Foreword

We ask but that you remember as you turn the pages of this volume of the Oshihiyi that our hearts have ever been in the work of preparing this book. We have not striven for literary perfection; we have tried only to give you in poems light and sad, sketches merry and grave, pictures real and fanciful, a mental panorama of Stetson. It is our hope that sweet memories of Stetson, as you knew it, may come into your heart as you read.

The Freshman Class of Twenty-Six was organized the third week of this year. Much enthusiasm has been shown by the members since its organization.

The co-operation with the Sophomore Class gave a holiday for the entire University in April. This day was declared Freshman-Sophomore Day. During the day the classes contested in games, the losers taking the winners on a picnic. We believe that with a proper celebration, such a day will mean more to the classes than a banner fight, in which only the boys may take part.

OSHIHIIYI-1923

Business College

Prof. W. Y. Mickle, B.S., A.M., Director

In the great fields of endeavor, in all walks of life, but more especially in the financial, industrial and commercial vocations, the broad-minded, far-seeing and efficiently trained business man or woman gains merited recognition for systematic work from men and women, great and otherwise, in all professions. They command respect and confidence, demand the utmost of themselves and others in the thoroughness and the systematic and efficient performance of the endless duties involved in solving the problems and overcoming the obstacles in the march of peoples and nations onward, and build the foundation of progress and future prosperity with unerring exactness and accuracy.

OSHIHIYI-1923

The opportunity of acquiring the necessary business training to fit one for his life vocation is offered by the Stetson Business College, whose reputation and popularity for efficient business training has rapidly advanced the last several years. Today it is admitted to be Florida's best Commercial school and one among the best in the South.

The following well planned courses are offered: The Commercial Course, which includes Bookkeeping, Business Arithmetic, Commercial Law, Penmanship, Business English, Rapid Calculation, Office Practice, Commercial Geography and Spelling.

The Advanced Commercial Course, includes Advanced Bookkeeping, Auditing and Advertising.

The Shorthand Course includes the Benn Pitman System of Stenography, Fuller Touch System of Typewriting, Business Letter Writing, Office Dictation, Manifolding and Spelling.

The Special Banking Course includes a complete study of National, Federal Reserve, State and Private Banks.

The two-year Cost Accounting Course includes Elementary Bookkeeping, Rowe's Cost Accounting Budget, Kester's Theory and Practice Volume I, and Contracts and Bills and Notes from the Law College.

The three-year Cost Accounting Course requires in addition to the second-year course, Kester's Theory and Practice Volume II, Original C. P. A. Problems, and a required amount of original work which includes Income Tax Returns of the various forms.

The Department of Business Administration leads to a Ph. B. Degree in the College of Liberal Arts. A diploma from the Commercial Course is a prerequisite.

The enrollment in the Business College has steadily gained and this year's enrollment has broken all records. The training acquired here enables one to successfully meet all competition for the most desired and well paying positions in the business world.

Phi Sigma Eta

Phi Sigma Eta was organized on January 10, 1922, for the purpose of inspiring a greater regard for the University and its Business Administration Department, and for the mutual benefit of its members.

Members are chosen when a certain grade has been made. Many college activities find our members on their list.

Each meeting, a member gives a discourse on some business place or current topic. Occasionally a successful business man gives a lecture on what he considers a vital necessity in business life.

Membership is restricted to those who are majoring in the Business Administration Department, and who desire to go beyond the elementary course.

Local Legal Fraternity

Founded at Stetson University, April 10, 1923.

Colors: Green and Gold.

This fraternity was organized to fill the need of a legal fraternity to accommodate the women students of the Law College.

This is the first legal fraternity for women to be organized at Stetson University. There are two legal fraternities for men and this new addition for women will give those who come to study law in future years a greater inspiration to carry on the work which has been established in the last few years since women have been admitted to study law.

May Fete

The 1922 May Fete was unusually successful. Instead of having the Fete in the afternoon, as is the usual time, it was given in the evening.

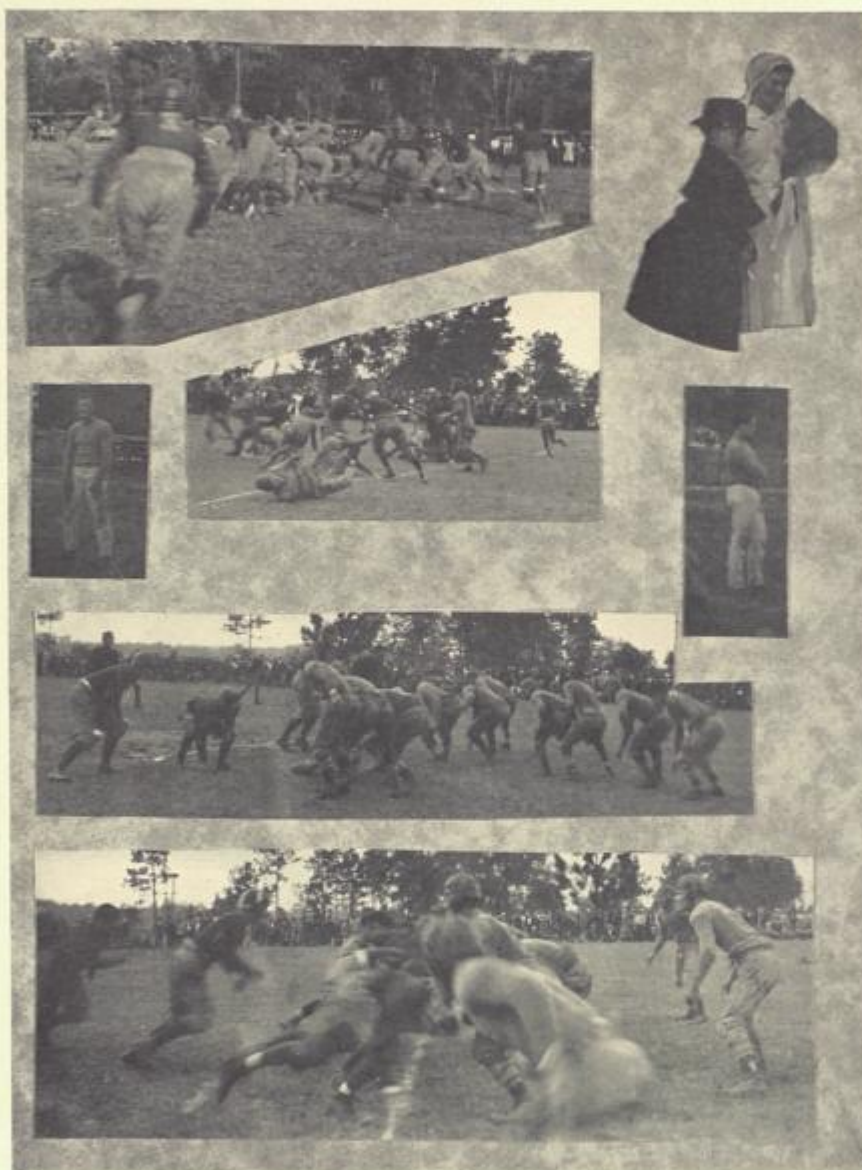

The ceremony was held on the campus between Chaudoin and DeLand Halls. Colored lights were strung across this space. The throne was draped in white and decorated with Spanish moss and rose oleanders; a rope of moss and oleanders enclosed the space where the crowning ceremony was held.

Gaily decorated refreshment booths were on the outside of this square. Most a ton of confetti added much to the program.

Music was furnished by the college orchestra and several vocal selections were given by some of the talented music students.

Lucille Newby made an unusually attractive May Queen. A number of town and college girls were her attendants.

LITCHFIELD COLTON, Director of Athletics

Athletics at Stetson has always been a major activity. After a decided slump it looks as though the future will be bright. This past football season showed a marked advance over that of last year. Six games were played and although Rollins managed to triumph in the annual Thanksgiving clash, it showed that Stetson had a team to be proud of.

The following men were awarded gold footballs by the student body for meritorious work on the field: Capt. Schubiger, Capt.-Elect Boyle, Bowen, Ward, Walden, Gunby, Layton, Scott, Moritz, Morgan, Tribble, Hays, Cunningham and Hon.

Basket ball did not fare so well, however, due to the late start and scarcity of material on hand. The East Coast trip resulted in the loss of three games, which completely took the edge out of the team for the rest of the season. Rollins managed to win both her games, although the final one was a tie until the last few moments.

Baseball, to date, has been very successful, Stetson having won six out of eight college games. It is hoped that in the remaining games with Florida and Rollins, Stetson can come out ahead, which will mean that the State Championship will rest here.

The Girls' Basket Ball Tournament, under the directorship of Prof. Colton, was a success from start to the finish. Gainesville High School by exceptional playing finally defeated the DeLand team for the silver cup. Attendance at these games showed that the people take a great degree of interest in women's athletics.

It is impossible to predict with any great degree of certainty as to the future, but all Stetson's "pep" and loyalty will be used for a "Greater Stetson" in athletics and to show Florida and Rollins that Stetson is advancing, not slipping.

FOOTBALL YEAR OF 1922

The football season of 1922 was one of the best that Stetson

HORACE "PUG" ALLEN, Coach

has enjoyed in many years. In this great game of moleskin and lime lined field, Stetson stood foremost.

On Sept. 23, Coach called for candidates. Among the old men that reported were: Layton, K. Gunby, Bowen, Schubiger. With these four letter men as a nucleus, Coach Allen had to build up practically a new team. Not only was he handicapped this way, but Captain-elect Rasco failed to return for the opening of the season. A new captain had to be elected; the letter men met and elected Schubiger as their leader.

After many days of hard practicing, the first game of the season was played at Lakeland against Southern College, defeating our opponents by the score of 52 to 0. In this game, many of the substitutes were used and every one had a chance to display his ability. Although the score sounds bad, it was a hard fought game and brought out many defects of the Stetson eleven.

The next game, the team journeyed to Palatka, where they lined up against the Palatka American Legion. Stetson defeated her opponents by a score of 45 to 0.

On Oct. 16, a team from Ft. Lauderdale entered our territory. Up to this date the Lauderdale team had been invincible. Their team was not only made up of old stars, but also of some very heavy men. For the first few minutes it looked as if Stetson would never get started, but the university boys overcame their stage-fright and gradually began to stop the visitors. After the first touchdown the rest was easy. The line broke through and hit the visitors until they were compelled to fumble, Stetson recovering the ball many times. The score ended in Stetson's favor, 53 to 0.

On Nov. 11, came our hardest opposition. The team journeyed to Tavares, where they met "Buck" Flowers' bunch. Although "Buck" Flowers was not present, there were men that had played on the U. of Fla. team, Ga. Tech and other famous Southern schools. This game was Stetson's first defeat, according to the score. The score ended 16 to 0. Three points being earned.

The following week Southern arrived in DeLand to play Stetson, according to schedule. In this game the varsity played three quarters, the fourth quarter being played by the second team. It was during the fourth quarter that the Southern boys intercepted a forward pass and raced for 70 yards, through a clear field, for a touch down. The score when the whistle blew, was 35 to 6, in favor of Stetson.

On Thanksgiving Day, the Stetson team entered Rollins field. This was the second defeat that Stetson suffered. The score was 25 to 0 in favor of Rollins.

BASKET BALL

The season of '22 and '23 was one of the worst that Stetson has had in many years. With only two letter men to start the season, Coach Allen was at a great disadvantage. No captain, no games scheduled, and lack of equipment all went toward making it difficult to start the season. It was many weeks of hard drilling and practice, before Coach was able to find a combination that would work together with any success. After the combination was found, misfortune took a hand that injured one of the forwards.

The first game of the schedule was played against an all star team from Daytona. When the whistle blew the final time, Stetson was the victor by a large score. It was in this game that Coach Allen's quintet showed their ability.

The team took a very unsuccessful trip down the East Coast, in which they met the teams of Vero, Ft. Lauderdale and Miami. Sad to relate, the Stetson five met defeat at the hands of these three teams.

Later in the season, Stetson went to Winter Park and met defeat from the Rollins "Tars" by a close score. A few weeks later the "Tars" invaded our own territory, and defeated the Stetson team in one of the hardest fought games that has ever been played on the Stetson court. The University of Florida did not play this year. The first game to have been played at Gainesville was cancelled by Stetson. The second game to have been played was cancelled by Florida.

At the first game, the letter men met and elected a captain. Bowen was elected captain. Shubiger, the standing guard, played a consistent game, until he was compelled to stop playing on account of injuries from football. Collins, the playing pivot of the team, held up his reputation from previous years and was the mainstay of the team. Markovitz and Drew, a combination that Coach Allen used in some of the games, worked together with lightning speed. Hobson and Runyan, were a pair of forwards that had to be reckoned with when they were in the game together. Their shooting and floor work was what made their reputation, which their opponents did not fail to respect. Tribble, as utility man and letter man, was one of the fastest floor men on the team.

BASEBALL

The baseball team of 1923 has had the most successful season in a number of years. This team promises us a state championship at the rate it is now going.

Stetson defeated Ormond in the first game, 9 to 3. Ormond won the second. Southern College was defeated in a pair of games at Lakeland, 11 to 3 and 8 to 2.

The Hatters returned to DeLand and split a twin bill with the "Tars" from Rollins, Stetson taking the first, 9 to 1, and dropping the second, 7 to 1.

Florida came next and again the Hatters divided the series. The "Gators" took the first, 13 to 4, but Stetson played air-tight ball in the second and nosed out ahead in the ninth, 2 to 1.

Two more games with Florida at Gainesville and two with Rollins at Winter Park have yet to be played. Should Stetson win them all, the flag is certain. Should she split and it will be a tie, but if she loses—

Girls' Basket Ball

The Girls' Basket Ball season opened with three "S" girls back, Captain Iris Battle, Ruth Douglas and Frances Douglas. "Irish" and Ruth held their forward positions; "Frank" jumped center with Sarah Warren Easterby from Sanford as running center. From Duval came one of the guards, Avis Lewis. Kentucky, the state of basket ball players, furnished the other guard, Norma Barlow. Those girls played hard and had a successful year, losing only two games. Capt. Battle received the "Crescent," "Frank" Douglas and Ruth Jennings "Stars," and the following girls received the "S":

Sarah Warren Easterby
Norma Barlow
"Billy" Campbell
Avis Lewis
Marie Anderson
Rosa Smith
Mary Markey

Much of the honor gained by the Girls' Basket Ball team is due to the coach, Carl Farriss, who certainly has a faculty for training winning teams.

OSHIHIYI-1923

Appreciation

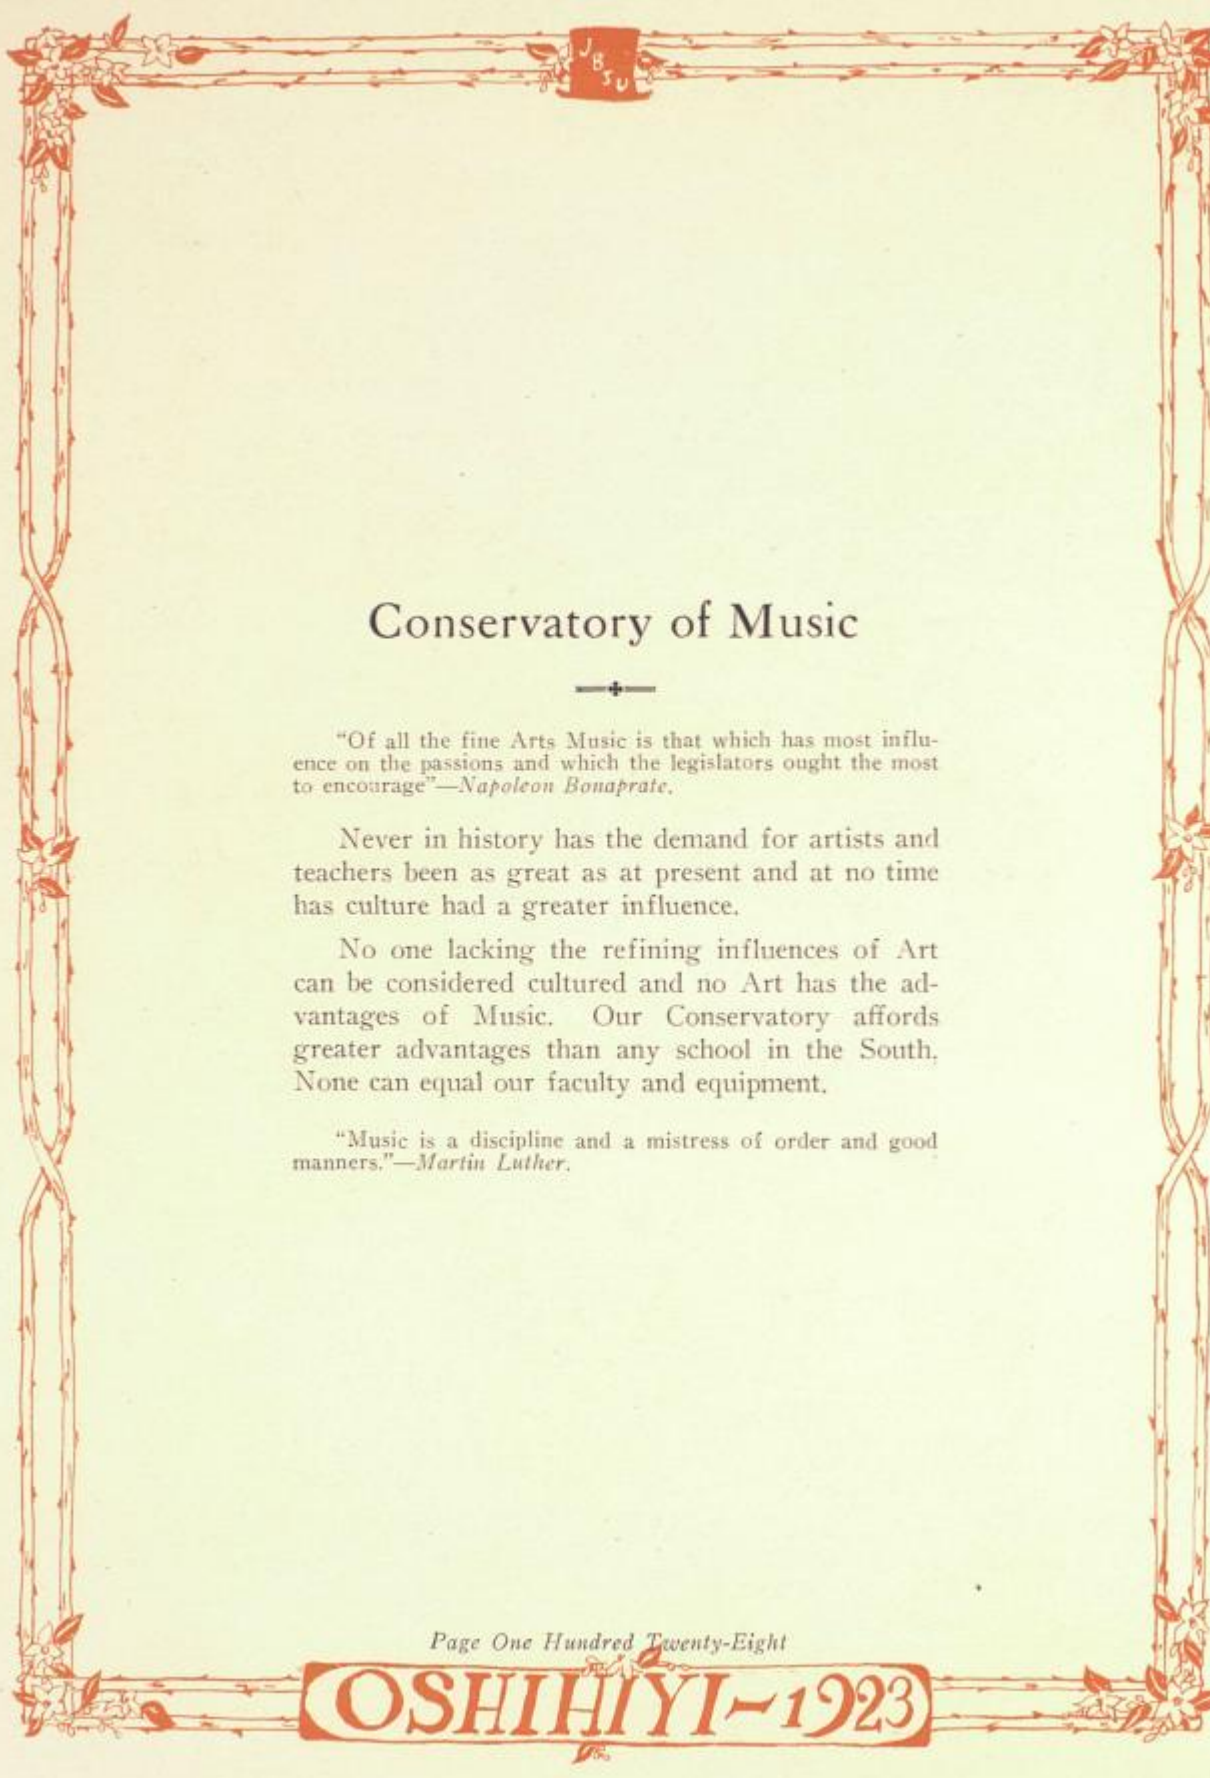

To those who have in any manner aided the Oshihiyi Staff in the publication of this volume of the Oshihiyi. We have worked hard to make this volume of the Oshihiyi the best reproduction of a college year, that we possibly could. In the undertaking of this task we realized that something besides effort on our part was necessary. That necessity has been the co-operation of the student, faculty, and advertisers. Now as we draw near the completion of our task, we feel that in all fairness to those who have aided us in our work, we should dedicate this space to them in a word of appreciation.

Conservatory of Music

"Of all the fine Arts Music is that which has most influence on the passions and which the legislators ought the most to encourage"—Napoleon Bonaparte.

Never in history has the demand for artists and teachers been as great as at present and at no time has culture had a greater influence.

No one lacking the refining influences of Art can be considered cultured and no Art has the advantages of Music. Our Conservatory affords greater advantages than any school in the South. None can equal our faculty and equipment.

"Music is a discipline and a mistress of order and good manners."—Martin Luther.

Stetson Vesper Choir

Marian Dow Kenefick, Director.
Mrs. W. H. Browne, Organ. Eleanor Meeks, Piano.
Organized 1922-23.

Stetson Vesper Choir, composed of the united Glee Clubs, has sixty-six members and is the only Vesper Choir in the State of Florida. The members are all students of the University and nearly all active Conservatory students.

The choir is very carefully trained and renders only numbers requiring skill in interpretation as well as vocal ability.

During the spring of 1923 the choir gave a program in the Daytona Beach Auditorium, and also a remarkable interpretation of the "Crucifixion," by Stainer, in Stetson Auditorium, on Easter Sunday. The work has reached such a standard of excellence that engagements for next season have already been booked in St. Petersburg, Tampa and Daytona, and arrangements are being made for engagements in St. Augustine, Jacksonville and Miami.

OSHIHIYI DIRECTORY OF USELESS AND OTHER INFORMATION ON GREEKS

(For Private Reference.)

I. MALE ROOMING CLUBS

Pi Kappa Phi:

A group of earnest young men striving against the odious charge of Feminism, and succeeding well financially since Brother Bryant copped the Business Manager job on the Oshihiyi.

Sigma Nu: (Otherwise known as the Knights of the Slipping Rep.)

This unit of college men has reformed completely during the past two terms, and will probably change as time goes, so we do not feel justified in cataloging its variations. This is a directory, not a newspaper.

Phi Kappa Delta:

Prominent athletics, prominent cafe (Harper's) hounds, prominent class politicians—otherwise fairly well thought of. Commonly called a lodge on account of its members—otherwise not different from the rest.

Phi Sigma Eta:

Little information on this strange bird. A studious group of youngsters, who contain some good baseball players, and live in a time honored palace called Elizabeth Hall.

Phi Alpha Delta:

A tribe of males whose chief occupation is studying the law in order to see how much "murder" they can get away with and still be on the straight. They are all going to be judges, ask 'em.

Alpha Phi Epsilon: (Apes, Tarzan was a Bro.)

A very learned collection, who feel that Burke's speech on Conciliation would have succeeded had he followed their methods of debate.

Sigma Nu Phi: (Not an offspring of Sigma Nu!)

Home of the "Mighty" Collins and the "Learned" Buck, not forgetting "Judge" Walden and the lesser legal lights.

II. FEMALE ENTERTAINING AND BEAUTY GANGS

Alpha Xi Delta:

Approved by the National Board of Flappers. Whatever comes to pass in Stetson, one of 'em will be tangled up in it. Notable members are "Pug" and Eleanor.

Delta Delta Delta: (Founder stuttered when saying Delta and couldn't stop.)

A lively bunch of tea hounds, picnic lovers, and near species. Co-partners with—

Pi Beta Phi:

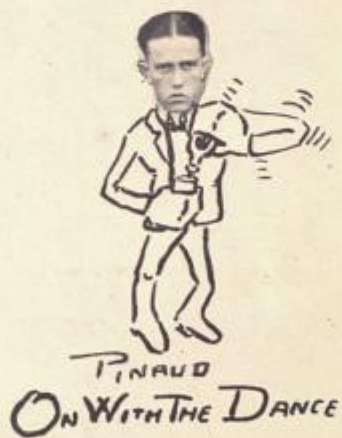

Object of all socially and politically ambitions. Once let a maiden acquire an arrow and (be she homely as the back of a hack) her success is assured.

Phi Beta:

They have proved that beauty and brains are not the rulers of this earth. Music has its place.

Alpha Beta Gamma:

Disputing the theory that a student has to wear trousers to belong to a legal frat. The baby of the Greeks, born in April.

CARSON'S RULES OF ORDER

"Class, please observe the following rules in my Political Economy class. Of course, you are allowed to sleep—even expected to. I have had some disorderly Juniors, however, in my classes. I had to drop one from my class rolls, as he insisted on snoring so loud that the other students could not sleep. Another student, on awaking, observed that he had dozed off for a second, between sentences, so he awoke the rest of the class and they all eased out. This is absolutely against the rules of this department! But remember! and always wake up when the bell rings and move out to give room for the next class."

THE MODERN DANCE

He shook his shimmy down the hall,
His head was in a whirl,
His eyes and mouth were full of hair,
And his arms were full of girl.

WHIST THOU?

He rapped her with a club. He knocked her cold;
For she was a timorous maiden, and he a man so bold
And vicious that it seemed as if he had no heart.
(Or maybe she loved cave-men, and he tried to fill the part.)

But anyhow, he played his cards as best he could to win;
For anyone will do his best to conquer when he kin.
And she led hearts, and he had none, and so,
Clubs being trumps, he smacked her the aforesaid blow.

THOSE FLORIDA DANCES

"Bill" Gunby, passing Sigma Nu house the day after the Florida games.

"Kirk" Gunby—Bill, did you go to Gainesville?

"Bill"—No.

"Kirk"—Why don't you walk straight then?

SOCKO!

Sáy, did you hear about the bakers' strike?

No.

Well, the employes had a meeting and decided that they wanted a raise, so they went to the employer and said: "We want more dough." The employer laughed and handed them a "roll" and said: "Take this and go get a bun on. You are nothing but a bunch of doughnuts anyway."

Roach—Have you seen Al?

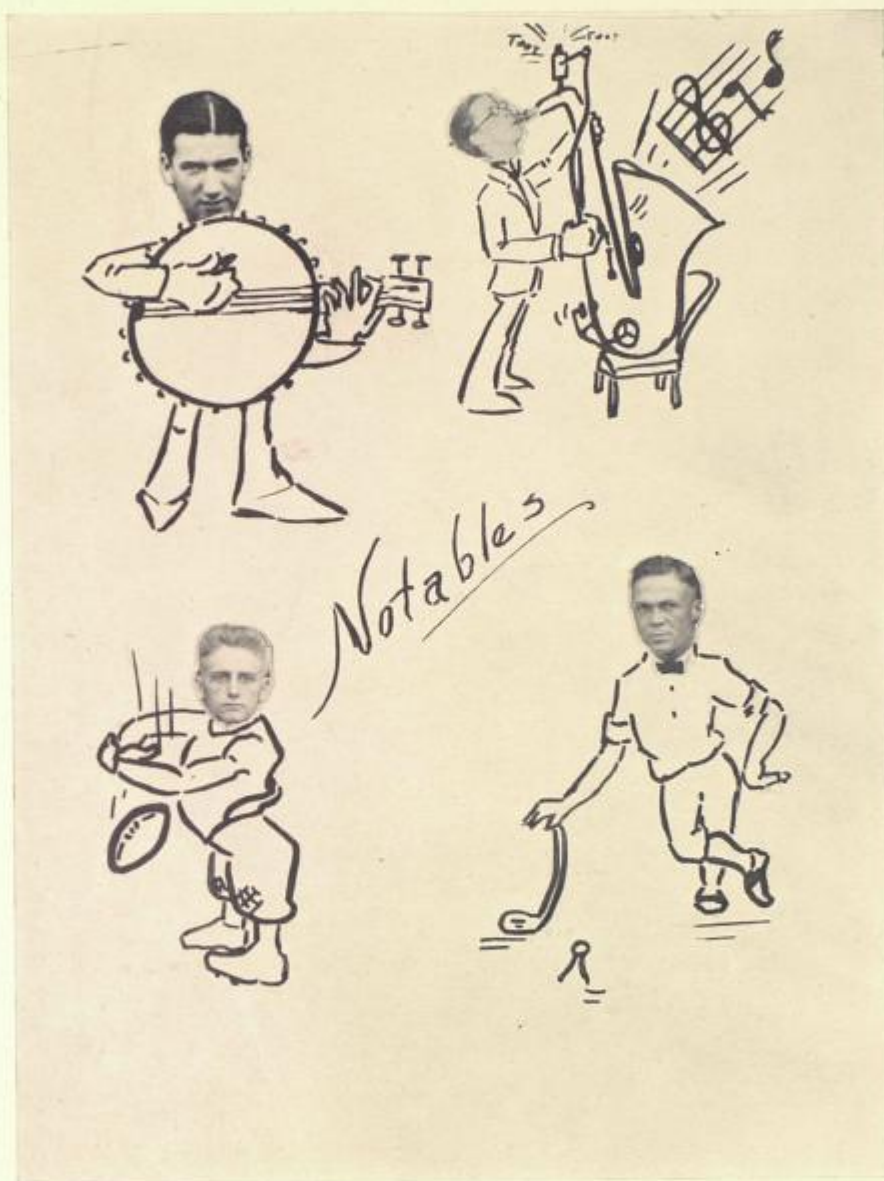

Monk—Al who?

Roach—Alky Hall.

Monk—No.

Roach—Kerosene him last night and he ain't Benzine since Gasolined up against a telephone post and took a Naptha.

Twentieth Century Amendment to Sorority Ritual: "Sister look to the future! Marry the purse and not the mind, thus elevating the status of your sisterhood!"

ANTISEPTIC RULES FOR DANCING

As Approved by Highest Authorities of The Serpents—Passed Without Reservation

1. Couples dancing should strictly observe the "six-inch" rule.
2. Boys should lay their heads on the girls' shoulders instead of down their backs—girls should do likewise.
3. Each couple should bring a chaperone as escort to and from the party.
4. It is suggested that couples never face each other for fear of spreading disease.
5. Such tunes as "Throw Out the Life-Belt," "Tri Delts Will Shine Tonight," "When We All Drink from the Same Goboon in Sigma Nu," are approved as appropriate.
6. Chaperones shall be provided with opera glasses and shall use them.
7. "Uncle Bob" will make an analysis of punch before, during, and after each dance.

The little bear sleeps in his bear skin
And keeps very warm I am told;
If I should sleep in my little bare skin,
I would take my death of cold,

Nelle Lane—When you were in France I suppose you saw the great tracts of barren waste?
Goof Boyle—Oh yes, he has a wonderful estate.

He—I certainly like to dance.
She—So do I.
He—Shake.

Flapper—Guess I'll have to start in using rouge again.
Co-ed—Why?
Flapper—Cause, the skirts are getting longer.

"Paris has fallen," bashfully hinted the maiden as she saw her escort's garter over his shoe top.

Census Taker—Have you any brothers?
Little Brother—One.
C. T.—Does he live here?
L. B.—Naw, he goes to college.
C. T.—Any sisters?
L. B.—One.
C. T.—Does she work?
L. B.—Naw, she don't do nothin' neither.

"Well, Mary, I was admitted to the bar today.
"Oh John, and you promised me you would never touch another drop."

To be college bred, means a four-year loaf, requiring a great deal of dough, as well as plenty of crust.

Prof. Tribble—If the President and Vice President both die, who would get the job?
Bradley—The undertaker.

Betty—Did you hear about the awful accident in front of Elizabeth Hall?
Tommy—No.
Betty—Julian had his eye on a seat and Lee sat on it.

HOYLE'S RUBAIYAT

Awake! for daylight has been turned to night,
The all-revealing sun has taken flight
And now the Sons of Hoyle in safety may proceed
To woo their Lady Luck with undivided might.

They gather in some dark, low curtained den
To deal out mitts of draw and stud. And when
The last desired wager has been made,
The winner—or the bluffer—garners in the yen.

And thus the game continues through the hours.
For a time the Bluffer's fortune flowers,
And then he blunders into the Almighty Axe—
And his V's and X's stroll on to safer bowers.

Then Safety First thinks he is right
And on his roll he concentrates his sights;
Bluffer, by an adroit raise, captures the pot.
Thus the battle rages many nights.

Nothing to it! did I hear you say?
Perhaps, but just wait until the day
When you are enticed, and get your ankles wet:
You too, will recognize Hoyle's sway.

For in poker, you see, it matters not
If you have honors, titles, or such rot;
For however humble be the holder of the winning hand,
If he sticks it out he's bound to win the pot.

Yea, with a measly sandwich for a feed,
And "jac" and smokes for every freshly need—
A live game raging in a rat-infested attic,
And that attic is Paradise indeed!

Often an unkind fortune has cleaned me, still
I wonder and perhaps forever will
How the winners their shekels can dispence
To bring more pleasure than a lucky two-card fill.

But when I put my A. B. to the test,
If I'll play them close up to my chest—
In that Long Game we all must play with Life—
I cannot come out second best.

"Gee, you're a Gem."
"Well, would Gillette me kiss you?"
"Say, kid, I'm Everready."

Stude—Did you yell at me down town, sir?
Prof.—No.
Stude—Some bum did.

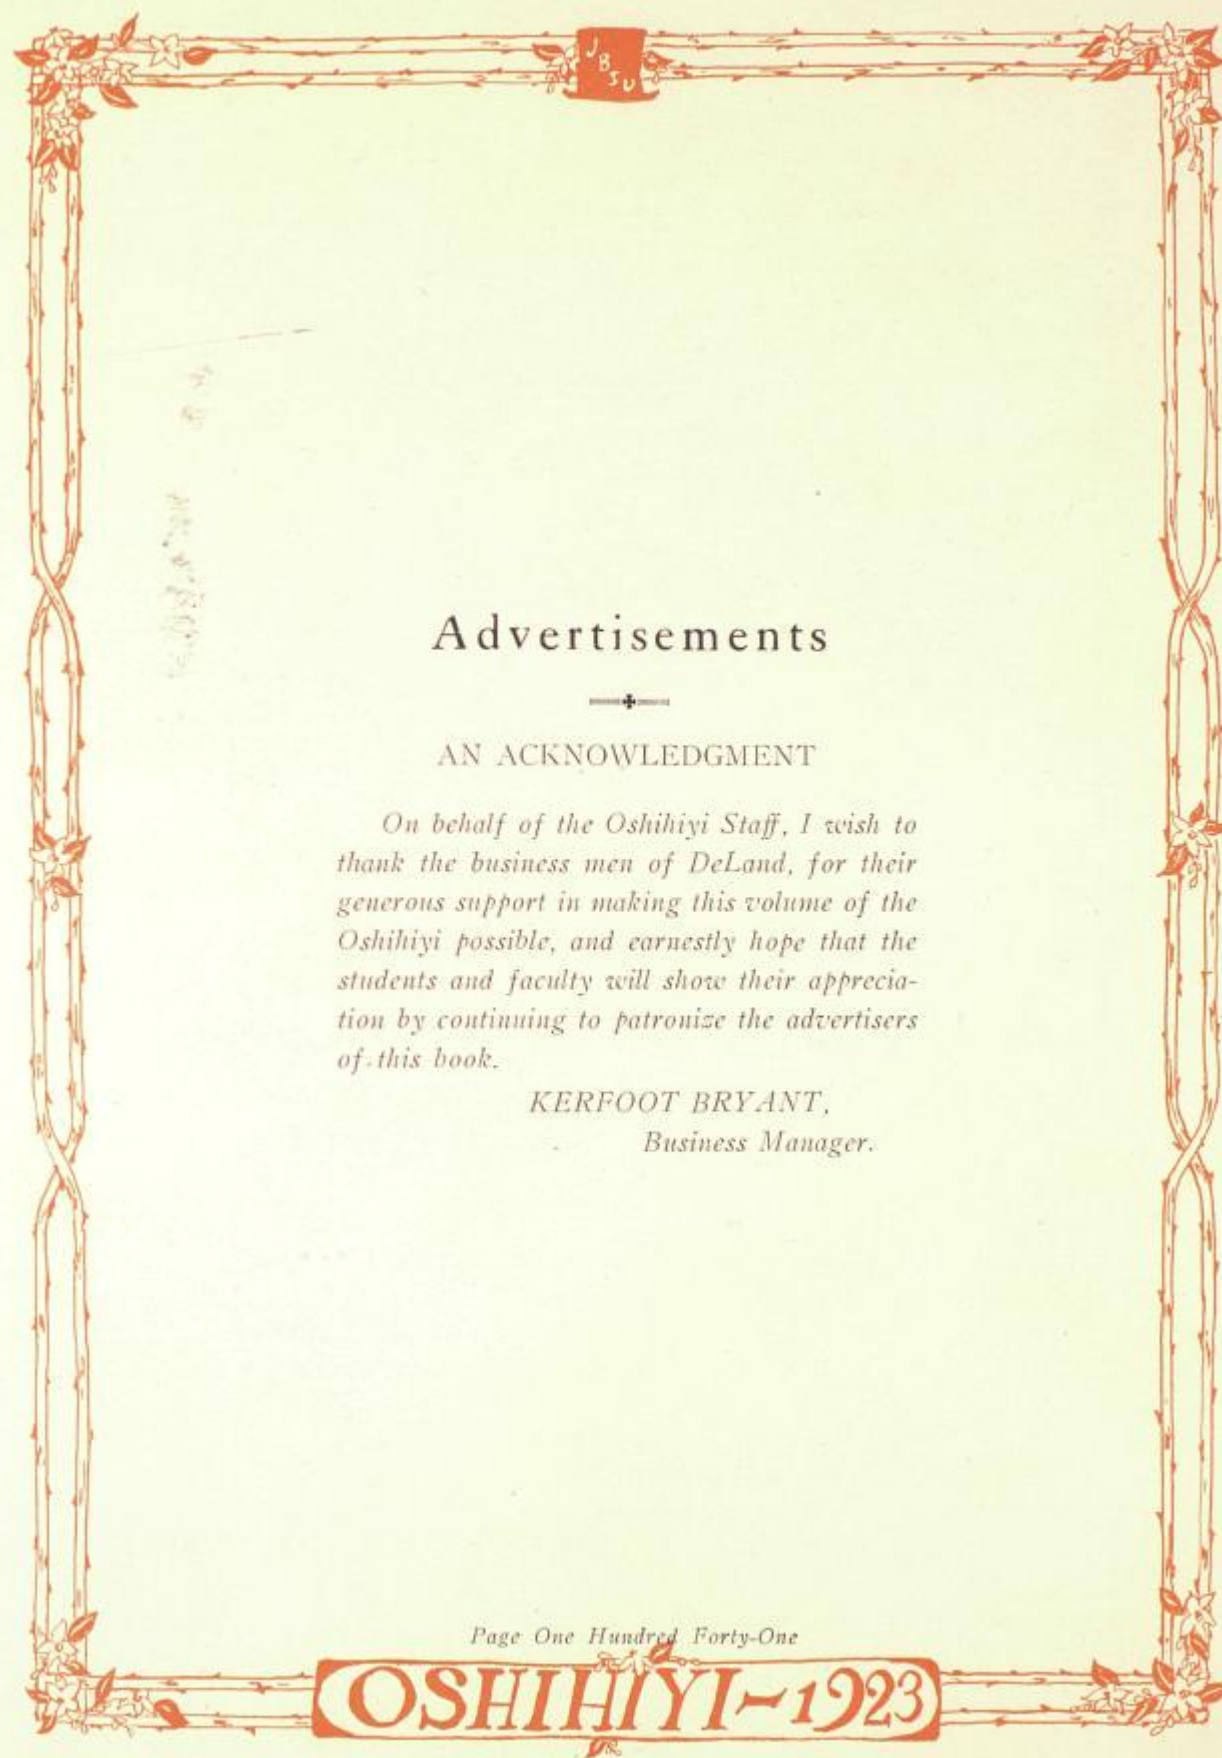

One—Is he from the jungles?
Two—Sure; he thinks Wheeling, West Virginia, is a hard job.

Prof. Tribble—This lecture is apt to be somewhat embarrassing. If any men or women care to leave, they may do so.
Aby—Professor, may I invite several of my friends?

Some girls are born ugly, others bob their hair.

The Scope of Its Service

In the old days the business man was obliged to do business with a Commercial Bank, a Trust Company and an Investment Banker. It was necessary for him to establish his credit with each of them, and his relation with one was very often dependent upon the liberality with which the others treated him.

Today the people of this community may transact their entire financial business with the Merchant's Bank & Trust Company.

A Commercial Department as strong as any in the South will take care of their needs for regular banking service.

A Trust Department will perform for them every function of a Trust Company whether it is to administer his estate or act as register for stocks and bonds.

A Savings Department will pay them interest compounded quarterly on his surplus funds, and help teach their children the value of Savings.

A Safety Deposit Department will provide them at nominal cost a place where their papers and other valuables are perfectly safe and instantly accessible.

Experienced Officers and Employees are constantly at their service, willing and anxious to do for them everything that it is possible for any financial institution to do for any customer.

We will be glad to have you take advantage of our ability to serve you.
