GO TO A LAW SCHOOL

"There is little, if any, dispute now as to the relative merit of education by means of law schools, and that to be got by mere practical training or apprenticeship as an attorney's clerk.

"The benefits which law schools offer are easily suggested, and are of the most superior kind. They afford the student an acquaintance with general principles, difficult, if not impossible to be otherwise obtained; they serve to remove difficulties which are inherent in scientific and technical phraseology, and they, as a necessary consequence, furnish the student with the means for clear conception and accurate and precise expression. They familiarize him with leading cases, and the application of them to discussion. They give him the valuable habit of attention; teach him familiar maxims, and lead him readily to survey the law as a science. Disputing, reasoning, reading, and discoursing, become his constant exercises; he improves remarkably as he becomes acquainted with them, and obtains progress otherwise beyond his reach."—From the Report of the Committee on Legal Education to the American Bar Association.

"The American Law Schools have convinced the profession that they do teach law in an efficient way, in a way which makes the man not only a better instructed lawyer, but a better practical lawyer."—Sir Frederick Pollock.

The lawyers of former generations got their preliminary training in an office. But in the words of Chief Justice Waite, "The time has gone by when an eminent lawyer, in full practice, can take a class of students into his office and become their teacher. Once that was practicable, but now it is not. The consequence is that law schools are now a necessity."

The young man who supposes that passing the bar examination makes him a lawyer, and who yields to the infatuation of entering an office to be initiated into the profession, will find that he has begun at the wrong end, and that he has mistaken the work of an office clerk for training in the law.

The John B. Stetson University was chartered by the State of Florida in 1887. In 1900 the law school was established, on a two years' basis. In 1923, the number of years of study in law was raised to three years. In 1924 one year of college was required as a prerequisite for entrance to the law college. In 1926 the requirement was raised to two years of college. In 1930 the law college received the approval of the American Bar Association and is now on the accredited list of that association.

ADMISSION

Application for admission to the College of Law must be made in person or by letter to the Office of Admissions, which passes upon all entrance credentials. If the conditions of admission are found to be satisfied, the Office of Admissions will issue a certificate of admission which is to be presented to the Dean of the College of Law at the time of registration. All applicants for admission must be at least eighteen years of age.

The following persons may be admitted to the College of Law as candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.):

BREWER CHAPTER PHI ALPHA DELTA FRATERNITY

The second largest national legal fraternity, Phi Alpha Delta, entered the Stetson College of Law in 1915 by installing a chapter in it. This is the first chapter of a national legal fraternity in the far South. Membership is restricted to the honor men. Several of the prominent jurists of the State have become honorary members since the founding of this Chapter.

THE SIGMA NU PHI FRATERNITY (LEGAL)

The John Marshall Chapter of the Sigma Nu Phi Legal Fraternity, was installed at Stetson University on April 23rd, 1921. This fraternity upholds very high standards of scholarship and some of the outstanding jurists of the state are among its members.

The Moot Court has been presided over by competent legal talent. The object of the course in the Moot Court is to give the student practical instruction in pleading and practice at law and in equity, and actual experience in the preparation and trial of cases, thus removing the main objection raised to law school training, that it is theoretical and not practical. The work in the Moot Court is divided into three classes of cases.

FIRST. Cases arising upon statements of fact prepared and assigned to the students upon which they are to issue, serve and return process, prepare pleadings and bring the case to an issue on a question of law. The case is first heard on the pleadings and the questions arising thereon are argued and disposed of. At the second hearing after the pleadings have been approved, the case is argued and decided on the question of law involved, the facts being admitted.

SECOND. In the second class, actual controversies are arranged and assigned for trial as issues of fact. The students are here required to issue the proper process and prepare and file the pleadings necessary to produce an issue of fact. They then subpoena the witnesses, impanel the jury, examine the witnesses and argue the case to the court and jury.

THIRD. In this class the necessary papers are prepared to bring the case before the Supreme Court for review, and the legal questions arising in the lower court are argued and decided.
