COMMENT ON THE WEEKS NEWS

By Arthur Dear, Jr.

Two Floridas
Hearst vs. California
A A Referendum
Roosevelt's Popularity

The move to split Florida into two states, cutting the southern portion off at the new ship canal, seems to be progressing. Orlando, the proposed capital for the proposed new state, is of course anxious for the split and Jacksonville is reported behind the move as this would make that city the sole metropolis and give it added prestige. However, the creation of two governments in the place of one, at its face at least, seems foolish. Why pay two governors and the upkeep on two state houses? If people are dissatisfied with the present set-up and government, why are reorganizing it and keep the expense down?

William Randolph Hearst has removed from California. And he has written a nice long letter to all the papers in the powerful Hearst syndicate explaining that the California income-tax law has made it necessary, even threatens to send motion-picture actors and producers with large incomes out of the state. What we hope is that California will withstand such propaganda and will be the leader in a nation-wide series of state-income tax laws with a resultant lowering of the property taxes.

A tax on income is a tax on ability to pay. A tax on property is usually not a tax on ability to pay. It has been a test of economics that taxation should be levied according to ability to pay.

As we go to press the returns are still incomplete, but with 271,000 votes opposing only 60,000, says it is safe to say that the country will probably have another or even a production restriction set up this year. The present program of the AAA expires this November.

Two points are interesting in connection with the question. The role is being taken of the producers, not the consumers. A new program would artificially raise prices just as the last one did. The national restaurant association is alleged to be fattening pork or ham on its menu because of the excessively high prices of hogs. Incidentally, there has been a shortage of hogs and food as a result of the last program, but Administrator Davis promises a 25 to 30 percent increase in the allowance under any new restriction program.

In the political field, President Roosevelt is holding favor in all but one large section of the country. Of course, if an election were run tomorrow the choice of his opponent by the Republicans would be a deciding factor. But as it is, the Mountain States are the only ones to show an increase in his favor.

We wonder if in the electoral college he might not lose. The strong Mid-Atlantic and New England sections are against him and the East and West Central sections with the Pacific Coast do not favor him overmuch. The American Institute of Public Opinion conducted the poll.

Sidney Smith Once A Rollins Student, Mr. Hanna Reports

Officials at Rollins College learned yesterday that Sidney Smith, the cartoonist who made Andy Gump, Min, Chester, and Cuddie Elm household favorites, and who was killed in an automobile accident last week, was a former student at Rollins.

The information was contained in a letter received yesterday by Professor A. J. Hanna from Edward C. Barker, New York, N. Y., a son of Rev. E. P. Barker, the first president of Rollins. According to Mr. Barker, Sidney Smith was a classmate of his and his sister at Rollins.

A society known as the "Stray Greeks" has been started at Purdue. It is supposed of transfer students who were members of Greek organizations not represented at Purdue.

50-YEAR MARK COMMEMORATED BY ROLLINS

CONVOCATION FOR STUDENTS HELD FRIDAY

Dr. Holt Presides Over First All-College Meeting Last Week

The first all-college convocation was held in Knowles Memorial Chapel last Friday morning. The academic procession, led by Professor Weinberg, started in front of Carnegie, marched across the know-shed, and thence into the chapel.

The convocation was presided over by Dr. Holt and the new members of the faculty were the first to take the pledges. The ideals brought out in the faculty address are as follows: truth and to teach truth, to be a leader of, and to be a leader of the student and to be loyal to Rollins College and its ideals. Following the faculty pledge a violin solo, "Meditation from Dials" was played by Miss Gretchen Cox.

President Holt then called for recommendations from the faculty for students who had not as yet taken the appropriate pledges. Recommendations were made by Professor Weinberg and approved by Dean Anderson and the candidates took the pledge to seek mastery in certain fields, to be a guide for their juniors, and to be seekers after the truth.

The matriculation oath for entering students was then taken, the freshmen pledging to make the adventure of learning the supreme purpose of their college life, to measure all things by truth, and to stress the high ideals of their Alma Mater.

Following this was a solo by Bruce Daugherty, "The Lord is My Light," after which Dean Anderson read the book's list for last year's Spring Term and also the book's list for the entire year. A list of eight freshmen from last year's class to make the Phi Kappa Psi chapter organization was read.

PROSPECTIVE CANDIDATES

Will one of these men be nominated as Republican candidate for president in 1936? Herbert Hoover (1), Frank Knox (2), Senator Arthur Vandenberg (3), Senator William E. Borah (4), and Gov. Alf Landon (5) are among the most prominent possibilities.

Dr. William Louis Potent Will Speak In Chapel Sunday

Dr. William Louis Potent, president emeritus of Wake College, will speak in Knowles Memorial Chapel next Sunday on "The Radiant Young Man of Tomorrow." Bryant Prentice will read the invocation, Louise McPherson will read the Litany. The old and new Testaments will be read by David Felton and Charlotte Stincham.

MONEY AWARDED FOR BEST ESSAY

$500 and $250 are First and Second Prizes Offered

An announcement to students of Rollins College has recently been made by the Rotary Club of Orlando, in connection with the Rotary Club of Cordoba of the Argentine Republic.

Competitors shall prepare, within essays on "Suggested Methods for Preventing War in America" (Forma de prevenir la Guerra en America). The essay is to be typewritten in the Spanish language, and not to exceed more than forty pages of foolscap paper. However, it is not necessary that the essay be originally written in Spanish. It may be written in English and then translated into Spanish by anyone able to do so.

Each essay presented must be signed with the name of the participant. This non-duplicate must also be written on the outside of a sealed envelope, which contains the name and address of the author. As well as a certificate from the authorities of the university where he claims to be a student in regular standing at that institution, must be sent. The essay must be delivered before the first of January, 1936, at the secretariat of the Rotary Club of Cordoba, 23 De Mayo St., Cordoba, or to the Rotary Club of Orlando.

A prize of $500.00 in Argentine paper money will be awarded to the author of the essay judged to be the best. A jury will consist of (Continued on page 2, col. 6)

Sandspur Contest Is Hit at Rollins

The contest launched by the Sandspur last week met with approval not only in the student body, but also in the faculty. Remember that the ad containing your initials must be sent and given to William F. Whalen, advertising commissioner, before Saturday of each week. The following were the winners of last week's contest: H. P. Abbott, Charles H. Clewson, Ralph S. Vard, Paul P. Ewing, and Arthur D. Enright.

Chapel Staff Will Meet In Choir Room Tonight

There will be a short meeting of the Chapel Staff in the Choir Room of the Knowles Memorial Chapel tonight at 7:15. All staff members are urged to attend.

ENYART DELIVERS CHAPEL SERMON

Model T Religion Was Topic of the Service

Dean Enyart, speaking in chapel last Sunday on "Model T Religion," stressed the fact that many students are confused and disturbed about the religion they have been taught because it doesn't prepare them to meet life as they find it.

"Though many church papers emphasize the growth of the church and tend to have a rather complacent attitude, religion is not making the appeal that it should. There has been great development in the world around us during the last fifty years, but the church has not kept up with times."

The Dean went on to say that it took a long time for Henry Ford to realize that his Model T was out of date, and to improve it. Though the old model is scarcely recognizable in our streets, the same driving force is as strong today as it was in the days of the Model T.

Dean Enyart declared, "The new streamline religion must have beauty and color; it must have modern shock-absorbers—faith to stand the strain of the road; it must have a radio to keep an ear open for the trends of the times. Most important, the directing force must be the principles of Christ—love and loving service. Religion will then appeal to the youth of today who are doing the worldly work, and the church will be traveling along with the parade, instead of merely watching it go by."

The invocation was read by Gordon Jones, '35, the Litany by Eleanor Jones, '35, and the two other selections were read by Paul Truettman and Helene Keyman.

"Alligator" Sports Editor Not Retained For Commenting on Coaching Situation

By Reginald T. Choach

Because he "editorialized" on the University of Florida coaching staff in a signed sports article printed last week in the Florida Alligator, student newspaper, Sports Editor Billy Hanna "was not fired," but merely not retained on the staff because I found his attitude contrary to my policy," newly created Editor-in-Chief Robert Hoag stated.

Homa, who was appointed to this staff by the former editor, exerted his authority as sports editor in an article in the Florida Alligator of October 26, in which he criticized the coaching staff for their mistakes in the Florida-Mississippi game of October 19.

The paragraph of the sports story which caused the break between the editor and his subordinate followed:

"Yesterday's game was a repetition of the Tulane-Florida tilt in that numerous substitutes during the second quarter enabled Ole Miss' first string to score twice."

As a result of this statement the homecoming issue of the Alligator appeared last Saturday without a sports editor. Most of the articles in connection with the Florida-Mississippi game were contributed by Frank Wright, publicity agent for the University.

Editor Hoag had not yet appointed his staff for this year since his election took place only a few days ago. The former editor, Everett Clay, chosen last spring, left a vacancy in the editorship when he failed to return to college this fall.

Frank Foster, a former Rollins student, had charge of the issue in which Hanna's article appeared. Foster was excoriated from the controversy when it was learned that he had been out of town when the paper went to press. He did not have an opportunity of seeing Hanna's story on the Mississippi game until the publication was in the hands of the readers. Copies of that issue of the Alligator were sent to graduates of the University throughout the state in the attempt to stimulate interest for the homecoming game last Saturday.

That the article attracted attention was evidenced by the fact that returning alumni came back to Gainesville armed with demands for a new deal in the football coaching situation. Florida has lost two games so far this season, tripping over Stetson in the schedule premiere.

After the controversy had attracted attention from newspapers from all over the state, the graduates council postponed decision on the "Gator" coaching staff until January 1, 1936.

A free hand is given to sports writers by professional newspapers all over the world in their "editorializing," praising, criticizing and commenting.

Sports writers on the Rollins Sandspur are given express directions to "editorialize," particularly in signed articles, where their comment and criticism is not only permitted but heartily encouraged.

SEMICENTENNIAL EXERCISES END THIS WEEK-END

Noted speakers to take part, including presidents of many colleges; luncheon to be given in honor of Dr. Holt on Sunday

The Rollins College Semicentennial will be brought to a close with the programs on November 2, 3, 4, marked by many noted speakers, including nine college presidents and two presidents emeriti who have accepted invitations to participate in these events.

This program concludes the exercises held last year at Orange City, Winter Park and Sanford. These events were only preliminary to the actual founding of Rollins College on November 4, 1885.

In addition to the nine who will take an active part in the semi-centennial celebration as speakers, a large number of presidents of other colleges and universities will attend at official delegates from their institutions.

College and university presidents who will speak at the educational conferences planned for Saturday, November 2, are President Kenneth Charles F. Thwing of Western Reserve University, who will address the luncheon conference, and President Daniel L. Marsh of Boston University who will speak on "Education for True Patriotism" at an evening meeting in the Annie Russell Theatre.

President Emeritus William L. Potter of Wake Forest College will give the address at the morning meditation in Knowles Memorial Chapel Sunday at 9:45. Among the college presidents who will speak at 11 A. M. services in Orange County churches commemorating the semi-centennial anniversary of Rollins will be President Emeritus Thwing of Western Reserve University; President Spright Dorell of Meyer University; and President Thomas V. Neal of Howard College.

At the luncheon in observance of the fourth anniversary of President Hamilton Holt's administration of Rollins College, the college presidents who will speak include President John J. Tigert of the University of Florida and President M. L. Brittain of Georgia School of Technology. Dr. Robert L. Kelly, executive secretary of the Association of American Colleges, and formerly president of Earlham College, will also speak at the luncheon.

CHARTER FACULTY TO BE HONORED

Special Plaque to be Unveiled
at Fiftieth Anniversary

The first members of the charter faculty of Rollins College, of whom only one is alive today, will be honored at a special ceremony here on November 2 in connection with the semi-centennial celebration commemorating the opening of Rollins.

A plaque commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the first meeting of the Charter Faculty of Rollins College will be unveiled at the Congregational Church, Park Avenue, on Interstate Avenue where the five members of the first faculty met to formulate plans for the opening of Rollins two days later. The plaque is now occupied by Rev. Victor B. Calcutt, one of the successors to Dr. Edward P. Booker, first pastor of the Winter Park Congregational Church, and first president of Rollins College.

In addition to President Booker, (1834-1904), the members of the charter faculty were Louise Maria Abbott (1834-1917); Dr. Nathan Barrows (1834-1903); Annie Waldron Morton (1835-1901); and William Webster Lloyd, who was born in 1841 and is now living in Chicago, Ill.

The tablet, according to an announcement by Professor A. J. Hanna, chairman of the Semi-centennial Committee of Rollins College, will be contributed by the members of the present faculty of the College.

Four of the five charter faculty members came from New England. President Booker was born in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Louise Maria Abbott, head of the preparatory department and teacher in the department of history and French, was born in Burlington, Vt. Miss Annie Waldron Morton, first principal of the training department and later professor of history, was a native of South Newmarket, N. H. Dr. Nathan Barrows, first professor of mathematics, was born in Hartford, Conn.

Mr. Lloyd, the only living member of the original faculty, was born in St. Charles, Ill. Mr. Lloyd Trustees included Irving Buckle, Jr., Winter Park; William E. O'Neal, Orlando; Cornelius A. Pugsley, Peabody, N. Y.; Fritz J. Pysch and Dr. Henry A. Atkinson, remained only one year, but all of the others each served Rollins many years.

The tablet will be unveiled on the site of the first faculty meeting fifty years ago to the day as a feature of the first day's program of the three-day celebration.

Folk Dancing Group Entertains College

Mrs. John Rae's class in folk dancing entertained the college at an assembly in Recreation Hall this evening at 8-10 o'clock. The entire program was old English folk dances. Mrs. Rae wishes it to be known that this program was not a real demonstration, but rather the purpose was to show what can be done in a short time with people who have had little or no folk dancing.

MR. HONAAS PLANS YEAR FOR CHOIR

New Additions With Previous Experience Aid Group

The Rollins A Cappella Choir is looking forward to one of its banner years. There are twenty-three new members who bring the choir to an even fifty. Many of the new members have had previous experience, but for those who have not, there will be special work in sight-singing, tone production and diction.

The work laid out for the year by Mr. Honaas, the choir director, will include "The Requiem" by Brahms; "The Psalm" from "Die Meistersinger" will be given at an all-Wagner Organ Vesper; Handel's "Messiah" will be given at Christmas, and "Saint Matthew's Passion" will be given during Holy Week. Elmer Percy's "Hallelujah Chorus" or "The Spirit Alone" by Bach, will be given as well.

Loyan Graves, the president of the choir, is arranging many concerts which will include appearances at Jacksonville, Miami, Atlanta, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Daytona, West Palm Beach, and St. Don. There are to be several radio broadcasts as well.

The list of the new members of the choir includes: H. Joy Billingsley, Alice Smith, Helen Brown, Mita Gilman, Elmer Glenn, Catherine Green, Dorothy Haines, Wilma Hawk, Elizabeth Kennedy, Ruth Mary Lincoln, Lila Nelson, Chesley Friedman, Eleanor Bush, Virginia Smith, Peggy Mary Wiley, John Clark, John Gillman, King MacRury, John Rae, Jr., Walter Rayall, William Webb, Jr., William Wicker, and Joe Wilson.

BULLETIN TO BE OUT BI-WEEKLY

Calendar to be Circulated on Tuesdays and Fridays

Rollins College issues a calendar of weekly events on Tuesday and Friday of each week. It is for the students and contains only official notices which are put there for the express purpose of being read.

No other bulletin is available for that particular need and it is the fact of the student if he needs a certain meeting or event scheduled thereon, which he has not read.

It is a simple matter to read the Bulletin—copies of it are sent to every dormitory and fraternity house and posted on the board in Carnegie. The authorities greatly appreciate the interest and attention of the students along that line and also request that notifications for club meetings, or any other events of which an undergraduate may be in charge, should be handed into the Dean's office before the respective Tuesday or Friday in order that they may be passed on by the office and put in the calendar for the proper use. Freshmen, upperclassmen, and faculty should all remember that this bulletin is printed to give the current news. It is up to the student body to read it and profit thereby.

The Anti-Beaneerians

We're thankful for the action of Masah Richard Lee in challenging that bully, Master Shewalter Haggerty. We're sick of eating squashes in front of all our backs. Of sanctifying branches of the toughest cauliflower. We abominate the service and we feel that we must say that the food's not put before us in an appetizing way. We've dejected and we're hungry but we're even with bated breath.

That instead of eating Commons' food we'd rather starve to death.

The Pro-Beaneerians

We are shocked and deeply wounded by the atrocious attacks made by certain Rollins scoundrels in front of all our backs. We delight in eating cabbage and that gross Irish stew. We shudder at variety and think that you should too. No matter if the rolls are cold, the pie crust almost killing. Its better than to roll at all and move than twice as filling. So we are not complaining and are sure if you should reason you couldn't find such wholesome meals—not even back at home.

We Eaterians

We desire ones who calmly sit and chew what we are given. Who don't stare and blink and nod, are lucky to be fed. For if the management saw fit and wanted to get mean. What's stopping them from pouring in a portion of strychnine?

Miss McGregor of Rollins Wins Prize on Sidney Lanier

Miss Gertrude Hanna McGregor of Tampa, a second-year student at Rollins College, has won the U. S. C. medal for the best essay on Sidney Lanier written by a Florida college student. It was announced here today. The prize is offered annually by the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Miss McGregor, who was graduated from Hillsborough High in Tampa, is a cousin of the poet about whom she wrote. She is a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority at Rollins.

Actives of Pi Phi Give Small Supper For Pledges Friday

First Student Play Will Be Presented in Recreation Hall

The first laboratory production of the year will be presented in Recreation Hall on November 5th. The cast is made up of dramatic students. This play will be under the direction of Quilobina Daves.

Passes for the performance may be obtained from Dr. Fleischman.

"X" Club to Give All-College Dance

The "X" Club will be hosts to the college at an all-college dance Saturday night, November 2 from nine to twelve. The dance will be given at the Dubadread Country Club in Orlando.

Dr. and Mrs. Stone and Prof. and Mrs. Howard will act as chaperones for the evening.

Miss Smith Pledged To Pi Beta Phi Sat.

The Florida Gamma Chapter of Pi Beta Phi Fraternity announced the formal pledging of Miss Evelyn Smith of St. Louis, Missouri, on Saturday, October 26.

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

Freshmen Undergo Third Court Before The Upperclassmen

But Court convened Tuesday, October 23, in Recreation Hall to confer last punishment to twenty-five freshmen found guilty of contempt of previous court rulings. Judge Rogers presided throughout the session.

Because of his statement in the Sandspur, But Weiss was ordered to carry a pump for the next three days bearing the words "But Air". In the manner of Lady Macbeth, one not was required to appear at breakfast in a long flannel nightgown carrying a lighted candle.

Several of the freshmen were ordered to bring bags of sandspurs taken from Harper Shepherd Field. One freshman was required to carry a raw egg with him until the autograph of the President of the senior Sandspurs was on it.

Because of her failure to do an English Country dance in court one freshman was ordered to carry a supply of cornstarch to be given away one at a time.

The other freshmen whose conduct were not up to the standard set by the Upper Classmen, were dealt out punishment according to their offenses.

Freshmen Perform Last Friday Night In Touch of Irony

The burial ceremony for South-eastern Louisiana, put on by the Fresh, turned out to be a touch of irony. Just before the game, the "Frosh," presided by the Rollins past, emerged the remains of South-eastern Louisiana to their final resting place. A long mourning cheer, followed by taps, completed the service.

Between the halves, about fifty Fresh clad in white, lined up and marched across the field, to the Louisiana stand, giving a cheer and forming the letter "L". Moving across to the Rollins stand they gave two cheers.

Men's Rushing and Parties Among Events of This Week

By Leah Jeanne Bartlett

Another week—and now we are really in the midst of rushing, or should we say the boys are? It's a question in many minds during rushing whether the girls rush more for the boys or the boys for the girls. That old classic, "Well, if I had a sister I'd want her to go to Rho Lambda Nu"—Or "If I had a brother here I'd beg him to go"—is loaded with tradition but still potent.

The Rho Lambda Nu's dinner, laterals meeting for their last two social events—the school's open house but from all reports it takes hope, and the dance was really fine.

Don Bond (or we should say Just) seems to take that old adage concerning variety being the spice of life just too, too seriously. It seems that on Friday night Don realized that he was all dated up for Saturday night—with five fair Rollins maidens—so to prove he had the best of intentions he tore off to Gainesville and went dateless all week end and now knows we were with him.

Speaking of Gainesville—about half of Rollins was seen at the game and elsewhere. Ruth Arant and Becky Brubaker, from the latest reports may still be up and there. Betty Wimer, Sue Chaklos, Coach McDowell and wife, Millie Maciel and countless others were seen around.

McDowell gained a bit of publicity when our landlady up in Gainesville came up to us with a picture "of dear little Jackie" at the age of three! She had his chin sticking out even at that age!

The Chi Omega's gave a small informal tea last Saturday afternoon and invited Priscilla Evelyn, Chae Frelson, Peggy Wally, and Mary Galsue. Chae and Priscilla went home for the week and as soon as classes were out so they really had a tea for tea.

Gordon Spence arrived this last week. We are all convinced at this point that he really took the fatal step because he brought his bride with him. Mrs. Spence stayed over at the Kappa Alpha Theta house Thursday and Friday night and then took Jane Semmes.

Barbara Parsons, '36, is in the training class of Arthur Murray's Dancing School in New York City, preparatory to teaching there. Her address is 60 West 63rd St.

DANCE GIVEN BY RHO LAMBDA NU

Colonial Orange Court Hotel Scene of Entertainment

The student body was the guest of Rho Lambda Nu fraternity at an all-college dance Tuesday night, October 23, at the Colonial Orange Court Hotel in Orlando.

Rho Lambda Nu is petitioning Sigma Nu this year. Members of the Sigma Nu chapters at the University of Florida and Station, the Pennsylvania Inspector of the fraternity, as well as, twenty-seven Sigma Nu alumni from Orlando attended.

A banquet was given at the Orange Colonial Hotel before the dance for a group of sixty-five men including: chapter members, Sigma Nu's and relatives. Paul Parker, President of the fraternity, acted as toast master, while Dr. Holt and Dean Anderson were the main speakers.

Musical was furnished for the dance by the University of Florida Chalmers.

Mrs. Swingle and Miss Patterson acted as chaperones for the evening.

Open House Held By Rho Lambda Nu For Students and Faculty

Rho Lambda Nu fraternity entertained at an open house last Saturday evening, October 26.

Dancing was enjoyed by the guests, who were privileged to select their own selections. These not interested in dancing were entertained by playing ping pong. Punch was served during the evening. Mrs. Swingle, Rho Lambda Nu house mother, chaperoned.

Professor Welch, Bowdoin college, solemnly announced: "Evening is as harmful to the intellect as liquor and women."

DEMORALIZED TARS BOW TO 19-0 DEFEAT

Southeastern Louisiana Is Spectacular Victor Friday Night

A battered Rollins eleven took note of a battering last Friday night at Tinker Field when Southeastern Louisiana roared around them and through them in a spectacular football game that left the Tars on the short end of a 19-0 score.

During the first period the Tars appeared to have a chance of overcoming their heavy, hard-hitting opponents, but in the third quarter their spirits were obviously gone and without the excellent defensive work of Bob Howe who continually broke up Louisiana runs, the score would have been much more top-heavy than the 19-0 which it was, Rollins worst defeat in two years.

The high point and turning point of the game came late in the second quarter when Miller took Gastmeyer's punt on his own ten and ran through the entire field for seventy yards to the visitors' twenty.

With the ball inside their ten yard line, Louisiana was penalized to the three for roughing and a score seemed a foregone conclusion. But Howe, driving into the line, fumbled the ball and the visitors recovered on their own five to start a sixty-five yard race to touchdown.

Under the shadow of the goal posts with the half about to end, the Tars were caught napping when on the next play Hart reversed to Galloway who shored a lateral to Gastmeyer for the touchdown as the half ended. King's placement for extra point was low and the teams retired for the rest period with Rollins trailing 6-0.

It was early in the second half that Louisiana took the ball from a beaten team for a walk to its second score. Galloway intercepted Murray's pass on the Rollins thirty-nine. Wallace passed to Gastmeyer on the seventeen. Galloway hit right tackle for five and Gastmeyer made three before

Ray Hurn, who tips the scales at 235 and towers six feet four inches skyward, will start the game for the visitors on Tinker Field during the Rollins Homecoming.

Wallace played into the line for first down on the five. Hart took the right tackle route for the score. King's placement struck the uprights.

In four plays the visitors were able to bring the ball from their own 5 yard line to midfield where Gastmeyer passed to Strabel on the twenty for a thirty-three yard gain. A look Galloway one play over right tackle to score and King's placement was good, leaving the final score at 19-0.

The statistics show little to counteract the impression of the score. Miller was effectively bottled up and set in Gastmeyer and Galloway two backs of his own caliber. Starting from scrimmage the Tars accounted for only nine first downs, gaining 101 yards, to their opponents' 21 first downs and 212 yards gained.

The line-up follows:

TWO FUTURE GRID OPPONENTS MEET

Tampa Comes Up From Behind to Win over Miami

The 12 to 17 victory of the Tampa U. Spartans over the Hurricane Eleven of Miami University Friday night is assurance of a fighting opponent for the Rollins Tars at Orlando, November 4.

Tampa scored two touchdowns in the first and second periods, due to halfback Rodriguez' broken field dashes of 30 yards for the Spartans' initial score and 13 for the second. Cox proved to be a supreme kicking sensation. Galloway of Miami kicked successfully and Beney crossed the Orange goal after three efforts from the one yard line.

Monday evening will mark the third clash of the Tampa and Rollins gridlers. Coach Nash Higgins will bring his Spartans, starting under the 6-2 defeat handed them last season, with his team from 1934 still intact and two or three deep in each position.

The visitors' team, boasting Cox and Rodriguez, will have to stop the sensational runs of George Miller. Tampa and Rollins are given an excellent chance to carry off the honors of the "Little Four" championship.

GIRLS' SPORTS TO START NEXT WEEK

Keen Competition Expected With Newcomers in Field

The sports world for women at Rollins has been greatly enhanced with the addition of several new students who have proven themselves outstanding in various fields.

On the basketball court are outstanding forwards, Chesley Prioleau, Helen Gallagher, Emily Oldham, Caroline Crowley, Polly Russell and Marilyn Talbot. Their valuable experience is going to add to the competition in intramurals which will begin the first week in November.

Tennis is going to be better than ever this year with Carolyn Barrett and Chesley Prioleau playing for the Rollins co-ed team. Both girls have demonstrated great ability on the courts.

The top dancers this year have Florence Kelley, Ruth Carter, Mary Acher and Harriet Regale in the class. These girls should be good material for the musical comedy tentatively scheduled for the winter term.

Eileen Gallagher has shown great ability as a diver, an athletic accomplishment that has long been lacking among the women.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF SPORTS

By Jack MacDowell

The second game of the current season brought disaster into the Rollins' camp by a 19-0 defeat at the hands of Southeastern Louisiana. It was one of the most crushing losses suffered by the Tars since MacDowell took up the coaching reins over five years ago. To a school so accustomed to winning teams as Rollins has been, last Friday night's spectacle was a sad and disheartening sight.

Criticism of the MacDowell team has been wide spread and based on almost every department of the game. So many mistakes have been performed on Tinker Field that the spectators have come to expect one every time the Tars appear under the floodlights. Few were willing to admit that the Green and White invaders were a better team, or that MacDowell could not be expected to produce a better one every time. No one would rather see the Tars enjoy an undefeated season than this writer, but perhaps a few losses like the last will increase the general appreciation of what MacDowell and his squad have accomplished year after year under terrific odds. However, some criticism of the Blue and Gold is justified on the basis of team performance, particularly in the line. As was pointed out in a previous column, the defensive work of the forward wall was the weak point in the Tars' game. This situation does not seem to have improved noticeably since the Newberry game and it proved to be the deciding factor in the Tars' defeat. Louisiana possessed plenty of backfield material which took full advantage of the Rollins' line. If it had not been for the particularly fine defensive play of Bob Howe in tackling up the line, the score might easily have been more one sided than it was. That the line failed in its offensive assignments was also chronic. George Miller proved that he was up to par by his sensational punt returning, but seldom could he get past the line of scrimmage for a crack at the goal line. Since Miller is the spearhead of the Tar offensive, this failure will have serious consequences unless it is corrected.

Word comes from the camp of our four-headed nightbirds, the Gators, that the Sports Editor of the Florida Alligator was dismissed for editorializing in his articles on the Gainesville eleven. A sports editor or columnist who cannot express his own opinion is a signed article is in a predicament. College sports are supposedly for the physical advancement of the undergraduate, not an advertising medium of financial venture for the benefit of the administration.

TROJANS TO FIGHT TARS FOR "LITTLE FOUR" TITLE HERE

Defeats of Past Two Years Spur Visitors While Last Week's Game Harries Homecomers' Team

Smarting under the worst defeat in two years at the hands of Southeastern Louisiana last Friday, the Rollins Tars will go out for blood when they meet the strong Tampa Trojans before a homecoming crowd on Tinker Field this Monday night. And the visitors will be keyed up to the fight to avenge two previous defeats and to recapture the "Little Four" title from the present champions.

Edging a squad of veterans, virtually the same team that bowed to the Tars last year, Coach Nash Higgins will send out a strong team led by the dangerous and flashy Rudy Rodriguez, hundred and fifty-four yard quarter.

When the Tars came up against the Spartans in the first game of their relationship two years ago, Tampa was favored, despite the fact that it was the University's first year of football and the squad was green. But the Tars upset the odds by winning by a good score.

Last season the Tars again came on the field with the odds against them but managed to fight out a 6-2 victory in a hard, smacking game. And including these two defeats, the Trojans have lost only four games and tied one in their football history.

It was in 1933 that Nash Higgins was first called to Tampa and sent out his bid for football material. The new University had never had a football team, and at that time did not even own a ball.

However, a squad was gotten together, and it is this squad, practically the same original group, that the Tars will meet.

The fruits of Higgins' labors should be realized this season as his veteran squad smashes down opponent after opponent. The coolness and spirit of the Tampa team cannot be denied.
