

University of Central Florida
STARS

The Rollins Sandspur

Newspapers and Weeklies of Central Florida

4-26-1933

Sandspur, Vol. 37 No. 27, April 26, 1933

Rollins College

Find similar works at: <https://stars.library.ucf.edu/cfm-sandspur>
University of Central Florida Libraries <http://library.ucf.edu>

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Newspapers and Weeklies of Central Florida at STARS. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Rollins Sandspur by an authorized administrator of STARS. For more information, please contact STARS@ucf.edu.

STARS Citation

Rollins College, "Sandspur, Vol. 37 No. 27, April 26, 1933" (1933). The Rollins Sandspur. 370.
<https://stars.library.ucf.edu/cfm-sandspur/370>

MANY STUDENTS APPLY FOR JOBS ON PERIODICALS

Competition Is Intense For Positions; Elections Occur May 4

Competition for positions on Rollins student publications is becoming more intense every day, according to James H. Ottaway, chairman of the Publications Union, who is receiving applications.

To date, according to the chairman, the following students have filed their letters of application or are known to be in the field for positions and have not as yet entered their names.

Sandspur: According to Doris Lang, present editor, three candidates are competing. The April 12 edition was edited by Esther Kark, April 18, by Reginald Clough, and today's issue by Mary R. Longest.

Robert Stoffelmann has been aiding Business Manager Robert Barber, of the Sandspur, for the past few weeks, and it is expected that he will apply for this office.

Times: Tips for Janet Gibney has filed her application for the editorship, and Stewart Morse has applied for business manager. Ben Kuhn is also understood to be considering running for the editorship.

Flamingo: To date, H. B. Abbott and Bucklin Moss have indicated their intentions, by letter, of running for the editorship, and it is understood that Warren Aggar, incumbent business manager, will re-apply for this position.

"K" Book: Victoria Bedford and David Bothe have filed for the editorship, and Betty Trevor is in the field for the business manager.

No applications have been filed as yet for the advertising commissioner's position, although Betty Childs, present editor of the Flamingo, is considering an application for this office.

The final day for filing applications is now, April 29. Communications should be addressed to James H. Ottaway, care of the Sandspur. Elections are set for May 4.

ORLANDO HIGH WINS HONORS

First Annual Music Festival Held At Conservatory

Orlando High School ran off with a large share of the honors in the group competitions at the first annual intercollegiate music festival held Saturday, April 22, at Rollins College under the auspices of the Conservatory of Music when the first prize in boys' solo club contest and the first prize in the mixed solo club competition were awarded to Orlando.

Six prize winning clubs are directed by Mrs. Julia Campbell. West Palm Beach won first prize in the girls' solo club contest, while Brookline High School was top honors among the orchestras.

Winter Park High's solo club, directed by Mrs. Virginia Richardson-Smith, made an excellent showing winning second place in the boys', girls', and mixed solo club competitions. Second place in the orchestra contest went to Hillsborough High of Tampa. The prizes awarded in first place winners were cups offered by Rollins College.

Eleven glee clubs and two orchestras participated in the group competitions which concluded the two-day festival. Approximately 500 students representing seventeen high schools in Florida took part in the individual contests conducted Friday and Saturday morning.

(Continued on Page 2)

WORLD FLASHES

—FROM THE UNITED PRESS—

Peking, April 26 (UP)—Chinese lost seven battalions total four thousand killed and wounded, in the past five days of heavy fighting for the pass at the Great Wall at Keping, General Ho Ying-Ching, Minister of War, said in an official communique today.

The Chinese resistance of Japanese invasion of China proper has cost nineteen thousands casualties to date, General Ho said that sixty-six per cent were wounded and died because of the lack of field hospitals and remoteness of fighting to established institutions.

Peking, April 26 (UP)—General Ho Ying-Ching summoned leading generals to high military conference today to map the offensive to drive the Japanese out of China proper.

Paris, April 26 (UP)—French and British treasurers negotiated a financial alliance to maintain the positions of the franc and the pound in the International Finance Conference, the Ministry of Finance admitted to the United States today. London fears of currency depreciation may cause a war between the United States and England unless an immediate agreement is reached in Washington which the Bank of England was prepared to throw into the open market. Operations to maintain the present value of the pound in relation to the dollar.

Washington, April 26 (UP)—Former Premier Eduard Herriot of France today said the program of international discussions here held great promise for success. The London Economic Conference is now scheduled to start on the twelfth of June.

Entering on the third day of his talks with Roosevelt, he warned that to definite conclusions should be expected, but expressed the confidence that general accord being achieved, it would pave the way for definite action.

BARRETT SPEAKS OF PAN-AMERICA

Dr. Barrett Addresses College Commemorating Cervantes

Pan-America today, Dr. John Barrett, former director general of the Pan-American Union, told a group of Rollins undergraduates Friday morning, in progressing more rapidly than the men and women of our country realize. He stated that these twenty Latin-American Republics have a wealth of resources and since there has been in these countries a great movement to adventure in new paths both men and women alike have been striving to progress and make full use of the advantages offered them.

Dr. Barrett stated he was not in sympathy with many visitors to the Latin-American Republics because the feeling brought back by the people are opposed to the United States. "Recently," Dr. Barrett said, "the president of the Argentine told him that the United States could do and was doing more for them than any other nation in the world."

The development of Pan-America he went on to say, has been slow but progressive. The name Pan-America means all Americas and to give it a complete definition Dr. Barrett said, "it means the co-operation of all the Republics to work for the common good of all and of each one, no domination on the part of any republic and the complete solidarity and union for all." This will set an example not only for themselves but also for the whole world.

Gainesville Debaters Meet Rollins Team In Studio Yesterday

The University of Florida debate team met the Rollins debaters, Carter and Shattuck, yesterday afternoon at 4:30 in the Speech Studio to discuss the question, Resolved: "That inter-collegiate athletics should be abolished." Rollins upheld the negative side of the question.

The debate was originally planned for the evening, but due to conflicting engagements, it was necessary to hold it in the afternoon.

Harriet Miller and Molly Vincent debated the affirmative side of the question at Southern College in Lakeland.

The following persons are eligible for membership in the national forensic fraternity, Phi Kappa Delta, having participated in three intercollegiate debates: Billie, Vincent, Johnson, Carter, Olmstead, and Davis.

Cervantes Honored By Special Service In Knowles Chapel

A memorial service for Cervantes, celebrated author of Don Quixote was held in Knowles Chapel Sunday, April 23. Florence Kessel, soprano, sang Hymn of Riego, the Spanish National hymn. Fred Schaffeld gave the invocation and the Lord's Prayer. The Litany of Prayer, which was given by Betty Trevor, was written by Frederic Backet.

Dr. Barrett gave the address, "Cervantes and His World-Wide Influence." Dr. Barrett stressed particularly the fact that Cervantes was known all over the globe. He told an interesting tale of Theodore Roosevelt when he made his trip—he carried two books with him, Cervantes' Don Quixote and two Bibles.

The service was closed with the usual Benediction and Sevenfold Amen. The organ postlude was improvised by de Guerd.

Next Sunday, April 30, Melville E. Johnson, Dean of St. Luke's Cathedral in Orlando, will speak on "Youth's Contribution to Society."

ROLLINS GROUP VISITS ATLANTA

Johnson, Townsend and Tory Return From Meeting

The International Relations Club of Rollins sent, as representatives to the Tenth Annual Conference of International Relations Clubs at Southeastern College, Mr. Chandler W. Johnson, Miss Agatha Townsend, and Professor Alan P. Tory. The conference was held at Emory University and Agnes Scott College, at Decatur, Georgia. The meetings were held April 25th, 26th and 27th.

The chief speakers of the session were Sir Herbert Ames, formerly Financial Director of the League of Nations, who treated different phases of the foreign relations of Germany, Dr. Ruth L. Higgins, professor of History, Woman's College of Alabama, who led a Round Table discussion in MacArthur and Ernest Minor Patterson, professor of Economics, University of Pennsylvania, who spoke and led discussions on "War Debt and Present Economic Conditions."

The Conference on International Relations was held at Rollins last year. Delegates and faculty advisors from about sixty-five colleges throughout the South attend these conferences which are aided and sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for World Peace. The conference for next year will be held at Mississippi State College, Hattiesburg, Miss.

TO SING IN "IOLANTHE"

GENEVIEVE GREER

Genevieve Greer has given several recitals in connection with the chapel vespers program this year, and accompanied with Richard Washington made a trip to Jacksonville where they gave a program.

MISS M. A. HAWES TO BE AT ROLLINS

Will Be Instructor In Math Here Next Year

Appointment of Miss M. Alberta Hawes as assistant professor of mathematics and astronomy at Rollins College for next year is announced by President Hamilton Holt. Miss Hawes fills a position which has been vacant this year.

Miss Hawes was connected with the Harvard College Observatory staff four years and taught astronomy and mathematics at Vassar College for twelve years. During the past year she has been a member of the staff of the Observatory at the University of Michigan.

She was graduated from Radcliffe College with an A.B., cum laude, and from Vassar College with the degree of A.M. She received her doctor's degree in philosophy from the University of Michigan. She is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi.

On entering Radcliffe Miss Hawes received the Hopkins Prize for Scholarship and during her graduate work she was awarded two fellowships, one by the University of Michigan and one by the American Association of University Women.

Miss Hawes has spent her summers in various kinds of research at some of the leading observatories, among which were Harvard, McCormick Observatory, University of Virginia, Dudley Observatory in Albany, and the University of Michigan Observatory.

Play Directorship For 1934 Is Open Wunsch Announces

The Museum wishes to announce that there will between eight and ten places open for directorship for the year '33-'34. These places will be filled by students willing to work not only by themselves but with others in produce scenery, lighting effects and plays. For the purpose of efficiency the organization must be limited to twenty-four directors.

The Museum is a student organization of the students and for the students. Its function is not to be exclusive but to produce worthy, while programs, honest and intelligent criticism and a love for the Arts.

Blankets for application may be obtained from Mary Trawbridge.

Directors of the Museum.

There will be a meeting of the Directors of the Museum on Wednesday evening, April 26, at 7:15, in Sparrill.

Annual Convention Of Southern Student Federation Is Held

The twelfth annual convention of the Southern Federation of College Students will be held at the University of Florida, in Gainesville, April 27, 28 and 29. Approximately sixty colleges and universities will be represented, among which will be the outstanding institutions of Florida.

The Southern Federation of College Students is the oldest organization of its kind in the United States. It was founded in 1921 at Georgia Tech, with the intent of the organization benefiting the students and colleges of the South by having representatives from the various Southern colleges and universities convene and try to thrash out some of the problems confronting the students and their organizations.

The Student Association of Rollins College is unable to send representatives to the convention because of the depleted condition of student funds, according to T. William Miller.

Freshman Class Of Rollins Is Second In 1932 Examinations

The freshman class at Rollins is the second "smarter" first year class among the colleges in the Southern Association, according to the results of psychological examination given under the auspices of the American Council on Education this year, Dean Winslow S. Anderson reports.

According to a published report of the results of identical examinations given to freshmen students throughout the country last fall, Rollins College ranked among the upper third with a median score of 173.41, compared with a score of 168 for last year. A total of 205 colleges and universities in the United States and Canada participated in this year's test.

Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn., with a median score of 175.71 was the only institution in the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States to place higher than Rollins. According to Dean Anderson's report, Rollins has improved its score in each of the last four years indicating that each succeeding freshman class is "smarter" than its predecessor.

Members of Rollins Conservatory Give Recital Last Friday

Ten students were presented last night at a student recital given by the Rollins Conservatory of Music at the Women's Club. Taking part in the program were: Katharine Goss, Danto Bergson, Martha Marsh and Adeline Isaacson, violinists; William Mosteller, harp; Eleanor Morris, pianist.

Other students participating in the program were Virginia Orelough, Vincent Canzoneri and Jack Carter.

On May 2 another program of music is scheduled. Katharine Goss will give a violin recital on May 4. The following Tuesday, a piano recital will be presented by Wava Koczen and on May 25 the series will be concluded with a solo recital by Bruna Bergson.

Johnson To Speak In Chapel Sunday

Melville E. Johnson, dean of St. Luke's Cathedral in Orlando, will give an address on "Youth's Contribution to Society," at the Morning Meditation Service in Knowles Memorial Chapel at Rollins College next Sunday. The service, which begins at 9:45, is open to the public.

Providence, R. I. (UP)—Rhode Island, one of the 13 original states, never has been represented in a presidential cabinet.

"IOLANTHE" TO BE PRESENTED APRIL 27, 28

Gilbert and Sullivan Operetta Will Be Given In Annie Russell Theatre

"Iolanthe," Gilbert and Sullivan's rollicking musical comedy, will be given April 27 and 28 at the Annie Russell Theatre.

Three departments are co-operating for this production and have spent several weeks of intensive work. Direction of the singing and music is under Professor Harold C. Spruel and Mrs. Dorothea Thomas Lynch has charge of the dramatic direction. The dances are supervised by Mrs. Scott-Fennell.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Ransom, instructor in costume design, will be in charge of the elaborate costumes required for the musical comedy.

The fairy Iolanthe is played by Genevieve Greer, Shrapian, an Arcadian shepherd, is played by Everett Roberts. Virginia McCall takes the part of Phyllis, Theodore Ehrlich is the Lord Chancellor, and Mona Grandville is Queen of the Fairies.

The large cast includes: Celis, Bruna Bergson; Lella, Joana Fontaine; Fleta, Non Chagin; Earl of Montarant, Milford Davis; Lord Toller, Edwin Libbey; Private Willis, Stuart Eaton.

The chorus of fairies includes Barbara Parsons, Thelma Van Buskirk, Elvin Windsor, Dorothy Souer, Marjorie Eide, Marguerite Bird, Mary Virginia Taylor, Isabelle Blumie, Carol Marion, Ernestine Hills, Marguerite Libbey, Janet Murphy, and Martha Mae Newby.

(Continued on page 2)

"BOOK-A-YEAR CLUB" BEGUN

Rollins Is Sponsoring Unique Organization

The latest in the "Books-Every-So-Often Clubs" is a "Book-A-Year Club."

The sponsor is Rollins College which has devised this unique organization to build up an endowment for its main library. All that a member has to do to join the club is to subscribe to a life membership fee of $25.00.

Membership in the "Book-A-Year Club" guarantees that every year, so long as the member lives—and so into the centuries, some book will be purchased in his name and placed on the shelves of the Rollins College Library.

The "Book-A-Year Club," according to the announcement, is certain to survive the centuries, and "bring to succeeding generations of American youth the inspiration found in the companionship of good books."

Prospective members are assured that by joining the "Book-A-Year Club" they will have the lasting satisfaction of knowing that year by year their shelves of books are growing larger and increasingly valuable as the generations of youth pass through the gates of Rollins.

(Continued on Page 5)

With continued disfavor for the so-heavy news of the current week, which perhaps should occupy the space here given to less poignant occurrences, and with the repeated explanation that the world as viewed at Rollins encompasses more than American economic and political questions, this column is devoted to happenings bearing less directly on our own daily life, yet of great interest regardless.

The recent trial in Moscow of six British citizens, five electrical engineers and one mechanic, all workers in Russia for periods of from one to ten years, has attracted the attention of all nations to the Soviet Union for a reason more far-reaching than mere governmental policy.

On March 11 the men were quietly arrested in their offices, where they worked as agents for Metropolitan-Vickers, Ltd., a subsidiary of Electrica Industries, Ltd., which is partially controlled by General Electric. Taken to prison and questioned on their attitude toward the counter-revolutionary elements beneath the surface of Russian life, two were released on parole after 48 hours, and the others detained for further inquiry.

Twenty-nine days passed with no word as to the fate of the four Englishmen. On April 4 they emerged, pale from the confinement and weary from long-term interrogations. Grim and silent, they revealed only that a confusion of one of their number had been shown them, and that they had heard from their own conspatriots' lips an accusation of complicity and guilt in sabotage, espionage, lechery, and conspiracy.

Meanwhile, with public sentiment in Great Britain rising in indignation, the British Ambassador had left Russia, and Parliament had so reacted to the situation that it had ordered the government to declare a 50 per cent embargo on Russian goods as an act of reprisal. The government gained confidence in him when he was fair treatment from his men.

The official trial opened on April 15, with three judges presiding. The indictment was read immediately—a blanket charge for all on the four points named above. A similar indictment followed against eleven Russians who had been arrested at the same time.

The six foreigners were charged, in many detailed accusations, with activities varying from the collecting of military information to the working of Soviet plants; all were accused either of performing these functions as foreign agents or of aiding Russians to perform them.

The first witness for the prosecution described a conspiracy which he had entered with two of the defendants, for the wrecking of Soviet plants in the event of war; one of the Englishmen thus accused pleaded guilty, the other flatly denied the truth of the statement, although he had previously admitted some connection of the kind when first arrested nearly six months previously.

A Russian prisoner, held on similar charges, testified that he had been introduced by Communist Russians because she had accepted a position as secretary in the office of Merio-Vickers, Ltd. She described the Englishmen as "active heads of espionage groups," who, she believed, received instructions from London, where the head office of their firm is located.

Members of the accused testified against each other in various instances, charging breakdowns in ignorance and incompetence of Russian workers, and refusing all implications of guilt on the indictment for bribery of workers.

On the fourth day of the trial, Alan Marshall, a defendant, asked to be allowed to speak, and received provisional permission.

"It is perfectly clear to me that this case is a frame-up against the Metropolitan-Vickers engineers, based on the evidence of terrified prisoners," he began. "I know from my own experience—"

(Continued on page 2)

Previews Postviews Plainviews

GORDON
JONES

With the seasonal moving around and shifting that goes on in orchestral sections confounding everyone right and left, it's downright hard to keep track of the exact whereabouts of your favorite band.

Just to name two or three leaders who have migrated recently, there is Itham Jones now playing theatrical engagements ahead; Harold Stein, who dropped into Paul Whiteman's shoes at the Billmore, seems set for the biggest season of his life; and Leon Belasco, who stepped into the St. Morris near vacancy (meaning the one Stern left, if you get it) probably isn't shedding tears either.

If any more simple remarks like last week's bright one a prelude and death of good popular music all out, this will soon become one of the rare quadriminomial columns in existence, or something—Previews, Postviews, Plainviews, and Apologies.

One nice thing about saying something ridiculous is that you discover exactly how many readers you have; they all call you down. Well, P.P.P. received one lick last week, which represents at least a quorum, and the retraction is presented herewith.

There ARE some good songs out, and new ones at that, thank you. For instance, Strike Me Pink from the show, so they say on the Columbia Broadcasting System) of the same name. And The Grass Is Getting Greener Every Day, which is not a view of anything, but the name of another ditty. Then there is the one about When The Sun Rides The Moon Goodnight, and another called Valley of the Moon. Incidentally, the sweetest melody of the season answers to the name of Hiawatha's Lullaby. Yes, it's a gala season after all.

End Apology dept.

Eddie Cantor is taking a vacation from the Chase and Sanborn radio hour . . . but will be back in the fall . . . Aside from summer economy on the sponsor's part, the theory is that absence makes the heart of audience grow fonder . . . Bert Lahr will step into the program next Sunday with five writers to help him . . . and all radio schedules will move up one hour on our clocks the same day, when Daylight Time descends on the country . . . Not to get technical, at all, but the schedules will actually remain the same, while standard time localities will time

TRUNKS
CALLED FOR The City Transfer Co.
PHONE 299 TAXI

Shappy
Curb
Service

RENDZVOUS BAR-B-Q
No. 2

Eating Directory

THE PLACE TO GET WHAT YOU WANT
The Whistling Kettle
On Lyman Ave.

Pewter Pitcher
Club Breakfast
Lunch - Dinner
A la carte
Phone 154-J

Eat at Shorty's and enjoy food that You'd Get At Home
NOACK & HALL

is an hour later than usual. . . .
Oh yes, another orchestra . . .
Guy Lombardo will be at The Dells in Chicago during the Fair . . .
Paul Waring has reserved his Old Gold Wednesday night contract for another 12 weeks . . . Rumor has it that Chesterfield is now at Columbia and will not return to that network in the fall . . . reasons given as suspected discrimination in charges between clients . . .
namely, Camel and Chesterfield
. . . And that new twist on the CBS by-line, which was so deftly hinted at a paragraph or two ago
"This is the COLUMBIA Broadcasting System" . . . is, as you suspected, that way by executive order.

And the new pictures (What,
that again?) are pretty nice sounding
. . . The long heralded Dinner
At Eight was finally released as of the 15th inst, and will be abroad soon; Jean Harlow's last, Red-headed Woman, or something like that, was such a box-office wreck that a sequel, with Clark Gable appearing, is on tap—tentative title,
Red-haired Woman in Paris.

Speaking of box-office receipts, Carnegie took in over $200,000 in one week at Radio City, plenty handy for this kind of a season, and a film-record for the house. Charles (Nero, Dr. Moresco, and "David and the Deep") laughter is all set for two more pictures, the first of which is to be Hangman's Whip;
the second is still under consideration.

And then, reading rapidly from top to down, Gold Diggers of 1933 with 13 stars and just lots of publicity . . . James Cagney in Picture Snatcher with the long-absent
Alice White . . . George Ar-chilles in The Working Man . . . Ruth Chatterton is Lily Turner, with George Brent . . . So a Glass, with guests who?—Buddy Rogers and Marion Nixon . . . Hold Me Tight brings James Dunn and Sally Eilers back together . . . and Elton Landy comes out with The Warrior's Husband, an up-to-date comedy about female traveling salesmen and farmer's sons . . . more thrills Below The Sea with Ralph Bellamy . . . and, of all people, Richard Dix returns crashes through with India Speaks.

Radio is wonderful, and if you
(Continued From Page 2)

Periodic Inspection will save you needless delays and expense

Drive in today for a complete inspection of your car.
Complete lubrication service.
Battery and Electrical Service.
Manfield and Kelly
Tires.
Washing, Polishing, and Simenizing.
Repair Service for all cars.
Texas Gas and Oils.
Delco Batteries.
A. C. Fuel Pump Service and Parts.

CITY STORAGE GARAGE
PHONE 74

CERVANTES DAY IS CELEBRATED

Spanish Club Representatives
Attend Luncheon

A Cervantes Day luncheon was attended by representatives of Spanish clubs and societies in Tampa, Jacksonville, St. Augustine and other Florida cities. Speakers included President Hamilton Holt, Professor Alfred J. Hanna, and Professor Evelyn Newman, of Rollins; Dr. Albert Shaw, editor of "Review of Reviews"; Mrs. E.
Cassio, president of Spanish Club of Jacksonville; Jean Parker of the Rollins Spanish Club of St. Augustine; Renee Don Joseph Alvarez Sola, of the Spanish Club of Tampa; Shastan Algor of Lea Pinar, the honorary fraternity of students of Spanish at the University of Florida; Rose Zander, president of Phi Beta Sigma, Spanish honorary society of Florida State College for Women; Edna Delaney, of the Spanish Club of the University of Tampa; Marjorie Jody, of the Spanish Club of Daytona Beach High School; Charles West of the Spanish Club of Winter Park
High School; and Jessie B. Rittenhouse, Miss Annie Russell,
Frederic H. Sackett, Alice Landi
Hair, Helen Lamb, and Albert Val-des.

A program of Spanish songs was given by Senicita Fernandez, co-sultora agraria, of Tampa. Mrs.
Alice Landi Hair, daughter of Mrs.
Antonio G. Lamb, assistant professor of Spanish, was awarded the Cervantes Medal for submitting the best essay on "The Life and Works of Cervantes," in the annual contest for students in the Spanish Department of Rollins.
The medal is presented each year by the Spanish Institute of New York City.

An announcement from the Art
Studio states that the Japanese Prints Exhibit will continue until about the first of May. These prints have been placed on sale at the Studio.

"Iolanthe" Will Be Presented April 27, 28 By College Cast

(Continued From Page 1)

In the chorus of peers are Bill Woodhull, Kimmann Wright, Doris Berglund, Yvonne Aris-
tides, Stuart Eaton, James Tullie, Douglas Chalmers, Norris Clark,
John Applegate, and Charles So-lover.

Special rates for all college and school students and teachers are announced for the first production.
The second evening will be the date for regular subscription ticket holders and the general public of Central Florida.

THE WORLD VIEWED AT ROLLINS

By E.G.J.

(Continued From Page 1)

methods and poor living conditions during the period of detention were retracted when an Britaker could supply the court with one instance when the group had been subjected to mistreatment.

Summing up the trial at its close, the Prosecuting Attorney cited a "five year plan of sabotage" for which he claimed British interests and bribed Russian workers were responsible. "Great Britain would have punished them," he said, "more severely than the Soviet."

One British defendant, who had been exonerated by the prosecutor, was acquitted, three were expelled from the country, ordered to depart within three days and not to return within five years, while two were sentenced to prison for terms of two and three years, respectively.

Terms up to ten years were meted out to Russians adjudged guilty
by the Court.

Advertise in the Sandspur
For Results

CHAPEL SERVICE HELD ON SUNDAY

Former Director of Union
Addresses Undergraduates

As a part of the Sunday morning meditation service in the Knowles Memorial Chapel, the Cervantes Day speaker, Dr. John Barrett, delivered an address upon the subject "Cervantes and his worldwide influence."

After a few words of introduction by Dean Campbell, Dr. Barrett praised Rollins for its inspiring environment, fame, present and future greatness as gathered not only from what he learned in this country but also from his travels around the world. Dealing into the realm of Cervantes, well known to him from scores in all parts of the world, he expressed the opinion as typical of many of his acquaintances, namely that there was no author of greater influence in his life than Cervantes.

Drawing upon his experience in travel and diplomatic work throughout the world, he showed what a great influence Cervantes has been in the lives of many peoples. Dr. Barrett mentioned a few men and some groups with whom he was personally acquainted as some enthusiastic Cervantes admirers were Russians, Dr.
Barrett knew in Moscow, to peoples of the mountain country and pampas of South American including former President Roosevelt, the King of Spain, Chinese poten-tates, Emperor Wilhelm of Germany, the late Calvin Coolidge and many other world-famous people who are more familiar with Don Quixote than they are with the Bible. Great is the effort being made on the part of individuals and groups to stimulate a greater appreciation of Cervantes. They are receiving much co-operation throughout the world.

Reading from Cervantes, as translated by Gibson, Dr. Barrett brought to a close an address particularly impressive due in part to the speaker's world wide personal experiences which emphasize the Student Reviews Sproul's "Death and the Professor"

By H. L.

The main contention of the author is to prove that the Professor were forced to meet Death and not that they met it of their own accord, and just how successfully Mrs. Sproul fits the solution to this problem, to that degree is she successful in her latest mystery story "Death and the Professor."
Our first interest is in the humanness of the characters as the age-old question as to whether professors can be human beings is here answered in the affirmative. One gains the idea that the author lived harmoniously with her people and worked on them to such an extent that her imprint is felt, collectively and individually on the persons of the story.

The story is centered around the faculty of the small college of Danvers, although any name might have easily done as well for the setting used, where a new professor of criminal psychology is socially introduced to his colleagues at a small dinner party at the home of one of the members of the faculty. Here he is initiated into the inner circle of the college. The real action is started when the dead body of Professor Storm of the Physics Department falls out of a class after his death. He had apparently left before with another professor, Mr. Shearer. The two men had spent most of the evening in tense quarreling and the grading of the latter to the point of sudden departure was the work of his colleagues. While the action itself is not so swift, we are kept on the edge all the time except for the numerous occasions the supposed-professor, Detective Wilson, has to spend in eating and sleeping.
Some how these last actions of the hero become as frequent that at times they jump out at me in every chapter. While the unravelling is clever, still to my way of thinking, there seems to be lacking a finesse of detail which would importance of celebrating the birth of the great and widely influential author.

make for a smoother and more intended piece of work. I believe that there is a variety of evidence for every kind of work and should not be omitted in writing detective stories unless the writer desires to appear amateurish rather than a real professional in the field.

I don't believe it is necessary to go into details as to the working out of the plot of the story, for who wants to read a mystery story when all the nice grey details are explained beforehand?
Besides I belong to the "I will tell the end" club, so to one can get the secret out of me. Everyone will have to get the book and read it for himself.

As I mentioned previously, the character sketches are well drawn and especially that of Dick Wilson, the detective who solves the crime so miraculously. The quest and friend of the professor, Dr. Eric Dietrich, adds much to the story as do the several "New England" old maid to whom we become quite attached. The picture of the butler-wait, Manners, is too indefinite to make much of an impression, although at times one believes that he might Manners as a real person. The women of the story are particularly well done, we might mention the assistant in the physics lab, Miss Mc-Sorley, and the wife of Professor Shearer, Lillian Shearer, as our outstanding examples. Other people meet us on our way through and do much to make our stay pleasant.

On the whole we are entertained,
but not overwhelmed; interested,
but not baffled; amused, but not hilarious, as moderation seems to be the word, throughout the book.
The author seems to be afraid of letting herself go although she never hesitates to suggest a liberation of all "suppressed desires" on the part of her actors. Consequently we feel her restraint everywhere. The finish was there, but not apparently motivated to any great degree, perhaps because of the lack of finish in regard to minor details.

TURKISH TOBACCO
comes to this country in bales.
The leaves are small and tightly packed. Each bale contains about 40,000 leaves.

DOMESTIC TOBACCO is stored in large wooden hogheads. Each hoghead contains about 1000 pounds of tobacco.

A flavor that neither possesses alone

Early in the 17th century, tobacco seed from America was taken to Turkey. Different soil, different climate, different temperatures night and day, and different farming methods produced an entirely new tobacco—small in size, but very rich and aromatic.

Four certain spots are famous for the quality of their Turkish tobacco — Xanthi and Cavalla in Greece; Samosun and Smyrna in Turkey. And it is principally from these places that our buyers get the Turkish for Chesterfield.

These Turkish tobaccos are blended, in just the right amount, with Domestic tobaccos. It is this blending and cross-blending of just the right amount of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos which gives Chesterfield a flavor that neither possesses alone.

Chesterfield

—the cigarette that's Milder
—the cigarette that Tastes Better

Rollins Sandspur

Published Weekly By Students Of Rollins

Established in 1894 with the following editorial: "Unassuming yet mighty, sharp and pointed, well-rounded yet many-sided, astoundingly yet not too energetic as its name implies, victorious in single combat and therefore without a peer, wonderfully attractive and extensive in circulation: all these will be found upon investigation to be among the extraordinary qualities of the Sandspur."

Members of United Press
Member Winter Park Chamber of Commerce
Telephone 271-W

Entered as second class matter November 24, 1925, at the post office at Winter Park, Florida, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 26, 1933

Editor-in-Chief Doris Lang
Editor for this week Mary Butler Longest

EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT

Asst. and Managing Editor, George Barber
Assistant Managing Editor Ruth Hart
Asst. Managing Editor Reginald Clough

NEWS DEPARTMENT

News Editor Ruth Jeanne Bellamy

SOCIETY DEPARTMENT

Society Editors Jeanne Carter
Olivia Dickson
Assistant Jane Wellhoff

SPORTS DEPARTMENT

Sports Editor Bernard Bralove
Assistant Editor Richard Camp
Extra-mural Sports Editor Milford Davis

FEATURE DEPARTMENT

Feature Editor Victoria Bedford
Assistant Martha Davenport, Gordon Jones, Duke Wellington.

COPY DEPARTMENT

Copy Editor Esther Earle
Assistant Janet Gilroy

PROOF DEPARTMENT

Proof Editor Holley Lysly
Assistant Virginia Howell, Jean Parker, Betty Chapman.

REPORTERS

James Govey, Estelle Long, Mary Butler Longest, Dorothy Shepard, Isabel Berrin, David Boche, Betty Chapman, Mary Kay Huffman, Jean Jackson, Melly Marginita, Rob-Ray Mize, A. H. Whitford.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

Business Manager Robert Barker
Circulation Managers—Jack Hovden, Robert Stuffleben.

ADVERTISING STAFF

James H. Ottaway Adm. Commissioner
Mary Butler Longest, Betty Currier, T. J. Morris, Representatives.

Editorials

HOW ABOUT SOME SPIRIT?

The student opinion letter of last week concerning the Rollins social program brought up an old question that has been raised and discussed at great length among different groups.

We agree that Rollins students would perhaps be better off and would spend their evenings in a less "stupid" manner if there were college dances more often and if the student body would attend them. However, frequent dances can't be held for only a select few to have a good time. It takes money to give a dance and that is something that is not very plentiful at present. A great many feel that Kappa Kappa is not a pleasant or suitable place to hold a dance, and to hire the Woman's Club or any other place is an expense, and a very great one for only the minority of the students who attend. In the letter the student admitted that even the small informal dances some of the fraternities have given had to be abandoned because they were not even attended by many of the members who usually give enthusiastic support to anything attempted by their organization.

To have a successful all-college dance it is necessary for each person to ask someone else and all the college to be there and show some spirit and enthusiasm so that everybody there will have a good time and will really want more dances to follow.

If this spirit could be aroused throughout the student body perhaps, in the words of the author of the letter, "the students and administration would WAKE UP," and more college dances could be had.

THE "Y" WILL BE MISSED

Judging from the spirited letter that appeared in last week's paper, there is at least one student on campus who is interested in a new kind of Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. and is somewhat disturbed over the fact that they have been abolished. If we were to inquire further we should probably find more of the same opinion.

These organizations have in the past been of value to the college, and have proved themselves especially beneficial to the new freshman. Their purpose was to promote friendliness among the students, and to be of assistance when and wherever needed. We think that it might even come under the work of the Y. M. C. A. to act as a welcoming committee to visiting athletic teams and representatives, the need of which was discussed in the editorial of last week.

One thing that was always a help to the new students, and was also looked forward to by the old ones was the annual Y Mixer. What will take its place next year? We hope there will be something.

The "Y. M." and "Y. W." did much that was helpful to the students, such as caring for the sale of second-hand books, etc., and many will miss it, but it was abolished because there were not enough efficiently interested in it to carry it on. If, however, a new interest is aroused and the students wish it to be re-established, we feel confident it will be.

LET'S TALK ABOUT BEER. WHY NOT?

(Written at the request of the editor)
Let's talk about beer. Why not?

Our national congress has spent a great amount of time approving and disapproving this intoxicating beverage; every state legislature is now endeavoring to make that issue their pet "hobby through lobby" for weeks to come and everybody in the country is saying something about the new 3.2% legislation.

The Men's Student Government Association at Swarthmore recently passed the following legislation for their college campus: "No man shall bring liquor on the campus under any circumstances." The college paper at that institution, "The Phoenix," editorially condemned this action in their April 11 issue.

When our Florida senate finally passes beer legislation (perhaps it has been passed as the Sandspur goes to press), what will Rollins do? Will the administration ban beer on the Rollins campus? Will our student association through the council pass such a measure as is in force at Swarthmore?

Of course, the possibility of such a rule here is all problematical. Beer hasn't been legalized in Florida as we write. Rollins has not had to face the problem of legal intoxicating liquors.

On the other hand the college has had to deal with bootleg beer and other intoxicating drinks. Because such drinks were illegal by law, neither the administration nor the student association found any need for openly considering the matter.

As a matter of fact beer and other liquor flowed on campus just as if there were no national law against it. Rollins was no exception in this. Beer was and still is easy to get in Winter Park. And there still is lots of shills. Last year it was sold even across from Spennell Hall for a short time, and a college dormitory was on one side of the "dispensary," a minister's home on the other side and another minister's home across the street. The preacher got wise, and the "joint" was closed. Yet it did operate for a time.

This is no condemnation of Rollins, for the same situation exists where prohibition is still in full force in every part of the country today. We personally are not strong for beer, but prohibition as it has existed surely has been almost a 100% failure.

Apparently the administration felt there was no necessity for any open rule preventing students from taking liquor on campus—to their rooms or in fraternities. It has been done, of course, even though the assumption of the college administration has been that students are to obey the laws of the land including prohibition.

No doubt Swarthmore is no different from Rollins if they are like other campuses of American colleges and universities. Yet under the old order evidently their student government association felt it was not necessary to condemn possession of liquor or beer. Probably students had it just the same like hundreds of the rest of our countrymen.

To get back to what Rollins will do when beer is legal in Florida.

We hope the administration and the student association will do NOTHING in the way of restrictive regulations. The situation, as we view it, will be no different from what it has been the past few years, and moderate drinkers, just as in any college, have been allowed to remain while sons, we hope, have been boozed.

The White House is to serve beer, according to Mrs. Roosevelt, because it is legal.

Surely the college will need no special regulations other than those which now prevail in regard to common decency and honorable conduct.—J.H.O.

OTHER EDITORIALS

DO YOU THINK FREELY?

The new famous Scottsboro case is a challenge to every intellectually awakened Southerner, particularly the Southern women. This widely significant and far too little understood case is calling the attention of the world to focus on Alabama. There is no getting away from the fact that the burden of proof is on the South today, and as regards justice, on Alabama. It is the duty of, and the crying necessity for college girls, who far more than non-scholastic groups, are in a position to learn to be open to all happenings, to think clearly and freely on this and other important issues. History is being made today. It is a great privilege to live in times when even great fundamentals of civilization seem to be shifting. The very principles for which America stands, those of equality, justice, and the sanctity of English law are being threatened. The hideous and degrading forces of prejudice and narrow-mindedness are taking a toll which we as college students should help to eradicate and overcome, insofar as the blessings of education enable us. It is up to us as the new generation of teachers, mothers, and leaders, to spread the freedom of new thought and open-mindedness, and to quell the insidious dangers of darkness and untruth which threaten our culture and our glorious heritage of liberty and justice to all.

From The Alabamian.

BOOKS

By H. ALLEN SMITH
United Press Book Editor

"Rain in the Doorway" is the name of Thomas Smith's new novel, because that's the way it begins—with Mr. Hector Owen standing in a doorway while rain pelted the sidewalk at his feet. Immediately thereafter Mr. Owen embarks upon an adventure which, at points, becomes quite shocking.

He is taken in as a fourth partner in a large department store—a store where fat ladies who criticize the slacks were promptly set upon and ripped fairly to shreds. Furthermore, it is a store where large quantities of drugs are consumed, where the Demon Sex travels rampant, and where Thomas Smith finds room to unleash his satirical arrows against certain phases of contemporary American civilization.

Smith has been variously called the "American Kahlil Gibran," and "the funniest man now writing." His new book contains his share of laughs and will be in the best seller lists. It is published by Doubleday-Dorson.

Another satirist with a more conservative sense of humor is Gustav Eckstein, biographer of Nietzsche. He has written a powerful and sweeping satire on the American passion for organization in "Kettle" (Harper).

It is a novel about music and one musician in particular—Vladimir Munch, a pianist who is persecuted by an "angel" to join him in an "immense plan." This plan necessitates giving up his concert work and composition in order to take part in planning the erection of a huge musical center in New York. Before the enterprise is finished the pianist realizes there is no place for him in its general scheme and he leaves later there is really no place for music.

He resigns from the "Lycium" but it is too late, for his health and career are ruined. Eventually, however, he "finds" himself, becomes a kettle-drum player in an orchestra and composes a great symphony. You should enjoy Eckstein's style of writing.

Much has already been said about "The Werewolf of Paris," by Guy Endors (Farrar and Rinehart). This is a horror story of the first rank without, however, employing suspense as a means of shocking the reader. It is the story of Bertrand Caillat, the strange circumstances surrounding his birth, the manner in which he lived, and the tragedy of his death. Bertrand was a werewolf even in childhood. Endors, who has written biographies of Camille and Jeanne d'Arc, has made a painstaking study of his subject and presents his material in an enlightening as well as entertaining form. While retaining the essential qualities of good fiction, it is, at the same time, almost a case book on werewolves.

Stefan Zweig undoubtedly reached the height of biographical insight in his admirable work on Joseph Fouché. His newest volume, on Marie Antoinette, whom he pictures as an ordinary woman who became an instrument of fate, is of lesser degree. It is, nevertheless, an interesting story, enlightening in the new material it presents. Although not as sharply cut a portrait as that of Fouché, it will not detract from the profound admiration in which Zweig held Fouché.

Zweig publishes from many modern biographies, not only by giving himself free rein for imaginative faculties, but by his painstaking attempt to assign psychological reasons to his subjects' actions. He is the psychiatrist among biographers, and perhaps for this reason he comes closer to the truth than many of them.

An entire chapter, for example, in Marie Antoinette deals with the ingenuity of the dauphin during his early married life. From the physical facts he adorns, Zweig carries the subject into the realm of psychological reactions upon Marie Antoinette's character and habits. In this case, Zweig is the doctor—the diagnostician—cold, calm, precise, conducting a public clinic.

The true relationship between Marie and her later-life lover, Axel Fersen, are given a proper part in the tragedy of Marie Antoinette perhaps for the first time. But here, since most of the documentary evidence was ruthlessly destroyed by Fersen's descendants, Zweig has been forced to rely upon deduction. Nevertheless, his deduction is always plausible.

JUST HUMANS

By GENE CARR

An Example

STUDENT OPINION

To the Editor:

In reply to the Student Opinion letter submitted by "A Student," and criticizing the Y. M. C. A. as it is operated at Rollins it might be said that the author was very obviously laboring under a hopelessly warped understanding of the existing conditions which surround this organization.

He stated that the Y. M. C. A. is not necessarily a religious group and that at Rollins it should "primarily foster spirit and good feeling," following this he contradicted himself and lamented the supposition that student church attendance had fallen off due to the unattractive conduct of the Y. M. C. A.

It is evident that he failed to consider that every student attending Rollins is automatically a Y. M. C. A. member when he has paid the Student Association fee, as the organization is supported by this fund and not by dues or subscription which would limit membership. If he is the live wire his bitter might or might not be intended to suggest, why has he remained in college for two terms and stayed quietly in the background without in any way making a previous attempt at improvement?

It might also be interesting to become familiarized with the evidence upon which he based the alarming assertion that "the spirit of co-operation and loyalty to the highest aims and ideals of the college were being undermined." As far as may be seen by the casual observer, this complaint has not caused the panic that the writer took for granted it had. It was stated that the Rollins campus spirit was doomed to oblivion in the event that the Y. M. C. A. could not be reorganized but failed to substantiate this remark by any constructive suggestions. And it might be added that this lack of constructive criticism characterized the entire letter. Lack of information and an outlet for some prejudice seem to be the strongest points.

May it be suggested here that in the future when some one considers himself as having sufficient cause, and justified in taking the time to write a student opinion letter that he make the slight additional exertion necessary to furnish something constructive rather than ignorantly destructive.

A ROLLINS STUDENT.

Winter Park, Florida,

April 20, 1933.

To the Editor:

In the last Sandspur a letter appeared in which a remark was made concerning the Sophomore Freshman dance. Perhaps if the student knew some of the facts of the case, he or she would not be quite so blithe in suggesting that each class have a separate dance by assessing each member of said classes one dollar.

In the first place there have been called five meetings of the Sophomore class. At one of these meetings not one person out of the one hundred and twelve members arrived, and at the other four, not over thirty persons attended. If the students of Rollins College can not give up five or ten minutes of their valuable, self-centered time, it does not seem quite plausible that they would give up anything material. It also appears quite obvious without having to mention it that one has to consider the chances of getting money to run a dance before taking definite steps in that line.

I agree with last week's letter that we do need more social functions, but I contend that it is impossible with the delightfully blasé group of would-be intellectuals that we have here. It certainly makes one lose a considerable amount of admiration for the student body.

A STUDENT.

Rollins Seniors

Robert Currie

Bob Currie, another warbler, arrived on this spinning sphere in Philadelphia back in 1900. He graduated from the Episcopal Academy in Philadelphia as the Class Poet. After spending two years working in the hard, cruel world, Bob came to Rollins to try out college life. He is a member of the Rollins Glee Club and the Rollins Male Quartet. Dramatics have been one of Bob's major interests and he has seen service in several productions. "The Admirable Crichton," "Eden's Husband," "Philip Goes Forth," and "Holiday" are the principal ones to date.

Bob will graduate as an Old Plat Student with a B. A. degree in English.

John George Fischer

On March 3, 1911, there was born into this world a boy destined to become great even before his college days were over. This boy grew up and became adept at grapefruit dodging, but that is another story.

Further down a Cleveland street on that same night John George Fischer was born. The story is often told of how the infant Jack looked up into his father's eyes and distinctly said, "Da, da, my I have the car tonight." The kind father consented and permitted the younger Fischer a motorcycle if he would not smoke cigars until he was two years old. A varied career of horse-dodging, water-repairing, and hall-dodging, followed and culminated in his entering college. Some affirm that he was mistaken in his enrollment and should have gone to the other side of the lake. Besides being active in football, the Spanish Club and Theta Kappa Xi, this future poet produced one masterpiece, "Dada, I love you, Dada," a sentimental poem about a girl named Dada.

His college days almost over, the youthful Jack will look about for new worlds to conquer.

It is a well known fact that rain makes things wet and so we reluctantly write "finis" to John George Fischer—the boy who never owned an umbrella.

Edwin Libbey

Edwin Libbey, "The Rollins Songbird," first saw light of day in Bedford, Ohio. He attended the Lakeside High School and from there came to Rollins in 1929. "Ed" entered right into the spirit of things at Rollins and joined the Glee Club and the Kappa Phi Sigma fraternity during his first year. "Ed" avid interest in music is clearly demonstrated by his presidency of the Glee Club, and his membership in the Rollins Male Quartet and the A Cappella Choir.

(Continued on Page 5)

Exchange Items

NEED WE KICK

For years and years various political parties have been expounding on the idea of really doing something toward Sunday movies. Sunday tennis and in general a sensible viewpoint on Sunday recreation. It is almost safe to bet that we will be drinking beer on the campus before enough sensible people make up their minds there is nothing sacrilegious about Sunday movies or tennis.

To prove our point we need only mention that in vivid old Tallahassee the theatres are open on Sunday and FSWC students have been given the privilege of attending. They have been playing Sunday tennis on the FSWC campus for quite some time.

Florida Alligator.

THE WEEK BEFORE

Tulane Does Care For Beer
Beer's probable return "don't mean a thing" to Tulane students, a survey of the campus this week showed. Tulane is divided on the question into three groups.

The first is a class of total abstainers who would not drink beer if it was given away free. Students who like beer when they decide to go on a "social drink" form the second group; but they are satisfied with that obtained at the nearby speakeasy. The third group reports that 82 per cent beer will never satisfy them when they can make home brew much stronger.

THE WEEK AFTER

Beer Itself Makes Liars of Tulanians
Tulane students were not interested in beer, didn't care if it did come back, and only wanted a last survey taken before April 13 showed. But its reception, both on that day and since, has found the same students "putting the lie" to their predictions, by "putting away plenty" of the beverage.

WATCH YOUR VOCA- BULARY!

The result of the alleged vote as to "what girls we would like best to date if we could have our pick" was:

Chorus girls 238, Waitresses 197, nurses 142, photographers 131, teachers 97, musicians 56, pickups 22, College for Women 1.

Alabama Crimson & White.

WHEN IS A CHAUFFEUR NOT A CHAUFFEUR?

The University of Maine debaters engaged the college dining room of Orono College for their evening meal after a debate with Urisma. One of them asked if their chauffeur could eat there. The questioner inquired of a well known dining room hostess whether it would be all right for the driver to eat at her table after she finished. Whereupon the hostess rose indignantly from her chair and exclaimed "I would not be degraded by eating with a chauffeur. Take him out in the waiters' dining room where he belongs. The 'chauffeur' happened to be a senior from Maine and a Phi Beta Kappa too.

Swarthmore Phoenix.

AMERICAN GIRLS STILL LIKE TEACHING

New York, April 20.—(AP)—Teaching is still the favorite profession of American girls, according to a poll taken recently by the Girl Scouts.

Of 10,475 girls between the ages of 11 and 18 interviewed by the organization, 9,302 said they expected to support themselves. Sixty-four per cent of them wanted professional careers, and the majority planned to become teachers. Nursing came second in popularity in a list which included writing, dancing, window dressing, interior decorating, newspaper work and acting in the movies.

Alabama Crimson & White.

THE RED HAIR MEN

It strikes us as being rather amusing—all these young college men tearing around the old Alabama with very heated hair. We understand that the Phi Psi has adopted this method of marking their pledges so that they could find them easily, but a number of people around here thought that it was the return of the henna-hair of last year, and now, instead of less than a dozen henna-haired youth, we have seen no less than two dozen of the red haired tribe frolicking over the campus.

North Texas Teachers' College, The Campus Chat.

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

HART ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED TODAY

Brooklyn Student To Marry James H. Ottaway

Miss Mary Blackburn Woodard, of Brooklyn, New York, announced the engagement of her sister, Ruth Blackburn Hart, to James H. Ottaway, of Port Huron, Michigan.

Miss Hart, a graduate of Packer Collegiate Institute, Brooklyn, is a senior at Rollins. Coming to Rollins in her junior year, she became a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Later she joined the Women's Institute Association and was elected to membership in the Key Society, honorary Rollins scholastic organization. In 1931-32 Miss Hart was a reporter on the Sandspur, and this year she has been assistant managing editor.

Mr. Ottaway, a senior, came to Rollins in the fall of 1930, a transfer student from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. In 1931-32 he was editor of the Sandspur, and this year he has been assistant managing editor.

Phi Ma Has Dance At Sorority House Tuesday, April 18

Tuesday evening the Phi Ma Sorority entertained in honor of Miss Charlotte Dunn who is visiting Rollins and Miss Leah Jean Bartlett with a combined informal dance and birthday party. The house was decorated in rose and white petunias and roses, the color of the fraternity. During the evening the birthday cake with sixteen candles was presented to Miss Leah Jean Bartlett after which refreshments of cake, doughnuts and punch were served to the guests. Mrs. Edith Sackett and Mrs. J. E. Bartlett acted as chaperones.

Among those present were: Ruby Dora, Eliza Winslow, Leah Mervin, Eliza Hildebrandt, Marion Barrett, Virginia Dunn, Dorothy Beck, Mildred Moore, Dorothy and Kathleen Shepherd, Harriet Bessing, Bertha Jennings, Jane Marshall, and their escorts.

Pi Phi To Give Benefit Bridge

On Saturday, May 4, Pi Phi Pi fraternity will hold their annual benefit bridge party at the chapter house. Proceeds of which will go to the Pi Phi Phi Settlement School in Gardnerville, Tenn. It is hoped that both senior and non-senior girls will take this opportunity to help an organization that has done so much for the past twenty years contributing to, and encouraging the education and wilderness training of the mountain.

Spanish Club Meets With Miss Russell

On last Wednesday evening at 7:30, the Spanish Club met at the home of Miss Annie Russell. All members gave their reports and that plans were made for the Cervantes Day program. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening. The Spanish Club wishes to thank Miss Russell for her hospitality.

The next meeting will be Wednesday at 7:30, at the home of Dr. Rogers.

Kathleen Knowlton spent the weekend in St. Petersburg with her family.

For Economy and Convenience Visit Our Life Counter The Undersellers, INC.

ROLLINSANIA

Rugged individual scores against bookish that nothing gives the soul a greater feeling of independence and liberty than to be allowed to go to the polls occasionally and pretend they are having a hand in the affairs of the government, the Student Council last week instituted what will be known in the future as "Voting Week," or "Clock and Double-clock," in a very magnanimous attempt to give every eligible candidate on campus a shot at the vice-presidency of the Student Body. Everybody but the eight watchmen was on the ballot, and is, consequently, the only person on campus who is satisfied with the entire affair. As for the Student Council, that august body is still trying to discover the ingenious method by which it can be made to be a politician who stuffed 24 extra votes for Cadmore into the ballot box. Said gentleman might as well have tied them all together as deposit them in the manner in which they were found. Even Bill Miller could tell it was phony. He says so himself.

Well, after all is said and done, there's nothing like a good, clean all-college election to promote that much-debated spirit of good-will, friendship, and co-operation for which Rollins stands. No sir, there's nothing better than that feeling of comradeship and brotherhood on campus more than these annual spring festivities. "Congratulations," exclaims the Sandspur, from the editorial page of last week's issue. "The steady side of campaigning is now eliminated. There is little bitterness, and hard feeling, politics and propaganda anyone?"

Sounds just like a bit of Christmas, rare greeting. We'd hate to see one of the old-time campaigns!

It certainly did one's heart good to see supporters of the rival factions mingling with each other in the voting hall, and one or two of the more amiable persons were actually seen talking to members of another fraternity. And it was likewise a joy to behold well-wishers of each member of the fraternities was to his own group, as the different organizations came to the polls and voted in a body, proving how the various members agreed in tastes, opinions and ideas. Which all goes to prove, there's nothing like individualism. Remember the old Greek adage: "Never turn your back on a fraternity brother. He may knifely you!"

It's going to be an awful let-down for the Student Body if they have to suddenly stop voting now. Why, it was one of the most fascinating indoor sports so far instituted here. Why not have weekly voting bees, on subjects like, "Is strawberry ice cream more beneficial to the growing student than chocolate?" or "Is the mollusk really a menace to modern civilization?" This is the sort of stuff which builds leaders. In fact, the majority of the leaders are actually sufficed with just this sort of stuff. We could vote for most anything, in fact, and not have to worry about it. We'd always need another ballot, or a recount, or something.

Even the administration has caught the fever, sending out a questionnaire to the classrooms Saturday, which, if answered by the rest of the college in the same manner as a few we ran across, will surely destroy some kindly old man's faith in human nature. Lord knows how many homicide and parricide would go through life undiscovered if it weren't for these machine intelligence tests. Give one of these questionnaires to the dumbest scholar in the class, Al Stoddard, for instance, and he instantly becomes the college wit, filling in the blanks with an unholily gleam which smacks of nothing short of a sort of suppressed anti-smile. The executioners of the Spanish Inquisition probably ripped out limbs and vertebrae with the same zeal and spirit.

Tomorrow and Friday night, music and dramatic art lovers of the community will have the opportunity to hear the Rollins Glee Club members Gilbert and Sullivan's opera "Iolanthe," at the Annie Russell Theatre. The story concerns itself with the remarkable tale of a fairy's fall from grace, and the extraordinary results of her moment of weakness, which was unusually human, even for a fairy. The show is packed full of fun and frivolity, with some fine choruses work sandwiched in between. Some bright-eyed lad remarked that Rollins was certainly following the most modern trends in dramatics, since he understood that in New York they were putting on Pearl Buck's "The Good Earth" with a real Chinese cast. Of course, we don't quite get the meaning, but since everybody laughed, we pass it on to you. Anyhow, it'll be a fairly good show. (My God. Don't shoot. I'll stop!)

In an endeavor to publicly clear myself of any suspicion concerning the more thirty-add young females I was seen escorting about campus Saturday, allow me to say they were the Laka Wales Glee Club. The girls were most interested in Plot's snafus and his skunk, the few said they'd just as soon talk to Ralph Tourtellotte who was communing with himself on the back steps of Chase Hall. Well, of course, there's no accounting for tastes!

Our big problem for next week is to try to discover who is on the other end of the Kappa Alpha telephone when Mr. David Washburn puts in his regular thirty-minute call every two hours. Any suggestions would be gratefully received!

Alumnae Senior Tea Held This Afternoon

The Annual Alumnae Senior Tea for the women of the senior class is being held this afternoon at the home of the Misses Clara and Louise Guild from 4 until 6 o'clock.

Assisting the hostesses in receiving are Miss Katherine Lewis and Miss Isabelle Green of the Rollins Alumnae Association Social Committee.

Book-a-Year Club

Is Sponsored by Rollins College

(Continued from Page 1)

"Here is a modest 'Living memorial' to the announcements suggests, 'that is open to everyone. Such a memorial will cost less, and will last longer than any marble shaft. It will also render an increasing service to humanity throughout the centuries.'"

As to the security of the endowment, the college announcement is equally reassuring. The membership fee of $10 is deposited in a special Trust Fund guarded by every known precaution, according to the announcement. In this way, the integrity of the fee and the entire fund is assured for ever. Only the income can be spent. At 5% each fee of $10 would earn annually $2.50 which will purchase at least one book, which at once becomes an active and useful part of the College Library.

Nancy Jane Cookman entertained the Kappa girls living at the chapter house at a breakfast on Tuesday morning at the Peachman House.

Portable Typewriters All Makes New and Used Convenient terms can be arranged.

Davis Office Supply Co. Orlando 29 E. Pine St. Florida

SPECIAL BOUQUETS for your room $25 LUCY LITTLE FLOREST

The Rollins Press Printers and Stationers

PARMLEY WINS POETRY PRIZE

Allied Arts Society Awards For Art, Poetry, Drama

At the meeting of the Allied Arts Society held last Thursday afternoon, the poetry awards for all competitions in art, poetry and drama were announced.

"Florida" by Dorothy Parmley was judged the best of the poems submitted to the Ponce de Leon contest. Jesse Blithenhouse, Richard, Dr. Newman and Dr. Fred Fawcett, as judges, also praised the poems submitted by Betty Calda, Nancy Reid, and Wallace Goldsmith.

Drama awards were won by Kathleen Sprell, for her play, "Able Goss to Heaven," and to Sterling Olmstead for "Silent Night."

Second place in the short story division was won by Mrs. Kathleen Sprell for "Lemon Pie." Sidney Carter received an honorable mention.

Awards in the art department were won by George Barber, Virginia Dunn, John Gehman, Elizabeth Richards and Audrey Chandler.

Blanche Georgine Fishback, Annie Higgins, George Barber, Cliff Turner, Victoria Bedford, Sally Elveston, Mary Kinser, Mary Jane McKay, Florence McCannan, Joan Igou, and Florence Romano received honorable mentions.

Kappas Plan Dance At Orange Court In Orlando On May 6

Delta Psi Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma announces final arrangements for its all-college dance to be given Saturday May 6th, in the main dining room of the Colonial Orange Court Hotel in Orlando.

The Triangle Rhythm Kings, a popular dance orchestra throughout the state, have been secured to furnish the music for the evening. The ten piece band will have many specialty numbers to feature at the dance.

Chaperones for the affair include Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sprell, Mrs. E. N. Gage, Mrs. Hagerty, Mr. Alan Torg, Mrs. Nell Lester and Mrs. J. L. Chaffee. The dance committee consists of La Georgia Newell, Blanche Fishback, and Sam Harbottle.

Rollins Key Society Initiates Sixteen

Sixteen juniors and seniors were initiated into the Rollins Key Society, last night, in a formal initiation, taking place at the Kappa Alpha Theta house.

The new members are: Thomas Johnson, Mary Butler Longest, George Barber, Betty Childs, Marylyn Rogers, Olive Dickson, William Montefiore, Ray Miller, Yvonne Aristakian, Dora Long, T. J. Morris, Betty Lynch, Katherine Goss, Ruth Hart, Burns Berglund and Thomas Van Buskirk.

The Alumnae Brunch for Senior Men scheduled for Wednesday, April 26, has been postponed until Friday, May 5.

Steve's Bar-B-Q Always Warm Inside Tasted sandwiches of all kinds Mexican Chili Midway between Orlando and Winter Park

For Graduation Gifts C. L. PRUYN The Winter Park Jeweler

ORLANDO STEAM LAUNDRY FRENCH DRY CLEANERS PHONE Orlando-3174 Winter Park-9188 SPECIAL STAINING DATES

Previews Postviews Plainviews

(Continued from page 2)

don't believe it you should have asked a lot of Dallas gentlemen last week. A few competing service stations equipped their respective wreckers with short-wave receiving sets, and tuned in on the police broadcasts. When an accident was reported over the air, all cars would switch about and tear for the scene of the smash-up, each trusting to luck and milliseconds that the business would be his.

Rollins Seniors

(Continued from Page 4)

Music is not "Ed's" only love however, for he is a member of the distinguished Rollins Players.

Beginning last year with a small part in "The Admirable Crichton," "Ed" worked his way up till he got the lead in "Bernie Square." Tennis, swimming and Chapel committees share equally in his remaining spare time.

"Ed" will graduate with a B.A. degree in English and he plans to continue in his study of music next year.

Daniel Costini

The year 1911 brought to this world, mundane sphere, the avowed incarnation in the person of Daniel Albert Costini, better known as "Denny." Deposited most appropriately in a basket, the promising babe proceeded at the age of one to conduct a series of crime-cross passes with his rattle, while at two he amused the world by hitting flies and crawling with all the adeptness of an Olympic star.

The Roosevelt High School, in Davenport, Ohio, and Broadus College in West Virginia claimed some of his earlier years but Rollins was his last.

Denny's activities while here include sports and more sports. He was named on the All-Conference Team in West Virginia in 1930 and while at Rollins in 1931 won honorable mention for S. I. A. A. Of course he's an R man.

As for the future . . . all we can say is cheerio and good luck!

Dorothy Shepherd

Dot is one of the few Southerners who doesn't mind confessions that she was born in Florida.

She began her college career at F. S. C. W. (Eddie Conradi's home on the hill) and transferred to Rollins at the beginning of her junior year. Her activities here include: Glee Club, Sandspur, International Relations Club, Studio Club, W. A. A., Cosmopolitan Club and Phi Mu.

Her greatest difficulties in college have been: Informing the world that her eyes have not always been green and assuring to Prof. Pierce for her Southern accent.

The advice that Dot wishes to impart to her fellow-students is, "Don't hurry 'cause when you get there you'll have to wait." And her word of wisdom to the opposite sex is, "When a girl tells you that you are different, you should know that she is not."

Gary's PHARMACY The Student's Store

Those new greens are ready for action!

Special Student Rates.

Winter Park Golf Club

The hitch came when two big-wigs began to notice that the wreckers had quite a time getting scrambled up with each other in their careless efforts to get there first, and that when somebody did win safe and sound, often the crashed-up car was hauled off while the owner lay unconscious, waiting for the ambulance.

Latest word indicates that city ordinances providing for the sad state of things will be created with proper despatch.

Women's Athletic Association Meets Thursday, April 20

A meeting of the W. A. A. was called Thursday, April 20, at 10 A. M., by its president, Jean Fullington.

The purpose of the meeting was primarily to discuss the continuance of the organization on campus. Of the three proposals made, first, to continue the W. A. A. as it now is; second, to continue it with a revised constitution; and third, to substitute for it a so-called R Club, R girls being members of its executive board, the second proposal found most favor.

Consequently, a committee composed of Mary Trubridge, Anne Jeanne Pencketer, Kay Hara, Alice Butler, Mary Rose Jarrell, and Mary Lynn Rogers, was appointed with Jean Fullington acting in an advisory capacity, to make a draft of a revised constitution to be presented to the organization upon completion.

At this meeting the W. A. A. took in four new members: Jane LeRoy, Victoria Pierce, Katrina Knowlton, and Anne Jeanne Pencketer.

Kappa Phi Sigmas Have House Dance

Members of Kappa Phi Sigma were hosts to an informal house dance Friday evening, April 21.

Chaperones present included: Mrs. Belle K. Russell, Mrs. J. L. Chaffee, and Mrs. Ellen Apperson. Among the guests were: Marian Sprague, Alice Law Swan, Dorothy Parmley, Colin Gray, Mary Jane McKay, Betty Trever, Victoria Bedford, Betty Koling, Mary Virginia Taylor, Bill Davies, R. Brown, and Benny Elliot.

Advertise in the Sandspur For Results

The Flora Studio FOR "Mother's Day" MAY 8 Your Photograph Will Make Her Happy Special Prices to Students Phone 7495 215 S. Orange Ave.

The Flora Studio FOR "Mother's Day" MAY 8 Your Photograph Will Make Her Happy Special Prices to Students Phone 7495 215 S. Orange Ave.

BEAUTY SECTION

Let us give you a shampoo and wave. We use quick and effective dryers. Eda's Beauty Shop Phone 65

The Harper Method SHOP

Scientific Care of Hair Waving, Fading, Manicuring 205 E. Park Ave. Phone 211-R

Advertise in the Sandspur For Results

Recital Given In Theatre By Faculty Of Conservatory

The Rollins Conservatory of Music presented at the Annie Russell Theatre, Friday evening, a recital by members of the faculty.

Miss Moore gave the following program:

Rhapsody, Op. 119, No. 4, by Beethoven. Impromptu, Op. 36, by Chopin. Movement, by Debussy. Mr. Dougherty, who sang the following selections, was accompanied by Mrs. Dougherty: Die Maennchen, by Beethoven. Quella Soffocante, by Leonardo.

Blue Ave Her Eyes, by Walla. Tally-Ho, by Leonel. Miss Moore, Miss Cox, Mr. Clemens, Mr. Berglund and Mr. Spaul rendered some selections by Frank.

The program was a delightful one and there was an appreciative audience present.

Kappa Phi Sigma announces the pledging of James L. Tullis last Monday night.

Read The Sandspur

Spears' BABY GRAND Theatre

Wednesday & Thursday The Daring of Broadway Mae West gives a hot time to the nation in "She Done Him Wrong" with Cary Grant

Friday & Saturday WILLIAM POWELL and KAY FRANCIS never more pleasing than in "One Way Passage"

COMING TUESDAY Marjorie Rameau Eddie Quillan Dorothy Jordan "Strictly Personal"

IN SALE—This ad and one regular paid admission plus one cent will admit two audience or night—Tuesday only.

Coming Wednesday GEORGE ARLESS in "The King's Ransom"

Ballyhoo Sandals are making a big hit

They're definitely a favorite with smart young women. Shown in white and white with color contrasts.

$1.95 Footwear Second Floor YOWELL-DREW CO. ORLANDO

Mariam's Beauty Shop You'll enjoy life more if you look your best. 316 E. Park Ave. Phone 113

Andre's Beauty Salon Permanent Waves $5 and $7 Shampoo, Finishing Wave, Haircut, Manicure, Arch. Each $1.50 220 S. Main, Orlando Phone 3478

FLORIDA SWIMMING TEAM SUBDUES TARS IN DUEL MEET

K. A'S CINCH FIRST HALF OF DIAMOND BALL

Rollins Hall, Theta Kappa Nu
And X Club Wind Up In
Tie For Second Place

With the first half of the diamond ball season practically over and the old score sheet close at hand, it would seem as if the Kappa Alpha fraternity has taken another good hold on the intra-mural championship of the school, with a total of six wins and no defeats so far this season.

Starting the second week of play, the K. A. overwhelmed the Theta Kappa Nu team to the lopsided tune of 29-9, following which they wrecked all plans of the Rollins Hall squad by tripping them 19-6. The X Club provided a bit more stiff competition but the Kappa Alpha stick work was a bit too heavy, and the blue team found themselves on the wrong end of an 11-5 score. The most exciting game of the week almost provided a big upset, as the K. A. organization barely edged out a slim ocean victory over a vastly improved Theta Nu team, 9-8. With two out in the ninth inning and the Thetas two runs behind, a sharp double through second sent both base runners home, where the tying run was called out in a rather close decision, ending one of the best games of the league.

The Theta Kappa Nu's also put up a strong fight against the X Club, but fielding errors and bad pitching spelled defeat, 9-6. The X Club took another close one from Rollins Hall 10-9, after which the Rollins Hall team turned around and crushed the Theta Nu's 21-5, to close last week's play.

Standing of Teams	W	L	Ave.
Kappa Alpha	5	0	1.000
X Club	2	2	.500
Rollins Hall	1	2	.333
Theta Kappa Nu	0	4	.000

Batting Averages	Ab	R	H	Ave.
Peper	11	4	7	.036
Geo. Gansan	14	7	9	.313
Enck	14	4	7	.500
Harowitz	10	0	6	.500
Elliott	4	3	2	.500
Baker	2	2	1	.500
Carmody	15	5	7	.466
Gowdy	12	6	0	.401
Stevenson	22	10	10	.454
Child, Wally	11	6	0	.404
Washburn	20	7	9	.400
Carrison	21	11	9	.428
Hines	14	5	6	.428
Worley	14	4	4	.428
Wethersell	16	5	6	.400
Owen	10	5	4	.400
Robertson	10	2	4	.400
Childs, Bud	13	5	3	.384
Fawcett	6	5	3	.375
Sweet	11	3	4	.363
Gasson, C.	14	5	5	.357
Horton	20	8	7	.350
Schrago	20	10	7	.350
Fisher	12	7	4	.333
Senleaver	12	3	4	.333
Kuhns	6	4	2	.333
Stufflebeam	19	6	6	.315
Morrow	16	2	2	.300
Davis	7	2	2	.285
Cruger	16	10	5	.277
Durkes	11	2	3	.272
Newton	11	2	3	.272
Miller, B.	12	4	3	.250
Cooper	4	0	1	.250
Norse, S.	4	0	1	.250
Gehrman	4	0	1	.250
Todd	11	2	2	.181
Whalen	6	2	1	.166
Roberts	12	2	2	.153
Eaton	9	1	1	.111
Eastwood	11	1	1	.090
Colman	12	2	1	.076
J. Moore	9	1	0	.000
Parsons, Blue	5	1	0	.000
Ney	4	0	0	.000
Dunbar	4	2	0	.000
Bothe	2	1	0	.000
G. Smith	1	0	0	.000
Mize	1	2	0	.000
Brown	1	0	0	.000
Camp	1	0	0	.000

(Through April 22)
Please report any mistakes.

Advertise in the Sandspur
For Results

HERE SATURDAY

KATHERINE RAWLS

KATHERINE RAWLS TO PERFORM HERE

To Swim For Fort Lauderdale
In Rollins Water Meet

Two-headed fifteen-year old Katherine Rawls, marvel of the swimming world, will perform before the fans of Central Florida on Saturday, April 29, for the third successive year when she represents the Fort Lauderdale mermaid team in the Fourteenth Annual Interscholastic Water Meet at Rollins College.

A member of the United States Olympic swimming team in Los Angeles last summer, holder of several world's records, and national A. A. U. champion in spring board diving, the 360-yard breast stroke, the 250-yard breast stroke, and the 350-yard medley, the little Fort Lauderdale sensation has already acquired more than her share of titles and honors.

Georgia Coleman, whom Miss Rawls defeated to win the national spring board championship last summer, who in turn defeated Miss Rawls for the world's spring board diving championship in the Olympics a few weeks later, said recently that "Katherine Rawls is the greatest swimmer in the world right now."

Her record as a competitor during the past two years in the Rollins annual high school water meet seems like kindergarten stuff to this famous world-known star, but as a matter of record it should be mentioned that she has been the outstanding star of the Rollins meet the past two years, taking high point individual honors for girls in 1931 and tying with June Barr of Cecil Gables for high point honors last year. She holds the Rollins meet records in the 100-yard breast stroke, the 75-yard medley and 440-yard free style, and it has been due largely to her efforts that Fort Lauderdale girls have walked off with the girls' championship trophy these last two years.

Fleetwood Peoples, director of the Rollins Water Meet, has announced that about fifteen boys' teams and eight or ten girls' teams will enter this year's competition. Trophies, donated by Winter Park and Orlando business houses and organizations, will be awarded to the winning boys' and girls' relay teams, high point winners among boys and girls, as well as medals for the first three place winners in each of twenty events.

Pete Desjardins, former world's champion diver, himself a former competitor in the Rollins meet, will probably give diving exhibitions at this year's carnival, Peoples announced.

Rollins Ball Team To Meet So. Georgia State On Wednesday

The fast-stepping Rams of South Georgia State College for Men at Tifton, who have won ten games and lost only one this season, will play Rollins College Wednesday in the first of a series of two games.

The Rams, who are rated as one of the strongest college teams in the South, last lost to the Florida Gators last week for the first upset of the season. Up to the Florida game, they had been running through all kinds of opposition.

Coach Bob Evans will be facing a shortage of twirlers in the South Georgia series as he can depend only upon Standard to pitch a consistently strong game. A bright spot in the Rollins outlook, however, is the return of Dick Washington, fast-moving outfielder, to the game after an absence of several weeks due to illness. Washington's big bat has been missed and he will be a welcome addition to the squad Wednesday and Thursday.

Both games will be played at Harper-Shepherd Field beginning at 3:45.

Trap Earrings Prove Claim

Boston (UP)—At a state house hearing on the question of repealing Massachusetts' anti-steel trap law, Joseph Higgins wanted to prove that steel traps were humane. So he snapped a trap on one of his ears and, with the traps dangling, addressed the legislative committee.

SIGMA DELTA PSI TRYOUTS THURSDAY

Tryouts for entry into the Sigma Delta Psi, National Honorary Athletic Fraternity, which was begun last week, are being conducted throughout the remainder of this week at Harper-Shepherd Field, under the watchful eye of Coach McDowell.

Plenty of competition has been displayed so far, although the boys are fighting against time and records rather than each other. Last week and this, three of the most difficult trials were made; the 100 yard dash, the shot put, and the football punt. The list of qualifying events and their records are listed below:

100 yard dash—11 3-5 seconds.
120 yard low hurdles—36 seconds.
20 foot rope climb—12 seconds.
Broad jump—17 feet.
Shot put—30 feet.
Baseball throw—250 feet.
Javelin throw—130 feet.
Football punt—40 yards.
One mile run—6 minutes.
High jump—5 feet.
100 yard swim—1:45.
Hand stand.
Hand spring landing on feet.
Pence vault.
Scholarship.
Posture.

Wawoon, Ga. (UP)—Hukie Sivall recently caught a rat on a fishhook attached to a line near here.

Business Houses Of Central Florida Give Water Meet Trophies

Nearly two hundred dollars' worth of trophies and medals are being donated by individuals and business houses in Winter Park and Orlando for the Fourteenth Annual Interscholastic Water Meet at Rollins College on Saturday, April 29. Fleetwood Peoples, director of aquatic sports, announced today.

Six trophies are being given for the champion girls' team, champion boys' team, individual high point girl, individual high point boy, champion boys' relay team, and champion girls' relay team. Donors of the cups are Ex-Senator Franklin O. King, who will serve as honorary chairman of the meet, as in former years; T. Williams Miller, Ashland, O., president of the Rollins Student Association; Dickson, Inc. of Orlando; and the Florida State High School Association; and "Fugate's" Market, Inc., of Orlando, and the Orlando Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Donors of sets of gold, silver and bronze medals, which will be awarded to the first three places in the various events, and sets of four medals which will be awarded to the members of the winning relay team, include the "X" Club and Dr. William S. Board, Rollins College; E. R. Baldwin, G. N. Denning, Pizzig-Wigley Store, Dr. S. A. Barba, United Markets, Foster E. Manning, Hamilton Hotel, City Transfer Company, Winter Park Telephone Company, Winter Park Insurance Company, Colonial Pharmacy, "Puckett's" and Wallace Van Cleave, Hotel Winter Park, and

FLORIDA SWIMMERS SINK TAR MERMEN BY 50½ - 25½ SCORE

Coleman stars for Rollins by winning the fifty and one hundred yard dashes

Varsity swimmers from Florida University defeated the Rollins College team in a dual meet on the Lake Virginia course at Rollins Thursday afternoon with a score of 50½ to 24½. The Gators showed consistent strength in all of the events taking the 440-yard relay and first places in five events.

Bud Coleman of Rollins shared individual honors with Ladell Lawhorn of Florida, both of whom took first places in two events. The Tars stood off the Gators in the early part of the meet, but the Gainesville mermen gradually pulled ahead taking first and second places in diving and the 22-yard free style to assure themselves of a victory.

Results: Fifty yard dash, first Coleman, Rollins; second, Lawhorn, Florida; third, Austin, Florida; fourth, Rollins; time, 25 3-5 seconds.

100 yard breast; first, Blanchner, Florida; second, Eaton, Rollins; third, Gifford, Florida; time, 2:45 seconds.

Ullmayer's Bakery, Winter Park; Orlando Laundry, Inc., Rendezvous Restaurant No. 2, and Sharkey's Restaurant, Orlando, and the Pine Cattle Boat Company.

Advertise in the Sandspur
For Results

IT'S FUN TO BE FOOLED..

THIS WEEK IN THE MAGIC THEATRE:
The sensational
Japanese Thumb Tie!

NO TRICKS IN CAMELS—JUST COSTLIER TOBACCO'S

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand. Hence they are mild, easy on the throat... yet full of flavor and enjoyment.

