in the abdomen, and for a time his recovery was in doubt, but later reports have been more optimistic and promise improvement in his condition.

The man who occasioned the excitement is a naturalized American citizen, native in Italy, who claims to have plotted at one time the death of his king. As he fired the six bullets in Miami, only one of which missed a human target, he shouted wildly, "I kill all presidents!" That utterance apparently settled the controversy as to the actual intended victim of the assault, but this view is not upheld by the observation of the fact that Roosevelt had just seated himself in his automobile out of range of the shots when the man commenced to fire.

It had been planned to hurry Mr. Roosevelt direct from the park to the railroad station, where his train was due to depart only fifteen minutes after the narrowly averted catastrophe; he postponed the departure until the following day, and after calling at the hospital where the five victims were resting to express his sympathy, returned to Vincent Astor's yacht, aboard which he had spent the previous two days.

Expertized himself by the incident, Mr. Roosevelt displayed rare poise of mind as he arose in his car to assure the audience, whom he had just addressed, that he was safe and then immediately ordered that Mr. Cermak be lifted into the machine and driven to a hospital. According to the physician in whose charge the Chicago mayor was placed, this prompt action on the part of the President-elect quite possibly saved the patient's life.

The man who made the vicious attack upon the man was immediately subjected to an examination to determine his sanity and pronounced sane by the examining doctor. A formal arraignment of the prisoner, who was subdued by those near him immediately after he had fired the shots, was delayed until definite information could be gained regarding the condition of the wounded persons; the charge against the man will of course automatically change from "assault with attempt to kill" to "murder" in the event of the death of any of the victims.

The assassin appeared very calm in court, and was inclined to affect a swaggering attitude as he related his motives and aspirations in regard to the killing of prominent persons. He asserted that it had been President Hoover he had first desired to kill, but that when Roosevelt visited Miami he had determined to take advantage of that turn of events and vent his dissatisfaction with the American government upon him.

Roosevelt later made his belated journey to the North under heavy guard, and preparations were in progress to provide for him upon his arrival in New York and Washington the heaviest guard ever assigned to an individual.

The League of Nations received what was perhaps the most severe blow in its history when the question of Japanese aggression in Manchuria was placed before it.

Last Friday afternoon the League released by official wireless its first official report on the situation. Japan therein is condemned harshly by a statement absolving China of all responsibility for the state of warfare which now exists in Manchuria, and is likewise charged with violating the agreement of League membership whereby all disputes are immediately to be submitted to peaceful procedure under the Covenant agreement.

It is claimed unequivocally that sovereignty in the disputed territory belongs to China, and that at present Japan is unjustifiably treating the new state as a puppet. Meanwhile League members have stood upon a policy of non-recognition of the Manchurian regime.

(Continued on page 2)

The cup, offered by the Associated Dailies of Florida as first prize in the competition for college newspapers in the Florida Intercollegiate Press Association, was won, for the second time, by the Rollins Sandspur. First prize for literary magazines, a cup offered by the Record Printing Co. of St. Augustine, was awarded to the Rollins Flamingo. The Rose Printing Co. of Tallahassee offered the first prize for annuals, won by the Seminoles of the University of Florida.

All second prizes, constituting $5 in trade from the Respress Engraving Co. of Jacksonville, were won by the Alligator, University of Florida Newspaper, The Dettail, literary magazine of the Florida State College for Women, and the Pinecone, annual of the same college.

The annual convention of the Florida Intercollegiate Press Association was opened Friday morning by President Holt's welcoming address in which, speaking of the diversification of journalism, he explained how a journalist might serve his day and generation by avoiding cynicism and temptation to cater to the general mass, by striving for sincerity and by mastery of the art of writing in combining strength and charm.

A business session followed Dr. Holt's address. It was moved and carried that the vice-president be in charge of the Publication Press Service and that means be provided for its maintenance.

The second speaker, Mr. J. C. Greaser, editor of the Orlando Reporter-Star, talked on opportunities offered by schools and sources in journalism, the policy of keeping faith with one's public and source of news, and the importance of news articles to the general reader. This was followed by a round table discussion of editorial policies led by Bill Joubert of the University of Florida.

Ray Stansard Baker addressed the convention with "Points on Editing and Writing," bringing out the difference between college and regular publications, the importance of journalistic training and, in speaking of writing, the importance of expressing oneself for the sole sake of expression.

Following this a round table was

(Continued on Page 2)

Rev. William P. Merrill Speaks in Chapel Sunday

"All about us we come upon young men and women, and not only young men and women, but mature men and women, and old men and women, who are seeking the way by which to enter into life," Dr. William P. Merrill, pastor of the Brick Presbyterian Church, New York, N. Y., said Sunday in delivering the sermon at the Morning Meditation in Knowles Memorial Chapel at Rollins College. He used as his text, Matthew 13:17, "If thou wouldst enter into life."

Those who seek life through rebelling, defying restraint, breaking the commandments, and taking their self-indulgent way, do find a guide who may be trusted. After all, the significant thing about Francis of Assisi and Tolstoy and Grouffier and many another who has entered into life has been not any scheme of regulating life habits, but joyous or determined following of Jesus as the man new Him. That way is open to any of us; and it leads straight to the life that is life indeed.

(Continued on Page 2)

RECIPIENTS OF HONORARY DEGREES

CHARLES D. HAZEN

DR. MARY E. WOOLLEY

MISS ODEEN MILLER REID

DR. EDWARD CONRAD

ANNUAL MAGAZINE IS GIVEN FEB. 19

Fifteen Contributors Appear
On Table Of Contents

The seventh annual issue of the Animated Magazine published last Sunday at 3:30 P. M. had fifteen distinguished contributors.

President Hamilton Holt, editor, formerly editor of "The Independent" and "Harper's Weekly," gave a short editorial, "Rollins College." The first article, "The Universe on the Front Page," was given by Albert Shaw, editor of the "Reviews," followed by "What I Owe to My Father," by Mary E. Woolley, president of Mt. Holyoke College and delegate to the General Disarmament Conference.

Joseph C. Lincoln, known for his Cape Cod stories, contributed an amusing poem on a Thanksgiving Day dinner. Many were disappointed that Helen Topping Miller, scheduled as a contributor, was unable to appear because of illness. "Assurances," a poem, by William P. Merrill, author, also pastor of the Brick Presbyterian church, New York, was the fifth article in the magazine, followed by "Honor and My Ancestress" by Walter Pritchard Eaton, well known dramatic critic and author. "Our Boys" was given by Dan Beard, author, also founder of the Boy Scout movement. Mr. Beard, while talking about the great out-of-doors, expressed a desire to see open air colleges and universities.

Every magazine has its advertisement. Edwin Osgood Grover, publisher of the magazine and professor,

(Continued on Page 2)

REV. WILLIAM P. MERRILL

MUSEUM TO GIVE ONE-ACT PLAYS

Robert Wunsch Is Director Of Productions

The director of the museum will present in their Fern Park pocket theatre on Friday night, Feb. 24, three one-act plays. The audience for the performance will be made up of Rollins students and faculty members and Winter Park and Orlando townspeople invited by the directors.

According to the president of the organization, the audience must be limited because of the smallness of the theatre. It is not the policy of the group to be exclusive, however. For each performance during the year invitations will be issued to various individuals and groups, depending upon the plays produced. For some dramas, for instance, only students will be invited.

On Friday night the curtain will rise promptly at 8:15 o'clock on the first act of Sierra's "The Romantic Young Lady," a Spanish comedy, with Martha Davenport in the title role. Miss Davenport will be supported by Rob Roy Mize as the Apparition, Norris Clark as Pepe, Aubrey Whitelaw as Emilio, Tom Moore as Maria, Nan Chaplin as Dona Barbarita, and Janet Seagood as Maria Pepe.

The second play will be Susan Glaspell's "Trifles," a one-act serious drama. In this "nearly perfect play" Barbara Reed will play Mrs. Hale, Janet Seagood, Mrs. Peters, Jay Williams, Mr. Hale, Gordon Jones, the sheriff and Bill Russell, the county attorney.

The final play on the program will be Cook-Grassell's "Suppressed Desires," a farce comedy satirizing psychoanalysis. In this play Mary Alice McGill will play the role of Henrietta, Gordon Jones will act Steve, her husband, and Betty Young will play Mabel, her sister. Only four of the students in the plays have had previous stage experience. It is the policy of the museum, however, to develop students instead of merely to produce plays.

Scenery for this production was designed and painted by Victoria

(Continued on Page 2)

MARY LEONARD

GEORGE STONE TO BE ADDED TO WALK

Henry George Foundation Is Donor Of Gift

A stone from the Metaphase of Henry George, internationally famous author and political economist, will be presented to the Rollins College Walk of Fame by the Henry George Foundation of America on Friday, Feb. 24, at 10 A. M. The stone has been taken from his birthplace in Philadelphia. Walter Fairchild, prominent New York lawyer and son of the late Charles G. Fairchild, second president of Rollins College, will take part in the dedicatory ceremony.

Originator of the Single Tax doctrine, Henry George has many followers in Europe and America, and a Henry George Foundation has been organized in Pittsburgh to perpetuate his name and theories. The fundamental doctrine of Henry George, the equal right of all men to the use of the earth, did not originate with him; but his clear statement of a method by which it could be enforced without increasing state machinery, and with a simplification of government, gave it a new form.

He said that the land of every country belongs by right to all the people in that country, and that private ownership of land has no more foundation in morality or reason than private ownership of air or sunshine. However, he admitted, private occupancy and use of land are right and indispensable, although any attempt to divide land into equal shares is impossible and undesirable. To remedy this fault, he believed that land should be divided for private use in parcels among those who would pay the highest price for the use of each parcel. By applying the use of this "bent," exclusive of all improvements, to the equal benefit of the whole community, absolute justice would be done to all. As the rent would be more than sufficient to defray all necessary expenses of government, it would be possible to abolish all other taxes. Landlords, he explained, should be left in undisturbed possession and nominal ownership of the land, with a sufficient margin over the tax

(Continued on page 3)

ROSE WINDOW IS OFFICIALLY GIVEN

Mrs. G. F. Warren Appears In Person At Dedication

Services for the dedication of Rose Window of Knowles Memorial Chapel were held Sunday morning, February 19, in the Knowles Memorial Chapel. The window is a gift of Mrs. George E. Warren and completes Knowles Memorial Chapel, which she has given to Rollins College as a memorial to her father, Francis Dargie Knowles. The theme of the window is taken from Proverbs 9:1, "Wisdom hath builded her house, she hath hewn out her seven pillars." This text is inscribed in a Renaissance cartouche at the base of the window. The design depicting allegorical figures of wisdom and the seven gifts of the Holy Spirit completing the composition.

The figures of the Seven Liberal Arts are grouped about the figure of wisdom. The Seven Gifts of the Holy Spirit are symbolized by seven doves holding scrolls. These signify the sanctification of the Liberal Arts by spiritual force. The designs on the window are strictly Renaissance. Dedicating the window, President Hamilton Holt said: "Since the dedication of the Knowles Memorial Chapel eleven months ago, thousands of visitors and worshippers have been welcomed to its doors. They have been deeply moved at its beauty, its spacious hospitality, and its majestic architecture.

"Today we are celebrating the unveiling of this superb memorial window which adds another and crowning feature to its interior. Mrs. Frances Knowles Warren has given beyond sacrificial measure in the consummation of her cherished dream.

"This rose window, gathering the rays of the Southern sun, is like a luminous jewel upon the breast of the beautiful body of the Chapel. It is appropriate, in a college, that the dominant, central symbol of Wisdom be identified with both Education and Religion. The Bible

(Continued on Page 2)

T. Johnson Presides Over Debate on War Debts February 15

Thomas Johnson as vice president of the Rollins Oratorical Association presided over a discussion of the war debts in preparation for approaching debates at the speech studio on Wednesday, Feb. 15, at 7:30 P. M. The negative side was handled by Milford Davis and the affirmative by Alvin Butler.

At 2 o'clock on the afternoon of Friday the 17th, Milford Davis and Tom Johnson will debate over radio, the negative on the issue of war debts. Next month Alvin Butler will take the stand against Miami at the Daytona Beach forum.

(Continued on page 3)

SIX MEN AND WOMEN GIVEN HIGH DEGREES

Rev. Michael Fox Receives
Algermon Sydney Sullivan
Medallion Medal

Convocation, held last Monday at 10 A. M. in the Knowles Memorial Chapel, was featured by the awarding of honors to people having made superior endeavor in various fields of life.

The receivers of honorary degrees were:

Mary Louise Leonard, M. A. D. For the consistent creation of music in any community in which she might live.

Charles Dwyer Hassen, Litt. D. For tireless effort in historical research.

William Pierson Merrill, L. H. D. For humanitarian work in the field of religion.

Helen Rogers Reid, L. H. D. For humanitarian work during her editorship of the New York Herald-Tribune.

Edward Conrad, L. L. D. For his splendid development of the Florida State College for Women.

Mary Emma Woolley, L. L. D. Not for the countless wonderful things that she has done, but for what she will do in the future.

The receiver of the chisena award of the Algermon Sydney Sullivan Medallion for 1933 was the Rev. Michael Fox, S. J. This award was made because of Rev. Fox's unflinching spiritual leadership.

(Continued on Page 3)

LEA LUBOSHUTZ TO PLAY FEB. 22

Russian Violinist Is Next In Artists Series

Lea Luboshutz, recently described by American critics as one of the great geniuses of the violin, who will be heard on Wednesday evening, February 22, at the Annie Russell Theatre at Rollins College, as the next feature in Mrs. Russell's professional artists series, is a brilliant pupil of Ysaie. Her extraordinary playing has been a sensation in Europe, where she has played with the leading orchestras. Mrs. Luboshutz came to this country three years ago for successive seasons of concert work, and her recent appearance with Josef Hofmann, world-famous pianist, led American critics to place her at once in the front rank of contemporary violinists. She is the first woman to become a member of the faculty of the Violin Department of the Curtis Institute of Music.

Mrs. Luboshutz's determination to come to America was the culmination of a series of dramatic events which began with the revolution and the establishment of the Soviet Republic and the overthrow of the great aristocratic houses in Russia. She is a native of Odessa and her early musical education was received at the Moscow Conservatory of Music, where she was the gold medal and the special gift of a wonderful old Anati violin in recognition of her outstanding talent. Later, in Moscow, in competition with twenty of the best violinists in Russia, she won a sum of money as a prize which enabled her to begin her studies with the great Belgian Master, Eugen Ysaie. Prior to coming to America she toured Belgium, Germany and France, appearing in recitals and with the leading orchestras. Since coming to the States she has appeared three consecutive seasons with the Cincinnati Symphony, and had four appearances with the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, as well as the Chicago Symphony at the Ann Arbor Festival, and played a series of 10 Sonatas Recitals with Mr. Hofmann. Her successes in her own recitals throughout the country are now well known.

THE WORLD VIEWED AT ROLLINS

By E.G.

(Continued from Page 1)

and have expressed the hope that status outside the League will abide by that decision.

The United States and Russia have been invited to consult with a League Committee which will endeavor to attain a settlement between China and Japan based upon the recently submitted Lytton report. Recommendation is to be made that China should establish an autonomous state in Manchuria, always with due regard for Japan's special rights.

Seventh Edition Of "Animated Magazine" Is Presented Sunday

(Continued from page 1)

sur of Books, solicited funds through the advertising insert, the proceeds from which will be used to buy new books needed for the college library. While the users were taking the collection, Dr. Grever told the "subscribers" a little about the history of Winter Park.

Irving Bacheller, a regular contributor to the magazine, gave a humorous extract from "Keeping Up With Lizzy," and Jessie R. Rittenhouse, also a regular contributor, presented the poem, "The Orange Tree," and "The Oleaner" about Florida, and "Opney and Eagle," subjects of Yellowstone Park.

Charles Downer Hazen, historian and author from Columbia University, read "Mirabeau," Ray Stannard Baker, known to many as David Grayson, gave "The Staircase," Mr. Baker, a widely known author, is now writing the official biography of Woodrow Wilson.

James P. Fawcett, author, also pastor of St. Margaret's Church, New York, gave "The Human Touch." Frances Frost, a young poet and formerly unknown to many, gained new admirers when she read "These Acres" and "To Lovers." William T. Ellis, war correspondent, traveler, and author, gave "Jennings of Smyrna and Winter Park," which contained special interest to Winter Park citizens who knew Mr. Jennings. Last was Opie Read who gave "Rhetting Out the Moon." According to Dr. Holt, "he has always been last and always will be, and those who have heard him know why." Opie Read is the third regular contributor to the only magazine of its kind in the United States, but unfortunately, unlike Irving Bacheller and Jessie R. Rittenhouse, Winter Park cannot claim him as a resident.

In spite of the blistering sun, chairs and bleachers were filled with over 5,000 "subscribers." Boy Scouts took charge of the traffic problem, and members of the junior class acted as ushers.

Sewing Machine Disappeared
Konohe, Wis. (U.P.)—When a woman representing herself as an agent of a sewing machine company solicited the cleaning and repairing of the $185 electric machine of Mrs. Everett McNeil, the owner demanded at the $3.50 fee refused. Later the woman returned with a man and offered to do the job for 50 cents, saying it would be necessary to take the machine to their repair shop. Mrs. McNeil is still looking for the man, woman and for her sewing machine.

352,000 Lambs to Be Fed
Pueblo, Col. (U.P.)—The Arkansas Valley district will feed some 352,000 lambs throughout the winter feeding period, according to information received here by D. A. Locklin, live stock agent for the Santa Fe railroad in this territory. A total of 337,000 lambs already have been shipped into this area.

Previews Postviews Plainviews

Attention, Sure-Thing Bettors: Look up a good road from North America, observe carefully where the Panama Canal lies in respect to Florida, and then go forth to make wagers with the geographical make-wise who think they know it all.

Well, which direction would you point if someone asked you the way to the Panama Canal? All right. Now go find that map and get a jolt. It's SOUTHEAST from Florida, not West!

Any interest you may have in the many radio personalities who come to us regularly "through the courtesy of . . ."—especially any curiosity regarding their ages, will probably lead you to a few mild surprises when the bold truth is let out and YOUTH is discovered in the spotlight.

Teaser years are resting prominently on the shoulders of a few headline orchestra leaders, including Buddy Harrod, youngest network maestro at 19, 24-year-old Eddie Duchin, Lemmie Hayton of the same age, and Dick Mansfield, who is somewhere around voting age. Kate Smith, first lady of the air—and probably of the entire amusement world—is but 23. Even one of the youngest of industries, the radio realm is ruled by youth, and the bald-heads are far outnumbered by the hairless.

Recent statistics have shown the average age of the Columbia network's personnel to be 32. President William S. Paley, head of CBS, is but 31. Vice-president Lawrence Lowman is but one year older, and all down the line, through program, production, and engineering departments, and everywhere behind the radio scenes, are young men and women, who disprove the stereotype of an industry which came into being suddenly to make its influence felt strongly throughout the civilized world almost overnight. Their youth brings novelty, vitality, and zest to a business which seems made in order for their guidance.

Others of the young, who don't have to be qualified as bachelors, are Ann Lee, tiny organist, who is now 22 and has been known for several years as one of the two or three most accomplished pianists in radio; 23-year-old Bing Crosby; Tommy McLaughlin (23) and Bill Hall (24), popular Columbia baritone; Mary Rastman (21), new CBS soprano star; the exotic young vocalist, Gertrude Niesen (19), who made her network debut but a short time ago; Andrea Marsh (18), who was the featured vocalist of the Benny-Weems presentation; Loveta Lee (18), who recently won the spot as vocalist with George Hall's orchestra; Teddi Corsia (28), who has portrayed such notable statesmen as President Hoover, the late Calvin Coolidge, and others of renown on "The March of Time," and the popular Mexican tenor, Tito Guizar (28), who sang leading roles in Mexico City opera at 22.

Youth is well represented on the CBS announcing staff. Cadillac Stevens and Paul Douglas are but 25, while Fred Uhl, Kenneth Roberts, Andre Baruch, Harry van Zell and Bill Braxton are 26. All have been announcing for several years. Veterans Don Ball is 28. At 23 Robert Trout, star Washington CBS announcer, is entrusted with the responsibility of putting many great statesmen on the air.

The Mills Brothers, who popped up overnight to gain not only radio fame and fortune but high vaudeville, movie, and recording earnings as well, are 21, 20, 18, and 17. Pert Joanne Laeg is 24 and personable Betty Barthol was born in 1900. At 23 Tom Everett is holding down his first job writing these stirring "March of Time" scripts, three years after his graduation from Yale. Don Stauffer, competent director of the same series, has yet to reach 30. Tenor Charles Carille is 27, the same age as Colonel Blomberg's comic partner, Badd Haddock. Veteran maestro Knerr Dystarch is 28.

This could go on and on indefinitely, but that should prove beyond all shadow of doubt that youth has found its sphere of activity (and a highly lucrative one) in which success does not necessarily call for a long, hard climb.

Now, professor, a little sweet music (lower the lights, George), and we will glide swiftly from the tender years of youth to the—well, to Ben Bernie, the man who keeps the tobacco business booming, and who stabilized broadcasting. But of course Ben, the OM Maestro, is much more widely known for his wisecracks, for his spontaneous puns, and for the brand of music that he and all the kids band out for their radio audience.

He wasn't always Ben Bernie. Bernard Ansel was one of eleven little Ansel, and Papa Ansel, based in Bayonne, N. J., was a blacksmith. Bernard arrived on May 11, 1893, and grew to the tune of the avell chorus. It was decided that he was too frail to follow the family trade as a smith, and his father decided he should be an engineer, but Ben's mother looked at his large mop of hair and decided he'd become a violinist—a maestro. So a violin he became.

At 14, Ben the Prodigy gave a concert in Carnegie Hall. At 15 he was professor of violin at the Mozart School of Music in New York. Three months later, the school was closed by the Better Business Bureau, and Ben, much against his will, tried to become an engineer at N. Y. U.

He was always pattering around in campus theatricale there instead of doing what he was supposed to do. Sort of a head man he was, and he dates his famous "Tootsie" back to that time.

Another year found him selling $5.36 violins in a department store, repelling his customers in his best burlesque. One day his audience included Joseph Schenck, then in charge of bookings for Loew's circuit. Schenck offered Ben a job at $35 a week for twenty weeks. He hesitated, some three seconds—just long enough to impress Schenck—and accepted.

Out went Bernard Ansel and in came Bernard Berni, the Boy Wonder. (A press agent with a flair for e's kept at it until he made it Berni.)

Came a bright day in the Virginia hills when a two-flated mountaineer leaned over the rail of the gallery, let loose from his chair of tobacco with unerring aim, and planted the juice on the young maestro's finger hand.

Until that time Ben had not spoken on the stage. But he spoke then and loosed a flow of Cherry Hill's finest that left the mountaineers gasping. It began the ad lib line of chatter that has since made him head man in Ad-Lib circles.

It went over. The mountaineers liked it and so did the management, and from that time on Ben talked more and played less. They even raised his salary.

Now that things were looking up, Ben teamed with an accordion player and the act became Berni and Klax. Their sleeper jumps from town to town were made without benefit of Pullman. Ben, by this time, had heard of sleeping berths

(Continued on Page 2)

MR. JOHN MARTIN SPEAKS THURSDAY

"Why Doesn't Europe Pay Up" is Subject of Seminar

Before the International Relations group, at the Annie Russell Theatre, Thursday morning, February sixteenth, Dr. John Martin presented the third of a series of lectures.

Speaking upon the subject of "Why Doesn't Europe Pay Up, Disarm, and Be Good?" Dr. Martin first stated the present status of the United States in regard to the World Court. He stated the attitude of Senator William E. Borah, showing his influence upon senatorial power, the actions of which, it seems, are not representative of the American public opinion.

Leading wet organizations plan to fight to the finish. It is only a question of the length of time necessary to get thirty-six states to ratify, sets may.

New York, Feb. 22 (UP)—Roosevelt will announce names of more members of the cabinet within a few days. It is likely Senator Claude Swanson, Virginia, will be Secretary of the Navy; Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Montana, Attorney General; Senator Cordell Hull, Tennessee, as Secretary of State; and William Woodin, Secretary of Treasury, were announced last night definitely.

Radio Hour Changed by Severin Bourne

Severin Bourne announces that the Rollins Radio Hour has been changed from Wednesday evenings at 9:30 to Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:45 to 8:30.

This change is because the Columbia chain has taken over the hour that Rollins previously had.

Family Anniversaries

Ypsilanti, Mich. (U.P.)—A father, mother, son and daughter-in-law celebrated their wedding anniversary together here, Christmas Day. The father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eyrard, of Ypsilanti, have been married 55 years. Their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eyrard, Detroit, were married 25 years ago.

Upon the subject of debts, Walter Lippman thinks that settlement should be made on the basis of equality and sacrifice. Mr. Martin stated that seventy per cent of the sacrifice could be upon the United States and that the debts are only one factor in the problem of re-claiming prosperity. The United States resents being thought of as collectors of debts rightly due her. Mr. Martin reiterated the fact that non-payment will not relieve the present situation, in spite of the British policy of conciliation for stimulation of trade. This policy has been recently opposed by Sir Ronald Lindsay, when he opened the eyes of Parliament with an exposition of the evident lack of diplomacy in such a policy.

Because the fear hangs over Europe through distrust of the countries among themselves, the idea of disarmament is hard to assimilate, harder to put into effective action. In Germany the events of the last two weeks are an example of the unrest and discord. Germany's belief is evidenced in the International Conciliation pamphlet—"To disarm in the face of fear is criminal." "Might makes right" is a slogan Germany is obviously not ashamed to accept.

Naturally, since this is the sit-

(Continued on Page 3)

WORLD FLASHES

FROM THE UNITED PRESS.

Tokio, Feb. 22 (UP)—Foreign Minister Uchida is considering the appointment of Yasuoka Matsushita as Japanese ambassador to Washington, the Nippon Dempo News Agency said today.

Washington, Feb. 22 (UP)—The prohibition and repeal forces are at work for a showdown on the Eighteenth Amendment. A conference of seven hundred and fifty prohibition leaders was called to meet here March 7th and 8th to reap out plans that will touch perhaps every state in the Union. A preliminary organization is being handled by the Board of Temperance of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. The churches in other parts of the country will also make plans.

Leading wet organizations plan to fight to the finish. It is only a question of the length of time necessary to get thirty-six states to ratify, sets may.

New York, Feb. 22 (UP)—Roosevelt will announce names of more members of the cabinet within a few days. It is likely Senator Claude Swanson, Virginia, will be Secretary of the Navy; Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Montana, Attorney General; Senator Cordell Hull, Tennessee, as Secretary of State; and William Woodin, Secretary of Treasury, were announced last night definitely.

Radio Hour Changed by Severin Bourne

Severin Bourne announces that the Rollins Radio Hour has been changed from Wednesday evenings at 9:30 to Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:45 to 8:30.

This change is because the Columbia chain has taken over the hour that Rollins previously had.

Family Anniversaries

Ypsilanti, Mich. (U.P.)—A father, mother, son and daughter-in-law celebrated their wedding anniversary together here, Christmas Day. The father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eyrard, of Ypsilanti, have been married 55 years. Their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eyrard, Detroit, were married 25 years ago.

Upon the subject of debts, Walter Lippman thinks that settlement should be made on the basis of equality and sacrifice. Mr. Martin stated that seventy per cent of the sacrifice could be upon the United States and that the debts are only one factor in the problem of re-claiming prosperity. The United States resents being thought of as collectors of debts rightly due her. Mr. Martin reiterated the fact that non-payment will not relieve the present situation, in spite of the British policy of conciliation for stimulation of trade. This policy has been recently opposed by Sir Ronald Lindsay, when he opened the eyes of Parliament with an exposition of the evident lack of diplomacy in such a policy.

Because the fear hangs over Europe through distrust of the countries among themselves, the idea of disarmament is hard to assimilate, harder to put into effective action. In Germany the events of the last two weeks are an example of the unrest and discord. Germany's belief is evidenced in the International Conciliation pamphlet—"To disarm in the face of fear is criminal." "Might makes right" is a slogan Germany is obviously not ashamed to accept.

Naturally, since this is the sit-

New York, Feb. 22 (UP)—President-elect Roosevelt plans to hold a world economic conference earlier than anticipated and probably in early spring. That his administration is taking hold of affairs is now evidenced by conferences with British and French envoys and two most important cabinet appointments.

Peiping, Feb. 22 (UP)—Regular Chinese troops have joined irregulars in an attack on the Japanese position in Tunglin. The operation is taken to retard the Japanese move against Kailu.

Minist, Feb. 22 (UP)—Major Anton J. Curnack's physicians watched his condition closely today in the belief that twelve hours more would show whether his heart and lungs could withstand the strain of the bullet wound. It was reported that he is resting more easily today after a somewhat disturbed night.

Tokio, Feb. 22 (UP)—Officials of the Japanese navy, believing that the real settlement of the Manchurian question may be reached in the Pacific, have instructed all commanders at bases of stations of the fleet to be prepared for any emergency, the newspaper Nichi Nichi said today.

Unveiling Of Rose Window Takes Place In Chapel Sunday

(Continued from Page 1)

declares that "the reverence of God is the beginning of Wisdom." And Thompson puts it in poetic measure when he says:

"Let Knowledge grow from more to more
But more of reverence in us dwell!"

"Representing Rollins College, its trustees, faculty, alumni and students and the people of the community, I express from my heart the profound gratitude we all feel to the gracious giver for this far-reaching and general benefaction—a benefaction bestowed upon Rollins College in memory of her revered and beloved father whose influence abides in the passing of years."

St. Louis (UP)—Even in the depression year of 1932, it cost the St. Louis Cardinals $70,000 to maintain a staff of "ivory" hunters, Sam Broaden revealed in commenting on the high cost of modern baseball.

Chi Omega Gives Valentine Party

Chi Omega entertained with a valentine party at the chapter house last Wednesday night. Appropriate games were played and red and white refreshments were served.

The committee in charge included Olive Dickson, Jean Parker, Alice Cleveland, Mena Grasso and Margaret Jaeger.

Mrs. Russell, Miss Apperson, Mrs. Lamb and Mrs. Sackett chaperoned the party.

Kappa Alpha Has Initiation

Alpha Psi of Kappa Alpha takes pleasure in announcing the initiation of the following men into the order:

David Washburn, Longmeadow, Mass.; Paul Noy, Cheshire, Conn.; John E. Brown, Portland, Me.; John Doyle, Cleveland, Ohio; Sam Howe, Longmeadow, Mass.; George Rogers, Dover, N. H.; Edward Collins, Dover, N. H.; Ray Miller, Asheville, N. C.; Rupert Minkoff, Moxette, Mo.; John Baker, Oak Park, Ill.; Thomas Evans, Uhrsville, Ohio; and Bill Watson, Peabody, N. Y.

Rollins Ball Team Has Initial Workout

The Rollins baseball team held their initial workout of the season yesterday afternoon under the direction of head coach, Bob Evans. The prospects are good for the best season that the diamonds have ever had.

There is a wealth of material left from last year's team, including Stoddard and Morris, pitchers; Brule, Miller, Doyle, Dunlop, Rogers and Bill Morris, infielders; Conitt, Tourtelote, Washington, Miller and Ford, outfielders.

The team will only work out three times a week the first two or three weeks, so as not to interfere with the intramural sport program. The team is expected to add additional strength from the ranks of the newcomers this year, and the pre-season season anticipates a splendid season.

St. Louis (UP)—Even in the depression year of 1932, it cost the St. Louis Cardinals $70,000 to maintain a staff of "ivory" hunters, Sam Broaden revealed in commenting on the high cost of modern baseball.

Sandspur Eating Directory

FOR THE BEST Quantity, Quality, Price
The Whistling Kettle
On Lyman Ave.

SAVE MONEY BY BUYING FROM SANDSPUR ADVERTISERS

THE LATCH STRING in the Sunken Garden
718 Magnolia Ave.—Orlando
Luncheon 45c and 50c
Dinner 50c and $1.00
We cater to Dinner Parties and Banquets
Phone 8731

Pewter Pitcher
Club Breakfasts
Lunch - Dinner
A la carte
Phone 134-J

PERRYDELL
Can arrange to seat 100 guests. Remember to see us about your big banquets and luncheons.
Luncheon 75c - Dinner $1.50
We always have what you want.
22 E. Cren Ave. Orlando

DOWN TO NOACK & HALL'S to Cure That Empty Feeling

Try Some Mexican Chili
AT HAM'S PIT BAR-B-Q

COLONIAL for Service
Free Delivery
Phone
402

ORLANDO STEAM LAUNDRY
FRENCH DRY CLEANERS

Winter Park—8188 Orlando—3176
PHONE
SPECIAL STUDENT RATES

FOSTER R. FANNING
Plumbing, Heating and Gas Appliances

Our Prices Are Right 122-124 Welbourne Ave. Our Work Guaranteed

CHARLEEN'S
Halfway between
Winter Park and Orlando

OPERATED
BY
MRS. BAKER
OF BUTTERCUP HILL

ROLLINSANIA

By M. J. DAVIS

Writing this column in the chair staff during Convocation Exercises has its drawbacks and disadvantages. A number of solemn and austere-looking gentlemen are frowning with disapproval on my quite apparent lack of attention and appreciation, while, in the opposite pew, Thelma Van Baskirk persists in smiling with her usually provocative charm, making it practically impossible to concentrate. The show must go on, however. Start the presses, Oliver!!

What a week-end! Long, tortuous, professional and long, tortuous spectacles; capped and gowned seniors trying to appear important and just a trifle intellectual; the K. A. X. Club bowl for the tournament championship; "Sandspur" and press luncheon; old grade wandering aimlessly about the campus, vainly searching for an old classmate or two. You know, there's something pathetic about the Old Grad who returns to the Alma Mater on Founders' Week or Homecoming. Things are never the same as they used to be. He wanders around with a somewhat dazed yet hopeful expression on his face, and when he does find some vaguely familiar face, he's probably forgotten the name and is ashamed to speak. An Walter Fairchild, son of the first president of Rollins, remarked at the "Sandspur" luncheon: "I couldn't even find a lowly sandspur on the campus after the mess President Holt has made of the old place."

But the Greek Letter Dance Saturday night was easily the high spot of the week's festivities, as far as the Student Body was concerned. The Country Club has probably never seen a larger, more conservative (???) crowd in many moons. A New York subway guard couldn't have packed them in any tighter. About 11:27 I discovered a three foot space somewhere in the northeast corner of the floor, and was just about to take my first few steps of the evening, when "Doc" Anderson came bearing down out of the mael and calmly snatched the cherished territory. Aw well, I didn't expectally want to dance anyway. Someday, too, I'm going to get up courage enough to dance with Blanche Fishback and Sara Luck. Come on, girls, buck up. You walk on 'em, as I might as well, too!

Moronic tendencies are likely to crop up in the best of families, but even that's not a good enough excuse for coming home after the dance Sunday morning and sitting up till 3:30 A. M. trying to put a jigsaw puzzle together. Mrs. Sprague 'phoned over about 2:30 and complained that the Alpha Phi's (pronounced like "pies" or "lies") were being disturbed by the clicking of the pieces as we fitted them into place, whereupon the puzzle was taken apart and reassembled in the cellar behind the furnace. But it was just pure jealousy on the girls' part. They were sore because we wouldn't let Jean Fontaine play with us. Well, she plays too rough!

Speaking of jigsaw puzzles, they're all the rage now. You can even get your own photograph made into a puzzle of a couple of hundred pieces, if one has such tendencies. The story goes that a certain Don Juan from the Rio Laredo Nu house received a puzzle from his girl friend back home, and so being especially adept or eager to put the contrivance together, he gave it to the young lady with whom he spends a good bit of his time here on campus. Imagine his embarrassment when the puzzle turned out to be a photo of his home town sweetheart. Is our face red!

We never thought it could happen, but that just goes to prove you never can tell. Here we opened up the copy of the "Flamingo" last week and found that "Spig" Fawcett has gone highbrow and joined the ranks of the literati. Another good man gone wrong! Seriously speaking, though, it was a mighty fine piece of work, as was the rest of the magazine. Thank the Lord it's been brought down to an intellectual level where we members of the common herd can read and understand it at last.

Six Men and Women Given Degrees In Service On Monday

(Continued from Page 1)

in the community of Orlando, Fla. The program was as follows:

Invocation — William Piersos Merrill, D.D., S.T.D.

Anthem: Holy, Holy, Lord God of Sabaoth—Lecti Rogers; Harold Sproul, director of choir.

Address: The Disarmament—Mary Emma Woolley, Litt. D., L. H. D., LL. D.

Harbinger Solo—Robert Kingling, Mrs. D.

Conferring of Honorary Degrees by the President. Dean Charles Atwood Campbell, public orator.

Rev. Michael Fox, pastor of St. James Catholic church in Orlando, a resident of that city for the past forty years, was awarded the Algren Sydney Sullivan Medalion, offered annually by Rollins in behalf of the New York Southern Society to "an outstanding citizen of the community."

Alma Mater—Homer Stanley Pope (words by Rose Mills Powers).

Benediction — The Reverend Michael Fox, S. J.

Recessional: Coronation March from La Prighe—Meyerbeer.

Advertise in the Sandspur

ARE YOU WASTING GAS?

Poor ignition causes low mileage. Have your ignition checked today at the

CITY STORAGE GARAGE

Phone 74

We offer complete service for your car. United Motors Service.

Delco Batteries
Texaco Gas and Oils
Generator and Starter
Repairs

ALL WORK
GUARANTEED

Museum To Present Three One-act Plays Next Friday Evening

(Continued from Page 1)

Bedford and other students in the art department of Rollins College. It was constructed by H. P. Abbott, assisted by members of the museum.

The three dramas are being directed by W. R. Wansch, English instructor at Rollins College.

There will be no admission charge for the performance; opportunity will be given for donations, however, to help to defray the expenses of this production and to insure future productions.

Denial Stamp Boosted Crime

Chicago (U.P.) — A denial of contentions that crime has been increased by the depression was made in an address here by Wirt Herrick, president of the Illinois State Attorneys Association. As a step toward solution of many criminal problems, Herrick urged wider use and study of probation regulations.

Bargains in Used Cars for Next Two Weeks

FRED M. FLOYD
233 Park Ave.

QUALITY JIG SAW PUZZLES

We make them while you watch and our prices are far the lowest in town.

Bring in Your Favorite Picture

They are sawed into interesting, interlocking shapes; are made with the finest plywood material from a wide selection of beautiful picture subjects in all sizes with prices starting at 25c.

The Brownie House

"A Refreshingly Different Gift Shop"
300 N. Orange Avenue at Orwin Manor

John Martin Gives Lecture In Theatre

(Continued from Page 2)

ation, each country will see to it that its prestige is relatively equal to the others. The means are various. Intrigue and economic ignorance contribute distorted views. We can no longer let the financial masters of the world induce us to pour our wealth into foreign countries, Mr. Martin warned. He closed by saying that co-operation in a spirit of advancement for peace and prosperity was to be promoted wholeheartedly, but now is reliably tested path.

An added and final lecture will be given tomorrow by Doctor Martin, on the question of "What is Becoming of England?"

PREVIEWS

(Continued from page 2)

on trains, but he didn't believe the stories were true. Even train fare was uncertain. There was a time out in Iowa when Bernie had Klara but no money, and he fished his way from car to car passing the hat.

Finally Ben had to take a job in the Haymarket Cafe, one of the toughest dives in the old Brewery, playing for "throw money" and meals. Then he got a break and became the first master of ceremonies in a one-time rendezvous of New York's famous.

After that the team of Bernie and Phil Baker, the accordion player, was formed. Phil used to carry Bernie's violin to the theatre and hang around his dressing room in stage-struck awe. He thought Ben a combination of Barrymore and Kreidler. Ben thought Phil had the right idea and gave him a job.

Along about 1926 Ben dropped in on Paul Whiteman one night and decided to have a hand of his own. He combined smart chatter with smart music. Ben started a stage band, featuring it in vaudeville houses. When the Roosevelt Hotel was built in New York, Bernie and his band were billed into the Grill for six months' engagement. He stayed five years.

London heard about him, and Bernie and the boys spent several months at the famous Kit Kat Club.

Back to The Roosevelt, in Hollywood, and then to the College Inn of the Hotel Sherman in Chicago. He broadcasts to millions from there now, and celebrities are drawn to his side—to the side of little Bernard Aniol whom Papa Aniol certainly never expected to pay off the mortgage on the old homestead with hot-che.

Study Expected to Save Money

Madison, Wis. (U.P.)—A study of the oxygen content of Wisconsin lakes is expected to save the state several thousands of dollars by guiding conservation and propagation of game fish. The work is being continued by the Wisconsin Geological and Natural History Survey, which made 2,000 determinations of oxygen content from 1925 to 1931.

What is a LIFE ANNUITY?

A Life Annuity makes positive financial provision for your future—guaranteeing a definite monthly income as long as you live.

It can be secured by the payment down of a single sum, or through the annual payment of a comparatively small premium.

The various kinds of Annuities issued by The Equitable are explained in a booklet which will be sent on request.

THE EQUITABLE

Life Assurance Society of the United States

SEVERIN BOURNE

Representative
Rollins College Publicity Office
Carnegie Hall
Phone 274

TWO PUBLICATIONS AWARDED PRIZES

Flamingo and Sandspur Given Cups At Annual Convention

(Continued from Page 1)

held on literary magazines led by Betty Childs, editor of the Flamingo.

Friday noon the annual luncheon of the Rollins Sandspur was held at the Whistling Kettle at which Irving Bacheller was the main speaker.

Professor Watters opened the afternoon with an address on "Columbus and Columbia," explaining why we differ as in what we like to think, the requirement of catholicity of thought and art of portrayal of personality.

The second speaker of the afternoon, Mr. Ralph Clark, spoke on college publications and their relations to the publicity of the institutions of which they are a part. Donald Grant, of the University of Miami, led the round table on news and column management.

"Journalistic Honoraries" were described by Mr. W. Glen of the Tampa Times, one of the founders of Sigma Delta Chi journalistic honorary fraternity at De Paul University. Dr. Holt was the second and honorary member of this fraternity.

Before the round table on business management, led by Roy Hollis, editor of the Wooden Horse, St. Petersburg Junior College, Larry Lynch spoke on that subject, stressing the importance of selling newspapers for more than cost in order that something may be left for the

George Stone Is To Be Added To Walk Of Fame At Rollins

(Continued from Page 1)

to induce them to collect their rents and pay the tax. They would then be transformed into mere land agents. Obviously, this would involve absolute free trade, since all taxes on imports, manufactures, successions, documents, personal property, buildings or improvements, would disappear. Nothing made by man would be taxed at all, and the right of private property in all things made by man would be absolute, for the owner of such things could not be divested of his property, without full compensation, even under the pretext of taxation.

The dedicatory program Friday is open to the public.

successors, and condemning the blackmailing type of advertising as often used in college publications.

Mr. Ralph Dillon, of the Southern Arts Engraving Co., spoke Saturday morning on the expenses of college publications, pointing out that $20,000 were spent annually on publications of colleges in Florida and emphasizing the responsibility that editors of the publications ought to feel in representing thousands of students.

He advised that editors be elected on experience and merit rather than on political strength.

A round table on annuals, led by Boyd Kynes, editor of the Tomoka, and election of officers and selection of hosts for the next convention ended the meetings.

The convention banquet at the Little Grey House, at which Mr. John Martin spoke, concluded the convention.

Rex Beach Re-elected Pres. Rollins Alumni Association

Rex Beach, the author, a member of the class of 1897, was re-elected president of the Alumni Association of Rollins College at the 35th annual meeting of the association Saturday as part of the Founders' Week program.

Charles A. Moore, '10, Chattanooga, Tenn., as vice president; Katharine Lewis, '21, as executive secretary, and Frederic H. Ward, '21, as treasurer, were also re-elected.

Mary Hardaway Algee, '04, of Orlando, was named chairman of the Rollins Loyalty Fund to succeed Carl M. Phil, '01, Jacksonville. The association re-elected Isabel Green, '28, as chairman of the social committee, and the following members of the executive committee of the alumni council: Prof. A. J. Hanna, '17, chairman; Elbert Winterwood, '28, Winter Park; William M. Davis, Jr., '20, Orlando; and John H. Neville, '28, Walla Walla, Wash.

Addresses of welcome were made at the opening of the meeting by T. William Miller, president of the Interfraternity Council, and the following class presidents: Philip W. Horton, seniors; Thomas Phillips Johnson, juniors; Richard S. Shattuck, sophomores, and Daniel Winant, freshmen.

The reports of Henry Fordham, president of the Varsity Club; Frederic H. Ward, treasurer of the Rollins Loyalty Fund, and Katharine Lewis, secretary of the Alumni Association, were approved. Hamilton Hall, president of Rollins College, described the new United Coat Plan and the progress of the College. Other speakers were John W. McDowell, director of athletics, Dean Winslow S. Anderson, John H. Neville and William M. Davis, Jr.

Following the business meeting, the members of the association attended the unveiling of portraits of Dr. Edward F. Hooker, the first vice president of Rollins, and Rev. Oliver C. Moore, one of the first vice presidents of Rollins. The portraits, which were painted by Jean Jacques Pfister, hang in the Rollins library.

Ruth Hooker, a student at Rollins, unveiled the portrait of her grandfather, Dr. Hooker. Walter Fairchild, a son-in-law of President Hooker, spoke briefly. Mrs. Edward Hooker unveiled the portrait of Mr. Moore, and the tribute was paid by Miss Clara Louise Guild, the first graduate of Rollins.

Dr. Helen W. Cole, Philadelphia, a former member of the Rollins faculty, acted as toastmistress at the 35th annual luncheon of the Alumni Association at the Seminary. Miss Isabel Green served as chairman.

Speakers were President Hamilton Hall, Mrs. William F. Blackman, Dean Arthur D. Enright, and the following alumni: Ralph Twitcheall, Sarasota; Rebecca Caldwell, representing the Rollins Club of the Orient; Beatrice Jones Leigh, New York, N. Y.; Flora Faren, Fort Myers; Harold Silbey, Cleveland, O.; Kenneth Warner, Crescent City; Margaret McKay, Tampa; Dorothy Davis, Miami; Grace Bingham, Daytona Beach; Sarah Mural, Jacksonville; Ruth Cole, St.

(Continued on Page 5)

SPICY leaves of TURKISH tobacco are strong to dry and cure in the sun.

Well, that's something about cigarettes I never knew before the cigarette that's Milder

the cigarette that Tastes Better

I'd never thought much about what's inside a Chesterfield cigarette. But I have just been reading something that made me think about it.

Just think of this, some of the tobacco in Chesterfield—the Turkish—comes from 4000 miles away! And before it is shipped every single leaf is packed by hand. All because Turkish tobacco is so small and delicate.

Of course I don't know much about making cigarettes, but I do know this—that Chesterfields are milder and have a very pleasing aroma and taste. They satisfy—and that's what counts with me!

Rollins Sandspur

Published Weekly By Students of Rollins

Established in 1904 with the following editorial: "Unassuming yet mighty, sharp and poised, well-rounded yet many-sided, as grumpy and energetic as its name implies, victorious in single combat and therefore without a peer, wonderfully attractive and extensive in circulation: all these will be found upon investigation to be among the extraordinary qualities of the Sandspur."

Members of United Press
Member Winter Park Chamber of Commerce
Telephone 211-W

Entered as second class matter November 24, 1925, at the post office at Winter Park, Florida, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 22, 1933

Editor-In-Chief Doris Lang

EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT
Asst. and Managing Editor, George Barber
Assistant Managing Editor, Ruth Hart
Asst. Managing Editor, Reginald Clough

NEWS DEPARTMENT
News Editor, Ruth Jeanne Bellamy

SOCIETY DEPARTMENT
Society Editors, Jennie Carter
Alice Dickson
Assistant, Jane Wellhoff

SPORTS DEPARTMENT
Sports Editor, Bernard Bralove
Assistant Editor, Richard Davis
Intramural Sports Editor, Milford Davis

FEATURE DEPARTMENT
Feature Editor, Victoria Balford
Assistants, Martha Davenport, Gordon Jones, Duke Wellington

COPY DEPARTMENT
Copy Editor, Esther Earle
Assistant, Janet Gibson

PROOF DEPARTMENT
Proof Editor, Holley Lynip
Assistant, Virginia Howell
Jean Parker, Betty Moody, Betty Cushman

REPORTERS
Gertrude Burke, James Gowdy, Estelle Long, Mary Butler Longest, Dorothy Shepard, Bud Belland, Isabel Birnie, David Bucha, Betty Chapman, Mary Kay Hoffman, Jean Jackson, Molly McKeen, Bud Roy Mize, A. H. Whitfield.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT
Business Manager, Robert Barber
Circulation Managers, Jack Howden, Robert Stetson.

ADVERTISING STAFF
James H. Ottaway, Adv. Commissioner
Mary Butler Longest, T. J. Morris, Representatives.

Editorials

SIR MALCOLM CAMPBELL

The majority of the students have been eating classes this last week to go to Daytona to see Sir Malcolm Campbell attempt to break his own speed record of 253 miles per hour. This gives the students something to do but just what will it mean to Sir Malcolm?

True he now holds the world's land speed record but isn't 253 miles an hour fast enough for anyone? After a test run during which he attained a maximum speed of between 230 and 240 miles per hour, Campbell said, "The car was just loading along at that speed, and I am sure that when conditions are right and I take about a five mile start, I should be able to set a very fast record. The sand was not level, and the course appeared to be dished out. This made steering very difficult. All in all, though, I was very well pleased with today's run. The fact that I reached between 230 and 240 miles per hour with only a three mile start shows what the machine should be able to do when I take a five or six mile start."

So far Campbell has been extraordinarily lucky but such luck cannot hold forever. He will probably attempt to better any record he ever sets. Before long it will seem rather a pity for publicity than anything else. A speed of over two hundred miles an hour is too fast to mean anything but a record. It is much too fast to be of any use commercially. Championships are fine but foolishness is something altogether different.

Of course no one wishes him anything but continued good luck, but with little hanging on so small a thing as a pebble in the sand, Sir Malcolm would appear to be tempting providence.

A series of "Dawn Danes" was held at the University of Alabama for the benefit of these students who study late. The dances ran from six to eight A. M. (NSFA)—Birmingham Phoenix.

PROFIT BY CIRCULATION

At a recent meeting of the Midwest Circulation Managers' Association, John T. Toler, circulation manager of the Atlanta Constitution and president of the International Circulation Managers' Association, predicted that in the future the success of daily newspapers would depend largely on circulation rather than on advertising.

Using statistics to prove his point, Mr. Toler said that the circulation of combined daily and Sunday papers has decreased 8 per cent since 1920 while advertising income during the same time has declined about 40 per cent. He emphasized the fact that advertising over the radio has been largely responsible for this reduction.

He declared that there was only one possible conclusion to reach, namely that "the general scheme of the daily and Sunday papers must be revised. Instead of depending on volume, as during 1920 and 1929 the advertising and circulation departments will have to be put on a basis of subscription rates and subscription receipts, of advertising rates and advertising receipts, where with less advertising volume they can run a profitable newspaper during depressions of the kind we are now experiencing."

It may be quite true that newspapers depend too much on advertising for their profit but it seems doubtful if the radio will continue to jeopardize their revenue from advertising. In the first place the average man wants to see as well as hear. Many things can be pictured much better than they can be talked about. Newspaper advertising usually reaches a large number of people, possibly not always as great an audience as the radio but of sufficient size to make it worth the advertiser's while. Nor is a newspaper ad forced upon the public as a radio ad is. Most people do not enjoy having the program interrupted every four minutes to be told that it is coming through such and such a company, makers of this or that article.

From a sound financial standpoint, however, increased circulation should be the aim, as this should result in increased advertising. A merchant will naturally want his ad to reach as large a public as possible. And as Mr. Toler says, in times of depression when advertising declines, increased circulation will help maintain the profit of the paper.

MATHA AXIS AND MATH ANN

A person with a "cubie" form
Came "sloping" down the street.
Her "construction" averaged "oktiously"
It was such a "briggly" feat.

"Carves" swelled out because she went
To Mose-moe every day.
So we "flew a tangent" to her course,
Perfecting her this way.

We "dropped her perpendicular"
Then delved deep in her "facts"
For when we are in trouble
We just let Annie equal "X".

Her boy friend's name is "Axis"
(Ah, romance doth ensue)
He likes his woman with a "curve"
She likes him straight and true.

And when they have a little fight
As true love always states,
It's just 'cause gosh "Axis"
Somehow "miscoordinates."

A "cosine" is her motto
And this is slightly true
For it needs a mother's love because
She "raised it from a sine."

She danced the "boparythm"
But her "function" were disputed
For she burnt out every "bearing"
Cause her feet were "squaresly-rooted."

This "paralleloped"
Just loves to "interpolate"
Enthusiasts into numbers.
But we just "calculate."

From the Mathematics Department,
Rollins College.

OTHER EDITORIALS

ARE THE PLANETS INHABITED?

According to Arthur Brisbane, Dean Inge of St. Paul's Church in London, says other planets are inhabited. Why should the Lord, asks the dean, make millions of worlds without putting anybody on them? If they needed redemption God visited them as He did us.

The question naturally arises, why should an infinitely wise Creator make a world that needed redemption? If a man builds a machine and knows before he finishes it that it will explode and kill him when he finishes it, it would seem quite foolish for him to make that machine. However, the world turned on the hub of time many thousands of years before man discovered that he needed redemption. Parts of it have not discovered it yet. Doubtless it never would have been discovered had not pagan priests discovered the idea had a free-lunch privilege attached to it.

There seems to be no doubt that the idea of redemption was born in the brain of ancient mythologists. It was part of the Egyptian religious system many centuries before the Christian era. Modern investigators,

JUST HUMANS

By GENE CARR

At all events, astronomers tell us the planet Mars is much older than the earth. Its water supply is scarcely 10 per cent of that of ours. The evolution of its life, therefore, must have proceeded along vastly different lines from that of the earth's. Some commentators think that the scarcity of water has forced the life of Mars to cling to the soil, though more intelligent than men, on much less water than animal life. It is therefore conceivable that the inhabitants of Mars may be giant cabbage roots rooted into the soil, though more intelligent than men. Therefore, if the Martians have decided they need redemption, the Lord must appear to them in the form of a cabbage.

Venus, we are told, is a much younger planet than either earth or Mars, and owing to the slight inclination of its axis to the plane of its orbit, its seasons are much more equable. But Venus has very little oxygen, a factor as highly important to life as that of water. The life of Venus, therefore, must have developed along lines different from that of either earth or Mars. It is known that insects require very little oxygen. An ant can live for some time in a vacuum. The dominating forms of life on Venus, then, are probably giant ants. In such event, if they decide they need redemption the Lord must come down in the shape of an ant.

Jupiter, however, astronomers say, it too hot to be inhabited. Although they fail to take into consideration the hot interior of the earth is well represented by simons and Satans. It would be far more feasible for a condensed soul to migrate to Jupiter than to bore into the earth's interior. However, if Jupiter is inhabited by anything at all, redemption can hardly be necessary, since free-lunch privileges are evidently not in demand.—A. L. Norris, in a letter to The Birmingham News.

—Crimson and White.

BOOKS

By H. ALLEN SMITH
United Press Book Editor

Walter Edmunds, author of "Home Haul," has written a rich, dramatic novel in "Erie Water" (Little Brown). It is the story of the digging of the Erie canal.

The narrative begins in Albany, where Jerry meets Mary, a redemptioner, "buys" her for $75 and then offers her freedom. Mary decides, however, to cast her lot with Jerry, and they head west. A few days out they are married and from then on Jerry's fortunes are ascending. He is closely identified with the work of building the canal locks, and his rugged devotion to his work leads, eventually, to a breach in his life with Mary. But entertain no deep fears; it all comes out happily in the end.

It is easily apparent that Edmunds has labored mightily in producing "Erie Water." It is a fine historical novel, even though the romance of Jerry and Mary seems somewhat superficial.

One of the most engaging biographies of the new year has been written by David Garnett around the legendary figure of Pocahontas. The early American heroine is drawn for the most part with broad brush strokes, although Garnett occasionally adds fine and minute sketching for detail interest. She is a fascinating character, this Indian maiden who risked her life to save Captain John Smith in the familiar tale.

In "Pocahontas" (Harcourt Brace) Garnett not unreasonably gives a major emphasis to the sometimes bold, often craven personality of Smith. At times, indeed, it seems that Smith is the central character of the historical-fictional narrative. When Smith disappears from the book, the tempo of the story drops for many pages, until Pocahontas' love affair with John Rolfe lifts the interest once more to a speedier pace.

If Garnett were not the literary craftsman that he is, the book would be just another biography. As it is, his style and writing ability lift it above the usual and ordinary. He has made Pocahontas a vivid and colorful reality.

Josef Ransel reads character in the lines of the human hand and in "Masters of Destiny" he presents brief biographies of 70 famous personalities. In this book you will find what Ransel thinks of John Barrymore, William Jennings Bryan, Georges Clemenceau, Ely Culbertson, Clarence Darrow, Charles G. Dawes, Marlene Dietrich, Albert Einstein, Henry Ford, Gandhi, Stalin, Pope Pius, John D. Rockefeller, Garbo, Tamm, the Prince of Wales and many others. The palm reading is accompanied in each case by a pen sketch and a short biography.

Elery Queen is at his best in "The Egyptian Cross Mystery" (Stokes). The plot itself is a masterpiece of tangled horror. The murderer employs a unique and quite horrible method of bumping off his victims. He hacks off their heads, then crucifies them to sign posts, then posts and smaller T-shaped devices. But young Elery Queen gets him in the end. You can depend on that.

JUST HUMANS

By GENE CARR

"What'sa Tell Him There Ain't No Santa Claus Fer? It's Kids Like You What Spoils Everything!"

What's Best On Your Radio

By E.G.J.

(1) WDHO, local, 680
(2) WABC, New York, 860
(3) WHEB, Louisville, 890
(4) WEAF, New York, 660
(5) WSM, Nashville, 650
(6) WZZ, New York, 760

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 22:
8:00 Whispering Jack Smith and the Hummingbirds (3-3); Ken Murray (4).
8:45 The Dictators (1).
9:00 Symphony concert, world premiere of the opera "A Night in Old Paris" (4); Bing Crosby (1).
9:15 The Romantic Bachelor (1).
9:30 Rollins Program (1); Guy Lombardo, with Burns and Allen (2).
10:00—Fred Warina's Pennsylvania (1).
10:30 Music Magic (4); Carver Wells, explorer (4).
10:45 Pro and Braggini, piano team (2).
11:00 Nino Martini, tenor, with Columbia Symphony (1).
11:15 Anson Weeks (4).
11:30 Isham Jones (1).
12:00 Ben Bernie (4); Eddie Duchin (3-3); Dream Singer (4).
12:15 Vincent Lopez (4).
12:30 Ben Pollack (2); Don Pedro (4); Mack Fisher (6).
THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 23:
8:00 Rudy Vallee (4).
8:15 The Four Chubmen (4); Jack Smith and the Hummingbirds (2).
9:00 Ruth Etting (1); Show Boat (4).
9:15—Mills Brothers (3-3); The Captivators (1).
9:30 Dancing Strings (6); Calum Stoppaghe and Bold, with dance music (3-3).
10:00 Victor Herbert's "Rose of Algeria" (2); Lucky Strike, with the Baron Munchausen (4-4).
10:30 The Boswell Sisters (1).
11:00 Jack Paltan, Jr., tenor (6); James Melton (4); Columbia Symphony (1).
11:15 Don Bestor (4).
11:30 Isham Jones (1); Jack Deney (4).
12:00 Eddie Duchin (3); Cab Calloway (4); Sam Robbins (6).
12:30 Hotel Carter Orchestra (4); Vincent Lopez (6); Leon Balasce (2).
FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 24:
8:00 Melody Magic (1).
8:15 Ann Lee at the organ (1).
8:30 3 California Nuts (4); First Nighter (5-5); Lennie Hayton (1).
9:30 Leo Reisman (4).
10:00 Al Johnson (4-5); Alice Joy (6); Columbia Revue (1).
10:30 The Street Singer (1).
10:45 Harmonica Rascals (4).
11:00 Anson Weeks (4); Nino Martini with Columbia Symphony (1).
11:15 Night Song, organ (6).
11:30 Ann Lyman (1); Ozile Nelson (4).
12:00 Don Bestor (4); Cab Calloway (6); Ben Pollack (2).
12:30 Hollywood On the Air (4); Hal McCoy (2); Joe Furst (6).
12:45 Hal Kemp (3).
SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 25:
8:00 Echoes of The Pollades, organ (4); The Captivators (1).
8:15 to 10:15 The Boston Symphony Orchestra (6).
8:30 Gypsy Ensemble (2).
9:00 Blue Danube Waltz Program (4); Bing Crosby (1).
9:15 The Boswell Sisters (1).
9:30 George Olsen (4); Organ (6).
10:00 Lucky Strike Hour, guest artists (4-5).
11:00 The Buccaneers (6); Guy Lombardo (1).
11:30 Harold Stern (1); Paul Whiteman (4).
12:00 Waldorf-Astoria Supper Club (6); Ted Weems (4); Joe Haymes (2).
12:30 Vincent Lopez (4); Mark Fisher (6); Ted Florio (2).
SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 26:
7:30 James Melton (4).
7:45 Trade and Mark (4).
8:00 Eddie Cantor (4-5); L'Heure Bleue, women's octet (6).
8:15 Andre Kostelanetz presents (1).
9:00 Beth Club Revue (1).
9:30 American Album of Familiar Music (4-5).
10:00 Griffith's Hollywood (6); Ernest Hutchinson, pianist (2).
10:15 Vincent Lopez (6); Rex Chandler (4).
10:30 The Pickens Sisters (4).
11:00 The Gammas (1).
11:15 Walter Winchell (5); Donald Novis (4).
11:30 Jesse Crawford, organist (6); Isham Jones (1); Melodie Sezenade (4).
12:00 Joe Furst (4); Dance Nocturne (6); Ben Pollack (2).
12:30 Charlie Kerr (4); Seymour Simons (5); Jan Garber (2).
12:45 Hal Kemp (2).
MONDAY, FEBRUARY 27:
8:00 Jack Smith, The Hammingbirds (2-3); Eskimo Revue (6).
8:30 Richard Crooks, tenor (4-5).
9:00 Minstrels (5-6); Gypsies (4); Ruth Etting (1).
9:15 The Mills Brothers (2).
9:30 Paul Whiteman (4-5); Melodie Moments (6).
10:00 Contented Program (4-5); Columbia Revue (1); Sizlers (6).
10:30 Alice Jay (8).
11:00 Ted Weems (4); Columbia Symphony (1).
11:30 WGV 11th Anniversary Program (6); Jack Deney (4); Guy Lombardo (1).
12:00 Freddie Martin (4); Anson Weeks (4); Ann Lyman (2).
12:30 Frankie Masters (6); Mark Fisher (4); Leon Balasce (2).
TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 28:
8:00 Sanderson and Crumit (4).
8:30 Wayne King (4).
9:00 Ben Bernie (4); Musical Memories (6); Leonard Hayton (1).
9:15 Threads of Happiness (1).
9:30 California Melodius (1).
10:00 The Five Chief (4-5).
10:30 Lucky Strike, dance and drama (4-5); The Time Detective (6); Five Star Theater (2).
10:30 Henson Bailey, songs (6).
11:00 Dennis and Reese (4); Columbia Symphony (1).
11:15 Ted Weems (4); Heart songs, women's octet (5).
11:30 Bustle and Crinolines (6); Ozile Nelson (4); Isham Jones (1).
12:00 Cab Calloway (5-6); Don Bestor (4); Joe Haymes (2).

Exchange Items

TULANE BANKRUPT! COUNCIL OVERTHROWN

Headlines in the last issue of the Hallelujah. Reds seize the government and promise co-operative ownership of books, professors and classrooms. Plans are underway to provide for the maintenance of the sports contests, the bookstore and refectory and a few classes will be continued until the close of the current season. Funds will be provided by the state. The college will probably discontinue regular sessions in June.

A freshman tells one of the best tales of the season. A student's mother put a $10 bill in his Bible when he went away to school. Four years later she found the ten bucks safe and sound.

Alabama Crimson and White.

SEXNOCRACY

Sexocracy, which will supplant Technocracy within the next few months (spring is coming) differs from Technocracy in that it substitutes an urge for an erg.

Lehigh Brown and White.

Natives of Central Africa will be interested to know that rings the season will again be worn in the nose, whilst necklaces of the popular ostrich-tooth variety will also be worn around the neck. Loin cloths of such various colors as tan, taupe tan, will be worn with the usual drupe this season. It will be considered chic to use war paint of gaudy hues at all ceremonial dances.

Washington State Northwest Viking.

Chapter 1

Clyde, the porter, glomously sweeps the assembly hall (a la Grand Hotel) "Nothing ever happens here," he sighed.

Chapter 2

It was late afternoon of the same day. Clyde, the porter, swept up the last bit of mud brought in on a careless gale. Again he sighed, "Nothing ever happens here." And sure enough, nothing had happened.

The Alabamian.

Learning that livestock would be accepted in payment of fees at L. S. U., Joseph Brank of Lafayette arrived at 4:30 one morning, slightly unsteady, with four pink elephants and one zero-demon. He was admitted to the course in fermentation.

Tulane Hallelujah.

It's funny to me—at home you look at your watch and it is 2 o'clock. In about an hour you look at it again and it is at least 5. At school you look at your watch at 3. In about an hour you look at it again and it is never more than 3:15. It's funny to me. (This last part doesn't apply if you go to the picture show.)

Alabamian.

INCURABLE

I can't be cynical—I've tried in vain
To speak in tones of great disdain
Of love and lovers—Gods and men—
And I go fall in love again.

I cannot satirize and mock
My laughter and my cares—
A river breeze sweeps up to me
To catch me unaware.

Each fall a new love comes my way—
Each spring I say adieu—
And try to say I don't like men—
Knowing full well I do.

And I go singing once again—
Through idle, useless days—
Singing the old, old songs I loved
All in the old, old ways.

Mississippi State College
For Women Spectator.

Gull Seized Man's Nose

Ketchika, Wis. (U.P.)—Sea gulls are not the favorite pets of Neil Hunschik, Ketchika bartender, since one seized him by the nose. The bird, captured by Matt Koon and brought into Hunschik's place, had a broken wing. While they were discussing what to do for it, the bird nibbled on its back, as if dead. Hunschik leaned over it to make a closer examination. The gull sank its talons into his nose in a sudden demonstration of life, that inflicted painful lacerations. Hunschik and Koon immediately lost all good Samaritan inclinations and released the bird.

GOLFERS AND FENCERS WIN; X CLUB WINS SECOND HALF

TENNIS TEAM BOWS TO FLORIDA UNIV. BUT GOLFERS WIN

Fencing Team Defeats Citadel in Day Filled With Interesting and Varied Sport Program Celebrating Founders' Day

Facing a superior team composed of more experienced players, the Rollins Varsity tennis team suffered its first defeat of the season at the hands of the veteran Gator squad from the University of Florida in Gainesville. Although the Gators fought hard to secure at least one match, the Florida team made a clean sweep of the day's play by winning all eight of the scheduled matches.

Jack Butler, smiling number one man on the Gator team, took a clean victory from Carroll Cooney, Rollins' star, in two sets, 6-3, 7-5. Cooney was no match for the clever Butler, whose skillful stroking brought much applause and admiration from the gallery.

Chet Kestwood, Rollins number two man, lost his match to Bob Frick of Florida 6-4, 6-3, while Dick Sutton trounced Carl Sweet, number four man on the Rollins squad, 6-3, 6-3. Bob Dunbar, Rollins number three, put up the best match of the afternoon, going three sets with Jake Zoran before the Gator player won the match, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Bob Robertson dropped his match to Phil Correll 4-1, 6-3, while "Flash" Brennan, of the Florida squad, eliminated Ben Kahn in the final singles match of the afternoon, 6-4, 6-3.

In the doubles matches, the Florida racquetists likewise chalked up a victory, with Zorian and Brennan beating Dunbar and Schfield 6-1, 6-6, and Frick and Sutton edging out a victory over Eastwood and Robertson 6-4, 5-7, 6-2.

The Tars will meet the University of Florida in a return match on March 4, at Gainesville.

GOLF

The Rollins' golf team evened the balance Saturday afternoon by defeating the Florida golfers 18½ to 4½. Merrill shot the best golf of the day, going out in 34, two under par. Back started off by making three birdies in the first five holes and finished four up on his opponent, Lind, with three holes to play. Johnson won his match from Singleton of Gainesville three up. Dexter Ward was less successful, winding up two down in favor of Wright. The number one Rollins duo, Dick Merrill and Bob Enck, won easily four up and three to no, and Johnson and Ward skinned through with one up on the last hole. The match was played in exceptionally warm weather, but in spite of this both team played beautiful golf. Merrill, Rollins number one man and runner-up in the St. Augustine Club Champions' Tournament a few weeks ago, chalked up four birdies and went over par on only two holes—these by but one stroke. The most exceptional score of the day was made by Stark of Florida, on the fourth hole, 186 yards, he sunk the ball on his second stroke.

So far this year the Rollins golfers are undefeated. They have beaten Stetson twice and are now planning a return match with the Gainesville squad. Later this year the first three or four golfers on the Rollins team are to take a trip to the Florida west coast and from there go up into Georgia and Virginia, playing various club and college teams. From all indications they ought to bring back a very nearly clean slate.

FENCING

In the first intercollegiate fencing match ever to be held on the Rollins campus the Rollins fencing team carved out a neat victory over The Citadel overmen last Saturday night in Recreation Hall. The Varsity won six bouts to three, while the Frosh made a clean sweep by winning both of their matches.

The first bout of the evening was between Hall of Rollins and Tindal of The Citadel. Hall's aggressive tactics proved too strong for Tindal. He won without touching to eleven. Immediately following this bout Snook, captain of The Citadel team, creased up the score by touching out a twenty to six win over Kelley of Rollins. Adroit Marchman, Rollins captain, showed fine finesse in beating Catman of The Citadel.

Hall next chalked up another win by taking Nelson of The Citadel, 16 to 5. By defeating Marchman in the next bout, 14 to 14, Snook served notice that he would be high man of the match. His peculiar low lunge to seconds seemed unfathomable. Flicking his point in with remarkable rapidity Kelley overwhelmed Catman by a score of 20 to 6.

Snook of The Citadel fought two battles in rapid succession. The first against Hall of Rollins he won, 10 to 11. In the other he again opposed Captain Marchman. This was the feature bout of the evening. Marchman had apparently solved Snook's novel style for he came out ahead, 16 to 14. In the last Varsity bout Kelley faced Tindal. The score was Kelley seven, ten touches, Tindal eight.

The two Frosh bouts finished the match. Howard of Rollins pulled off Leonard of The Citadel, eight touches to four. Camp in his turn scored ten touches to Tourtellote's six.

Couch Rosay deserves plenty of credit for turning out such a successful team. To date the Tars have won three out of four matches. As the fencing team is probably the only form of athletics in which Rollins can meet larger colleges on a par footing, the team should receive wholehearted support.

Rollins will meet the team from Georgia Tech here next Saturday.

NEWS OF WOMENS SPORTS

Hockey finally got under way last week with active competition between the old and even teams. Although team play was a bit ragged due to the fact that neither eleven had played together before the trials Tuesday and Thursday, improvement has been marked in both the passing and driving departments. Positions have not been definitely filled as yet and each player is being given an opportunity to try out for any position in the defensive or offensive lines. The tendency to follow the ball, rather than stay in line has prevented more rapid development in teamwork and signal practice. When this inconsistency is ironed out, along with continued handling of the ball the two eleven should produce some stiff battles for supremacy. Tentative teams will be announced either next or the following week.

Down the Fairway

Due to the fact that we have had perfect weather, golfing enthusiasts have been out on the links nearly every day either practicing or in active competition. The positions have changed somewhat in the latter tournament—a summary is found below:

1. Jose Le Ray.
2. Virginia Jones.
3. Priscilla Hakas.
4. Emily Burke.
5. Pete Wood.
6. Teddy Eerie.
7. Anna Jeanne Pendexter.
8. Eliza Cookman.
9. Jane Helen.
10. Grace Embury.

Fault!

Mary Knowledge won a hotly contested match from Barry Miller last week for the right to play the winner of the upper bracket in the tennis tournament. Her victory assures her of playing Janet Murphy for the championship. The result of this match, which will probably take place this week, will be noted in this column.

Heard Policemen's Sermon

Fort Worth, Tex. (UP)—Two boys, 15 and 9, started to church here one Sunday morning, but listened to a sermon by Police Capt. Henry Lewis instead. The youths pulled a fire alarm box for fun. Captain Lewis preached on "Civil righteousness" at headquarters.

SPORT MIXTURES

By RICHARD CAMP

Campbell's Speed Trials Open Beach Season for Rollins Students; Surf, Sun, and Beach Games All Hold Many Attractions for Every Rollinsite

At this season every year the speed trials at Daytona have all sportive Rollinsites backward. Due to the uncertainty of beach conditions and Campbell's well-known tendency to put off his record attempts into the unpredictable future, many disappointments are in store for those of us who team over to Daytona every other day eagerly looking forward to Campbell's race against time.

However, whether or not he runs there are still many attractions left for Rollins sportsmen. With Colorado only fifteen miles away from Daytona one can get away from the crowded Daytona beach in about as many minutes.

Coronado Beach is graced by the "Pelicans," that enormous college owned cottage, which is frequented by half the college every week-end during the spring term. At present it is closed up as tight as a walnut. This means that you have to dress behind either your car or a neighboring palmetto; just as you please. The thing to do is to get that suit on as quickly as you possibly can. Then a short run, a gasp as the frigid ocean jets your sweltering body, and there you are, emulating the porpoises and the pelicans.

The pelican will afford you much amusement. He is ungainly. He is ludicrous. The most that can be said of him is that he can take it. And can he take it? Every time he plunges from way up there you are sure that he is going to break his neck. But no. Invariably he bobs out intact, although usually a mile disheartened. It takes a pelican at least fifty dives to catch a fish, and Leed knows how many to get a full meal.

To get back to you. When the surf has finally battered you into a state of coma, there is the blanket on the sand and the sun. You will absorb violet rays which cause the pigment in your skin to turn tan. It always peels off at the end of a week, but what the!

You will soon grow bored with the blanket on the sand. In order is a game of "up and over." This game is not overly gentle. It is an advanced form of leap frog, and suitable for adults. Or "Buck Back" will do provided that there are enough of you. Touch football with a knitted towel for a ball will work up a nice blow. And all the time the sun beats down. Beach tennis with a big ball may satisfy. If not, chuck it, and stage a race up the beach in the cars.

Official Standing of Second Half Basketball Tournament

Team	W	L	Pct.
X Club	7	0	1.000
Kappa Alpha	6	1	.857
Theta Kappa Nu	4	3	.571
Delta Rho Gamma	4	3	.571
Rho Lambda Nu	4	3	.571
Rollins Hall	2	5	.286
Chase Hall	2	5	.286
Kappa Psi Sigma	0	7	.000

High Scorers Second Half

Ralph Tourtellote, Delta Rho Gamma—130.
Bill Miller, X Club—65.
Paul Weirley, Theta Kappa Nu—60.
Don Dunlop, Chase Hall—53.
Bob Enck, X Club—43.

Eventually the tide comes up as tide do. This is a signal to depart. Toss back to school in time for heanery. People noticing your resemblance to boiled lobster will ask:

"Have you been in the beach?" And you will reply, "Yeah."

Man Left His Dog $1,000

Astoria, Ore. (UP)—Spike does not have to worry about where his next home is coming from. When his master died recently, he left $1,000 in trust to provide the "everyday dog" with a pension of $10 a month for the rest of his life. When Spike dies, the rest of the money goes to relatives of his master in Europe.

DOWN KAS. 30-21 TO INSURE PLAY-OFF FOR WINNERS

Miller, Enck, Star as X Club Takes Advantage of Scoring Chances; Championship Series Will Start Thursday to Determine Winners of Tournament

Maintaining a slim lead practically all through the game and fighting off every threat of the fighting Kappa Alpha five, the big blue team from the X Club tripped up the early season's champions in a fast and furious scrap 30-23 last Friday night.

Bill Miller, with a total of 13 points to his credit, was the outstanding star of the game, his skillful playing and accurate eye spelling defeat for the opposition. On the Kappa Alpha squad, Bud Childs and Will Rogers showed up best in the pinches, both with 7 points to their credit, while honors likewise go to Bob Enck, Flop Morris, and Johnny Doyle for some fine playing.

The X Club managed to hold a three point lead until the third quarter but in the final minutes of play, a desperate K. A. team, headed by Will Rogers, tied the score twice. With the score 22-22 and but a few minutes to play, Bill Miller saved the day for the X Club with two beautiful field goals and two foul shots, following which Flop Morris dropped another for good measure. The win found both teams still fighting seriously and the huge crowd about ready to demolish the gym in their excitement.

Besides the final championship game which marked the end of the official intra-mural basketball tournament, last week also saw the last seven games of the season. Outstanding upset of the week's play was the defeat of the Theta Kappa Nu outfit by the Rho Lambda Nu five, 23-14. The Theta Nu also dropped their third game of the series to the X Club 18-15.

The Delta Rho Gamma's valiant Chase Hall 40-30 and then fell before the onslaught of an X Club team, 30-15. Chase Hall took their first game of the series by scoring a 34-25 win over Rollins Hall, while in the last game of the series, the Rho Lambda Nu's took possession of third place by beating out Chase Hall by a score of 24-21.

The play-off for the championship of the Rollins intra-mural basketball trophy will probably take place during the last few days of next week.

THE HUMAN CRICKET

BEATS OLYMPIC RECORD!

ILLUSION:

Joie, the lovely trapeze artist, stands upon a small platform. At the will of the magician she leaps twenty feet into the air to reach her trapeze. She uses no ropes, no ladders! A phenomenal leap for a woman... or a man!

EXPLANATION:

Joie didn't jump... she was spring! The twenty-foot leap is not dependent on Joie's ability, but on a powerful spring mechanism hidden beneath the stage which propels the artist upward through the air. The force is so violent that the lady wears a light steel jacket which protects her from injury as she starts her astonishing leap.

CAMELS

Copyright, 1935, A. F. Goodrich Tobacco Company

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED ...IT'S MORE FUN TO KNOW

Magic has its place...but not in cigarette advertising.

Consider the illusion that there is a mysterious way to give cigarettes a superior "flavor."

EXPLANATION: Cigarette flavor can be controlled by adding artificial flavorings. By blending. And by the quality of tobacco used.

Cheap, raw tobacco can be "built up" or "fortified" by the lavish use of artificial flavorings.

Such magic, however, seldom holds the audience. Your taste finally tells you the truth.

The cigarette flavor that never stales, never varies, never loses its fresh appeal, comes from mild, ripe, fragrant, more expensive tobaccos...blended to bring out the full, round flavor of each type of leaf. It's the quality of the tobacco that counts!

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Because Camel actually pays millions more every year for choice tobaccos, you find in Camels an appealing mildness, a better flavor.

And Camels taste cooler because the welded Humidor Pack of three-ply, MOISTURE-PROOF cellophane keeps them fresh.

NO TRICKS ..JUST COSTLIER TOBACCOS

IN A MATCHLESS BLEND

