128 NEW STUDENTS ENTER ROLLINS FOR 52nd YEAR

INSPECTION GROUP GIVES PRAISE TO NEW DORMITORIES

Committee Finds Construction and Material Satisfactory

LAUDS CONTRACTOR

Residences Designed in Informal Spanish Style

High praise for the quality of work carried out by trustees of Rollins College with PWA funds was voiced by F. A. Burk, state engineer inspector for the state of Florida for the Federal Public Works Administration after inspecting the construction program here.

The construction program constituted five residences for students made possible by a PWA loan of $275,000, payable in 20 years.

Accompanying the state official during the inspection were F. Asen Black, traveling engineer inspector for PWA, W. W. Betts, resident engineer inspector for PWA, H. H. Higgins, supervising architect for Kitchell and Elliott, Miami, and H. C. Cox, general contractor of Winter Park.

FOREIGN STUDENTS ATTEND ROLLINS

Italy, Austria and France Are Represented

FIVE NATIONS ENROLLED

Rollins College expects to have a foreign contingent of at least five students this year, representing five different countries.

Included in the foreign group will be Edward Adamak of Providence, Rhode Island, who is attending the Commercial Academy, Providence, Rhode Island.

France will be represented by Andre Bally of "Mon Jolie" Sedan, Ardennes, France. He formerly attended Lycée Faidherbe, Lons, France.

Brazil will be represented by Sylvia de Quaresma of Rua Teixeira de Mello No. 10, Ipanema, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. She is a graduate of the Colégio Pedro II.

Italy will be represented by Delia C. A. Pizzetti-Biselli of 52, Via Paterna, Rome, Italy. He was previously at the University of Rome. (Continued on page 2, col. 3)

Historic Letter Has Been Added To Collections

An original letter written 32 years ago in a Confederate Army camp on the Ocklawaha River, 15 miles from Ocala, has been added recently to the Rollins College Collection of Florida, according to Prof. A. J. Hanna who has been searching historical data at Rollins for many years.

The letter is normally valuable, not only for its important contents but because it was penned by Thaddeus Oliver, the Georgia poet, who wrote "All Quiet Along the Potomac." The letter was written to Mr. Oliver's wife and was presented to Rollins by his great-granddaughter, Miss Penelope Lawson Knox of Deland.

The manuscript refers to fighting parties of "Yankons" who took "out and plunder of any kind" but the writer is equally impressed by the orange groves. "Nothing in reality or imagination ever surpassed or even rivaled their magnificence and beauty." He states that on a nearby sugar plantation 120 bushels of sugar besides large quantities of syrup were produced.

ORIENTATION WEEK ASSEMBLY IS HELD

New Students Welcomed By President Holt Friday

STAFF IS INTRODUCED

The first assembly during Orientation week for the entering students was held at the Annie Russell Theatre on Friday, September twenty-fifth. President Hamilton Holt opened the assembly with a speech of welcome which was followed by a welcome from Bryant Pennington, president of the Student Association, representing the greetings of the student body.

The Rollins Creed written by Professor Edwin Osgood Grover, was read by Grace Terry. President Holt then introduced Dean Winslow S. Anderson, Dean Arthur Enright, Dean Helen Sprague, Miss Anna B. Treat, Registrar, and Mr. E. T. Brown, Treasurer.

Rollins songs and cheers were led by Grace Terry, Ralph Gibbs and Tony Castello.

On Monday morning, September twenty-eighth, Dean Anderson explained the Rollins Plan to the entering students laying special emphasis on the conference plan, the lower division requirements and the Rollins curriculum. A complete explanation of the instructions for registration was also made by the Dean. He then called for questions.

Monday night at another assembly Dean Anderson, Dean Enright and Mr. Brown explained the Rollins Campus, giving the names and uses of the various buildings. The importance of college responsibilities and the opportunities that are to be found at college were discussed at an assembly on Tuesday night.

New "R" Books Issued From Information Desk

Old students may secure their copies of the New 1934-35 "R" Books from Mrs. Cass at the Information Desk in Carnegie Hall.

DR. HOLT GIVES CHAPEL SERMON

Talks on His Work as Magazine Editor

R. DOUGHERTY SOLOS

The regular Sunday Morning Meditation was held in the Knoxville Memorial Chapel on September 23. The invitation was given by Ralph Gibbs and the Responsive Reading by Helen Brown.

The title, "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains" by Barker was sung by Bruce Dougherty, tenor. The Old Testament Lesson was read by R. Dougherty and the New Testament Lesson was read by Grace Terry.

Dr. Holt told how he came to think of the Rollins Plan from his experiences as a magazine editor after he left college. He found that he had learned more from the personal contacts which he made in the editorial world than he had from the college professors at the university, and so brought out the point that the chief aim of our modern colleges is the lack of human contact.

Student Council Will Call Meeting Next Week

At the May 25 meeting of the Student Council the motion was made, seconded, and carried that section six, Article Four, of the Constitution be changed to read "Officers" which the Council shall include a Chairman, Vice-Chairman and Secretary, each to be elected separately within the Council by a two-thirds majority of the Student Quorum, and Quorum is composed of Student Council members.

At present the article reads as follows: "Officers within the Council shall include a Chairman, Vice-Chairman and Secretary, each to be elected separately within the Council by three-fourths majority vote of a quorum. Said quorum is composed of three-fourths of the total number of group representatives." As this involves an amendment to the Constitution, it will be placed before the Student Body for a vote one week from this date.

PARKING CHANGES MADE THIS YEAR

Spaces Provided for Faculty on Holt Avenue

STAFF PLACES RESERVED

New parking regulations have been issued by the Administration of Rollins College this year.

Several changes have been made due to the new buildings and switches in classrooms.

New rules are:

1. For the convenience of faculty members who have classrooms in Knoxville and Speech Studio, a section has been reserved on the south side of Holt Avenue, west of Carnegie Hall.
2. Conservatory instructors may park on Interlachen near Sparrow.
3. Faculty members who teach in Lyman, Recreation Hall, and Pinchurst will find places in a special section on the north side of Holt Avenue, opposite the Homeplace.
4. Individual spaces are reserved as usual for President Holt, Dean Anderson, Mr. Brown and Dean Enright in front of Carnegie, while Dean Campbell, Mr. Averil (the college postmaster), Mr. Clark and Mr. Hanna have spaces on Holt Avenue near Pinchurst.
5. Other members of the administrative staff and office workers will park on Interlachen, or on Holt Avenue directly across from Carnegie.
6. Four ten-minute spaces are lined off in front of Carnegie and the College is requested to help observe these regulations, thus avoiding the former congestion in front of the Administration Building. Stopping only will be permitted.

MISS TREAT IS PROMOTED AS REGISTRAR

Has Been Assistant Registrar at Rollins Since 1929

MRS. CASS RESIGNS

She Has Filled Position For 15 Years

The promotion of Miss Anna B. Treat as Registrar of Rollins College and the retirement of Mrs. Emily B. Cass as Registrar Executive are effective this year. Miss Treat has been Assistant Registrar since 1929.

The retirement of the regular Mrs. Cass does not mean, however, that her active services will be lost to the College, according to the announcement. Mrs. Cass will still be associated with the general offices of the College and will be in charge of the information desk in Carnegie Hall.

A native of Ohio, Mrs. Cass attended Wellesley College for a year and then transferred to the College of Worcester where she was graduated in 1888 with the Bachelor of Music degree. She taught public school music for more than twelve years and then attended Kings School of Convalescence, which she was graduated in 1913. For five years she was associated (Continued on page 3, col. 7)

Dr. Denney to Be Speaker in College First Convocation

Next Sunday morning, October 8, the college convocation will be held. Dr. Wm. Denney, Jr., assistant to Dean Charles A. Campbell and instructor of Religion, will speak on, "Four Things Worth Spending Your Life to Gain." Mr. Denney, who has been in the college since last February, is a graduate of Ursinus College in Pennsylvania. He received his B.A. and M.A. in Theology at Princeton Theological Seminary and has done graduate work at Columbia University and the University of Pennsylvania.

DR. JOHN MURRAY TALKS ON SUNDAY

His Subject Was "Democracy and Dictatorship"

IS ENGLISH EDUCATOR

On Sunday evening, September 23rd, Principal John M. Murray of the University of the South West at Keweenaw, England, spoke at the residence of Dr. Hamilton Holt on "Democracy and Dictatorship."

Dr. Holt greeted the small audience at the formal meeting. Dr. Evelyn McCaskey, professor of English at Rollins, introduced the speaker. It is rather fitting that he performed this duty, because she has just returned from a year of teaching at the University of the South West.

Principal John M. Murray took as his topic "Democracy and Dictatorship." He contrasted the forms of government in England, France, Russia, Germany, Italy, and the United States. He used England as the outstanding example of good democracy, Germany, (Continued on page 2, col. 3)

Student Body Will Be Represented By Cosmopolitan Group

That the student body at Rollins College is largely cosmopolitan in character is indicated in the report that the entering class includes representatives of twenty states and six foreign countries, including "wild" swimming students, the registration this year will represent nearly 60 states.

Of the first one hundred students accepted by the Office of Admissions this year, 32 live in Florida, and 23 in New York. Some come from New Jersey and four each from North Carolina and Ohio, while Pennsylvania, Connecticut, District of Columbia, New Hampshire, Kansas, Illinois, Missouri and Massachusetts are represented by two or more each.

Foreign nations which are represented among the members of the entering class, are Brazil, France, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Austria, and Switzerland.

All entering students reported at the College on Friday, September 25, for the opening of Freshman Week, officially known as Orientation Week, designed to help new students adjust themselves to campus life before college opened.

Five New Dormitories Named for Men And Women Connected with Rollins

The five new residences for students at Rollins College will be named in honor of five men and women who were closely identified with the founding and early development of the college.

The two residences for women will be named Lucy A. Cross Hall and Caroline A. Fox Hall. The men's residences will be named Booker Hall in memory of Dr. Edward Payson Hooker, the first president of Lyman Hall in memory of Frederick W. Lyman, a charter trustee, and Gale Hall in memory of Rev. Sullivan F. Gale, a charter trustee.

Miss Cross, a graduate of Oberlin and a former member of the faculty of Wellesley College, was for many years head of a private school in Dayton, Ohio, where she was also a civic leader. It was a letter written by Miss Cross to the first annual meeting of the General Congregational Association of Florida, which led to the founding of Rollins College as the first institution of higher education in Florida.

Miss Fox was educated at Radcliffe College, was a winter resident of Winter Park and a generous benefactor of Rollins College during the past decade.

Dr. Hooker, a former member of the faculty of Middlebury College, came to Florida as a missionary of the Congregational Church and was the leader in the movement which resulted in the founding of (Continued on page 2, col. 2) pied space in Carnegie Hall, the administration building. Their former quarters are now being used by the business office and the office of Admissions.

New plumbing has been installed in Knowles Hall and new offices have been built for faculty in this classroom building. Knowles Memorial Chapel has been redecorated and new lights have been installed in the chapel to give the choir additional light facilities.

Some interior decorating has been undertaken in Lyman Hall, a class-room building, and in several of the old dormitories. A semi-air conditioning system has been installed in Carnegie Hall.

In Chase Hall, the oldest dormitory for men, the furniture has been discarded and replaced with new all-steel furniture.

At the swimming course in Lake Virginia, considerable improvements have been carried out with "filling in" of earth along the shore and the building of a bulkhead along the entire course.

Harper-Shepherd Field has been re-roofed and re-seeded. This fall, Superintendent Cartwright plans to build a new stadium at Harper-Shepherd.

More than 1000 feet of concrete walks have been installed adjacent to the new student residences and at various points on the campus.

Under the direction of George Cartwright, Jr., electrical engineer, a new bank of transformers has been installed in the rear of the new dormitories for men to carry the increased load necessary, and a new bank is being installed in the rear of the new dormitories for women. New pumping equipment to provide irrigation for the grounds near the new buildings has also been added to the plant's facilities.

Landscapeing of the grounds adjacent to the new dormitories will be started this month. A sum of about $5,000 from the original loan of $275,000 allotted by the PWA for the construction of the new buildings, will be spent in landscaping, it is announced.

Rollins College. As its first president he helped organize its board of charter trustees, selected its charter faculty and raised funds for its development. Dr. Keith forced him to relinquish this strenuous activity after seven years.

Mr. Lyman was an outstanding civic and religious leader of Minneapolis, Minn., and Winter Park, having served as president of the Winter Park Company which was largely responsible for the founding of Winter Park. As a charter trustee and as first president of the corporation of Rollins College he probably contributed more to the organization of Rollins than any other layman. He was the donor of the first president's house and of Lyman Hall, formerly the gymnasium and now a recitation building.

Dr. Gale, a graduate of the University of Vermont, was largely responsible for the organization of the Congregational Home Missionary Society in Florida which he served as its first superintendent. It was under the auspices of this organization that Rollins was founded with Dr. Gale as a charter trustee. The address opening Rollins College on November 4, 1885, was delivered by him.

chairman of the finance committee of the board of trustees, Ervin T. Brown, treasurer, Frederic H. Ward, assistant treasurer, Dr. Arthur D. Emmert dean of men, Mrs. Helen G. Sprague, dean of women, and Miss Virginia Robie, interior decorator and assistant professor of art.

At the end of his tour of inspection, Mr. Buck said, "I have been profoundly impressed with the sound selection of this project and by the quality of the work performed by the architects, contractors and craftsmen."

Mr. Buck pointed out that the Rollins project, like all other PWA projects in the state and the several thousand throughout the country, has been selected by the local communities or institutions benefited, planned by their citizens, and built by their crafts men, with a PWA resident engineer-inspector assigned to aid and speed each project to completion.

Consequently, Mr. Buck said, the credit for carrying out the Rollins program of construction should go to these men in the community or institution who planned the project and enlisted PWA aid for its completion. He pointed out further that the added facilities will be extremely beneficial to the College and to the public generally.

Praise for the cooperative efforts of the PWA was expressed by Mr. Higgins, who has supervised, personally, every minute detail of construction and equipment.

"Speaking for Kielbaso and Elliott, the architects," he said, "I wish to thank the Public Works Administration for the splendid cooperation its officials have shown in carrying out the construction requirements on this project."

Mr. Higgins added that "the Public Works Administration should be held in high esteem for making possible this beautiful addition to Rollins College. H. C. Cox, the contractor, is to be commended on the high class manner in which he has executed his contract."

The new dormitories, Mr. Higgins said, "are designed in an informal domestic Spanish style and are an integral part of the general campus scheme. The general architectural effect is picturesque and colorful with Spanish tile roofs, colored feature stones, modeled belt courses and diverse architectural features, well proportioned stone entrances, elaborate iron grilles, grates and lighting fixtures. Beautiful outdoor living rooms or patios with their highly ornamental fountains and pools add to the ensemble."

President Holt of Rollins expressed himself as highly pleased with the appearance of the new dormitories and complimented the architects, the contractors, the craftsmen, and the PWA officials for their cooperation in building the residences in time for occupancy when the College opens this week.

The new dormitories will accommodate 110 students, two for women having facilities for 45 and the three or men accommodating 65. For the first time in some years, President Holt said, the College is now able to house all its students either on the campus or in college-owned buildings.

Notice To Upperclassmen

The Rat Committee requests that all students who were in college last year cooperate in enforcing the Rat Rules.

If any Rat or Rats break any of the ratings, are fresh, or in any way misbehave themselves, it is asked that old students noticing the misdoings will write out a charge against the offender, stating the name of the Rat, the nature of the offense.

1. Writing the Rat's name on a slip of paper.
2. Writing the offense.
3. Putting the date.
4. Putting the time.
5. Putting the place.
6. Signing the charge.
7. Getting as many witnesses as possible to sign the charge also.

The names of the signers will be kept secret. The plans for Rat Courts are not being announced in advance this year, but elaborate preparations are being made and the sessions of the Court, it is planned, will be much better than anything that has been done at Rollins in the past.

Italy, and Russia were cited as extreme examples of dictatorship.

Dr. Murray predicted that the form of government now used by Italy and Germany would some day become governments of democracy. In his speech he pointed out that England's present democratic government started on the same basis as those of Italy and Germany. The reason that the democratic government that was set up in Germany after the World War failed, was that a democracy takes years of formation and cannot be established overnight.

He said that radio is the greatest possibility of educating the people by democratic propaganda. He claims that the last minute speeches on the radio both in England and in the United States are often the determining factor in the elections.

He said that England was benefiting now by the Social Insurance law passed in England in 1911 by Lloyd George. England is now experiencing her most harmonious period in history.

Dr. Murray believes that democracy will outlive any form of dictatorship. He credits England with founding the first real democracy.

In recognition of her attributes of character, Rollins College bestowed the Citizens' Award of the Algonquin Sydney Sullivan Medal upon Mrs. Treat at Founders' Week Exercises in 1921.

Miss Treat, who was born in Milwaukee, Wis., was educated at Milwaukee-DuSane Seminary, Milwaukee-DuSane College and Smith College, graduating from the latter with the B. A. degree.

Miss Treat began her teaching career as assistant principal and instructor of English and history at Miss Treat's School in Milwaukee, which was later incorporated as Lake School for Girls and is now merged with Milwaukee-DuSane Seminary. She came to Florida in 1919 and as a resident of Maitland took an active part in business and civic affairs, serving as a member of the Maitland School Trustees Board when the present school buildings were erected in Maitland and Eatonville. In 1927 she joined the staff at Rollins College as office manager of the promotion office and two years later she was appointed assistant registrar.

SIX APPOINTED ON FACULTY

Four Are Listed as Replacements

TWO ARE ADDITIONAL

Faculty turnover at Rollins for the new year is the lowest in many years.

The six new appointments, of whom one is with the rank of assistant professor and five with the rank of instructor, include only two which are classified as "additional" staff members. The others are listed as "replacements" to fill vacancies created by resignations.

From the standpoint of academic work, the most important appointment is that of Mrs. Angela Palma Campbell as assistant professor of Spanish. She is a native of Spain where she was educated, and a graduate of Wellesley College where she received her M. A. degree. Mrs. Campbell taught Spanish language and literature at Wellesley for six years and also at the Spanish Summer School of Middlebury College.

Another appointment to the teaching staff for language is that of Gilbert H. B. Sheldon, who will be an instructor in modern languages. Mr. Sheldon was born in Germany of Swiss and American parents and was graduated from the University of Lausanne in France. Later he attended Harvard Law School from which he was graduated with an LL.B. degree. Since his graduation from Harvard Law he has lived for several years in Europe. He was in France this summer preparing for his doctorate in comparative literature at the University of Strasbourg.

The only faculty change in the Conservatory of Music brings Enrico Tamborini as instructor in cello. Mr. Tamborini has been cello concertist and conductor of the Wheeling, W. Va. Symphony Orchestra since 1923. He is a native of Italy and has toured Europe and the United States as a cellist.

Charles R. Marshall, Jr., graduate of Dartmouth and Harvard, joins the staff as instructor in English and will teach the first-year courses. Dr. Eugene D. Farley, who received his B. A. degree from the University of Wisconsin and his M.S. and Ph.D. degree from the University of Illinois, has been named instructor in chemistry. The vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Malcolm MacLennan in the classics will be filled by Dr. Charles J. Armstrong, of British Columbia, as instructor in Latin and Greek. Dr. Armstrong received his A.B. degree from the University of British Columbia in 1932 and his Ph.D. degree from Harvard this past year.

The only other faculty change recorded for the coming year is the return of Dr. Evelyn Newman, professor of American literature, who has been on a year's leave of absence on an exchange professorship at the University College of the South West at Exeter, England.

Ten times as many students are using the college libraries now as in 1925.

VESPER SERVICE HELD IN CHAPEL

Dr. John Murray of Exeter England is Speaker

The new students were welcomed to the Kessler Memorial Chapel at a special Vesper Service on Saturday evening. Everyone was pleased with the unusual and unexpected visit of Dr. John M. Murray, principal of the University of the South West in Exeter, England. He gave a brief address mentioning the common ideals of two great institutions, as well as our great hope for human brotherhood created in the halls of our colleges.

In the course of the lovely vesper service three others gave brief talks. Marion Gushkiel stressed the need and the meaning of the Sanctuary. Lynne Graves mentioned the force of real religion in college life. Mr. Denney of the chapel staff spoke last. In effect he said:

We have definite expectations for our Chapel at Rollins. We want it to be the vital center of our college life, the hub of the wheel, not just another institution.

No one of us will ever try to impress our religion on anyone of you; our intention is to have each of you to develop a faith vitally your own.

In this place you can find the spirit that unites all the forces of your life. Here you can gain the power to see things through when you are baffled. Here you can store up spiritual reserves for the complex world of future years.

In short, we do not want colleges to be a strange intellectual; we want it to be life itself at its highest and best.

There is no compulsion about this Chapel. We trust however that you may always know the persuasive spirit of God in your heart prompting you to do the thing that matters most, and thus know the simple truth of the master's words: "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and all other things shall be added unto you."

Bill—Have you ever realized any of your childhood hopes?

Rollins Presented With 9 New Lots at Coronado Beach

Through the generosity of an unnamed donor, Rollins College recently acquired nine additional lots adjacent to its beach club property at Coronado Beach, Ervin T. Brown, treasurer of Rollins, has announced.

The Police, a large two-story building used as a beach club by faculty and students, was acquired with four lots in 1930 as a gift from Mrs. Cole Johnson. The recent acquisition of lots includes two lots south of the original property, two to the north across the street from the Police, and five at the rear of the original plot.

Week-end trips to the Coronado Beach club house are among the most popular forms of diversion for students and faculty during the college year.

Fraternities and Societies Brought on Campus

HOUSEMOTHERS NAMED

Because of the shuffling around that has done this it is almost impossible to tell who lives in what house and which housemother or proctor is in charge. Cloverleaf and Chaucer are the only dormitories which are clear in every one's mind. Freshmen are still living in these two halls with Mrs. Lester still presiding at Cloverleaf, but a new proctor, Mr. Gilbert Sheldon at Chaucer.

Mayflower and Pegasus house the Phi Beta Phi and the Kappa Kappa Gamma societies respectively. Mrs. Wilson is in charge of Mayflower and Mrs. Enwright of Pegasus. The two new women's dormitories, Lucy Cross and Caroline Fox, are in charge of Mrs. Bamschal and Mrs. Ford respectively. Kappa Alpha Theta society and a number of Independents are living in Lucy Cross Hall, while the Alpha Phi and the Phi Mu societies are in Caroline Fox Hall. Lakeland, the one other women's dormitory on campus houses Independents with Miss Apperson in charge. The Gamma Phi Beta house on Osceola Avenue is in charge of Mrs. Schultz, while the Chi Omega house on Chase Avenue is in charge of Miss Buell.

Rollins Hall is occupied by the Rho Lambda Nu fraternity in charge of Mr. Cook. The three new men's dormitories, Hooker, Gale, and Lyman house the Theta Kappa Nu fraternity, the X Club, and the Phi Delta Theta fraternity respectively. Mr. Christopher Bonas is in charge of Hooker, Dr. Armstrong of Gale and Lyman. The Kappa Alpha house is again elaborated by Mrs. Cox.

A regular pictorial review of the news of the college world will be featured each week in The Collegiate Digest section of The Rollins Sandspur, the first issue of which appears with this edition of The Sandspur.

Featuring exclusive, lively features written especially for its wide collegiate audience in addition to the regular news of the week "in picture and paragraph", Collegiate Digest brings to the readers of The Sandspur the most complete pictorial review of college news available.

A new and outstanding feature of the issues this year will be the unusual Speed Graph photos taken with the "Magic Eye" camera and depicting the continuous motion of athletes in action. The remarkable photos have been made possible recently by the invention of a camera which "stops" the various movements of people in action.

Then, too, Collegiate Digest will continue in The Spotlight, its light and lively stories of the great and near great who graduated from or attended college.

Students of Rollins College are urged to send photos to the editor of Collegiate Digest at P. O. Box 472, Madison, Wis. Regular newspaper rates are paid for all photos accepted for publication.

A prominent Eastern school gave its faculty a questionnaire of 41 statements to be checked as true or false. It has as its avowed purpose an exposure of the inability of educators to answer questions outside their own field. The highest score was 16 correct answers.

Unassuming yet mighty, sharp and pointed, well-rounded yet many-sided, audaciously iconoclastic, yet as gritty and energetic as its name implies, victorious in single combat and therefore without a peer, wonderfully attractive and extensive in circulation: all these will be found upon investigation to be among the extraordinary qualities of the SANDSPUR.

Editorials

The Sandspur takes this opportunity to welcome all new students to Rollins and wish them a most happy and successful college life.

On Entering College

Entering college is in every person's life a new experience. It marks a definite turning point for every student.

For the first time in your life you stand alone, being away from parental aid, previous friends, restrictions of the home and the preparatory school. In a more common way of putting it, you are beginning life on your own.

Beginning this "new life" leaves an impressionable mark on every person's character, habits, and choice of friends. College can make or break a person.

Character is what you form yourself. Your character develops with every experience, whether it is pleasant or unhappy.

In college you run into both kinds of experiences. At times you will think that you have had nothing but unhappy experiences. That of course is not true, because an unhappy experience is far more obvious than a happy one.

Habit depends on character. The habits you form now are the habits you take with you through life. These habits are generally strengthened by the type of life you lead in college. You choose this life in the things you do. You can work in college or barely slide through.

Your choice of friends depends on habit. It is only natural that people who have the same interests are your more intimate friends. The type of associations established now are the type of friends you will have through life.

Therefore it is highly essential that your character, habits, and choice of friends be of the highest standard. It is these three things that are ever important in your later life.

We feel that you can gain as high a standard of living and as good a chance at developing at Rollins as at any other school of higher education. Here, we have few rules to govern the new student. Rules are only made to be broken. Here you are left to govern your own life. Here you will taste for the first time almost complete freedom.

Occasionally you are bound to take advantage of this freedom. But remember that in stepping over the black line too often you are hurting yourself and not the college. At Rollins they are one step ahead of most colleges in their ideas. They have found that character, habit, and choice of friends is up to the individual and not to any enforcement of foolish rules.

You have often heard that life is not made for you, but what you make it.

"Democracy and Dictatorship"

Those of us who were fortunate enough to hear Principal John M. Murray, president of the University of the South West, Exeter, at Dr. Holt's residence on Sunday evening, realized that this man talked competently on "Democracy and Dictatorship".

Citing England as an example of a good democracy today, he pointed out that this type of government was not formed in a day but after centuries of trial and error, struggle and work.

He brought to mind the fact that in forming this government, England did not go through bloody revolutions, but merely the massing of people at the polls.

Today we hear and read political campaign material from all parties that say their opponents will form a dictatorship, or go to war because of pressure from the money barons who back them.

To believe all this propaganda is something no person does. But it is a common fact, that many people believe some of it.

Remember that the citizens of the United States have their national elections every four years and that they can keep an unsatisfactory president from returning to office for a second term.

As long as the United States citizens vote this way, no one person as president can turn this government into a dictatorship, nor can another president force us into war.

New Dormitories

This summer five new dormitories were built at Rollins to house the fraternities and societies. These new buildings draw nearer the completion of the building plan of the Rollins campus.

Every one who has seen these dormitories are well pleased with them. They fit in architecturally with the Chapel, the Annie Russell Theatre, Rollins, Pugsley, and Mayflower Halls.

They draw the students closer together, which is a part of the Rollins plan. It brings all activity nearer to our campus.

Rollins students are fortunate in having an administration which is striving to better our college in every way. Not only have they made our educational opportunities the most desirable, but also with the completion of the dormitories they have given us a home and campus of which we are proud.

Student Band

Due to the numerous requests last year, Harve Clemens is organizing a college band. This band is a badly needed institution at Rollins. With the support and cooperation of the whole student body, Rollins can have a band to be second to none.

Pep Squad

Every year at Rollins the Freshman Pep Squad is an outstanding highlight of the football games.

This year the new students are expected to report at all rehearsals and continue the work of former freshmen.

HIGHLIGHTS IN THE NEWS

With the death of Admiral W. S. Sims, war time commander of the American fleet in European waters, the U. S. Navy lost one of its most colorful and courageous men.

After spending fourteen months in a German jail awaiting trial, Laurence B. Simpson was convicted of sedition. Simpson admitted that he and some German friends had conspired to set up a popular front government in Germany—this government to take a Communist attitude.

After the Republicans have repeatedly accused the New Deal forces of fostering Communism, President Roosevelt turned an about face and claimed the blind policy of the GOP "is creating a fertile field for Communism". These words were taken from his speech delivered in Syracuse, N. Y., last evening. Maybe the Republicans will claim that Hearst is backing Roosevelt, now that the same campaign arguments are being used by both parties.

Mayor John T. Alsop of Jacksonville expressed the belief that more money will be appropriated for the Florida Ship Canal at the next session of Congress. He made this statement in New York after having visited the Democratic National Headquarters in New York. Why can't they leave the Florida Ditch as a failure of the past? It only brings to mind the exorbitant amount of money wasted thus far on this fantastic dream.

MAYBE IT WAS TOO HOT?

Footnotes

By STEVEN H. BAMBERGER

Well, what do you know? Here it is Autumn again and another year has passed since the last Autumn. Two years have passed since the Autumn before last, eleven years have passed since the Autumn Hamilton Holt took Rollins over, and God knows how many years will pass before the Autumn will be passed. So let's up and Autumn.

(Incidentally, these footnotes are being brought to you through the courtesy of the office of the Dean. Similar bulletins will gladly be furnished on request. Write on only one side of the paper. Next time will count.)

Perhaps one of the greatest thrills a Rollinsite can experience (outside of graduating, of course, or going home for the Christmas vacation or nibbling on some daily rock-and-roll) is to welcome the incoming class as it descends from the train. Needless to say we were no exception to this rule and though we were a little late getting to the station (the train had arrived, unloaded and departed three hours before) we were determined not to be disappointed. And lo, we weren't. There, standing on the platform, was a group of unmistakable late looking very well-borne and haggard and evidently very much in need of rest.

"And what can we do for you?" we asked in our casual confidence-inspiring tones.

After a long pause caused no doubt by deep deliberation and a bad case of fallen arches, one of these finally broke down and related their terrible plight. "We got off at the wrong station," they sobbed. "We belong in Stateside."

With that everybody started to wail and it was all we could do to manfully withhold our own tears until help came in the form of Paves's Taxi Service which whisked us for a bad case of Pakt Blue Ribbon and carried us away to one of the nearby dispensaries. We later learned however, that they were all tagged and shipped back to their proper destination the next week. A fitting climax for a dreary old adventure.

But enough of this sadlerdash and to the point. Despite the recent hardships the freshman class looks pretty good this year—unless we've been deceived by the beautiful background of the new dormitories. We and good looks seem to be the predominant features along with a strong preference for Lux Toilet Soap, Governor Landon and Paris Green.

Mrs. Eudine Case, Registrar Emerita and general information distributor for the College (with offensive apologies to the faculty), was stumped the other day by the first question asked of her. The question in question was, "How can I make a million dollars?" and we presume that it was asked by Dean Emory whose insatiable curiosity is common gossip on the campus.

Mrs. Case smiled and shook her head so violently that many who were present thought it was coming off. "The College has not authorized me to commit myself on this topic," she said, "although I am sure that Treasurer Brown would be more than willing to discuss with some very promising class for a very small fee." And that was the last we heard of the matter, as we had to interview some Freshman in the Bessinger at the time. However, rest assured

I wish I were a merchant in my professor's class. For no matter how idle moments are, they always seem to pass.

Ten Years Ago

Students in a special meeting took a which at that long standing Rollins problem—the problem of chapel attendance. Expressing appreciation for outside speakers because of their usually long discourses, and calling for more student participation, a committee was appointed to investigate.

We no longer have to hunt the mosquitoes down with clubs, and push their heads to climb into bed. The Sophomores promise a big time at their annual dance tomorrow night. Written invitations have been issued to members of the faculty, and if in the mad rush, any of our dear teachers did not receive theirs, we extend to said Golden Personalities and their wives an especial and most hearty bid.

Three Years Ago

The Student Open Forum discussed the need at Rollins for more leisure time in which to follow hobbies and personal pursuits. It was found that in order to have more time during the week, the school year must be extended, and the plan met with little favor.

STUDENT OPINION

September 27, 1936.

To the Editor:

There was some talk here last Spring of reviving varsity basketball at Rollins. This game was dropped from the Rollins varsity schedule in 1932 because of lack of interest. This statement could hardly seem plausible now, if you can recall the crowds that turned out for the Intramural games. Certainly varsity basketball would draw a much larger and more enthusiastic audience.

With such playing as was exhibited by Murray, Dougherty, Knibb, Broadbelt, Justice, McManis, Miller and C. Brady, to name only a few, we should certainly have an excellent team. With the remarkable turnout of men to play Intramural basketball, it cannot be said that it suffered from lack of interest. Then why would varsity basketball suffer? It is obvious that more students would want to watch a college game than the pickup games, such as were sponsored in last year's intramural series.

I hope that the committee that is to meet this fall to discuss the possibility of reinstating this sport to our varsity schedule, will be wise in their deliberations.

Spectators at the interscholastic water meet here were thrilled with the unusual spectacle of a parachute jump from an altitude of 2900 feet. Following the jump into Lake Virginia, the performer was picked up by the Rollins speed boat and taken ashore.

Two Years Ago

This heat wave seems to have inspired among a group of students to rise early. It would not be disturbing if everyone on campus did not feel the effects of a few anxious ones going to class at 6 A. M.

Out of twenty-five suggested movies turned in by students to the committee, twelve were chosen as being thoroughly practicable and desirable, and the three given first rank were served in Bessinger on successive nights, and a student poll was taken to decide the winner.

Quoting Rollinsmania: Next year Rollins is offering another amazing attraction to prospective students. Besides the Conference Plan, the six-hour day, the Unit-Cost Plan, every entering student will receive a little lead pencil in a chain with which to mark ballots and sign petitions and pledges.

25 Nations Represented In Rollins Walk of Fame

Twenty-five nations are now represented in the Rollins College Walk of Fame, a unique memorial which began seven years ago with a nucleus of 22 stepping stones and now includes 400 markers.

All except a few of the stones have come from the birthplaces or former homes of men and women celebrated in the history of the world, in war, peace, religion, art, science, literature and philosophy. The memorial was originated by President Hamilton Holt of Rollins College who brought to the campus the original collection of 22 stepping stones which he has accumulated at his summer home in Woodstock, Conn.

It has since grown at the rate of nearly a hundred stones a year. These which have not been selected personally by President Holt and a few of his associates on trips throughout the United States and Europe, have been sent by alumni, students, faculty and friends from all parts of the world.

Americans celebrated in the history of their country are represented by 303 of the markers. Sixty-two other stepping stones have come from England, 25 from Spain, 18 from Italy, and 18 from France. Other countries represented by at least one stepping stone from the birthplace or former home of a celebrated native citizen of world-wide fame include Austria, India, Cuba, China, Mexico, Germany, Ireland, Portugal, New Zealand, Hungary, Bavaria, Arabia, Greece, Egypt, Denmark, and the Philippines.

The American section includes stepping stones representing all the Presidents except Tyler, most of the Chief Justices, and many of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. Living Americans represented include, among others, Lindbergh, Newton D. Baker, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Herbert Hoover, Daniel Carter Beard, John Dewey, Robert Frost, Col. Edward M. House, Helen Keller, the Mayo Brothers, Eugene O'Neill, General John J. Pershing, John D. Rockefeller, Ellis Root, Charles M. Shelden, Booth Tarkington, Owen D. Young, and others.

Other Americans celebrated in many walks of life and now immortalized in the Rollins Walk of Fame are Buffalo Bill, Daniel Boone, Phillips Brooks, William Cullen Bryant, Luther Burbank, Andrew Carnegie, George Rogers Clark, Henry Clay, John C. Calhoun, Jefferson Davis, Admiral Dewey, Mary Baker Eddy, Thomas A. Edison, Admiral Farragut, Emma Field, Stephen C. Foster, Benjamin Franklin, Henry George, Cass Gilbert, Horace Greeley, Nathan Hale, Bret Harte, Nathaniel Hawthorne, Lafayette Hayn, Patrick Henry, Washington Irving, Robert E. Lee, William Penn, Paul Revere, Will Rogers, Daniel Webster, Roger Williams, and many others whose names have been identified with the history of the United States in numerous fields of achievement.

The collection includes athletic stones representing Confucius (China), Mohammed (Arabia), Haroun-Al-Raschid (Bagdad), Julius Caesar (Rome), Cleopatra (Asia, Egypt), Zerkow (Greece), Marco Polo (Venice), and Ramses II (Egypt). Christopher Columbus is represented by two stones, one from Pavia, his point of embarkation, and the other from his tomb in Havana, Cuba.

The Rollins Walk of Fame has been placed in the center of the campus between Carnegie and Knowles Halls. The foundation of the Walk is a 150-year-old mill stone which President Holt supplied from his home in Woodstock, Conn. The stone, which measures about five feet in diameter and weighs about a ton and a half, bears the inscription: "Walk of Fame—Sacrifices in stones and good in everything".

The memorial markers in the Walk of Fame are set like flagstones in the path, with a friendly air of informality. Most of the stones are complete units in themselves but some, which are small in comparison with most of the markers, have been imbedded with cement in slabs at bases. Each stone has engraved on it the name of the celebrity and the place from which the stone came.

As some stepping stones have been sent, unsolicited, President Holt has been forced to exercise a mild form of censorship. More than one offer has been declined on the ground that the person represented is not sufficiently "famous" to join the select celebrities in the Memorial.

Book on Florida History By A. J. Hanna Published

Many facts revealing the unique and significant history of Florida are presented in a book just published of which Professor A. J. Hanna of Rollins College is the author.

Professor Hanna's history relates primarily to the years 1835-42 during which the Seminole Indians were being killed in Florida or removed to the West. He has drawn his facts from unpublished sources in the War Department in Washington and from the Rollins College Collection of Florida. Among the notable discoveries made by the author in the course of gathering material for this book was that the Seminole name of Lake Maitland was "Pamochigua" which meant "maskmaker place".

Several amusing incidents are recorded such as the "canonization" of Han, Lewis Lawrence by the African Methodist Church of Orange County, a description of Senator Chandler's visit to Florida with President Arthur in 1883 and an explanation of the Seminole origin of the popular Americanism, "Here's how!"

Strict Regulations For Student Drivers Made By Committee

coming from states that do not require a driver's license shall be required to pass a driver's examination during Safety Week.

"All drivers shall pass an examination on Florida Road Laws.

"All drivers shall be obliged to have a driver's license before getting a number plate."

In addition to these strict regulations, the College authorities will require also that every student car must carry personal liability and property damage insurance. Insurance papers will have to be shown before the car will be licensed.

Reckless driving by a student will be dealt with drastically. All accidents and cases of reckless driving will be investigated by the Student-Faculty Traffic Committee, the administration of the College reserving the right to revoke licenses at any time.

Persons authorized to report cases of violation, it is pointed out, will not be known publicly. The Student-Faculty Traffic Committee has the authority to recommend punishment for violation of the traffic rules.

Since the inauguration of the automobile regulations two years ago, Dean Royce reports, the number of accidents involving student-owned cars has been materially reduced and the cases of reckless driving are noticeably few.

A freshman of our acquaintance says that this matter of compulsory military drill is just a lot of R. O. T. — see?

FRESHMEN REGULATIONS FOR 1936-37

1. Freshmen are required to buy caps and megaphones ($1.00 complete) at Leedy's Store.
2. Make a name tag; on your name tag print in large letters your name, where you are from, and your residence here. Wear name tags on the left side above the heart. Caps and name cards are to be worn at all times with the exception of Sundays.
3. Megaphones are to be used ONLY at pep meetings and athletic events.
4. Freshmen must salute properly and must address all upperclassmen and faculty in a cordial manner. Freshmen give the first greeting in all instances.
5. Carry the "R" Book, your Freshman Bible, with you at all times. Learn all songs and cheers in the "R" Book immediately. Read your "Freshman Don't Book". (Time limit—Assembly Saturday night).
6. Freshmen must not wear high school or preparatory school athletic insignia.
7. Freshmen must not eat across the Horseshoe and must use the campus walks.
8. Freshmen must attend all athletic events and college functions and they must sit in the cheering section at all games.
9. Freshmen must not appear at any college function intoxicated.
10. Freshmen must carry matches for the use of Upperclassmen and members of the faculty.
11. Freshmen must refrain from standing under the canopy at the College Commons (Bennery); Upperclassmen enter Bennery before Freshmen.
12. Notices will be placed on the bulletin boards at the College Commons and in Carnegie Hall informing Freshmen of activity and compulsory meetings.

Rebecca Ann Coleman Weds George Holt; Alumni Are Guests

Rebecca Ann Coleman, '34, and George Chandler Holt, '31, were married at the Church of the Mediator, Chicago, September 19. Bridesmaids taking part were Ellen Bates Miller, '32, A. J. Hatten, '31, Bud Coleman, '34, and Dr. W. Potter, '25. Bridesmaid was also an usher and President Holt's daughter, Mrs. W. B. LaVenture and Mr. LaVenture were also in the wedding party.

As an undergraduate, Becky was a member of Phi Beta Phi, secretary of the Student Association, members of the Girls' "R" Club, the Glee Club, Chapel Choir, and chairman of the Social Service Committee. She was prepared for college at St. Katherine's School, Davenport, Iowa. Her great grandfather, Benjamin F. Ray, was one of the business leaders of Chicago.

George was prepared for Rollins at Taft School and took his junior year at the University of Geneva, Switzerland. As an undergraduate he was chairman of the Student Curriculum Committee and was active in dramatics and tennis. After graduating in 1931 he was a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford University, England. He has recently created the office of Director of Admissions at Rollins.

George and Becky will visit a number of private schools this fall where George will speak. After January 1 they will be at home in Winter Park where they are building a Spanish home on Lake Okechobee.

Commenting on the remarks of Dorothy Therman, European news correspondent, that in general the "intelligent youth" of America is radical, The Daily Texas at the University of Texas asks, "Why not?" and adds:

"University students are faced with a lack of economic security when they graduate. Box-cars are often found laden with 'college men' . . . Filing stations employ Phil Beta Kappa's . . . Three millions between 18 and 24 are unemployed . . . They have been taught that education and hard work were the Open Sesame to homes, jobs, honored places in the eyes of their fellowmen . . . discovering today that they have been betrayed at best by half truths. . . Yes, American youth is radical . . . Young men and women have ideals which to them mean hope and economic freedom . . . And it is upon shattered, misdirected, cheapened ideals that hysteria, war, and fascism are created and maintained."—The Herald.

Rollins Varsity Football Squad Lacks Experienced Men

Five Veteran Oarsmen Come Back From First Intercollegiate Victory

By DICK LEE

Although having been in existence at Rollins for but three years the Rollins crew under the able tutelage of Professor Bradley has proven itself an able addition to the college athletic program and has made a name for itself as far west as Ohio where it has been a regular competitor in the Marietta Regatta, and as far North as New York where last Spring it upset Manhattan University in one of the most talked of races in the East.

As yet no races have been scheduled for the coming year, but there will probably be meets with Indian River School during the winter months which will be more or less tryouts for the real races of the late Spring. This year should find Rollins with the best crew in its history. Although several good rowers such as "B" Brown, and H. P. Abbott have been lost through graduation, there still remain five veterans from last year's varsity. With Bill Schoen at No. 2, George Waldell at bow, Home at No. 4, Matthews at 5 and Ralph Little at No. 6, this year's crew will be in a position to pick and choose from the freshman class.

The introduction of crew to the intercollegiate schedule has also uncovered much valuable material. Murray Slobberg and Jack Harrington from last year's victorious crew should prove a great help to the varsity.

Last year saw Rollins lose two of its most important aides for its successful season. Neither of them ever pulled an oar, but nevertheless, the loss of Eddie Strangren, and Sally Stearns, the two regular coxswains, will be felt very much.

Sally, who goes down in history as the girl who beat Manhattan, was lost through graduation, and Eddie, according to rumor, will spend this year selling insurance in New York City.

Freshman Football Players Will Report Friday

Any freshmen desiring to try out for the management of the freshman football team will please contact Will Rogers at his office in Lyman Hall before Friday afternoon.

It is the theory of Dr. Ralph Wain, of the City College of New York, that the students who rest and relax during classes and lectures retain the greatest amount of information.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF SPORTS

By BOB HAYES

Sportsman's spotlight swings from a giddy, kaleidoscopic whirl of summer activity to the undiminished regard of the Fall sports—Football. There is an intangible, contagious excitement closely akin to fever that sweeps the nation during football season and we, here at Rollins, are susceptible to the same malady.

The unification of student spirit here on this campus by football will be felt throughout the year and our campus life will to a large extent reflect the potency of the spirit ensuing from this popular activity. In this writer's opinion, football is one of the most potent single, unifying forces in college life—it's mutual purpose and spirit tends to weld the students into a more closely body.

Five veterans, topped by the elusive senior, George Miller, is all that Jack McDowell salvaged from a machine that reached the depths last season. These five, supported by a husky group from last year's freshman team and the return to action of the lanky Kettles, gives Coach McDowell a fair squad but the "greenness" of the sophomores will detract from their potentialities this season. However, one may safely rely upon the wily McDowell to produce just a little better team than the material warrants.

With everything to gain and nothing to lose after last year's sad season, the boys will have a tendency to play a wide-open, reckless brand of football that goes a long way toward winning football games and at the same time satisfies the fan's mob-spirit desire for thrills. With a little dare-devil football, and good blocking George Miller, one of the best and most elusive backs in the South, will make many a touchdown jump for the Tars before hanging up his cleats for keeps at the end of the season.

So much for football. A hasty backward glance over the summer's portrayal of sporting activity, it would be an injustice not to mention the crew's victory over Manhattan at in Harlem's backyard stream last Spring. That win marked our first inter-collegiate rowing victory and is a magnificent tribute to the perseverance and untiring efforts of Coach Bradley, little Sally Stearns, and those loyal oarsmen who toiled day after day on Lake Maudslayi for that one sweet moment of compensation after those long and unfruitful years.

This summer has been virtually contaminated with athletic activity—probably the busiest since the Los Angeles Olympic fiasco. Joe Louis, the ebony phantom from Detroit, was blasted from his supposedly invincible pinnacle at the top of the heavyweight heap by Max Baer's powerful right thumper.

The Olympic triumph here in America and the heated controversies over our A. A. U. policies in handling our Olympic competitors kept the Nation's sport followers in a turmoil. Then came the Eleanor Holm Jarrett fiasco aboard the ship en route to Herr Hitler's arena. Mrs. Jarrett rode to almost the same heights of publicity and fame that the inevitable running machine from Ohio, Jessie Owens, attained by almost super-human feats of speed and endurance. Then after a Nazi jubilee fairs our athletes trekked home or on over Europe to further enrich the coffers of the A. A. U. With the U. S. as a claimant of first place honors, a merry bottle of wine and half-wine is waged to determine the actual victor. Under the existing scoring system there is no definite results regarding the winner and a kid's catchall argument suffices.

Personally I think that the handling of our athletes and the chaperonage of them by the A. A. U. and Avery Brundage in particular is a deteriorated alliance to the chaperonage of colonial banding parties.

Serious agents used eggs for sending secret messages. Messages written on the shell of a boiled egg with a solution of sugar and alum are invisible on the shell, but make a clear impression on the solid white inside.

The cost of fuel to carry 150 passengers on "The Zephyr", lightweight stainless steel train, is no more than the cost of gasoline consumed by an average automobile traveling the same distance.

ROLLINS COACH

JACK McDOWELL

Coach McDowell expects to have at least a good time out of this current season, and a pretty ragged eleven.

BOARD DISCUSSES BASKETBALL TEAM

Lost Interest in the Sport Has Revived

GOOD PLAYERS HERE

Whether Rollins has a varsity basketball team this year will depend upon the decision of the college board which will meet soon to vote on this pertinent question. Basketball was dropped in 1932 because of the lack of interest. But the enthusiasm of the sport has revived, and it is hoped that the board will decide to re-establish the sport.

The main objection is that Recreation Hall is also used for Dramatic classes and the Concert Recital and Series.

The schedule will not have to be made out until December. The college has a group of outstanding men who played in the Intramural Series last year. They should team well together and form a capable team.

Having an intercollegiate sport between the end of the football season and the beginning of the baseball season should keep the college spirit and interest throughout the year at Rollins.

In the time of the Emperor Kahlil Kian, Mongolians had wagons as large as it required 22 oxen to pull them, and the space between the wheels measured 20 feet.

MILLER, PRENTICE ARGYRIS, GOODWIN RETURNING VETS

Team is light at guards and ends with heavy centers and tackles; Miller ace ball-toter

With a week and a half of dual session practices tucked away under their belt, the twenty-five members of the varsity football squad are being put through their paces by Coach Jack McDowell in an effort to place a well rounded eleven on Tinker Field in Orlando for the initial encounter of the season with the South Georgia State aggregation October 9.

This year's squad has more potential power than any eleven of the past few seasons, but the limited time allotted Coach McDowell before the opening game will necessarily result in a rather ragged offense for the first game or so. The defense should stack up on par with our opponents.

George Miller, the distinctive senior speedster, heads the group of seven available veterans which includes Chick Prentice, halfback; Carrel Goodwin, center; Paul Altier, end; Ralph Little, end; Chris Argyris, guard, and Goose Kettles, a veteran of the '34 eleven.

A husky group of sophomores from last year's freshman eleven and five transfers compose the remainder of the hand-picked squad that reported at the beginning of the training grind. The greenness of the sophomores is offset only by the fact that there should be a much greater evidence of reserve power than in previous years.

Because of the lack of veterans, virtually every spot on the team is open except for the halfback assignment reserved for the brilliant Miller, and as a result the candidates are waging a spirited battle for the preferred call.

Among the backs, there is an outstanding junior and passer, although the Brady brothers, Carry and Hal, are showing promise of being able to handle the kicking department creditably. Guard Kirby, Oliver Daugherty, and Marlin McElrath are showing ability as ball carriers and are expected to do most of the leather lugging in cooperation with Miller. Rick Gillespie is stacking up as a pretty good blocking back while the two Brady brothers are being groomed as line smashers. Don Cetrulo and Chick Prentice are rapidly rounding into form and will probably see plenty of service during the season.

The terminal positions are being looked after by Paul Altier and

Ralph Little, a converted guard, veterans, also Warren Home and Frank Daunis, sophomores. All are fair pass snappers and should be able to take care of eventualities out on the flanks.

The tackles, led by Big Bill Kiskell, are fairly heavy and have evidenced plenty of power thus far. The other candidates for the tackle berths are Carl Thompson and Don Matthews. Their average weight will be a little better than 180 pounds.

The guards are the lightest in the line. The candidates for these positions are Chris Argyris, veteran, Tommy Hawkins, Wes Dennis, and Bob Hayes. The potency of the McDowell attack rests heavily on the blocking of the guards and intensive experiments are being tried in an effort to hit upon a successful combination.

There will be plenty of beef at the pivot position with the veteran Carrel Goodwin, the lanky Kettles and sophomores Dick Turk tipping the beam at well over the 200 mark.

If a concerted offense can be mastered before the season gets under way and the reserve power comes up to expectations, this new addition of the Tars will be a tough club to beat despite the fact that our intra-state competition stacks up as the strongest in years.

In Pomfret University a sociology professor announced that all students in his class would participate in a test to determine whether microbes were transmitted by kissing. On the day set, attendance was perfect. Then what did the man do? He gave each person a little pad of sterilized cloth with instructions to kiss it and then dunk it on a microscope slide. You beat your pals and fancy wit will come: Knock as you please, there's nobody at home.

Number of Gridiron Candidates Formerly Were Ashville Stars

Again the Asheville District will be well represented on the gridiron at Rollins College this year.

As newcomers to such excellent Asheville athletes as Dick Washington, Ray Miller, "Frog" Morris, Soc Chakalos, Tom Powell, Charlie Dennis, Ben Dunbar, Paul Worley and others who have helped put the Tar on the athletic map, Rollins fans are looking toward a group of at least six new boys from Asheville to carry on the well-grounded tradition.

As candidates for this year's varsity, the Asheville contingent includes Jack Justice, Rick Gillespie, Ralph Little, and Wesley Dennis. On the freshman squad are Joe Justice, brother to Jack, and Thomas McPherson, who hails from Oconee, N. C.

Mixing on the varsity squad this year will be Ed Levy, lanky athlete, who turned pro this summer and has been filling in at first base on several Yankee farms. Levy will be back in college, however, and may help Coach Jack McDowell, his "discoverer", in coaching football, basketball and baseball.

All of the four Asheville candidates for the varsity grid squad are expected to see plenty of action this season. Justice and Dennis, although lightweights, may see regular assignments as guards, Gillespie is showing class as a blocking back, and Little, who was on the varsity last year but was out of action most of the time with an injured knee, is being groomed for one of the terminal positions.

McPherson, who turned in some good mound work on the Rollins baseball squad last year, will probably win the call as first-string pitcher on the pitching eleven.

Other Tarboons on the Rollins varsity squad are Carroll Goodwin, veteran center, and Tommy Watkins, sophomore guard, both from Edenton.

Four years of pulling the wool, and there's your sheepskin.

All candidates for the varsity swimming team are requested to see Coach Floydwood Popejoy or Bob McArthur Monday afternoon.

Rollins Girl Gives Two Racing Shells

Becky Harrison, Chicago, Ill., a Pi Beta Phi on the Rollins Campus, is said to be returning to school with two racing shells to be used by the Women's Athletic Association.

Nothing definite has yet been planned, but it is to be supposed that women's intra-mural this year will include shell racing on one of the surrounding lakes.

Those Who Strayed From Rollins' Fold

Rollins students who are not returning to the campus this fall are doing other interesting things.

Ivy Gallagher is now attending Cornell University.

Perry Jenson is one of the stars of the Federal Theatre group in Tampa.

Berta Warren is an actor at the Cleveland Playhouse, and Judie Vale plans to travel all fall.

Livian Mahone, a Rollins alumna, has returned to the college as assistant instructor in Biology.

"My Daddy's so tall he can see right over the garden fence."

"So can mine—when he's got his hat on."

WOMEN IN SPORTS

Last year, for the first time in our history, women's intra-mural competitions were introduced at Rollins by the "E" Club. Nine teams, Theta, Pi Phi, Gamma Phi, Kappa, Alpha Phi, Phi Mu, Chi Omega, Independents and Lakeview competed throughout the eight months of school in the dozen various sports offered, and the many close matches kept up a high degree of interest and enthusiasm among spectators and spectators alike.

"Doc" Lander, well-known pharmacist in Winter Park, presented the Women's Athletic Association with a stunning cup to be given each year to the team scoring the greatest number of points. The Kappa Alpha Theta were the first winner of the cup, emerging from the race a few points ahead of the Pi Beta Phi and Gamma Phi Betas, when the whole issue was decided in one tightly played volleyball game.

In addition to the Lander Cup, many other trophies were presented on Home Day last spring to both teams and individuals who had either proved their prowess on some field or had been outstanding for sportsmanship and leadership.

This year, the same routine will be followed and promises to be an even more exciting contest than last year's. The same teams are expected to enter, and judging from the scores ballied last spring, to venture an opinion as to the final outcome this year would be sheer guess-work.

The program of athletics and intramural competition for the Fall term will be printed at a later date.

ED LEVY STARS AS PROFESSIONAL

Plays For Five Clubs in Yankee Farm System

AVERAGES .300 AT BAT

Big Ed Levy returned to the campus Tuesday after a summer spent in touring the Yankee farm system and watching the baseball at a merry 360 clip under the tutelage of his Yankee taskmaster.

Levy, whose play around the initial seasons with the Tar baseball club has earned for him a very prominent position in the annals of Rollins baseball history, played with five different ball clubs during the summer and when the summer was over he was perched on the first sack of the Binghamton team in the N. Y. Penn League, which by the way is class A baseball.

Big Ed is the apple of Yankee scout Johnny Nee's eye and his successful rise from class C to class A ball in one summer is a vindication of Nee's foresight. Levy's .300 batting average and his improved fielding will go a long way toward establishing him as the logical successor to the aging Lou Gehrig, star Yankee first baseman of the first magnitude.

Levy will, probably, return to the Binghamton, N. Y., club at the beginning of the next season. While here at Rollins, Ed. will probably assist Coach McDowell with the football and baseball coaching assignments. Due to the fact that he is now a professional Ed will not be eligible for further inter-collegiate competition.

Football Manager Sought Apply Lyman Before Fri.

All candidates for the freshman football team will be expected to report to Freshman Coach Will Rogers at Lyman Hall Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Sandspur staff offers its congratulations to Dr. Holt and all those who were instrumental in planning and erection of the new buildings which add so much to the beauty of Rollins

BLED SOE'S COLLEGE

The dorms (storage) at Bledsoe's are the finest and most modern that can be had, the furnishings are new and attendants are highly trained. The showers (car washing) are under the supervision of Genial George (a gentleman of color) and rival for beauty the famed baths of ancient Rome.

The Beauty Parlor (polishing-waxing) is directed by a famed beautician who thoroughly understands the texture and finish of your car is open at all hours.

The infirmary under Paul, a Great and Popular Surgeon, who is standing by with instruments ready to perform the most delicate carburetorotomy for improper gastritice on a moment's notice. May we suggest the following courses:

GASOLOGY

Prof. Amoco (who doesn't know his own strength) is ably assisted by Prof. American. They hold classes daily and teach how to get max performance at min cost from your car. This is a required course.

Prof. Quaker State, another specialist in his line is brought here from Penn State and offers a course in Oilology for high speed powerful motors.

Bledsoe and his genial gang of trained specialists watch everything with eagle eyes and insist on satisfaction.

LUBRIOLOGY

Prof. Pennamo, assisted by Prof. Amoco. They teach how to save by a painless method and how to keep out of the infirmary by keeping all joints free from aches and pains by factory lubrication.

TIREOLOGY

Prof. Silvertowne, the most noted in his line, teaches a course in safety. He teaches that you can get the magic Supersafety Goldenpuff Silvertown at no extra cost. Also a host expansion and contraction of air in your tires caused by hot Florida Roads and how to overcome the great Hidden Killer, "Blowouts".

BATTERYOLOGY

Prof. Willard. A sparky old fellow who offers a course in starting, lighting, ignition and parking, especially parking, with the radio tuned low under the romantic Florida Full Moon. His slogan is plenty of power at any time for anything.

Letters Through the Sky for 25 Years

NEW YORK... On September 23, 1911, flyer Earl Greville, recently deceased, took off from a small field at Garden City, Long Island, and flew 19 miles to Mineola, L. I., where he dumped a 10 pound sack of mail overhead from his tiny blimp monoplane, the bird being too rough to land. Postmaster General Frank Hitchcock sponsored that flight. This year, Garden City and Mineola are observing the quarter of a century anniversary by having The American Airlines ship, a giant Douglas 21 passenger craft, fly the same course, carrying passengers and 3700 pounds of mail and express matter.

THE Inquiring Reporter

This Week's Question: What is your first impression of Rollins?

David Poor: My first impression of Rollins was the friendliness and willingness of the old students to help the new get settled.

Matthew Ely: Everybody, upper classmen, professors and fellow freshmen give the impression of immediate friendship. Vicky Morgan: Within Cleveland's walls pandemonium reigned. Girls tearing the mail. Introductions in nervous tones and apprehensive looks at the sheetless beds as many had to sleep in since trunks hadn't come. Anyway, it was swell fun.

Carl Good: Friendliness and heat—people grabbing you, smoking you off into cars—the ramshackle appearance of Cleveland and Mrs. Lester's kindness.

Dottie Berry: Lots 'n' lots of faces, friendly despite the heat. College and campus, ideally ideal. Then "Cleveland", moth-eaten, ancient, 'n' stuff, but still home.

Robert Walker: I am proud to be at Rollins. It is a beautiful school with a real spirit of friendliness and businesslike efficiency.

P. S. I was only asked to write about twenty words on this subject but I feel like writing a lot more. I think I have come to the finest college I know.

AROUND OTHER CAMPI

Favorite method of Hawaiian shark-hunters, is to attract a few sharks with a bait of dead pig or a cow's leg, shoot them with rifles or pistols, watch them fight among themselves for a while and then haul 'em aboard with harpoons. Once aboard, the fish are opened and contents noted. Tin cans, bones, bottles and even old clothes are sometimes found.

128 NEW STUDENTS ENTER ROLLINS FOR 52nd YEAR

INSPECTION GROUP GIVES PRAISE TO NEW DORMITORIES

Committee Finds Construction and Material Satisfactory

LAUDS CONTRACTOR

Residences Designed in Informal Spanish Style

High praise for the quality of work carried out by trustees of Rollins College with PWA funds was voiced by F. A. Burk, state engineer inspector for the state of Florida for the Federal Public Works Administration after inspecting the construction program here.

The construction program constituted five residences for students made possible by a PWA loan of $275,000, payable in 20 years.

Accompanying the state official during the inspection were F. Asen Black, traveling engineer inspector for PWA, W. W. Bettsworth, resident engineer inspector for PWA, H. H. Higgins, supervising architect for Kitchell and Elliott, Miami, and H. C. Cox, general contractor of Winter Park. Rollins College officials in the inspecting group were President Hamilton Holt, William B. O'Neal.

FOREIGN STUDENTS ATTEND ROLLINS

FIVE NATIONS ENROLLED

Rollins College expects to have a foreign contingent of at least five students this year, representing five different countries.

Included in the foreign group will be Edward Adamak of Providence, Rhode Island, who is attending the Commercial Academy, Providence, Rhode Island.

France will be represented by Andre Bolly of "Mon Jolie" Sedan, Ardennes, France. He formerly attended Lycée Faidherbe, Lons, France.

Brazil will be represented by Sylvia de Quaresma of Rua Teixeira de Mello No. 10, Ipanema, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. She is a graduate of the Colégio Pedro II.

Italy will be represented by Delia G. A. Pizzetti-Biselli of 52, Via Paterna, Rome, Italy. He was previously at the University of Rome.

Historic Letter Has Been Added To Collections

An original letter written 32 years ago in a Confederate Army camp on the Ocklawaha River, 15 miles from Ocala, has been added recently to the Rollins College Collection of Florida, according to Prof. A. J. Hanna who has been searching historical data at Rollins for many years.

The letter is normally valuable, not only for its important contents but because it was penned by Thaddeus Oliver, the Georgia poet, who wrote "All Quiet Along the Potomac." The letter was written to Mr. Oliver's wife and was presented to Rollins by his great-granddaughter, Miss Penelope Lawson Knox of Deland.

The manuscript refers to fighting parties of "Yankons" who took "out and plunder of any kind" but the writer is equally impressed by the orange groves. "Nothing in reality or imagination ever surpassed or even rivaled their magnificence and beauty," He states that on a nearby sugar plantation 125 bushels of sugar besides large quantities of syrup were produced.

New Dormitories at Rollins College

ORIENTATION WEEK ASSEMBLY IS HELD

New Students Welcomed By President Holt Friday

STAFF IS INTRODUCED

The first assembly during Orientation week for the entering students was held at the Annie Russell Theatre on Friday, September twenty-fifth. President Hamilton Holt opened the assembly with a speech of welcome which was followed by a welcome from Bryant Pennington, president of the Student Association, representing the greetings of the student body.

The Rollins Creed written by Professor Edwin Osgood Grover, was read by Grace Terry. President Holt then introduced Dean Winslow S. Anderson, Dean Arthur Enright, Dean Helen Sprague, Miss Anna B. Treat, Registrar, and Mr. E. T. Brown, Treasurer.

Rollins songs and cheers were led by Grace Terry, Ralph Gibbs and Tony Castello.

On Monday morning, September twenty-eighth, Dean Anderson explained the Rollins Plan to the entering students laying special emphasis on the conference plan, the lower division requirements and the Rollins curriculum. A complete explanation of the instructions for registration was also made by the Dean. He then called for questions.

Monday night at another assembly Dean Anderson, Dean Enright and Mr. Brown explained the Rollins Campus, giving the names and uses of the various buildings. The importance of college responsibilities and the opportunities that are to be found at college were discussed at an assembly on Tuesday night.

New Dormitories and Other Changes Improve Appearance of Rollins Campus

Face lifting operations which have been carried on this summer concurrently with the construction of five new student residences at Rollins College show further progress in the aim to give Rollins one of the most beautiful campuses in the country.

While the contractors have been busy engaged in completing the five new dormitories in time for the opening of college on September 25, George C. Cartwright, Sr., superintendent of buildings and grounds, has supervised an ambitious schedule of physical improvements on the grounds and in most of the other buildings.

One of the most important changes in the use of the buildings concerns the transfer of the Con-

Fall Convocation to Be Held Monday, Oct. 5

The fall convocation will be held Monday, October 5, in the Knowles Memorial Chapel. Further announcements will be made by the administration.

MISS TREAT IS PROMOTED AS REGISTRAR

Has Been Assistant Registrar At Rollins Since 1929

The promotion of Miss Anna B. Treat as Registrar of Rollins College and the retirement of Mrs. Enright as Registrar Executive are effective this year. Miss Treat has been Assistant Registrar since 1929.

MRS. CASS RESIGNS

She Has Filled Position For 15 Years

The retirement of the popular Mrs. Cass does not mean, however, that her active services will be lost to the College, according to the announcement. Mrs. Cass will still be associated with the general offices of the College and will be in charge of the information desk in Carnegie Hall.

A native of Ohio, Mrs. Cass attended Wellesley College for a year and then transferred to the College of Worcester where she was graduated in 1888 with the Bachelor of Music degree. She taught public school music for more than twelve years and then attended Kings School of Convalescence, which she was graduated in 1913. For five years she was associated with the College of Worcester.

DR. JOHN MURRAY TALKS ON SUNDAY

His Subject Was "Democracy and Dictatorship"

IS ENGLISH EDUCATOR

On Sunday evening, September 27th, Principal John M. Murray of the University of the South West at Keweenaw, England, spoke at the residence of Dr. Hamilton Holt on "Democracy and Dictatorship."

Student Body Will Be Represented By Cosmopolitan Group

That the student body at Rollins College is largely cosmopolitan in character is indicated in the report that the entering class includes representatives of twenty states and six foreign countries, including "wild" swimming students, the registration this year will represent nearly 60 states.

Of the first one hundred students accepted by the Office of Admissions this year, 32 live in Florida, and 23 in New York. Some come from New Jersey and four each from North Carolina and Ohio, while Pennsylvania, Connecticut, District of Columbia, New Hampshire, Kansas, Illinois, Missouri and Massachusetts are represented by two or more each.

Foreign nations which are represented among the members of the entering class, are Brazil, France, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Austria, and Switzerland.

All entering students reported at the College on Friday, September 25, for the opening of Freshman Week, officially known as Orientation Week, designed to help new students adjust themselves to campus life before college opened.

Five New Dormitories Named for Men And Women Connected with Rollins

The five new residences for students at Rollins College will be named in honor of five men and women who were closely identified with the founding and early development of the college.

The two residences for women will be named Lucy A. Cross Hall and Caroline A. Fox Hall. The men's residences will be named Booker Hall in memory of Dr. Edward Payson Hooker, the first president of Rollins College, and Frederick W. Lyman, a charter trustee and Gale Hall in memory of Rev. Sullivan F. Gale, a charter trustee.

Miss Cross, a graduate of Oberlin and a former member of the faculty of Wellesley College, was for many years head of a private school in Dayton, Ohio, where she was also a civic leader. It was a letter written by Miss Cross to the first annual meeting of the General Congregational Association of Florida, which led to the founding of Rollins College as the first institution of higher education in Florida.

Miss Fox was educated at Radcliffe College, was a winter resident of Winter Park and a generous benefactor of Rollins College during the past decade.

DR. DENNEY TO BE SPEAKER IN COLLEGE FIRST CONVOCATION

Next Sunday morning, October 8, the college convocation will be held. Dr. Wm. Denney, Jr., assistant to Dean Charles A. Campbell and instructor of Religion, will speak on "Four Things Worth Spending Your Life to Gain."

Dr. Denney, who has been in the college since last February, is a graduate of Ursinus College in Pennsylvania. He received his B.A. and M.A. in Theology at Princeton Theological Seminary and has done graduate work at Columbia University and the University of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Hooker, a former member of the faculty of Middlebury College, came to Florida as a missionary of the Congregational Church and was the leader in the movement which resulted in the founding of Rollins College.

Talks on His Work as Magazine Editor

R. DOUGHERTY SOLOS

The regular Sunday Morning Meditation was held in the Knowles Memorial Chapel on September 23.

The invitation was given by Ralph Gibbs and the Responsive Reading by Helen Brown.

The solo, "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains" by Barker was sung by Bruce Dougherty, tenor.

The Old Testament Lesson was read by R. Dougherty and the New Testament Lesson was read by Grace Terry.

Dr. Holt told how he came to think of the Rollins Plan from his experiences as a magazine editor after he left college. He found that he had learned more from the personal contacts which he made in the editorial world than he had from the college professors at the university, and so brought out the point that the chief aim of our modern colleges is the lack of human contact.

Student Council Will Call Meeting Next Week

At the May 25 meeting of the Student Council the motion was made, seconded, and carried that Article Four of the Constitution be changed to read "Officers" which the Council shall include a Chairman, Vice-Chairman and Secretary, each to be elected separately within the Council by a two-thirds majority of the Student Council, and Quorum is composed of Student Council members."

At present the article reads as follows: "Officers within the Council shall include a Chairman, Vice-Chairman and Secretary, each to be elected separately within the Council by three-fourths majority vote of a quorum. Said quorum is composed of three-fourths of the total number of group representatives."

As this involves an amendment to the Constitution, it will be placed before the Student Body for a vote one week from this date.

Old Dormitories Are Refurnished

pied space in Carnegie Hall, the administration building. Their former quarters are now being used by the business office and the office of Admissions.

New plumbing has been installed in Knowles Hall and new offices have been built for faculty in this classroom building. Knowles Memorial Chapel has been redecorated and new lights have been installed in the chapel to give the choir additional light facilities.

Some interior decorating has been undertaken in Lyman Hall, a class-room building, and in several of the old dormitories. A semi-air conditioning system has been installed in Carnegie Hall.

In Chase Hall, the oldest dormitory for men, the furniture has been discarded and replaced with new all-steel furniture.

At the swimming course in Lake Virginia, considerable improvements have been carried out with "filling in" of earth along the shore and the building of a bulkhead along the entire course.

Harper-Shepherd Field has been re-roofed and re-seeded. This fall, Superintendent Cartwright plans to build a new stadium at Harper-Shepherd.

More than 1000 feet of concrete walks have been installed adjacent to the new student residences and at various points on the campus.

Under the direction of George Cartwright, Jr., electrical engineer, a new bank of transformers has been installed in the rear of the new dormitories for men to carry the increased load necessary, and a new bank is being installed in the rear of the new dormitories for women. New pumping equipment to provide irrigation for the grounds near the new buildings has also been added to the plant's facilities.

Landscapeing of the grounds adjacent to the new dormitories will be started this month. A sum of about $5,000 from the original loan of $275,000 allotted by the PWA for the construction of the new buildings, will be spent in landscaping, it is announced.

Rollins College. As its first president he helped organize its board of charter trustees, selected its charter faculty and raised funds for its development. Dr. Keith forced him to relinquish this strenuous activity after seven years.

Mr. Lyman was an outstanding civic and religious leader of Minneapolis, Minn., and Winter Park, having served as president of the Winter Park Company which was largely responsible for the founding of Winter Park. As a charter trustee and as first president of the corporation of Rollins College he probably contributed more to the organization of Rollins than any other layman. He was the donor of the first president's house and of Lyman Hall, formerly the gymnasium and now a recitation building.

Dr. Gale, a graduate of the University of Vermont, was largely responsible for the organization of the Congregational Home Missionary Society in Florida which he served as its first superintendent. It was under the auspices of this organization that Rollins was founded with Dr. Gale as a charter trustee. The address opening Rollins College on November 4, 1885, was delivered by him.

chairman of the finance committee of the board of trustees, Ervin T. Brown, treasurer, Frederic H. Ward, assistant treasurer, Dr. Arthur D. Emmert dean of men, Mrs. Helen G. Sprague, dean of women, and Miss Virginia Robie, interior decorator and assistant professor of art.

At the end of his tour of inspection, Mr. Back said, "I have been profoundly impressed with the sound selection of this project and by the quality of the work performed by the architects, contractors and craftsmen."

Mr. Back pointed out that the Rollins project, like all other PWA projects in the state and the several thousand throughout the country, has been selected by the local communities or institutions benefited, planned by their citizens, and built by their crafts men, with a PWA resident engineer-inspector assigned to aid and speed each project to completion.

Consequently, Mr. Back said, the credit for carrying out the Rollins program of construction should go to these men in the community or institution who planned the project and enlisted PWA aid for its completion. He pointed out further that the added facilities will be extremely beneficial to the College and to the public generally.

Praise for the cooperative efforts of the PWA was expressed by Mr. Higgins, who has supervised, personally, every minute detail of construction and equipment. "Speaking for Kielbaso and Elliott, the architects," he said, "I wish to thank the Public Works Administration for the splendid cooperation its officials have shown in carrying out the construction requirements on this project."

Mr. Higgins added that "the Public Works Administration should be held in high esteem for making possible this beautiful addition to Rollins College. H. C. Cox, the contractor, is to be commended on the high class manner in which he has executed his contract."

The new dormitories, Mr. Higgins said, "are designed in an informal domestic Spanish style and are an integral part of the general campus scheme. The general architectural effect is picturesque and colorful with Spanish tile roofs, colored feature stones, modeled belt courses and diverse architectural features, well proportioned stone entrances, elaborate iron grilles, grates and lighting fixtures. Beautiful outdoor living rooms or patios with their highly ornamental fountains and pools add to the ensemble."

President Holt of Rollins expressed himself as highly pleased with the appearance of the new dormitories and complimented the architects, the contractors, the craftsmen, and the PWA officials for their cooperation in building the residences in time for occupancy when the College opens this week.

The new dormitories will accommodate 110 students, two for women having facilities for 45 and the three or men accommodating 65. For the first time in some years, President Holt said, the College is now able to house all its students either on the campus or in college-owned buildings.

Notice To Upperclassmen

The Rat Committee requests that all students who were in college last year cooperate in enforcing the Rat Rules.

If any Rat or Rats break any of the ratings, are fresh, or in any way misbehave themselves, it is asked that old students noticing the misdoings will write out a charge against the offender, stating the name of the Rat, the nature of the offense.

1. Writing the Rat's name on a slip of paper.
2. Writing the offense.
3. Putting the date.
4. Putting the time.
5. Putting the place.
6. Signing the charge.
7. Getting as many witnesses as possible to sign the charge also.

The names of the signers will be kept secret. The plans for Rat Courts are not being announced in advance this year, but elaborate preparations are being made and the sessions of the Court, it is planned, will be much better than anything that has been done at Rollins in the past.

Dr. John Murray Speaks at Holt's

Italy, and Russia were cited as extreme examples of dictatorship.

Dr. Murray predicted that the form of government now used by Italy and Germany would some day become governments of democracy. In his speech he pointed out that England's present democratic government started on the same basis as those of Italy and Germany. The reason that the democratic government that was set up in Germany after the World War failed, was that a democracy takes years of formation and cannot be established overnight.

He said that radio is the greatest possibility of educating the people by democratic propaganda. He claims that the last minute speeches on the radio both in England and in the United States are often the determining factor in the elections.

He said that England was benefiting now by the Social Insurance law passed in England in 1911 by Lloyd George. England is now experiencing her most harmonious period in history.

Dr. Murray believes that democracy will outlive any form of dictatorship. He credits England with founding the first real democracy.

In recognition of her attributes of character, Rollins College bestowed the Citizens' Award of the Algonquin Sydney Sullivan Medal upon Mrs. Case at Founders' Week Exercises in 1921.

Miss Treat, who was born in Milwaukee, Wis., was educated at Milwaukee-DuSable Seminary, Milwaukee-DuSable College and Smith College, graduating from the latter with the B. A. degree.

Miss Treat began her teaching career as assistant principal and instructor of English and history at Miss Treat's School in Milwaukee, which was later incorporated as Lake School for Girls and is now merged with Milwaukee-DuSable Seminary. She came to Florida in 1919 and as a resident of Maitland took an active part in business and civic affairs, serving as a member of the Maitland School Trustees Board when the present school buildings were erected in Maitland and Eatonville. In 1927 she joined the staff at Rollins College as office manager of the promotion office and two years later she was appointed assistant registrar.

SIX APPOINTED ON FACULTY

Four Are Listed as Replacements
TWO ARE ADDITIONAL

Faculty turnover at Rollins for the new year is the lowest in many years.

The six new appointments, of whom one is with the rank of assistant professor and five with the rank of instructor, include only two which are classified as "additional" staff members. The others are listed as "replacements" to fill vacancies created by resignations.

From the standpoint of academic work, the most important appointment is that of Mrs. Angela Palma Campbell as assistant professor of Spanish. She is a native of Spain where she was educated, and a graduate of Wellesley College where she received her M. A. degree. Mrs. Campbell taught Spanish language and literature at Wellesley for six years and also at the Spanish Summer School of Middlebury College.

Another appointment to the teaching staff for language is that of Gilbert H. B. Sheldon, who will be an instructor in modern languages. Mr. Sheldon was born in Germany of Swiss and American parents and was graduated from the University of Lausanne in France. Later he attended Harvard Law School from which he was graduated with an LL.B. degree. Since his graduation from Harvard Law he has lived for several years in Europe. He was in France this summer preparing for his doctorate in comparative literature at the University of Strasbourg.

The only faculty change in the Conservatory of Music brings Enrico Tamborini as instructor in cello. Mr. Tamborini has been cello concertist and conductor of the Wheeling, W. Va. Symphony Orchestra since 1923. He is a native of Italy and has toured Europe and the United States as a soloist.

Charles R. Marshall, Jr., graduate of Dartmouth and Harvard, joins the staff as instructor in English and will teach the first-year courses. Dr. Eugene D. Farley, who received his B. A. degree from the University of Wisconsin and his M.S. and Ph.D. degree from the University of Illinois, has been named instructor in chemistry. The vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Malcolm MacLennan in the classics will be filled by Dr. Charles J. Armstrong, of British Columbia, as instructor in Latin and Greek. Dr. Armstrong received his A.B. degree from the University of British Columbia in 1932 and his Ph.D. degree from Harvard this past year.

The only other faculty change recorded for the coming year is the return of Dr. Evelyn Newman, professor of American literature, who has been on a year's leave of absence on an exchange professorship at the University College of the South West at Exeter, England.

Ten times as many students are using the college libraries now as in 1925.

VESPER SERVICE HELD IN CHAPEL

The new students were welcomed to the Kessler Memorial Chapel at a special Vesper Service on Saturday evening. Everyone was pleased with the unusual and unexpected visit of Dr. John M. Murray, principal of the University of the South West in Exeter, England. He gave a brief address mentioning the common ideals of two great institutions, as well as our great hope for human brotherhood created in the halls of our colleges.

In the course of the lovely vesper service three others gave brief talks. Marion Gushkiel stressed the need and the meaning of the Sanctuary. Lyness Graves mentioned the force of real religion in college life. Mr. Denney of the chapel staff spoke last. In effect he said:

We have definite aspirations for our Chapel at Rollins. We want it to be the vital center of our college life, the hub of the wheel, not just another institution.

No one of us will ever try to impress our religion on anyone of you; our intention is to have each of you to develop a faith vitally your own.

In this place you can find the spirit that unites all the forces of your life. Here you can gain the power to see things through when you are baffled. Here you can store up spiritual reserves for the complex world of future years.

In short, we do not want colleges to be a strange intellectual; we want it to be life itself at its highest and best.

There is no compulsion about this Chapel. We trust however that you may always know the persuasive spirit of God in your heart prompting you to do the thing that matters most, and thus know the simple truth of the master's words: "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and all other things shall be added unto you."

Bill—Have you ever realized any of your childhood hopes?

Pete—Yes, when mother used to comb my hair I often wished I didn't have any.

Henry—I've a good mind to propose to you.

Mabel—Oh, please do. I need one more proposal to beat my last year's record.

Rollins Presented With 9 New Lots at Coronado Beach

Through the generosity of an unnamed donor, Rollins College recently acquired nine additional lots adjacent to its beach club property at Coronado Beach, Ervin T. Brown, treasurer of Rollins, has announced.

The Police, a large two-story building used as a beach club by faculty and students, was acquired with four lots in 1930 as a gift from Mrs. Cole Johnson. The recent acquisition of lots includes two lots south of the original property, two to the north across the street from the Police, and five at the rear of the original plot.

Week-end trips to the Coronado Beach club house are among the most popular forms of diversion for students and faculty during the college year.

Fraternities and Societies Brought on Campus

HOUSEMOTHERS NAMED

Because of the shuffling around that has done this it is almost impossible to tell who lives in what house and which housemother or proctor is in charge. Cloverleaf and Chaucer are the only dormitories which are clear in every one's mind. Freshmen are still living in these two halls with Mrs. Lester still presiding at Cloverleaf, but a new proctor, Mr. Gilbert Sheldon at Chaucer.

Mayflower and Pegasus house the Phi Beta Phi and the Kappa Kappa Gamma societies respectively. Mrs. Wilson is in charge of Mayflower and Mrs. Enwright of Pegasus. The two new women's dormitories, Lucy Cross and Caroline Fox, are in charge of Mrs. Bamschal and Mrs. Ford respectively. Kappa Alpha Theta society and a number of Independents are living in Lucy Cross Hall, while the Alpha Phi and the Phi Mu societies are in Caroline Fox Hall. Lakeland, the one other women's dormitory on campus houses Independents with Miss Apperson in charge. The Gamma Phi Beta house on Osceola Avenue is in charge of Mrs. Schultz, while the Chi Omega house on Chase Avenue is in charge of Miss Buell.

Rollins Hall is occupied by the Rho Lambda Nu fraternity in charge of Mr. Cook. The three new men's dormitories, Hooker, Gale, and Lyman house the Theta Kappa Nu fraternity, the X Club, and the Phi Delta Theta fraternity respectively. Mr. Christopher Bonas is in charge of Hooker, Dr. Armstrong of Gale and Lyman. The Kappa Alpha house is again elaborated by Mrs. Cox.

COLLEGIATE DIGEST IS WEEKLY FEATURE

Regular Pictorial Review of College News

A regular pictorial review of the news of the college world will be featured each week in The Collegiate Digest section of The Rollins Sandspur, the first issue of which appears with this edition of The Sandspur.

Featuring exclusive, lively features written especially for its wide collegiate audience in addition to the regular news of the week "in picture and paragraph", Collegiate Digest brings to the readers of The Sandspur the most complete pictorial review of college news available.

A new and outstanding feature of the issues this year will be the unusual Speed Graph photos taken with the "Magic Eye" camera and depicting the continuous motion of athletes in action. The remarkable photos have been made possible recently by the invention of a camera which "stops" the various movements of people in action.

Then, too, Collegiate Digest will continue in The Spotlight, its light and lively stories of the great and new great who graduated from or attended college.

Students of Rollins College are urged to send photos to the editor of Collegiate Digest at P. O. Box 472, Madison, Wis. Regular newspaper rates are paid for all photos accepted for publication.

Editorials

The Sandspur takes this opportunity to welcome all new students to Rollins and wish them a most happy and successful college life.

On Entering College

Entering college is in every person's life a new experience. It marks a definite turning point for every student.

For the first time in your life you stand alone, being away from parental aid, previous friends, restrictions of the home and the preparatory school. In a more common way of putting it, you are beginning life on your own.

Beginning this "new life" leaves an impressionable mark on every person's character, habits, and choice of friends. College can make or break a person.

Character is what you form yourself. Your character develops with every experience, whether it is pleasant or unhappy.

In college you run into both kinds of experiences. At times you will think that you have had nothing but unhappy experiences. That of course is not true, because an unhappy experience is far more obvious than a happy one.

Habit depends on character. The habits you form now are the habits you take with you through life. These habits are generally strengthened by the type of life you lead in college. You choose this life in the things you do. You can work in college or barely slide through.

Your choice of friends depends on habit. It is only natural that people who have the same interests are your more intimate friends. The type of associations established now are the type of friends you will have through life.

Therefore it is highly essential that your character, habits, and choice of friends be of the highest standard. It is these three things that are ever important in your later life.

We feel that you can gain as high a standard of living and as good a chance at developing at Rollins as at any other school of higher education. Here, we have few rules to govern the new student. Rules are only made to be broken. Here you are left to govern your own life. Here you will taste for the first time almost complete freedom.

Occasionally you are bound to take advantage of this freedom. But remember that in stepping over the black line too often you are hurting yourself and not the college. At Rollins they are one step ahead of most colleges in their ideas. They have found that character, habit, and choice of friends is up to the individual and not to any enforcement of foolish rules.

You have often heard that life is not made for you, but what you make it.

"Democracy and Dictatorship"

Those of us who were fortunate enough to hear Principal John M. Murray, president of the University of the South West, Exeter, at Dr. Holt's residence on Sunday evening, realized that this man talked competently on "Democracy and Dictatorship".

Citing England as an example of a good democracy today, he pointed out that this type of government was not formed in a day but after centuries of trial and error, struggle and work.

He brought to mind the fact that in forming this government, England did not go through bloody revolutions, but merely the massing of people at the polls.

Today we hear and read political campaign material from all parties that say their opponents will form a dictatorship, or go to war because of pressure from the money barons who back them.

To believe all this propaganda is something no person does. But it is a common fact, that many people believe some of it.

Remember that the citizens of the United States have their national elections every four years and that they can keep an unsatisfactory president from returning to office for a second term.

As long as the United States citizens vote this way, no one person as president can turn this government into a dictatorship, nor can another president force us into war.

New Dormitories

This summer five new dormitories were built at Rollins to house the fraternities and societies. These new buildings draw nearer the completion of the building plan of the Rollins campus.

Every one who has seen these dormitories are well pleased with them. They fit in architecturally with the Chapel, the Annie Russell Theatre, Rollins, Pugsley, and Mayflower Halls.

They draw the students closer together, which is a part of the Rollins plan. It brings all activity nearer to our campus.

Rollins students are fortunate in having an administration which is striving to better our college in every way. Not only have they made our educational opportunities the most desirable, but also with the completion of the dormitories they have given us a home and campus of which we are proud.

Student Band

Due to the numerous requests last year, Harve Clemens is organizing a college band. This band is a badly needed institution at Rollins. With the support and cooperation of the whole student body, Rollins can have a band to be second to none.

Pep Squad

Every year at Rollins the Freshman Pep Squad is an outstanding highlight of the football games.

This year the new students are expected to report at all rehearsals and continue the work of former freshmen.

After the Republicans have repeatedly accused the New Deal forces of fostering Communism, President Roosevelt turned an about face and claimed the blind policy of the GOP "is creating a fertile field for Communism". These words were taken from his speech delivered in Syracuse, N. Y., last evening. Maybe the Republicans will claim that Hearst is backing Roosevelt, now that the same campaign arguments are being used by both parties.

Mayor John T. Alsop of Jacksonville expressed the belief that more money will be appropriated for the Florida Ship Canal at the next session of Congress. He made this statement in New York after having visited the Democratic National Headquarters in New York. Why can't they leave the Florida Ditch as a failure of the past? It only brings to mind the exorbitant amount of money wasted thus far on this fantastic dream.

MAYBE IT WAS TOO HOT?

Footnotes

By STEVEN H. BAMBERGER

Well, what do you know? Here it is Autumn again and another year has passed since the last Autumn. Two years have passed since the Autumn before last, eleven years have passed since the Autumn Hamilton Holt took Rollins over, and God knows how many years will pass before the Autumn will be passed. So let's up and Autumn.

(Incidentally, these footnotes are being brought to you through the courtesy of the office of the Dean. Similar bulletins will gladly be furnished on request. Write on only one side of the paper. Next time will count.)

Perhaps one of the greatest thrills a Rollinsite can experience (outside of graduating, of course, or going home for the Christmas vacation or nibbling on some daily rock-and-roll) is to welcome the incoming class as it descends from the train. Needless to say we were no exception to this rule and though we were a little late getting to the station (the train had arrived, unloaded and departed three hours before) we were determined not to be disappointed. And lo, we weren't. There, standing on the platform, was a group of unmistakable late looking very well-brought and haggard and evidently very much in need of rest.

"And what can we do for you?" we asked in our casual confidence-inspiring tones.

After a long pause caused no doubt by deep deliberation and a bad case of fallen arches, one of these finally broke down and related their terrible plight. "We got off at the wrong station," they sobbed. "We belong in Stateside."

With that everybody started to wail and it was all we could do to manfully withhold our own tears until help came in the form of Paves's Taxi Service which whisked us for a bad case of Paves Blue Ribbon and carried us away to one of the nearby dispensaries. We later learned however, that they were all tagged and shipped back to their proper destination the next week. A fitting climax for a dreary old adventure.

But enough of this sadlerdash and to the point. Despite the recent hardships the freshman class looks pretty good this year—unless we've been deceived by the beautiful background of the new dormitories. We and good looks seem to be the predominant features along with a strong preference for Lux Toilet Soap, Governor Landon and Paris Green.

Mrs. Eudine Case, Registrar Emerita and general information distributor for the College (with offensive apologies to the faculty), was stumped the other day by the first question asked of her. The question in question was, "How can I make a million dollars?" and we presume that it was asked by Dean Emory whose insatiable curiosity is common gossip on the campus.

Mrs. Case smiled and shook her head so violently that many who were present thought it was coming off. "The College has not authorized me to commit myself on this topic," she said, "although I am sure that Treasurer Brown would be more than willing to discuss with some very promising class for a very small fee." And that was the last we heard of the matter, as we had to interview some Freshman in the Bannery at the time. However, rest assured

I wish I were a merchant in my predecessor's class. For no matter how little moments are, They always seem to pass.

Students in a special meeting took a which at that long standing Rollins problem—the problem of chapel attendance. Expressing appreciation for outside speakers because of their usually long discourses, and calling for more student participation, a committee was appointed to investigate.

The Student Open Forum discussed the need at Rollins for more leisure time in which to follow hobbies and personal pursuits. It was found that in order to have more time during the week, the school year must be extended, and the plan met with little favor.

STUDENT OPINION

September 27, 1936.

To the Editor:

There was some talk here last Spring of reviving varsity basketball at Rollins. This game was dropped from the Rollins varsity schedule in 1932 because of lack of interest. This statement could hardly seem plausible now, if you can recall the crowds that turned out for the Intramural games. Certainly varsity basketball would draw a much larger and more enthusiastic audience.

With such playing as was exhibited by Murray, Dougherty, Knibb, Broadwell, Justice, McManis, Miller and C. Brady, to name only a few, we should certainly have an excellent team. With the remarkable turnout of men to play Intramural basketball, it cannot be said that it suffered from lack of interest. Then why would varsity basketball suffer? It is obvious that more students would want to watch a college game than the pickup games, such as were sponsored in last year's intramural series.

I hope that the committee that is to meet this fall to discuss the possibility of reinstating this sport to our varsity schedule, will be wise in their deliberations.

This heat wave seems to have inspired among a group of students to rise early. It would not be disturbing if everyone on campus did not feel the effects of a few anxious ones going to class at 6 A. M.

Out of twenty-five suggested names turned in by students to the committees, twelve were chosen as being thoroughly practicable and desirable, and the three given first rank were served in Bannery on successive nights, and a student poll was taken to decide the winner.

Quoting Rollinsian: Next year Rollins is offering another unusual attraction to prospective students. Besides the Conference Plan, the six-hour day, the Unit-Cost Plan, every entering student will receive a little lead pencil in a chain with which to mark ballots and sign petitions and pledges.

25 Nations Represented In Rollins Walk of Fame

Twenty-five nations are now represented in the Rollins College Walk of Fame, a unique memorial which began seven years ago with a nucleus of 22 stepping stones and now includes 400 markers.

All except a few of the stones have come from the birthplaces or former homes of men and women celebrated in the history of the world, in war, peace, religion, art, science, literature and philosophy. The memorial was originated by President Hamilton Holt of Rollins College who brought to the campus the original collection of 22 stepping stones which he has accumulated at his summer home in Woodstock, Conn.

It has since grown at the rate of nearly a hundred stones a year. Those which have not been selected personally by President Holt and a few of his associates on trips throughout the United States and Europe, have been sent by alumni, students, faculty and friends from all parts of the world.

Americans celebrated in the history of their country are represented by 303 of the markers. Sixty-two other stepping stones have come from England, 25 from Spain, 18 from Italy, and 18 from France. Other countries represented by at least one stepping stone from the birthplace or former home of a celebrated native citizen of world-wide fame include Austria, India, Cuba, China, Mexico, Germany, Ireland, Portugal, New Zealand, Hungary, Bavaria, Arabia, Greece, Egypt, Denmark, and the Philippines.

The American section includes stepping stones representing all the Presidents except Tyler, most of the Chief Justices, and many of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. Living Americans represented include, among others, Lindbergh, Newton D. Baker, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Herbert Hoover, Daniel Carter Beard, John Dewey, Robert Frost, Col. Edward M. House, Helen Keller, the Mayo Brothers, Eugene O'Neill, General John J. Pershing, John D. Rockefeller, Ellis Root, Charles M. Shelden, Booth Tarkington, Owen D. Young, and others.

Other Americans celebrated in many walks of life and now immortalized in the Rollins Walk of Fame are Buffalo Bill, Daniel Boone, Phillips Brooks, William Cullen Bryant, Luther Burbank, Andrew Carnegie, George Rogers Clark, Henry Clay, John C. Calhoun, Jefferson Davis, Admiral Dewey, Mary Baker Eddy, Thomas A. Edison, Admiral Farragut, Erasmus Field, Stephen C. Foster, Benjamin Franklin, Henry George, Cass Gilbert, Horace Greeley, Nathan Hale, Bret Harte, Nathaniel Hawthorne, Lafayette Hayn, Patrick Henry, Washington Irving, Robert E. Lee, William Penn, Paul Revere, Will Rogers, Daniel Webster, Roger Williams, and many others whose names have been identified with the history of the United States in numerous fields of achievement.

The collection includes athletic stones representing Confucius (China), Mohammed (Arabia), Haroun-Al-Raschid (Bagdad), Julius Caesar (Rome), Cleopatra (Asia, Egypt), Zerkow (Greece), Marco Polo (Venice), and Ramses II (Egypt). Christopher Columbus is represented by two stones, one from Pavia, his point of embarkation, and the other from his tomb in Havana, Cuba.

The Rollins Walk of Fame has been placed in the center of the campus between Carnegie and Knowles Halls. The foundation of the Walk is a 150-year-old mill stone which President Holt supplied from his home in Woodstock, Conn. The stone, which measures about five feet in diameter and weighs about a ton and a half, bears the inscription: "Walk of Fame—Sacrifices in stones and good in everything".

The memorial markers in the Walk of Fame are set like flagstones in the path, with a friendly air of informality. Most of the stones are complete units in themselves but some, which are small in comparison with most of the markers, have been imbedded with cement in slabs at bases. Each stone has engraved on it the name of the celebrity and the place from which the stone came.

As some stepping stones have been sent, unselected, President Holt has been forced to exercise a mild form of censorship. More than one offer has been declined on the ground that the person represented is not sufficiently "famous" to join the select celebrities in the Memorial.

Book on Florida History By A. J. Hanna Published

Many facts revealing the unique and significant history of Florida are presented in a book just published of which Professor A. J. Hanna of Rollins College is the author.

Professor Hanna's history relates primarily to the years 1835-42 during which the Seminole Indians were being killed in Florida or removed to the West. He has drawn his facts from unpublished sources in the War Department in Washington and from the Rollins College Collection of Florida. Among the notable discoveries made by the author in the course of gathering material for this book was that the Seminole name of Lake Maitland was "Pamochigua" which meant "maskmaker place".

Several amusing incidents are recorded such as the "canonization" of Han, Lewis Lawrence by the African Methodist Church of Orange County, a description of Senator Chandler's visit to Florida with President Arthur in 1883 and an explanation of the Seminole origin of the popular Americanism, "Here's how!"

Strict Regulations For Student Drivers Made By Committee

coming from states that do not require a driver's license shall be required to pass a driver's examination during Safety Week.

"All drivers shall pass an examination on Florida Road Laws.

"All drivers shall be obliged to have a driver's license before getting a number plate."

In addition to these strict regulations, the College authorities will require also that every student car must carry personal liability and property damage insurance. Insurance papers will have to be shown before the car will be licensed.

Reckless driving by a student will be dealt with drastically. All accidents and cases of reckless driving will be investigated by the Student-Faculty Traffic Committee, the administration of the College reserving the right to revoke licenses at any time.

Persons authorized to report cases of violation, it is pointed out, will not be known publicly. The Student-Faculty Traffic Committee has the authority to recommend punishment for violation of the traffic rules.

Since the inauguration of the automobile regulations two years ago, Dean Royce reports, the number of accidents involving student-owned cars has been materially reduced and the cases of reckless driving are noticeably few.

Rebecca Ann Coleman Weds George Holt; Alumni Are Guests

Rebecca Ann Coleman, '34, and George Chandler Holt, '31, were married at the Church of the Mediator, Chicago, September 19. Bridesmaids taking part were Ellen Bates Miller, '32, A. J. Hatten, '31, Bud Coleman, '34, and Dr. W. Potter, '25. Bridesmaid was also an usher and President Holt's daughter, Mrs. W. B. LaVenture and Mr. LaVenture were also in the wedding party.

As an undergraduate, Becky was a member of Pi Beta Phi, secretary of the Student Association, members of the Girls' "R" Club, the Glee Club, Chapel Choir, and chairman of the Social Service Committee. She was prepared for college at St. Katherine's School, Davenport, Iowa. Her great grandfather, Benjamin F. Ray, was one of the business leaders of Chicago.

George was prepared for Rollins at Taft School and took his junior year at the University of Geneva, Switzerland. As an undergraduate he was chairman of the Student Curriculum Committee and was active in dramatics and tennis. After graduating in 1931 he was a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford University, England. He has recently created the office of Director of Admissions at Rollins.

George and Becky will visit a number of private schools this fall where George will speak. After January 1 they will be at home in Winter Park where they are building a Spanish home on Lake Okechela.

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

SUMMER DOINGS

Rollins students spent their vacations in many different ways.

Mink Whitehead visited Anne Whyte in Wisconsin.

Jodie Yale stayed two months on a ranch in New Mexico then went to Chicago to visit Bob Howe.

Critcher, Manwaring and Jane Beauchamp went to the J.P. Convention in Chicago.

Among those who went to Europe were, Tom Pope, Frank Miller and Danny Whitson, Dick Tully and Charles Allen, May Lane, Elizabeth Kennedy, and Mia Rotz who all visited in Mia's home; Barbara Hill and Louise MacPherson, who were on a student tour; Frances Rye and Hugh McLean, Rollins Dean, Winslow Heath, Bernice Upshoff.

Jack MacGaffin worked on a newspaper in New York.

Early in the summer Jonette Lichtenstein went out to Montana to attend the Kappa Alpha Theta convention.

Commenting on the remarks of Dorothy Therman, European news correspondent, that in general the "intelligent youth" of America is radical, The Daily Texas at the University of Texas asks, "Why not?" and adds:

"University students are faced with a lack of economic security when they graduate. Box-cars are often found laden with 'college men' . . . Filing stations employ Phil Beta Kappa's . . . Three millions between 18 and 24 are unemployed . . . They have been taught that education and hard work were the Open Sesame to homes, jobs, honored places in the eyes of their fellowmen . . . discovering today that they have been betrayed at best by half truths. . . Yes, American youth is radical . . . Young men and women have ideals which to them mean hope and economic freedom . . . And it is upon shattered, misdirected, cheapened ideals that hysteria, war, and fascism are created and maintained."—The Herald.

Rollins Varsity Football Squad Lacks Experienced Men

Five Veteran Oarsmen Come Back From First Intercollegiate Victory

By DICK LEE

Although having been in existence at Rollins for but three years the Rollins crew under the able tutelage of Professor Bradley has proven itself an able addition to the college athletic program and has made a name for itself as far west as Ohio where it has been a regular competitor in the Marietta Regatta, and as far North as New York where last Spring it upset Manhattan University in one of the most talked of races in the East.

As yet no races have been scheduled for the coming year, but there will probably be meets with Indian River School during the winter months which will be more or less tryouts for the real races of the late Spring. This year should find Rollins with the best crew in its history. Although several good rowers such as "B" Brown, and H. P. Abbott have been lost through graduation, there still remain five veterans from last year's varsity. With Bill Schoen at No. 2, George Walcott at bow, Home at No. 4, Matthews at 5 and Ralph Little at No. 6, this year's crew will be in a position to pick and choose from the freshman class.

The introduction of crew to the intercollegiate schedule has also uncovered much valuable material. Murray Slobberg and Jack Harrington from last year's victorious crew should prove a great help to the varsity.

Last year saw Rollins lose two of its most important aides for its successful season. Neither of them ever pulled an oar, but nevertheless, the loss of Eddie Strangren, and Sally Stearns, the two regular coxswains, will be felt very much.

Sally, who goes down in history as the girl who beat Manhattan, was lost through graduation, and Eddie, according to rumor, will spend this year selling insurance in New York City.

Freshman Football Players Will Report Friday

Any freshmen desiring to try out for the management of the freshman football team will please contact Will Rogers at his office in Lyman Hall before Friday afternoon.

It is the theory of Dr. Ralph Wain, of the City College of New York, that the students who rest and relax during classes and lectures retain the greatest amount of information.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF SPORTS

By BOB HAYES

Sportsman's spotlight swings from a giddy, kaleidoscopic whirl of summer activity to the undiminished regard of the Fall sports—Football. There is an intangible, contagious excitement closely akin to fever that sweeps the nation during football season and we, here at Rollins, are susceptible to the same malady.

The unification of student spirit here on this campus by football will be felt throughout the year and our campus life will to a large extent reflect the potency of the spirit ensuing from this popular activity. In this writer's opinion, football is one of the most potent single, unifying forces in college life—it's mutual purpose and spirit tends to weld the students into a more closely body.

Five veterans, topped by the elusive senior, George Miller, is all that Jack McDowell salvaged from a machine that reached the depths last season. These five, supported by a husky group from last year's freshman team and the return to action of the lanky Kettles, gives Coach McDowell a fair squad but the "greenness" of the sophomores will detract from their potentialities this season. However, one may safely rely upon the wily McDowell to produce just a little better team than the material warrants.

With everything to gain and nothing to lose after last year's sad season, the boys will have a tendency to play a wide-open, reckless brand of football that goes a long way toward winning football games and at the same time satisfies the fan's mob-spirit desire for thrills. With a little dare-devil football, and good blocking George Miller, one of the best and most elusive backs in the South, will make many a touchdown jump for the Tars before hanging up his cleats for keeps at the end of the season.

So much for football. A hasty backward glance over the summer's portrayal of sporting activity, it would be an injustice not to mention the crew's victory over Manhattan at in Harlem's backyard stream last Spring. That win marked our first inter-collegiate rowing victory and is a magnificent tribute to the perseverance and untiring efforts of Coach Bradley, little Sally Stearns, and those loyal oarsmen who toiled day after day on Lake Maudslayi for that one sweet moment of compensation after those long and unfruitful years.

This summer has been virtually contaminated with athletic activity—probably the busiest since the Los Angeles Olympic fiasco. Joe Louis, the ebony phantom from Detroit, was blasted from his supposedly invincible pinnacle at the top of the heavyweight heap by Max Baer's powerful right thumper.

The Olympic triumph here in America and the heated controversies over our A. A. U. policies in handling our Olympic competitors kept the Nation's sport followers in a turmoil. Then came the Eleanor Holm Jarrett fiasco aboard the ship en route to Herr Hitler's arena. Mrs. Jarrett rode to almost the same heights of publicity and fame that the inevitable running machine from Ohio, Jessie Owens, attained by almost super-human feats of speed and endurance. Then after a Nazi jubilee fairs our athletes trekked home or on over Europe to further enrich the coffers of the A. A. U. With the U. S. as a claimant of first place honors, a merry bottle of wine and half-wine is waged to determine the actual victor. Under the existing scoring system there is no definite results regarding the winner and a kid's catch argument suffices.

Personally I think that the handling of our athletes and the chaperonage of them by the A. A. U. and Avery Brundage in particular is a deteriorated alliance to the chaperonage of colonial banding parties.

Serious agents used eggs for sending secret messages. Messages written on the shell of a boiled egg with a solution of sugar and alum are invisible on the shell, but make a clear impression on the solid white inside.

The cost of fuel to carry 150 passengers on "The Zephyr", lightweight stainless steel train, is no more than the cost of gasoline consumed by an average automobile traveling the same distance.

ROLLINS COACH

JACK McDOWELL

Coach McDowell expects to have at least a good time out of this current season, and a pretty ragged eleven.

BOARD DISCUSSES BASKETBALL TEAM

Lost Interest in the Sport Has Revived

GOOD PLAYERS HERE

Whether Rollins has a varsity basketball team this year will depend upon the decision of the college board which will meet soon to vote on this pertinent question. Basketball was dropped in 1932 because of the lack of interest. But the enthusiasm of the sport has revived, and it is hoped that the board will decide to re-establish the sport.

The main objection is that Recreation Hall is also used for Dramatic classes and the Concert Recital and Series.

The schedule will not have to be made out until December. The college has a group of outstanding men who played in the Intramural Series last year. They should team well together and form a capable team.

Having an intercollegiate sport between the end of the football season and the beginning of the baseball season should keep the college spirit and interest throughout the year at Rollins.

In the time of the Emperor Kahlil Kian, Mongolians had wagons as large as it required 22 oxen to pull them, and the space between the wheels measured 20 feet.

MILLER, PRENTICE ARGYRIS, GOODWIN RETURNING VETS

Team is light at guards and ends with heavy centers and tackles; Miller ace ball-toter

With a week and a half of dual session practices tucked away under their belt, the twenty-five members of the varsity football squad are being put through their paces by Coach Jack McDowell in an effort to place a well rounded eleven on Tinker Field in Orlando for the initial encounter of the season with the South Georgia State aggregation October 9.

This year's squad has more potential power than any eleven of the past few seasons, but the limited time allotted Coach McDowell before the opening game will necessarily result in a rather ragged offense for the first game or so. The defense should stack up on par with our opponents.

George Miller, the distinctive senior speedster, heads the group of seven available veterans which includes Chick Prentice, halfback; Carrel Goodwin, center; Paul Altier, end; Ralph Little, end; Chris Argyris, guard, and Goose Kettles, a veteran of the '34 eleven.

A husky group of sophomores from last year's freshman eleven and five transfers compose the remainder of the hand-picked squad that reported at the beginning of the training grind. The greenness of the sophomores is offset only by the fact that there should be a much greater evidence of reserve power than in previous years.

Because of the lack of veterans, virtually every spot on the team is open except for the halfback assignment reserved for the brilliant Miller, and as a result the candidates are waging a spirited battle for the preferred call.

Among the backs, there is an outstanding junior and passer, although the Brady brothers, Carry and Hal, are showing promise of being able to handle the kicking department creditably. Guard Kirby, Oliver Daugherty, and Marlin McElrath are showing ability as ball carriers and are expected to do most of the leather lugging in cooperation with Miller. Rick Gillespie is stacking up as a pretty good blocking back while the two Brady brothers are being groomed as line smashers. Don Cetrulo and Chick Prentice are rapidly rounding into form and will probably see plenty of service during the season.

The terminal positions are being looked after by Paul Altier and

Ralph Little, a converted guard, veterans, also Warren Home and Frank Daunis, sophomores. All are fair pass snappers and should be able to take care of eventualities out on the flanks.

The tackles, led by Big Bill Kiskell, are fairly heavy and have evidenced plenty of power thus far. The other candidates for the tackle berths are Carl Thompson and Don Matthews. Their average weight will be a little better than 180 pounds.

The guards are the lightest in the line. The candidates for these positions are Chris Argyris, veteran, Tommy Hawkins, Wes Dennis, and Bob Hayes. The potency of the McDowell attack rests heavily on the blocking of the guards and intensive experiments are being tried in an effort to hit upon a successful combination.

There will be plenty of beef at the pivot position with the veteran Carrel Goodwin, the lanky Kettles and sophomores Dick Turk tipping the beam at well over the 200 mark.

If a concerted offense can be mastered before the season gets under way and the reserve power comes up to expectations, this new addition of the Tars will be a tough club to beat despite the fact that our intra-state competition stacks up as the strongest in years.

In Pomfret University a sociology professor announced that all students in his class would participate in a test to determine whether microbes were transmitted by kissing. On the day set, attendance was perfect. Then what did the man do? He gave each person a little pad of sterilized cloth with instructions to kiss it and then dunk it on a microscope slide. You beat your pals and fancy wit will come: Knock as you please, there's nobody at home.

Number of Gridiron Candidates Formerly Were Ashville Stars

Again the Asheville District will be well represented on the gridiron at Rollins College this year.

As newcomers to such excellent Asheville athletes as Dick Washington, Ray Miller, "Frog" Morris, Soc Chakalos, Tom Powell, Charlie Dennis, Ben Dunbar, Paul Worley and others who have helped put the Tar on the athletic map, Rollins fans are looking toward a group of at least six new boys from Asheville to carry on the well-grounded tradition.

As candidates for this year's varsity, the Asheville contingent includes Jack Justice, Rick Gillespie, Ralph Little, and Wesley Dennis. On the freshman squad are Joe Justice, brother to Jack, and Thomas McPherson, who hails from Oconee, N. C.

Mixing on the varsity squad this year will be Ed Levy, lanky athlete, who turned pro this summer and has been filling in at first base on several Yankee farms. Levy will be back in college, however, and may help Coach Jack McDowell, his "discoverer", in coaching football, basketball and baseball.

All of the four Asheville candidates for the varsity grid squad are expected to see plenty of action this season. Justice and Dennis, although lightweights, may see regular assignments as guards, Gillespie is showing class as a blocking back, and Little, who was on the varsity last year but was out of action most of the time with an injured knee, is being groomed for one of the terminal positions.

McPherson, who turned in some good mound work on the Rollins baseball squad last year, will probably win the call as first-string pitcher on the pitching eleven.

Other Tarboos on the Rollins varsity squad are Carroll Goodwin, veteran center, and Tommy Watkins, sophomore guard, both from Edenton.

Four years of pulling the wool, and there's your sheepskin.

All candidates for the varsity swimming team are requested to see Coach Floydwood Popejoy or Bob McArthur Monday afternoon.

Rollins Girl Gives Two Racing Shells

Becky Harrison, Chicago, Ill., a Pi Beta Phi on the Rollins Campus, is said to be returning to school with two racing shells to be used by the Women's Athletic Association.

Nothing definite has yet been planned, but it is to be supposed that women's intra-mural this year will include shell racing on one of the surrounding lakes.

Those Who Strayed From Rollins' Fold

Rollins students who are not returning to the campus this fall are doing other interesting things.

Ivy Gallagher is now attending Cornell University.

Perry Jenson is one of the stars of the Federal Theatre group in Tampa.

Berta Warren is an actor at the Cleveland Playhouse, and Julie Vale plans to travel all fall.

Livian Mahone, a Rollins alumna, has returned to the college as assistant instructor in Biology.

Lives of great men all remind us We should have our pictures back. And, departing, leave behind us Just exactly how we look.—Mortimer Chester.

In comparison with other countries, the United States ranks tenth in the educational scale, according to a statement made at the last national convention of the Parent-Teachers Association.—Mortimer Chester.

WOMEN IN SPORTS

Last year, for the first time in our history, women's intra-mural competitions were introduced at Rollins by the "E" Club. Nine teams, Theta, Pi Phi, Gamma Phi, Kappa, Alpha Phi, Phi Mu, Chi Omega, Independent and Lakeville competed throughout the eight months of school in the dozen various sports offered, and the many close matches kept up a high degree of interest and enthusiasm among spectators and spectators alike.

"Doc" Lander, well-known pharmacist in Winter Park, presented the Women's Athletic Association with a stunning cup to be given each year to the team scoring the greatest number of points. The Kappa Alpha Theta were the first winner of the cup, emerging from the race a few points ahead of the Pi Beta Phi and Gamma Phi Betas, when the whole issue was decided in one tightly played volleyball game.

In addition to the Lander Cup, many other trophies were presented on Home Day last spring to both teams and individuals who had either proved their prowess on some field or had been outstanding for sportsmanship and leadership.

This year, the same routine will be followed and promises to be an even more exciting contest than last year's. The same teams are expected to enter, and judging from the scores ballied last spring, to venture an opinion as to the final outcome this year would be sheer guess-work.

The program of athletics and intramural competition for the Fall term will be printed at a later date.

ED LEVY STARS AS PROFESSIONAL

Plays For Five Clubs in Yankee Farm System

AVERAGES .300 AT BAT

Big Ed Levy returned to the campus Tuesday after a summer spent in touring the Yankee farm system and watching the baseball at a merry 360 clip under the tutelage of his Yankee taskmaster.

Levy, whose play around the initial seasons with the Tar baseball club has earned for him a very prominent position in the annals of Rollins baseball history, played with five different ball clubs during the summer and when the summer was over he was perched on the first sack of the Binghamton team in the N. Y. Penn League, which by the way is class A baseball.

Big Ed is the apple of Yankee scout Johnny Nee's eye and his successful rise from class C to class A ball in one summer is a vindication of Nee's foresight. Levy's .300 batting average and his improved fielding will go a long way toward establishing him as the logical successor to the aging Lou Gehrig, star Yankee first baseman of the first magnitude.

Levy will, probably, return to the Binghamton, N. Y., club at the beginning of the next season. While here at Rollins, Ed. will probably assist Coach McDowell with the football and baseball coaching assignments. Due to the fact that he is now a professional Ed will not be eligible for further inter-collegiate competition.

Football Manager Sought Apply Lyman Before Fri.

All candidates for the freshman football team will be expected to report to Freshman Coach Will Rogers at Lyman Hall Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

BLED SOE'S COLLEGE

The dorms (storage) at Bledsoe's are the finest and most modern that can be had, the furnishings are new and attendants are highly trained. The showers (car washing) are under the supervision of Genial George (a gentleman of color) and rival for beauty the famed baths of ancient Rome.

The Beauty Parlor (polishing-waxing) is directed by a famed beautician who thoroughly understands the texture and finish of your car is open at all hours.

The infirmary under Paul, a Great and Popular Surgeon, who is standing by with instruments ready to perform the most delicate carburetorotomy for improper gastritice on a moment's notice. May we suggest the following courses:

GASOLOGY

Prof. Amoco (who doesn't know his own strength) is ably assisted by Prof. American. They hold classes daily and teach how to get max performance at min cost from your car. This is a required course.

Prof. Quaker State, another specialist in his line is brought here from Penn State and offers a course in Oology for high speed powerful motors.

Bledsoe and his genial gang of trained specialists watch everything with eagle eyes and insist on satisfaction.

LUBRIOLOGY

Prof. Pennamo, assisted by Prof. Amoco. They teach how to save by a painless method and how to keep out of the infirmary by keeping all joints free from aches and pains by factory lubrication.

TIREOLOGY

Prof. Silvertowne, the most noted in his line, teaches a course in safety. He teaches that you can get the magic Supersafely Goldenpenny Silvertown at no extra cost. Also a host expansion and contraction of air in your tires caused by hot Florida Roads and how to overcome the great Hidden Killer, "Blowouts".

BATTERYOLOGY

Prof. Willard. A sparky old fellow who offers a course in starting, lighting, ignition and parking, especially parking, with the radio tuned low under the romantic Florida Full Moon. His slogan is plenty of power at any time for anything.

Letters Through the Sky for 25 Years

NEW YORK... On September 23, 1911, after Earl G. Livingston, recently deceased, took off from a small field at Garden City, Long Island, and flew 19 miles to Mineola, L. I., where he dumped a 10 pound sack of mail overhead from his tiny biplane, the field being too rough to land. Postmaster General Frank Hitchcock sponsored that flight. This year, Garden City and Mineola are observing the quarter of a century anniversary by having The American Airlines ship, a giant Douglas 21 passenger craft, fly the same course, carrying passengers and 3700 pounds of mail and express matter.

THE Inquiring Reporter

This Week's Question: What is your first impression of Rollins?

David Poor: My first impression of Rollins was the friendliness and willingness of the old students to help the new get settled.

Matthew Ely: Everybody, upper classmen, professors and fellow freshmen give the impression of immediate friendship. Vicky Morgan: Within Cleveland's walls pandemonium reigned. Girls tearing the mail. Introductions in nervous tones and apprehensive looks at the sheetless beds as many had to sleep in since trunks hadn't come. Anyway, it was swell fun.

Carl Good: Friendliness and heat—people grabbing you, smoking you off into cars—the ramshackle appearance of Cleveland and Mrs. Lester's kindness.

Dottie Berry: Lots 'n' lots of faces, friendly despite the heat. College and campus, ideally ideal. Then "Cleveland", moth-eaten, ancient, 'n' stuff, but still home.

Robert Walker: I am proud to be at Rollins. It is a beautiful school with a real spirit of friendliness and businesslike efficiency.

P. S. I was only asked to write about twenty words on this subject but I feel like writing a lot more. I think I have come to the finest college I know.

AROUND OTHER CAMPI

Favorite method of Hawaiian shark-hunters, is to attract a few sharks with a bait of dead pig or a cow's leg, shoot them with rifles or pistols, watch them fight among themselves for a while and then haul 'em aboard with harpoons. Once aboard, the fish are opened and contents noted. Tin cans, bones, bottles and even old clothes are sometimes found.

Campus

HOLT TO MAKE SPEECH

National Peace Day To Be Held Next Week

All over the nation on Thursday, April 22, students will cast their (fourth) vote and devote their minds to the most pressing matter of our modern civilization—Peace. April sixteenth to April twenty-fifth is National Peace Week, coinciding on April 22 with students from every college and many high schools joining in peace demonstrations and anti-war strikes. This day typifies the most thrilling spectacle of our modern generation—Peace. Each united for Peace. In the drive the Rollins Peace Society has planned a demonstration at which Dr. Hamilton Holt will be the principal speaker. Student speakers will include King MacGregor who will give a brief history of the day, Maria Stever who will discuss the peace work being done at Rollins, Jack MacGregor who will outline just what students can do for Peace. A resolution will be sent to the President and various members of the legislature asking for opinion and action on the War Reformation Bill before Congress. The faculty has been asked to devote some of their time in the morning classes to a discussion of peace and the interpretation of this subject to their various classes.

An assembly program is being held at the high school auditorium at 9:00 on the same day at which Professor Townsend will lecture and college and high school students will participate.

Rollins is proud to announce that it is taking part in this National Peace Demonstration and that its president will speak for the cause. If we want Peace let's come out and cooperate.

MRS. WARREN IS DONOR OF WINDOW

New Stained Glass Symbolizes
"Music"

SUGGESTS ST. CECILIA

Mrs. Frances Knowles Warren, donor of the Knowles Memorial Chapel, has recently presented a beautiful new stained-glass window, which was installed in the chapel last week.

The window, which symbolizes "Music," is circular in shape and has been installed above the north-east entrance to the nave, directly behind the organ console. It depicts two symbolic figures, the larger of which shows a saintly figure seated before an organ of the very early type and is suggestive of St. Cecilia, the Patron Saint of Music.

The other is an angelic figure, shown standing upon clouds-like hills. These figures, outlined in red and silver, form a rich composition against a background of heavenly blue.

This window, which was installed last week at the time of the presentation of the window in memory of Mrs. Holt, was executed at the Wilbur Herbert Burnham glass works in Boston. It is a great addition to our fine chapel, and its appreciation is due Mrs. Warren, who has given continuously to the interest of Rollins.

Miss Irene Weir is Speaker At Studio

Miss Irene Weir, painter, author and writer, spoke at the Art Studio on April 8. Her subject was "Modern Art." The following day she gave an informal talk on "Greek Art" in Miss Baber's class.

Reporter Tells of Sun Being Nothing But One Star In the Stellar System

By BRUCE McCREARY

We ordinarily think of our universe as consisting of the sun, the moon, our earth, and the other planets that revolve around the sun with their satellites revolving around them. But how many of us realize that the sun is merely another star among the millions that go to make up the stellar system? Yes, it is merely another star, and not a very unusual one at that. It is a little smaller than average size, about average age, and not especially hot. That is, not in comparison with other stars. Various astronomers have estimated the sun's surface at about 7,000 degrees. Fairly hot, but other stars are much hotter. Of course, the nearer to the sun's center, the hotter it is. Let us take an imaginary trip to the sun, and see just what the conditions that exist near and in our great warmer sun.

Traveling with the speed of light, we would reach the vicinity of the sun in about 8 minutes and 20 seconds. As we approached the sun, of course it would get hotter and hotter. In fact, before we had gone so very far, we would have to have our conveyance made of an unknown metal, for we would reach a temperature far above the boiling point of any known substance. Barring that little heat, we would reach a point about 380,000 miles from the sun, and we would be enveloped in its fiery corona, which exists at all times, though

DORR, VOSBURGH IN JOINT RECITAL

Present Violin and Piano Program at Woman's Club

IS FINE PERFORMANCE

Phyllis Dorre, pianist, and William Vosburgh, violinist, presented a recital last Thursday evening in the Woman's Club.

The program was an interesting one, including numbers that were known by the layman as well as the musician.

Miss Dorre's first group consisted of the "Fantasia in D Minor" by Mozart, Rembrandt, opus 24, Schumann. Her performance of these three numbers was accurate and understanding but essentially conservative. In her second group she obtained more freedom and the "Du bist die Ruh"—Schubert-Liszt, and "Hunting Song" by Mendelssohn were played beautifully.

The concerto in E minor, by Mendelssohn comprised the first violin group by Mr. Vosburgh. It was played sympathetically with technical skill. Mrs. Dougherty, accompanying the violinist, deserves praise.

Mr. Vosburgh's last group included "Préludium and Allegro (Kreutzer)." Mrs. Staccato (Disraeli-Hofstadter), James Tipton (Nashville).

The Harp Sonata was outstanding, not only in the group but in the whole concert. His statement was marvelous, causing an exclamation of breath from the audience.

Tonight Miss Eleanor Gleason and Mr. William Page will appear in their Junior recital.

DR. LA MER WILL TALK IN THEATRE

To Address Florida Section of American Chemical Society

ON COLUMBIA U. STAFF

Dr. Victor E. La Mer will address the Florida Section of the American Chemical Society in the Annie Russell Theatre on Saturday, April 15, at 8:35 P. M.

Dr. La Mer, one of the most active members of Columbia University's chemistry faculty, is internationally known as an authority on the chemistry of solutions. His numerous articles and books deal largely with recent developments in ionic theory.

This outstanding chemist will talk on the subject of condensation, electrostatic force and rates of chemical reaction in heavy water. This lecture will be a summary of a comprehensive research project, undertaken at Columbia University, the object of which was to give a better understanding of the nature and properties of heavy water.

Dr. Harold C. Urey, a colleague of Dr. La Mer, was the discoverer of heavy hydrogen and heavy water. For this remarkable achievement he was awarded the Nobel Prize.

Scientists from Gainesville and other parts of Florida will visit Winter Park to hear Dr. La Mer. Students and the public are invited to attend. There will be no admission charge.

Any interested persons desiring to attend the dinner to be held in Dr. La Mer's honor, should notify Prof. Waddington by Saturday noon at the latest. The dinner will be held in the college dining hall at 6:45 P. M.

Reporter Interviews Mrs. Cook On Summer European Tour

Mrs. Cook's European tour that she has been trying to piece together by bit has at last fitted itself into a whole. The infection was chiefly due to the choice of stars open to the group, but now all runs smoothly and the lucky tour is the "Metway to Europe Tour" which means that all the trip upon the European continent will be by motor. It will take sixty-eight days and will include nine countries: England, Holland, Germany, Austria, Italy, Switzerland, Norway, and France.

The tour was planned by Mr. Everhart, but when Mrs. Cook's group, which will be a purely Rollins group, arrives over there, they will proceed as they wish in their own private motor coach, a deluxe Pullman coach. All of the hotels at which they stop will be first class and the best will be of the very best.

They will leave New York City on July 13th, giving the students time to be here for a while first, and they will dock in New York again on September seventh. As an added attraction the group has decided to have a Rollins College Night in New York before sailing and the night following the return. The group will start out with England where they arrive going through the rural parts and the Shakespearean, Washington, and Penn countries. Three days will be spent in London, and then on to the Rhine country and Holland.

The second Forest Institute sponsored by Rollins College for college and university students will be held from June 11 to June 24. World disorders, possessed ready to peace and international-American relations will be discussed.

STUDENT PLAYERS GIVE "IMPORTANCE OF BEING EARNEST"

THE REVEREND BARTLETT IS GUEST SPEAKER

"A World in Birth" Is Subject of Sermon On Sunday

IS FROM MASSACHUSETTS

The sermon in Knowles Memorial Chapel on Sunday, April 15, was given by The Reverend Robert M. Bartlett. His subject was "A World in Birth." The Reverend Bartlett is the minister of the Community Church of Longwood, Massachusetts.

Directed to a world of pessimistic people, the sermon attempted to spread the too popular thought that civilization is headed for collapse. Citing many examples of scientists and intellectuals supporting their ideals to communism, the Reverend Bartlett mentioned our own Ralph Adams Cram as saying we were better able to face world problems in the fourteenth century than we are today.

The lesson of man first and then the consciousness of man can aid in the belief of progress in this world. Such great men as Washington and Jefferson thought slavery was all for the best. They considered the negro as incapable of learning or thinking in the abstract. Yet today we have more than four thousand negro surgeons in the world.

Courtesy Taylor, killed from Russia and now running a truck farm, has never surrendered her ideals and is still waiting for the day when she can go back to Russia. She is facing a world of hatred with a world of love.

"Progress is not automatic," concluded the Reverend Bartlett. "It depends on you and me. Let's change what comes to be a death of a world into a world of birth."

The Call to Worship was led by Richard Belden and the responsive reading was taken by Mary Achter. The student readers were Leavin Feider and Margaret Bashford.

Will Present Their Third and Last Play Thursday and Friday

FULLER IS GIVEN LEAD

Three Newcomers To Appear
In Cast

The Rollins Student Players return to the boards of the Annie Russell Theatre on April 15 and 16, with their third play for 1939-40. They have chosen as a climax to a successful year "The Importance of Being Earnest," one of the fastest moving plays of the great Oscar Wilde.

George Fuller was chosen only two weeks ago to play the part of "Alcegan, Minorville." William Walsh, Jr., makes his debut with the company in the role of "Lane," the English butler. "John Worthing" will be played by El Varis, who returns to the stage after a long absence. The part of "Gwendolyn Fairfax" was given to Mary Achter, and "Gwendolyn's" mother, "Lady Bracknell" will be played by Helene Keyman. Barbara Bab, a newcomer to the stage, will play "Cecily Cardew," and her principal opposite, "Miss Prism" will be presented by Frances Hyer. The "Reverend Chameleon" will be played by Henry Sturges. Oliver Whitner will play the second English manservant, "Mortimer."

The play is being given under the direction of Professor Donald Allen who has also established a precedent in the Annie Russell Theatre by designing a modernistic set.

"The Importance of Being Earnest" is sure to be a success both in town and on the campus. It will be well worth seeing.

Living American Art Sponsors Display

The group of twelve pictures selected for the fourth exhibit by Living American Art, Inc., of New York City will open at the Rollins Art Studio next Monday, April 15 and simultaneously in 100 cities throughout the United States.

The exhibition will be open to the public from 2 to 4 daily, except Saturday and Sunday through April 20.

This showing is the fourth in the series inaugurated 6 months ago which was attended by more than half a million people in 300 cities in 48 states, thus constituting the most ambitious venture ever undertaken for widespread distribution in America for works of fine art. By means of the collotype process, reproductions have been made of selected American paintings. The process is uniquely faithful in every detail of line and color and is endorsed by experts as the best now known.

The pictures included in the showing are: "The Fighting Temeraire" by J.M.W. Turner; "Moonlight" by J.M.W. Turner; "Nude Bath" by Eugene Spaulding; "Still Life—Apples" by Henry Lee McPhee; "Piano Girl" by Maurice Strakos; "Landscape by Karl Forster; "Voice of the Nightingale" by Joseph Solari; "Sleeping by John Carroll; "Landscape by C. Coggeshall; "Little Coat and Fur Shawl" by Kenneth Hayes Miller; "The Boat by Peter Blum; and "Mare, Grange and Green by Arthur Dove."

Review of The Week's News

By FRED LIBERMAN

The Farmer vs. The Sit-Downer
There's a new angle to the controversy caused by the recent trend towards the sit-down strikes. It seems that the farmers are not wholly in accord with the movement and have begun to arthritic their backs and show their teeth. At least that's the case in Hershey, Pa.

The farmers in that town supply the Hershey Chocolate Corporation with some $10,000 worth of milk daily, and it's no wonder they got slightly peeved when the Hershey Chocolate workers declared a sit-down strike on April 1st.

To shorten a long story, one week ago some three thousand farmers added by sit-downing workers marched on the Hershey plant, stormed the entrance and forcefully ousted the sit-downers. They were determined to let nothing of this sort interfere with the earning of their income.

Perhaps that gave you a little more of an inkling of the magnitude of the sit-down strikes. It affects law, industry, commerce, agriculture, and may be time to affect our government. While we can hardly take a firm stand one way or the other we do insist that the government should end its policy of "watchful waiting" or what have you.

Freedom of Expression

Some people say our Congress is composed of a bunch of lunkheads. I'm not in any position to argue with them on this point at the present. But it does seem that our Congressmen have some idea of the basis of our so-called "Americanism."

Representative Dickstein started a movement in Congress some while ago for another investigation of the un-American activities of the Nazis, Communists and other radical organizations in this country.

However, Representative Mervin of Texas led opposition to this plan, declaring the people were getting tired of "Congress poking its nose into everybody's business". And the opposition won, by a vote of 184 to 38, leaving Representative Dickstein's plan in a minority.

If such a bill ever passed Congress it could cause untold trouble. Our country, relatively free of religious and racial intolerance would be stirred into an end of feuds.

OPERETTA GIVEN BY HUNGERFORD

Two Act Musical Presented In Recreation Hall

"THE SUNBONNET GIRL"

The Hungerford Players of Robert Hungerford School presented a two-act operetta, "The Sunbonnet Girl", Saturday, April 10, at 7:30 P. M. in Recreation Hall.

This operetta was performed entirely by the students of Hungerford School and was an excellent example of the work done there.

The program included dance solos, choruses, and instrumental acts.

Act one consisted of thirteen sections: Devotion, A Day in June, Welcome to Our Country, Garden of Old-Fashioned Flowers, Washing Dishes, The Good Old Days, I Ain't My Funt, Old Fashioned Sunbonnet Song, Give Me a Girl in Cellar, A Let Depends on a Dress, We're So Excited, Washing Dishes, Exit Act.

Act two: Seasons, Cabin Ready, Spring is on the Way, If Only Dreams Come True, Hail the Queen of Songs, If You Love Me, I'm the Constable, We'll Build a Cottage in Loveland, The Hunking Bee, and Finale.

The pianist was Nanette Marshall Boston; director, Lela Lemoyne Aubrey. The principal of the school is L. E. Hall.

SIT-DOWN STRIKE LECTURE SUBJECT

Dr. Thomas Chalmers Speaks Against Violence

CLAIMS UN-AMERICAN

Is a lecture given in the Winter Park High School Auditorium last Friday night under the auspices of the Winter Park Chapter of Commerce and Rollins College Dr. Thomas Chalmers urged all American citizens to revolt against the "sit-down strike" by discussing its popularity through the artful use of public opinion. Dipping into the history of Europe, he pointed out how this form of strike was the forerunner of revolution which always results in tragedy.

To support his statements he gave verbal descriptions of the existing conditions in the countries in which the revolution brought about by the strike had been successful and in those where it had been a failure. However, he pointed out how this form of pressure on the employer by the employees was frowned upon by the eyes of the law and gave several examples of where judges had outlawed it. And last but not least he proved that this type of strike was un-American not only because it had originally been imported from Europe but more so because it was contrary to the traditions and creed of the American nation.

There may lie in that one fact. And we can see the sun, or rather, continue the research already started, and find out. Several important facts about the sun are known. It is known for a fact that the sun is really growing smaller. This, in itself, may not seem to be much, but when we realize that it is decreasing in size at the rate of one-sixteen thousandths in a million years, we can see, that if we can make such accurate measurements as that, we may be able to make others, and find out more. At that rate of diminishing, we can see that our heavenly furnace has some sixteen billion years of life yet left. Quite a career ahead of him, what? Another thing about the sun that is very probable is that the earth and the other planets were not formed from it, as was originally thought. It seems more probable, according to recent findings, that the sun was once one of a pair known as binary stars, that is, twin stars that actually revolve around a common center. A good many years ago, several hundred million at least, an outlaw star, a star on a rampage, passed within two or three hundred million miles of this pair, and began to pull. It pulled so hard that it took most of this other star along with it, but not quite all. The sun kept a little for himself, just nine planets, several satellites, and quite a number of planetoids. This was quite an event, to our minds, but hardly noticeable in the mind of the universe. Gradually these small bodies began to cool off, our earth probably being one of the first. And so our solar system was formed. Whether any others have been formed in a like matter is hard to say. Certainly we would not notice it if they have. Even at the distance of the nearest star, a body even the size of Jupiter, the largest of our planets, would be invisible.

Will we ever know the answers to the questions set forth in this article? It seems very likely that someday we will. The new 200-inch telescope being built should tell us much, and in the meantime, we can merely go on doing as we have been for many years, testing, trying, rejecting, trying again; for that is the way all discoveries have been made, not only in astronomy, but in all other scientific fields.

Dear Rollins College Students:

Yes indeed! Warm weather is here and here to stay. And warm days call for swimming, but not like last year . . . we want the new 1937 styles. Take the advice of the old sleuth and look at the Beach Shop on the second floor of DICKSON-IVES.

Let me tell you—DICKSON-IVES have the grandest and best looking collection of full length and knee length terry cloth capes and coats for the beach that you have ever looked upon. They have zippers or buttons down the front and come in all pastel shades and white. Now if you are positive the weather will be too hot for terry cloth, we can find you any color, type or kind of pique, seersucker or novelty cotton beach coat.

DICKSON-IVES in this Beach Shop have everything one could possibly wear to the beach, and the best looking apparel you have ever seen.

A ROLLINS COLLEGE STUDENT

Writer Tells of Enjoyment In Store For Those Who Attend Gypsy Fiesta

By M. J. DAVIS

All the romance and color of Gypsy life will be brought to the Rollins campus next Thursday, April 22, when the Rollins Women's Association will bring to their Gypsy caravan for an evening of music and gaiety beside the Roman Trail, for what promises to be one of the most brilliant fetes of the season.

The scene will depict the life and color of a Gypsy camp, by the side of the Roman Trail (also often referred to as the Dinky Track, E.) where handcarved, dark-eyed Gypsy maidens... looking suspiciously like professors' wives... and earthy, stilette, stilette, stilette... looking just a little like the professors themselves... will practice all their seductive wiles and nefarious arts in the authentic Gypsy manner.

For these bold souls who will dare to invade the Gypsy camp, a new world of fun and excitement will be unfolded. The various fraternities and societies on campus, realistically disguised with false whiskers and headbands, have planned a series of gala entertainments to amuse the unwary spectators, while folk music, dancing, a number of one-act plays, and food will be provided for the more conservative element. There will be a grand Midway, with fortune telling, a cheese market, a pirate chest, a wishing well, penny races, and a lot of other peachy Gypsy stuff. Horse racing and baby smashing will be going on constantly during the entire evening, and students are warned about bringing the family. The more daring may also play bridge.

Chairman of the executive committee is Mrs. A. B. "Gypsy Rose" Crowbridge, who is being aided by a whole gang of tambores-tapping and customer-clicking hangers-on, who are always getting underfoot in typical Gypsy fashion. The purpose of this unique and extravagant endeavor is an unusual, though very worthy, one. The entire receipts of Thursday evening's performance, will be turned over to the college, for the buying of a new tennis court, on the east side of the present courts. (Apparently the Gypsies have confused this in some way with a police court, but we are pretty much confused at this point ourselves. E.)

So come, all ye light-brained adventurers, and spend your way to the Gypsy Fiesta. Who knows what great adventures may befall you—what opportunities may arise in the dark, mysterious shadows of the Gypsy camp-fire? You may be able to knife some wily

ON ADVERTISING TOUR

On Wednesday night, April 7, after having made the customary arrangements with Dean Sprague, Dorothy Coates, traveling representative of the Katherine Gibbs School, came down to Rollins.

Miss Coates was on an advertising tour of the southern colleges, talking to the girls on every campus. Notices were sent out to all upper-division girls, and those who were interested in taking up secretarial work went to hear Miss Coates speak. She told them about the requirements of a modern secretary, about the school and about secretarial work in general. Some of the girls asked for catalogues.

It is interesting to note that several former Rollins girls are now in the Katherine Gibbs New York School.

Exhibition By Miss Irene Weir Closes Tuesday at Studio

An exhibition of the oil paintings of Miss Irene Weir closed Tuesday, April 12.

Miss Weir of Kalamazoo, N. Y., has a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from Yale University and a diploma from Ecole des Beaux Arts, Amsterdam, Netherlands. She has exhibited at the Brooklyn Museum, the Corcoran Gallery of Art, and at Princeton, Vassar, West Point and Yale.

Miss Weir is now on a tour of the colleges of the Southeast. She is also the author of "Greek Painters' Art" and "Great Painters."

Wednesday boasts of two spinster slabs. One of the "No Rain Datas" with the bleeding heart as their club flower and "Solitude" as their theme song. The other club, "Fragrant Women," honors the hachure-batton and the lyric "All Alone". PEACE SOCIETY TO BE INTERVIEWED

Program to Take Place Over WDBO, Tuesday

WADDELL IS CHAIRMAN

On Tuesday evening, April 20, the Rollins Peace Society will be on the air over station WDBO at 8:15. The program will take the form of an interview by the Rollins of the various members of the Peace Society on the work being done by this group for peace.

Those participating in the interview will be George Waddell, who is chairman of the Peace Society, Maria Storer, secretary, and King MacRory. This organization has recently formed a speakers bureau, and has available speakers and programs which they will put on at request. Tuesday night's broadcast will be their first speaking appearance.

The Rollins Peace Society has joined the Winter Park Peace Association Society at a joint meeting of the two groups last Wednesday night.

The Reverend Eyer of St. Augustine To Be Chapel Speaker

The speaker at the Morning Meditation at the chapel, Sunday, April 18th, will be the Rev. Mr. Eyer of St. Augustine, where he is rector of the Trinity Episcopal Church.

Mr. Eyer, a young man in the ministry, is regarded as a speaker of real spiritual value and insight. His message from the chapel pulpit will undoubtedly be of interest to the college group.

NOTICE

According to information from the Student Bureau of the Institute of International Education there is the possibility of a direct foreign student exchange between Rollins and an Italian university.

Students who have some knowledge of Italian and who are interested in a fellowship in Italy should apply at once to the Dean's office or to Professor Fearstein.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS

The bi-monthly meeting of The International Relations Club was held Thursday evening, April 8th, at the home of Professor and Mrs. A. B. Crowbridge.

The speaker was Lloyd Gibbons, head-master of the Indian River School for boys. Mr. Gibbons has had experience as a foreign correspondent and gave a very interesting talk on international news.

As usual there was an open forum discussion following the talk. It was decided to have at least three more meetings, one of which will be devoted to "Opportunities for the Coming Summer". Perry Odell, president, presided over the meeting.

Two Rollins Students Make Rescue As Boat Explodes at Daytona Beach

It was not until the Rollins paper arrived last Friday that most people heard about Tommy Castello and Ann Roper and their dramatic rescue of three persons from a burning boat off Daytona. Such a rescue is an unheard of thing, especially on the Rollins campus.

But, finally Miss Roper telegraphically landed the paper over and saw the campus and the avid readers of the Sandspur can have the story this hour.

Ann and Tommy were swimming at Daytona during spring vacation one day, and with them they had Tommy's famous cat board. Suddenly, nearly they heard an explosion on the 38-ft. auxiliary schooner which was lying at anchor. The surfboard was quickly brought to the aid of the three occupants of the boat. The owner, severely burned, had been trying to start the engine; it had been "choking."

Miss Roper, an excellent swimmer, even in a rescue situation, was able to rescue the three minutes' change of the badly injured man and put him on the surfboard.

The latest report discloses the fact that the owner on the wrecked boat is in very serious condition and he is not expected to live.

SIX PHYSICIANS ARE APPOINTED

To Be Consulting Doctors to College Health Service

SERVICE IS EXPANDING

Six doctors in Orlando have been appointed consulting physicians to the Health Service at Rollins College for the coming year. Dr. Winslow S. Anderson, dean of the college, has announced.

They are Dr. J. S. McEwen, in surgery; Dr. Meredith Mallory, in internal medicine; Dr. Louis M. Orr, in urology; Mr. R. A. Day, in ophthalmology; Dr. Benoit Johnston, in ophthalmology and otolaryngology; and Dr. G. Taylor Gwaltney, in ophthalmology.

The staff of consulting physicians, it is announced, will support the infirmary staff which is composed of Dr. B. Asendorf Esch, college physician; Dr. Ruth S. Hart, assistant college physician; Lillian M. Cook, resident nurse; and Edith Nicholas, assistant nurse.

The health service at Rollins has been expanding rapidly since the opening of the infirmary several years ago. The infirmary was made possible through the efforts of the Rollins Students Mothers Club of which Mrs. Gordon Jones is the president.

Peace Rumors

We hear a lot about the war rumors in Europe. We know that the several European countries are in a state of war preparation and animation. We know that they are developing a high pitch of nationalism and are arming heavily. Yet in the United States we hear a lot of peace rumors. These peace rumors take the form of neutrality programs, trade agreements, and war referendum talk. There is peace talk in the government, peace talk in business and peace talk in the ranks of the youth of the nation.

Students all over the country are expressing their peace ideas and opinions in many ways. Tallahassee is getting out a special peace edition of their newspaper the "Flamingo" on April 16. The Rollins Peace Society has recently joined the Winter Park Peace Action Society and has become active in putting peace programs over the radio, has established a speakers bureau, and has been instrumental in promulgating peace activity throughout the state.

On April twenty-second thousands of students in hundreds of colleges in the United States are going on Strike for Peace. We at Rollins are fortunate in having a president and administration who are in sympathy with our desire for peace, so a peace "Strike" at Rollins is unnecessary. We are, however, joining in this National Peace Day with a demonstration at which not only President Holt but also several students will express their sentiments on war. These sentiments are felt by all right thinking Americans who wish to live and contribute to human welfare. They are expressed in the speech by James Frederick Green of Yale '32 to the World Democratic Conference when he said:

"It is my generation which will be called upon to surrender all we consider worth while in life in order to become targets for machine gun bullets and victims for the latest poison gas. It is the young men and women of my age who will be commanded to commit suicide. It is my generation which will be requested to destroy the best of human culture, perhaps civilization itself, for causes which future historians will discover to be erroneous, if not utterly stupid or actually vicious. We have thus lost interest in being prepared for cannon fodder.

... We desire to live and to live at peace. We desire to construct a world society providing freedom, equal opportunity, and a sense of security. We desire to make possible for every human being full development of personality in terms of the highest human and spiritual values we know."

We students of Rollins College feel that war is a tragic and futile waste and it is in the spirit of Frederick Green that we hold our Peace Demonstration on April 22, hoping that the ripples of our little pebble will swell the tide against War.

Sandspur Tradition

It seems to be a Sandspur tradition to want something every week. Last week we wanted a new library and some new tennis courts. We have been wanting the tennis courts for a long time now and the Sandspur has expressed that want more than once. It now looks as though we might get some tennis courts if the Gypsy Fiesta goes off well. We haven't gotten a new library yet but we still want one.

This week we are going to put in a plea for a college owned and operated garage, or at least a vacant lot which could be used for all night parking. We have the location all picked out too, its that vacant lot across from Lucy Cross.

Over one-third of the student body at Rollins own cars and pay anywhere from five to fifteen dollars a month for just overnight storage. This is an unnecessary expenditure for it is not imperative to keep a car indoors at night in Florida as the temperature rarely comes anywhere near reaching the freezing point.

Because of this, and because many car owners do not wish to have their cars parked all night-out in front of Hooker Hall or some equally decorative and dangerous spot where it runs the risk of being smashed into or stolen.

It might prove to be a good investment for Rollins to buy some lot near the campus and turn it over temporarily for a garage or parking lot now, and it would have the property on which to build at some future date. At any rate there is a crying need for a parking place on or near the campus.

Old Dog Tray

The other day we walked out of Beany's noticing that something was awry but not knowing what. Glancing hither, thither and yon we were still unable to determine the reason for this aching void at the pit of our stomachs (we knew that it was not the Beany's food, for we had just suffered through a meal of Haggerty's best).

The day was not bright (not even for Florida weather), the sullen skies emitted fitful spurts of rain, the whole atmosphere was one of utter, dank desolation.

For a long moment we remained there on the porch, loneome in the midst of throngs. People gaped at us, aware that we were having some sort of trouble, but they offered no comment. Here and there squirrels could be seen dashing aimlessly but happily up and down the moistened trunks of the trees and twittering shrilly.

Our jaws dropped and our hearts sank as grim realization gripped us. We knew now! Barney was missing! Barney, who for fifteen years had acted as a first welcoming committee for incoming freshmen and an ultimate glimpse of the true Rollins to graduates.

With blanched faces and shaking knees we stumbled back into the Beanyery where "Stew" told us the whole horrible truth, Barney had been run over by a truck.

We never knew to whom he belonged, but he seemed to us to be an inexhaustible tradition. The chattering of our tree-friends echoed back to us with more intensity and deeper meaning.

Barney is dead, long live the squirrels!

HIGHLIGHTS IN THE NEWS

The Supreme Court has declared the Wagner Act constitutional and brought the labor relations in a large proportion of the manufacturing industries under Federal regulatory authority.

This verdict, another Roosevelt victory, will have the effect of intensifying the congressional conflict which has been raging over the President's bill to reorganize the Court.

The pro's and con's of the Florida ship canal are still much argued. Malcolm Pirnie, a government-retained geologist, has been carrying on investigations to find whether or not the canal would actually affect agriculture. In a recent speech, Mr. Pirnie declared that the Florida rainfall is sufficiently abundant so that the canal would in no way affect the agriculture of the state.

A row is a row is a row is a row, and if Buns doesn't combine you, or by chance you don't understand her, try Takas—or ask Poch Brown. She shares the conviction with Poch Poch Phillips that "twas under the reachshad that—ah! ah! The Phi Delta mustn't know or else they'll be littered all over the place and little Jill-Jill will be sore as hell, jacompetent that he is! And there's nothing worse than a mad hatter in April.

And in this April, alas, in particular. For woe is us, us in woe, Miss Four-no-trump Evans is gone and Winter Park is the poorer by one charming Kappa. Our life is empty, Harper's is empty, John's is worse than empty, our T-up bottle is empty, and we feel like pickle-pus A1-A1s when he's having fun. If he were over to feed us we look at this ruddy-hole sitting, he'd never recover.) As it is, our chances of recovery are pretty slim. No chart could record them. Metabolism low, viability poor. It's all been so very sudden, too! Strange, though, as we look back on it, how gray and happy such a sad departure can be. Meetings and greetings all around, much kissing (of which you may be sure we got our share), THE MIGHTY BAM, piling boulders on the rails in a mad effort to derail the train, THE GENTLE HAM, playing wildly at rubber-band-ball, until his toy (Lander's, one dime) got caught on the door handle of the refrigerator car as the train pulled out and dinged him, shooting merrily, half way in Sanford, and the celebration afterward with B. Rose to the tune of the Spring Song, which was fun. All of which is to wish you every sort of happiness, Mary, and all sorts of good luck.

We wonder if the Old Scotch hadn't better do the striped lights and go to Minisky's instead; if Billy Walek doesn't know how to lift three men now; if Mr. Lee wouldn't be a nice place to live; if Wendy Davis hadn't better give up Trudy-fairing and go back to journalism; if Younkevillie (Boston, long please note) isn't the seat of culture after all; if Paul Peters hasn't strong hands; if this isn't a Kapping Koppamus; if Melbourne wouldn't be a nice place to live; if the team isn't about half over; if Billie doesn't champ prettily at the bit; if the best juice doesn't come from the skinkish orange; if the campus hasn't become candid; if Culbell hadn't better stay away from swinging doors altogether; if the Sluggar isn't living like a king on our sentiment-deposit; if Bud Draper's cookie duster isn't putting up a good fight; if a chain attached to a stake will drive into the ground on the one end and to the animal on the other hasn't been known to keep a saw in place; if Davis the great will read this and keep; if life is as good as it used to be; if half a column isn't better than none at all to the encyclopedia; and if it isn't time to tell the Buns to sleep with a chorus or two of the fisherman's lullaby entitled, "Chasing Shad Roes".

GERMAN COEDS

The poor coeds at German universities and colleges acquire their education by degrees, and at the end of their courses most of them can't get their diplomas away.

Though to fill vacancies in special professions, are given the chance to write exams for their degrees. So Gretchen can't flash her schooling and expect to search for a position.

If she isn't offered a job and with it the opportunity to pass the final test, she has to be content with saying: "Heck, I didn't want the darn old thing anyhow." Ja, so geht's.

Co-eds at the University of California are sure now that Stanford girls can't take it.

During the recent cold snap Stanford co-eds abandoned their silk lingeries for furry red flannel underwear. Palo Alto merchants completely sold out and claimed that Stanford women had been the heaviest buyers.

But did the University of California go in for the "scarier scratches"? Not on your life. When proprietors of Berkeley stores were asked if they sold the brilliant-hood underwear, they were taken aback.

"Red flannels?" cried one proprietress arching her eyebrows. "I didn't even know they were on the market anywhere in California."

Another admitted that she had just one steady customer for "woolies" but "she is a lady well over 70 years old."

Dearest: Your son has a great thirst for knowledge. Where did he get it?

Mother: He gets the knowledge from me and the thirst from his father.

Astronomical Question Box

By Dr. Phyllis Mayfield Hutchings

(Editor's note: Questions addressed to College Box 75 will be answered in this column.)

MERCURY

Q. When will Mercury be visible again?

A. Mercury is visible now, low in the sky a little north of west just after sunset. Every evening this starry object will appear higher until April 15th, when it will again descend. Although Mercury again makes a brief appearance every 88 days, it is only in the spring or in the southern latitudes that it is well visible. This may seem odd, but it pursues its path at other seasons close to the horizon, especially as seen from the north. Even the famous astronomer, Copernicus, wrote: "Mercury! Why does Mercury appear every 88 days, and never for long after sunset, you ask? It is a planet like our earth except for being much smaller, and like us journeys around the sun, but in a much shorter period—88 days. It is close to the Sun, and, consequently is never seen by us very far from that body. The average person cannot spot it until the sky darkens, and by that time it is close to the horizon where the Sun has disappeared."

What is Mercury like? Like us it derives its light and warmth from the sun, but in an amount 8 times as great with 30 shield from an atmosphere. It is devoid of that blessing, along with water, vegetation, and animal life. Imagine the conditions for a hypothetical Mercurian and you will agree that he could not exist. Not only has a sun six times as hot, but if he is on the sunny side, the temperature would be sufficient to boil not only water but lead, because Mercury continually keeps one face to the sun and never cools off on the sunny side. Nor would he better his condition by moving to the permanently shady side, for there the temperatures are as cold as the temperatures there on the earth only by artificial means. In between he would be in the fix of a man in the Arctic who has an out-door life. Outside of him may roam while the other side freezes! All these thoughts aside, though, Mercury appears as lovely as an evening star.

Send all answers to care of this column, Conservatory and be sure to include a 3c stamp and your name and address printed clearly in charcoal. With the addition of a pilfered desk and a resolution to see straight through George Cartwright for all the rest of our lives (we've been pestering him politely for months to find us one) we are actually able to write a bit of theory again without the necessity of standing on our heads which we have been doing every two minutes this lovely new year. We've all decided to get to work and stop wasting time and save our penicils and do unto other—I seem to be getting a little side-tracked but what can you expect with a Brahms symphony coming in one window and only five minutes to finish this in? That last sentence was too long anyhow.

We know when a dog race is good. It's when a dog you hoped would win, but didn't bet on, because guess what you didn't have any of, starts in the lead but loses it at the turn, two other dogs getting ahead of him or her or whatever they are, thereby leaving you in a cold sweat for seven point two seconds then the two dogs get in a fight and a very speedy fight it was because no one saw it at all. Anyhow our own little number four didn't make any difference anyhow because guess what we didn't have any of?

That's all I have to say.

Leon: You're the first girl I have ever loved.
Katie: That's O. K. I don't mind beguines.

Little Jane, delighted over the arrival of a new baby at her home, asked her teacher to come and see it.

The teacher: Thank you, but I will wait until your mother is better.

Jane (after a woman's name): You need not be afraid, it's not catching.

"Yes," said the lumpy young man, "I'm a thought reader. I can tell exactly what a person is thinking."

"Is that case," she said, "I beg your pardon."

Tyoni: I thought you had a date with Betty tonight.

Bunk: Yes, but when I saw her leave the house about a quarter to eight with someone else, I got sore and called it off.

NOTICE

With the exception of two or three guest-star appearances, the voice of Lily Pons has not been heard over the air for nearly a year.

Making movies and doing concert trips between opera engagements, "That Girl from Paris" has had a busy year. No other singer has appeared who can remotely approach the tiny French star's beautiful soprano and Miss Pons' popularity increases every day. Despite many other radio offers she has been content to wait until Nino Martin's current Chesterfield series was concluded, thus opening the way for a return to the air waves under the direction of Andre Kostelanetz. The combination of Miss Pons and the Kostelanetz orchestra has always been a favorite one with millions of radio listeners, and general opinion seems to be that the new series of broadcasts will prove to be something worth waiting for.

To Sing More of the "Popular" Songs

While Miss Pons has no idea of abandoning the famous operatic aria with which she has thrilled millions of listeners, there are reliable reports that she plans to render many of the lighter variety of songs in her own individual style. The success of her latest movie "That Girl From Paris", wherein Miss Pons actually sang the Blue Danube in the swing tempo of a dance-band proved that the flute-like tones of what critics call "the voice of the century" are as versatile as the Chesterfield orchestra which has been with her so often on the air.

Popular Chesterfield Chorus

Will Accompany Miss Pons

Andre Kostelanetz will continue to present the Chesterfield Chorus which is being referred to as the finest vocal group on the air. These talented singers had much to do with the Chesterfield hour being voted the most popular all-around musical program in a recent nationwide poll. Their specialty is in the brilliant and original arrangement of harmony, rather than type of song selected for they have featured simple folk songs along with many popular classics from the best composers.

Wednesday night at 9 o'clock, New York Time, is a favorite musical period on all Columbia Stations and Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company deserves a good round of applause for the high Chesterfield standard of entertainment week after week.

THE Inquiring Reporter

Question: Should men send girls corsages for all-college dances?

Marge Colvin: Yes, money spent for corsages means less for drinks.

"Tigers" Hickock and Poor: No, no, a thousand times no. Jane Richards: Mmmm, he'd better.

Bill Barr: It depends on the size of the pocket-book.

Mary Acher: I think every girl should receive one. Barring) none.

Anne Wyster: Not unless the girl is a hostess or the boy a host, or a Greek letter dancer.

Frances Hyer: I think sending a corsage is a wonderful idea if the boy can afford it; if he can't he shouldn't send one, any girl will understand.
