TRUMAN TO ARRIVE FEBRUARY 11

Greeks Pledge Total of 129; Rushing Ends With Banquet

Sorority Girls Take In Seventy-three Members In Sunday's Pledging

Seventy-three freshmen and transfers were pledged to Rollins' seven national sororities this Sunday, exceeding last year's total by four. Pledging was held between 8:30 and 5:00 and was followed by banquets at Dubsdread, the Southland, the Orange Court, the Rose Marie, and private homes.

Alpha Phi filled its quota, pledging 15; Jean Allen, Terry Broderick, Jimmie Closs, Mary Dolan, Virginia Gates, Jane Gorman, Marilyn Hoffman, Naomi Howard, Fidge Howell, Claudia Hutchison, Patricia Jenkins, Jane Marshman, Madelaine Megill, Carolyn Tudor, and Patricia Underwood.

Beverly Burkhart, Jean Cartwright, Jan Chambers, Barbara Duquette, Patricia Furey, Jimi Hanak, Agnes Hendrix, Betty Jane Keen, Virginia Koos, Evelyn Keen Saunders, and Glorinda Schneider pledged Chi Omega.

The Gamma Phi Betas pledged Elinor Arapian, Patricia Clausung, Denise Dever, Monica Egan, Eugenia Fishel, Priscilla Likely, Lucia Ruder, Margaret Shaw, and Sylvia Verdin.

Kappa Alpha Theta filled its quota by pledging Rosemary Buck, Marilyn Dean, Shirley Fry, Yvonne Fulton, Betty Kerekoff, Lois Moynahan, Mimi Rhinehart, Rosann Shaffer, and Patricia Tennant.

Kappa Kappa Gamma also filled its quota, pledging Mimi Ambler, Lee Bongart, Sue Brauer, Mary Chaparols, Patricia German, Barbara Godfrey, Virginia Henderson, Janet Hetzel, Nancy Hodges, Sally Ladd, Shirley McGavock, Ann Mc-

Major Hacker Talks To State YWCA Group

The State Y.W.C.A. Conference met Saturday on the Rollins campus to discuss the problems of Christian groups on college campuses. Highlight of the day's program was Major C. LeRoy Hacker's talk on, A Base For World Peace.

The Regional Y.W.C.A. Secretary and the Regional Secretary of the World Student Service Fund were guests at the meetings. Florida State College for Women, Florida Agricultural and Mechanical Institute, Florida Normal at Saint Augustine, Bethune-Cookman at Daytona, Edward Waters at Jacksonville, and Rollins sent representatives to the conference. Term examinations prevented students of other colleges from attending.

The members of the conference and their guests were entertained at a weiner roast at Dean Edmonds' grill.

Fifty-six Men Pledge In Newly Re-Activated Rollins Fraternities

Climaxing a whirlwind rush period Rollins' newly activated fraternities pledged 56 men in last Sunday's ceremonies. The pledging was made possible by a vote held last week, by means of which 73 percent of the men students voting voiced their approval of the re-instatement of fraternities which had been discontinued at Rollins in September 1943 because of the war.

Rushing began officially last Wednesday with a dinner held at Beanery followed by a smoker at the Center. Carl Jones, president of the Interfraternity Council, presided at the latter meeting, introducing Dean Enyart, who expressed his enthusiastic support of reactivation of fraternities and explained the system of pledging. Refreshments were served and the rest of the evening was spent in getting acquainted.

On Thursday mimeographed slips showing names of all Rollins fraternities were placed in the men's post office boxes. Those who wished to join were instructed to indicate their preferences in 1-2-3 order and return them to the Dean's office

Six Students Receive Notice of Reeve Prize

Six Rollins men have been announced winners of the General Charles McCormick Reeve Essay Contest.

The winning contestants are Wesley Davis, who wrote New Prospective in Poetry, 1916-1946; Tom Fruin who wrote on, The Moral and Political Implications of the Atom Bomb; Marc Gilmore, with the topic, Strikes in the Post-War Era; Ted Mischuck, with Potsdam, Peace or Passion; Dan Paonessa, who selected Mark Twain's Mysterious Stranger and Modern Skepticism; and Charles Rex who chose the theme, Religion in the Modern World.

The winners will present their essays from memory in the form of ten minute talks to be given in the Knowles Memorial Chapel before students and Founder's Week guests on Tuesday, February 19, at 3:30. The winner in this final competition will receive the Hamilton Holt Gold Medal.

A list of proposed topics was published at the time of the announcement of the contest from which the contestants based their essays.

Leading Statesmen, Scientists Coming To March 11th Conference

Leading American statesmen, scientists and representatives of business, labor and education will be guests of Rollins the week of March 11 at a conference on world government and control of atomic energy, President Hamilton Holt announced last week.

Supreme Court Justice, William O. Douglas and five senators, Pepper of Florida, Ball of Minnesota, Tobey of New Hampshire, Fulbright of Arkansas and Hatch of New Mexico have accepted invitations to attend.

Scientists coming are: Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, California Institute of Technology, in charge of operations at Los Alamos, N. M., when the first atomic bomb was exploded at Alamogordo; Dr. S. K. Allison, director of the Institute of Nuclear Studies, University of Chicago; Dr. Harold Urey, University of Chicago; Dr. Lee A. duBridge, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Dr. I. I. Rabi, Columbia University, and Dr. Henry D. Smyth, Princeton University.

Others include: Lieut. Gen. James H. Doolittle, Owen D. Young, former chairman of the board, General Electric; Charles G. Bolte, president of the American Veterans committee; Bishop G. Bromley Oxnan, president of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ of America; Rabbi Louis L. Mann, Chicago; and Raymond Gram Swing, radio news analyst.

The conference has been fully underwritten by R. T. Miller, Jr., of Winter Park and Scottsville, N. Y. Miller, who was formerly head of the American School and the American Technical Society of Chicago, first became interested in world government and the control of atomic energy through an address by Dr. Holt.

Lieut. Comdr. George C. Holt, son of the president and former director of admissions at Rollins, is executive director of the conference. Dr. Preston Slosson, professor of modern history, University of Chicago, is editor-secretary.

In making the announcement of the conference, Dr. Holt said that it will aim to agree upon and recommend the development of world government strong enough to assure effective control of the atomic bomb and superweapons of the present and future.

President to Receive Degree Of Doctor of Humanities

Secret Service Men Arrive On Campus Monday Noon

President Harry S. Truman will arrive at Rollins Monday, February 11, to receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities in a 2:00 p.m. convocation in the Knowles Memorial chapel.

George C. Dreschek and other secret service men were on campus Monday, January 28, and accompanied by Rollins officials and representatives of the Winter Park and Orlando police made preliminary arrangements for the visit.

President Truman and his party will be greeted at the Orlando airport by Dr. Holt, Governor and Mrs. Millard Caldwell, Dr. and Mrs. Wendell C. Stone, and Dr. and Mrs. E. T. Brown. Included in the party, Dreschek said, will be Charlie Ross, press secretary, Matthew J. Connolly, secretary to the president, Brigadier General Harry Vaughn, Commodore James K. Vardaman, and Colonel Wallace Graham, the president's physician.

The President will then drive through Orlando, the actual route not divulged yet, and will rest briefly at Dr. Holt's home before the afternoon convocation.

Tickets will be distributed to all Rollins students, faculty, and staff members and classes will be dismissed at 2:00. Loudspeakers will be set up for the benefit of those unable to be seated in the chapel.

Shortly after the convocation, President Truman will leave for Miami by plane.

Muriel Fox and Janet Haas, who will argue affirmatively, and Wesley Davis and Tom Fruin, who will reply negatively, to the question: Resolved that the United States should join a world state, having sovereignty in policing the world with complete control of weapons of war; international trade; international finance; international aviation; territorial and boundary disputes.

Following the student debate, as is always the custom, there will be a relevant panel discussion presided over by Dr. James Fleming Hosc and presenting Rollins professors and other economic authorities. Those to participate are Dr. J. S. Young, Dr. Royal France, Mr. Herman Edelsberg, Dr. William Melcher, Dr. Eugene R. Smith, and Dr. Theodore Collier.

It has been announced that all members of the Rollins student body and faculty and residents of the community will be welcome to attend all sessions and participate in the discussions.

Der Deutsche Verein will hold a meeting on Tuesday, February 12, between 7:00 and 8:00 p.m. at the Dyer Memorial. Babe Wolfe, president, is preparing some pictures to be shown at that time.

Economic Conference Opens This Morning with Holt's Welcome

As previously announced, Economic Tooling for World Order will be the general topic for the eleventh annual Rollins College Economic Conference.

The first session begins Thursday morning, January 31, at 10:30 in the Annie Russell theatre, with a welcoming speech by President Hamilton Holt and a lecture on Russia in World Trade by Mr. Herman Edelsberg, Special Counsel for the Foreign Trade Subcommittee of the United States Senate.

Dr. Royal France of the Rollins faculty will preside Thursday afternoon at 2:30, when Mr. Walter B. Spellmire, General Electric executive, will speak on The Dangers of National Planning to World Order and Dr. Eliot G. Mears, professor of Leland Stanford University, will discuss The Vital World Trade.

The Annie Russell theatre will be the scene on Friday morning at 10:30 of speeches by Mr. R. W. Gifford of the Borg-Wagner Corporation upon Foreign Trade—An Important Factor in Post War Planning and Mr. Winthrop G. Brown, chief of the Division of Commercial Policy for the United States Department of State, upon United States Proposals for Extension of World Trade and Employment. Professor Edward I. Crawford is to preside.

Tickets at $1.25 each are now being sold for the luncheon, speakers at which have yet to be announced, which will take place in the Masonic Temple at 1:30 o'clock Friday. The session is open to the public.

That same afternoon the conference will again convene in the Annie Russell theatre, with Dr. Robert M. Brown presiding over discussion and introducing Mr. Eldridge Haynes, publisher of Modern Industry. Mr. Haynes will outline How United States Industry Can Help Keep the Peace.

Four Rollins students will participate actively in the sixth session in the Annie Russell theatre on Saturday morning, February 2, at 10:30. The chairman for the session will be Professor Merritt B. Jones; and the students will be

Procession of the Mighty

Again, as in 1936, the president of the United States is coming to Rollins to receive an honorary degree.

For a small institution, and one comparatively far from the governing, business, and cultural centers, Rollins has always had an unusually large number of outstanding men and women coming here as visitors, contributors to the Animated Magazine, lecturers, or performing artists. Particularly in the twenty-one years that Dr. Holt has been Rollins' president, the campus has seen a steady procession of distinguished statesmen, scientists, authors, musicians, actors, military men, business men, and others who are at the top of their respective fields both in this country and abroad.

The approaching atomic bomb conference, added to the president's visit, the Animated Magazine, and this week's economic conference, makes this year an all-time record in both quality and quantity of Rollins' visitors.

These functions and the presence of these men offer an unusual opportunity for college students, one which should be utilized to the fullest by everyone at Rollins.

The Axe Grinder

Word arrived this week that we must all buy Rollins license tags. Word also arrived that the Student-Faculty Traffic committee has reactivated (familiar word) itself. We can partially understand why some of us would like to buy Rollins tags and why the school would like to have us buy Rollins tags—advertisement of the fact we belong to Rollins. However, we cannot see any reason for a Student-Faculty Traffic committee.

It is said that this committee has the power to forbid the use of a car on or around campus if the committee judges the driver reckless. It is also stated that the committee can have the Florida Highway patrol take away a student's driver's license for the period of one year. We ask if any student or faculty member is qualified to judge whether or not a student is a reckless driver or has disobeyed a law. Police officers spend several months learning to be competent in judging laws relating to traffic before they are even allowed to stand on a street corner and direct traffic. Only two students on this committee, who are residents of the State of Florida, are likely to be acquainted with the Florida rules and regulations. The rest are out-of-state students whose laws differ in many ways from those of Florida.

We would like to know the duties of this committee. Are they to stand around with pad and pencil and take down the ROLLINS TAG number of any student who lights a cigarette while operating a vehicle (a Florida law which we bet the Student Faculty Traffic committee breaks every day).

We wonder at the students' reactions when they start receiving little notices concerning their driving ability. Again we wonder what punishments the committee will dole out to the offending drivers.

We see absolutely no reason for the establishment of this committee, and would like to see it disbanded as useless and totally unnecessary.

Articles explaining the workings of a woman's mind, their strange reasoning and "logic," usually begin by classifying the creatures—placing them in different categories.

The Evil Genius

The peace and certitude of the Fall term was certainly shattered to bits, at the turn of the year, with the beginning of one of the bitterest political battles that ever blighted Rollins campus.

The battle ended this week with a vote. Peace again reigns, and we lift our eyes in a prayer of thanks to our favorite Greek god. Peace—it's wonderful.

However, our late civil war uncovered several interesting facts.

(1) The student body cannot be led around by the nose like sheep by one or two would-be leaders. A man who would be a leader must be voted in by the populace. No amount of shrieking and ranting will get a pin-headed windbag anywhere. At least, not in America.

(2) The little men who wanted to be BMOCs couldn't get very far with only slander, money, and long family-tree. The petty-minded nincompoops weren't particularly popular for all their crooked lobbying. They died by swallowing their own lies.

Not too long ago a certain Austrian paper-hanger said: "If you wish the sympathy of the masses, then you must tell them the crudest and most stupid things." The fate of Adolph should have been a lesson to a few of our campus cut-ups, but apparently it wasn't. Our boys had to learn the hard way. And no one feels sorry for them.

This brings to mind a little poem by Stephen Crane:

A man said to the universe:

"Sir, I exist!"

"However," replied the universe,

"The fact has not created in me

A sense of obligation."

All this haranguing boils down to one little thing: No amount of power in a small group can change deep-rooted popular opinion and beliefs.

We're proud of our democratic-minded college.

O mores!: The other day we came across a passage from a book of etiquette by an 18th century Emily Post, which is the height of something-or-other. To wit: "Extreme care should be used in the placing of books on the book-shelves. Books should be placed on different shelves, according to the sex of the author. On no condition should a book by a lady writer and one by a gentleman be placed side by side; unless, of course, the lady and gentleman are married."

Pensees: In our humble opinion, Mark Twain was one of America's greatest writers. His books abound in a wealth of common-sense philosophy; and they contain more wisdom than humor—which is saying much, indeed.

From his magnificent book, Pudd'nhead Wilson, come the following quotable quotes:

It takes your enemy and your friend, working together, to hurt you to the heart; the one to slander you and the other to get the news to you.

Now this is all wrong. Women cannot be classified, simply because basically they all act and think the same. They are all driven by one fiendish motive. They are out to hook a man—using more tricks, plots, and booby traps than an African elephant hunter.

The only reason why one woman acts different from another, is that each wench employs a different set of tricks and traps. That is what makes them so fiendish. And the only escape for a man is to lock himself up in a cave on top of a Tennessee mountain and pray to St. Freud for strength.

So the gals are just out to hook a man. And if the fellows have an ounce of sense, they'll realize it. And if the gals realize that the fellows know what they are up to, why don't they dispense with their tricks and get down to brass tacks? To hell with the double-talk, we say.

This is what we mean. Suppose you're panting for a date with a certain lovely dish with golden hair. So you phone her and say: "How about a date tonight, baby?"

She automatically answers "no," which is far from her final answer.

Now, if you said good-bye at this point and hung up you'd spend the rest of the term apologizing with flowers and Scotch. But if you're wise, you'll begin with what is popularly known as the build-up. You'll begin the double-talk which consists of begs, pleads, threats, promises, and bribes. While you sweat it out in the phone booth, feeding all your cash into the slot, the sadist on the other end of the line has her fun till she's tired of it all, and finally says "yes."

How much simpler and happier life would be if you'd ask a gal "Yes or no?" and she'd give you a truthful answer! Honest, is that too much to ask?

The date with the golden-haired gal that night is usually an ordeal of the damned. While she drinks up your next month's allowance in imported Scotch, you sit huddled in a corner sipping 2 percent beer. The conversation consists of her telling you an account of all the handsome men in her life, while you smolder with jealousy. When your time to talk comes around, you must tell her how ravishing she looks, even if she happens to look like hell at the time. Meanwhile if you aren't continually making passes at her, risking getting your face slapped off, she loses interest and flirts with the sailor at the next table.

You'll gaze into her limpid baby-blue eyes and give her the usual expected line: "Suzy, there's-something-about-you-that - gets - me." She'll look bored, say "Yeah?" and order another Scotch. Then she'll begin yapping about her beautiful lieutenant who's mad about her. This you must patiently bear, till you have another chance to extoll her beauties.

This is what we mean by double-talk.

But just you mention another gal in her presence, and you're sunk. If you slip, in a wild moment, and call her Mabel instead of Suzy, expect the old icicle treatment. Then it's best to ditch her as soon as possible and come back after that cute bar-maid who's been giving you the eye. That's the only way to salvage the evening.

The Once Over

The Sandspur staff is an adventurous bunch. Today one of our number made what will undoubtedly prove the prize discovery of the year. On issue number 2, 1940-41, blazoned in two inch high letters, across the side of the front page we read GOD BLESS AMERICA and (in slightly less overpowering type) God Save The Sandspur. Upon investigation, we found that a new editorial staff had gone into office—a group of mad geniuses, probably, whom we should like to have known, but from whom we should have kept a reasonably safe distance in the interests of our sanity and all that.

As if that weren't enough, a hour or so later further exploration uncovered issue number 7, 1941-2 (same editor) which proudly flaunts not one, but two bannerheads. The top one presents an as yet unsolved mystery. It reads: 8½ CONTEST FOR QUEEN HONORS. Perusal of the story following shed very little light. The seven sororities and Independent women all had candidates for the honor of being football queen. Only possible explanation is that Chi Omega had two female offerings and the editor (who obviously didn't date a Chi O), summarized the proceedings in the above enigmatic head.

If we keep this up, the campus at large will be flocking to the SSPUR office in such droves we'll have to bar the doors . . . . And it really is a gay life we lead. For instance, one of our reporters informs us that the February 7 tea given by the English faculty will be in honor of the Sandspur and Flamingo staffs. Such honor has never before, to our knowledge, been done us and we are deeply touched. We trust both staffs will turn out in full force to be as honored AND to be further inspired in their creative efforts. Incidentally, to those few who may not already have realized it, we highly recommend the English faculty both as party-givers and as Good Company—and we would say this even if we weren't an English major.

Great rejoicing can be heard this week in Lambda Chi headquarters, for the advent of Mr. Truman has Special Significance for these brothers. Notice from the pen of one of them informs us unmistakably that "we are eagerly looking forward to a distinguished visitor in the form of Brother Truman, President of the United States, who will be with us on February 11." We are sure that the form of Brother Truman will do the Lambda Chis proud, and vice versa, and we too, rejoice in their happiness.

One of the joys of being Sandspur editor is in listening to the headline editor (see masthead) produce such masterpieces as this:

Victory-Expansion Program Emphasized at Center Banquet

Launching of a Victory-Expansion program to raise $575,000 for peacetime conversion was one of the many highlights of the fellowship dinner which was attended Thursday evening, January 24, by 75 alumni and friends of Rollins in the student center. President Hamilton Holt, Dean Wendell Stone, and Dr. E. T. Brown, Rollins treasurer, all emphasized the fact that Rollins was "suffering from success," that its student body of 511, expanded to receive veterans and former Rollins students, requires at least ten to twelve new instructors and extensive new classroom facilities if the goals of the Rollins individualized curriculum and conference plan are to be maintained.

Overcrowded dormitory and dining facilities, 34 overcrowded classes, and other evidences of serious over-registration, were deplored by Dean Stone. The V-E Expansion Program, designed to meet this urgent situation, was then explained by Dr. Brown. The program, blueprinted last spring, will serve to raise funds for:

A large dormitory for freshman women.

A smaller dormitory for upper-class women.

A modern classroom building.

Additional members of the faculty.

Rehabilitation of old buildings.
Equipment for new buildings.
Permanent improvements of the campus.

A new administration building.

Funds for the new administration building have already been contributed, it was announced; and as soon as the necessary materials can be obtained it will be started, with the ultimate view of using all of Carnegie Hall, which now holds administration offices, for enlarged Rollins library facilities.

Walter L. Hays, president of the American Fire and Casualty Co., was introduced as chairman of the drive, with Lloyd Gahr and W. R. Rosenfelt, prominent community businessmen, serving as co-vice chairmen.

Dr. Holt, in a tribute to the loyal faculty and student body of Rollins, pointed out the many events which will take place on this campus in the coming month. He cited the atomic energy conference, this week's economic conference, the Bach Festival, the current art exhibit, the Founders' Week presentation of Fred Stone in You Can't Take It With You, and the appearance of many celebrities in the annual Animated Magazine.

The chapel choir sang The Rollins Chapel Song.

A moment of silence was observed in honor of Mr. W. R. O'Neal, Rollins trustee, who died Wednesday morning, January 23; and the program closed with the singing of the Rollins Alma Mater.

W. H. Ackland Estate Trustees to Decide Gift of $1,250,000

Trustees of the Ackland estate, who will decide whether a $1,250,000 art museum project will go to Rollins or the University of North Carolina, left for Washington Thursday, January 24, after a week's visit here on campus.

This art museum was proposed as a memorial by Mr. Ackland, who directed that his body rest in an apse in its central building.

The estate now involved in litigation is that of the late William Hayes Ackland, wealthy Washington and Ormond Beach art lover. The trustees were directed by a probate court in Washington to recommend a choice between the two colleges.

Rollins officials have sketched the background of the bequest as follows:

On May 4, 1935, Ackland made a will directing his trustees to select Duke, North Carolina or Rollins to be the recipient of the bulk of his estate which he set up in a charitable trust to establish and maintain an art memorial.

At the request of the trustees, Ackland decided then to make the selection personally and rewrite his will. Rollins officials said when he investigated the three colleges, he eliminated North Carolina and narrowed his choice to Duke and Rollins and so informed a number of individuals. It was some months before he could make up his mind between Duke and Rollins, but during this period he leaned toward Rollins. He selected a site on

Animated Magazine Features Greer Garson F. B. I. Chief

The English faculty will entertain with a party in Woolson House on February 7 from 4:00 to 5:30 p.m. It is in honor of the staffs of the Flamingo and the Sandspur, and the guests will be upper class English majors. The English faculty hopes to draw together students interested in writing as well as to stimulate their interests in this field.

Greer Garson, movie actress, Carlos Romulo, Philippine patriot, Elizabeth Arden, world famous cosmetician and sportswoman, and J. Edgar Hoover, F.B.I. chief, will appear in the 1946 edition of Rollins Animated Magazine on February 24, President Hamilton Holt revealed at the Rollins Fellowship banquet in the student center last Thursday.

The event is an annual feature of Founders' Week and in the words of Dr. Holt is "the only magazine in the country in which the contributors appear in person to read their contributions."

Guest in past years included such well-known personalities as Countess Renee Maeterlinck, Roy Crane, Julia Ward Howe, Faith Baldwin, Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings, Anne O'Hare McCormick, His Imperial Majesty Archduke Otto of Austria, Jean Hersholt, and Major Alexander de Seversky.

Further details concerning Volume 19 will be released later.

Rollins Program Over WDBO Feb. 9

In connection with Rollins' Victory-Expansion drive a variety program will be given over station WDBO on February 9, from 4:00 to 4:30 p.m. from the Rollins speech studio.

The program will consist of a talk by President Holt, two songs by the choir under the direction of Professor Walter, and a comedy drama by the Rollins Players.

Music will be provided by a five piece college band with E. J. White, Thomas Brocklehurst, Larry Rachlin, George Cocalis and Jim Thomas. Helen Cobb, Frankie Goldberg and Mary Belle Randall will give a song in connection with the playlet.

Those acting in the skit include Harry James, Jenelle Gregg and Madge Martin with other members to be announced later. Margery Ann Fowler will also sing a selection and Mr. Howard Bailey will act as the announcer.

Fraternities—

before 11 Sunday morning. Between 11:30 and 12:00 the men called at Dean Enyart's office to be informed of the results. At noon the pledges met with the active members at the various fraternity houses to receive their pledge oath, and the first official meetings were held at 6:30 in the evening.

The fraternities followed different policies in admitting new members. Kappa Alpha pledged ten men, Lambda Chi Alpha fourteen, and Sigma Nu twenty-four; but all fraternities hope to issue more bids later in the year. Delta Chi did not admit any new members at this time, preferring to postpone its membership campaign for the time being. Fraternities will not be able to occupy their regular houses till next fall. They are as follows: X Club, Gale Hall; Delta Chi, Lyman Hall; Kappa Alpha, Kappa Alpha House; Lambda Chi, Hooker Hall; Sigma Nu, Rollins Hall.

The following is a list of men pledged in each fraternity:

Lambda Chi Alpha (Theta Gamma Zeta Chapter, installed September 1939): Tony Consoli, Mel Blockinger, Silas Dolive, Bob Ferguson, Howard Garman, Fred Hartley, Ted McElwee, Bob McKennan, Don Ellrott, Ted Mischuck, Sabin Pollard, Marshall Rinker, Don Sauers, and Cornelius Van Buren. Active members include Nick Morrissey, Bill MacGuire, Ed Jones, Tom Fruin, and Ernie Walker.

Sigma Nu (Epsilon Tau Chapter, installed January 8, 1938): Dave Beach, Ed Brinson, George Cocalis, Henry Copps, Bob Fitzwater, Bill Gardiner, Robert Humphrey, Henry Jacobs, Harry James, Ed Johnson, George Kitteridge, Jim Lister, Frank J. Markland, Gordon Marks, Shelley Marks, Herb Ricketts, Bill Rinck, Parker Simpson, John Shollenberger, Alex Stevens, Edgar Swindle, Andrew Tomasko, Howard Walsh, Frank Williamson. Active members include Gerald Farrens, Carl Jones, Richard Sauerbrun.

Kappa Alpha (installed December 12, 1907): Ed Copeland, Norman Copeland, Paul Grannon, Joe Master, Hank Osten, Alan Phillips, Jim Robinson, Jimmy Thomas, Ed White, and Chuck Whitney. Active members are Tom Brocklehurst, Phil Reid, and Lindsay D. Guerhy.

Faculty Artists Give Ninth Annual Recital In Annie Russell

The ninth annual Faculty Recital Series is underway, with recitals being held in the Annie Russell Theatre at 8:15 p.m.

On February 13, John Powell, a former outstanding music student at Rollins will be guest artist. Mr. Powell, recently discharged from the Army Air Forces, was a pupil of Bruce Dougherty while at Rollins. He studied with Oscar Seagle at Schroon Lake, New York; with Mme. Elena Gerhardt, the famous Lieder singer, in London; and placed first in voice in the Florida State and South Atlantic District Contests sponsored by the National Federation of Music Clubs, in 1941. Daphne Takach Powell will accompany Mr. Powell.

On March 6, Helen Moore, B.M., Mus.D., will entertain with a piano recital. Dr. Moore made concert appearances in Eastern and Middle Western states and four in Havana, Cuba. A graduate of the Juilliard graduate school in New York, Dr. Moore holds a diploma from the Conservatoire Americaine, Fontainebleau, France, and was a pupil of Isidor Philipp and James Friskin.

On March 20, Alphonse Carlo, violinist, and Katherine Carlo, pianist, will give a recital. Mr. Carlo is associate professor of violin, viola and chamber music. A graduate of the Juilliard School of Music and Institute of Musical Art, Mr. Carlo has made concert performances in the United States and Canada.

Mrs. Carlo, a graduate of the Institute of Musical Art of the Juilliard School, was a pupil of Carl M. Roeder, dean of the National Guild of Piano Teachers. A former member of the piano staff at Juilliard, Mrs. Carlo has made appearances in concert as soloist, accompanist and chamber musician throughout the Eastern and Mid-Western states.

Mabel Ritch, contralto, and Carroll Glenn, American violinist, entertained on January 9 and January 23 respectively.

The X Club: Ollie Barker, Pershing Scott, Bob Daniel, Bud Dawson, Bob Williams, Jack Redding, Howard Fisher, and Earl Flanagan. Active members include David Frazier, Ronnie Green, and Smiley Wellman.

Spinnin' The Discs

with WAGNER

The big news in the record and music world, both local and national, has Tony Pastor in the spot-light. Top news, of course, is the personal appearance at the Coliseum tonight of his terrific band to play for the President's Ball. Bill Kemp, genial manager of the Coliseum, tells us that there will not be the overcrowded condition tonight that was experienced at the Kaye dance last Friday, and we're certainly glad to pass along that bit of news. And now, back on the platters with Pastor. The big news there is the recent change from the Victor label by his band to the new and fast rising Cosmo label that have the boys under exclusive contract. Victor had reduced his record releases to a minimum for unknown reasons, and we are very glad that he has joined forces with Cosmo and very soon a brand new tailored-to-style Cosmo hit will be out by the Pastor crew. As soon as we receive the release copy, we'll review it in an early issue of the paper.

Bob Eberly, just out of uniform, has completed a recording stint in New York in the Decca studios and his first waxing is now available at local record dealers. It couples two top song hits from the new Warner film "Saratoga Trunk", that are climbing fast in the popularity polls. Goin' Home with a reverse listing As Long As I Live gives Bob the break he has needed and he makes his civilian return with a record that is tops. Goin' Home has a weird theme and Bob lends a haunting vocal to the musical backing supplied by Vic Shoen and band to produce a very unusual discing. Next month, Bob is scheduled to cut four additional sides, and we hope they will all display the quality and even recording that the initial one presents.

Three brand new records just received, that lack of space will prevent us reviewing this week, will receive full reviews in the next issue but we will give our ratings that we feel they deserve after spinnin' them here in our record session. Frank Sinatra's Oh! What It Seemed To Be backed by Day By Day is a record we could rave about through a number of columns. Sinatra has recorded a disc this time that will reach the popularity of 'Dream,' and pass it 'way by! We rate both sides with a very high A . . . . . Then we slip Benny Goodman's Give Me The Simple Life with a reverse of I Wish I Could Tell You and after the 'Bow Ties' record, this one sounds very artificial and little quality seems to be offered. Liza Morrow drags through both lyrics sans her usual pep and lifting voice and we rate both sides of this one with an average C . . . . . And then in the closing record of our session today, we have the band of the year, Woody Herman in another wonderful coupling. Let It Snow backed by Everybody Knew But Me prove that the band critics knew their business and bands too, when they named the Woodchopper as the band of the year. Woody takes both vocals and in his own styling, sells the record right into the homes and jukeboxes across the country. So here's another A rating for the great Herman 'Herd'.

Shirley Fry Wins Net Championship in Orlando Open Women's Doubles Title Won By Rosenquest, Fry In Third Event

Shirley Fry, ranked seventh nationally in the U.S. tennis circles, captured the women's singles division of the Florida State Tennis Championship Sunday afternoon by defeating Elinor Cushingham by 6-0, 4-6, 6-2 score. Mrs. Cushingham, ranked 14th in the country, lost her initial set by a love score but snapped back in the second set to beat Shirley by a 6-4 score. However in the final and decisive set of the singles play for the day, Shirley hit her winning stride and walked up a 6-2 win to cinch the important tennis tourney. In the men's singles division, Frank Guernsey, brilliant young Orlando star, smashed Alejo Russell by 6-3, 11-9, 6-2 set scoring, and walked off with the men's singles championship for Florida.

In the third frame of the afternoon's events, Shirley Fry and Betty Rosenquest teamed in doubles play and defeated Elinor Cushingham and Baba Lewis, 6-4, 6-4, and in the finals of the afternoon's play, the men's doubles event found Allen Carvell and Guernsey teamed to defeat Jack Cushingham and Percy Lewis 6-4, 4-6, 5-7, 6-4, 7-5 in a match that lasted until 7:30 Sunday night.

In the second round of singles play Friday, Ed Burke, Hank Osten and Norman Copeland were eliminated from further play by defeats, and thus the remainder of the tourney was handed to the Rollins women's entry.

Playing brilliant tennis, Nancy Morrison advanced to the quarter finals where she bowed 6-2, 6-4 to

TENNIS TIPS IN ACTION

TENNIS TIPS

The Service

In your tennis game, the service stroke is used to put the ball in play, and is a very important stroke that will either get you off to a good or a bad start. It should be decisively made since it's a shot in which you are on the offense and you, as the key man in this position, should take all the time necessary since it is the one stroke that is not affected by your opponent's ability. There are three types of service strokes now in universal use. They are the flat service, the American twist service and the slice service. The stance, an all important factor in all strokes, is attained by placing your feet comfortably at a 45 degree angle to the baseline. Start your backswing down with a long, full sweep, bending your knees at the same time and shifting the weight to the right foot. When your swing has reached its highest point, let the racket fall down behind your back, again shifting your weight, this time back

Intra-dorm Hoop Race Led By Independents

Second Half Finals Scheduled
For Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The intra-dorm basketball schedule for this term rolled into the last lap in Rollins gymnasium last night when the strong and highly favored Independent team clashed with the Hooker quint, and the KA team played the Rollins squad. At press time yesterday, the results of these two tilts were not known but they will be carried in the next edition of the paper. Next Wednesday night at 8 p.m., the final games of the schedule will be played when the Independents meet Rollins in the opening frame and the KA's play Hooker in the season windup.

Last Tuesday, the Independents cinched the first half title by a 33-25 victory over the Rollins Hall team marking three straight victories in a row for them. The Indys jumped to an early lead in the first quarter and at half-time their score read 15-12, and when the third quarter whistle sounded they had jumped to a 26-17 lead. In the final period they sunk seven more points to boost the score to a 33-25 margin. Dave Frazier was high point man with a 15 point total to be followed by 'Smiley' Wellman with seven. Hank Osten lead the Rollins attack with eleven points, to be followed by Ed Copeland with ten. The second half of the evening's bill found the Hooker quint barely able to eke out a 17-15 victory over the KA team. A last period rally by the KA's narrowed their margin of defeat to a two point difference. Hooker lead the Kappa Alpha team 10-6 at the half-time mark and 13-9 at the third period point. With four minutes remaining, Jack 'Dixie' Redding hit the stride for the KA's and boosted his team's score by four points. Bob Ferguson was high man for the Hooker team with six points.

SIDELINE SLANTS

By H. RUMMEL WAGNER

Shirley Fry, Rollins ace tennis champ has done it again . . . . In the finals of the big Orlando Tennis Tourney last Sunday afternoon, Shirley displayed all the skill and expert tennis form that we expected to see and a lot more! In the women's singles finale matched against Elinor Cushingham, the Rollins pride of the tennis courts played a brand of tennis we've seldom seen and proves that Shirley is just about tops in the country's tennis circles. Shirley and Elinor, seeded first and second in the tennis finals that got underway at 1:30 Sunday afternoon battled through three tough sets 6-0, 4-6, 6-2. The opener was a walk-away for Shirley but number two proved to be her stumbling block when Elinor raced to a two point lead. However, the final set in the singles proved that Shirley was still tops in the tourney when she racked up her 6-2 win. In the men's finals, Frank Guernsey smashed Alejo Russell's hopes of victory with a 6-3, 11-9, 6-2 scoring that gave the spectators thrills in plenty. Frank has terrific drive in his game and his court skills proved him to be tops in his division. In the third attraction of the afternoon, Betty Rosenquest teamed with her Rollins mate Shirley Fry, to defeat Baba Lewis and Elinor Cushingham by a 6-4, 6-4 final score. This was doubles play at its very best and the Rollins gals looked plenty potent. So, hats off to Shirley Fry and Betty Rosenquest from the sports department. They played terrific tennis, and brought the sports honors home for their alma mater once again.

The Independents, intra-dorm basketball leaders seem victory bent at press time and if they keep going at the rate they've been through the remainder of the schedule, head coach Jack McDowall can just scratch the play-off dates off his sports calendar because the Indy aggregation will walk off the floor next Wednesday night, the intra-dorm champs of '46. Smiley Wellman has whipped a well-drilled and organized quint together to win these games and the entire team looks very good to us. At press time, the Independents had scored 109 points to their opponents 76 points, and if paper figures prove anything at all, it would indicate that the Indys have a very good chance of taking the basketball title away from the other contenders . . . . Glancing at the Civic League results for a few lines of type, we seem to see Rollins on the short end of the league standings. True, Rollins has only tangled with two of the entrants, Bumby and Pinecastle, but if their aggregate scores indicate anything, it will again prove that the boys need more practice as a unit, and not on separate teams during the week. It begins to have the appearance of the unsuccessful touch football team last fall that lost all their games due to the lack of pre-game practice. Bumby and Pinecastle and all the other entrants have been playing together for several seasons now with a few new additions here and there, and they have had practice sessions galore. Our suggestion at this time would be to put a little more emphasis on the varsity team, because it's their action that the people of this district follow in the daily papers, not the intra-dorm tilts. Bumby and Pinecastle have scored 130 points to 47 of ours in the league so far, and less than a quarter of the current schedule has been played.

SPORTS SHORTS OF ALL SORTS:

The women's all-star team that tangled with the strong Orlando high quint last week turned in a very impressive score in their opener. Captain Betty Rosenquest tells us that eight games remain on the schedule, and these games will be played each Tuesday night from now until March 26. At that time the play-off games will be set between the first and second half winners and if the all-stars keep up the pace they had in their first game, Rollins should be right in there in the finals this March . . . . In the golfing picture, we hear that Alice O'Neal and Tom Carney are entering the fifth Florida mixed two-ball open golf championship that will be staged out Dubsread way from February 13 through the 17th. Qualifying rounds will be run off on the 13th, and the actual matches will get underway the following day. Good luck Alice and Tom . . . . Word has just reached the sports department that the women's all-star team will play the Tampa University basketball squad at the Davis Armory tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 p. m. This game is in addition to the regular schedule, and will have no effect on the league standings for the Rollins quint . . . . Outstanding sports personality on campus last week-end was Alejo Russell, the famous Argentine tennis champ.

W. H. Ackland Estate

Rollins campus, approved blue-prints and informed relatives of his choice, a Rollins spokesman added.

Subsequently, however, he was persuaded by the president of Duke University, that Duke should have the gift, and on Nov. 10, 1938, he made another will, leaving the art museum to Duke, and giving Rollins a perpetual annual gift. No other institution was mentioned. After Mr. Ackland's death, Duke University refused the gift. At the direction of the Court, the trustees of the Ackland Estate are required to investigate the facts and recommend which institution is to take the Ackland gift refused by Duke. Rollins College contention is that:

(1) Mr. Ackland's intention should be followed and since Rollins was his second choice, it should be the site of the Art Gallery.

(2) The University of North Carolina was definitely eliminated, by Mr. Ackland personally prior to his death.

(3) Rollins College is better qualified to promote the cause of Art as desired by Mr. Ackland, having had a great many more years experience in teaching art. The School of Art at North Carolina was not started until Mr. Ackland instituted his investigation.

Pinecastle Stop Tars In Second Game 84-24; Jaycee Tilt Postponed

The Rollins 'Tars' emerged from their second game in the Orlando Civic League last Monday night with a 86-24 trouncing that was handed them by the league leaders, the strong and well-drilled Pinecastle quint. On Thursday, the scheduled game between the Rollins and Jaycee quint's was postponed to a later date due to the benefit games staged that night to aid the March of Dimes drive. Monday at 7:30 the 'Tars' met the second place team, the Orlando Airmen, but at press time the final results were not available for release. Next Monday at 7:30, the Rollins team will enter the second quarter of the Civic hardwood race when they meet the Bumby team at 7:30 p.m.

Tragical History—

The way this female fiend carefully times her exit is the most sadistic trick of all. At the end of the evening you leave the bar with her. You have a snootful and you feel mellow. Outside, the yellow moon beams softly and the palms swish gently. You drive her home, park in front of the dorm, dim the lights, and snuggle close—panting softly. You murmur passionately: "Gee, you're lovely," and pucker up. As you are about to kiss those soft, tantalizing lips, she glances at her watch, screams "My God! I'm late!", hops out of the car and runs like hell for the dorm.

That is perfect timing.

But you, you poor fool, do you wise up? Do you give her the cave-man treatment the next time you date her? Oh no! The next night you're back there, babbling double-talk.

Why don't the wenches give up this cat-and-mouse game? Honest, fellows, I ask you. . .

Tennis Tips—

to the left foot. Swing your body into the ball, striking it while on tip-toe to insure full height. The ball is hit a full arm and racket length above the head slightly forward of the left shoulder to attain the best placement in your opponent's court.

The follow-through in tennis, as in many other sports, is a very important and yet a very abused factor in the game. In tennis, on the service stroke, the follow-through goes out and down in a wide arc.

On the flat and slice service, the swing is completed on the left side. The American twist, if properly executed, is finished on the right side of the body. The slice service imparts a lot of spin to the ball, and is a very deceptive ball when it approaches your opponent and difficult for him to return. It bounces low and sharp to your opponent's right and the added spin that the ball develops makes the return even more difficult and gives you a definite advantage if properly handled. The American twist is very heavily spun also, and bounces high and to your opponent's left which can be used in conjunction with the other services to add deception to your styling.

Girl's Quint Swamp Tiger Varsity, 48-21 In Opening Battle

The opening game in the Year Women's Community Basketball league last Tuesday night in the Armory saw the Rollins All-Stars romp to an exciting 48-21 victory over the Orlando High School team. The entire first half was very tame but early in the final stanza the All-Stars began to click and the Rollins score climbed rapidly thereafter until the final whistle. The scoring machine revolved around Anne LeDuc and Rosemary Buck who added ten points apiece to the final Rollins score. The team leader captain Betty Rosenquest played a total of ten games in the league which has been divided into a first and second half. The winners of the first half will play the winners of the second half in a post-season game.

the second seeded Elinor Cushing ham. Connie Clifton staged the upset of the tourney by defeating the 4th seeded player Baba Mudd 6-3, 6-1 in an exciting and well played tilt. However, Rosenquest and Fry came back in the doubles to defeat the Depperman-Clark combination by a 6-3, 6-1 decisive score.
