Varied Entertainment Planned For This Year's Freshman Show

Since the Freshman Show has been, up to this time, a subject which conjures a mental picture of the Cloak of Mystery (capitalized, please) we feel that, of necessity, we cannot divulge any pertinent information as to the plot, for it is such that a mere hint could prove as valuable as relating it in detail. There are, however, a few statistics which we gladly offer to the readers, such as:

Writers—Rusty Rounds and Bill Crompton.

Director—Ginny Harr.

Backstage Director—Peg Law-will.

Music—Jim Wray.

Among the many beneficial results which the class has received by working together on The Debut, a startling amount of heretofore obscure talent has been discovered and among the many outstanding performers will be:

Jean Clancy, Margaret Williams, and Carol Alfred with a catchy routine; the Rollettes, who could compete satisfactorily with Radio City and day; Ranny Walker; "Tobacco" Rhoda Knight and her magic guitar; Margy Mountcastle, Norma Jean Thaggard, and Patty Ann Jackson who make the Ballet Russe look sick; Bud Johnson, who does things in a way all his own; Marge Colt; Anne Lewis Turley, and Shirley Christianson endowed with valuable vocal chords; Lee Smith and Chap McDonald, guaranteed not to appear more than once so that the audience can save a few laughs for the rest.

The Freshmen take great and warranted pride in announcing the production on Wednesday night, December the tenth. Make way for the Class of '51; the sky's the limit!

Dr. Holt Will Appear In Jacksonville Friday

World Government is to be the topic of President Hamilton Holt's address to the Y's Men's Club in Jacksonville on Friday, November 21st, at the George Washington Hotel at 12:30 p.m. President Holt will stress the significance of World Government to this young group of professional men between the ages of 25 and 35, for the importance of this topic is great to all young American business men at this time.

President Holt will drive to Jacksonville, accompanied by the Alumni Secretary, Miss Aurora McKay, and by Mr. Donald Cheney, Director of Public Relations at Rollins.

Following the address by President Holt, there will be a picnic, planned by Miss McKay for all the Rollins alumni living in the Jacksonville Area. The picnic will be held on Fort George Island, at the Sanctuary.

Brazilian Talk First Of Series of Addresses Held in Dyer Memorial

Hernane Travares de Sa, well known Brazilian journalist and lecturer will give a talk on "Brazil Opens World's Last Frontier" at Dyer Memorial, Monday, November 24 at 4 o'clock.

Oliver K. Eaton, program chairman, stated that this would be the first of a series of addresses given this winter aimed at promoting hemispheric accord.

Dr. Travares was born in Brazil in 1911 and in his early youth did quite a bit of traveling in Europe and North America. He received his education in Brazil and the University of Louvain, Belgium.

In the past few years he has done some writing on United States-Brazilian relations in the "Journal de Brazil." Dr. Travares has also helped on such periodicals as the "Saturday Review of Literature," the New York Herald Tribune and "The Inter-American."

In 1943-44, Dr. Travares was adviser in the Office of Coordinator of Inter-American Affairs and during the summer he taught a course on Brazilian Civilization at Mills College.

'Flor Silvestre' Starts Year's Spanish Films

A Mexican film, "Flor Silvestre," which means "Wild Flower," will be presented in the Annie Russell theatre next Tuesday, Nov. 25, at 7:30 p.m. Sponsored by the Spanish department, the movie has Spanish dialogue and English subtitles. There will be no admission charge.

The film tells a story of love and adventure set in the period of the Mexican Civil War which took place in the early twentieth century. It gives a picture of life on a Mexican hacienda, the local customs, and the songs and dances.

Last spring the Spanish department presented one Spanish film. Because of its success, three will be shown this year. "Flor Silvestre" (Continued on page 4)

Chapel Quota But Half Filled At Week's End

In an effort to reach the $1800 goal, The Chapel Christmas Fund Drive will continue another week, according to Chairman of the Drive Committee, Jack Sayers. Falling below the half-way mark, with only $610.00 donated by the original closing date, November 14th, the extension will give the students an opportunity to make additional contributions, and those who have not given yet are urged to do so as soon as possible.

Winner of the Mary Fleming Edmonds trophy, to be awarded the first group to subscribe 100 per cent membership, will be announced at the close of the drive. The Alpha Club, Gamma Phi Beta, Chi Omega, and Kappa Kappa Gamma were the first four to turn in 100 per cent membership. In the case of the award will be determined by the group which gives the largest amount in proportion to membership.

The money from the fund constitutes a part of the financial backing for the dean's fund, the community service, and the international relations club, and will be pro-rated to them by the Chapel staff, to be used in various charitable works.

The international relations club will be assigned the greatest amount, due to the desperate need of food, clothing, and medical care for students in the overseas areas. No definite plan for the use of this year's appropriation has been made. Last year the organization used its quota from the Chapel Fund to help support a Polish tuberculosis sanitarium and supply medicine and hospitalization for Polish students.

The community service is associated with various Winter Park welfare groups and is a member of the Welfare Planning Commission of Orlando. It is active in aiding both white and colored welfare cases in this vicinity, handling cases that the state and county find themselves unable to assist. This year the committee is considering the possibility of a Youth Center in Winter Park.

The Dean's Fund is used in cases of emergencies of a financial nature to help Rollins students.

These groups need the undivided support of everyone.

Girl Scout Executives Meet This Weekend

The Florida section of the National Association of Girl Scout Executives is holding a meeting at Rollins this week-end. There will be a social hour in the Alumni House on the afternoon of Friday the 21st. All girls interested in scouting as a profession are invited to attend between 4:30 and 5:00. Refreshments will be served.

Six $75 Prizes To Be Awarded In General Reeve Essay Contest

Rollins College announces the General Charles McCormick Reeve Essay Contest for the year 1947-48, open to men students of the college. Prizes of $75.00 each will be awarded to not more than six men students who shall compose the best essays on any of the topics hereinafter mentioned. The essays shall not be limited as to length, and shall be type-written on paper of standard size. Each contestant shall sign his essay with a pseudonym, and shall attach a sealed envelope containing his pseudonym and his real name.

The papers shall be deposited in Rollins P.O. Box 185 on or before January 9, 1948. A committee of the faculty will make the awards.

After the awards are announced, the successful contestants shall reduce their essays for oral delivery of not more than ten minutes, and shall present them orally before a public meeting of the college. No discrimination as to merit shall be made among the six essays designated for prizes by the Committee, but the author who, in the opinion of judges specially selected for this purpose, has most effectively delivered his material, will be awarded in addition the Hamilton Holt Gold Medal, or its equivalent in the sum of $50.00.

Essays may be written upon any one of the following topics but no other:

1. The United Nations as a Step toward World Government.
2. Steps toward Permanent Friendship with Russia.
3. How Free is our Press?
4. Is College Life a Life Apart?
5. Are the Radio, the Movies and the Comic Strip Debasing Our Culture?
6. The Taft-Hartley Act; its Results for Labor, Capital and the General Public.
7. C. S. Lewis and Christian Belief.
8. The Atomic Age . . . a Challenge to Reason and Conscience.
9. Forward Steps in Race Relations.
10. What is Un-Americanism?
11. John C. Calhoun's Analysis of the American Party System.
12. England Today and Tomorrow.

The SANDSPUR will not appear Thursday, November 27, Thanksgiving Day. The final issue this term will come out on December 4.

Homecoming Queen To Be Crowned At Half Of Football Game

Biggest event of this year's homecoming weekend will be the homecoming queen during the half of the Ohio Wesleyan game. The queen and her two attendants, who will be selected by a vote of all men on campus, will be officially crowned by Dr. Holt, assisted by Parker Simpson, chairman of the homecoming activities.

The identity of the queen will be a closely-guarded secret until game time. Each men's group on campus will make one nomination in their Monday night meetings, and the queen will be elected from these candidates when the men vote in the Center Wednesday, November 26, from 10 to 4.

Student Council is also sponsoring an informal dance immediately after the game, scheduled to last from 11 to 1. Dancing will be in the Dubadread patio, which is being decorated for the occasion under the supervision of Carol Austen, who is keeping the decorative theme completely secret. Jimmy Wilcox and his new eight piece orchestra will provide music for the affair. The queen and her attendants will cut an elaborate cake, made in the form of a gridiron, and serve pieces to every member of the Ohio Wesleyan and Rollins teams. Then Dr. Holt will lead the queen in the first dance.

The following is a complete schedule of events for the homecoming week-end:

To Give Is Blessed

The various Chapel committees which are sponsoring the Christmas Fund Drive have had to extend the original time limit of the drive. The importance of this drive need not be commented on, but the reactions of the students who have been asked to give to it is one of which every Rollins student should be ashamed. The front page of this issue contains an article which tells how much of the goal of the drive has been fulfilled. The students have been asked to give whatever each one of them felt individually able to contribute. The demands on any one person have not been exorbitant. But apparently many of them seem to feel that they cannot "afford it."

It is not a question of being able to afford it or not. The people for whom we are asked to give cannot afford to starve and freeze, or spend their lives amidst prejudice and ignorance. Perhaps the money from the fund will not be able to help a great many people, but everything that we can do must be done, however insignificant it may seem. We should not say that we are being asked to give too much; rather, that we should give more than we are asked.

Next Thursday will be Thanksgiving. It is not really necessary to go into a long list of reasons why we should be thankful for this day — they are too self-evident. And it takes very little imagination to see the connection between our Thanksgiving Day and the persons of Europe and America whom we are asked to help. Thanksgiving Day is not just a day of happiness, and good cheer, it should really be a day of giving thanks to the Lord for the many blessings that we have received, and of showing our true thankfulness by giving some of what we have to others less fortunate than we.

In this way only can we celebrate a true and fruitful Thanksgiving. "Remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how He said, It is more blessed to give than to receive." H.E.

Unassuming yet mighty, sharp and pointed, well-rounded yet many sided, assiduously tenacious, yet as gritty and energetic as its name implies, victorious in single combat and therefore without a peer, wonderfully attractive and extensive in circulation; all these will be found upon investigation to be among the extraordinary qualities of the Sandspur.

The sergeant violently shook the sleeping figure. "Git up. Git out of that sack, you— Reveille." The figure stirred, snuffled asthmatically, and returned to total darkness. "Git up. You're going to be discharged." The figure leaped from his cot, transformed into purposeful activity and showing how eager he could be . . .

It was a mutual kindness to this young man and to the U. S. Army that his military career was so mercifully brief. It would be hard to imagine the army's effect on him, and even harder to visualize his possible effect on the army.

Thus freed from annoying obligations, the asthmatic individual embarked on a series of coast-to-coast adventures which would have made Scott Fitzgerald's mischievous youths pant with envy. Appropriately and by doubtful means, he arrived in California, resplendent with goatee and flowing dish-water hair. Then for no apparent reason he decided upon a career of higher education and enrolled at Pomona college. Off went the wig and chin foliage. "Men, you must be quaray-zee!" one of his former associates exclaimed. Don't be silly, Gypsy," he said. "I'm on a college kick now."

A Christmas in his native Chicago-land convinced him that winter was nowhere, that even Pomona was too cold. He came to Rollins. College was a nice kick, he thought. Why work? But the enterprising young man did work, sporadically but ingeniously, and thus (with help from Sam) propelled himself through college. The scope and humor of his financial undertakings would make a separate story, much longer than this one.

At college he learned about classical music, whereas his forte had once been mere knowledge, however encyclopedic, of Duke Ellington's orchestra and other miscellany attendant to the realm of hot jazz. He learned how to ramble impressively of literature and philosophy. But with the cats in Chi and The Apple he remained his old sweet self, for they would tolerate no such learned nonsense. Generally, he successfully resolved the dualism of his personal lives, keeping things fairly cool on both sides.

What he likes: Kafka, cheese omelets, Lt Abner, Mahler, Dixie Gillespie, automobiles, cats, Jo Press clothes, money, the Marx brothers, and a few unmentionables.

His pet peeves: seasoned food, squares, cold weather, policemen.

*Terrific No Good

Unfortunately, unforeseen difficulties made it impossible to run a sketch of Paula

The Ariste

"Yes, it is a tree—it is, it is, it is," she screams, pointing to a yellow splotch on her canvas, and waving her brush in your eyes.

"Australian pine?"

"No, no, no! Not Australian pine, not sycamore, not white birch! Just a tree—the essence of tree, you philistine!"

And she spits.

Yet Paula Shapiro is mild and sweet and a lady. She wouldn't harm a fly—if the fly liked George Grosz. If he was a Norman Rockwell fly, though, he might find ground glass on his fly paper.

To Paula, ART does not end with painting and sculpting life-sized ladies stranded on davenport. She was co-director of the Independent Show for two years—and learned patience. She danced and sang a snappy French number in last year's show—and fooled authentic Parisians into believing she was an authentic Philadelphian.

Painting, sculpting, the theatre—and music too. In Mexico, Paula traded an old tortilla for an old guitar. Strolling players offered her truckloads of pesos to accompany them, and every peon in Yucatan knew he as "la Chico Marx de la guitarra."

While in Mexico, she played tennis with the Governor of Toluca as her partner. This was very soul-satisfying, as one just doesn't lose to the Governor of Toluca. Paula hoped to go on and on with the Governor, and perhaps return to Rollins as tennis champion of Mexico, but, unfortunately, he had some minor revolutions to put down, and was rather short-winded from tequila anyway. To hide her disappointment, she learned Spanish and delivered a couple of Mexican babies.

Unoccupied moments, Paula ambles around, shirt and shorts artistically dirty—bridging, feeling pulses, comforting wild and lonely ones—all the time gathering material for the nightly letter to Chic. off-moments, she indulges her unnatural craving for Raisin All-Bran.

One small item that needs clearing up—despite any physical resemblance, the girl leaning over the corral-fence in "The Outlaw" is not Paula. Never!!!

Bulletin Board

The Coca-Cola bottling company, wishing to clear up some misunderstandings that have arisen because people think that Coca-Colas are still rationed, wants to emphasize once again that cokes are now available in quantities. Not only can they be sold for college affairs at regular wholesale prices, but the company will include with every such order a free refreshment bar and coolers for the cokes. All groups on campus are cordially invited to make use of this service.

etc.

Where he is going to end up; who knows? But he'll make out, don't worry.

PVM

Water Through A Sieve

The time for upper division papers is once again at hand, for some at least, and it's nice to be able to feel superior for a change, safe in the knowledge that ours were long ago approved. As usual, though, some interesting studies in personalities might be made on the personalities revealed by upper division letters. There never has been another to equal the masterpiece produced a couple of years ago by the gal who poured her heart out about the undertaker she was going to marry but didn't, but the board may be somewhat startled this year by the music major who lets them in on her real motives for teaching Sunday school last summer, to say nothing of telling all about the duets she used to have with a little boy who sang soprano to her alto. It's nice to know that being on such boards has its compensations after all. It ought to.

Good old Rollins — it's quite a place. Strolling calmly along the loggia Sunday night, contemplating with satisfaction a weekend's accumulation of mail, we were somewhat startled to hear the tempo of the walking feet behind us quicken suddenly to a desperate run. Turned around just fast enough to catch a glimpse of Mary Upthegrove dashing by, miraculously balancing two brim-full glasses of iced tea without spilling a drop in her frenzied flight. We never did find out why. Someone commented as she streaked past, "Rollins is such a wild place," and the last we heard of that incident was Mary's slightly hysterical laughter trailing off into the distance.

Our vote for the most embarrassing of printable embarrassing moments goes to an incident that has recently been called to our attention. It appears that an innocent little freshman girl was valiantly trying to perfect her diving technique by attempting one flip after another. Each dive seemed better than the last, and triumph was in sight — when catastrophe struck. The last dive, the one that was to be really perfect, came to a somewhat spectacular conclusion when the poor gal's bathing suit gave up the struggle in mid-air, and completely collapsed. Not just one strap, mind you. The whole thing just sort of disintegrated, and the swimmer was left to struggle to shallow water, clasping her tatters around her, and signal desperately to her roommate, to toss her raincoat in the water. Said roommate, thinking the whole thing a tremendous joke, took her own sweet time about the matter, but we hasten to add that the unfortunate one finally managed to get covered up all right.

At least we're leaving our successors with a comparatively orderly office. Gov finally overruled all objections Monday, and managed to clean up the mess, to a certain extent, at least. We can't help thinking that advertisers' bills for 1922 and old photographs of various football teams must be good for something, but maybe we're just sentimental. Anyhow, it's too late now. . . .

New Art Department Program Instituted

Student Works Will Now Be Displayed On Campus

Mr. Donald C. Gresson, Assistant Professor of Art, has inaugurated a new program in the Art Department which will allow a continuous exhibit of paintings, sculpture, and drawings throughout the entire year. These works will be on display in the Center, the Center Street Gallery, and Dean Cleveland's office.

Exhibits will be chosen by the Studio Club, recently re-activated, and will be changed on the average of every 10 days. Primary purpose of the program is to establish art as an everyday part of Rollins.

The Art Department has as its project this year the making of mural paintings for the Thomas R. Baker Museum of Natural Sciences. The mural will consist of 20 panels, totaling 500 square feet, and designed as a unified decoration. Subject will be "The Flora and Fauna of Florida".

Up until now Rollins has never had a program which allowed an exhibition throughout the year. Last year, one painting per week was placed on exhibition in the Center Street Gallery. At the end of the year an exhibit was given which contained the year's work. Under this new plan a year-round program will be in progress. It will allow the student body the opportunity of seeing the ability and talent of the art students.

Mr. Gresson eventually plans to establish a competition between the colleges in the South. He told of the competitive spirit between the colleges of Amherst, Williams, and Deerfield, which is a preparatory school, and of which he was a member of the Faculty before coming to Rollins. The competition among these schools was very keen. Enthusiasm was equal to that of athletics. There is a possibility that in the very near future it will be possible for Rollins, Florida Southern, and the University of Georgia to form an exchange program whereby the schools will exhibit work done in the other art departments.

Psalm For Bridgeomaniacs

Ely Culbertson in my shepherd;
A fourth I shall not want.
He maketh my hands to be a "Lay Down" in green pastures,
He restoreth my fainting soul
When my adversaries seek to double all my woes
And to heap penalties upon me in my vulnerability.
Yes, though I walk through the valley of the shadow
Of a doubled and vulnerable little-slam contract,
I will fear no evil,
For thou art with me, Oh Ely,
Thy kibitzings, they comfort me
When I play the hand at six no-trump,
And the enemy on my left hand
Finneseth against my dummy's lone club stoppers,
And the enemy on my right hand
Prepareth to run down his nine awaiting clubs . . .
But thou, Oh Ely, are with me,
And their finnessing faileth,
And I am led into the board's green pastures,
Where ten established tricks in hearts doth lie.
Surely dementia and schizophrenia
Shall follow me all the days of my life
For—unless I quickly cease to play this game—
I shall dwell in the House of Graystone forever.

Florida Colleges Hold Conference In Deland

Representatives of eighteen Florida colleges and universities will attend the joint convention of the Florida Intercollegiate Press Association and the Florida Student Government Association at Stetson University on November 21, 22. Bill Fisher, state secretary-treasurer announced last week.

Heading the program will be United States Senator Claude Pepper, one of the nation's outstanding speakers.

Mr. John D. Pennekamp, Associate Editor of the Miami Herald, and a nationally known newspaperman, will also address the meeting.

BachChoirProgram For Spring Given; Students Too Asked

With preparations for the Bach Festival in full swing, Dr. Christopher O. Hannas, director, has announced the completion of the Bach Choir enrollment with the addition of several of the most outstanding singers and musicians of the Central Florida community. This year, as in the past, the entire Rollins Chapel Choir will comprise part of the group, which is one of the finest Bach Choirs that Dr. Hannas has ever directed.

Prominent singers and instrumental soloists have been engaged and will be announced shortly.

On November 17, 1947 a social hour was held at the Utility Building lounge on Park Avenue. The new members were welcomed into the choir and refreshments were served.

To be presented this year in three programs will be:

The Mass in B Minor, excerpts from The Passion According to St. Matthew, Cantata No. 144 entitled "Take What Thine Is," and the Motet, "Jesu Priceless Treasure".

Sponsorships are still available. They may be obtained by sending a $10 check to Mrs. Sprague-Smith, El Cortez Apartments, Winter Park, Mrs. Sprague-Smith's telephone number is No. 155 Winter Park. Sponsors receive two tickets for each of the three main performances.

A special, condensed student's program will be given at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, March 6, 1948. Rollins students who reply promptly to the invitations that will be extended to them through their various social groups, will receive complimentary tickets to this performance. Remaining tickets will be offered to students in colleges and universities throughout the state of Florida. This will be the second time in the history of the Bach Choir that students from all over the state will gather at the Knowles Memorial Chapel to hear an all Bach program.

Serving as toastmaster at the joint banquet to be held at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, November 22, will be Fuller Warren, a popular Jacksonville attorney.

Convention officers are as follows: Robert A. Riekey, chairman; Bill Fisher, secretary-treasurer; C. L. Mullis, program chairman; and James W. Riddell, banquet coordinator.

Editorial Board Policy And Standards Given; Powers, Duties Defined

At the last meeting of the Editorial Board of Rollins College, held November 7, 1947, the following statement was agreed to as the policy of the Editorial Board:

The Editorial Board derives its powers and responsibilities through appointment by President Holt for the Board of Trustees.

It is the duty of the Editorial Board to review manuscripts for all publications of the College, to check for accuracy, adherence to policy, academic standard, literary style and typographical form.

Before manuscripts for proposed publications are submitted to the Editorial Board, it is required that they be approved as to content and financial provision by the individuals, department or division intended to be represented.

Before manuscripts for proposed publications are submitted to the Purchasing Agent's office for printing, it is required that they have the endorsement of the Editorial Board. In the event of emergency, the endorsement of two members of the Editorial Board is required, preferably the Chairman and Director of Publicity, or the Director of Public Relations.

Furthermore the Board wished to call to the attention of the faculty, staff and students that "it is a College requirement that two copies of every publication for which a faculty member, staff member or student is responsible be filed with the Librarian."

Women's Association Square Dance Given Wednesday, Rec Hall

New members of the Rollins Women's Association were guests of honor at a square dancing party held Wednesday at 8:00 at Recreation Hall.

Dr. Helen Moore, faculty member, was general chairman, assisted by Mrs. Nathan Starr, Mrs. Ralph Huntley, and Mrs. Alice Acree as the dance committee; Mrs. Alex Wuite, Mrs. Norman Gilbert, and Miss Ruth Fairchild were in charge of refreshments, and Miss Bessie Dow Huntington, Mrs. Gladys Henderson, Mrs. Donald Vincent and Miss Leona Lyle of the hospitality committee were assisted by the past presidents of the organization.

Alice Acree, women's physical education director, and two North Carolina students, Bob Smathers and Seet Justice, were callers for the typical steps of the Virginia Reel and other dances of New England and Southern colonial days.

The following are new members of the Rollins Women's Association: the Meses. Marston Allen, Nalley J. Bouton, Ernest Bryson, Theodore S. Durreck, Paul E. Fenlon, Rest Penner, George W. Freeman, Webber B. Haines, Walter B. Johnston, James McDonnell, Carl Mattson, Theodore E. Mischuck, John Nelson, Waldo Plympton, James H. Russell, Peter H. Schoonmaker, Gardner Sharpe, Russell P. Strange, Albert H. Weber and Fred J. Dexheimer. Also the Meses Barbara Bennett, Catharine Burrell, Ruth G. Edwards, Betty McCauslin, Bernice L. Maxwell, Lorile Weatherman and Margaret Waite.

'Post', Stetson Collaborate on Radio Program 'Typical Rollins Student' Reveals Life History

Ann: Today we present another program in our series, "Peepholes to Education." Our star today is precocious little Rollins College, set like a gem in Winter Park, the Greenwich Village of Central Florida. We have with us John Doe, chosen by the Board on Social Probation as the typical Rollins Student. Mr. Doe, you seem slightly tuckered out.

Doe: You bet I am. I just got out of Penmanship class. What a strain!

Ann: Are you having trouble?

Doe: I sure am. But I'm not one to shirk tough courses. What really gets me is that double-U. Can't make a double-U to save my life.

Ann: Well, perhaps with a little more application —

Doe: What'd you say?

Ann: I said that perhaps —

Doe: Listen you, you'd better watch out how you talk. We Rollins men have a name for that sort of remark, and if you don't want to have a little delegation over to visit you tonight, you'd better be a little more careful.

Ann: Ahem, I see . . . Well . . . uh . . . what other courses are you taking?

Doe: (Still Mad) Canoeing!

Ann: Is that all?

Doe: Is that all? Isn't that enough? I'm on an accelerated schedule. I work like a dog.

Ann: Ah, yes, I see . . . uh . . . Mr. Doe, that's certainly a chic outfit you're wearing.

Doe: (Pleased) This old thing? It's just an old family slack suit. Don Budge's mother embroidered the tennis balls on it when I was helping Don with his backhand.

Ann: Oh yes, I remember hearing him mention your name at Wimbledon. He said he owed all his success to you.

Doe: He does.

Ann: It seems to me that I've seen your face before, also. Were you ever at Biarritz?

Doe: Yes, quite often.

Ann: Well, I wasn't. Where could it be?

Doe: Oh, that must have been last March. I can truly say that that was one of the high spots of my life. Alcoholics Anonymous used my face on one of their circulars.

Ann: Really?

Doe: Yes, indeed. The caption under the picture said, "This man has not taken the cure. Are you in the clutches of John Barleycorn?"

Ann: How interesting!

Doe: Not only that, but I won a contest sponsored by Johnnie Walker for doing more chug-a-lugs in succession than any other undergraduate.

Ann: Johnnie Walker?

Doe: Yes, my roommate. The prize was a case of Dr. Peppers.

Ann: You certainly seem to come out first in anything you do.

Doe: True, true. I've played a great deal in bridge tournaments also, but I'm getting bored with that. Since Ely Culbertson took up foreign affairs, there isn't much competition. My friends, in jest, often call me "Two-down-doubled" Doe.

Ann: What a talented, accomplished person! Tell me, do you think Rollins could be improved in any way?

Doe: I should say so! Look at all the useless buildings cluttering up the campus — library, classrooms, administration building . . . What this school really needs is an indoor stadium, roughly the size of Madison Square Garden. Then

Murder My Sweet

This last weekend, the KA's Sadie Hawkin's Day race, the Sigma Nu's party at the Bun, the football game, and the Chi Omega Open House provided lots of fun, rest and relaxation, the rest and relaxation in extreme moderation, of course.

Seen tramping over to the KA house about two Saturday afternoons dressed in clothes suitable for Sadie Hawkin's Day were most of the Thetas. They were met with loud screams of "We're not ready yet," and "Where can I hide?" and "But she can run faster than I." What followed makes one feel sorry for the fellas, but they seemed to thoroughly enjoy it, and had a big party afterwards.

About the same time Saturday afternoon, the Sigma Nus and their dates took off for the Sigma Nu Run and a good time. Crowded into Palmer Tuthill's little car were his date, Betty Bitzer, and Gordon Marks and Ellie Cain. Bill Pitman took Nan Morgan while Harry Hegler amused Barbara Rawlings. We would like to know what started the water fight between Hoff and C. J. and what were Palmer, Bill, and C. J. trying to prove as they dived off a bridge fully dressed? Other couples having a wonderful time were Rhoda Knight and Dick Knot, Allison Henning, and Frank Markland, Pat Jenkins and Roy Whilden, and Helen Bockas and Ralph Reed, to say nothing of old standbys such as Mickey and Jim, and G. B., and Harry.

After a grand game, everyone gathered at the Chi Omega's open house, and the place was packed. It was mighty good to see Bill Rinck there even if he was swinging his crutches at Terry. Brock was up from Miami, and he and Lee seemed very happy. Ask Ken Neuburn why he lost his voice all of a sudden. Among others seen dancing were Jean Cartwright and Jerry Ferrans, Sheila Monroe and Chuck Brakefield, Carolyn Moss and James McMenemy, and Kirk and Fergie. The funniest thing of the evening was the expression on Long John Corliss' face when he won the door prize. It didn't take him long, however, to finish the turkey off, ably assisted by the Lambda Chi fraternity. All in all, the Open House had a huge success for the food disappeared early, and the couples stayed late.

we could have a real pole-vaulting team.

Ann: That's certainly a thought to tease the brain. I'm sure there are many people to agree with you.

Doe: Yes, and why have inter-collegiate auto-racing, and surf-board riding, and discus-throwing been neglected? And if we —

Ann: Yes, Mr. Doe, yes, yes, yes, but our time is drawing to a close. This program has been brought to you through the courtesy of Stetson University and the Saturday Evening Post. Next week we will journey to Mount Eggyolk College, for the final broadcast of our series, "Peepholes to Education."

Fred Stone Theatre To Open This Season With "The Old Maid"

"The Old Maid," which opens Monday evening for a three day run, marks the first production of the season in the Fred Stone Laboratory Theatre. It also represents the aim of Director Donald Allen to make the playhouse primarily a student workshop.

The function of the experimental theatre, announced by Professor Allen, is as a training center for theatre arts majors and other students interested in participating in the activities. He emphasizes that his plan is to concentrate upon acting and direction, while merely suggesting scenic effects, presenting plays in the manner of a studio theatre.

The presentation of Zoe Aikins' outstanding drama gives its cast an unlimited opportunity to display acting talents. Nan Van Zile and Barbara Coith make their initial appearance in the Fred Stone theatre in the leading roles. Others in the large cast include Suzanne Ferris, Virginia Estes, Betty Pottinger, Margie Mountcastle, Jinx Shekatoff, Carolyn Alfred, Jack Teagarden, Richard Glatzer, Charles Dawson, Frank Entwistle, and Bob Ferguson.

Succeeding presentations will also be selected for the benefit of student actors. Plays will be chosen to provide parts for as many students as possible keeping in mind those who have not had an opportunity to appear in the Annie Russell or the Laboratory theatre. Professor Allen hopes to present new scripts, preferably written by Rollins students.

Location Of Library Discussed By Council

President Hamilton Holt reported to the Student Council at its weekly Monday night meeting on the plans for the $500,000 library. There has been much controversy as to where the library is to be built, and Dr. Holt presented three alternatives.

The first of these is to put the library on the Horse Shoe facing Holt Avenue. This plan does not seem wise, however, as the students and faculty object to the location, and it would cut up the horse shoe, ruining the view.

The second plan is to put the library down near Recreation Hall, but Dr. Holt hinted that if the building was put there, Rollins would stand a good chance of losing the money to be given for the library.

The third and most logical plan is to put the library between Lyman and Lakeside.

The Council voted in favor of the last plan.

Bert Mullin, Robert Costello, and Sam Burchers were elected to go to Stetson as Rollins representatives for the veterans meeting.

Jim Ernster reported on the 1947-48 Tomokan, stating that after he had taken the lowest possible prices, and cut the year book as much as he could, he was still $2,000 over the $6,000 budget he was allocated. (Continued on page 6)

Tars Defeat Murray State 13-7 For Season's Fourth Victory

Playing before a handful of spectators the Rollins Tars scored their fourth victory of the current campaign beating Murray State 13-7. Taking advantage of the brilliant punting of H. B. Baxter, Rollins took the lead late in the first period when, after an exchange of punts, Horton ran through center for 37 yards to the Murray 14. Peacock made six yards on two tries and then Justice went around right end for a touchdown. Knecht converted and Rollins led 7-0.

Murray State came right back and Hobart took Baxter's punt and ran 47 yards for a touchdown. Sanders kick was good and the score was tied 7 all. From then on both teams threatened but were unable to break the deadlock. In the final period Hancock intercepted a Murray pass on the fifty and ran to the thirty one. On a series of power plays the ball was moved to the 3 where Darty went over to put Rollins out in front 13 to 7.

Murray came fighting back only to be stopped by a brilliant interception by Burke Chisholm who ran to the Murray 31. Peacock made a thrilling plunge through the center of the line for twenty six yards but it was called back for holding. The next play saw Murray recover a Rollins fumble on their own 34 yard line. With only a minute and a half remaining the losers opened up and moved the ball to the Rollins 40. The final play saw Otis Mooney intercept a desperation Murray pass on his own one yard line to end the game.

K.A. 40, Lambda Chi 0

The K.A.'s exploded in every way that it is possible for a football team to erupt on a gridiron to swamp the Lambda Chi's 46-0 in a Sandspur Bowl League rout Friday afternoon.

The K.A.'s scored the first three times that they had the pigskin in their possession.

The team that Coach Bill Custer has assembled is perhaps the finest, well-balanced team ever to appear in the Sandspur Bowl. Friday they did everything a team could do on offense and on defense and did it all perfectly.

Six different K.A.'s scored for the victors. Paul Kleinfelder had three touchdowns, Buddy McBride, Hank Osten, Dave Beach, and John Fitzgerald one each, while McBride converted twice, and Osten and Duck Talton one each.

X Club 12, Delta Chi 7

In a repetition of their first meeting which ended with the same score X Club downed Delta Chi 12-7 in a tight ball game. The X Club went out in front on Goodwin's pass to Cox only to have Delta Chi come back to take the lead on Burchers 65 yard run through the center of the line. Burchers kicked the extra point. However the victors were not to be denied another score, Cox scoring on a pass from Goodwin.

Girls Intramural Basketball features Five Exciting games

Five basketball games were played this week, the first two being on Monday Nov. 10th. between the Kappas and the Independents and the Thetas and New Students.

The Kappas poured on the heat in the second half of the game with 26 points to defeat the Independents 31-18. The score at the half was 10-5, the Independents in the lead. Capt. Nancy Morrison held the top scoring honors with 14 points.

In the second game of that day, the Thetas proved too much for an impressive looking New Students team by quickly running up a score of 12 points in the first quarter. The final score of the game was 40-19. Norma Depperman turned in 23 points for the Theta's.

Wednesday, Nov. 12, the Pi Phi's won their first game of the season by defeating the Phi Mu's 30-24. Jean Brown was high scorer for the game with 14 points.

In the second game, the Alpha Phi's narrowly squeezed out a one point, 28-27, decision over the previously undefeated Chi O's. Ginny Gates held top scoring honors with 13 points.

Friday in the game between the Independents and the New Students, the Independents went on a scoring spree in the third quarter only to have their margin cut down to a defeat by some quick baskets by Judy Baker and Dana Abbott of the New Students team. Virginia Guarisco lead the scoring with 10 points.

By Jim McMenemy

The Tars have now brought themselves up to a very commendable record of four victories and two defeats which is good in anybody's book. The next game is with Otterbein College on Saturday night. Let's see a big crowd out there making a little noise. I think Dixie Redding was a little disappointed in us the other night. Seemed kind of quiet out there.

About that all star game between the Kappa Alphas this year's champion and an all star group composed of the best of the also runs. If the coaches of these squads would get together and pick twelve to fourteen players with at least one coming from each team we could have the game.

The men's intramural golf tournament qualifying round starts Friday and continues through Sunday. The rules are that each group has to have at least three and not more than five to get the entrance points. Qualifying may be done in a twosome, threesome, or foursome, and at least two teams must be represented. You need thirty six holes to qualify and the first sixteen get in. So get the dust off the clubs and go to it.

X Club 20, Independents 0

The X Club scoring three times in the first half coasted to their fifth victory over the hapless Independents. Led by Hymie Goodwin and Harvard Cox the victors were too much for the losers who lack a capable passer.

Office Announces New Registration Schedule

Information concerning registration for the winter term will be issued the last of this week. Since the procedure will be somewhat different from that of last year, each student is asked to check the announcement carefully and to make an early appointment with his adviser if he contemplates any change from the schedule made out at the beginning of the year.

All changes in schedule must be filed at the Office of the Registrar by Monday, December 1. If a course is filled, the student's name will be placed on the waiting list for that class. It will be assumed that the schedule filed at the beginning of the year is correct if no revised schedule is filed by December 1.

All students except those taking Psychology 111 will register Wednesday through Friday, December 3-5, obtaining their approved schedule blanks and registration cards at the Administration Building and their physical education cards at the office in Carnegie Hall. The registration card may be filled out wherever it is convenient but must be returned with the physical education card to the Office of the Registrar not later than Friday afternoon; otherwise, it will be necessary to wait until December 15 to register and any place in an over-registered class will be forfeited.

The students taking Psychology 111 will call for their schedules

Gently Down The Stream

College is a strange place! One becomes so enthralled in all its activities that sometimes its difficult to distinguish between an earnest student and a raving maniac. It may be football, chemistry, swimming, philosophy, music or the theater that does it. Ken Fenderson sits and screams at the sidewalk; Bud Wilson quotes logarithms backwards; "Doze" talks himself into swimming ten lengths after running five miles; Terry Weaver sings softly in all her classes; Pere Hubbard claims everything is a product of his imagination which is playing tricks on him these days; Joe Friedman repeats emphatically "WLOF, Orlando, Florida"; while Willa Michaels is diligently learning to count now that accounting is on her schedule.

Did you ever become annoyed at the sameness of things? One member of the Rollins Family has. She announced to a dazed group that she plans on standing on the table in her A period class and screaming to the top of her lungs—just to see what people would do.

and registration cards at the Office of the Registrar Tuesday through Friday, December 9-12, returning them, together with their physical education cards, by Friday afternoon, December 12.

Shouldn't the psychiatrist be given advanced notice?

The profound statement of the week came from Jeanne Volkert, who proclaimed vehemently, "I'm glad I'm not a genius, they're so odd." While from the realm of Theatrics we have Susan Ferris insisting both on the stage and off, "I'm never tired."

The lakefront is an interesting place to be in the afternoon. This writer is more amazed every day at Dick Every. He not only is an excellent politician, but he also skis beautifully. I've heard that his skiing technique is thoroughly unorthodox, but the result is fascinating to watch.

Those two delightfully foolish people, Dick Rankin, and Hank Gooch ask to be remembered. Hank is at Rice—Dick at the U. of Syracuse. Another smiling face who's sorely missed is Tony Consolli—now at Columbia.

The Phi Beta Candlelight service held Sunday night was a very impressive occasion. It's nice to be reminded that good still prevails. Speaking of good, the Chapel Fund Drive needs help. This is a student responsibility and should be taken seriously. If you haven't contributed, don't wait to be asked. Display a little initiative, and go and find a Chapel Staff member. He'll be glad to take your contribution, and your conscience will feel much better when you've done your share.

The K. A.'s kept their undefeated string intact when they knocked off the Sigma Nu's 21-0 in a Sandspur Bowl game last Wednesday.

In the first half a reverse from Buddy McBride to Paul Kleinfelder climaxed in a successful pass to Dave Beach who scored touchdown number one for the K.A.'s.

The K. A. rushed two more t.d.'s over in the second half, one on a fine 60 yard run by Paul Kleinfelder and the other when Duck Talton intercepted a Sigma Nu pass and romped 20 yards for the last touchdown to the game.

Hank Osten converted once and Buddy McBride twice to account for the three extra points.
