Senior Day Is To Be This Saturday At Coronado Beach

Saturday, May 24th, is a "red letter day" for the Seniors when they meet the faculty (for probably the last time) in the traditional Senior-Faculty picnic at Coronado Beach.

With Professor Kiesler at the helm, the food situation seems to be well under control. As it was confidently learned from that mythical society, known as the Terrible Ban's Stogies, two trucks of food will go from Reaney (one for Man Mountain Powell) loaded to the mud guards with that elite picnic standby, Pork and Beans.

It was also whispered that in order to save time and effort "Champaign" may would undoubtedly provide over his diet table, serving a delicious meal of Beans, Beans, and Beans, minus the Pork, or for those dashing young boys and girls with a flare for adventure, Pork, Pork and Pork.

A motorcade will (probably) leave from Carnegie about 2 o'clock preceded these three seniles show up with their cars (busses, cars, etc.). However all those wishing to do a parting good deed for their Alma Mater, may bring their own Stanley Steeple (as applied here), as there may be a shortage of transportation.

If any questions may arise in a senior's mind as to the why, wherefore, and where of the situation please see Prof. Kiesler. "He's de man what holds de reins."

ROLLINS COLLEGE

Winter Park, Fla.

Dear Rollins College Girls:

This is a new JANTZEN that just arrived in DICKSON-IVES. It is called the BRA-LACE, but it would seem we should call this new JANTZEN the presto. Its neck and back lines can be changed so quickly and easily, to secure new and quite different effects. You may detach the fashionable crocheted straps in the back and make a smart halter neck suit. Now is the time to go over to DICKSON-IVES and look over their new swim suits. The price of this one is $6.95.

Dr. Hamilton Holt entertained the graduating men of this year at an informal gathering at his home last Thursday night.

The Senior women were invited for Tuesday night.

Final Program of Records Presented Until Coming Year

Last Sunday evening brought the final record concert of the term, and it was the longest and most gala of all the concerts.

The program opened with Wagner's "Prelude" and "Liebestod" from "Tristan and Isolde," played by Sidorowski and the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra.

The feature composition of the evening was a recording of Stravinsky's "Also Sprach Zarathustra," performed by Koussevitzky and the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

As an encore, Wagner's "Dawn" and "Siegfried's Rhine Journey" from "Gottterdammerung" was played. This recording was made by Tausend and the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, just prior to the famous conductor's departure from America.

Phi Deltas Take Golf Tourney For First Intramural Cup Win

K. A. THETA WINS NEW LANDER CUP IN PLAYOFF GAME

Theta beat Gamma Phi in volleyball playoff by 52-44 score to win the women's annual intramural trophy

By Betty Myers

By their decisive victory over the Gamma Phi in the volleyball playoff Wednesday afternoon, the Theta was the one given by "Duc" Lander for the women's intramurals. Leading by a slim margin of 52-44 at the half, the Theta team went into a comfortable lead in the second half's opening minutes. The Gamma Phi rallied repeatedly, but the final whistle found the Theta victorious by a 52-44 decision.

The final standing for the year puts Kappa Alpha Theta in the lead with 483 points. Phi Delta Psi in second place with 467 points and Gamma Phi Beta showing with 383 points.

Barbara Connor heads the individual award list by winning the Phi Mu cup for the best all-around athlete chosen from the senior class. Jana Thayer was the only girl to win a blazer this year. The six honorary varsity teams also made news (1935-36): 50, basketball (1935) and wrestling (1935).

"R's" were given to five girls for making three honorary varsity teams: Eileen Gallagher, basketball, hockey and swimming; Patricia Smith, volleyball, basketball, hockey and swimming; Ann White, golf, hockey, basketball and volleyball; Mary Jane Taylor, basketball, hockey, tennis and volleyball; Elaine Koyan, two dancing teams and volleyball. Megaphone trophies were given to the two cheerleaders, Tina Sturges and Grace Terry. Swimming awards were given to Marion Eldridge, May Long, Lois Riess and Ann Roger, with Annette Twilbeck as swimmer, for passing senior life-saving course.

Tennis awards were given to Kappa Alpha Theta for winning the golf tournament, to Gamma Phi Beta for winning the tennis tournament, and to the Phi Beta Psi for winning the swimming meet. The volleyball cup given by the Gamma Phi Beta was won for the second successive year by the Kappa Alpha Theta, and the basketball cup given by the Kappa Alpha Theta was won by the Phi Beta Psi.

Crickit Marjorie was elected chairman of the "R" Club for the year 1936-37, and Betty Mowat and Betty Myers were made secretary and treasurer respectively.

The members of the Intramural Board, made up one member from each group in campus for the purpose of deciding all disputes in intramural activities, were announced: Phi Mu, Ann Karle; Phi Beta Psi, Crickit Marjorie; Gamma Phi Beta, Ruth Hill; Kappa Alpha Theta, Ruth Shelden; Independents, Violet Halperin; Kappa Alpha Theta, Patricia Smith; Alpha Phi, Ethel Hanks; Chi Omega, Jean McNeil. A banquet was given in honor Wednesday night by the "R" Club to honor its new members and the members of the Intramural Board.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF SPORTS

By Soc Chackles

More years ago than we care to recall, we saw the Wake Forest and North Carolina State Freshmen play a game of football in Raleigh. In the State backfield was an all-around, pale-faced backfield who spent the entire afternoon circling the Wake Forest ends for substantial gains. And each time the fragile looking State freshman would go down under the crushing Wake Forest tackle, we fully expected the hapless backfield to remain on the ground when the others arose. However, this was not the case. Several times tacklers failed to rise, but never did the backfield stay down. It was that way for sixty minutes. Despite the efforts of the State back, they lost 7-0.

That was the first time we ever saw Jack McDowell. The next time we saw him was four years later when Duke University, headed by Dan Jaskowski, a budding fullback who led the nation in scoring, and State College met in Durham for the state championship and possible Southern and National honors for North Carolina State. The game was to climax a football career of unsurpassed brilliance for McDowell. Half of the North Carolina grid game were hoping that Duke would halt the untimely march of State, while the other half hoped that McDowell would continue his series of dazzling football exhibitions long enough to give North Carolina State a win. It was to be a battle between full-backish rushes of Jaskowski and the lightning strikes of McDowell.

After Jaskowski's Duke juggernaut had ploughed over two touchdowns in the first half and the winnery of McDowell had predicted only a single touchdown, State fans began to feel as though their team had met their match.

But this was not true. In the second half a long run by McDowell gave State another touchdown, making the score 12-13. A few minutes later the same McDowell, consumed by rushing Duke tacklers, passed to a State end across the goal line for the third touchdown and a 20-12 victory, the two points after touchdowns coming from McDowell.

This great climax definitely and permanently established the legend of Jack McDowell in the State of North Carolina. In no section of North Carolina where the football fans gather for a football game will you find a single grid enthusiast who cannot recall some extraordinary feat of the legendary hero. And the alumni of State College, who are still seeking a team to equal the exploits of the team led by the present Soles Creek coach, tirelessly cherish the memories of the angular figure of Jack McDowell kicking while running at full speed, passing with a host of tacklers bearing down on him, and reeling up the ten yard stripes as he ran wild over the gridiron.

McDowell's ability did not end at the football field. He was graduated with a scholastic average of nearly 90. He was chosen on several All-Southern basketball teams; held the Southern high jump record for eight years; and was a member of the basketball team for two years. For two years he was awarded the North Atlantic Trophy annually given at North Carolina State to the best all-around athlete.

After a year as a highly successful coach at Asheville High School, McDowell came to Rollins in 1929 where football was at its lowest ebb. Previous to McDowell's arrival, Rollins had made the miserable record of winning two intercollegiate football games in seven years. Since then McDowell, with a minimum of material, has raised the level of Tar football to the point where they concede nothing as yet to any opponent. The high spots of McDowell's coaching career are two undefeated teams, and champions of "The Little Five".

Someday a large university or college is going to take Jack McDowell away from Rollins. And when that day comes every Rollins man who knew McDowell will regret his loss, but they will watch his inevitable success with a feeling that Rollins is sharing his success, because the fine character of Jack McDowell is inextricably interwoven in the new traditions established by Rollins College.

NEW INTRAMURAL BOARD PLANNED MURRAY WINS GOLF BOARD PLANNED INTRAMURAL TITLE

Enyart; McDowell to Compose Final Appeal Board Takes Brownell's Measure in Extra Hole of Play

BOARD FAVORS BOXING CLINCHES GARY CUP

At the final meeting of the Intramural Board many very definite changes were installed in next year's program.

In an effort to curb fraternity politics, a Board of Appeals, consisting of Dean Enyart and Jack McDowell, was established. The Director of the Intramural Board is the only one who can bring a case before the upper board. If no decision can be reached by the upper board the director can become a third member of this board and cast a vote. The director no longer has a vote within the Intramural Board.

Tough Football, Golf, Tennis, and Volleyball have all been placed in the fall term. Tough Football is to be played 5 days a week, one game a day with 10-minute quarters.

Cross Country was retained and boxing tentatively placed on the schedule with the time to be arranged.

A fraternity must enter a full team in any sport if the men are possibly available and no team may compete with less than ten men under the quota of a standard team.

Another change instituted was that a man competing in an intramural sport and later in a varsity sport should receive points for both. This was installed as intramurals are in a sense an effort to discover new varsity material.

Prizes which pledge on pledge day shall immediately be available for intramural competition. If pledged after official pledge day said man is ineligible for four weeks.

LEVY REPORTS TO NEW YORK YANKS

Rollins Star Is Famed To Norfolk Club

PLAYS IN HOME TOWN

Ed Levy, lowering star first baseman for the past two Tar baseball seasons, reported to the New York Yankees last Monday and was sent to their Norfolk, Va., farm club in the class B Piedmont League.

Levy, who pounded the ball for a .300 average during the past season, was signed by Johnny Nantz, Yankee scout, immediately following the close of the Rollins baseball season. New outfit Washington and Cincinnati for the hard hitting guardian of the Tar's initial sack. He joined the Norfolk team in Asheville, his home town, last Monday.

Levy has been under the surveillance of big league ivory buyers ever since his successful summer last season with a terrific swing-out team in South Carolina. Levy finished the season with a .375 average for the territory.

Big Ed finishes his sophomore year at Rollins this year, having starred as an end on the Tar grid team and as an intramural basketball center, in addition to his clearing power that he added to the base ballers. Ed costumedly finishing his college career at Rollins but he will naturally be ineligible for further intercollegiate athletic competition.

Both Murray and Brownell are members of Phi Delta Theta, and their playing in the golf finals was the deciding factor for their selection for the Gary trophy for that fraternity.

In the semi-final 18-hole matches, Whelan was defeated by Murray by the score of 4 up and 2 to play. Brownell trounced Tully on the 12th hole to the tune of 8 up and 4 to play.

PHI DELTS SCORE FIRST INTRAMURAL WIN IN CLOSE RACE

Score 1396 Points; X Club Second With 1316. Kappa Alpha Loses Cup; Pulls Up In Third Place with 1282.

By Bill Wicker

With the conclusion of the intramural sports schedule, the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity won their first sports championship and earned the right to hold the coveted Gary Cup award for the year 1936-37. The Phi Delta victory clinched the closest race in the history of Rollins intramural competition and was not secured until their golf team had eliminated the X Club and the K. A. from the last contest of the season. Final scores gave the Phi Delta first place with 1396 points, the X Club second with 1316, and the Kappa Alpha third with 1282.

On looking over the intramural record for the past year, we are reminded of Bill Terry's famous remark, "Is Brooklyn still in the league?" Every ball fan knows how Brooklyn came back in one decisive game to knock the long-leading Giants out of the 1955 championship—and every Rollins fraternity knows how the Phi Delta came back after a disastrous beginning to score out the highly favored defending champions on the last day of a seven-month race. Playing last in tough football and next to last in cross country, it was not until well into the spring term that the Phi Delta threatened the leaders and not until the final round of the golf tournament that they actually squeezed into the lead.

From the first touch football game last fall it was apparent that the K. A. was the fraternity to beat. It was also apparent that, although individual teams might occasionally score against the K. A., it would take all the fraternities combined to win a whole game from them. That first game looked like a scrimmage between the professional Chicago Bears and the Orlando Tigers, and with their passing attack built around Captain Bill Whelan, Johnny Nichols and Wilton Scanlon, the K. A. ran through their schedule without a loss. Their combined points for entrance, games won, championship, and Varsity letterman amounted to 348. Chase Hall with three wins out of five came second with 185, and the X Club third with 176.

Carrying on in cross country, the K. A. divided team honors with Theta Kappa Nu, each team securing 38 points. The former, represented by Wallace, W. Scanlon, J. Scanlon and H. Brady, finished 5, 7, 8, 12; Theta Kappa Nu, represented by P. Alter, Giuseppe, Lauterbach, and Solomon, finished 2, 9, 12 and 17. Frothing Smith (Phi Delta) took the individual honors by leading the field of 15 over the three mile course in 13 minutes 48 seconds. "Smitty's" victory gave the Phi Delta second place with the X Club third.

Painful reminders of an impending K. A. collapse were heard when the X Club handed them their first intramural defeat of the year in the crew opener. This unexpected loss, coupled with two more close defeats, kept the K. A. from finishing in the first three. The real surprise of the season, however, was the "dark horse" victory of the Rollins Hall team. King MacBury and his "merry men", Barrington, Slesberg, Garrison and Strongin, laid out some rather unorthodox training rules and proceeded literally to wipe up the course with their opponents. (In the fifth and final race of the season one of the "merry men" is reported to have cursed the entire course with a cigar in his teeth.) Rho Lambda Nu took second by virtue of a two-fifth second row-off victory over the Phi Delta really won diamond ball. Bobbie the consistently brilliant pitcher of Chase Hall and the home run barrage of their "merry men" won ten straight games to clean up first place and 300 points. The second place X Club, with seven out of ten, got 226 points; Rollins Hall took third with six out of 10 and 140 points. The scoring of these points sent the X Club into the Gary Cup lead with a total of 1193 against 1168 for the Phi Delta.

The K. A. with the astounding record of nine diamond ball losses out of ten, dropped to third position with 1092.

The swimming meet saw Kappa Alpha backing the field in a desperate attempt to get back in the running. Competition was extremely close in every event, but the K. A. was fighting to retain their lead in the final round of the last event found them holding a four point margin over their nearest rivals, the Independents. The Phi Delta and the X Club dropped to third and fourth respectively, and their resulting loss of points sent the race into a wide-open battle for first honors. Swimmers climbed out of the water and went out to Deland; golf winners were certain of taking the Gary Cup.

Going into the golf tournament the fraternities lined up as follows: X Club first with 1254 points, the Phi Delta second with 1242 and Kappa Alpha third with 1234. The X Club went out in the quarter finals and the K. A. in the semi-finals. Don Murray and Art Brownell carried the Phi Delta. Thane, who lost in the final round and snuck into the Gary Cup championship.

and which the President requested, The Senate bill leaves the House's proposed taxes on corporations considerably and makes up for the last revenue by increasing the taxation of individuals even more than the House measure planned to do.

Expecting to behave in this fashion it's to wonder the Senate tried to hold up the Seventeenth Amendment.

America's Opportunity

Three simultaneous crises face Europe—international war, intra-national political revolts, and economic collapse. The U. S. is in a key position to aid in this situation.

Mussolini is having his trouble with Ethiopia, League sanctions, and the Italian budget. France is having trouble with Germany, her budget and two absolutely opposed political extremes with a small "centre" party in her legislature. Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg is proclaiming himself dictator of Austria in the face of strong opposition from the deposed Stenberger and possible collapse of Austrian finances no matter who was politically. The English cabinet may possibly fall over the League question and serious Germany is in financial straits. And naval and military races are on throughout the world.

Fortunately some untrained English politicians are agitating for a U. S.-European war debt understanding. If President Roosevelt will take a bold stand and carry this country with him in maintaining the position that the U. S. will audit the war debt account of each individual nation with five times the amount of money they do not spend on armaments under their present budget expectations, and that this policy will continue annually, he will have assured himself a place in history, effectively aided each individual nation taking advantage of the policy, put a brake on European war tendencies, aided U. S. business which the present foreign situation and the war debt loans, and drew himself a world of political good with the pacifists, internationalists, and economists in this country.

Deviating Justice

When the Tampa police scandal broke over the Shoemaker murder this winter, the moral indignation of the nation was aroused. But moral indignation forgets as quickly as it follows; so justice sometimes goes astray.

Friday Judge Robert T. Dowell quietly dismissed three of the four charges against the seven defendants in the Shoemaker case, being tried in Bartow, Florida. This means that if the men are convicted the worst that can happen to them will be a light ten-year prison sentence for the atrocious crime of kidnapping. At the same time the judge acquitted two of the seven men.

Even if the heaviest victims of Florida find it impossible to con-

THE Inquiring Reporter

This Week's Question: "How do you think Beany-rood compares with that of other colleges?"

Beany-rood: It's lovely at times, but when you stop to think, they do give us the greatest possible variety. When you eat food day in and day out you're bound to get tired of it.

Beany-rood: On certain evenings at Smith the meal consisted of plain meat soup and eye bread. In comparison, Rollins is wonderful.

Beany-rood: A few strange dishes make their appearance once in a while, and some dishes are a little better, but on the whole it is entirely satisfactory. I do think, however, that the food is much better on the table than splattered and spilled on the seats of the chairs (see Perry Oldham for information).

Mary Archer: Perhaps I was lucky before, but at Rollins though I recognize the names, I don't seem to be able to place them with the food.

R. Brown: At the college I've been in on trips with the athletic teams, the food is awful. In comparison, Rollins can't be beaten.

visit those men on the kidnapping charges, they should at least be able to win a verdict for criminal negligence and neglect of duty in that the whole Tampa police force was very ineffective in protecting Shoemaker and his friends from being lynched directly in front of the police station.

Poor Puerto Rico

Puerto Rico, sometimes called Porto Rico, is a small island in the Caribbean Sea suffering from too much sugar and too many politicians on an island absolutely too small to support 1,700,000 inhabitants.

During the boom when sugar was up, Puerto Rico knew prosperity. Most of the sugar plantations were American and money was pouring in freely from American markets. Today sugar is down, and so is Puerto Rico. Coffee and tobacco are its only other industries of any consequence.

The Spanish American War was started by an organized minority of professional politicians and a misguided sense of sympathy by the United States, each aided by the flag of the Heart Press. The war did neither Spain nor the U. S. any good, and it certainly was no good for Cuba, the scene of the shooting.

If the United States again allows

Coleman and Holt Engagement Made Public at Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Ray Coleman announced the engagement of their daughter, Rebecca Ann, to George Chandler Holt last Thursday night at a dinner at their home on Alberta Drive.

Each of the dinner guests found at his place two calling cards tucked together with a gold heart. Those invited were Mrs. Lila Rothval, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Davy of Paris, Mrs. A. E. Dick, Mrs. Marion Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Trevelyan, Mr. and Mrs. Rhos Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Ravenhill, Miss Jane Thayer, Jack McGuffin, Bill King, Niki Hansen, Mr. Fred Hanna, Baron d'Entremont, and Hugh McKean.

After dinner Mr. and Mrs. Coleman entertained at a dance at the Whistling Kettle. The Florida Rhythm Kings played for dancing from ten till one and a large group of invited guests attended.

Itself to be misled by an organized minority of the Puerto Ricans and grants this small group their request of island freedom, she will be doing the small island a grave injustice.
