Cast of Thirty Announced For Laboratory Players

Glendinning, Cothren, and Langley Head "Morn To Midnight" Casting

Casting for the first production of the Rollins Laboratory Players has been completed and rehearsals started Friday. With a cast of thirty, George Kaiser's From Morn to Midnight is the most ambitious undertaking of the newly renamed group which has heretofore been known as the Freshman Players. The play will be presented December 5 and 6, in the Fred Stone Laboratory Theatre under the direction of Jack Buckwalter.

The complete cast for From Morn to Midnight is as follows: Cashier, John Glendinning; Stout Gentleman, Ed Langley; Lady, Alice Cooper; Messenger Boy, Gordon Evans; Manager, Clifford Cothren; Muffled Gentleman, Don Cummings; Serving Maid, Marie Rogers; Son, Dean McClusky; Wife, Rachel Towne; Mother, Elizabeth Ayer; First Daughter, Maud Rosebaum; Second Daughter, Sudie Bond; First Gentleman, Bob Killeen; Second Gentleman, Gordon Laughhead, Jr.; Third Gentleman, Ernie Walker; Salvation Lass, Jean Scruggs; Waiter, Don Cummings; First Mask, Betty Mackenzie-Reid; Second Mask, Allander Jones; Third Mask, Pat Warner; Fourth Mask, Autrey Thompson; First Gentleman, Ben Briggs; Second Gentleman, Bob Killeen; Third Gentleman, Gordon Laughhead, Jr.; Salvation Army

McFall Heads Annual Snipe Hunt and Marshmallow Toast; Starts at Telescope

The Rollins Sandspur, organ of respectable journalism in Orange County and Central Florida, will sponsor its annual Snipe-Hunt and Marshmallow Toast on Saturday, November 8. All interested parties are cordially invited to meet on Astronomy Point at a point 3 degrees south and 4 degrees west of the college telescope at 8:15 p. m., on Saturday evening.

Robert Cavendish McFall, editor of the 1940 R Book, president of Florida Beta Chapter of Phi Delta Theta, chief of operations of the Fox Division of the Order of the Cat and the Fox, president of the Ex-Jean Club, editor of the Tomokan, and Lord High Chief of the Aftermath, will preside. Years of experience as huntmaster of the Westchester Hunt Club, Snipe Division, have made Mr. McFall Rollins' leading authority on snipe-hunting. This invaluable fund of knowledge and experience will be put at the disposal of all interested members of the Rollins family this Saturday night, and it is to be hoped that no one who is interested in this vital subject of snipe-hunting will neglect the unusual opportunity being presented

IMPORTANT NOTICE

Tryouts for the second production of the Rollins Student Players will be held Thursday evening, November 13, at 7:30, in the Laboratory Theatre. Copies of the play A Bill of Divorcement by Clemence Dane are now on reserve in the library. Howard Bailey will direct the play which will be given December 11 and 12, in the Annie Russell Theatre.

Hallowe'en Party Held For Debaters

A Hallowe'en party complete with witches and ghostly trimmings featured the first meeting of the year of prospective members of Rollins debate teams. The gathering was held last Friday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Harry Raymond Pierce for the general purpose of welcoming new orators into the group and discussing the national debate question for the year. The question is, resolved, that the Federal Government should regulate by law all labor unions in the United States.

Dr. Pierce acted as chairman and called upon Dr. Royal France who gave the principal speech of the evening. Dr. Alfred Hasbrook,

Unit Cost Tuition Fee Reduced 15% For Next Year

Trustees Announce Cut From $13.50 to $11.50, Coinciding With Student Body Increase

In line with the announced policy of Rollins, and in the face of mounting taxes and higher costs of living resulting from the nation's preparedness program, the Trustees of the College are announcing that the all-inclusive Unit Cost tuition fee will be reduced from $13.50 to $11.50 starting with the academic year 1942-43.

The fee for day students whose parents are bonafide residents of Orange County is also to be reduced. It will be $325 instead of $425 which has prevailed for some years.

This year the Rollins student body is limited to a little over 400. "Next year," said President Hamilton Holt, "it is proposed to expand the student body to 450 students. This increase in full paying students, together with economies that all institutions are forced to make at this time, will lower each student's share, it is estimated, from $1350 to $1150. It will thus be seen that this reduction in tuition next year is in no wise an abandonment but rather a fulfillment of the principles underlying the Unit Cost Plan."

Rollins College adopted the Unit Cost Plan in 1933 on the basis of a survey published by the United States Bureau of Education, showing that students actually paid less than one-half the cost of their education. Under this method of financing, the College estimates its total budget for the ensuing year and divides this by the number of students expected. The re-

Aviation Cadet Transferred to Colorado

DeJay Shriner, After Visiting Rollins Last Month, Leaves San Angelo, Texas

Aviation Cadet DeJay Joseph Shriner, '40, former Rollins fencing star, now stationed at Goodfellow Field, United States Army basic flying school in San Angelo, Texas, has been assigned to Lowry Field, Denver, Colorado, for a special course in aviation armament.

Upon completion of the course, Cadet Shriner will receive his second lieutenantcy as an armament officer in Uncle Sam's Air Corps Reserve.

Cadet Shriner, whose residence is in New Rochelle, New York, was Florida state fells champion in 1939 and placed second in the World's Fair championships the same year. He was a member of the student council and news editor of the Sandspur.

Rollins Receives Herbarium, Books, Chemistry Prize

Mrs. Baker, Distinguished Botanist, Leaves Fund For Junior in Chemistry

The late Mrs. Mary Francis Baker, one of the most distinguished botanists of the South, and widow of Dr. Thomas Rakestraw Baker for whom the Thomas A. Baker Museum of Rollins College was named, bequeathed to the Museum a valuable herbarium of Florida plants which she had collected, and her scientific books.

The herbarium is an appropriate and useful addition to the many gifts Dr. Baker secured for the Museum while he was in charge.

The books include a copy of Thesaurus Botanicus by Leopoldo Trattinnick, published in Vienna in 1819; A Tribute to Dr. Baker from Pennsylvania State College in recognition of his faithful service and scholarly attainment, in 1911; North American Cariceae by Kenneth K. Mackenzie; Standard cyclopedia of Horticulture by L. H. Bailey, Mrs. Baker's own publications and a large number of unbound periodicals and pamphlets.

Mrs. Baker's bequest also included a Fund, the income of which

Tarlet Aerial Defense Weak Line Firm Throughout

A powerful and speedy "Baby Tar" eleven was unveiled last Thursday night as the freshmen romped to an easy 46 to 0 victory over the "Baby Spartans" of the University of Tampa. Taking the opening kick-off, the Tarlets, lead by Calvin Peacock, marched to the double-stripe before the game was three minutes gone. The Tampans were completely outclassed in every department of play and played most of the game with their backs to their own goal line.

The Rollins line refused to give at all and as a result Tampa took advantage of the one weakness of the Tar eleven, that of pass defense. All of Tampa's first downs were made through the air. Time after time the Rollins defense broke through to set the Tampa backs for losses but still the Spartans completed passes and gained ground. The coaches gained consolation in the last quarter as the backs began to click defensively.

On the offense the Tar backs could hardly be touched. Led by two very promising halfbacks in Peacock and Donnie Hansen, together with the line-plunging of Smith Lett, the Tars marched at will to score. In the third quarter, Peacock intercepted a Tampa pass on his own forty-five yard line and swivel-hipped his way through the entire Tampa eleven to score standing up. Then about midway in the final period, Hansen took a

Historic Sadie Hawkins Handicap Saturday; Campus Men Depart for Parts Unknown

As a revitalizing contrast to the mundane existence of the coed of the species, the Rollins College faculty are for the first time promoting another propitious contest of acceleration in-pursuit-of-HAPPINESS. This Saturday, November 8, commemorates the magnanimous founding of the sisterhood which is alleged to further the noble aims of womankind. In brief, Saturday on your Baker-MacCorkle calendar is the red-letter occasion of Sadie Hawkins Day.

At exactly 6:30 S.K.S.T. (Skunk Hollow Standard Time), all respective resident heads have been requested to unlatch the doors and allow all female students to dash into the dawn after their man. Mrs. Enright has been cautioned to prevent her girls from obtaining any unfair advantages through jumping the gun.

When Mrs. Haggerty blows the preliminary bugle, the men will take a five minute handicap, leaving for destinations unknown — on horseback, on bikes, in cars, and a pede.

There is a rumor abroad that the Sigma Nus and the Delta Chis are requisitioning the authorities for padlocks and plan to remain locked in their houses during the sun-up to sun-down period. However, notice is herewith served that no man may remain on campus with impunity . . . excepting Alden Manchester, of course.

The rules of the contest are as follows and must be upheld in order to warrant eligibility.

1. The contestants must be old enough to know better. This eliminates Jane Welch, Estelle Bakal, Pat Randall, Barbara Holmes, Priscilla Thompson, and Gladys Abbott.

2. Handicaps will be determined according to individual pulchritude. Before 1 a. m. Friday Ella Parshall, Jenelle Wilhite, and Martha Brooks must report to Peter Winant at Rollins Hall and have their handicaps adjusted.

3. Girls will not be allowed to use any artificial methods of compulsion such as cars, wealth, cosmetics, or the speck-in-the-eye approach.

Get yourselves in shape now, femmes, to vie for honors in this great American tradition. Immediately following the ceremonies Pat Pritchard and Eugenia Van de Water are having an all-college box lunch at the Skunk Hollow Center.

WORK AT 40c AN HOUR

The Art Department needs portrait models during B and D periods and on Thursday evenings. Poses are held 25 minutes, with 5 minute rests between. Models receive 40c an hour, and are usually engaged for 3 or 4 days, more or less. If interested in this work, leave your name at the studio office, or telephone 315.

From Morn to Midnight was done in New York by the Theatre Guild in 1922 and proved one of their greatest successes that season. Elmer Rice got the idea for The Adding Machine, which was done so successfully by the Freshmen Players two years ago, from this expressionistic play of George Kaiser. It will be especially interesting to compare From Morn to Midnight with the already produced Adding Machine as to form, plot, and construction.

Ashley Dukes, the translator of the play, says this of Kaiser's drama, "To the most unfriendly gaze George Kaiser will appear to be a link between the three-dimensional stage and the screen, and a portent therefore not to be despised. But others who look deeper will read in the movement of his nameless hurrying throng of characters the poet's reflection of a universal gesture, and in their faces his image of a common unrest."

Vinegar, Doughnuts, Rhumbas Feature Kappa Alpha Halloween Dance Saturday

A wonderful time was had by all, last Saturday night as the KA's had their annual pledge dance. The pledges teed-off with cider and doughnuts, and finished up with the rhumba jumps. Nobody knew whether they were supposed to get drunk on the cider or not. "Sum-pin like vinegar" was the general comment. Of course, everyone was there. Most of us strained our necks looking at the moon and bobbing for apples in the fish pond, and Donnie Hansen didn't get his from bobbing for apples. I was very busy roaming around so it was rather difficult to tell who was in the dark. It really didn't matter, anyhow. Did notice that Blackwood and Harris were giving the girls an entrance examination, most of 'em passed.

Mrs. Keefe and Sayre were there along side of Dad Waite and the "Human Dynamo." Earl Cole's date called for him which was very chivalrous of her. He must be pretty smooth, I know he is with music for he graciously supplied the rippling rhythms.

All the girls looked very beautiful, and the boys were very handsome. Only think—I missed Mickey Allen. We won't let that happen again and I insist. Oh, well, you know the rest: If you don't ask each man separately—wouldn't think of putting it here.

The dance was a good one and we won't paddle the pledges much just because it was a good one. Extremely well decorated — and Betty Lamb approved. But she wanted more vodka, don't know where she got it in the first place.

Next Tuesday is Armistice Day

By Jack Liberman

The most widely used word today in the United States is the word "defense" and never has a word been more misused than has this one. Under the guise of this word, the American people are being led into a war by Mr. Roosevelt and his stooges.

Were this our war, Mr. Roosevelt would not be using the subterfuge that he is. Were it more advantageous for us to enter this war, we would have declared war officially long ago. It would not have been necessary for Mr. Roosevelt to have circumvented Congress' constitutional rights by his various decrees, which have placed the United States on a war footing and led us into a shooting war on the high seas. But this is not our war any more than the last one, despite what the propagandists say.

Granted that Adolf Hitler and his way of life are contrary to our ideals; granted that he may, if victorious, be a threat to our present conception of democracy, the question remains as to whether, totalitarianism would be more likely to occur here if we remain out of the war or if we enter it, even if we go no further than we have, which I believe is an impossibility.

I have opposed every step this country has made in its effort for all-out aid to Britain, not because I am in favor of Nazism, but because I believe that we are heading towards the very thing we claim we are fighting.

It is true that we still have our liberties as granted by the Constitution and that even at the end of this war, no matter when that may be, we shall still have most of those personal freedoms, but I am looking forward to ten and twenty years after that.

Before our so-called defense program came into being our economic condition was nothing to boast about and with the tremendous spending for armaments that is now taking place, we face economic ruin, which is the first and most important step towards political ruin.

No matter if England and the United States are victorious in a military sense, we, as well as Germany and the rest of Europe, shall be the economic losers.

We are expected to pay the largest taxes this country has ever had; all our industries are being conducted but for one purpose, now, that of turning out implements of war. It is almost impossible now to buy many commodities that were in surplus before all out aid was started because of priorities, which makes the manufacture of these desired things impossible. After this war is ended, the armaments made now will be valueless, industry will not be able to manufacture the necessities of peacetime, millions of "defense" workers will lose their jobs, prices will be even higher than they are now, because of scarcity of goods, no one will be able to buy what goods there are to sell because of the lack of an income, and this country will see after five years of peace, the worst depression the world has ever had, surpassing even the one that has now plagued this country for twelve years.

No, I say, the risk of an economically ruined United States is not cause enough to go to war. We must look forward to the peace after war, even if it be a Hitler peace, before we plunge ourselves further along the road taken by Mr. Roosevelt.

The price to be carried by the people of America is not worth it.

We should and must remain out of this war if there is to be any democracy left in the world after this, the second World War.

There are many other reasons why the United States should not go to war, which I hope to explain in the near future.

The people of America do not want war and the sooner Mr. Roosevelt realizes that, the better off we and the rest of the world will be.

The Scene Changes: Jobs Go Begging

From Associated Collegiate Press

American colleges, technical schools and universities are unable to meet a third of the demands being made on them for trained workers, reports E. E. Crabb, president of Investors Syndicate. "Although American institutions of higher learning are meeting two-thirds of the demands on them for trained workers," explained Mr. Crabb, "they are not satisfying requests from some industries, and in some regions, by any such proportions."

Defense and allied industries are making the greatest increase in number of demands, according to the company's annual national survey of college graduates' job prospects. Comments made by 501 institutions answering the questionnaire stress willingness of prospective employers to train liberal arts and teachers' college graduates in mechanical arts and sciences, and retrain engineering graduates for new fields in which workers are scarce. Beginning salaries offered are the highest in years. Draft boards policies of calling technical graduates and students have lessened available supplies of sought for workers on campuses.

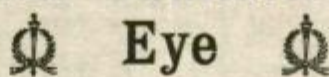

"One western Pennsylvania institution, asked about the percentage of technically trained graduates it was able to supply, answered that 'as early as last February corporations recruiting on our campus demanded 500 young engineering graduates, though our June graduating class could not exceed 235 graduates,'" said Mr. Crabb. A Connecticut liberal arts college replied, 'employment demand is the largest in our 60 year history.' On an Iowa campus twice as many engineers were sought this year as in 1938. From a Texas university came the declaration, 'ten times as many firms recruited here this year as ever before.' Typical of California comment was the statement, 'our difficulty is to find enough candidates available to recommend when job openings are called to our attention.'

"While these specific instances do not measure total actual scarcities in individual fields, they do indicate trends. Inferentially more details emerge from replies to another question: 'How much, and in what fields, has demand for your technically trained graduates increased, or decreased, compared with a year ago?'

"Engineering, chemistry, teaching, aeronautics, industrial arts, business administration, general physical sciences, secretarial, and a combination of mathematics and science, in order named, most frequently are mentioned in increased demands for graduates. Ranking next are commerce and home economics, tenth; and accounting and sales, which are eleventh place.

"Many of our men graduates from the liberal arts college," said W. G. Leutner, president, Western Reserve university, after commenting that college men are placing increasing emphasis on adequate training or apprentice programs, "seek employment in industrial centers where they go to work in a production department and take their chances on working their way up to a worthwhile administrative position, contradictory to the popular idea that college men are afraid to get their hands dirty."

The Jaundiced

By Bill Affleck

Meticulously arranging ourself in an attitude of quiet sophistication, so that we may be in the best possible position to report upon the goings and comings of our splendid little group known as the Rollins Family, we would call your collective attentions to the following stuff. Whether or not it has been noticed, diplomatic relations between a whole mess of people have been abruptly terminated this past week. At least one person of our acquaintance has found herself being used as a crying post by a couple of inhabitants of dear old Cloverbloom. After our experience of the other morning in Mackie's, we will try to remember to carry a gross of blotters carefully concealed beneath each shoulder as preparation against any eventuality, but we will hope, that in the future, the flood will be slightly lessened, if not altogether abated. Anyway, despite the gross inadequacies of the human race, we have managed to come to the violent conclusion that in this day and age, a girl's best buy for a nickle is a telephone call to the right man. If you have doubts on this score, you should be in any Rollins fraternity house some night about six, when those bells start to ring and the girls want to find out "what the assignment was in Spanish for Tuesday," etc. In Chicago they used to call it a racket, but not at Rollins! The power of suggestion is sometimes greatly underestimated.

This, when everything has been said and done, was a rough week all around. What with it now being four days beyond the first of the month, and those bills still remain in that top drawer, we stop to think about things like, "Was it all worth it?"—"Did we get something to show for it?" and a few similar questions which have very little chance of being answered. Some people say it's best not to reflect back on those things, so in case you were feeling bad before we brought the whole thing up, we promise not to mention it again, except to say that no matter how you try around here, they always seem to have one of those little tickets for you which invariably say more than you thought they would at the end of a moderate period of spending. Will somebody please see what they can do about situations like that? So far, our own efforts have been frightfully inadequate.

This new pact among some of the boys has a kind of appeal to us at this point. It seems that they solemnly declared to each other, that with the exception of one day during the week, namely today, they will positively not indulge in liquids stronger than stale limeades for the duration of the week. The odds are awfully heavy that this thing won't go through as planned due to extenuating circumstances such as the aftermath of the X Club-Phi Delt football game, the third weekly meeting of the Studio Club and similar earth-shaking events. The whole business was started by John "I-was-a-student" Myers who has

The Inquiring Reporter

By Pris Parker

What do you think about discontinuing the Fraternity and Sorority columns in the Sandspur?

JACK SHARP—I don't think they should be discontinued because I think everyone enjoys reading them.

JANET JONES—Well, believe me boy, for all the trouble it took to write them and the trouble it took to read them, I don't think they were worth it.

BOB MYERS—Hell no, I don't like discontinuing them. What a minor do.

BARBARA BROWN—I think there is a lot to be said on either side. It depends on what they have to fill up the space.

FRANK CLEMENTS—It's not a very good idea. There wouldn't be any dirt.

KAY WOODWARD—I think they should keep them in—we need some gossip.

PHILIPPA HERMAN—I think it is a terrible idea, because the columns give everybody an idea of what everybody else is doing on campus.

BOB BLACKWOOD—I think it is a good idea to discontinue them. There is never anything said in them.

LILLIAN RYAN—I believe sorority columns should be kept as a special feature, to act as a tie between groups. If the columns were shortened, writing only accounts of events of the groups, in the style of society articles, each person on campus would have a chance to know of the group social events each week.

PRES WETHERELL—I am against it with one reservation, and that is that the columns should be more cleverly written so that they would interest everyone.

OVER THERE

The Whole Story

There are two sides to any argument on war, but usually only one side is heard from. The situation isn't so bad as it was in 1914, but still America is exposed to just one side—the British side. The reports from England are more plentiful and make nicer reading for the public. The average newspaper always plays up the brighter side of life. So if you want to know the truth (Lots of people don't) you'll have to read several papers and at least one of the weekly newsmagazines. The New York Sunday Times has a good review of the weekly war events. PM gives a picture of the war—from the British viewpoint. Newsweek and Time are two of the best weekly magazines. The local papers merely report the Associated Press dispatches, usually the British side. To understand the foreign situation (as if anyone could) a person must have some knowledge of European history. Behind every move in Europe, there's a motive. The catch is to find the motive!

Here and There

The British Government will soon recognize a Free Austria. This should help up more trouble in Austria. Winter may have slowed down the Germans in the North, but it is still catching it in the U.S. The Reds have lost very important industrial centers such as Kharkov, Rostov and Krivoy Rog. Those things hurt... Kobe (Czechoslovakia) has been closed to foreign shipping. The reason: The harbor has been secretly mined. This is a violation of international law.

Red Cross Drive Starts Nov. 11th Cooperation Urged

War Emergency Stresses Need For Assistance

Starting on November 11, Armistice Day, the American Red Cross is having a drive for members. The drive will continue until November 30.

The Red Cross is one of the worthiest organizations in the United States. Its work transcends politics, religion, color, and social position. Its one purpose is to be of help to those who need medical attention. The work this group has done after hurricanes, blizzards, shipwrecks, and many other acts of nature are well known to all of us.

And now more than ever your help is needed. War is the cause of more havoc, disease, injuries, and hunger than any other force. No matter what we think of America's part in the war, there is no denying that this war has really made more suffering than anyone could imagine. It is in order to all the sufferings of these people of all nationalities, that this drive is being made.

We who sit in peace and comfort in the United States must realize the full extent of the suffering that this war and the Sino-Japanese war have caused. Is it too much to ask you to contribute one dollar to this the worthiest cause, the mending of lives?

There will be representatives from each fraternity and sorority as well as for the Independent students, and faculty members.

The Mail Bag

To the Editor:

With touch football already reaping a sizeable injury toll among the men students and with at least five more extremely competitive intramural sports to be run off this year, it would not seem amiss at this time to call attention once more to the accident insurance policy offered through the college to all students.

This policy, which was inaugurated last year, costs male students only ten dollars for $500 worth of accident insurance during the entire school year and covers not only injuries received in sports competitions, but all other accidents as well.

Last year Frank Bowes, who suffered a broken leg in touch-football, found the policy a very handy thing to have . . . as has Hank Beam this year!

The cost to coeds is only five dollars per year for the same coverage. The lower rate to the supposedly weaker sex does not postulate the supposition that they are more hardy than the males, but merely undergo less active risks!

At any rate, while I am not at all familiar with insurance rates, these policies seem extremely reasonable, covering as they do X-ray costs, etc. I might add that I am NOT an insurance agent, but am writing this on the chance that some students are not acquainted with the offer, or have overlooked it in the excitement of the opening weeks of the school year.

Yours sincerely,

P. R. KELLY

J'ACCUSE

By Jack Liberman and one of the pixies

I accuse Franklin Delano Roosevelt of misusing the trust placed in him by the people of the United States by leading us into war and endangering the lives of American citizens.

That is what we get for changing that famous old American saying, "In God We Trust" to read, "In Roosevelt We Trust." On the other hand take the "Bundles For Britain" act passed by Congress. You know, Bundles of Cash. Why don't we send the cash over to England instead of sending ships and men. We haven't any use for the cash over here, but we could use the men and ships. One can't criticize F.D.R. too much, because there shouldn't be any danger incurred in merely sending our ships into our little ocean. It's all Hitler's fault for not keeping his submarines cooped up in the Danube or Rhine Rivers. Just why in Hell should Hitler care if we want to run a few boats of sightseers over to England to watch the War, and stock up on Scotch whiskey. If Hitler would only be reasonable and remove his ships from all of the oceans, people would have no reason to criticize our Prexy.

The people should rise up in wrath when they discover that Hitler is not only bombing military objectives, but has the gall to drop bombs on the civilian plants owned by Haig and Haig and other fine men who distill the nectar of the Gods. If Roosevelt would only use this as his battle cry, I have no doubt that every able-bodied man and woman, not to mention 75% of the disabled would catch the next boat to England and stop this damn waste.

If there is anything made by God better than Scotch whiskey, He must have kept it to himself, and I maintain it is a damn shame that the containers holding this divine liquid should be destroyed by bombs, when the contents could be enjoyed by various people, in particular, MYSELF, and the containers broken over Roosevelt's head. Let's take a vote, people.

On the other hand, why not move all the distilleries in Great Britain over here, and let Hitler have all of the Island that is left, if he wants it. I don't.

With a stock of whiskey like that, we could in six weeks time prepare 5,000,000 men, in schools such as the Harper's School for Inveterate Souses who could and damn sure would protect our fair country, at least, the section containing the distilleries. Incidentally, the spirit and moral courage of our army would be increased immeasurably. Who wouldn't fight for a cause as great as that. Think how much faster our machines would run if a small portion of Scotch were mixed with our gaso-

A. J. Hanna Weds Miss Kathryn Abbey

Professor Alfred Jackson Hanna and Miss Kathryn T. Abbey, head of the Department of History, Geography and Political Science in the Florida State College for Women were married on July 5.

The ceremony took place at St. John's Episcopal Church in Tallahassee in the presence of a group of intimate friends of the couple. The bride was given in marriage by her brother Stuart Abbey and George Holt acted as best man for Mr. Hanna. Mr. and Mrs. Hanna left immediately by motor for Woodstock, Conn., where they have spent the summer.

Mrs. Hanna received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Northwestern University and has been an outstanding member of the faculty of Florida State College for the past fifteen years. She directed the Federal archives survey in Florida and is the only woman chairman of a national committee of Phi Beta Kappa. She is line. Ah, how much better 86.8 proof sounds than 72 octane.

I think the proper plan of defense would be to locate all of the distilleries along the borders of the U.S. This would bring about, speedily, a general concentration of population along the coast forming an iron ring which would never be broken. Besides, it would put an end to the terrible strikes we are now plagued with. Besides the nation, to the last guzzler would protest vigorously any lax moment within the whiskey plants. The first striker would probably be put on a beer diet, God rest his soul, and the strike would be broken even before it had started. Along with the religious angle, think of the untold benefit to the poor people who had been cursed with having to read "My Day." The people would all be so blind from imbibing the everflowing golden grain that they would be unable to read.

I will admit that I started in to pan our Great Leader, but a sudden thought struck me that I could render a greater service to our country by suggesting a better plan than the one in operation at the present. After all, criticism is so much better when constructive than it is when it attempts to tear down the ideals of others, without offering a way out for the stooges—pardon me, I mean Congressmen.

Anyone who doesn't agree with this little message is a Damn Democrat.

Along The Sidelines

"Hit him, hit him, hit him." That was the cry of the Baby Tars last Thursday night as they smashed the Tampa freshmen up and down the field for 46 points to the Spartanettes' 0. Clearly highlighted was the one weakness of the Rollins team. Namely, pass defense. Time after time the Tampans went over the line for sizeable gains, but were unable to make any progress through it. Looks like a bang up team for next year. This Griffen guy may be another Tiny Phillips, though not as big. The Rollins line ran like the four horsemen in the Tampa backfield. Calvin Peacock and Donnie Hansen squirmed and wiggled all over the field. Joe Justice seems to be doing as good a job coaching as he did playing. Last year's Baby Tars almost copped the state championship. It's in the bag this year, that is if Miami or Florida haven't other plans. And we imagine they have. But you never can tell. For the present we have nothing but compliments for the teamwork and spirit of the frosh. As for the art of tackling, the frosh might be able to give a few pointers to the varsity. To all except Riley Weinberg. For the lightest college football player in the country that mite sure packs a wallop.

Sunday afternoon Bob Matthews and Ralph Hagood loaded their speedboats and caravaned to Deland where they picked up various prizes and things. Remember last summer Hagood almost won the National Outboard Motor Championships.

Kelly and the Lambda Chis dashed ice water on the Independents' hope of winning the Gary Cup, but there's still a long trail a-winding. The K.A.'s have been practicing in the dead of night and the bright of morn. If determination counts for anything they may have a much stronger team from now on than they've had for four years. Right now the X Club and the Lambda Chis look like the birds with the worm. The Phi Dels haven't the teamwork and zip that characterized them last year. The most improved team probably is the Independent.

When one Delta Chi meets another he says, "How're ya feeling? I'm sore." The other D.C. answers, "So'm I. But I bet those Sigma Nus have some charley-horses. Don't forget practice." Yes, sir. At last our intelligent fraternity has come out from behind its forest of academic honors and meets the others on the brutal sports field. Good luck, fellas. You've got the gumption.

Al Roosevelt announces that riflery will start soon. Here's a chance to get in on the ground floor. Learn how to handle a gun and you may get to be a corporal within a reasonable time after you're drafted. Or should we mention those things. Anyhow shooting's a lot of fun... As long as you're not the target.

We tried to get a line on the tennis team but couldn't find anyone who would talk. There are lots of rumors floating around, but everyone is afraid complications might set in if they confirmed them. Who are we to stick our neck out?

COEDS in SPORTS

Girl's Riflery

Riflery, this year, will be placed in the spotlight of the girls' sport activities. All efforts have been made to constitute good marksmanship as well as enthusiasm and interest. Girls, come down to the rifle range and really learn to shoot under the capable guidance of the range officers, Alfred Roosevelt, Harrison Barnes and Jules Steffens. These boys are putting all they have into making a real success of riflery. Later in the year matches are to be scheduled between the sororities and Independent groups and you girls should all start training as soon as possible. For the first time in the history of Girl's Riflery at Rollins College, a women's cup will be awarded to the winning team, by Alfred Roosevelt and Dick Wesson. Also a medal will be presented to the girl with the best marksmanship. All precautions are being assured and carried out for the safety of all those on the range. Bulletins have been placed in each house, specifying the rules of safety on the Rifle Range.

Miss Weber will make arrangement and changes in schedule for those wishing to substitute riflery for another sport. Class hours have been drawn up to the convenience of the students and are as follows:

Monday and Thursday—4 to 5.
Tuesday and Friday—10:45 to 11:45 or 11:45 to 12:45

Another section will be arranged if needed.

News!! And of great importance! The Women's Physical Education office in Cloverleaf has a telephone all its own. The number is 94.

How many of you like to play tennis? Did you know there is a tournament being arranged? It is not intramural but just a tournament for everyone to come out and try her skill. No super or superior back hand or smashing serve is required for entrance; the only qualification is an interest in tennis. Enter for it'll be fun. Just see Bobby Betz or Miss Weber and she will put your name on the list and let you know whom you are to play.

While on the subject of "Why don't you try this?" let me mention the Tarpon Swimming Club. Twelve people have signed up for this group swimming club already. If you take to water like a duck, come on in. Sign your name on the list by the Physical Ed. office in Cloverleaf. There will be tryouts for this club soon, so hurry and sign up if you are interested in fancy swimming.

The intramural basketball games are starting soon and everyone has been practicing frantically.

Tennis Round Robin Comes Next Sunday

Hello all you tennis enthusiasts! Students and faculty are both cordially invited to participate in the first of the All-College Mixed Doubles Round Robin Events which is to be held on Sunday afternoon November 16. The more people the merrier, and you don't have to be what is called a good tennis player. Everyone is welcome! Good or Bad! but no indifferent entrants. The main stipulation is that you are interested and enjoy playing tennis. You come, and we'll guarantee a good time.

Have your entry in by Saturday, November 15. Entry sheets will be posted at both Physical Education offices, Lyman, Cloverleaf, Carnegie, Pinehurst, and Beanery; so add your name to the list right away. All names will be drawn out of a hat to make the draw and determine your place in it; in this way teams will be arranged and handicapped according to skill. If you have a particular partner with whom you'd like to play, that is wonderful, but be sure and mention this when you sign up.

An entry fee of one thin nickel will be charged, and the winning team will receive the total sum in charge account form at Mackie's. Think of all those extra cokes you can have.

Bring your own balls! We'll look forward to seeing you all at 2:00 p.m., Sunday afternoon, November 16, on the college tennis courts.

If there are any questions; ask

ly. Sororities entering teams are the Kappas, Pi Phis, Thetas, Gamma Phis, Chi Omegas, Alphi Phis, and the Independents.

There was a meeting for transfers and day students in Lakeside last Tuesday to explain the women's sports for this year.

Be sure to take your swimming tests. Mid-terms are coming up soon and if you have not taken your test you will get an incomplete in Physical Ed.

Tars Favored to Take Davis-Elkins Team Friday Night

New Offense Prepared For Heavy Hurricane Team

Next Friday night will find the Rollins Tars opposing another new team: Davis-Elkins of Elkins, West Virginia. These two teams will be meeting each other this year for the first time in the history of the schools.

The Hurricanes of West Virginia have a big, scrappy team and the game should prove a very interesting one. We might add that the injury jinx has been on their trail since the season began and even now has several veterans benched.

On the other hand the Tars with an open date this past week-end have had an opportunity to heal their injuries and should be in good shape for the tilt Friday night.

The coaches have had the boys working on some new formations this week which will probably be tried in this game.

Boys who are now on the injured list but are recovering nicely are: Ollie Barker, who received an eye injury in the Mercer game; Pershing Scott, who has been bothered with a bruised knee for about two weeks; Paul Meredith, who returned from the Miami game with an injured shoulder; Bill Justice, recovering from an ankle injury received this week in practice; and Frank Grundler, who has been bothered with a leg muscle injury. These boys are all coming along nicely and should be in good shape by Friday.

Following the Davis-Elkins game the Tars travel the following Friday to Tampa to encounter the Spartans. The following week-ends the Blue and Gold finish up their schedule against Presbyterian and Howard, respectively.

These last three games ought to be very good games and good tests of the Tars's real strength.

GUN SMOKE

The range has been fixed up over the summer and has at last become the place that it was hoped it would be, when riflery was first started three years ago. We are glad to see that there has been some interest taken in shooting this year. There has been an offer of a cup for womens' intramural riflery in the hope that this will stimulate the interest of the women in the sport. The matches will be held under the same rules as those which govern the men's intramural shoot. The main requirement is that each group enter one team of two individuals. Several of the sororities already have representatives in the riflery classes and Miss Weber has said that she will co-operate with us in changing the sports schedule of any of the women who wish to take riflery instruction as sport. Of course the matches won't take place until the end of the winter term, but it would probably be wise to get in some practice early.

Copies of the rules which govern shooting have been posted on the bulletin boards in every house, and a list of the range officers has been added to that notice. It was earlier hoped that Bob Haganeur would help with this work, but we are sorry to say that he found that he couldn't make it, so the range officers are: Harrison Barnes, Al Roosevelt, and Jules Steffens. If you have any questions about riflery, go to these range officers and they will be glad to tell you all about the matches and the range.

We hope that this year we will be able to take a team to the matches that are held in St. Petersburg, and also to engage in shoots with other colleges. This plan has not gone beyond the idea stage as yet, but we are working on it in the hope of seeing Rollins represented in the intercollegiate championships later on.

Weber Phys. Ed. President

Marjorie K. Weber, Professor of Physical Education at Rollins has been elected the first president of the newly formed State Association of Women College Physical Directors.

Seven Florida colleges have joined the association. They are: Florida State College for Women, Stetson University, Miami University, Southern College, Tampa University, Weber college, and Rollins.

Kennel Club Meets Thursday

The Central Florida Kennel Club is holding a meeting tomorrow night, November 6, at 8 p.m. on the mezzanine of the Angebilt Hotel. The topic of the meeting will involve plans for this year's Dog Show. All Rollins students who are dog owners or fanciers are invited to attend and if they wish to make any entry it is most important they come to this meeting.

Touch Football League Led by Lambda Chi's

X Club Defeats Kappa Alpha Independents Top Sigma Nu's

Delta Chi Enters First Football Team

by Jack Liberman

The 1941 touch football season is well under way now. At the present moment, it looks like a three-cornered race with the defending champions, the Lambda Chi's, the Independents, and the X Club all fighting it out for the trophy.

Last Tuesday, the Independent team showed its strength by easily defeating the Sigma Nus, 19-0. Harvard Cox led the attack with his passing and quarter-backing. In the second period Cox tossed a ten yard pass to Stewart who got away for 35 more yards before being tagged on the Sigma Nu 11 yard line. Cox then sliced off right tackle for the score. The try for the extra point was no good.

In the fourth period on the very first play Cox tossed one to Batts for 37 yards to the one foot line. Although Cox lost four on the next play, his pass to McDonald into the end zone was completed. In the closing minutes of the game a 50 yard pass from Cox to Batts put the ball on the Sigma Nu's five, where another pass put it over. Cox's drop kick was good.

In the second game of the day, the Lambda Chi's defeated the Phi Deltas, 20-9. The victors started right off marching down the field. It appeared however that they would be stopped when McFall intercepted one of Kelly's passes, but the play was called back as the Phi Deltas were offside. Two passes by Kelly put the ball on the one foot line and Cummings took it over.

In the second period, while deep in their own territory, the Phi Deltas had one of their passes intercepted by Wetherell. Kelly then passed to Tolson in the left flat and the score was 12-0. Ryan's drop kick was good.

Towards the end of the third period, the Phi Deltas scored two points when Kelly, hearing the horn, stood still behind the goal line and was tagged. (The ball is not dead until the whistle is blown and not when the horn is sounded.)

In the last quarter, Myers threw Clements a long pass on a sleeper play which worked because Tolson, who was covering Clements, slipped as he went back to try to knock the pass down. Minor place-kicked for the extra point. The Lambda Chis came right back and on a series of passes, scored the final tally of the game. A pass from Kelly to Cummings added the extra point.

On Wednesday, The K.A.'s defeated a fighting but weak Delta Chi team. The latter should be commended for even putting a team on the field, this being the first year they've done it. In fact, they have a tricky offense, but they lack the men to carry it out. Their defense is just not there however.

All of the K.A.'s scores came on power plays. They just lined up and plowed through the weak defenses of the Delta Chi's. The Delta Chi's only score came when Grove dropkicked from the 27 yard line for a field goal and off at an angle at that.

The Independents put up a great battle against the Lambda Chi's, but lost 13-6. For awhile in the last quarter it looked as if the Independents were going to win the game.

The first half was scoreless with the combination of Cox and Stewart outstanding for the non-Greeks. In the third period, a series of passes from Kelly to Tolson put the ball over the goal line. The extra point was not made. Midway in the last quarter, Cox tossed a long one to McDonald which, if it had been completed, would have meant a score. However, it bounced out of the receiver's hands. Then on another series of passes from Kelly to Tolson, the Lambda Chis scored again. The extra point was made on a pass from Kelly to Bowes.

The Independents' only tally came near the last play of the game, when Stewart tossed one to McDonald for sixty yards and the touchdown. Cox's kick was no good.

The final game of the week was a massacre with the Sigma Nu's trouncing the Delta Chis, 39-0. The Sigma Nu's scored on a blocked punt which MacDonnough picked up and carried 35 yards for a score in the first quarter. They scored twice in the second period, once in the third quarter, and twice in the final period.

definite views on such things—now.

Saturday night saw many of the Rollinsites out at ol' Dreadful, rolling around in the atmosphere of Orlando's upper crust, and in and out from among the tables near the ringside of the new dancing space they've roped off out there. Consensus of opinion seems to have been that most people had a good time. But worst taste of the evening, however was exhibited by one freshman who proceeded to toss his date for no particular reason, right square into the pool. Evidently certain of "the family" have not yet cast aside the follies of early childhood. Afterwards finding difficulty in getting home in time to dry out by other than natural processes of evaporation, Jane found small consolation in definitely being able to include herself out of the group then known as The Great Unwashed. Other couples disported themselves with a sort of "I've-done-this-SO-many-times" attitude down at the rail-side of Club Harper, but nevertheless managed somehow to keep rigor mortis from setting in. Only livening event of the evening was the mysterious vanishment of Mac-Corkle's car which finally turned up only after frantic threats and searchings which we're not sure were worth the end of finding the thing. Oh, well, every man to his poison, or something.

On Sunday, a fairly large contingent of people set out for the beach little daunted by a cloudy sky and general threat of rain. Hopes that the weather would improve as the day wore on were blasted as icy winds sighed over the dunes and through the Pelican's living room throughout most of the afternoon. Grimly determined to do something constructive, the group, consisting largely of Sigma Nu's and dates, repaired to that mouldy mortuary laughingly known as Coronado's "Casino" where the cup was quaffed and the rafters rang with song for the rest of the afternoon. Maine-iac Bob Ruse entertained with selections from the menu of a nearby restaurant run by one Nick Popalooas while smooth, suave, sophisticated Put-Put Putney looked at Peggy Welsh, occasionally roused himself to song. Barbara Theel was having a

Over There

When the Germans captured the city of Kiev, they thought they had bagged quite a prize. They sent home official pictures of whole blocks of houses, all of them intact. This was the first city the Russian's had not leveled before they left. The Germans were planning to use Kiev for winter headquarters. Suddenly all hell broke loose. The citadel blew up. So did other important buildings. Chaos reigned from Sept. 24 to the 29th. Those nasty Reds had mined the city. The conquerors were afraid to walk into a building, turn on a light or even breathe. Any thing might set off a dreaded mine. Twenty blocks were destroyed after the Germans had taken over. 10,000 caches of explosives were uncovered. In the Lenin Museum alone the Nazi found three and a half tons of dynamite. Nazi spokesmen cried, "What fiendish tricks!" If the Nazis had done the mining, it would have been called "ingenious ingenuity." But the Reds did it; so—they are fiends. Strange happy time buying everyone drinks, throwing us significant looks and generally bantering the conversation along with "PLEASE-don't-call-me-Byers." Byers' only comment for the day was—"Whee!" After warning Jack Ruth about trying to stand on his head for too long a stretch, the inner circle began to feel the need for a general exodus back home, where "theaks that stick" were eaten, politics and general culture were discussed and sleep started to creep up on everyone by degrees until the only person left awake was Police Chief Buchanan who was last heard mumbling traffic regulations to himself far, far into the night.

Same Olde Road

Three United States destroyers have been damaged by submarines. The destroyers Greer and Kearny were crippled but made port. The Reuben James was not so lucky as her mates. She went down some where off the coast of Iceland. Two thirds of her crew of one hundred and twenty men are still missing. There is no doubt that the Navy had its destroyers aggressively pursuing U-Boats with depth-bombs. The path America is following today is the same road she followed in 1917. Will we keep on this path to war or will we take a side road? Your guess is as good as the next guy's!

however, as it is they that determine when the snipes go into their mating season. The snipe hunt must be held just at the conclusion of the mating season when the snipes are setting forth to find food once again after the long vigil at the altar preparing themselves for the taking of the marital vows. November 8th, 8:15 p. m. E.S.T., has been determined as the proper time and date through Dr. Meyers calculations. He has been confirmed in this by the high priest of the Togo Lhamasery in Gunga-on-the-Dhin, Tibet, who is the original calculator of the snipe hunt, and the world authority.

Mr. Donald Murphy, eminent marshmallow-toasting authority, and local representative of the W. C.T.U., has kindly consented to take charge of the Marshmallow-Toasting activities of the evening. He will set up headquarters on Woo Island, purely for marshmallow-toasting purposes, and will be glad to receive all hunters at any time after midnight, when the hunt will be concluded. Mr. Murphy has long been chairman of the Marshmallow Toasting division of Mamaroneck Chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution. In this capacity, he gathered a fund of knowledge which will render him an invaluable asset to all those who will attend on Saturday evening.

Dean Marian Van Buren, land, Dean of Women of College, has cooperated most graciously with the arrangement committee under the direction of Carl Fowler and has graciously consented to an extension of time limit on Saturday night for young women students. All planning to go on the Snipe hunt will so inform their respective housemothers, and will be automatically granted permission to main out until 1:45 p. m.

A requisition list for the Marshmallow Toast will be posted on bulletin boards or names may be given to Jenelle Wilhite before day noon.
