Wagner To Tap Three To Handle $38,000

By JOHN O'KEEFE

A three-man committee will work at the beginning of the winter term on administering the $38,000 Hamilton Holt Scholarship and Loan Fund President Paul A. Wagner and Mr. Tiedtke, college treasurer, announced last week.

The Fund has been helped by the addition of $1,191.00 profit of last year's Student Council-sponsored Fiesta.

The committee will consist of two college representatives and one Winter Park representative, all to be appointed by President Wagner at the beginning of the winter term.

The committee will have full responsibility in administering the fund as they see fit. It will be administered preferably as a loan agency for students according to Tiedtke.

Inaugurated during President Hamilton Holt's last year here, the fund is spark-plugged by an anonymous donor's offer to match, up to $500.00, the money contributed by Winter Park, Maitland, and Eatonville residents, the only stipulation being that the money be contributed by individuals with no one contribution in order to be matched (Continued on page 12)

FIESTA CHAIRMAN RESIGNS POSITION

Council Votes Cards For House Mothers

By ALIDA BRANGS

Fiesta Chairman, Dick Vreeland turned in his resignation to the Council, "for personal and financial reasons" Monday night at the last Student Association meeting for the year in the Alumni House.

At the meeting Council also passed a bill to allow housemothers to purchase a Student Association card at $35 a year. New election by-laws were approved and tabled for a final decision until Council reconvenes in January.

Dick Vreeland's statement read, "At the present time a situation exists which forces me to consider my personal welfare above my responsibilities to the Student Council. I regret that I am not in a financial and social position that would enable me to fulfill my obligations to the council, regardless of personal consequences.

"I believe that when you accept the trust and leadership of your fellow man you must be willing to place that duty above all else. Only in so doing do you become worthy of the right to lead. This is my philosophy. I can not compromise it and due to certain personal influences I can no longer live up to (Continued on page 12)

Dr. Wattles' Poetry In Fla. Magazine

Charles Hyde Pratt, editor of the Florida Magazine of Verse has announced the devotion of several pages of that magazine to the poetry of Dr. Willard A. Wattles, who died here recently. Mr. Pratt, who has given Dr. Wattles this tribute, was perhaps his closest friend.

Dr. Wattles, poet, educator, and scholar, was a well-loved teacher here at Rollins. Three volumes of his poetry have been published by E. P. Dutton and Co. The best known of these is his Lazarus in Gethsemane, a collection of religious poetry. This was published by Dutton in 1918.

Among the others giving tribute to Dr. Wattles in the Florida Magazine of Verse, are Stella Weston Tuttle; Hamilton Holt, Honorary President of Rollins College; Paul Wagner, President of Rollins College; and Hannah Kahn, Miami poetess.

Center Is Flooded By Vandals

In a display of juvenile vandalism, which might have led to serious results, someone turned on the water taps in the cellar of the Student Center, Saturday night, flooding the men's shower room to a depth of ten inches of water.

The level of the water sloshed over into the boiler room before it was checked, and was dangerously close to the electric motors there. Carl Gill, Manager of the Student Center, found the water at its deepest at 8:30 PM Saturday, and checked the flow.

Whoever is responsible for the vandalism had turned on the four taps in the basins, and had plugged all the drains with stoppers and paper towels.

Freshman Wins Speech Trophy

Jean Clark, Rollins freshman, snatched the Hamlet Trophy from ten other speakers of the Speech Society at their second meeting of the year last Thursday in Woolson House.

She presented a humorous oration on The Intellectual Life at Rollins to gain possession of the cup for one month. If she makes the best speech at two more of the monthly meetings, she will be awarded permanent possession of the cup which was hand wrought by the sponsor, Dr. William Whitaker.

Noted Artists Work Shown at Morse Gallery

The Morse Gallery of Art is showing a group of paintings entitled Development of Impressionism. The exhibition includes works by Arthur B. Davies, John Sloan, Albert Pinkham Ryder, Corot, Renoir and Manet. Thus it includes works by those who followed its principle of painting light and also those who took some impressionist characteristics and carried them into romanticism.

Even though it is now out of favor with the art critics, impressionism is perhaps the most popular school of art with the public. Development of Impressionism is of special interest to students of art who care to wrestle with such problems as, Is impressionism only a recording of the visual image, or is it also creative?

Development of Impressionism will remain on view through December 14, and will be followed immediately Thursday night by The Morse Gallery of Art's annual Christmas Picture which will remain on view Thursday from 7-10 PM and Friday from 10:00 AM to 10:00 PM.

Active Frosh Skit and Skip

The ever busy Freshman class met Wednesday, December 6th, in the Annie Russell Theatre when President Bill Wilkinson set a date for the Freshman Skip Day and Mrs. Dean's English class presented a short program.

In order to keep professors and upper-classmen aware of the absence of Freshmen, they decided to withhold the date of Skip Day. This will prevent professors from giving extra assignments over Skip Day.

Mrs. Dean's freshman English class presented a short program entitled "Four types of men we (Continued on Page 3)

EDITORIAL

Still No Clear Plan

A reply to last week's Hocus-Pocus editorial has been penned by the Deans Waite, Cleveland, and Stone, and is printed on column three of this page. The letter states that we are open to the charge of press irresponsibility at the Sandspur if the Conference Plan is in operation at Rollins and not merely the idealistic dream we charged.

We welcome their long and thoughtful letter. It expresses an administrative view on what the Conference Plan is; it suggests their view on what is the students' responsibility to the educational process here at Rollins.

We will deny their charge of irresponsibility by returning to our original premise that there is no Conference Plan here, at least, no definition of the phrase that the professors who supposedly teach by this method can agree upon.

It is evident by their letter that the Deans believe that we have a Conference Plan. They seem to feel that it "is to be found in the nature of person-to-person relationship between faculty and students." "The Conference Plan," they go on to say, "is not to be found in any kind of methodology such as . . . one hour classes with individual or group conference periods."

Here is where the confusion begins. Conference PLAN implies both method and organization. In last year's study of the Plan 18 professors expressed the belief that the Conference Plan meant class discussion and individual or group conferences. Eleven profs mentioned only the class as a conference. And listen to this. Only five of the 34 who answered the questionnaire did not consider organization as characteristic of the Conference Plan.

We repeat, there is not a definition on which those who supposedly teach by our broadly publicized Plan do agree.

The contention that the Conference Plan should be an attitude is a fair one. But we must arrive at some clear definition that will be fair to the students who come here expecting something they don't get. If we don't have a Conference PLAN, it is time we got rid of the word.

We hope we still have a plan.

We asked for a definition by the first of the winter term. We have the Deans' definition. This week we will go farther and say we will have a student's definition by the winter term.

Next Tuesday night at 7:00 in the Sandspur office the Spur will sponsor a meeting of the students who are interested in getting an immediate definition of what we think the Conference Plan is.

With a concrete definition we may have something that people can disagree or agree with in part or in whole as the Conference Plan. If there is no such thing, we may know that, too.

So They Say

By HAL SUIT

Inasmuch as the present deity of the Far East, General Douglas Arthur MacArthur, II, found it proper to discuss the Korean situation in a JOCULAR vein, we will temporarily take the same privilege to chew over the present British-French-USA hubbub that Mac helped create.

Once upon a time:

There was an old woman who lived in a shoe.

She had so many children, she didn't know what to do.

I can't ever recall anyone ever taking a census on the children, nor can I remember any description of the physical characteristics of the footgear. Just for the sake of an argument, let's say that it was an old, dignified, respectable RIGHT shoe. You might say, conservative by nature. On the other hand, whether myth or reality, this battered piece of merchandise must have had a mate. It would have to be a LEFT shoe, thereby automatically possessing certain identifying traits. Since we've already taken rather extensive liberties with one of the gems of Mother Goose literature, we may as well go all the way.

So:

There was an old man who lived in a shoe.

Uncle Sam, they called him, with all respect due.

To a man that had children, and troubles, too.

Yep—Uncle Sam—tired, worried, and uneasy—restlessly holding forth in none boot. In the other, in case you're wondering, is old Uncle Joe—complacently sucking away on his comfortable meerschaum. You see, Uncle Joe has his house pretty well in order though we will have to admit his disciplinary methods could be questioned. Not only that, but he has more durn younguns' ready to do his bid and call than the milky way has stars.

Now Uncle Sam has been right good to all his children, fosters included. All the extra younguns' he's taken under his wing in the past five years he's kept well fed and clothed. Fixed up all their broken toys, too. Every time one of them got their shanks skinned or a nose bloodied, then came around rubbing a grimy fist in a damp eye, Uncle went right out and bought him an all day sucker. Course, all this has been costing the rest of the children a tidy sum out of rapidly emptying piggy banks.

Naturally kids are going to fuss and fight. Sams and Joes have been going at it hot and heavy lately. Even going so far as to put rocks in the snowballs. Little Johnny and Pierre have just been watching the scrap, though they did send some of their cousins to fight. Just a couple. Neither of them liked the turn of events in the past few weeks and are now running to Uncle to set him straight. They're perfectly willing to let Tom, Dick, and Harry do the scrapping. All they want to do is guide and direct.

Yes, siree—trouble in the shoehold of Uncle Sam, and old Joe knows all about it. Probably has his number 10s propped up, taking the weight off a few corns, and just drawin' deeper on the meerschaum.

Turning the clock back a few years I like to remember a tall sparse woman, old at the turn of the century, who was quite adept at handling strongheaded children. I always called her "Grandma". Every summer the greater majority of the clan would vacation at the old homestead in eastern Tennessee. Just south of the house was a quiet meandering stream. Her spring was down there, too, fed from the foothills of the Great Smokies. Usually by July 4th, anywhere from ten to twelve children (city brats) were wreaking havoc with everything from the stock to Grandma's spring. It happened to

Three Deans Define Conference Plan

Editor of the Sandspur:

In your editorial "Hocus-Pocus Plan," you state that your study of the reports of the findings of the students' and faculty's investigation last year of the Conference Plan leads you to the belief that there is no such thing, and you call for a clarification of the definition by the time college convenes for the winter term. As a result of your conclusion you term our explanations of the educational plan "hocus-pocus," which according to the dictionary means: "nonsense intended to conceal deception." We are all for calling a spade a spade, and if that is what we do, you are right in undeceiving all those who have been fooled into coming to Rollins College. On the other hand, you use strong language, and if it is established that the Conference Plan is a reality, whatever its deficiencies in actual operation may be, you open yourself to the charge of irresponsibility in the press.

Your editorial is evidence enough that, at least, confusion exists with regard to the Conference Plan. This confusion lies, we believe, in the many ways the Conference Plan is expressed, and not in its interpretation by the faculty. Let us start our own expression of it by the same quotation you use from Hamilton Holt's commencement address of 1949: "Minimize marks, grades, recitations, lectures, examinations, certificates, diplomas, and degrees. Maximize personal contacts within and without the classroom. Imitate Socrates . . ."

What his statement means is that the external symbols, signs, and methods of the educational process are not to be taken for education itself, but that the real educational process is to be found in the nature of the person-to-person relation between faculty and students. The Conference Plan is not any particular kind of methodology, such as two hour classes, one hour classes with individual and group conferences, or any other kind of arrangement of class and conference periods. Confusion does arise in trying to understand the Conference Plan in terms of instructors' methods, varied as they are from time to time and from instructor to instructor.

To get to the heart of the matter, we have to think in terms of the kinds of personal relations which may exist between faculty and students. What Hamilton Holt intended to convey, and did convey on many occasions, was the idea that faculty members should serve as guides and friends of students not only in academic learning but in all phases of the education of students. The Conference Plan is concerned with social and emotional development as well as the development of intellectual power.

A guide is one who leads another who is willing to follow over an unknown course. A friend is one who shares with another common interests and purposes and philosophies of life. The Conference Plan, then, is based on the idea of teamwork and cooperation between faculty and students. If such teamwork and cooperation exist and students grow socially, intellectually, and emotionally, and graduate as adults, competent for responsibilities of marriage, vocations, and citizenship, the Conference Plan is working successfully. If this result is not being obtained, then there is a deficiency somewhere, and the College is not succeeding in its be her refrigerator, also.

But you know, she never had much trouble handling any disciplinary problems.

I can still remember Grandma, long gingham skirts almost brushing the floor, moving rapidly through the kitchen and, without pausing, picking up a knife.

Grandma was going to cut a SWITCH.

Teamwork and cooperation, based on mutual purposes and interests, between the faculty and students disappear when established ways of working and living together are ignored. Instructors can not establish themselves as guides and friends in the minds of students when they must "require" work assignment, "require" class attendance, when they meet classes and conferences with students who are unprepared and uninterested. In such circumstances, the administration and faculty must become disciplinarians, and treat students as immature people, not capable of self direction.

The Conference Plan calls for a self disciplined faculty and self disciplined students disciplined in the sense that they both meet all their obligations to each other without duress and without pressure. (We use the word discipline to mean that the individual governs himself by inner and self imposed standards of conduct.)

The real way to judge the Conference Plan is to appraise the character of Rollins students and the student body. Your program for even bolder experimentation in education, and for gaining for Rollins a reputation as a leader in educational methods, is a program which deserves the support of all. However, you should be reminded that even Hamilton Holt did not advance the Conference Plan as original, or as the result of experimentation, or even as an experiment. He simply suggested that we imitate Socrates, and the Socratic attitudes as well as possible under the conditions of an American college. If you find the administration and faculty deficient in serving you as guides and friends you should certainly bring the facts to light. What they are actually doing constructively along these lines you should also make known.

Also, an appraisal of student activities and problems themselves should be made. Without any imputation of criticism, may we suggest an investigation of such questions as follows, as relevant to the success of the educational program at Rollins:

1. How successfully does the student council represent the student body and promote its best interests?
2. Is the Rollins Center as useful as a student activity home as it might be?
3. How concerned are Rollins students for the good name and good will of the college in the Winter Park community and this area generally?
4. To what extent do Rollins students cut classes and to what extent do they meet the requirement of courses without compulsion on the part of instructors?
5. How well does the Sandspur discharge the functions of a responsible press?
6. Does a spirit of goodwill and helpfulness prevail, and are students well mannered in their relations to one another, to the staff, to the faculty, and the administration?
7. What is the nature of the recreational activities of students? Are they interested in discussions of intellectual and social matters?
9. How much use do students make of our Library?
10. How strong is the spirit of self government in the student body at large?

If a realistic appraisal of Rollins students reveals a loyal, industrious, well mannered, self respecting and respected student body, increasingly interested as they progress through college in the affairs of adult citizenship, we should all decide that the impact of the faculty on the student body is good and that the Conference Plan is working. If not, we should have teamwork and cooperation in building a better Rollins.

Boys' Ranch Established by Juvenile Court

By DON VASSAR

"Our criminal population is increasing four times faster than the population of our country," Harry F. Edwards, Chief Probation Counsellor of the Orange Juvenile Court, stated last week while being interviewed by a Sandspur reporter at the City Hall.

"It is the purpose of this court to prevent juveniles from growing into adult criminals. The juvenile court is here to guide and help—not punish—the juvenile delinquent and under-privileged."

For this purpose Homer Rodeheaver, nationally known evangelistic song leader and sacred music publisher, is bringing to reality a great advancement for neglected and underprivileged boys in Florida. He has dedicated 320 acres of rich land bordering St. John's River for the establishment of the Rainbow Ranch for Boys.

The Rainbow Ranch for Boys will be a place where unwanted boys, boys who have broken under the strains and insecurities of our present day world, are wanted. It is founded on the motto of the Juvenile Court: "It's Better to Build Boys than to Mend Men."

Its purpose can only be accomplished through the approval and support of the general public.

This non-profit organization needs bequests both large and small to assure its stability in the years to come. The building program, designed to house, feed, and school 150 youths, will start as soon as $50,000 is accumulated through donations now being received.

Students and staff can send their contributions to Rainbow Ranch for Boys, Inc., Palatka, Florida.

Visual Aids Get New Staff For Expanded Program

At the organizational meeting of the Visual Aids staff last Tuesday night, the following students were appointed to head committees by Ben Ayerigg, Visual Aids director:

In charge of the committee to receive film requests will be Lynn White; orders, Robert Heath; confirmations, Don Vassar; accounts, Marilyn Shinton; news-letter, John DeGrove; and projection arrangements, Paul Loomis.

These committee chairmen will be forming their committees during the remainder of this term. Students who would like to work with the Visual Aids Staff may contact any of these chairmen.

Other members of the new Visual Aids Staff are: William Conomos, Kazan Barakat, Nancy Fairfield, Robert Neuhaus, Stanley Rudd, and Jeryl Faulkner.

At Tuesday's meeting, Gleason Greene, who has aided in the administration of the program this fall, announced that by the end of this term, fifty-eight educational films will have been shown to classes by eighteen different professors.

French Film Will Be Shown Tomorrow

A French film, "Les Quatre Saisons", will be shown at the French House Friday at 4:45. The film will show the various seasons of the year and their effect throughout France. Last week's educational movie showed Renaissance architecture in France.

CHRISTMAS VOICES

Harvey W. Woodruff, Rollins choir director, leads his group of about 60 voices in a rehearsal. The Chapel Choir will be heard over a nation-wide NBC broadcast on December 15.

CHOIR CHRISTMAS PROGRAM ON THE AIR DECEMBER 15

For the first time on Sunday, December 3, the Rollins Chapel Choir recorded a fifteen minute Christmas Service to be broadcast over the entire country on December 15 at 11:30 PM.

All who wish to hear the program should request their local NBC station to carry the broadcast because the local stations will not carry the program unless requested.

The selections include Bach's "O Rejoice Ye Christians Greatly", as signature, and Holst's "Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence", Tomas Luis de Victoria's "Masters in this Hall", and Gaul's "The Little Jesu of Braga".

Tony Chastain of WORZ, the local NBC station, was the announcer and coordinator of this program.

Records will be made of this program and will be for sale.

Plumer's Article In Law Journal

Mr. Richard C. Plumer, professor at Rollins, has an article in the current issue of the New Jersey Law Journal entitled "Application by the Courts of various Federal and State statutes to different types of subversive activities in the United States."

For the past two weeks Prof. Plumer has been confined to his home due to illness brought on by a service-incurred disability, but he is expected to be in good health again by the middle of this month. Instructor in American Government, Mr. Plumer is a member of the New Jersey Bar and was Assistant Attorney General before going in the Army from 1942 to 1945.

MAMMY

On the left Ranny Walker and Lou Lymburn sing a show-stopper from last year's Independent Women's musical. It's Ed Cushing's song "My Heart Is Hypertensive." On the right Marnee Norris does a memorable Jazz Singer routine with Al Jolson's voice on the lyrics of "Mammy" and "The Robert E. Lee." Both acts were guest-starred on the talent-studded program.

THEATRE HIT

Here they are as you can see them on the Annie Russell stage tonight through Saturday, the madwomen from "The Madwoman of Chaillot".

CRAWFORD, WALKER STAR IN ANNIE RUSSELL SUCCESS

By GERARD WALKER

Every so often at the Annie Russell Theater we see the professional touch. We see someone, someplace on stage, who is creating lines, and not letting lines create him. Sometimes we have to squirm in our seats and peer awkwardly over heads in the theater to see it. Sometimes we have to gropingly observe through a maze of less distinguished acting to find it. But once we do we can never take our eyes off it. And we feel embarrassed for having paid so little to see it.

For such a performance can only be the result of many hours, and months, and years, of hard, and many times unrewarding, labor. It can only be achieved through constant effort and application of talent. It can only be

Meet The Press

English born Jerry Walker came to this country approximately ten years ago in order to avoid the tender blessings that Herman Goering's high flying Luftwaffe were bestowing on the British countryside. After wandering about vast areas on the western side of the Atlantic, he and his brother Ranny finally settled on Orlando and Rollins.

Jerry's interests lie in the fields of creative writing and theater. Play-goers will remember his characterization of the diplomat in Noel Coward's "Hay Fever" as one of the most memorable of last season and he has been seen just recently in the role of the squire in "The Corn is Green." He will be called upon to write reviews of various theatrical productions thruout the year, those that he is not an active member of, that is.

Now Hear This

By DICK PARKER

Christmas is just right around the corner and students as well as the professors are beginning to get ants in their pants in anticipation of a relaxing and enjoyable vacation. The Christmas spirit is beginning to seep into everybody's veins.

In Orlando, there is a pretty display of decorations overshadowing the main streets, and soon, I understand, the town of Winter Park will be showing off in full regalia also.

Has the spirit tagged you yet? From what I've seen and heard, I think it has. The Christmas scene in the talent night show a week ago Wednesday partook to make the spirit obvious.

When you begin to see students laden down with packages and trying to bum a ride from someone because of the load, you'll know that the Christmas spirit has taken effect. When you hear students talking about what they're going to do at home, you'll know just how much spirit there is in each person.

Last week I wrote about school spirit. Now, by contrast, I'm going to attempt to show you how school and Christmas spirit are related.

We attend a basketball game, and after it's through we talk about the thrills in the game, how good Bill Ross was, and how much we enjoyed it. We do the same with Christmas. We discuss it for weeks afterward because of the lasting impressions it left with us. Each kind of experience is related because it has left us with favorable impressions.

Secondly, a person's enthusiasm grows as the event of Christmas draws nearer. He gets more and more interested, and as his excitement heightens, he begins to do a little more Christmas shopping possible. When he finally takes the spotlight towards the end of the second and last act, one feels the entire play come to a sudden halt, to hear his few words. His role, though smaller than many of those in the supporting cast, was a finished piece of work. He did not go unnoticed.

Louis Ingram portrayed his character as the Baron, accurately and confidently. Anthony Perkins gave a smooth performance as the First Prospector, and appeared to have himself and his lines well under control all the time. Fred Rogers added a successful comic touch, although he lacked projection. Robert Peck seemed to be reading lines in his part as the Sewer-Man. Peter Robinson gave the part of Pierre a one dimensional quality which became more obvious all the time next to Cynthia Crawford who gave her part three. Betty Garrett was basically good, but gave an unsteady performance. Janet Stanaland had very good moments, but lacked a sharp, definitive quality, which could otherwise have distinguished her. Jerry O'Brien was sharp and definite as the Sergeant, well cast, too. Edward Wells gave a presidential, though comic air, to his part as the bank executive.

The Madwoman of Chaillot was rated the most successful foreign play of the season, in New York. It has a particularly poignant, underlying message, especially pertinent in our times. The relationship between Countess Aurelia, the "Madwoman," who lives happily in a forgotten age, and the pestilent money barons of modern times, constitutes an ironic twist at the end of the play, which is sheer artistry on the part of the author.

The Madwoman of Chaillot is directed by Howard Bailey. Effective lighting and sets are by Dick Verigan. The play will run through Saturday, December eighth.

ROLLINS LIFE

"Let's try that last passage over again with a little less organ please"

each day. As the basketball season came closer, I noticed more talk about it among the students. There were articles about it in the Sandspur, and mounting excitement in the players themselves who put more and more vigor into their playing each day.

Thirdly, on Christmas day the whole family is happily together enjoying the pleasures and excitement the holiday offers. They are surprised and elated over their presents. There is much affection and appreciation.

Basketball is the same way. The Rollins family is together this time, and each member is happy everytime Rollins makes a basket. He expresses this emotion to the fellow beside him, and so on down the line.

You can perhaps judge for yourself if spirit is essential in anything you do on campus and otherwise. In basketball or on Christmas day there is a joy which you cannot hide because of the judgment you have made in determining your degree of happiness.

Mrs. Hallie Fetes Kentucky Students

Mrs. Hallie, Corrin housemother, entertained last Tuesday afternoon, November 28th, for all Kentucky students at Rollins.

Mrs. Hallie from Anchorage, Ky. was assisted in serving by Mrs. Webber, Theta housemother, formerly of Louisville and Versailles. Dean Cleveland attended as guest. Others invited included Ellie Hummel and Ann Lewis Turley, Richmond; Jane Truitt, Morganfield; Nancy Huff and Joan Hillerich, Louisville; Betty Zane Rowland and Jane Potts, Lexington; Elizabeth Stephens, Prestonsburg; Ibbie White, Princeton; Jess Love, Prospect; and Jim Messer, Garrett.

Delicious "Yule" tea, "Xmassy" avocado cheese and potato chips, and "frosted" grapes highlighted the refreshment table.

Carols And Mistletoe At Theta Open House

Peppermint stick punch, Christmas carols, and mistletoe made the holiday season seem just around the corner for those at the open house held by Theta pledges in a gaily decorated Cross hall last Thursday night.

It was a Christmas party with frosted windows, red and green streamers strung about the room, and dancing under the mistletoe by candlelight.

Carolers gathered around Chap McDonnell at the piano to sing the old favorites when they weren't munching on popcorn and peppermint sticks.

RECITAL TOMORROW

Seven student artists will give the weekly recital in the Dyer Memorial Friday afternoon at 4:30 p.m.

Those participating are: Maek Israel and Margaret Smith, John Phillips, Richard Weilenman, Cheta Hosmer and Doris Campbell at the piano. Shirley Christenson, soprano, will be accompanied by Mrs. Kathryn Carlo.

QUICK VISIT

Delta Chi's and dates receive the trophy for the most tremendous beer party of the month. Sanlando jumped Saturday night for Jane Fraser and Bruce Lee, Em Hunter and Kay Young, Dick Elliott and Jean Currie, Marcia Mattox and Gordon Hathaway, and Al (Buddy) Hansen and a "Fetal" substitute. Many X-Clubbers and dates enjoyed a shrimp and beer party Saturday night at Star-buck Springs. It was decided Jack Large is getting to be a real Romeo! . . . The barbecued chicken at the Orlando Aviation Club is very tasty as the Pi Phi's and their dates can tell you. Much dancing, eating and conversing at the Club was enjoyed by C. A. and Pete Fay, Diane Evans and Jimmy Fay, Windy Andrews and Scotty Witherell Phyl McRae and Pete Sturtevant, Barb Swift and Jim Imand, and Mr. and Mrs. Molloy. . . . Lambda Chi's enjoyed partying and swimming at Sanlando Springs Saturday night . . .

PELICANIZERS

Luck was certainly with the Gamma Phi's this past week-end. Their week-end at the Pelican was quite a success. Warm weather and lots of sun prevailed, believe it or not.

Some brave souls went swimming Saturday evening, among them Sam Barley and Marilyn Shinton. Mason Cook couldn't even wait to change his clothes before going in. He seemed to prefer his jeans to his bathing suit that day.

ALPHA PHIS THROW SNOW BALL

Annual Christmas Formal Tomorrow Night At Dubs

Rollins students will don tux and formals for the first time in many a week at the Alpha Phi's all college dance at Dubsdread Friday evening. It will be the last chance this year for the girls to wear their long and lovely gowns before going home.

The Christmas dance is an annual affair with the Alpha Phi's and as last year the music will be provided by Ed Cushing and his orchestra.

Up north of the Mason-Dixon there may be more snow than is generally seen fluttering down upon Dubsdread, but the Alpha Phis are doing their best to remedy this situation tomorrow night. When they say they're throwing a Snow Ball, they mean it—complete with icicles and a snow man, Christmas trees, and Santa Claus.

At their annual Christmas dance at Dubsdread, which begins at eight o'clock and promises to extend holiday cheer and similar spirits until twelve, the feminine population of Rollins will have a dance to don their formals for a sparkling evening of dancing. Men are allowed to sparkle in semi-formal attire.

Ed Cushing and his orchestra will provide music for the evening. Jazz fans will be happy to hear that he has threatened us with a jam session similar to that of last year.

If visions of sugar plums dance in your head—fine. But close-up's of honest-to-goodness food are rather more satisfying and that is exactly what the hostesses have planned. The inner-man (and woman) are invited to attend without reservations.

The overall picture looks like a festive one, so dust off your mittens tomorrow night, December 8, and get in on that Snow Ball—Alpha Phi's holiday greeting of Merry Christmas to all

Moonlight Canoe Trips Are Planned

Each Saturday Mr. Fleet Peoples, canoeing and swimming instructor, takes a group of Rollins students on canoeing trips to give them an opportunity to see the countryside.

Each trip is to a different place. Lunch is furnished by the Beanery and the trips leave from the boat-house.

The first of the canoeing regattas Fleet is starting will be on December 13th. He suggests that the sororities and fraternities each chose a team of ten members and compete.

During the winter term moonlight picnic trips will be given and the Saturday canoeing trips will be continued.

All those who have passed their canoeing and swimming tests are eligible.

Chapel Choir Records

For the Christmas season, the Rollins Chapel Choir is offering record albums at a special reduced rate of $2.50.

All interested in buying one of these albums contact Clara Adolfs at the Chapel.

Chapel Staff To Give All-College Christmas Party

The Chapel Staff is giving its annual All-College Christmas Party on Monday night, December 11, at 8 PM in the Student Center.

Dean-Emeritus Arthur Delano Enyart will read Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol as he has done for the past several years. This will be followed by group singing of the best and favorite Christmas Carols. Refreshments will be served in the Center by the Rollins Women's Association.

Enyart, former Dean of Men at Rollins, retired last year after being with the college since 1911. He still resides in Winter Park.

Former students have come to associate A Christmas Carol with Dean Enyart because he does such a magnificent reading of it.

Many of the social groups on campus that meet on Monday evening are asked to attend in force following their meetings at 8 o'clock.

New students are especially invited not to miss what will be a new treat for them to hear.

Symphony Soloists Competition Opened

The Symphony Orchestra of Central Florida, Yves Chardon, Conductor, announces a competition for solo performance with the orchestra, open to Rollins students in piano and voice.

The winner or winners will perform in the concerts to be given by the Central Florida Symphony in Winter Park, Thursday and Friday, February 22 and 23.

Auditions will be held Saturday evening, January 20, at 7:45 PM in Dyer Memorial. Judges will include Yves Chardon, Alphonse Carlo and Harvey Woodruff, and the decision of all cases will be final.

IMPRESSIONS

Lydia Wallace and Harry Ryder view a painting from the current exhibit of impressionism at Morse Gallery.

Graduates Of Fontainebleau Are Honored By Le Cercle Francais

Le Cercle Francais honored graduates of Fontainebleau, France, of 40 students, faculty, and guests. November 30, in the salon of La Maison Provencale at a meeting that featured music, punch, and lantern slides.

Ross Rossazza, Rollins professor of voice, and Dr. Helen Moore, professor of piano at the Conservatory, sang and played for the group. Although the circle encourages the speaking of French exclusively at its meetings, several of the advanced and nearly all of the first year French students attending restricted themselves to the more facile English.

BIG BLUE

By JOHN VEREEN

To highlight the athletic events of the Fall term the Tar cage squad will meet the U. of Miami five in the Orlando Armory tonight at 8 PM.

Student support will be one of the determining factors in making this the second victory of the season over a powerful opponent. I am not saying this because we should see basketball games, but because there are fifteen fellows on this campus that are giving their every afternoon to the art of throwing the ball in the hoop. I believe these men want to win this game more than any other on their schedule and immediately make them a standout in the state standings this year.

Support of the varsity competition should be spontaneous, but this time I am asking the readers of this column to tell their friends and make the Hurricanes know there are Rollins people in the armory.

This does highlight the Fall term

KAs Top Delta Chis

By DON JONES

Sunday the KAs topped the Delta Chis in one of the intramural tennis upsets of the year. The KA victory can be credited to the efforts of Alfredo Millet who hails from Mexico. Because Al did not play for the Independents and as yet does not have a varsity tennis letter from Rollins, he is eligible to play for the KA's.

The Delta Chis, who have been making a good showing in tennis, gave way to the KAs after two matches. Millet beat Bruce Lee 6-0, 6-0 in the one singles match played. Millet and Dave Manley then combined their talents to beat Bud Morrison and Bud Felix 6-4, 6-1.

The X Club and the Alpha Phis split after completing their two singles matches. With the addition of Ed Sheer to the Alpha Phi tennis team the Alpha Phis were able to hold the X Club to one match. Ed Sheer beat Ed Motch 6-4, 6-4 in the first singles match. Billy Key then beat Willard Crompton 6-2, 6-5, to even things up. Ed Motch and Scotty Witherell will play Norby Mintz and Ed Sheer in a doubles match sometime this week to decide the outcome of the present tie up between the two teams. The doubles match was not played Sunday because of rain.

Only one match between the Independents and the Sigma Nus was played Sunday before the teams were rained out. Buzz Benson beat Harry Ryder of Sigma Nu 6-0, 6-0 in the only match completed. Buzz is a Sigma Nu pledge, but he is not eligible to play on their team because he first started playing for the Indies. The other singles and the one doubles match will be played this week.

As the intramural tennis program goes into its last week the teams stand: Independents, 1st; X Club, 2nd; and Delta Chi, 3rd. Unless there is an upset, the teams will finish in this order.

The series of upsets that have taken place in the national football picture this year invaded the Rollins Intramural program when the highly-favored Kappa Alpha team was held to a tie by an inspired Alpha Phi Lambda aggregation.

It looked as if the KAs would make it a landslide. In the first few minutes of the game they drove 56 yards and crossed the goal-line when Joe Williams passed to end Jim Wesley for the score. The half ended that way, but the Alpha Phi Lambda came back strong, and in the dying minutes of the last period Bob Heath connected with a pass to teammate Ed Sheer, who traveled twenty yards to promise land.

The boys from Lambda Chi added two more victories to their winning column when they downed Delta Chi and Kappa Alpha, 20-0 and 14-8 respectively.

The Alpha Phi Lambdas suffered a letdown from their previous game, and the Independents took full advantage of it by defeating them 19-0. Sam Barley and Ed Stark combined their talents to bring this win to the boys from 500 Chase.

Gal-axy of Sports

By MARNEE NORRIS

Things have resolved themselves into a muddle again.

The Thetas snowed the Freshmen, 41-23, in a sluggish, sloppy game that had only one bright-spot, the marked improvement of guard Lois Paxton.

So now the Independents and Freshmen are tied for first, and the Thetas and Kappas are deadlocked for second.

Closest game of the week saw the Chi Omegas edge out the Gamma Phis, 18-16. Other winners were the Freshmen over the Gamma Phis, Alpha Phis over Gamma Phis, Independents over Phi Mus, Alpha Phis over Chi Omegas, and Kappas over Chi Omegas.

Some one asked me why the Kappas lost two straight games, and I have just one answer. We had won 4 straight, and I hadn't even popped off about it in this column. Then, despite all my efforts, John Vereen demanded I give the Kappas a big play. Result: we lost our next two games. So I'm blaming it all on Mr. Vereen.

Anyway, the Freshmen probably won't play off for first place because of the lack of time. The Thetas and the Kappas might clash early next week, though, to decide who's to get those 25 points for second place.

At Intramural Board meeting this Wednesday an All-Star team will be selected to play the champion team. That game will probably come off on one of the last days of school.

Because the All-Star team is always loaded with talent, it usually defeats the first-place team easily. Always a good game, though, and not one to miss.

The varsity team will be chosen from the players in this game and will be selected by the Intramural Board and 'R' Club before Christmas. If the new varsity decides to enter the City League again, as 'tis expected it will, it must get ready for a possible game on January 4. Complications are involved. No mistake about it.

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK: Ginny Appgar, who led the Thetas to their upset win over the Freshmen.

LAST CALL: When the game is over, forget it. You will in a year anyway.

Tars Stomp Cocoa Five

Starting off with a bang, the Tarmen opened their regular '50-'51 cage season December 2 with an 86-26 victory over Patrick Air Base of Cocoa.

Scoring from anyplace on the hardwood Everett Williams, Rollins ace forward, accounted for eight field goals and five free throws for a total of 21 points. Pete Pierson was top gunner by chalking-up nine of the Rocket's 26 markers. Close behind Williams came Pete Fay, Frank Barker and Delton Helms with 25, 14, and 11 points respectively.

Members Beat Actives In Tilt

Lambda Chi, led by Charlie Knecht and Ken Horton beat their pledges last Saturday in a Beer Bowl game in the Sandspur Bowl, 19-0.

Joe Hull sparked the pledges for the Saturday afternoon tilt, but failed to score. Ken Horton threw to Knecht for the first score and Munson scored the next TD.

The third touch was scored by Horton and Knecht scored the extra point. The game was brought about by a challenge of the pledges and when it was all over, the teams joined to celebrate the victory and loss.

DID YA' KNOW-

Brinegar Versatile Man

By JOHN "COON-DOG" GROVE

Versatility seems to be the order of the day for the Rollins athlete this week. The sport-light comes to rest on Don Brinegar. Don's talents include a listing in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, Commander of the Sigma Nu fraternity, Comptroller of the student body, and Vice-President of the R Club. In addition to this, most girls on campus will testify that Don is a very social minded boy.

Don is the only returning three letterman on the Rollins campus, winning numerals in '48, '49 and '50 and establishing himself as a standout on a crew that won honors in both state and national competition.

While a freshman Brinegar stroked the JV for the first half of the season, then went to the varsity crew to earn his varsity letter in his first year. Since then Don has rowed every position on the port side on varsity.

While Don was rowing with the varsity crews, they twice won the State Championship, beating Florida Southern and Tampa. Also the crews placed second in the annual Dad-Vail regatta in New York.

Crew, however, is only the beginning of Brinegar's athletic prowess. Don started an outstanding football career by winning honors as the best lineman on the '46 Miami High School team that was considered a powerhouse in southern football circles. Don brought his football talent to Rollins, playing three years of slam-bang tackle and end for the Tar Blue and Gold.

To further demonstrate Don's versatility, intramural basketball time found him shooting a lot of points in for the Sigma Nu five.

Senior Don Brinegar hopes to go into the Army Air Cadet program in July with a host of other Rollins men.

The Fall term has been full, but I believe the varsity sports next term will liven up and crescendo into a finish in the Spring and see Rollins at the top in all of its varsity competitions.

Barker Leads Rollins Hopes

By WHIT SIMPSON

This evening at 8 the Miami Hurricanes basketball team invades Orlando to play its annual game with Rollins out at the Davis Armory.

The highly favored quintet from Coral Gables will be opening the season with a team studded with sophomores and juniors who have shown great promise in pre-season drills.

The game should be quite exciting as both coaches have expressed a great desire to win this first one because of their inexperienced squads. Both coaches feel that a victory tonight would boost the morale of their respective teams.

Coach Morris' boys will undoubtedly attempt to outrun Rollins at the outset because of their superior condition. Miami will also have a definite advantage in height. This could be an important factor in the late stages of the game.

The Hurricanes will start Jagger Keene, a 6-foot 5-inch sophomore, at center between Mackie McDonald and Cy Chadroff as forwards. Keene has been the outstanding performer in pre-season drills.

Joe Grist and Art Sutherland will start at guards. Sutherland, a 6-foot-5-inch giant, is the most versatile player on the Miami squad because of his ability to fill in at center and forward in an emergency. Morris considers Sutherland the most improved player on the squad.

Meanwhile, Rollins will field a vastly improved squad. Among the holdovers from last year's squad are: Pete and Jim Fay, Jim Kelly, and Frankie Natolis. Newcomers are Frank Barker, Ev Williams, Dick Sieler, Bill Ross, Jim Doran and Delta Helms.

According to present plans, Barker the big center, will be the focal point in Rollins' attack. His ability to control both backboards in pre-season games has been a decisive factor.

Ev Williams, forward, and Dick Sieler, guard, will also bolster Rollins' attack. Williams is an outstanding shot and his play-making ability is nothing short of sensational. Sieler is without a doubt the team's finest set shot, artist.

Pete Fay, All-State selection last year, will hold down the other forward position while Jim Fay will alternate with Frank Natolis at the other guard. Jack McDowell will have Jim Kelly, Bill Ross and Jim Doran as his reserves.

As a whole the Miami squad has more balance and depth on paper than the Tars, but Rollins is by no means ready to concede the game. The Big Blue has demonstrated a scoring punch that will keep them in many ball games in their month old practice sessions.

Hole In One Is No Dream Champ To Be Crowned Sat.

A hole-in-one, a golfer's dream, came true to Ron Frymire last Saturday afternoon at the Dubsread Country Club. While practicing for the intramural matches with his teammates Ed Kaptein, Paul Shelton and Wayne Pontious, Frymire knocked in the once-in-a-life-time shot on the third hole.

The shot was entirely in the air. Ron hit the ball and it struck the base of the flag with resounding force. The hole was too long to see the direct result and Frymire believed it had deflected and gone into a sand-trap.

Wayne Pontious approached the hole cautiously. The impossible was true, it had stayed in the hole!

For this feat Frymire will receive a case of Miller's Beer, courtesy of Dubsread, and many other gifts. Frymire is now a member of the Hole-in-one club.

Next Saturday's golf match between the Independents and the Sigma Nus will decide the intramural golf championship. The match should prove to be especially interesting because of the fact that both teams are undefeated and are very closely matched. It would be difficult, if not impossible, to predict the final outcome of this match.

Ron Frymire, Ed Kaptein, Paul Shelton, and Wayne Pontious, will play compose the Sigma Nu team while Al Peterson, Cal Nessler, Howard Towasen and Dave Estes will play for the Independents.

Former Students Return To Rollins

Jack Rich, Director of Admissions, recently said, "When classes resume after Christmas vacation there will be several new students since some of the men are to be drafted next term."

Among former Rollins students returning will be Les Boyd, Sally Duffy, Kitsie Graham, Edie White, Dale Travis, Jinx Steele and Joan Grant.

Mr. Rich also said, "In addition to these students we will have room to admit five additional new students, three boys and two girls".

The present enrollment of the college is 628.

SCHOLARSHIP

to exceed $500,000.

Of the $38,000 so far raised, $17,000 has been contributed by individuals and doubled by the anonymous donor. The added $4,000 has been given by non-Winter Park, Maitland, and Eatonville residents and the Council contribution of the Fiesta profits. These monies which will not be doubled bring the total to $38,461.36.

The anonymous donor will still double any and all contributions by local residents, up to $500 each.

The money is now invested by the college and is drawing interest at the rate of three and a half per cent per year. These earnings of the principal will be used as a loan and scholarship fund, the principal being left intact.

The exact date when money will be available to the students is still unknown.

FIESTA

it. I, therefore, with sincere sorrow, tender my resignation as head of the Fiesta Committee."

After Vreeland's resignation Anne Garretson suggested that a committee of chairmen be organized to which President Ken Horton replied that, "We must have an over all co-ordinator."

There was no question by representatives that plans for holding the Fiesta should be dropped, but no volunteers for the chairman's job could be found among those assembled in the Alumni House.

A suggestion of President Horton that the representatives present the situation to their individual groups, in hopes that someone will volunteer for the job, ended the discussion on this topic.

Ed Cushing expressed that the $35 cost for the Student Association cards for housemothers "doesn't seem reasonable." Considering the numerous Student activities that the ownership of one of the cards includes, Council passed the motion for the sale of the cards to housemothers at the approved price.
