NOTES

The Jacksonville Historical Society has issued its Annual 1933-1934, a volume of eighty pages, comprising eleven of the many papers read at its meetings during the past few years. These are: H. H. Buckman, The Geological Background of Florida History; Herbert Lamson, Ponce de Leon; Harold Colee, The Huguenots in Florida; J. W. Spratt, The French Occupation of Florida; Nancy Bryan Reese, Menendez, the Man; Carita Doggett Corse, St. John's Town; Frances A. Ewell, The Story of Middleburg; Raymond D. Knight, Fernandina; Leona Trout, Adventuring with Audubon in Florida; Edward Jelks, Dr. Henry Perrine; Edward Jelks, Dr. John Gorrie, the Inventor of the First Artificial Ice Machine. There is also a Foreword with titles and authors of other papers read before the body; and a list of sites of historical interest in and near Jacksonville upon which markers have been placed by the Society.

One of these papers listed had already been published, East Florida-in the American Revolution, by Burton Barrs. This, a brochure of forty-two pages, is a succinct yet inclusive account of that subject from authoritative sources. Included are portraits of General Prevost, Governor Tonym, General Charles Lee, General and Governor Moultrie, General Robert Howe, and Charles Pinckney. There is also a double-page map of the scene of operations, and a bibliography.
