THE ORDER OF SERVICE

ORGAN PRELUDE — Come Sweet Rest _____ Back
Manly C. Duckworth, '32

THE INVOCATION — Dean Arthur D. Enyart

Infinite Father, in this solemn hour of remembrance, we come to thee with rejoicing, with thanksgiving, and with praise, asking thy guidance and thy blessing.

We thank thee for all those noble men and women — students, faculty, trustees and friends — who have gone out from this College and who have built their lives into our lives. Draw us together, we pray thee, into the complete fellowship of the Rollins family. Bring us into communion of spirit with all those of whom we are thinking today, and may we by taking thought of them, and here with each other, find ourselves mutually strengthened.

We rejoice for those whom we are remembering today, who lived so faithfully, walked so loyally, and loved so deeply. May we have courage to follow in their train.

O God, let us not turn coward before our great opportunity. May we not lose faith in our fellow men in consummating the peace for which so many of our fellows have given their lives. Help us to live so honestly and faithfully that no attitude of failure can dishearten or take away the joy of faithful living.

Fill our hearts with gratitude, open our eyes to the needs of the world, — to what we can bring to it; so may thy kingdom come in the hearts of each one of us, and thy world find peace and fruitfulness again. Amen.

HYMN No. 356 — Love divine, all love excelling (verses 1 and 2)

IN MEMORIAM — President Hamilton Holt

A MEMORIAL LITANY — Margery Chindahl Greene, '40

Leader: Infinite Father, in whose boundless life live all who have vanished from our sight, grant us thy holy presence during this hour of remembrance. We would not mourn their passing nor bewail our loss; rather we would rejoice in their abounding life.

Response: They have but preceded us; their liberated spirits have entered upon a glorious consummation.

Leader: We pray that all that is good and noble in them may be enriched and developed, and that all their weaknesses and imperfections may be burned away in the flame of thine ineffable presence. Keep them in thy divine communion and make us worthy of an unbroken reunion with them.

Response: Help us to stand for the ideals and purpose for which they stood.

Leader: We are grateful that some walked with clear and open mind among their fellowmen, stooping not to prejudice nor to passion. Some sought with infinite patience and searching to understand the mysteries of our world; others gave love and joy through pain to guide the coming generation into a life of courage and strength.

Response: May their character remain as a standard and an inspiration to us.

Leader: The temporal loss of those who have passed away is great, but grant that through our deprivation and pain we may gain new understanding of the sorrows of others, thus having new power to comfort and strengthen those who suffer.

Response: May their memory enrich our lives by deepening our capacity for tolerance.

Leader: Help us to go forth strengthened by this hour in thy house, prepared for a new and a more meaningful life, secure in the knowledge that thy love for us is infinite and everlasting.

Response: Bring us, O Lord, to a perpetual communion with them who are ever near to thee. Amen.
