Tiedtke Rejects Council Program

Center Proposals Vetted

Pelican Comes Under Fire

Student Council took their capably as an advisory body on the Center recently last week when they submitted a six-point program recommending changes in administration of the Student Center. However, only one of their recommendations was approved by College Treasurer John Tiedtke.

Council also heard complaints about the Pelican, voted an election to decide the fate of basketball, and passed the decision on girls wearing shorts in Beane's to the Student-Faculty Social Committee, before giving themselves a legislative holiday.

Dean Feels Fine But Auto Accident Keeps Her At Home

Dean Cleveland is back home after a week at Orange Memorial Hospital where she was treated for shock and minor injuries received in an automobile accident November 26.

The Rollins dean of women was injured when her car was side-swiped by another automobile. She collided with the other car at about 8 in the evening while looking for the road to Professor Huntley's house where she was to have dinner.

According to Mrs. Wilson, who visited the dean at Orange Memorial last week, although the dean is still weak, she is much better and feeling very well. Dean Cleveland will not be in her office for the rest of this term.

Lost Something? Found Something? There's A Place To Go

The lost and found department, which is located in Miss Fairchild's office at the Administration building, list the following articles:

Lost: Ruth Pale-Waller; Betty Williams—a blue and gold Parker 51; Alice Beresquist—a gold and black watch band; Louisa Clarkson—a red wallet; Ronnie Frymire—a tan, cloth jacket with a leather back; and a woman in a theatre, a pair of glasses in an embroidered case.

Found: A red and white striped vest jacket with Dickson-Tyler label, found by Fux Hall night of Homecoming; four pens, pearl compact found at Duke, Oct. 11; Ronson lighter; silver bracelet with gold watch; silver I. D. with initials C. D.; and a tiny Shaffer pen.

Enraptured To Give Traditional Reading At Xmas Party

This year, as before, Dean Enraptured will read Dickens' Christmas Carol as the main feature of the Rollins Christmas Party which will be held December 12 in the Rollins Center.

When asked when he first started reading the Carol, Enraptured said, "I was brought up on it." It all started when he was reading it to a group of friends at his home. Miss Adolphs, the Secretary of the Chapel, then asked him if he wouldn't read the Carol for the student and faculty who stayed at Rollins for the Christmas holidays. Later Miss Adolphs suggested that he read it for the whole Rollins Family before they went home.

Dean Enraptured said, "I like to do it as long as people want it, but I feel embarrassed because of the repetition. The same people come every year."

Profs, Teachers May Join Forces

"Will Rollins English teachers pool resources and work with the newly-organized Central Florida Council of English, or remain a single unit and work separately?" was the question discussed at Tuesday night's meeting of the Rollins English Department before a talk by Mr. Mendell on "Methods of Teaching Freshman Composition."

Founded by Dr. Starr, an informal English Teachers' Association has been in existence for the last two years. Its members, consisting of high school and college teachers from the Winter Park-Orlando area, meet once every five weeks to discuss common problems.

About a month ago four members of the Rollins English Department attended a luncheon given by English teachers from Orlando, who had conceived the idea of organizing a group which would include English teachers and librarians representing a much broader area. This resulted in the Central Florida Council of English, with Miss Anna Herold, a teacher at Memorial Junior High in Orlando, as president. Hoping to become affiliated with the active national organization, the council will hold four meetings a year.

According to Dr. Starr, much could be said about the worth of such an organization. Not only will there be a greater understanding of the problems confronting the student changing from high school to college English, but by working together English teachers can correlate work, so that the student is more adequately prepared for college English.

I.R.C. Readies For Southeastern Conference To Be Held At Gainesville

The International Relations Club held an important meeting last Thursday. Discussed were plans for the Southeastern Regional Conference to be held at Gainesville, Florida, the week of February 12. The University of Florida will be host this year as all the International Relations Clubs in the Southeast. All students who are interested in attending this conference should contact Club President Joe Propp as soon as possible. Further details of the conference will be announced at the next meeting of the International Relations Club, January 12th.

Tentative plans have been announced by the University of Florida concerning the schedule of events to be presented. A well-known speaker on international affairs will be present to address the gathering. As yet, his name has not been announced. Also, social affairs are being planned to take care of the group. This is an excellent opportunity for Rollins students to see first-hand the workings of the International Relations Clubs of the Southeastern region.

Basketball Is Back As Varsity Sport

Rollins Will Play Ten Home Games; McDowell To Coach

Basketball was added to the Rollins agenda of inter-collegiate athletics last Tuesday, December 6th, when 307 students cast their ballots yes, on the much debated issue. Out of 439 students who voted, only 28 were against it, while 32 expressed a desire for basketball next year.

Immediately after the vote were counted Coach McDowell called a meeting of all candidates who will try out for the varsity team. Plans were laid to begin practice Tuesday evening in Rec Hall in preparation for the 15 or 20 game schedule which Rollins will play. Practices will be held every evening thereafter until the season opens.

The schedule includes ten home games to be played at the Orlando Armory. Out of seven contests will see the Tar five facing teams only within the state in probable meetings with the University of Florida, Southern, Tampa, Miami, FSU, and Stetson.

The new addition will be financed by an $1800 loan from the college to the athletic department. This amount will be paid back through a $3 increase of the Students Association fee next year. An additional $5 was voted to be added to the students athletic fee to help promote basketball and basketball for Rollins.

Except for a span of three years during '39, '40 and '41 this is the first time Rollins has had a basketball team since the early thirties. When it was revived in '39 it was able to boast a mediocre season even though the material was coached by a student. The '41 season was the Tar five win 13 of its 20 games and enter the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association tournament where it was eliminated in its first game. During that year the Rollins team won the Florida district title to close out its most successful season before it was discontinued before the 1941 season.

Now after eight years Rollins will again enter basketball circles. The opening schedule will be announced at a later date.

Chapel Drive Standings Given

A successful conclusion to the Children's Charity Drive is foreseen by the members of the chapel staff who are engaged in contacting every member of the student body, faculty and staff for contributions to this very worthy cause.

To date out of all the students or faculty members have been contacted but it is hoped that by the time vacation starts the $1500 goal of the Children's Charity Fund will have been reached.

As of Monday, December 5th the total thus far in the drive was as follows:

Cash and pledges	$1,064.35
Balance needed	435.65
There are four groups on the campus that have contributed 100% to the charity drive. They are—Alpha Phi, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Alpha Phi Lambda. They are closely followed by Chi Omega with 90% and Phi Beta Phi with 80%.
A complete listing of all the campus groups with their respective contribution follows:

STETSON INVADERS REPULSED BY SLEEPLESS ROLLINS COMMANDOES

Try Outs Open To All For New Annie Russell Play

Tryouts for "Dark of the Moon" a folk play by Howard Richardson will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday, December 9th at the theatre.

This next production of the Rollins Student Players, the play by Willard Dorsett, will be presented during the week of January 24th.

This play, which is based on a folk legend of the Smoky Mountains, has 26 speaking parts and several group scenes which will require about 14 people. "Dark of the Moon" is taken directly from the folk ballad of Barbara Allen who fell in love with a witch boy.

This play will be the first folk play to be presented by the Rollins Student Players. The play has previously run for about nine months on Broadway.

Mr. Dorsett, director of the production said, "Of course all these plays at the Annie Russell are open to all students and I am hoping that a good many of the students will try out for 'Dark of the Moon'."

MORSE GALLERY SHOW

Next week in the Morse Gallery of Art, the Furecocks "Enthroned Madonna" will be shown in a pre-Christmas one picture exhibit.

As Professor McKean, art director, brings out, "The Madonna" was painted to be shown by itself over an altar, not among rows of other pictures in a museum."

The picture will be displayed in a setting which as nearly as possible duplicates the original setting and lighting.

Bernard Berenson, a provincial Tuscan painter, known to the contemporary art world as the "Master of Paoletti," is thought to be the painter of the "Enthroned Madonna."

Rollins Newsreel To Get Pre-Christmas Showing

The first edition of the Rollins Newsreel, film on aspects of campus life at Rollins, is nearing completion and will be shown in the Annie Russell Theatre sometime before Christmas vacation.

This edition will deal with this year's Homecoming activities. The entire Homecoming parade will be shown in color. Also seen will be parts of the Davidson game.

As present, Milton Blakemore, and his staff of assistants are working on the job of writing the narration and editing the film.

Exhibition At Casa

The exhibition at the Casa Iberta of art and paintings from Central and South America is a part of the collection of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Foster of Orlando. The exhibit will be on display in the Casa Iberta until Dec. 14, and will be open to the public from 2-4 daily except Wednesdays and Saturdays.

Stetson Replies To Rollins Gunpowder With Wet Paint

Alarm System Pays Off

Stetson Boys Captured

By TOM PICKENS

Wet paint, gunpowder, daredevil driving, and wet paint were much in evidence last week, highlighting the annual pre-game mayhem between Rollins College and Stetson University. In general things were a big success from a Rollins point of view, as Stetson forces took a licking coming and going.

Rollins started things off, launching an expeditionary force of two vans and fourteen men that landed commandeered in the Stetson campus in the small hours of Monday morning. It was a well-planned operation. While two men from one car strolled nonchalantly across the campus slipping paint bottles and you in the form of big blue K's a detachment from the other car was heaping twenty-five pounds of gunpowder in the middle of the most prominent lawn they could find. After giving the painting crew time to clear out, operation blast 'em touched off the powder which went up in a cloud of flame only slightly more impressive than Hirschman. Rollins made its escape even while the Stetson men came pouring out of their dorms in all their heroic wrath.

Defenses Set Up

Fearing retaliation, Rollins set up a defense system on Monday night around the perimeter of school. At the same time Stetson students held a mass meeting where it was decided to strike back at Rollins on Wednesday, thereby giving the defense forces a couple of nights to sweat it out.

On the appointed eve Rollins defenders became suspicious that something was up when they spotted several cars drifting past campus suspiciously bailing with occupants. First blood was drawn when an unmarked auto parked in front of the art museum. A car was pushed across the street in front of the Lambda Chi house thereby closing all passage and a Rollins patrol flushed the invader out of cover. He came roaring up the street with his lights out until he reached the barrier, whereupon the driver choked, the car stopped, and those inside were pounced upon with savage glee and hauled off to one of the fraternity houses.

Alarm Spread

As the alarm spread about school that Stetson was in the immediate vicinity, a scout car reported that two more enemy vehicles had been located at the varsity club. A pair of Rollins cars loaded up with men and took off after them. Stetson spotted them coming and made a break for the open highway. One car got away. The other made the mistake of letting his pursuers draw abreast of him.

What followed made strong men sob aloud. It looked like a long war on wheels. For a distance of two miles innocent drivers were forced to evert off the highway to avoid sudden annihilation as the three cars tore up the roads at prohibitive speeds trying to maneuver each other into a ditch.

Beatty Treatments

All captives were given free beauty treatments at the Sigma Nu barber shop and then released. The next night the Stetson Hatter was back burning with indignation. Early in the evening the invaders painted the west end of school. The women's dorms developed a pos at green S's. After this everything was quiet and it appeared that the Stetson invaders, pleased with their success, had withdrawn.

But at three in the morning messengers raced through campus (Continued on Page 3, Column 3)

Might Makes Power Federalists Told

Saute on Discussion Panel With Davis, Schafer, Sayers

At the panel discussion held last week by the World Federalists, several points in the Federalist theory were strongly brought out by panelists Dr. George Saute, Hugh Davis, Jack Sayers and Bill Schafer.

Dr. Saute brought out the fact that true federalism does not advocate the scaling down of military forces, with the world situation as it is today. "I feel that we can still exercise our economic and moral leadership," he stated, "however, the power is in the military might, we can't shun that."

Further discussing the problems presented by the modern civilized world, panelists were faced by the significance of the advancement of science. "I want, as nearly as I can, to go on living my life as I have up to now, in the world I'm used to," was Sayers' contribution. This statement evoked from Dr. Saute the reply, "Some of us would rather see the world improved somewhat."

To this Sayers replied, "In the 2,000 years of the Christian era, we have improved to the A-bomb; I think that it's high time we stopped improving."

Maintaining a staunch U. S. supremacy attitude throughout the discussion, Sayers summed up his theory with, "As long as world leadership is maintained by military might, I want the U. S. to be it; I don't want the U. S. to weaken in any way, shape or form."

On a warning note, Bill Schafer added, "I don't believe the U. S. should attempt to interfere with the sovereign rights of the nations."

The hope and aim of the organization was summed up by President Hugh Davis. "There is no question in my mind that there will be a one world brought about under the unifying influence of one overall government."

An announcement to the effect that legal counsel and director of the United Nations, A. H. Feller, will speak at Rollins at the Jan. 4 assembly, was made by Dr. Saute. Mr. Feller, who is one of the top figures in international law, will also speak Jan. 3 at the Congressional Church.

FANCY BALL PLANNED

The Lambda Chi announced last Monday that they're holding their annual costume ball the second weekend after the holidays. "In all probability the dance will be held at the Ocala County Club," President George Franklin said. "The reason for the premature announcement is for every one to have enough time to get together and think up some original costumes while at home," he continued.

Rampaging Tars Scuttle Hatters In Bitter Game, 19-14

Joe Swicegood, Horton Spark Underdog Tars

December 2, 1949—

This was a memorable evening as Rollins defeated Stetson 19-14. After a first quarter of infrequent fumbling, Stetson scored first to lead 7-0. Following Hinkley's pass to the Tars' 42, Dean broke through center from where he outdistanced the secondary for a touchdown. Williams' conversion was good.

Rollins came right back, however, spearheaded by the great defensive work of Joe Swicegood. On fourth down, Swicegood tackled a punt and he raced to the Hatter right. Horton marched over from the one for the touchdown to make the score 7-6. Shortly afterwards, Swicegood made another great play as he intercepted a Hinkley pass and "stumbled" to the Hatter six from where Barrington plunged over for the Tars' second touchdown. Kuehl's conversion was good and Rollins led 13-7 at halftime.

To start the second half, the Tars, through good blocking and the able running of Bryson, Barrington and Gray, drove to the Hatter thirty-six. On the next play, Kenny Horton tossed a perfect pass to make the score Rollins 19, Stetson 7.

With seconds remaining, Stetson scored its second touchdown. After Rollins had passed to the Rollins 16, Delta again passed laterally to Mascione who passed to Jesinski for six points. Williams' conversion was good. At the final gun, Rollins had won a thrilling battle from Stetson, 19-14.

MERRY XMAS FROM THE SPORTS STAFF

K.A.s, X Club Set Hot Pace; Second Round End In Sight

Last Monday the K.A.s slaughtered the Alpha Phi Lambda 22-0. The K.A. team, using their superior skill and experience, sped to paydirt soon after the opening whistle. The McHryde to McDowell pass combination was working to perfection.

Tuesday saw the Lambda Chi roll over the first T.D. against the mighty X Clubbers. But their lead was short lived as the Clubbers went on to win easily 32-6. With Williams pissing accurately to Swacker and Chambers, the men from Gale scored almost at will.

The best game of the week was played on Wednesday when the K.A.s tangled with the Sigma Nus. The score was deadlocked at 8-0 until late in the second half. K.A. then broke through and hit paydirt. Just before the final whistle K.A. kicked a field goal to make the final score 10-0.

Thursday found the Alpha Phi Lambda pummed against the Delta Chi. It was a scoreless tie until shortly after half time, Dick Prue then threw a short pass to Mayer for a T.D. The Phi Lambda couldn't get going and the Delta Chi scored again in the final minutes. Score: 12-0, Delta Chi.

Friday the Independents tried to sport the Lambda Chi but came out on the short end of a 19-0 count. The Indies play good ball at times but can't seem to put together a sustained drive. Dan Simon continued to throw his accurate passes for the Lambda Chi.

As of December 2, the intra-mural touch football standings for the second round show signs of close play. The remaining games will decide the crown which is now shared by the X Club and K.A.s. Sigma Nu and Lambda Chi, however, are always strong contenders for an upset. The Independents, Delta Chi and Alpha Phi Lambda will put up a last ditch stand to rise above the break-even point.

Student Body, Squint Celebrate Tar Victory

By SQUINT

For a change everyone in the student body seems happy because we won a ball game. In fact I would like to compliment the students for the grand support that they gave the team on Friday night. It was especially gratifying to the members of the team to receive the tremendous ovation that was given them as they took the field for the second half.

Joe Swicegood, as we all know, played a whale of a game and set up two of Rollins' three touchdowns by blocking a punt and running it to the six yard line, and moments later by intercepting a pass and carrying it to the Stetson eight. Not taking anything away from Joe, I'd like to say that the entire team starred as far as I'm concerned. They showed it in their hard blocking and vicious tackling. But more important is the fact that the team came from behind to win. When a team is behind and doesn't get that "let-down" feeling, it is a team to be proud of.

To the ten seniors who played their last game, Harry Hancock, G. W. Mooney, Buzzy Rodenbaugh, Glen Barrington, Seet Justice, George Franklin, George Johnson, Stokes Smith, Bobby Riggs, and Jim Bedortha, I would like to say that I know that you are glad that it is over but I feel that you would not have traded the laughter, thrills, heartaches, and tears that have been crowded into your four years of football at Rollins for anything in the world.

Kappas Take Cage Lead; Hot Race For Second Place

As the girls' intramural basketball season draws to a close, Kappa takes the lead and three teams, Theta, Alpha Phi and the Independents, tie for second place. The final results will be given next week.

Kappa slipped into first place when they outplayed Theta to win by a score of 40-34. They also downed Gamma Phi in another exciting game when they piled up 53 points to 10 for Gamma Phi. The Independents came back fighting and won three games in a row. In the first they squelched Gamma Phi 36-20, then Phi Phi with a score of 52-33. The last game was a thriller as the freshmen put up a strong fight only to lose 53-31.

Also vying for second place is Theta which chalked up two wins last week, once over Chi-O and again over the third second-place team, Alpha Phi, 40-36.

Not to be outdone, Alpha Phi conquered Gamma Phi with a ruffian one-sided score, 35-16. Here's a thanks to all the spectators that showed up for the games this season. As they'll all say, it was really worth it for the girls really put on a good show.

Rollins Net Stars Sweep State Tourney

By PAUL BINNER

Last week Rollins tennis supremacy again asserted itself in Florida as representatives of the Blue and Gold reached the finals of every division for which they were eligible. The Tar netters applied the winning men's finalists, all four women's semi-finalists, the winning women's doubles team, and the runners-up in the men's doubles.

In the men's finals, Rick Badders blasted the University of Miami's Sidney Schwartz 6-3, 6-1, 4-2 to become Florida state champion. Throughout the match Rick proved entirely too steady for the hard-hitting Schwartz. Time after time Rick passed Schwartz, or forced him into error as he came to the net. The Miamian failed to break the Rollins' big service even once, while Rick broke Sid's several times in each set.

The all-Rollins women's semis combined the expected with the unexpected. Doris Jensen upheld her top-seeding by defeating Ewing McAllister 6-0, 6-3, while Hether Nichols pulled her second straight upset by toppling second-seeded Ruth Page 6-3, 6-3. In the finals, Doris again showed why she was seeded first by refusing to be another upset victim as she battled from 0-3 in the first set and 1-4 in the second to win the match and title 6-4, 6-7.

The women's doubles finale was just a case of too much power and experience against game, but young opposition. The two women's finalists, Doris and Hether teamed up to defeat Sue Herr and Joan Woodbury 6-4, 6-3 to win the state title.

The men's doubles provided the day's only setback as Rick and Norm Copeland bowed to the

Ole' Jughaid

One of the best defensive men Rollins has had on its football team in the past few years was presented his sweater as game captain in last week's thrilling 19-14 victory over Seaton.

Harry has been a familiar figure on the Rollins sport scene ever since the Fall of 1946, when he enrolled, after completing 2½ years service in the Air Corps. In addition to being Rollins' first-string center for the seasons of '47, '48, and '49, Hancsek has been a hard-hitting outfielder on Coach Joe Justice's baseball nines for the same number of years. In his spare time he managed to play basketball on "Doc" O'Brien's entry in the Class A City League in Orlando for two seasons.

In addition to the eight letters he will have acquired by the time of graduation next June, Harry will carry away many other honors. He is at present vice-president of the Student Council; president of the X Club Fraternity; a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, president of the Interfraternity Council and president of the R Club.

This hard-tackling linebacker played football, basketball and baseball in Clearwater High School, and won three letters in each of the sports. He had a scholarship in the University of Florida, but before he had been there a full semester, he went into the service. After serving as a navigator on a B-29, he changed his mind about the University and came to Rollins. In his summers, Harry has played catcher on the semi-professional Clearwater Bombers football team. During the six summers that the 25-year-old Hancsek has played on the team it has won the Florida State Championship for four smooth-working and well established team of Frank Froehling and Jerry Crowther 6-4, 5-7, 6-3. This battle again proved that two good singles players aren't always superior to a well-functioning doubles combination.

(Continued from Page 3, Col. 3) on the field Friday night. To be sure it was a rough game with tempers flaring on both sides. After one of the rough plays, Rollins had the ball and as they went back into a huddle one of the Seaton players said something. George Franklin came back from the huddle and told the Seaton boys that if they really wanted to get beat he would call a time out and both teams could mix it up at fistfights for a while.

Speaking of rough plays reminds me of an incident that was supposed to have taken place during the recent North Carolina-Notre Dame game. After an argument over a rule infraction in which the Tar Heels were penalized five yards, a North Carolina player came over to the referee and said he "stank." The referee immediately poked off fifteen more yards and asked the North Carolina player if he could smell him from there. (Thank you Arthur Godfrey).

straight years and has gone once to the semi-finals and once to the finals, respectively, of the National Softball Tournament.

Another notable achievement is the fact that the Maskingam game and last week's affair have been the only two football contests that Harry has not been able to play in during his college career.

Independent Men Clinch Golf Trophy

Banging out a total of 326 strokes, the Independent golf team edged out the K.A.'s by a ten stroke margin. This automatically clinches the trophy and twenty-five points for the Independents. The Seeter Rides Again

Four years ago the Rollins College football team was blessed with a dynamic bundle of talent hailing from Asheville, North Carolina. Last Friday the little man with the educated toe was chosen as a co-captain in the Rollins-Seaton game.

Neil (Seet) Justice, has been the man upon whom Coach Joe Justice has called time and time again to pull Rollins out of a ticklish situation.

Seet graduated from Lee Edwards' High School in Asheville, where he won two letters in football. In May of 1944 he entered the Navy. Upon his discharge in 1946 he enrolled in Rollins, where he has been a valuable asset to both the football and basketball teams.

Justice began as a triple-threat back in 1946, but the recurrence of an old shoulder injury forced him to give up most of his running and passing duties and to concentrate on kicking. In the department he has done very well, averaging during the 1946 season, a little over forty-three yards a kick. His longest kick, where the ball sailed over seventy yards, was against Newberry, where the ball sailed over seventy yards. The fans who saw that game might remember the terrific running and passing he did that night also. If it hadn't been for his shoulder, Seet might have won All-American fame, as did his brothers, Joe and Charlie.

FAULTY FINGERS

Overhead: "Did you take this time for all good men to come to the aid of their party?" without a mistake. Of course, once in a while I hit the wrong key, a mysterious, gimmick that hurls the carriage across the room, knocking me, typewriter, and my new alarm clock to the floor. However, as time is the great healer, I have finally mastered the art of typing; and I am proud to say that I am now able to type five words a minute without a single error. My advice to those of you who aspire to similar heights is this: "Work hard, keep your goal in mind, and you will be successful."

PROFILE: MARTY ROWSEY

By MARIAN EBERSON

"My major? Why, it's English, of course—can't you tell by my bloodshot eyeballs?"

This startling statement comes from Marty Rowsey, whose main distinction is that she talks faster than anybody in school. And if you stop listening for even ten seconds, you'll miss just that many witticisms. She is often seen jabbering furiously, making weird faces, and bugging her eyes out, which means only that she's telling jokes, of which she has a priceless collection. (Which brings us to her favorite novel, "The Great American Ox.") Her other talents include playing the triangle by ear, and a very hoarse voice ("I sing four octaves off the base end of the piano"). Her pet musical instrument, however, is her 1941 Underwood typewriter, which she swears the Smithsonian wanted to put under glass. She also excels at golf: "I won the second flight intercollegiate match at Duke last year," she announced modestly; adding that the only other entrant defaulted. "But, undaunted, I went on to victory."

Outside of these accomplishments, Marty is Pan-Hellenic proxy and also presides over the "Blue-and-blue" girls at Pugsley. This is her second year at Rollins, having transferred from the University of Oklahoma. Like everyone else here, she loves the place; and like everyone else, she can't wait to get out. After graduation this June she doesn't plan to do a darn thing. Says Marty, "I'm just going to rest a while."

Hurry! He Can't Stand There All Day!!

That's not an illusion you're seeing: It's a porpoise actually standing on his tail at the above attractive young lass tempts him with a delicious muller.

Daredevils Rub Noses With Sharks

By TOM PICKENS

Ever see a shark rubbing noses with a man? Well you can. Thirty-five miles north of Daytona Beach, within easy striking distance of the Pelican is a unique resort which offers something different in the field of weekend relaxation. One of its main attractions are the daredevil divers who regularly plunge into huge tanks full of salt water to handfeed sharks, porpoises, and other assorted denizens of the deep.

MarineLand is the only place in the world where captive sealife is allowed to associate with itself instead of being segregated into separate tanks. Because of this it offers rare opportunities for camera bugs. Through any one of more than 200 portholes set in the sides of the tanks one can photograph all sorts of fairly doings against a background of a carefully reconstructed shipwreck and a seven-ton coral reef freight with caves and colorful rock grottos.

Three huge electrical pumps, capable of pumping 5,700 gallons a minute keep the tanks supplied with fresh salt water. In case the works go down an emergency unit takes over.

Visitors can make a complete weekend out of MarineLand. The Oceanarium's facilities stretch along a mile of sea front and includes a restaurant, overnight cabins, bar, and if you're nautically inclined, a yacht dock. The ocean is right in MarineLand's backyard and if you haven't had enough fish already you can try your hand at catching some of your own.—T. P.

STETSON INVADERS

The enemy started to try a mad dash through school. Immediately the air was full of flying bullets and flying glass. Four cars were blocked off and captured. The ones that escaped were pursued and once more the public highways were made hideous for the innocent.

The Stetson boys captured were once more treated to victory haircuts and were also made to clean all the paint off the buildings. It had been originally planned to parade the captives about campus on Friday and hand them back to Stetson during half-time festivities at the football game. But the prisoners eloquently pleaded that if they were not back at school by eight in the morning they would be expelled. Out of the goodness of their hearts, Rollins released them.

TIEDKE REJECTS

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 7) group after the conclusion of their visits to the Pelican. Heretofore, any money given to Lucy had been given as a tip. However, Lucy has been asking for the money, to the point of writing letters to the groups asking for it. A committee was appointed to investigate the responsibilities of groups visiting the Pelican.

After the motion for Tuesday's basketball election was passed, the problem of money for the expenses of the team and coaching for the team were discussed. It was revealed that if the school decides to have a basketball team this year, the college will lend the money for the expenses, to be paid back by the addition of $1.50 to the individual student association fee next year. Jack McDowell has offered his services as coach for nothing this year until the basketball coaching job is set.

The council decided not to meet next week.

Deadline Advanced For Indy Show Scripts

NANCY NEEDLE

The Independent Women are declaring a Christmas bonus of two weeks for all those working on entries in the contest for our choice of this year's Independent Show. The previous final date for all entries to be turned in was December 18, but since everyone is rushed during these last busy weeks before the holidays and none will be here to read the scripts until January 5th, we have set the date at January 5th. At that time, each of the contestants will be given a chance to come to one of our Monday meetings and present briefly the plot of his show and play some of the songs. That will give everyone the opportunity to hear all the ideas and allow each of the entrants a chance to talk about and defend his own show. We want to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and remind you not to forget January 5th, D-Day (Deadline Day).

GOOCH GRINS

Inevitably we got around to the Davis combination; namely, Hester and Hugh. Suffice to say that Hester is no longer to be called Hester but, henceforth RUSTY. Okay, Hester? And as for her brother... well, maybe they could have done better by leaving off the first initial of his first name. Anyway, he finally made the grade this last week (after years of trying). Yep, old Hugh C. Davis, BAHSTON, Mass., can be found in the Walk of Fame. And all the time we thought those sleepless nights of his were spent guarding the campus.

The Phi Mu pledges are giving a Christmas Open House and dance on December 13, 1943 at Fox Hall from 7:30 to 10:00 p.m. for all entering students.

Frat Pledging Results Told

SIGMA NEWS By A. McK.

We announce with pleasure the pledging of: Larry Bentley, Gilman Crosby, George Hollett, Don Jones, Ed Kaptein, Dan Pinger, Ronald Trumbull, Eugene Harper, Marshall Woodward, Paul Shelton, Dick Baldwin, Wayne Puntious, Hubert Leithardt, Harry Ryder, George Whitcombe, Simpson, Glenn Osborne, Towne Windom, Frank Storkton, and Alvin McNeetz.

Big bank of the week was the stacking of bodies on the living room floor after the final meeting of the T. D. Club on Saturday afternoon. Attempts to remove them being futile, they were thereupon arranged in geometric patterns to resemble fixtures and furniture for the remainder of the weekend.

Thanks to the Alpha Phi for a wonderful dance.

Congratulations also to the Freshman Class, on their successful show. In the words of our eminent drama critic, "Epitaphic Ed" Cushing, "A shame does grow."

LAMBDA CHI NEWS By Jeem

Up at the house the item of most importance is the number of fine pledges we roped in. . . . Bob Robinson, Bill Bailey, Larry Cunningham, Bill Muncy, Stan Smith, Ken Durrance, Jimmy O'Neal, Joel Hull, Mark Israel, Duck Drake, Larry Fitzpatrick, M. R. Lenoir, Bill Frangus, Russ Hoffman, Norm Smith, Howell Baggaly, Ernie Kibelberg, Roy Seckinger, Fred Cooper . . . phew, that's a long list.

Another item of fabulous importance was the planning of Wilbur. The red-headed reminder Johnson to Bloddie. Congratulations to them both.

That's the end . . . except to thank the gals from Lakeside for having the only dance that ever has had enough to eat.

THE X CLUB NEWS By Desc

The X Club is proud to announce the pledging of the following men: Joe Tragg, Billy Key, Bob Kendrick, B. J. Leathers, Pierre Stewart, and Jim Fay. We really are glad to have them in the club and we are sure that they will go far.

Things are rather quiet around Gale Hall this week. There was a nice meeting of the Hat Club this past weekend and the prospects are very nice for a good meeting this weekend.

We understand by our wire services that Hot Tips Kelly is dating again—(say a few thousand words, Elsie).

Yes, they're off and running!

DELTA CHI DOPE

What is the explanation of the mysterious appearance of a stone in the Walk of Fame entitled "RUE C. DAVIS, Bahston, Moss?" Is the fact that it is badly cracked significant of anything? Can we say, "Like Father, like stone?"

ALPHA PHI LAMBDA By Norby

Richard Johnson slept on the roof of Lyman Hall Saturday night counting one-legged sand-pipers flying east. Richard says that unless the National Geographic stops poisoning him for these surveys, he'll have to quit school.

Arthur Murray's comes to ORLANDO

WATCH FOR OPENING DATE

Happy faces and artistic decorations topped the popular Alpha Phi formal last Saturday night. An atmosphere of party is evidenced by Teddy Kurz and date Jan McGaw in foreground and Bob McManigle and Ann Garretson in background.

THE CROW CALL By Pete

This week "Special-When-Lit" Wesley and "Titi" Spelsberg were proud to announce that, after an initial investment of only $15.27 (pennies don't work, they found), the bids came up with 25 free games on the "Camel Caravan" pin-ball machine in the Center Well, punch my finger-button!

In the New Faves department, we see that Melancholy McDowell has gone and took out for the Pelican with Gallop's Gail Shaffert. May the sand in their hair turn to gold-bearing sand-druff. Poetic, ain't it?

After a hard week of helping to point invading Stetsomera blue, we were happy to note that "Humphrey" Mooney was able to mop up the Green Tide with the assistance of the Big White Team to end his final season on a proper note.

PHI MU DOINGS By "Skook"

We salute the mighty Yats, congratulate the freshmen on their show and send bouquets to the entire cast and crew of "I Remember Mama." Our contributors to the successful week were Kit Johnson as little lovable Dagmar, Tiny Ester as Trina, the comic scowler, Skook Bailey, that mysterious woman, Jessie, Rusty Davis, that hilarious cat-keeper, and Mary Dolino had her hand in the playing helping with round effects, while Pat May located peeps. We want to particularly commend Betty Garret and Tia Crawford for their outstanding performances.

CHRISTMAS FORMAL SPARKLING AFFAIR

Rollinsites turned out en masse to attend the Silver and Burgundy Ball on Saturday, December 3, to find Dubsided dressed in the most sparkling of holiday costumes, created by the Alpha Phi's. Snowflakes of the sorority's colors shone on walls and beams, while a shiny Burgundy bottle, Rollins Collins brand, tipped over a giant wine glass, adorned the fireplace. A silver tinsel Christmas tree, and candles surrounded by gilded pine cones furthered the Yuletide theme, and Santa Claus appeared at midnight in the form of refreshments of ham and cheese.

Music was supplied by Ed Cushing and band. The committees responsible for the festive occasion were under the direction of social chairman, Dallas Williams, and consisted of: decorations, Ginger Brooks, chairman; Jean Steinmetz, Six Shute, Lane Johnston, Glo Parker, refreshments; Phyllis Bretzel, chairman, Alyce Oglesby, Barbara Shoppard, Marilyn Nais, publicity, Marilyn Walker, chairman, Louis Johnston, and Rae Holden. Chaperones were Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Fenlon, and Mr. and Mrs. MacDougall.

KAPPA KAPERS By Deener

Congratulations to the Alpha Phi's on their grand dance. The decorations were beautiful. We were all so glad to see Shirl, Nancy, and Doris back for a visit. Canasta — the latest hit — has stolen many sleeping hours from the members of Pappley. Congratulations to the fraternities on their swell groups of pledges, and to the freshmen on their first-rate show!

GAMMA PHI GADDINGS By Polly Clarke

We are very proud that Jane Crosbie has entered the ranks of the pledge class as of November 25. Congratulations are in order to the freshmen on their real cute show. The Alpha Phi's also outdid themselves this weekend with a grand dance and beautiful decorations. Even the football team put forth an extra bit of energy to beat Stetson.

CHI O CUT-UPS By Ann Anonymous

Playing around the Pelican was a wonderful dessert to give thanks over that weekend! The thriller-chiller game Friday night against Stetson claimed the attention of most Chi Omegas. Congratulations to THE team for doing it again!

Tipping the light fantastic at that wonderful Christmas dance were "Rootie" and Mac (who seemed to be making the rounds), Kay Horton and Ronnie, Herb Mack and Gil Crosby, Helen D. and Wayne, Kit and the other David, Gloria G. and Otis, and Lucy and Ed. So a merry thanks to the Alpha Phi's for a splendid affair!

And here's to the frolic for a long-up good show!

INDY PENNINGS By Sally

Did you happen to notice that we Corinthes looked considerably more worried than usual last week? These shrieks in the night, panic-stricken late students. It's just gotta stop!

For those who haven't heard, Cindy Carl is now Mrs. Knudsen. She and her new hubby are living in Miami. Betty Lou Kepler is laid up as a result of an accident while horseback riding recently. Two handsome blades came down from Gainesville to escort Gloria E. and Jane C. to the dance at Dubs. Barbara C. spent the past weekend visiting Harold's parents in Sarasota.

THETA TIDBITS By Blandy

We Thetae didn't get a lot of sleep last week with the right anticipation of destructive visit from Stetson! Our final victory over them on Friday was rewarded with much glee and all has been comparatively calm since, thank goodness!

This past weekend was a great one since the football season ended gloriously, there was such a nice dance on Saturday night, and there was the freshman show on Sunday night! Seen waiting around the dance floor were "The Rock" and David, Ginny and Manly, Pat and Johnny, Mike and "Red Worm." Everybody looked real party!

Martha spent the weekend with Yvonne down at Barlow. Her tell she had a mighty good time.

PI PHI PATTEN By M. J.

The arrow girls returned Sunday night looking much the same as when they left on Saturday morning. From all reports, the beautiful sun tans were acquired and the weekend passed quite peacefully—that is, for a weekend at the Pelican. Evidently their favorite Roman to this notorious rendezvous were Pat and Ed, Dale and Punchy, Jean Don, Sally and Tom, Jeanne and George, Caroline and Ken, and Jolie and Bobby.

Our futures were split up this week and the other half of us were seen at the Alpha Phi Christmas dance.
