WINTER PARK.

The many friends of Mr. L. A. Chase are glad to see him with us once more, and to shake his hand. He is well and hearty.

Mr. Stewart, of Washington, D. C., is stopping at the Seminole.

Quite a large party of the relatives of the late Samuel J. Tilden are at the Seminole.

The friends of Mr. F. W. Lyman are glad to see him out after a severe illness.

A large meeting of the citizens of Winter Park was held at the office of The Winter Park Co., last Thursday evening for the purpose of organizing an Improvement Association. The report of the committee appointed a week before, was read, when Prof. Ford was chairman, advocating a plan similar to the Stockbridge, Mass. "Laurel Hill Association," was adopted, so that our constitution is about the same as governs that wonderful and splendid success. Dr. N. Barrows acted as chairman and J. S. Capen secretary. A membership roll was opened and signed by about twenty annual and two life members and money to the amount of about $75 was subscribed. The objects of this association are to plant trees, keep the sidewalks in repair, fix up parks, etc., and encourage sociability among the citizens.

The question of incorporation of the town of Winter Park will be decided on Tuesday afternoon, of which I will probably send you a report.

I was present at one of the pleasant "Saturday nights" at the restaurant as this in Sanford would be "all the go."

The recital given by Mrs. Diffenbach was wonderfully successful. Dr. Brecht is having fine success with preparatory, normal and industrial departments, a handsome new and magnificent hotel of 200 rooms, together with a large number of charming residences. These are surely important advantages, yet they are not one half that which I will probably send you a report.

THE ABLE SECRETARY of the Winter Park Company, Mr. J. S. Capen, reports a steady increase of business. A large number of lots have been sold the past season, and on several of these commodious houses are to be built the ensuing summer, in addition to those now in process of construction. The Company offers for sale lots, wild and improved land, orange groves, etc. The affable Secretary is just the man for the position, familiar as he is with all its details, and ever on the alert to serve the best interests of those whom he represents, and to promote the highest welfare of the place. It is just such earnest and persevering, but quiet workers who achieve best results, and make their abode in any community a public benefit.

Just across Osceola Avenue from the Seminole hotel are the beautiful grounds and residence of MR. P. PERKHAM, who occupies a charming location on the borders of Lake Virginia. The residence is in many respects unique. Entering from the front porch, the first sitting room is found to be finished in panels—all of the native species of Florida woods—and in a style difficult to describe, but extremely novel and pleasing when presented to sight. The secret of the striking effect from this room to the second story is of very elaborate and curious workmanship, while one or more of the windows in this, and the next apartment, especially that in the front door, are supplied with the Hammond Patent (Oriental) glass, notable for the varied brilliancy of its colors.

In the next room are to be seen some of the finest specimens of curried alligator in the State, exemplified more in the furniture of the apartment than in its permanent fittings. The floors are here, as elsewhere, all finished in hard wood and varnished, giving them a bright and easy appearance, and not, as we find in some house, not readily effaced. In a section of the building, to the rear of this room—between it and the kitchen—but all covered by the same roof, is a well 27 feet deep lined with brick and cement, that is a marvel not readily effaced. In a section elsewhere, all finished in hard wood and varnished, giving them a bright and easy appearance, and not, as we find in some house, not readily effaced.

A delightful view of Lake Virginia is to be obtained from the rear verandas, where a walk descends to the ornamental boat house, extending into the waters of the lake. Passing around to the front of the residence, a fine lawn spreads out a hundred feet or more to the broad avenue across which the lofty Seminole is seen in all its various features to the landscape. The lawn is notible for its fine sodding of Bermudagrass, its rubber tree, three years old and ten feet high, its choice fruit trees, and for a large number of plants. The house is of

WINTER PARK.

WINTER PARK, April 11, 1887.

An account of the election of officers for the Winter Park Company Association was given last week at the Winter Park Club's office last Thursday evening. It was fully attended and a pleasant and profitable meeting held. The following officers were elected: President, Prof. L. A. Austin; Vice President, Mrs. Seymour Capen and Wm. C. Comstock; Secretary, Seymour Capen; Treasurer, E. L. Maxson. The above officers all to be ex-officio members of the Executive Committee. For Executive Committee the following were elected: Messrs. Rogers, Clark, S. S. Capen and Ford, Messrs. G. R. Alden, C. R. Switzer and A. E. Britton. This society starts out with a good membership, and as its sole object is to beautify our town by the planting of trees, etc., I hope all will take an interest in its work and will take an interest in it and work with a will towards the accomplishment of its very important mission.

The cheap rates have had quite an influence on our town for the past few days, every train bringing in crowds to the Seminole. If Orlando roads were to show this interest to the liberal terms offered by roads north of us we could set the California boom in the shade, perhaps yet this season.

Like all efforts of this nature there are some who object to the result of the incorporation and election on the 8th, and there is some hard feeling over it. I hope that both the board of officers and those who feel differently will allow the whole matter to cool and then and all go forward in unison to reap the results of what is filling up on ice cream and socially enjoying themselves. Mr. Chubb in his own amiable style, sold the flowers, etc., and all went home having had a delightful time and having left almost $300 for the purchase of a piano for Rollins College. I hope it will be very interesting, but more especially to Misses Brown and McLure, whose magnificent gift of posted plants filled much to the enjoyment and rothfulness of the occasion.

The Seminole is keeping up a style average nicely, and a more content and satisfied lot of guests it would be hard to find. It is usual to add a list of distinguished guests to a report of the doings of a hotel, but as this would include the entire list at the Seminole it would occupy too much of your space to attempt to do so.

Henry S. Chubb is carefully attending to a lady's comforter on the end of his nose. We hereby extend sympathy. Mr. Chubb has the most beautiful grounds on his charming place on Lake Osceola that I ever saw.

The "milk-maids' carnival" at the Seminole was a grand success, and certainly invested what most of us have thought was a very proxy subject with a new interest. If all milk-maids are as charming as ours were, and it becomes generally known, the cafes of town and the Coast Defence will be useless. WINTER PARK.

A slight indisposition kept me from writing you last week.

Mr. L. A. Chase has kindly consented to lecture to the Congregational church next Friday evening, for the benefit of the piano fund of Rollins' college. Subject, Yellowstone Park. Nobody should fail to hear him, as it will be a treat.

Pres. J. H. Ingraham and quite a party of Sanford's best people were down to the regular "Saturn Night" at the Seminole, and under the charge of Judge Welborne had a merry, sociable time.

There has been quite a reunion of old friends at the Seminole the past week. Prof. Rutherford and family were quite a while. Last week Maj. William C. Beardsley and wife arrived from Auburn, N. Y. They were old friends of Mr. Rutherford, and had not met him for fifty years. Soon after two brothers, Tolman by name, arrived. They, also, were friends of both the above parties, and had not met any of them for years, and a few days later, Mrs. Bradley, from Auburn, arrived, who had known all the party for a long time, with the exception of Prof. Rutherford, and all of the above were friends of Mrs. L. W. Capen, when she was a girl in Auburn, N. Y. It is seldom that so many old friends who were acquainted as boys and girls, most of whom had not met the others since, meet so far away from home, under such pleasant circumstances.

Mr. L. A. Chase delivered a very entertaining and instructive lecture in the Congregational church last Friday evening; subject, "A trip across the Continent." His remarks about the Mormons in Utah, the "Rise" in San Francisco, and the "Knowles" in the State of Alabama, were very interesting, and we hope that he will be forced to repeat it for the benefit of the circulating library, as owing to the bad weather a great many did not have a chance to hear him.

Prof. Rutherford and family left yesterday, and will make several stops along the way before reaching their home.

C. H. Hutchings after an exceedingly busy stay of two weeks, left on Monday for Worcester, where he goes in answer to a telegram announcing the arrival of a party of English capitalists who have come for the purpose of introducing the celebrated "Knowles Looms" into their factories in England. Verily coals are carried to New England almost every day.

Mrs. L. W. Capen, after spending the winter with her son, J. S. Capen, left Monday for her home in Auburn, N. Y. It is hoped that every registered voter will be present.

Mr. J. F. Knowles and family will be at the Seminole for a few days yet until all is ready for the summer there. He is much improved in health.

Contracts have been let already for nice houses for Messrs. Brecht, Livingston and Denny, and we hear of "more to follow."

WINTER PARK.

TO-NIGHT FRIDAY, AT 7 30.

And hear Mr. L. A. Chase give an account of his trip across the Continent, including Visit to the Mormons, Yellowstone Park, etc.

Admission, 25 cents. Children, 10 cents.

ALL RECEIPTS TO GO TO THE COLLEGE PIANO FUND.

WINTER PARK, MARCH 19th, 1887.

O WING to the fact that the Winter Park Company's office is not big enough to hold the Incorporation meeting in, it has been decided to hold it in Engocid Hall.

The meeting will be held promptly at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of Tuesday, March 8th, and as it is by far the most important matter that has come before us, as citizens of Winter Park, it is hoped that every registered voter will be present.

The whole matter may depend on one vote, so that nobody should stay away.

WINTER PARK.

TO THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

A very pleasant excursion was given on the steamboat, Fanny Knowles last week, the party consisted of F. P. Knowles and family, Col. Franklin Fairbanks and wife, Senator Chase, of Rhode Island, and wife, Rev. D. H. Hooker and wife, C. H. Hutchings and wife, Mrs. Chenery, Rev. G. Alden, Messrs. Comstock, Peckham, Capen and some others. When the beautiful suburban home of our pet alligator in Lake Osceola was reached, Milkaun (that's his name,) came out to see the party; he was very cordial, and behaved in a very gentlemanly manner, showing that his training has been excellent and that he is certainly one of the blue bloods. After a visit to the lovely home of Mr. Comstock, the party returned to the Seminole, having had a delightful rip under the skillful guidance of Commodore Paige and Captain Howorne.

The Seminole after a successful season, closed on the fourth after dinner. Messrs Forbes and Paige have leased it for next year, and have begun to arrange already for a most successful season, which we know from past experience with these gentlemen, they will have.
An Important Work Began.

THURSDAY, April 11, 1887.

An event of more than ordinary interest occurred at Winter Park on Monday last, in the inauguration of work on the Orlando & Winter Park railroad. This enterprise was originated last summer by Mr. J. H. Abbott and a charter obtained, and ever since, with insubstantial promises, has preyed upon the people of both places and after discouragements that would have chilled the ardor of most men, he has finally proceeded to see the work commenced. The route selected is about six miles long, almost the whole in sight of and on the shores of the beautiful crystal lakes which form the favored land abounds. It is the plan of the company to run observation cars mostly, so that full advantage can be taken of the lovely scenery. The enterprising spirit and right way of being granted by the common council of Orlando, no more beautiful piece of railroad will be so near. The work in Winter Park has been granted along the shore of Lake Virginia past the college grounds to the neighborhood of the Seminole, and with the plan successfully carried out, it is hoped to throw it open to the public on Fourth of July next. Word having been passed around a few minutes before that a few exercises would be held on the lake shore; at 3 o'clock p. m., a party of our best citizens gathered on the shore of Lake Virginia and soon every man was present, with a pick or shovel ready to give the enterprise a fitting start. Mr. Lorin A. Chase was elected master of ceremonies and on assuming the position made a neat speech bristling with argument, pleasantry and congratulations. To those who know Mr. Chase it is needless to say that his words were appropriate and were received with enthusiasm and applause. He was followed by Judge John B. Minell in a few words of acknowledgment of the magnificent plans made by Mr. Chase of the enterprise, and he was in turn followed by Messrs. Chase, Cabot, Cabot, Williams, Olin, Bent, Bungey and others, and then, after three hours of speeches for the Orlando & Winter Park R. R., Col. Packman proceeded, with a few words of encouragement, to place the first shovelful of ground in the new track for the near future.

Mr. Frank Bartlett then took three views of the assembled crowd through the trees for the master of ceremonies and three more for Mr. J. H. Abbott, the ceremonies ended.

Thus inaugurated all the blessings of both Orlando and Winter Park must acknowledge as most important enterprise, securing, when completed, hourly trains between these places. Orlando once a large town, wholesale and retail, and to place within her reach the advantages of the Rollins College, which all must admit to be the finest in South Florida, and the many beautiful residence places along its support and encouragement of our people. It is the intention of the company to continue its line eastward to the Florida Central, and so to the St. John River as soon as practicable, and the gentleman engaged in it, as they have a right to, the cordial support and encouragement of all those who have the substantial growth and prosperity of our beautiful section at heart.

The officers of the Company are President, Jno. B. Minell; Secretary, Geo. H. Packman; Treasurer, James Cabot; Superintendent, J. H. Abbott; Contractors, Cloth and Ward.

Thus the aspiration to better things is being looked forward to many pleasant rides over their lovely suburban route.

WINTER PARK is one of the most delightful towns in South Florida to live in, owing to a short and cool climate. It has parks and business places near the county seat, has the best hotel, the best hotel, and the prettiest lake in the state. Here are the prettiest homes and the prettiest women in the state. People are among the most friendly intellectual and social elements of the state, and the firm will have been bound by the very best classes.

People looking for a family home in the country, possessing on its borders of our new railroad will be induced by considering the advantages of our accommodations, being located at the foot of this New Addition, in person or by letter.

THE EXCAVATION OF A GREAT ENTERPRISE.

Monday, April 11, 1887, was a day long to be remembered by the people of Winter Park. For some time a better, more accommodating and economical means of getting to and from Orlando than the present has been proposed by the citizens of both Orlando and Winter Park; and also by the inhabitants scattered along the beautiful country between them, for reaching these distant places. This most strong felt, gave rise in the minds of some of our public spirited men to the idea of constructing these two towns, the one as a pleasure and health resort, and the other in the beauty of its natural scenery and development) by a direct railway. Such an idea having had birth, and with the progress of a few years the idea was developed, with the formation of the Orlando & Winter Park Railroad Company, of which Judge John B. Minell, as president, J. S. Capen as treasurer, and a director, composed the general body of stockholders, and on the 11th of April, 1887, the first shovelful of earth was taken to mark the beginning of this enterprise. These gentlemen having hitherto placed their plans and placed everything in readiness. Notice has been given the people of Orlando and Winter Park that an enterprise is under way.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Mr. J. H. A. Chase, one of the founders of the town of Winter Park, and formerly Governor of the State, was chosen Master of Ceremonies and, being recorded to a commanding position made a most earnest and eloquent address.

The said gentlemen and fellow citizens, we have gathered here to-day to inaugurate a great enterprise. There are splendid systems of railroads which represent the combined energy and skill of many minds and the combined wealth of millions, but the people and associated with it are to be remembered that, beside which this enterprise may appear a baby, this enterprise is great because it is a home and an individual enterprise, composed and started into existence by the public, with their own money, energy, peace, and capital. It is a great enterprise because it can be begun by hands of steel the two important towns in this important State, viz., Orlando, and Winter Park the beautiful, which, like a queen upon the shores of the most beautiful of these lakes and this her railroad, admission to the millions will give rapid transit to the thousands who so frequent during the season of beautiful weather, and winter pleasure. At the inauguration of such an enterprise as this it may be expected that a few words will be said, about the development of the hobbies of transportation. This vast system of lines of transportation which is now a network spanning oceans and continents, has not been developed in a single day, they have been in progress for ages.

The first transportation company of which we have any account was formed over 12,000 years ago, and they contracted to carry out of the garden of Eden, in great haste, the household effects which had been previously collected by the whole human race. Here stood a peaceful and his eye was not vouch for its truth, that this is the identical place where that famous garden was situated, and that it is from this place, that 6,000 years ago, Adam and Eve were driven out; from that sacred corner where they were sent out to procure by the sweat of their brows their subsistence from the soil of the garden world, all the world should learn to see, that it would be wise for them to return again and enjoy the pleasant skies and the golden fruits of this garden. That explains why Florida, and especially Winter Park has been so long unknown and unvisited by the descendants of Adam, Eve and their children.

The new transportation started in a big dention, a steamboat that had neither boiler, engines, smoke stack or sails, but only a long paddle wheel, driven by a vast steam engine, for a great number of days, and was just as much steamed upon the highest peak of a lonely mountain from whence the substance of a candle is more than enough to light the valleys below carrying with them and which remained unchanged by the spirits of antediluvian era, and the wealth of antediluvian peace. Then, with the steam engine, it was an unanswerable, and an increasing number of men from every other enterprise. To the transportation of people and property have since come the steamboats, and the steamroads, and the steam trains and the transportation of goods and people and property.

We are of course able to speak in the brief moments allowed us, or to give in detail the numerous experiments by which the business of transportation has been developed, and the steamboat rides upon the lake.

in the enterprise of Judge John B. Minell, Henry S. Cloth, J. S. Capen, and J. H. Abbott. But gentlemen we are here to work and not to talk, but take care you are to work, and I cannot refer you to any other upon Judge Minell, president of the company inaugurating this enterprise who will address you.

Winter Park, Fla., May 9, 1887.

Dear Register Correspondent—Since Orlando and Winter Park are so soon to be joined in closer bonds than ever before, it seems to me that a more formal introduction and a more intimate acquaintance with each other is necessary. To be sure, many of your readers know in a general way of the fact that there is a flourishing settlement here that we have a fine hotel, a good school, etc., but the fact still remains that your people know next nothing of the facts and figures in the case, and to use the words of one of your most prominent citizens within a few days, who had just taken an extended look over the place, “I had no idea that you had half the town and attractions you have.”

With the founding of the town, its progress and its past history, you are familiar, but with its present standing, I propose to deal in this article.

A carefully prepared census taken the past week shows that we have within our borders 203 white families, and I use the term white, because one of the main ideas in taking the census was to get at the facts and figures in the case, at the parts of the world we have received our population from, of course our colored people are all natives of the South.

In this number there are twenty-nine States and five foreign countries represented, and of those from the States, Massachusetts leads with 31 families, followed in their order by Illinois with 28, New York 20, Georgia 17, and so on. Of the whole number, there are of Southern families 51, of Northern 141, and of foreign 11. As a matter of statistics and not for political purposes, a careful perusal of the political opinions shows, as heads of these families, 122 Republicans, 57 Democrats and 8 prohibitionists.

Of the projects we have worked on and encouraged here, our Rollins College, of course, heads the list, both from a money and a true worth standpoint. Its endowment now reaches about $200,000, and with its corps of eleven trained teachers, each one selected for the proficiency in the line he teaches; all of them are graduates of some first-class university or college. That their work should be efficient, and that Rollins College should occupy the front rank as an educational institute is not to be wondered at.

Next comes the Seminole, which with its capacity of 400, its elegant and substantial equipment, its lovely location, and its activity in its social, moral and educational completeness with any resort hotel in the world, is so well known to your people as to need but little comment here. It is perhaps well known that the Gentlemen who have made for it its splendid reputation—Messrs. Forbes & Paige—have leased the house for 1887-8 and will keep their laurels as hotel men during the coming season, if such a thing were possible.

Our churches are as pretty, as solid a foundation financially, and with as full an attendance as can be found anywhere in a place this size. The Congregationalists for instance in point of number, with about $10,000 worth of as pretty property as any church can boast of. Then the Episcopalians, only slightly smaller, either in numbers, influence or property. The Methodists expect to erect a church to cost about $4,000 this summer.

Passing by several institutions which should receive an extended notice in an article like this, we come to what we are proud of, but which very few, even of WINTER PARK.

From our Register Correspondent.

Miss Eva Lamson is having her house very prettily painted.

It looks as though our wet season had yet to come, and we hope it has.

Mr. S. S. Capen has been quite sick for several days, but is much better now.

Mrs. J. A. Spence has been quite sick the past week, but is now much better.

Mrs. Ergood leaves this week for the North, to be soon followed by Mr. Ergood.

Rev. Canon Street and wife left for the North on the 16th. We all hope they will return in the fall.

The Circulating Library will not be open during the summer, excepting from 4 to 8 p.m. Saturdays.

We had a call from D. A. Beck last week. He is still laboring hard and successfully in the printing line.

The Orlando & Winter Park R. R. is graded for four miles, and most of their ties are ready. They expect the rails soon.

Mr. Alex. Earl looks disconsolate, and we don’t blame him. You see a fellow can’t look real happy with his wife 2000 miles away.

I am told that Harry G. Davies and family will remove to New Hampshire next month. I am sorry to hear it, for they will be greatly missed from our town.

Mr. J. C. Stovin has presented the Improvement Association with some casava seeds from the Bahama Islands, which they will put up on some of their improvements.

It is worth a trip to Winter Park to see how prettily the Seminole grounds are kept by Walter Simpson. He takes great pride in them, and has about all the varieties of flowers that grow.

Our obilging agent, Mr. Edes, is going away for a short time this week. He won’t tell where to, or why, and of course we have to think why we need to go on such trips when we were young.

The Improvement Association have issued some very pretty pamphlets, containing their constitution and list of officers. They can be found at the Winter Park Company’s office by anybody wishing them.

Why don’t you Sanford folks get up an excursion to St. Augustine, and fix it so we folks down

NEW ANNUAL CATALOGUE FOR ROLLINS COLLEGE.

This new annual catalogue of Rollins College, issued in many important respects from those of former years. The courses of study have been broadened and extended. Latin and Greek is no longer compulsory in either the Preparatory school or the College. In their place the student may substitute an equivalent amount of work in the modern languages and natural sciences. The elective group system has been introduced into the college. The student, after the satisfactory completion of a certain amount of work, must select some one special group of studies and devote a considerable part of his time to the group selected. Upon the satisfactory completion of the four years’ work the student receives the degree of A. B., and the diploma makes assertion of his special work. Many new electives have been added in economics, pediogy, Greek, Latin, German, French, English, history, biological sciences, physical sciences, mathematics, etc.

A Normal School will be opened next year in connection with the college, several expert Normal teachers have been engaged, who will devote their entire time to Normal work. Two courses are offered in the normal school, (a) an elementary course preparing the student for the county certificates, and (b) a professional course, preparing for the course of Bachelor of Pedagogy.

WINTER PARK.

From our Register Correspondent.

The Episcopal bell called the congregation together for the first time on Sunday the 6th.

A letter from Mr. Knowles, from Washington, D. C., tells of steady improving health. We are all glad.

Mr. Robt. and Miss Ida White are both improving rapidly, and are out of danger.

Rollins College closed last Thursday and some very appropriate and pretty exercises were held in the evening.

The printing office of the New Age was moved to Jacksonville.
The grading of the Orlando and Winter Park Ry, from Orlando to Ocoee is about completed.

Mrs. L. W. Capen, Bloomingdale, Iowa, and Mrs. E. W. Capen, Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, are on their way to Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, for the summer. Mrs. Capen is a native of Ocoee and was born in this city.

Some of our citizens from Orlando—the other evening pretty full. Its no credit to you and most of you better know how to read and write and spell. It would be a good thing for you. We shall be interested in your proceedings and in the history of your community.

The survey of the Orlando and Winter Park Ry was completed on the 1st of May, and the line is now ready for the inspection of the public. The line is 50 miles long, and will be opened for business on the 1st of July. The survey is satisfactory, and the line is well under way. The line is to be completed as rapidly as possible. SALUTATORY.

We make our bow to the people of Winter Park, and to all interested in the development of this beautiful little retreat from the toil of Borea, in a dress not cut exactly after the pattern of the usual country paper, but which we hope will be none the less pleasing on that account. We have met in some quarters the objection, that the form proposed did not look like a newspaper. Well, we did not aim to make it so. We are a quiet little country village, and the news of the great world outside comes to us in the metropolitan newspapers, daily and weekly, in so much better and more complete form than we could afford to publish it, that we should only make ourselves ridiculous by aping that which we could not, successfully compete on equal terms. We aim only to provide a medium of exchange for local thought and ideas, and to perform services to the world in harmony with the spirit of our next, pretty and attractive little town. We are not a metropolis, and while we are all interested in the news of the outer world, which the metropolitan papers bring us, it is not our mission to gather and serve it for others, but theirs to send it to us.

We have home interests to serve, and hope to be instrumental in quickening the life of our town by putting before its people whatever ideas we can gather from week to week, on subjects of interest to them, and to this end we ask all who take an interest in the improvement of the town to give their ideas freely and often. No matter if you have no inclination to write an elaborate article. Give us your points in any shape you like, even the roughest notes, and we will do all the necessary writing up, but the editor cannot be everywhere, nor see everything, and it is quite possible that what seems to you the simplest and most evident idea may not have occurred to him, or may not have struck his mind as the thing needing special attention at the moment. Do not be afraid that somebody will oppose or differ with you. Friendly discussion is the only way to get at the points which may be raised, and that is what we all want.

A few months ago a Town Improvement Association was formed, and if all hands will take an interest in discussing in our columns the work to be done and the ways and means of doing it, we can greatly assist and hasten the very desirable objects which the Association has in view. Otherwise the ideas of individuals remain buried in the minds of a few to whom they may be verbally communicated, but who may not happen to be the ones to carry them out promptly. Do not hide your light under a bushel, but let it serve as a candlestick, that it may give light to all that are in the house. Finally, do not shut out the light by "not taking the paper." Take it, and read it, and think of your neighbors' ideas, and carry them out if you can. Talk about it. Write about it. Advertise in its newspapers. Help to improve it. Do not be afraid that your efforts will be opposed or differ with you. There may be a number of people who think calculated to stimulate and encourage the improvement of the town to give their ideas freely and often, and to this end we ask all who take an interest in the improvement of the town to give their ideas freely and often. Effects of College Athletics on College Morals and Behavior.

It is probably safe to say that the most difficult problems of college discipline are connected with college sports and recreations. Under the restraint and stimulus of the class-room, young men are comparatively free from temptations to lose their heads and the good order of the school. Individual character and college pride conspire together to impel a student to a standard of work that will do credit to his fellow students and to himself. His studies and recreations, moreover, have always brought the student into close contact with others of his own age, an association which has had little tendency to awaken that latent propensity to act the tyrant, which long made upper classesmen the terror of poor upstanding freshmen. How to lay the appointed hours and means of recreation equally under tribute to the real good of all students, as well as to college honor, was then the problem which it is one aim to prove has been at least in part, successfully solved by the establishment of college athletics.

Let us first consider a little more in detail what were formerly the popular amusements of the American student. The most notable of these was undoubtedly the process of intimidating lower-classmen commonly known as "hazing." This was often carried to an extent that would in any other community than a college have been stopped by public sentiment or the law. But custom had attached a sort of glory even to such rowdism of the university. Hazing did not exclude the more wholesome sports enjoyed by all youth. But each student was left to his individual device in matters of recreation; faculties and college Boards did not throw their influence on the side of any particular exercise. When the proper kind of exercise was taken, it was not so much for the sake of physical development, as purely for fun. It was therefore very frequently carried to excess, thus resulting in more harm than good.

We have thus far discussed some of the conditions which lowered the reputation of our large educational institutions for morality and good behavior. The aim of college athletics is to remedy these evils by substituting something desirable for that which was harmful.

The term college athletics, as usually applied, includes football, baseball, tennis, and gymnastic exercises, all practised under the well-organized direction of college athletic associations. By this system very motives which added inspiration to the curriculum of the class-room, now eliminate danger from the curriculum of the playground. Exercise is now sought for individual development; sports are carried on with reference to college honor.

The improved health of students since the introduction of college athletics is a result very generally acknowledged. Take the case of Amherst College, for instance. In 1859 the college authorities demanded that the faculty give some attention to physical education. Steps were taken toward building a gymnasium, as well as encouraging and regulating field athletics. It is then that the health of students has been growing better. A few years ago it was found that the average amount of time lost yearly, on account of sickness, by an Amherst student was two and one half days. Only the average amount of time lost from the same cause by an European day laborer was twenty days.

That this question of health bears directly upon proper order and discipline, no one can doubt, who recognizes the influence of good health upon the intellect and morals.

Another good effect of athletics has been a great decrease in the practice of hazing in nearly all our large colleges. For the classes, now leagued in a common cause, are far less tempted to snatch the powers of their fellows. Nor has this fruit of good will been confined to inter-class relations. But the encouragement given to athletics by college faculties has also bound the students to the former in more friendly relations. This better attitude, together with the added stimulus to college pride, already mentioned, has far more made it possible to demand good behavior as a point of honor.

When a prominent athlete has committed some misdemeanor, which threatened his suspension or expulsion, it is quite customary in some colleges for his whole class to "go hostage" for his and their own future good behavior. Little trouble may be expected when students are enlisted to seek college honor. Such an alliance is for the most part based upon the subject of their athletics in the older American institutions, that few students seek other recreations. Hence the temptation to find bad company and fall into bad habits is greatly diminished.
KEEPING FOOD.

There are present constantly in the air, only waiting favorable conditions to fix themselves and grow, the germs of minute plant and animal organisms, such as molds, the yeast plant, and the microbes of various diseases. If food is allowed to stand at a temperature at which these can germinate if molds, sours, decays, and becomes unfit for use. These germs are killed by heating to near the boiling point.

Hence many things, like stewed fruit, cooked meat, vegetables, etc., which will bear reheating without injury, can be kept much longer than is commonly supposed, if set on the stove and just brought to a boil so often that these germs have not time to get a start between the heats. In moderate weather heating once in twenty-four hours is enough, but in our warm, damp summer weather the growth is rapid, and it may be necessary to heat some things morning and evening, so as to divide the twenty-four hours. There will generally be room on the stove, at least for one or two such things at a time, during the cooking of regular meals, and a few minutes for each, to heat it through without overcooking, is all that is necessary, so that many things can be kept with very little trouble, that must be otherwise thrown away. Between the heats it is a mistake to suppose that tight covering, except for bread and other things that must be kept from drying, is conducive to preservation. Keep most things uncovered in a wire cage, where there is free circulation of out-door air but no dust. You cannot avoid shutting in some of the germs, and the dead air in the house or under a cover is more favorable to their development than a free draft. Bread should be allowed to thoroughly cool before putting into a close vessel.

JAPANESE ORANGE TREES.

Last week I. H. Thomas received from a San Francisco importer 25 Japanese orange trees for setting out his orchard east of town. The Japanese orange tree is propagated in its native country in a climate where the soil freezes in November and remains frozen until February. The tree is not easily affected by frost. It seldom reaches a height of sixteen feet. The fruit in its first year is about two inches in diameter, but in time gets to be three inches in diameter, is small, thin-skinned, sweet, and brings a better price in market than the Florida or California orange.—Traverse Times.

CLOSING EXERCISES OF ROLLINS COLLEGE.

On Thursday afternoon and evening the year's work at Rollins was completed by well-arranged exhibitions of the different departments. The primary department or model school, under the management of Misses Abbott and Wilcox, of the Musical Department, has evidently made good progress, the compositions of the older portion of the children showing that they are getting correct ideas of the English language as far as pronunciation is concerned.

At 2 o'clock the classes had been under the charge of Miss Dieffenbacher, and the examinations were interspersed with music, and closed with a calumet and a stroll.

The music was rendered chiefly by Misses McEacher, and a swell of the vicinity was harmonically received by the audience, and the latter as well as the rostrum.-Various good exhibitions of the year were remarkable in pronunciation and appearance on the stage of the various speakers, while the enthusiasm of the audience during the last year appeared to the fullest degree.

One of the students was a model of courtesy and politeness, and the others were as much as the piano Miss Dieffenbacher herself. They were shown in the recital of the students, and the latter as well as the rostrum.

The exercises were very well done, and the result is an improvement in pronunciation and appearance on the stage of the various speakers, while the enthusiasm of the audience during the last year appeared to the fullest degree.

It has been our pleasure but are roused in improvers and they are the first to receive any interest.

The founding of Harvard College dates back to 1636, sixty years after the establishment of the general court of the Massachusetts Bay Colony, which gave four hundred acres of land and the many trials with the real estate.

The foundation of Harvard College was made by Captain John Harvard, a graduate of Cambridge College, England, died in 1639, leaving money to the college with the choice of name, bequeathed one-half of his property and his entire library to the college. The library was inscribed by the colonists, and all, both rich and poor, made contributions for the same object.

For coming to a new land, leaving behind society and trends, they give us our first college instead of their own advantage.

In beginning this institution we simply, what we call now a school. For some years it continued in this manner. After its progress, of course, was greatly hindered during the war, for the school, having its headquarters in the north, and even took the college buildings for barracks. And when the war was over, the enterprise would fail. In order to raise necessary funds, lotteries were used, to the advantage of both Mr. Welhorne, and a score of prominent philanthropists interested in the educational advantages of the Commonwealth.

The origin for the establishing of these two schools for learning was somewhat similar, preeminently a new country, and we colonists did not hesitate to think the best for the name. The name was given, probably, in honor of two schools for learning was there, the choice of name, bequeathed one-half of his property and his entire library to the college.

The situation of this college and also its prospects, for the future is brighter and the prospects.

These lines were written by Longfellow in testimony to the beautiful situation and natural surroundings of Madison, Wisconsin, but they are equally applicable to "our beautiful town," the South, as that to the West.

The frame of Winter Park College, has become worldwide and the meeting of Chapin and Chase, have been left the educational advantages at the college.

Lakes Maitland, Osceola, Virginia and Killarney surround us here, even more beautiful. Their shining mirrors rimmed with gold.

Lake Maitland, the largest of the four, lies at the extreme north end of the town, and extends to the adjoining town of Maitland. It is a mile and a half in length, perhaps a mile in width and contains two islands, one of which is about a quarter of a mile long.

The shape of the lake is very irregular, so the distance from the largest to the smallest is about a mile and a half.

May we not think it wise that Rollins College gives equal rights to all those disagreeable features, such as buildings or plans of management, who have claimed "favour," and make this the leading college: "No locality is more beautiful or more fortunate for education." Hon. A. J. Russell, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, attributes his continued life and vigor to the Florida climate. He says of Rollins College: "It is a rare opportunity for parents of children who cannot bear a rigorous climate, afforded at the house of Providence. We cannot visit it, nor may it be well here who are unable to afford it a colder climate. I send you our prospectus for next year and my report for last year.

May you not be able to do the greatest possible kindness to some whom you would serve by informing them concerning the opportunity here and advising them to come to Rollins College or to its Preparatory Department? Yours truly,

A SUMMER MORNING STROLL. Last Saturday morning we accepted an invitation from Prof. Barrows to see the old town, or settlement, started under the name of Winter Park, the winter park, where the New railway comes in and takes the wind out of the sails of the smallest craft. Stepping into the host's boat, a short pull, we soon entered into one of the most beautiful and pleasant scenes of the railroad, which takes the bridge, one of the most interesting and perhaps fatal injury.

The former has an area of ground on the lake shore, which he has only occupied a year, but which he has filled with life and cultivated with a view to the future. The latter has been built on a hill, and the entire work has been put in the hands of the most skilled workmen, and the result of the effort will be to make the place a model for all future attempts to establish a settlement on the water's edge.

Judge Mizell is one of the old settlers here, and with the march of improvements has moved from his little pioneer's house in the old orange grove into a large and comfortable house. He has lien a hill overlooking the lake, and has built a house overlooking the entire lake and the town. The house is a good size, and has been built in the style of a Florida house, with a veranda and large windows. It is a comfortable place for a family, and has been built to meet the wants of the community.

A letter from Mr. O. E. Chapman tells of good health and contains a subscription list for the publication of a prospectus for 1887. It will be noticed that the church has been put in the hands of the most skilled workmen, and the result of the effort will be to make the place a model for all future attempts to establish a settlement on the water's edge.

Passing on to the north of Judge Mizell, we come to the old homestead of Judge Mizell, who was the mainspring of the enterprise. The house is a good size, and has been built in the style of a Florida house, with a veranda and large windows. It is a comfortable place for a family, and has been built to meet the wants of the community.

We were shown a rough proof of the new prospectus for 1887, which will be published in the Winter Park Monitor, and which will be a hand-book to the visitors to the town and do, not only the Winter Park College, but also the Winter Park Railway, as projected and partly built, just as the construction of the South Florida Railroad in 1890, would have been made, and how would have been the town, instead of around the South Florida station. But just as he was upon the point of completing the railroad, the old man, Mr. R. F. Hooker, who was the manager of the enterprise, suddenly died, and the road was never completed.

With the opening of the new Orlando & Winter Park Railway, this neighborhood will be made more accessible, and the town and its environs will receive a new lease of life. The town and its environs will receive a new lease of life.

A DRAMATIC EVENT.

Scene—Tetley Place, a charming residence in the Grove of Lake Matlavin, the residence of John Carville Smith, Esq., near Winter Park, in the State of Florida at large Time—Above last evening.

Dramatis Persone—Isaiah Stout and a large stock of mouldings in Griffiths' restaurant is well filled by Miss. Washington, I). C. to-day on a vacation of six weeks.

Mr. Dinkel has sold out his interest in the warehouse on West Park Ave. Mr. Kleiner's grove leaves for Washington until Mr. Kleiner's return. Will have exclusive control of the business under Mr. S. S. Smoryn and Smith.

Event—It was the evening of August 3, close to the town, the moon, just raising, lightly filled the orange grove. As it was three or four, o'clock he had to be up early. People complain of dull times, and Mr. Kleiner says he feels it. The buzz of the planer far into the night continued to annoy him. He was just about to sleep until Mr. Kleiner's return. Will have exclusive control of the business until Mr. Kleiner's return. In the country.

Miss Minnie Peckham is visiting in Dov- sert, Vermont, the guest of Miss Hatch, formerly Art Professor of Rollins College. Work will begin on the painting of the portrait of Dr. W. A. Hatch, Dr. W. A. Hatch, an interesting and instructive discourse at the Orange City College last evening. These gentlemen have practiced a great deal of work for the past five, and this service will be held on the 15th for the entire department.

Letters from Mr. D. G. Devine the past week indicate a little more charitable feeling towards Florida than when he went away in the spring. He tells the story of the farmer and the son who went away in the spring. He tells the story of the farmer and the son who went away in the spring.

A letter from Mr. Gilbert Hart tells of his work in Sugar Hill, a son thus from all parts of the country. We know they will have a good kindergarten.

My dear Mr. Chase.

The proposition you make in your note of July 26th is quite in accord with your old-time kindness, of which we retain so grateful a remembrance.

We should be very glad of your help in selling the pictures. Perhaps it would be as well not to mention our name, but state that they are for sale at the bookstore. I have no doubt that Mr. Maxson will be willing to undertake it.

The notice might be something like this: "During his imprisonment (captivity) at Fort Moultrie, where he died, his portrait was painted by the celebrated artist Geo. Catlin. Some fine photo-engravings of this picture may be found" etc.

Please accept one of the pictures which I send with this note.

With sincere thanks for your many kindnesses, I am

Very truly your friend

Mary E. Brown

HOTELS.

Altamonte Hotel. Altamonte, Orange County, Fla., is new, and pleasantly located on the line of South Florida Railroad, between Sanford and Winter Park, and is one of the best appointed hotels south of Palatka. The situation, on a ridge between two clear-water lakes, is one of the most picturesque in Orange County. The hotel will open Jan. 15, 1887, and be in charge of Mr.

Rogers House, located upon beautiful Lake Osceola (covering about 300 acres). Three minutes' walk from depot; surrounded by the piney woods and orange-groves; light, airy rooms, commanding magnificent lake views; table, first-class; pure spring water; lake full of fish. No more delightful resting-place can be found in all Florida, and you will not be disappointed upon arriving. A. E. Rogers, Winter Park.

ENGRAVERS.

Photo-Electrotype is the name of a process of engraving by photography at less than one-half the cost of wood-engraving. The plates are equal to the finest wood-cuts, and in point of depth, superior. We furnish an electrotype all ready for the printer's use.

BOARDING HOUSES.

Tetley Place, on south shore of Lake Maitland, is one of the prettiest places in Florida. A new house, splendidly located near the lake, and surrounded by flowers and orange trees, commands lovely lake views. Address J. C. Stovin, Winter Park.

ORANGE GROVES.

100 ACRES of splendid land, with lakes on two sides, and with over 2,000 orange trees, some of which are over thirty years old. The ground is high, and slopes beautifully to the lakes. It is the place for ten families to have orange groves and winter homes together, as there are ten high and beautiful building sites. One man could care for the ten groves. Address John R. Mizell, Winter Park, Fla.

ORANGE TREES.

Orange Trees. — Holden Brothers have for sale 300,000 young orange trees, many of them budded with choicest varieties. They also contract to take raw land in lots or acres, clear it of pines, plant it with orange trees, and care for them for a term of years. Address Holden Brothers, Winter Park.
Write your copy on this blank and return with the contract on first page signed.

GEORGE EDWARD DOWNES

Death has again taken from our midst a leading man in public business and politics. George Edward Downes, who died in Canton on Sat day, Aug. 27th ult., was born in this town Sept. 6th, 1833. He was the only son of Mr. George and his wife, Mrs. Caroline Tucker Downes; and his birth took place in the very house which his father built and owned, lately the residence of the late Rev.
Benjamin Hunton at Canton Corner.
His ancestors were among the oldest and most substantial families in town.

To-morrow the question of incorporation comes before our people for their decision in the matter. We trust that all our people have fully weighed the matter and will be prepared to vote with a clear nature, as none other, than the real issues, which are sure to be the proper ones of our community or stagnation which we feel certain will not be overcome for a good many years. Already letters have re-emerged in the market of which we have elsewhere said; we offer to property which is, of necessity, left vacant during the summer. Already we are asked, have you any public schools? Properly done the question can, without system of sanitation and drainage have you? To those all-important questions we can only express the hope that sooner or later we shall be able to give favorable answers. Shall we?

The fact is that, so far as we are able to judge, there is practically no opposition to the real question—the incorporation of our place—but the fight—if there is to be any and we hope not—to the offices. Why not then leave that question entirely out until the main issue is settled, and then go into a friendly contest for the question of the offices.

The sentiment of nearly every one of those supposed to be running for office when we say that they will all bow gracefully to the decision of the majority and so let us—

A GLIMPSE AT LAKE MAITLAND.

Lake Maitland, the largest of our lakes and the one farthest south, has a number of smaller waters and the all the others find their way large area of farmland near the Winter Park station. This part of its shore is on the east side of the lake, which is the wintering ground for many birds, and the shores are bordered by trees, much of it bearing. His first paying crop was destroyed in the great freeze of 1886, and the trees, like most others, have been covered, so that they may be expected to set a good crop for next year. Mr. Stovin has also a large number of grapefruit trees which before the winter he shipped two to large boxes of fruit at a year to the0 Jacksonville market. This year he is shipping some fruit, both grapefruit and lemons, and later will have some oranges, but this year's crop will be small. The trees, however, seen now to have fully recover their strength, and ought to yield a full crop next January.

Mr. Stovin's house commands a fine view over the whole length of Lake Maitland from the windows of every room, being built in such a way so that the back rooms project each way beyond the front ones. In some respects this lake affords a more picturesque view from its shores than do any others of the country, being bordered by thickly wooded shore in shape, and having its surface broken by islands and points of the main shore, heavily clothed with a dense green pineland and groves of cabbage palm and other southern trees, and finely with the waters about them, here dancing in the sunshine, there dark in the shadow of the trees which overhang them, and there displaying the shadowing of a passing cloud. In many places isolated cypress trees stand out from the shore, surrounded by water, and displaying their picturesque forms to good advantage.

Across a bay to the right we catch through the trees the red roofs of the buildings on Mr. H. W. Bedal's place, and the bright green top of a tall cypress in his orange grove. Nearest, just across the road from Mr. Stovin's place is that of Lieut. Pryor, whose name Monticello-Cypress suggests. The house, like most others, is that of the Anchorage. The house is nearly buried in the green of orange and umbrella trees, and seems an inviting retreat for the weary mariner to take his rest in.

Before leaving Mr. Stovin he shows us the stylish piece of dry hammock grove, on the shore of the lake, which he proposes to clear of undergrowth and re-cover as a little private park. It is thickly shaded with oak, hickory, cabbage palm, cypress and other southern trees and woods and will make a beautiful pleasure ground. The aboriginal inhabitants of the country seem to have appreciated the attractions of the sheltered water body—"the fish obtainable from the lake, we cannot say which—for they have left the burnt shells of so many moss beds on the ground near to the line from then makes it very hard to get the soil into good condition for orange trees. The shells themselves would have done any harm, but the burning converted them into caustic lime, which destroys the roots of the trees."
INCORPORATION.

A week of intense excitement was closed last Saturday by the second attempt to incorporate our town. Business was at a complete standstill and knowing that no gains had been made there to discuss, some quietly, some angrily, the various questions that have been brought into the contest.

A special meeting was called to order by the election of Mr. Harmon, chairman, and John R. Engood and J. S. Capen, secretaries. The Hon. E. M. Hammond being present, was invited to sit on the committee and by a unanimous vote all questions of a legal nature were left to him for his decision. On the reading of the notices for the meeting, the required number of voters was called and it was found that the requisite two-thirds was not present and a recess was taken until 7:50 p.m.

At 7:50 p.m. the meeting was again called to order and it was found that there was still eleven short of the two-thirds, a special committee was sent to try and get enough. They were only successful in reducing the shortage to six and the meeting was adjourned.

As soon as that meeting was adjourned it was announced that a special meeting held at which it was decided to reduce the limits so as to be able to get the necessary two-thirds and a comparison of the necessary details was reported to a meeting on Monday evening when a new map was adopted and a meeting to incorporate the new boundaries was held on October 12th. The other parties had noticed this and called a meeting and called a meeting to incorporate all of the original boundaries, changing Hammond square, for October 13th.

Now there have been two meetings held to incorporate our town at both of which a majority of our citizens have expressed a wish to incorporate, and by the two notices now it is seen that our citizens are unanimous in their desire to incorporate. The question for us to decide now, if it is one, is how can the prevailing consistencies, which are purely personal and have nothing to do with the main issue, be harmonized and the successful incorporation of the town be accomplished,

At the citizens meeting on Monday evening there was a paper in the pocket of one of the gentlemen that proposed the incorporation and square the difficulty, and in the pocket of another was an acceptance of the same to the leader on both sides that made me believe it was not an act of sentiment of which we have line to do with the prevailing consistencies, which are purely personal and have nothing to do with the main issue, be harmonized and the successful incorporation of the town be accomplished.

Al ready people all around us are spreading the report that Winter Park is in a continual quarrel and squabbles, and I have no reason to believe all the difficulty, and in the pocket of another was an acceptance of the same to the leader on both sides that made me believe it was not an act of sentiment of which we have line to do with the prevailing consistencies, which are purely personal and have nothing to do with the main issue, be harmonized and the successful incorporation of the town be accomplished.

Poisonous snakes were killed, some foxes were chased out, and while not a job of any magnitude, it has rid our community of a bad looking place and several pests dangerous to humanity and our chicken roosts.

A very pleasant picnic was indulged in by our young people one day last week in honor of Miss Hurst, of Lake Helen, who was visiting here, a tour of Lakes Minneola, Virginia, Osceola, Palmer Brook and Lake Maitland, with a visit to Ocoee's camping ground on Mr. Kedney's place was taken, and all unite in saying that it was a delightfully pleasant affair and enjoyed by everybody to the fullest.
INCORPORATION.

Editor Lochmede.—In your issue of Sept. 23, you say, "Do not be a clown. Let us hear from you," upon the subject of incorporation.

Mr. Editor, If you live here, you would not need the need of being told that it is amiss to be "clown," as possible all the time. I don't deny it is foolish, Mr. Editor, but you mean well, and I overlook it. The fact is I have had worse things on my mind—that lately! In the meantime your purposes are to be carried out.

The friends of Mr. Stovin are just two kinds of people in Winter Park. The twelfth day incorporationists, and the thirteen day incorporators. But we are all in favor of the spirit of peace and harmony, and I think we shall be able to get along. It is not for the purpose of the community to be divided on this matter. It is for the purpose of the community to be united. I shall do my best to promote the interests of the community.

I shall do my best to promote the interests of the community.

FIRST.

Let us choose some point as a starting point. In my opinion, is the incorporation of the Park Company. I have heard that the park shall be used for the benefit of all the people. I am not opposed to the incorporation of the Park Company, and I am in favor of the park being used for the benefit of all the people.

SECOND.

Let us have some provision for the future of the park. I have heard that the park shall be used for the benefit of all the people. I am in favor of the park being used for the benefit of all the people.

It is only fair to Mr. Henderson to note that his remarks about the position held by his political friends, is subject to a different construction, and the term "position" is intended to mean official position in the Company, not political position with regard to any party. That was not my meaning at all, and in that sense it is not open to question or censure. In our own experience with the colored people in this part of the state, we are glad to be able to say that while we have known many cases where, in the absence of strong opinions of their own, colored men have worked and voted, it has never been the example of their employers, from personal loyalty or policy, and while there are unfortunately a considerable number whose votes are perfectly free, we have very generally found them disposed to resist any attempt to compel them to vote one way or another.

Mr. C. H. Hutchins, one of the Winter Park Co.'s Directors, came last Saturday, accompanied by his sister-in-law, Miss Knowles, and his brother, Mr. Robert White. Mr. has added a delivery wagon to Ins Large business, and will un­

We are informed that we are indebted to the Sunday School Committee of the Congregational Church for a beautiful and effective advertisement to the town.

The South Florida Railroad Company is now laying out gardens at the stations along its line, and will do us a great honor to be at Winter Park. These gardens will be laid out and everything necessary done to make them attractive, and will be of the greatest interest to every town to have its garden and to make a profit of its grass and gardens, and move the spirit of the beholder. Why cannot a committee of the Town Improvement Association confer with President Ingram, and come to some understanding about it?

TOWN IMPROVEMENT.

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Town Improvement Association is called for Thursday evening, Nov. 3d, at 7 o'clock, at the office of the Winter Park Co., to discuss the work of the winter.

We hope that there will be a full town meeting, and that the Committee of the best institutions we have, and we hope there will be a wind and fresh breeze, and all the gentlemen present, and our bands and streets and grounds.

WINTER PARK, OCT. 28, 1887.

We are glad to see the movement for a public school well under way. It is a necessity for the town, and all hands should do their utmost to help along in the most effective manner possible.

The county funds will go far towards paying the expenses, but a small addition to them from some of the people will make a much better school to be maintained, besides giving the people of the town more influence in the management of it.

We are indebted to Miss M. E. Brown for a copy of the portrait of Osceola, conducted by J. Rev. Bates, of the Saints Church, which was done by photo-lithography. It shows the "able red man" as few people of the present generation have ever seen him, and is a very fine portrait of Nature's nobleman, fine in features and strong in limb, as he could only be developed under the care of Mother Nature herself, unmarred by the rough and standardizing of the standing blocks which an unenlightened civilization has since put in his way. We hope he will come to give us an account of how his life is locally of much interest, and we may be able to reproduce his portrait also.

Do not let anybody get ahead of you in the work of the Town Improvement Association. If we start, we will hurry, and we will finish in a short time. We have a new member in our association, and I hope the members will work harder and be more diligent in the work they have to do.

We had a very pleasant call from Mr. F. W. Lyman, of the reporter, on Tuesday, and it is true, the climate in the interest of the Immigration Department which we have started, is so favorable to our work that we shall be able to carry it out to a successful conclusion. We have entered into an agreement by which all the money that we raise will be used to promote the work.

The Improvement Committee for Orange county hopes to raise $20,000, which will place $10,000 to the credit of advertising our county and town, and then, with that, we hope to have a splendid start made for the winter's work.

The committee for the Improvement Association held a meeting on Monday at 3 p.m. to be in charge of Miss Louise, filling out the number of the committee.

Our circulating library had a meeting last Monday at the Winter Park Co's block, at which it was decided to build a new and larger building for the room, as they have not enough room for the books now in the library, and the members decided to make arrangements for it on the way. They will also open the reception room next Friday at 3 to 5 p.m., to charge of Miss Gilpin, the president. We shall have Miss Lamson, Saturdays. A vote of thanks was tendered to the committee for their valuable services during the summer, and a series of entertainments was talked of for the winter's work.

The committee will also open the winter's work by a splendid start made for the winter's work, and hope to have a very satisfactory and successful season. The move that precedes a perfect deluge of sunshine and snow, and we hope to have a very satisfactory and successful season.

The Executive Committee of the Improvement Association held a meeting and issued a notice to all the community, which was attended by all the members.

The committee for the improvement of the town has been very energetic, and we hope to have a very satisfactory and successful season.

The meeting of the school board was attended by R. J. Larrabee, who was chosen chairman of the committee. They then took a vote on the subject of two trustees to fill the board, and Mr. Landis, who moved that the vote be revoked, was seconded by Mr. Godfrey, who moved that the vote be reconsidered. The committee then met and appointed Mr. Godfrey to fill the position of trustee. This meeting was attended by Mr. Godfrey, who then took the floor and apologized for his absence at the last meeting.

to the front door of the Ladies' Library. Tickets, 25 cts.

We have the pleasure of meeting Mr. C. A. Abbott, a most interesting character, who is accompanied by a party of six. The party are more than welcome to our place until they look around and determine a location. Mr. C. A. looks for a location and we sincerely hope that his expectations may be more than realized.

Our town council held meetings on last Thursday, Saturday and Tuesday evening. A large number of business were transacted in detail to be gone through with, which they tell us is now about complete, and the coming week should see all go well in a short time. The public school will probably close at this time, although it may be delayed a few days longer. The term is very successful, and great improvements have been made. The school is in a good state of repair, and the children are growing, but no great gain in weight and height is to be noticed.

The Excursion for the benefit of the Ladies', of the Congregational Church, formed a Home Missionary Society, and the ladies were very happy to welcome them as one of our cliques.

We understand that Rev. J. A. Mabry, of Troy, 10 miles, has moved his family to his new house and will probably occupy Mr. W. H. B. Parish's old home. Mr. W. H. B. Parish is an Episcopalian Rector and will be a welcome addition to our society.

A very pleasant party was given by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. B. Parish on Sunday evening for the benefit of the Ladies' Library. It was a very successful affair, and made a great many standards of fact and fiction. It was very much enjoyed by all.

Mr. J. J. Day, of Boston, from the Department of the Interior, which he represents, has been in our city this week.

Mr. D. H. Jones has moved from Orlando and for the present until his tasty old house is completed, can be found at the Parke's bachelor's home on the West Boulevard. He is a friendly host and gladly welcomes his friends.

Mr. E. A. Perry, of Oviedo, has arrived from central Illinois on the 12th. They were all well, happy, and as we ever saw them, their home has been blessed with health and abundance remember, with sympathy, the afflicted and the needy.

We are indebted to Dr. Hooker for several new and interesting books, for which we hereby extend thanks.

Mr. Wells, a capitalist from England is now in Orlando giving some investments here.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor is in a very flourishing condition.

Mrs. C. A. Abbott is acting as assistant in Latin at Rollins College, for which we hereby extend thanks.

Mr. F. P. L. Rems has been in Orlando, with a prospect for several more days. We are glad to see him and hope he will return soon.

Mr. W. H. B. Parish has been very busy this week.

Mr. Gilbert Hart and family are expected next week.

Mrs. M. Abbott entertained a few friends on Thanksgiving day.

The School Trustees have secured Er- eduardo Perry, of Oviedo, and will be with us next week, as also Dr. Fogg and family.

Mr. Wells, a capitalist from England is now in Orlando giving some investments here.

The Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor is in a very flourishing condition.

Mrs. C. A. Abbott is acting as assistant in Latin at Rollins College, for which we hereby extend thanks.

Mr. Wells, a capitalist from England is now in Orlando giving some investments here.
ladies' library, on last Saturday, while these were the occasion and the thanks of the association is tendered to Mr. Page for his kindness in the affair.

The sad death of Mrs. Clinton B. Dike occurred last Sunday. Mr. Dike was a prominent lawyer in Osceola county, and a well known and respected citizen, loved by all who knew him. Mr. Dike was 40 years old. A person cannot be too careful in getting on and off the cars.

There were two exhibitions at Lakeland's Peeg Stare, the past week, one of Panama Canal interest, and one of Bahamas, one of which is a record of the sea voyages of the Co. "St. Louis," they were made by Mr. S. C. Parker, an experienced engineer, who is looking the work on the canal and, as is usual in connection with such occasions, he was accompanied by Mr. S. C. Parker.

Miss Approach left for the North on Thursday last.

Mr. J. A. Spring and Miss Minnie are with us for the winter.

Mr. E. G. Taylor has purchased a lot on V. H. Ave. in Winter Park.

The prospect for a rush of ushers this year is very good indeed.

La Brea has been erected.

The A. M. E. Church have about completed the purchase of a lot, and will build a church on West Ave.

Mr. Frederick posses the prettiest post office of the class south of Richmond and is busily about his new quarters.

The work of painting the Seminole is about complete, and makes that beautiful little town more beautiful than before.

Our governness and schoolkeepers are happy over the constantly increasing business, and glad to get to sunny Florida for the winter.

The public school is open and running in Troy Park Hall with Mrs. E. J.
Mr. and Mrs. Capen. We hope by another year to have a larger school.

Charles Chappell, Will Jordan, and a party of Thanksgiving at Mere's.

Mr. Capen and Mr. Chappell.

They report having had a very pleasant time.

The predicted cold spell did not continue, and those who took the report to be the occasion of a beauty indeed.

Mr. Jeffers, of Chicago, has bought a beautiful little sail boat from
Mr. Wilson, of the boat yard at Winter Park.

Mr. Stubbfield has built a cottage at Winter Park.

On last Saturday morning the crooked they rode to Lake Virgina, and the winds were from the south.

The painting of the Seminole is about complete, and makes that beautiful little town more beautiful than before the opening of the school.

The work of painting the Seminole is about complete, and makes it a beautiful little town.

On last Sunday, morning the staff was blown out by the work of removing the dunes, and the machinery commenced. All was going on about four o'clock, and the work of painting the Seminole with Commodore Page at the wheel started on her first trip into Lake Virgina. The work is well progressing, and we expect the town will now be able to take any who may wish to visit it about five miles, where the opening of the canal, the houses were completed about three and we all sincerely wish it a happy meeting towards this publishing a yard from Orlando to the St. Johns river, its entrance into Lake Minneola at Woodbine.
Work has been begun by the Road Commissioners on the work leading from the canal toward the west. We hope it will be prosecuted to completion, for owing to the heavy rains the present road, if not impossible to use, is at least very objectionable, and many an awkward meeting have occurred there. Befitting the opening of the road will bring heavenly joy to the people belonging to Rollos College and Dr. Cox, and make that drive a more attractive than now by considerable.

Mr. Andrew Richmond arrived on the 25th. He has had the satisfaction of replying to the prospects for the season as very encouraging to the rail road. He has also received a letter from Mr. C. V. McKee from Milton, informing us of the latest report. From all the sources from which we can gather information, if Florida does not save enough to fill up a box by the end of this winter, it will be her own fault. People by the thousands are ready and waiting to stand each our share of that burden, this list is daily increasing, to the proportion free, which are, with scarcely an exception, still incomplete, and hinder them from traveling in the through travel. Rates.

Travel through is what we want now, and after awhile we will get our beautiful State nearly settled and our transportation lines get on a firm foundation, put on a strong brake and hold them there what is right and just. Well then if a man happens to get overheated, or to overwork or over eat, as is the case with many, as people will increase, the calamity would be manly. It will be just as disastrous, but not so died last night, the doctor calls it which is a commonplace, or which is not, it can’t be anything but yellow fever. Ever.

The writer knows of $75,000 withdrawn in the neighborhood of Sallie, Orlando, Sanford and Palatka, some of whose owners are in the grip of those calamity idiosyncrasies, when all know that the occurrence of one case means a great deal in the spread of it all over the State in the development of a large Spanish grant situated from the Tomoka river northward to where the Tifton river joins the St. Johns, and brings the goods news that the standard, from St. Augustine to Florida, from Orlando, Daytona, etc., to New Smyrna is under contract, and the canal eastward. We hope it will be her own fault. People by the thousands stand ready to come, but in sixty and seventy years presents enjoyed the enjoyment of, it is said, the subject of "The Kindness of Men" as illustrated by the relations of David and Bathsheba, in connection with his brief vacation he returned to become an active and influential agent, and a conscientious, hard-working, honest man.

The writer knows that the Seminole opens with the prospects of the new building in the present road, it is the right man for his work of reformation, not only by the more immediate results, but his influence and example, the men so little. We shall, therefore, not attempt a de­scription of the business, but only wish that Miss E. C. Marsh, of Chicago, is at the Rogers House.

Miss Marsh, of Chicago, is at the Rogers House.

Gov. Sinclair, of Orlando, made a visit to the Rogers House, and Dr. Cox, the daughter is attending Rollins College, has a pleasant trip. Mr. E. C. Marsh, of New York, is with his family, is very much pleased with Winter Park, and hopes to conclude that this is the place.

We had the pleasure of a visit from Mr. C. C. Hart, long time a resident of Winter Park, who is an extensive manufacturer of fire arms there. He is looking for a change for his family, is very much pleased with Winter Park, and hopes to conclude that this is the place.

Mr. Collie Hart and family arrived here last night and are now at their lovely place on Lake Osceola.

The Faculty of Rollins College will hold a reception for the benefit of the patrons of the school, next Saturday evening, and are expecting a good time. Several other celebrations will be held before Christmas.

Mr. Truman Perry is expected here for a visit, and will personally supervise the completion of his beautiful little cottage on New England Avenue.

The people on the East side have a fine supper and Christmas tree at Miss Brown's. The entertainment on Friday for the benefit of the patrons of the school is the most successful affair it proved to be. A great number of people had been taken, and the surprise to many was the transforming of the chapel of Kindergarten Hall into a fairy bower. It seemed as if we had been lurking behind the embellished paintings and festoons of moss that draped the walls and columns of the chapel, but on looking about a number of good fairies were observed, not in hiding, but circulating among the guests with smiles and greetings making all welcome with cordiality.

Mr. H. W. Riley, of Portland, Me., a prominent politician and newspaperman of that State, dropped in on us on the 10th. He seems to be entirely unshaved and is very enthusiastic about Florida.

We had the pleasure of a call from Mr. N. B. Baker, of Lake Forest, a forwarding agent for a railroad and the impossible and an invalid son. She has been all over California and pretty much all over the United States, but finds Winter Park the prettiest place, and likes the climate better than she did in the Orient.

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer, of New York, have taken Deacon Latreche's house, and will open a first-class boarding house at moderate prices during the summer. Ed is a first-class barber. I have a right start on the road to odd jobs.

The promise for a big crop of strawberries this week. We gladly welcome them, and I here were others who played well. Young ladies played some line duets, and I here were others who played well. Young ladies played some line duets, and if the fathers and mothers of the Kindergarten work to their advantage, taking as the foundation of their instruction, the incident of Gideon and his men, and if the fathers and mothers of the patrons of the school will be continued regularly every Sunday morning on the Cities of Refuge. Services will be continued, and we understand that arrangements will be made to give it repeated next Christmas.

The same arrangements as herebefore regarding an allowance for those who wish to spend Saturdays and Sundays at their homes will be continued, and we understand that arrangements for carrying on the work of the school will be completed by that time. The prospects for a full house are very good, and although an engagement is not entirely certain, there can be no question about its being run in first-class style.

Rev. T. C. Potter preached his first sermon in Winter Park last Sunday morning, talking on the foundation of his re¬marks the incident of Gideon and his men was used. The people on the East side are to have a fine supper and Christmas tree at Miss Brown and Mc¬

Mrs. Smith's kindergarten will give an enthralling display for the benefit of the patrons of the school. The wonderful progress made by the little "under the supervision of Miss Smith and Miss McIntosh" shows that the ladies have been clearing the minds of the whole programme, the school singing "Sing us a Song, Birdie" while a fine canary bird in a cage sang just as loud as he possibly could. We understand that this bird always sings with the children on this tune. Recitation, "Scotland and "Branwyn Green," by Leon Reif, was followed by "The presentation of the program of the Kindergarten work to their parents by the children, and was closed by the school song, "Lovely May."

It is a wonderful thing to see how this system little people can be taught so well, and that without overpowering their minds or brains, but by a process so little removed from play as to be recreation instead of work.
