WINTER PARK

Winter Park, known far and wide as "The City of Homes," is one of the most beautiful little cities in Florida. Situated on the northeastern slope of the ridge section with an altitude of 107 feet, it offers a winter climate both delightful and healthful. Bright, sunshiny days prevail all winter, with just enough coolness in the air to add zest to play and rest.

Eighteen beautiful lakes nestle among the palms and flowers that abound on every side, adding much to the joy of the visitor here. Surrounding the city and at their greatest beauty during the winter season lie thousands of acres of citrus groves, with trees loaded with golden fruit. Fine highways abound in all directions, offering motorists a wide choice of pleasure trips over hard surfaced roads.

Sports are also far from the least of the entertainment available. Fishing, swimming, canoeing and kindred sports may be enjoyed, while two nearby golf courses furnish amusement for the golf devotee.

Winter Park may easily be reached by railroad, bus lines and Eastern Air Lines (Orlando) as well as by automobile. It is situated on the Atlantic Coast Line Railway, 142 miles south of Jacksonville and 97 miles northeast of Tampa. It may also be reached via the main Dixie Highway. The city has an estimated winter population of 6,000.
