Six Seniors to Graduate At Close of Fall Term

Outstanding Members of Class To Receive Diplomas Upon Termination of Work

Amid fond farewells six members of the Rollins Family are preparing for graduation at the end of this term. The Rollins campus will miss the six staunch supporters of Rollins Democracy, for they have been active members.

Among those leaving is Sarah McFarland Yopp. She is President of Pi Gamma Mu, honorary social science fraternity, and the Florida Student Government Association; Sammie is a member of Delta, the R Club, Student-Faculty Discipline Committee, and the International Relations Club. She has been comptroller of the student funds for the past two years, and was among the eight students chosen to represent Rollins in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Sammie is vice-president of her sorority, Kappa Alpha Theta, and she has been active in intramural athletics.

Erma van Gilder Pugh is a member of the Chapel Ushering Staff and the World Relations Club. Erma is circulation manager for the Sandspur, and vice-president of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

The dramatic department loses a valuable member when Barbara Brown Peddicord graduates. Barbara was a member of the Freshman Players, the Rollins Student Players, Phi Beta, and Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary dramatics fraternity. She is a member of Delta and Rollins Key Society. An excellent student, Barbara made the honor roll spring term of her sophomore year and fall term her junior year. She has been secretary of Pi Beta Phi and representative on the Panhellenic council. Barbara has also served on the welcoming committee.

Phyllis Baker Cashore is a member of the International Relations Club, and has served as president of the French Club. She is also a member of the Rollins Key Society.

Walter C. Beard, Jr., Phi Delta Theta member, is an undergraduate assistant in the science department. He is chairman of the Chapel Staff and the chapel ushering committee. Walter is an alternate on the Student-Faculty discipline committee, and was chosen for "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" this year.

Richard Sewell graduates in absentia. He is now with the Navy V-12 stationed at the University of Miami. Dick was a member of Kappa Alpha, the Chapel Choir and the Rollins Band. He received his choir key in 1942.

Rollins students, faculty, and staff joins to wish these six the best of luck and "Come back to see us soon."

Chapel Fund Drive Reaches Halfway Mark of $750 Goal

The Chapel Fund Drive has been extended for another week, thus giving all students and faculty members who have not yet contributed another chance to add to the total. The goal, set at $750, is still far in the distance with only $360.70 turned in at the present time. However, the goal is higher than in previous years, so the committee on the whole is very well pleased with the progress of the campaign. According to Miss Clara Adolfs the money has come in faster than ever before.

Each of the thirty students aiding the drive was assigned ten people to solicit, and of those only six have not yet turned in their reports. The first to do so was Nick Morrissey, who brought in his collection the second day of the drive. Those who were successful in getting all their collections were: Ainslee Embry, Janice McFarland, Elaine Rachlin, and Betty Vaughan. The following obtained all but one: Nancy Corbett, Dodo Bundy, and Halliejeanne Chalker.

Council Committees Report Progress Made

Hot Food, Student Walk Of Fame, Dock Repairs Among Plans for Next Term

At last the students of Rollins College shall enjoy hot toast, hot coffee—yes, and even hot meals!

After hearing numerous complaints about the situation in the Beanery, the student council designated a committee of five to approach Dr. Brown with the purpose of making possible improvements. It was decided to install steam tables for the purpose of keeping the food hot. As a result, beginning next term, our breakfast toast will no longer be cold.

The need has long been felt for another concrete walk across the horseshoe. At a recent student council meeting it was suggested that a student walk of fame could be laid along the "Sahara Desert". (The path of the flag pole). The idea behind this is for each student to contribute one dollar for the construction of this walk. As a reward he will be allowed to sign his name in blocks set aside for this purpose. At first assembly after vacation this plan will be put before the student body for their approval.

It has been discovered that the docks on the main waterfront are in ill repair. George Cartwright, supervisor of grounds, is to repair them as soon as necessary material can be secured.

Convocation

There will be a special convocation on Wednesday morning, December 15, at 9:40 in Knowles Memorial Chapel. The faculty and trustees of Rollins College have made this change in the procedure, and seniors who complete their work for graduation in December or in March will be given their degrees at the end of the term which they finish their work.

There are five candidates for degrees as of December 16, 1943.

Bachelor of Arts:
Phyllis Cashore
Erma Van Gilder Pugh
Sarah Ann Yopp
Bachelor of Science:
Walter Beard, Jr.
Richard Sewell (in Absentia)

Barbara Petticord will receive her AB degree as of June 3, 1943.

There will be no formal address. The short service will be formal, however, and the seniors and faculty will be in academic costume.

At this time, honor lists for 1942-43, standing of the fraternity, sorority, and independent groups for 1942-43 will be announced.

Christmas Carols to Be Sung at Vespers

Turning away from the mad rush toward Christmas vacation, one finds a moment pregnant with the true spirit of Christmas. On Tuesday evening, December 13, at 5:15, the Chapel will resound with the lovely tones of the Christmas carols as the choir and congregation join in adulation of that Blessed Eventide. Still other selection will be offered by the mixed voices of the choir.

Book contributions will be taken for the boys in prison camps, and, thinking of them, one may fully regret that it cannot be a time replete with "Peace on earth, good will to men"; one can have faith that it will soon be so, and till that time continue to do things that will help.

N. Thurman Added To 'Who's Who' List

Forwarded to the Sandspur this week from the deans' offices was the following letter-copy, addressed to Mr. H. Pettus Randall, editor of Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges, University, Alabama:

Dear Mr. Randall:
Due to an unfortunate oversight the name of Miss Nancy Thurman was omitted from the list of nominations we sent to you the other day. Miss Thurman is one of the outstanding members of the senior class, both scholastically and as regards her many activities.

I trust that it is not too late to add her name to the list as it would be an unfortunate omission.

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) Arthur D. Enyart

Annual Christmas Service Program Reaches Completion

The annual Christmas Service, the climax of Rollins' fall term activities, will be presented Sunday evening at 6:45 and 9:00 o'clock in the Knowles Memorial Chapel.

A description of the service and much of the plans of this year's presentation appeared in last week's Sandspur. The program was incomplete at that time, however, and is herewith given.

After an organ prelude played by Herman L. Siewert, the cradle-bearing choir will sing the processional hymn, "O Come All Ye Faithful", with a soprano obligato. Marjorie Coffin will read the call to worship. A traditional chorale, "O Come, O Come, Immanuel," will be followed by the invocation, read by L. Ray Biggerstaff. The effective chorale from Bach's Cantata No. 140 will be next, presented by the male chorus, string ensemble.

The remainder of the first half of the program will be excerpts from the "Christian Oratorio" of Bach. The aria, "Prepare Thyself, O Zion", will be sung by Lucille David. After "Hear, King of Angels," sung by the treble choir, Barbara Balsara will sing "Oh! My Savior." The chorale "Oh! Dearest Jesus" from the "Christmas Oratorio" will complete this portion of the service.

Rollins Grads Win Mention For Novels

awarded first place to Jessie Stuart for her Taps for Private Tussie. Two of the runners-up were recent Rollins graduates: Maxeda von Hesse, 1935, and Bucklin Moon, 1934.

Maxeda von Hesse's Inherit the Wind, set in the Florida backwoods, is the ever-appearing triangle, a man murdered through jealousy over another man's wife. The book is filled with local color, incidents of the everglades life, unusual and interesting characters. As reviewed by Phillip Van Doren Stern in the Book of the Month Club News, Inherit the Wind may be a bit melodramatic in spots, but it is an entertaining story that never lags for a minute.

In reviewing Bucklin Moon's The Darker Brother, Jonathan Daniels has said: "The story of the American Negro at this hour has been whispered in rumors, written in riots and shouted in protest from platforms. . . but nowhere has it been told so effectively as told in this hard-boiled and heart-touching story by Bucklin Moon. . . This is above all a book which should not be solemnly tagged a sermon in a place where good novels deserve high praise."

Dramatics Department Presents First Offering of Year In Annie Russell Theatre

Like all things, success has a formula. Domestically speaking, Mary Lee Taylor excels in her line, but in the dramatic phase, Professor Donald S. Allen refused to be outdone. At last his recipe for a successful production is revealed.

Take one fine play, The Mollusc, break it open carefully and let the lilting dialogue flow into the theatre. To achieve the latter, one excellent cast must be added. Because of the scarcity of leading men, these individuals will be at a premium. Mr. Allen, however, has obtained priority and the play will boast of:

Lt. Eric Davies, alias Mr. Baxter, doting husband of the Mollusc. Lt. Davies' experience includes several seasons as a member of Summit (New Jersey) Playhouse. His roles there included Alfred Doolittle in Pygmalion, Fiesur in Lilliom, the lead in Libel and parts in such successes as Victoria Regina, and The Return of Peter Grim.

As the recipe, in this case, calls for two men, add one corporal, perfectly one who has had three years at the Goodman Theatre, played with Eve LeGallienne in Camille, Orson Welles in Julius Caesar, Fredrick March in The American Way, and stock with such notable personalities as Helen Hayes, Douglas Montgomery, and Jane Wyatt. Such a man is Corporal Yell, who portrays Tom, brother of the Mollusc.

Then, sprinkle the play with feminine interest. . . Renee Swint, playing the title role of The Mollusc, will do nicely. A newcomer to Rollins, this capable actress' past experience includes numerous plays in high school, and at Ohio Wesleyan where she was a member of the Freshman Players.

Spice the production with Eleanor Plum as the lovely young governess. Miss Plum is well known at Rollins for her performance in Personal Appearance given in the Laboratory Theatre last year, and also as a participant in the Intramural Play Contest in which she won first honorable mention this year for her interpretation of Puck in Midsummer Night's Dream.

Work with until well done, then place in the Annie Russell Theatre surrounded by scenery designed by Mr. Allen and made by the production technique class.

No ration points needed to enjoy this treat!

Unassuming yet mighty, sharp and pointed, well-rounded yet many sided, assiduously tenacious, yet as gritty and energetic as its name implies, victorious in single combat and therefore without a peer, wonderfully attractive and extensive in circulation: all these will be found upon investigation to be among the extraordinary qualities of the Sandspur.

East of The Flagpole

The exodus of so many men this week again from the STAR unit has turned our thoughts to rambling. . . As if they haven't been all the time. . . One wonders to what extent these men will find their new experiences in universities different from their former undergraduate days. . . Especially in study habits. . . And in approach to courses. . . Take philosophy for example. . . When most students begin to study such a course they are swamped with readings in Plato, Aristotle, Etc. On the profound thoughts of life. . . Before they have themselves even given such matters any personal thought. . . Wouldn't it be better if instead of these readings the students were not given any text book for some time, but made to think through these problems themselves first. . . We are not raising any kick with the Liberal Arts but so much is just reading what other people said. . . No wonder so much of our thinking and action in the realm of the social sciences in a century behind the physical sciences. . . Cultural anthropologists have long pointed out the cultural lag which has permeated our social way of life. . . It will be a grand experience to be studying and thinking in the actual present for an immediate purpose. Perhaps this sounds and smells of materialism which is supposed to be decried. . . But a job has to be done. . . So much for the time being of such dribble. . . The STAR unit really awakened the audience with its two stellar performances of Starzapoppin. . . And at the same time it raised quite a tidy sum for the Central Florida Blood Bank. . . Our hats off to Pvt. Allan Goldstein, Stan Romaine, Sol Berkowitz, and the numerous who served to prove conclusively that good entertainment and a whole of laughs does not require orchids and ermine midst an atmosphere of long A's or full dress. . . People actually laughed so much that a call had to be sent out to AAFTAC for an amulance. . . The athletic teams have again kept up their fine showing. . . Merry Christmas to the students who will be taking off on vacations before we see them again. . . Yes, a war is on.

A few of our boys were whooping it up at the Phi Phi's Saturday soiree. . . The chaperones were treated to some of the autoshedastic antics of Stan Romaine and many a stifled guffaw escaped those austere personages. . . That very popular feminine soprano (guess who?) demonstrated once more her ability as an enchantress. . . Before the night was complete, she had the scalps of many a STAR man dangling from her war belt. . . Manuella Martinez once more was the debonair young man. . . Really was a pity though, that the large mistletoe that was so ostensibly displayed was wasted (or was it) . . . Hardly a dashing young blade utilized it to advantage midst such an array of feminine pulchritude. . . STAR unit men hemstitched their wild oats later at the expensive local tavern. . . Sgt. Hambelek's departure for less greener pastures has caused a pall of gloom to settle over a veritable cohort of his ardent admirers of the demure sex. . . Surreptitious reports also tell about the tearful separation between Cpl. McNerny and somebody or other. . . Was it a. . . Shell. . . Really too bad that Cpl. Kishner had to be transferred before the second showing of Starzapoppin. . . Where could one find such a natural dummy.

What They Think—

Gail De Forest

What do you want for Christmas?

JOAN HARRIS—A "White Christmas", which I can't have, and some gas to go to Tampa.

JIM ROBINSON—I'd like to go to Cuba on a tramp steamer.

DOLLY CHITTY—A brunette about 6' 4", who is at Lee Field.

M. MAS VEAGH—A way to get out of first period classes.

NIETA AMARAL—A husband!

SALLY HAZELET—You! Wrapped up in a great big package.

BETTY ASHER—A great, big, handsome Marine.

MARY KRAMER—Oh, lots of things—maybe a car, but if this is for the Sandspur—nothing.

JEAN HAMAKER—It's nothing you can buy in a store!

ME—not to have to write this thing any more.

Your Chapel Tower

By DEAN HENRY M. EDMONDS

You are finishing the first term and at the same time bumping into the Christmas holidays. Here's hoping that you can leave the term behind you here on the campus, and go home without it. If its work has not been done, however, take it along with you and set apart some time during the first few days to finish it up so that the last days of your holiday will be free from the dragging realization of work still hanging over you. Compel yourself to go thru with it and get it out of your system. Then the next term you will have made progress in learning that you are not going to allow yourself to trifle with yourself. Be hard-boiled. And be sure, whatever you do, to have a good time—a long, consistent, unregretting good time.

General Delivery

Sure we're late in coming out. We saw it coming before you did. However, we hope that all your groans over our tardiness will be turned to smiles when you note the directory—the exclusive directory—of the entire student body. In past years, the college has published this material in booklet form just before the Christmas holidays. This year, with the aid of much mad scrambling and genuine assistance from Carnegie Hall, the Sandspur herewith publishes your Christmas card list.

The end of the term always has its comic and tragic aspects, and frequently they are both. Take for example the physical fitness classes. Because it is permissible to make up this course at the end of the term, large numbers of girls absent themselves from the regular classes and appear in Rec hall the last week to take it in one fell swoop. Perhaps this will serve to explain to the campus at large and to parents, too, that the limping daughters of Rollins are the products of a solid week of exercises, drilling, calisthenics, with a large order of basketball a la mode.

Can you write the song of World War II? Magazine Digest in cooperation with Raymond Paige and his NBC "Salute to Youth" orchestra is sponsoring a war song contest in high schools and colleges throughout the United States and Canada. Judges are Raymond Paige, Frank Sinatra, James Melton, Helen Jepson and Arnold Eidus.

Winners will receive: $250.00 in cash. A trip to New York for an appearance on "Salute to Youth" (if wartime facilities and the individual's personal situation permit). Nation-wide publicity and promotion of winning song. All rights, royalties, and monies resulting from publication.

Re ad all about it in the January issue of Magazine Digest, out December 25.

Able holding up various departments on campus during this past weekend were three of our former students, now serving in the armed forces of our country. Chapel choir tenor section was somewhat strengthened by Ensign Dick Cerra, on his way from Pensacola to Melbourne. The Pi Phi formal Saturday night saw Tom Blakemore tripping the fantastic as of old, while Bill Maguire kept the Center conversational ball rolling.

We have in our midst a POET, heretofore undiscovered, or if discovered, efficiently put down. But art will out, and so in this corner we have Miriam Firestone, whose couplets are a threat to any rhyming dictionary. See for yourselves: In winter the bees stay in their hives,

That is their peculiar trait—
How do they spend their time, I ask,
I think they hibernate.

Imagine the tragedy of a giraffe,
And this is my doleful song:
It got a sore throat overnight,
And it's throat was nine feet long.

The incubator hatched the chicks
And cheated them of a mother,

Lack of Snow Fails To Daunt Spirit of Christmas Formal

Who says it takes snow to make Christmas? As proven by the Mayflower Hall girls last Saturday in the Center at one of the most successful dances of the year, all one needs is a little red and green crepe paper, some cotton and tinsel, sleigh bells, Christmas tree ornaments, and to say nothing of the traditional mistletoe. And, oh yes, a couple of tender hearted STAR boys who don't mind climbing rickety ladders to hang streamers.

So much for the decorations; now for the dance, which was a howling success, with the inevitable juke providing the music. But then, how else can one have Tommy Dorsey, Artie Shaw, and Harry James in one evening?

At nine thirty or thereabouts, Clyde Taylor and Sergeant Wolfe of the STAR unit gave their renditions of Someone To Care for Me and My Hero, which was followed by Sol Berkowitz at the piano playing Embraceable You. Then every one got into the spirit of the thing by singing Christmas carols accompanied by the Mayflower house-brother, Don Weisman.

After the entertainment every one more or less followed his nose to the refreshment table for cookies and punch, the latter being either red or green, depending on one's taste—raspberry or lime.

Having stuffed their faces, the crowd then took a whirl at the dance floor till eleven when the music disappeared.

Every student must complete registration during this period, in order to hold place in class. All classes over-registered at end of this period will be closed regardless of preliminary registration.

Tomokan Board Meets Daily; Plans For Yearbook

The public demands news of progress made on the Tomokan for 1943. With an editorial board of five upperclassmen meeting daily in an unlight-bulbed room in the top-most cranny of Pinehurst, great and revolutionary decisions are expected to find their way to print.

To the discomfiture of Sandspur reporters from way back, it is the tradition of the Tomokan staff to guard its secrets well, and to release only the obvious for publication. It was suggested by one member of the board that the tradition has arisen not so much out of perversity, but more out of necessity. At least that is the excuse for the present time.

While the board itself is pleased with the progress it has made, plans are still in a liquid state that defies definite statements. Contracts from the printer and the photographer are under constant consideration, and it is the sincere aim of the board to produce the best possible book under the best possible conditions. Problems are brought about by the war, which has curtailed activities in that field.

As for the student body's participation in the publication of the yearbook, the board announces that immediately after Christmas, at the beginning of the new term, appointments for individual portraits will

McDaniel.

Kappa defeated Gamma Phi Beta, 19-9. Most of the scoring was done in the second half, with the Kappas piling up the score. Kappa forwards were Hazlett, Bower, and Amaral. Guards were Stanley, Fuller, Hubbs, and Knight. Gamma Phi lineup: forwards, Cobb, Hansen, and Rankin. Guards were Van Gal, and McDaniel.

Gamma Phis were again defeated, this time by the Independents, 18-15. This game was fast and showed fine fighting spirit on the part of the Gamma Phis, but the Independents had a large number of substitutes, and were able to defeat their opponents by a slight margin.

Betty Rosenquest showed great skill in refereeing these games, as well as many others of the season.

Four Newcomers Take Ribbons In Horse Show

Rollins girls starred in the Annual Junior Red Cross Horse Show, held Sunday afternoon at the Orange Blossom Stables. Ribbon winners were Pax Hickman, Jean Ort, Ainslee Embry, and Barbara Stanley. Several hundred people attended the gala event which began at two o'clock. Entries included about forty riders, several of whom gave exhibitions of various types.

Rollins entrants showed up excellently and contributed considerably to the entertainment.

The Rollins class was won by Pax Hickman, second place being taken by Ainslee Embry, while Jean Ort took third place and Barbara Stanley took fourth.

The open jumping class was won by June Welson of Winter Park. Pax Hickman, Rollins, was second, and Jean Ort was third, with Barbara Stanley fourth. Several service men were also entered in this class, as well as several other women. Horsemanship only was judged be made. The full cooperation of the entire college is asked in meeting these appointments.

Also, with the new term, a meeting of all those interested in working on any phase of the book will be called. Such a meeting has not been held as yet because the board wishes to crystallize its aims before calling in additional help.

Men's Intramurals Start With Checkers

The men, bless us, are going to have an intramural sports program this year. Because of the shortage of men, only two teams are possible. But be assured, the competition will be red hot.

The program gets off to a start after Christmas with a series between the two teams. This first tournament is to decide the champion checker player.

There is a rumor circulating that ed in both of the classes in which Rollins girls participated.

Other Rollins students entered in the show were, Billie J. Lawton, Priscilla Woodward, Betty Gerbrick, Nancy Butts, C. Betterton, C. Christiansen, and Martha Rankin.

Mrs. Anna N. Wheeler was the sponsor of this show which was the first of its kind to be presented this season.

Gifts contributed by local merchants were presented to the first, second and third place winners in each class.

Nick Morrissey is a cinch to win, as he has been taking lessons from Riley Jones all this fall. The team whose man wins the tournament receives five points, which will be the standard number of points given for each sport. Other sports which are to be played throughout the year are: horseshoes, ping pong, swimming, pool, and tennis.

Also at a recent meeting, captains and managers were chosen for the two competing teams. Red Harris was elected as the head man on team two. Team one selected co-captains, Kermit Dell and Dick Banting. The managers for the particular sports are as follows:

Team I		Team II
Dell	Football	Harris
Banting	Basketball	Gilmore
Osten	Tennis	Robinson
Sussler	Swimming	White
Ransdell	Checkers	Morrissey
Duffy	Ping pong	Bartlett
Evans	Horse shoes	Arnov
Heredia	Baseball	Rachlin
Lane	Volley Ball	Lucas
Felton	Pool	Briggs

The teams are at a loss for names, so suggestions will be most welcome.

SCIENTIFIC SOCIETY

Initiates to the Rollins Scientific Society underwent the ordeals required to make them into full-fledged members or fellows of the Society last Saturday, December 4, at the camp of Dick Potter, Fellow of the Society. Those inducted included three professors—Dr. Saute, Dr. Mortimer, and Dr. Knipp—and seven students—Martha Timberlake, Jane Welsh, Mary Jane Wilson, Charlotte Cranmore, Nancy Butts, Larry Rachlin, and Pat Quillin.

Last Tuesday evening, November 30, at the regular meeting of the Society, John Harris discussed his work at the United States Department of Agriculture experimental station. His research which composed his senior project in chemistry was aimed at the determination of the ideal constituents for fertilizers of citrus crops. The work is still in progress and has not been published. This meeting was the last gathering of the Society prior to the holidays.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

The Rollins Photographic Club will meet tomorrow evening, December 9, at Knowles 509. Committee reports will comprise the business of the meeting. In addition some of the members will exhibit some of their photographs and color slides. Several cameras will be explained and demonstrated. New members and visitors are welcome and the Star Unit is invited.
