PITCHER CARY ONE OF BEST IN COLLEGE BALL

Sophomore Bill Cary is fast leading Rollins College to the forefront in Southern collegiate baseball competition. On the basis of his present record, Bill ranks high among the nation's top college pitchers.

The 5-11, 185 pound sophomore from Westbrook, Maine, has posted four wins in as many starts, and allowed only three runs. His earned run average is a sensational 0.26.

Bill has been the keystone as the Tars rocked opponents for a 10-3 record. Only North Carolina has taken a series from the Tar nine, and at that Cary stopped the Tar heels 6-3.

His other triumphs were over Tampa in the season's opener, 14-1; Amherst, 1-0; and Florida State, 4-0. He pitched six scoreless innings in the Tampa game, struck out 13 and watched the last three frames from the bench.

Coach Joe Justice points out Cary's control over pitches, and nervous system as the key to success. "Bill never worries," says Justice, "if a man gets a hit it doesn't bother him; he just goes after the next man."

The major league scouts are already on Bill's trail as was evidenced when seven attended one Rollins game.

Bill knows he can use more experience and constantly strives for improvement. So far only 20 hits, 6 walks, and 27 strikeouts in 34 innings leave little room for betterment.

His next assignment will probably be April 17 against Miami.

Cary had a 6-2 record last year to carry a large part of the load in the Rollins Tars' 17-14 season. To top it off, Bill turned in a beautiful four-hitter against the University of Florida in the N.C. A.A. tournament in Kannapolis, striking out 16 Gators.

Last summer Cary had a 4-0 record in local competition before he went to Canada to pitch summer ball for Edmonton, a Brooklyn Dodger farm club. Here he compiled a 3-3 record, the big win being a 2-1 victory over Grand Falls in the first place league playoffs.

He was named to the league All-Stars as number one pitcher as a result of his performance.

NAM President Sligh Says Business Should Support Education

At an all-day Education-Industry Conference in the Bellvue Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia, April 14, the president of the National Association of Manufacturers, Charles R. Sligh, defended colleges and universities against "wholesale indictment" involving communism.

Mr. Sligh said that some college faculties probably still include professors with communist leanings or who expound socialist ideas in the classroom, but, he emphasized, that should not cause a "general condemnation" of our educational system.

Mr. Sligh insisted that increased business support of higher education is the "positive approach to the left-wing problem," and that the NAM's interest in education is the same as that of any good citizen.

He described the Association's activities in the education field and announced the recent formation of a sub-committee composed of educators and industrialists who will "intelligently encourage" members to give more effective support to education.

Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb will deliver a major foreign policy address at Rollins College on April 26. Sir Jebb is the permanent representative of the United Kingdom to the United Nations.

DeGrove Delivers Report On Progress Of Council

At the Monday night meeting, retiring President John DeGrove summarized the projects of his administration in his report to the Council.

Last spring at the Florida Intercollegiate Press Association Conference and Florida Student Council Convention, both organizations elected Rollins students as presidents, the first time in the twenty year history of the group that both presidents were elected from the same college. Plans were made to hold this spring's meeting at Rollins.

Fiesta Committee reported that a net of $2,423 was raised for the scholarship fund.

A survey committee drew up a list of needed repairs at the Pelican and many of the projects were undertaken at the Council Pelican. A committee was appointed to assign projects to each social group and to require the groups to report on the progress of their projects.

DeGrove Swears In Council Officers Before Leaving Post

Following this report of the year's activities in Council, John DeGrove, the retiring president, swore in the new President, Hal Broda and seated the other new officers, Dan Matthews and Dot Campbell.

Fiesta Chairman, Jerry O'Brien reported that Fiesta realized about $1500 profit. He pointed out that some of our profit was lost due to student destruction of school property during Fiesta.

Student Council's social committee is planning details for a dance to entertain 100 visiting French students to be held in the Center patio Friday night.

All campus organizations whose income depends on Student Association Funds must draw up a budget for the next year and present it by the second week in May to Comptroller Tom Nelson.

Six Attending ODK's National Convention

Six members of the Iota Alpha Circle of ODK left Tuesday afternoon for the national Omicron Delta Kappa Convention which is being held this week in Roanoke, Virginia.

Previously no more than two members have been able to attend the meetings. This year's group includes Ray McMullin, Clason Kyle, Emory Hunter, Jerry O'Brien, Dean Arthur Enyart, and Prof. Riley Jones.

The delegates expect to return Sunday night.

British UN Delegate Convocation Speaker

Permanent United Kingdom UN Delegate Presents Major Foreign Policy Address; Active In UN Start

Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb will deliver a major foreign policy address at Rollins College on April 26, the Administration announced this week.

The permanent representative of the United Kingdom to the United Nations has accepted an invitation from the college to be speaker for convocation exercises that date. College officials announced that he will give a "major speech on Britain's role in the United Nations."

The ceremonies will be held in the Knowles Memorial Chapel at 9:30 on April 26.

Sir Gladwyn was educated at Eton and Oxford where he obtained first class honors in history.

After a period as honorary Attache at the British Embassy in Paris, Jebb entered the Diplomatic Service in 1924 and was appointed Third Secretary at Teheran. In 1927 he was Private Secretary to the Parliamentary Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs.

In 1940 Jebb became a member of the Ministry of Economic Warfare with the temporary rank of Assistant Under-Secretary of States.

At the Conference of San Francisco, he was appointed Executive Secretary of the Preparatory Commission of the United Nations, and at the beginning of 1946 he was, a short time, Acting Secretary-General.

In April of 1948 Sir Gladwyn became United Kingdom representative on the Brussels Treaty Permanent Commission, with the rank of Ambassador. In the same year he took part in the negotiations that led to the formation of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Sir Gladwyn was present at the formative meetings of the United Nations and has been active in the organization since its beginning.

ROLLINS HEARS DR. R. S. ATWOOD ON PAN-AMERICA

Dr. Rollins S. Atwood, former director of the Institute of Inter-American Affairs at the University of Florida, spoke Tuesday evening to an assembled group of students and faculty in the Casa Iberia in celebration of Pan American Day.

Dr. Atwood is now the director of U.S. relations with ten South American Republics for the State Department, and talked on "The United States Stake in Latin America."

From 1928 until 1952, Atwood was a member of the University of Florida faculty, serving as Chairman of the Division of Geography. Since that time he has been with the State Department, serving for two years in Ecuador and since 1944 in Washington.

Wednesday morning, he met with the Caribbean history class of Dr. A. J. Hanna, speaking to the students on the "Problems of the Caribbean Area." Dr. Hanna is now chairman of the Pan American Committee of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, a position once held by Dr. Atwood.

Also yesterday, Dr. Atwood spoke to the Foreign Relations Class of Dr. Frank Johnson on America's Latin American policy.

Dr. Atwood is the author of numerous articles on geography and Inter-American affairs. He was awarded the Cervantes Medal by the Instituto de las Es-pañas for his furtherance of friendship and understanding between the United States and Latin American Republics.

TASKER EXHIBIT AT MAITLAND CLOSES SUNDAY

Professor Stanley Tasker of the Rollins Art Department is presenting a one man exhibit of several of his paintings until this Sunday at the Maitland Research Studio.

All of the paintings are ones that he has done this year. Most of them are oil paintings in which his wife, Caryl Bailey Tasker, is the subject.

Professor Tasker recently received a first prize at the Orlando Art Association exhibit for his painting called "Patchwork," which is now on exhibition at Exposition Park in Orlando.

Professor Tasker was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, 1924. He was awarded a Ministry of Education Grant after attending extension courses at Cambridge while serving in the Royal Air Force. From 1947-51 he studied with Paul Weighardt at the School of the Art Institute of Chicago where he graduated with a BAE in 1951. At present he is completing his MAE from the Institute.

He has presented his paintings in numerous exhibits, including the International Colour Lithography Exhibit, Cincinnati in 1952; Brooklyn Print Annual, 1952; and the Southeastern Annual, Atlanta, 1952. Previous to the Maitland exhibit, his works were shown at a group exhibit in the Jacksonville Art Center; The Lowe Gallery, Coral Gables; the Ridge Art Center, Winter Haven; Four Arts Annual, Palm Beach; and the Rollins Group Exhibit at the Argent Gallery in New York.

Tasker

Tasker, Associate Professor of Painting at Rollins, is also chairman of the Morse Gallery of Art at Rollins, Associate Director of the Center Street Gallery in Winter Park, and a member of the Orlando Art Association, Florida Federation of Art, and the Florida Artist Group.

SEVEN YEAR PLAN

The student division of the Rollins Seven Year Self-Study Program has yet to catch fire.

Why?

Because too few know what it is all about, and the people who do understand the program don't know where to start studying.

This revaluation program which will attempt to take inventory of all aspects of this institution including the physical plant, faculty, administration, teaching, alumni, admissions, and curriculum, could be a most valuable progressive enterprise if properly carried out. The factor that seems to be lacking is a system or plan of organization in the student division.

As it stands now, past Student Council president, John De Grove, has accepted the general chairmanship of this division. Jane Hunsicker, Kay Dunlap, Bud Reich, and Bruce Lee are chairmen of the four committees, respectively; The Students' Committee, The Teaching Committee, The Curriculum Committee, and The Facilities Committee. Although some students have been arbitrarily asked to participate on the committees and the call has been out for a month inviting those interested, no plan has been set up for the continuation of the program through the next seven years. How will new committee members be selected in the future? What will be the method of study?

We would like to suggest the following organizational methods: I. Since the president of the Student Council is the head of our student government by popular vote, it seems logical that he should be the General Chairman. II. The four committees stated above would be self-propelling and elect their own officers and sub-committees. However each of the four would be answerable to, and working in cooperation with, an Executive Board. III. The Executive Board would consist of the four committee chairmen, the General Chairman, plus the president of the Chapel Staff, the presidents of the Pan-Hellenic Council and the Inter-fraternity Council, the chairman of the Publications Union, and the heads of the Intra-mural Boards. The people in these positions should be able to present the problems arising in the various phases of Rollins life. The duty of this Board would be to hear and advise on the basis of quarterly reports tendered them by the four committees. The Board would also pass on all general matters pertaining to the Student Division of the program.

If the above suggested system is adopted, then the first thing the Executive Board should do is to write a constitution for the organization. The constitution would state the purpose of the Student Division, the individual committees' powers, and the means of obtaining information. It would also act as a binding influence and start the committees working toward their goals.

Enthusiasm for a project will only come after the work on it has begun, and no work can be successfully accomplished without a system to go by.

The student division of the Self-Study Program needs a system immediately or work on the project will not result this term and many people will not know what this fine Self-Study idea is all about.

The Chapel Tower

(This week, because Dean Darrah is away at a convention, we are writing his column in his place.—editors note)

John O'Keefe in his Sprigs of Laurel must have had good in his heart when he wrote: "A glass is good, and a lass is good, And a pipe to smoke in cold weather; The world is good, and the people are good, And we're all good fellows together."

If only more people realized that there is good in the world and their fellow man, there would be more good because more good would be found, and therefore a better world.

An Organization Is Needed

Self-Study Program needs students from all walks of campus.

ANOTHER COLLEGE SELF-STUDYING

Lake Forest, Ill. —(I.P.)— A survey of the management, administration and business affairs of Lake Forest College is being conducted by Booz, Allen & Hamilton, a management counseling firm, according to an announcement by President Ernest A. Johnson. He said that the Ford Foundation has contributed half of the survey total cost and the other half has been raised through private gifts to the college.

Representatives of the firm will be on campus until the close of the school year, in June, and the report will be submitted shortly thereafter to the college. Dr. Johnston stated three primay objectives of the survey: 1) check the efficiency of the college's business affairs; 2) determine whether investment dollars are being used to the best effect; and 3) correlate Lake Forest's present activities to the long-range plan.

The survey will cover the entire college organizational structure. It does not include, however, the academic area, curriculum and faculty performance. Officers of the board of trustees, chairmen of committees, administrative offices, bookstore, all aspects of the college organization will be covered.

WITH CLARITY TOWARD NONE

(ACP) This piece of progressive dialogue seems to be going the college rounds:

Frosh: What do you mean by sling the bull?

Soph: To sling the bull is to say little in a great many words so as to prevent the professor from realizing that you are saying nothing.

Junior: To sling the bull is to say little in a great many words so as to give the impression that you are familiar with what the test is covering.

Senior: To sling the bull is to say as much as possible in well chosen words so as to convey the impression that you are familiar with the material under examination in spite of the fact that you have been unable to devote sufficient effort to study adequately an unduly difficult assignment.

'ROUND ROLLINS

By Jon Dunn-Rankin

Students are human just like professors and politicians. They don't like to be reminded of their failures.

This year's Fiesta was a failure. Much blame can fall on Mr. Weatherman for raining out Saturday's midway, but there was no excuse for the poor turnout at the Friday night Queen-crowning dance. At two bits a head, people even snuck in. Those attending no where near paid for the $55 three-piece orchestra. The nimble feet of Art Brophy in some new routines, and the sly humor of Prof. Stuart James in some old ones, couldn't make up for the absence of the faculty skits or the crowd to appreciate them.

Lack of ballyhoo, planning, and publicity was not the fault of the chairman alone. There was little Fiesta spirit behind it all. The Delta Chi float advice, "Don't Siesta — Fiesta," unfortunately wasn't heeded.

One bright spot, and brights' the word, the snappy, snazzy Friday downtown Fiesta parade.

Catalogue Comments: Noteworthy new look in the slick enamel-finish cover featuring two campus views: a 1951 Chapel scene with Scotty Witherel and Bo Simonds, and a 1953 overall aerial shot, the idea of freshman Dean Edwin R. Walker . . . The expected revision of content: courses, calendar, dates and data, including the new faculty, last year's degree earners, and eight paragraphs on Radio Activities . . . New easier-to-read method of listing courses of study, in bold face number and name, on separate line from light face course synopsis.

Most significant changes: in Student Expenses (page 19). General fee, boarding students, is now listed at $1800 (up $200), and general fee, day students, is listed at $1100 (up $200), with a $4.00 per term hour over-registration fee. Also a new paragraph, to wit: "Voluntary Fee. The General Fee does not cover the cost of education at Rollins College. Parents who wish to pay a sum which approaches the full cost may pay an additional voluntary fee of $300 each year. This is deductible in computing income tax as a contribution."

Left Over from Last Week: When we write too long a column, our editor-in-chief, Dan Pinger, excises a paragraph or two, usually from the bottom. Last week we made note of the big, bright display of catchy campaign posters. Last week this was cut from column's end:

"We suggest a prize yearly for the best efforts in that line, from the standpoint of art, advertising, and appeal. And we nominate for this year's award the bright and neat Time-ly reminders to Vote for Broda."

Swiss Executive Nordmann To Give Report On Rollins

Swiss radio executive Roger Nordmann visited Rollins April 10, and will report to millions of Europeans his findings about the structure and aims of this liberal arts college.

Rollins is the only liberal arts college scheduled to be visited by Nordmann during his visit. He is interested in reporting a "true picture of life in the United States, especially small town life" to Europeans.

He recorded a ten minute interview with Edwina Martin of Winter Park and Washington, D. C., in which they compared American and European institutions of higher learning.

RUN-OFF VOTES SHOW CAMPBELL MATTHEWS WIN

Sigma Nu Dan Matthews was elected Vice-President and Pi Phi Dot Campbell, Secretary of the Student Council as a result of last Thursday's Student Council run-off election.

Matthews defeated Dick Lesneski for his position, and Dot was chosen above Sis Atlans as Secretary.

The two new officers assumed their duties last Monday under the direction of Council President Hal Broda.

Seniors Write Well

(ACP) To graduate from Michigan State College a student has to know how to write. A new ruling there states that seniors can't graduate until their "writing technique is improved to a point where they can write legibly."

Currently 148 students are enrolled in a non-credit writing course, designed to improve literacy among future degree holders.

European institutions of higher learning. Miss Martin last year studied at the Sorbonne in Paris, and this year is in her sophomore year at Rollins.

Nordmann is chief of Radio-Lausanne, Swiss, Reporting Service, a part of the Swiss Broadcasting Corporation. He is on a three months tour of the United States under the sponsorship of the State Department, and was a guest in Central Florida of Harold P. Danforth, president of station WDBO, Orlando affiliate of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

A well known radio commentator, Nordmann founded the "Chain of Happiness" program in Lausanne, and through it obtained relief for thousands of stricken European families. The program links together France, Germany, Italy, Austria, Belgium, Switzerland, and Holland, and intersperses music, comments, and fun with drives for mutual aid.

Following his visit here, he was scheduled to tour Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge; Dallas; San Francisco; Ames, Iowa; Cleveland; New York City, and Portland, Me.

Nordmann has hopes that eventually an international "Chain of Happiness" program might be founded as a means toward understanding and peace.

Besides inspecting the physical plant of Rollins and the Orlando-Winter Park area of beautiful homes, citrus groves, ranches and lakes, Nordmann talked with Rollins students and officials for first hand information on the American educational system.

Sigma Nu Star Gazing Takes Prize

Prize winning float in the Rollins Fiesta parade last Saturday was this one sponsored by Sigma Nu Fraternity. It was entitled Star Gazing and featured Babette Skinner as Sigma Nu's Fiesta Queen entry. Her attendants were Phoebe Quaintance, left, and Claire Henslee, while Otto Rice peered through the telescope. The float was constructed by the fraternity from 10,000 white paper napkins!

SPECIAL PROGRAM SUNDAY WILL HONOR FORMER ENGLISH PROF.

A special program will be held Sunday afternoon, April 26, from 4 to 5:30 in the Mills Memorial Library in honor of the publication of "The Iron Anvil" by former professor Willard Wattles.

"'Iron Anvil' has much to offer lovers of poetry anywhere, but for Winter Park friends of Willard and Mary Wattles and the family of Rollins College, where he was an inspiring teacher for 26 years, the book has a deep and personal interest," said Mrs. Nina Oliver Dean who reviewed the book.

"The book," Mrs. Dean continued, "partakes of the nature of the man, close to the earth but never very far from the stars. I felt when I went to get 'Iron Anvil' from Mrs. Wattles . . . that being there in Mr. Wattles' study was like having a visit with my colleague whose class room used to be just down the hall from mine in old Pinehurst. I can see him there now in his eerie, a fine teacher, a fine poet, and a fine friend, surrounded by books, students, and blue pipe smoke, one moment cracking his wry earthy jokes with his droll solemn look and the next climbing high levels of 'starry contemplation.'"

"The poems combine vigor and elemental directness with lyric grace and rich implications. The imagery is remarkable for its clarity, originality, and strength."

An exhibit of Mr. Wattles' Memorabilia will be shown Sunday afternoon. Readings from the "Iron Anvil" will be given by Stella Weston Tuttle during the program.

Ex-Rollinsites Distinguish Selves

Howard Showalter, Rollins trustee, and co-owner with brother Sandy in the Showalter Flying Service Co.

FRANK WILLIAMSON, human relation major while at Rollins is now the owner of Holloway Cement Block Company.

Two Rollins Alumni Are Active In Business And Alumni Association

Mr. Sandy Showalter and Mr. Frank Williamson, two Rollins alumni who have distinguished themselves as businessmen and leaders in their respective fields, have recently been active in the incorporating of the Rollins Alumni Association.

While at Rollins Sandy studied under Dr. Bradley, Dr. Stone, and Dean Enyart. His major was in the field of Business and Economics, and he rowed on the intramural crew.

After leaving Rollins, Sandy enrolled in an Aviation Design School in the midwest, and after graduation, which was about the time of World War II, he got a job designing for Curtis Wright Aviation Corporation. While with this Corporation Sandy received the experience and knowledge needed to start his own aviation charter service. Sandy and his brother, Howard, now have their own business at the Orlando Air Base.

This past February Mr. Showalter was elected president of the Rollins Alumni Association. At this time the organization was changed to a Corporation, making it entirely independent of the college. It will hold annual meetings as well as monthly executive committee meetings. This group numbers around 4,000 members.

The purpose of the Corporation is to tie together all the Alumni so that they have a central contact point with the College. It also serves as a distributing agency for gifts which are given the students by the Alumni.

Mr. Showalter expressed his feelings on this subject when he said, "I hope by the time some of these swell gals and guys get out we can have a real great organization for them to join."

Frank Williamson, a 1948 Rollins graduate is an alumnus who has made great progress in a few quick years since graduation.

While attending Rollins in 1946-47-48, Mr. Williamson was working part-time at Holloway Cement Block Company besides being married and having two children.

After graduation he began working full-time at Holloway and assumed the duties of general manager in the spring of 1949. In the fall of 1949 he bought the Company.

Receiving his degree in General Human Relations, Frank's major fields of study here at Rollins were Philosophy and Accounting. He was a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity, various honor fraternities, and a member of the varsity golf team.

When asked about the most valuable aspects of Rollins College, Mr. Williamson replied he felt the first term courses in Philosophy he took from Dr. Fort benefited him as much as anything in college for they taught him how to study, in that class was put right to work from the start—a well known policy of Dr. Fort's! He said many of his upper division courses had only four or five members each and the great value derived from close contact with the instructors was most important. He also had courses under Dr. Stone and Dr. Waite while here in College.

Frank feels that much of his success in business can be attributed to the experiences he had during World War II in learning to handle people.

As a naval aviator he had charge of training pilots to land on navy carriers. He was on the training staff at Quonset Point, Rhode Island, and was later sent to the Pacific where he served as senior landing signal officer on the "Yorktown."

Mr. Williamson is now serving as treasurer of the newly formed Rollins Alumni Incorporated.

Co-eds Take Revenge By Raids In Reverse

Two universities, one in America and the other in England, have recently experienced panty raids in reverse—with the girls being the raiders.

At the University of Toledo, 35 girls raced through the men's dormitory, startling half-dressed male students and stealing pairs of shorts.

And in England, six girls at Cambridge university, having vowed to take baths at each of the men's dormitories in turn, are already reported to have been successful in two male dormitories.

Partyline

By ANN FRANKENBERG

Fiesta! The word was on everyone's lips this past week as all were working in combined effort to make the scholarship project a success. The gay parade on Friday showed a great deal of time and work therein represented, and congratulations go to the Sigma Nu's for their prize winning float!

We salute our Fiesta Queen and Best Beau, Judy Hall and Bob Leader, who were crowned at the Patio Dance on Friday night. Seen dancing under the stars were Gloria Hall and George Longshore, Babette Skinner and Dick Colabella, Marie Perkins and Dave Robinson, Judy Hall and Stew Turley, Libby Hooper and Russ Sturgis, and Stephanie Swicegood and George Miller.

A winner's wreath goes to Mr. Suydam who copped the South-eastern Ski Championship for men over 35 at Lakeland, Florida last Sunday!

Partyline sounds like a party line this week with the Lambda Chi's, the Delta Chi's, and the Sigma Nu's all counting on and being disappointed in Mr. Weatherman for Saturday night parties.

The Lambda Chi's held a rather damp party out near Goldenrod but report that everyone had fun anyway. Among those present were Wanda Hogue and Pete Raymer, Cindy Ross and Jim Vickers, Fran Sieberling and Pete Sturtevant, Betty Huntsman and Joe Hull, and Ginny Walker and Buck Class.

The Sigma Nu party managed to keep dry with the cooperation of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Merry who offered their home for the site. It was a full house with Barb Neal and Bud Bilensky, Jackie Chiappari and Bud Fisher, Lettie Stouder and Joe Delanegra, Gerry Adamson and Bill McMurry, Ginger Nelson and Jerry Campbell, and Lynn Trochey and Frank Thompson attending.

The Delta Chi's held their party at Wi-ki-wa-ki Springs, and they managed to find a smokey old house for shelter from the rain. A few of the stout-hearts (not to mention lungs) that survived belong to Jane Laverty and Gary Sullivan, Marilyn McMullin and Em Hunter, Sara Whitten and Bruce Lee, Diane Evans and Hal Broda, Kay Dunlap and Bob Finney, Louise Mullin and Bud Felix, and JoAnne Lucas and Sid Katz. But in spite of the good smoke curing all received, we hear that it was a wonderful party!

Welcome to Brownie Wales, now visiting on campus. The Theta alum will be here for a week's vacation from Scarsdale, New York. Brownie will be married to Gordon Winston on June thirteenth.

And speaking of visitors, the Alpha Phi's tell us that Paula and Dan Daugherty are expected to be here this weekend.

Betty Peterman and Jackie Chiappari, who were initiated into Kappa Kappa Gamma last Thursday were honored with a banquet at Harper's that evening. Congratulations, girls! On Wednesday, the Kappa's had their scholarship picnic at which the juniors and seniors entertained with stunts.

This morning, Donna Knox left for the Kappa Province Convention at Oxford, Mississippi at the University of Mississippi.

Virginia Nelson will also be heading further north this weekend. She is going to Charlottesville, Virginia to the University of Virginia to dance to the music of Tommy Dorsey at Easters Weekend.

The new officers for Sigma Nu were elected Monday night, and they are: Dave Robinson—Commander, Jim Robinson—Lieutenant Commander, Don Weber—Recorder, Jerry Campbell—Treasurer.

Pete Fay and Billy Key were visiting here over the weekend. Pete is with the Air Force and stationed in Alabama and Billy is in Jacksonville, at the Naval Air Station.

Orchids to the new Rollins cheerleaders: Earlene Roberts, Sally Beauchamp, Jackie Chiappari, Red Jackson, and Jeannie Roberts!

Final Production For Fred Stone

"Duet For Two Hands" Is Final Play At Fred Stone Theatre

By Peter Sturtevant

Mr. Allen presents "Duet For Two Hands" at the Fred Stone Theatre. It is an English play which is set in the Orkney Islands, just off Scotland. It is a strange tale of amputation and surgery — of murder and intrigue — of love and hate. Actually, the subject matter is quite sufficient for a comedy if it were not so oppressive in character.

The best of the romantic leading men at Rollins; Leland Kimball, plays Stephen Cassius, a young poet about whose new hands revolves, or rather agonizes, the plot. Mr. Kimball's super-sensitivity comes across to the audience in such a delicate and subtle way that he need not be violent in his stage business. His voice he must work on, for the borderline between extreme perception and effemininity is a small white wall. His voice doesn't prepare us for anger even though his visage and actions do. He could go far with his fine interpretational quality if he could control his vocal cords.

Babette Skinner, who is worth staring at on any stage, is also a good romantic foil for Stephen. As Abigail, she is charming and a dramatically sound character.

Not so lovely, but carrying the weight of the show on his ample shoulders, is Jack Randolph, who plays Edward; her father. He is the meglomaniacal surgeon who conceived a wierd operation and gave it a wierder twist. He is very powerful as the doctor—I hope he knows his lines better during the week!

Chesta Hosmer is the doctor's sister. She gives a clear picture of an affectionate woman marooned on a manless island. We were particularly impressed with the way she moved about the set as if it were a room and she were alone in it. This gave the audience a good lead in for the act.

Lettie Stouder was a Scotch maid of violent accent. Don't miss that entrance, Miss!

Purposely, the unveiling of the plot's twist has been avoided. Go see for yourself—The Fred Stone Theatre this week.

News From Other Colleges (ACP)

A student who catches on quickly returned three books to the Michigan State college library last month. They were "Stop Forgetting," "Use Your Head" and "How to Remember."

The books were a week overdue.

Here are five commandments for freshmen, as imagined by the Daily Californian, University of California:

1. No high school paraphernalia will be tolerated and thou shalt not bluster ostentatiously about childhood achievements.
2. Thou shalt religiously pack as much wood to all rallies as any puny muscles can uphold.
3. Thou shalt not pose as a "Big Man on Campus."
4. Thou shalt learn that saddles, levis and such do not constitute the proper full dress and should be worn only at brawls.
5. Thou shalt live in most reverential awe and undiluted admiration of thy superiors, the all-powerful . . . class of 1955.

Movie Star's Life Proves To Be Busy And Exciting

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to be a Hollywood movie actor? This week Tony Perkins gave us a first-hand report on his experiences in Hollywood during the shooting of FAME AND FORTUNE in which he shares fourth billing along with Spencer Tracy, Jean Simmons, and Teresa Wright.

Tony tried out for this movie last June, but received no further definite information until this past December when he received a telegram from MGM requesting him to report for wardrobe fittings.

Arriving in Hollywood, Tony went directly to the wardrobe room where they attempted to fit him with the six different costumes he wears in the picture. After hours of trying on various outfits, they decided they would have to make all the costumes in order to have them fit correctly.

On Tuesday he was shown around the set and introduced to the leading stars, as well as given dancing instructions for the first scene in which he would play.

Wednesday was the big day! Besides the usual tension and nervous strain, to make matters more complicated the scene required Tony to do the "Aeroplane Glide," a popular dance in the early 1900's. It seems they had little chalk marks on the floor to show the actors how far to move on each step, but being near-sighted, Tony was having great difficulty seeing the chalk marks, remembering the dance, and keeping calm. He said Jean Simmons was wonderful and very tactfully remarked that if it was all right with him, she would lead the dance.

When Tony first saw the set he couldn't understand why there was a three foot wall on the front side of the stage. Upon further investigation he learned what it was for the purpose of a cat which plays a rather prominent part in the movie. This cat had been trained by the famous lion trainer of "Quo Vadis," and was "gentle as a lamb" off the set, but every time he got under the lights he began to act up causing great commotion by scratching the actresses and requiring several scenes to be re-shot.

Tony had only the highest words of praise and regard for George Cukor, director of FAME AND FORTUNE, and all the leading stars. This movie took a little over a month to make and cost more than a million dollars.

One particular scene shows Tony driving a "Stanley Steamer" along as Jean Simmons is walking across the street. He said he had quite a "nerve-wrecking time" learning to drive this old-type car—which runs by water and is extremely hard to stop once it gets started—up along side Miss Simmons without practically running over her. It seems he discovered a movie actor is required to have all sorts of talent anywhere from making a cat behave to singing.

On his return, people asked Tony as many questions about Hollywood night life as the making of the movie, but during his stay in Hollywood he adhered to a strict schedule of arising at 8:00 A.M. and retiring at 9:00 P.M.

Tony expects the picture to be released sometime this summer and if at all possible would like to be in Hollywood for its premiere.

"Fame and Fortune" was written for the screen by Ruth Gordon and is based on her own experiences as a young girl living in Massachusetts who wants to go to New York and become an actress.

CHIP SHOTS

BY ALLEE CHATHAM

The Pi Phis came through with a big win this week as they copped the Horse Show and jumped from sixth place to third place in the intramural standing. They had two strong riders in Rosie Brodie and Virginia Walker, who tallied 10 points each and tied with Sis Atlass for individual scoring honors. The Gamma Phis, behind the beautiful riding of "Sister" Atlass made a gallant try, but were edged out by a mere two points. They also lost last year in a heart breaker by only one point. This year Sis won both classes in which she entered and also Mrs. Wheeler's special Cup class. Jackie Kevorkian, Phoebe Quaintance, and Gail Donaldson helped the cause along by taking first place in their classes.

The Thetas, defending champs, finished a poor tie for third without their number one rider Gail Gearheart. They were able to win only one first place, Nancy Siebens, in the beginners, and wound up with 17 points, as did the Independents.

The Kappas finished fourth with eleven points, and the Chi O's tallied eight.

The volleyball season started out with two lopsided victories. The Alpha Phis showed good teamwork as they walked over the Pi Phis 51-24. The winners were never seriously challenged as the score was 31-8 at the half.

The Gamma Phis also appeared strong with their 58-23 win over the Phi Mus.

With so few games played, it's not safe to make any predictions about the coming season. At this point it seems as though the volleyball trophy could go to just about any group. No game is ever a sure thing—especially a volleyball game.

HUTSELL STARS AS TARS DOWN PRESBYTERIAN

Sophomore portsider Frank Hutsell broke into the win column last Thursday as he stopped Presbyterian College in the final game of the series, 7-2 with a brilliant six-hitter.

Frank also made the headlines in completing a pitcher's dream. For the first time in two years he broke into the hit column with a stand-up triple in the second inning. This blow set the Tars in the lead which they built up as Nick Vancho followed with a two-run homer into deep left-center.

This game gave the Tars a clean sweep of the series as they had taken the initial game two days before, 11-2.

With a week's rest behind them, Joe Justice ball club will take the field Wednesday and Thursday against Cincinnati and then journey to Miami for two weekend games as the grueling 30 game schedule gets under way again.

Leader Hurls Way To No. 2 Mound Post

By John DeCarville

As all of you are probably aware, Bob Leader has become the Rollins Tar's surprise package on this year's pitching staff. The right-hander has battled his way from obscurity to the number two post on the team.

Knowing Bob as we do it can't be said that this is much of a surprise. The big junior has always had the stuff; all he needed was a good change-up and a little more control. Coach Justice gave Bob his first real chance this year when he called him in from the bull-pen against North Carolina. Bob promptly showed what can be expected of him by blanking the Tar Heels for six innings only to give up three unearned runs in the ninth due to a temporary loss of control and slackness afield.

Since then Bob has won well-pitched games, one against Georgia Teachers and the other a 4-2 duel against the toughest opposition the Tars have faced this season, the Florida State Seminoles.

Going back a bit we find that Bob had an excellent record before coming to Rollins, and has played considerable ball between seasons.

Rapid Robert hasn't always done his work on the pitcher's mound. In high school he played third base until his senior year, when, pitching for the first time, he compiled a 6-0 record. That summer he played for the Bridgeton Braves ending up with a 7-1 total. There Joe Justice saw Bob hurl and offered him a scholarship to come down south and pitch for the Tars.

Tars Outstroke Dartmouth And A.I.C. Big Test 17th With Florida Southern

By Bill Karslake

Last week, the Rollins Tars easily outstroked the Dartmouth and American International College crews for the fourth and fifth victories in six dual races. Dartmouth had little chance against the well-conditioned Rollins eight as the Tars pulled ahead for an easy two-length victory.

In the A.I.C. race Saturday, Rollins moved steadily ahead after a slow start to win by two and one-half lengths. Times on the nine-tenths miles Lake Maitland course were 5:24.4 to 5:34.6. Following the varsity event the Rollins JayVees won from the A.I.C. JayVees by a similar margin.

Next race for the Rollins rowers is scheduled for April 17 against Florida Southern at Lakeland. Southern was the only squad to defeat Dr. U. T. Bradley's crew in dual competition last year. This will be the big test for the Rollins sweepawingers.

The Tars will be without the services of the regular number three man, Skillman Suydam. Skill-man suffered a recurrence of an old leg injury acquired from water-skiing, and is out for the rest of the season. He was replaced by J. V. stroke Bill Karslake, rowing his first varsity race against A.I.C.

Jerry Campbell will fill in at stroke position for the remainder of the J. V. schedule. Because of the JayVee's two successive victories over Dartmouth and

A.I.C., the spirit is at an all-time high.

Probable lineups for the remainder of the season are:

Varsity	Pos.	J. V.
Thompson	1	Colabella
Karslake	2	Buck
Gross	3	Osborne
Sturgis	4	Walker
Trumbull	5	Wright
Class	6	Barley
Bilensky	7	Vickers
Weber	8	Campbell
DeLanegra	Cox.	Fusaro

Gold and Blue

By BRUCE LEE

It is rare indeed when a man writes a farewell column for a newspaper and then sticks around to work on the same paper after having done so.

But strange as it may seem, this is the case, and looking back over the years, reviewing the past sports events, the personalities and their locker room chatter, sports at Rollins becomes a tangible thing.

Lee

You can feel the pulsing roar of the crowd as someone nails the winning basket overwhelming the bitter taste of defeat. You can smell the liniment and feel the heat of steaming showers. And if you try really hard, you sense the presence of the athletes themselves as they review the game, with their acid comments if they lost and gay banter if they won. Adding all these things together, the picture of college life becomes complete. You can trace the rise and fall of the college in the teams it fields.

This has been true in the case of Rollins.

During the past three years, in the transition period when football was scrapped and the veterans were fading from campus life, Rollins has improved in every way. But moving hand in hand with the scholastic part of this school's life has been the athletic program.

Although it has moved slowly at times, the varsity teams have improved with each year giving more and more of a boost to the college, not only in terms of public relations, but also in terms of a better student body.

With the beginning of the Seven Year Self-Study Plan, athletics at Rollins could be subordinated to the more material aspects of renovation such as fieldhouses, dormitories, parking spaces and catalogues. Don't forget the athletes.

A gymnasium is only as good as the team that plays in it. And a school is only as good as its students.

The athlete, as a student, is an integral part of the college which must not be overlooked. The college exists for the teaching of students.

In the future, the student, not only as a scholar but as an athlete and an individual, should be the motivating factor of improvement. If this can be done, there will be no stopping Rollins scholastically, morally, or on the athletic field.

FLA. TOPS TARS; BOGGESS SHOOTS 3 UNDER PAR 68

The University of Florida's red-hot golf team, the current Florida Intercollegiate Champs, outplayed our Rollins Tars here last Saturday to the tune of 17 1-2 to 9 1-2.

Bill "Shank" Boggess burned up the course and his opponent with his sizzling three under par 68, posting rounds of 32-36. "Shank", wheeling his long 45 inch driver, ran off with all three points from Don Knight of Florida. Playing along with Bill was teammate Larry Bentley, who fired a one over par 72, only to lose his match to Dan Sikes, Florida's ace golfer. Bill and Larry won their four ball match from Knight and Sikes and the two Tars stuck a seven under par 64 into the boys from Florida.

In the other matches Gator's Pat Schwab defeated Tar Tim McGuire 3-0. The two boys had scores of 76 and 79 respectively. Terry Temple's four over par 75 didn't do any good against George Fischer's brilliant match play as he lost to George 2 1-2 points to 1-2. McGuire and Temple were shut out by Schwab and Fischer in the four ball 3-0.

Bruce Remsberg and Denny Folken had hard times with Port and Deemer as this pair of Tars salvaged 2 1-2 points out of a possible nine. It seems that even when the Gators don't shoot a good medal score they are always hard to beat at match play.

This weekend the Tars take off for Tallahassee to be entertained by Florida State. Then the next two weeks they finish up Western Illinois and Stetson. The boys look much better now than they did at the first of the season. With the eligibility of Bill Boggess they hope to finish with three victories for Coach Clyde "Rigger" Kelly.

IM STANDINGS FOR MEN POSTED

The Physical Education Office has posted the Men's Intramural point standings for the first two terms. These standings include football, basketball, crew and volleyball with softball, golf, tennis and swimming left on the schedule.

Golf and tennis matches must be completed this month with schedules available from Clyde Kelly and Jim McDougall. The Swim Meet will be held Sunday afternoon, May 10 at the docks.

The present standings are as follows:

X Club—920
Sigma Nu—910
Kappa Alpha—640
Delta Chi—610
Lambda Chi—555
Indies—385

Sis Atlans and Rosalie Brodie after tying for top individual honors in the annual Intramural Horse Show at Dubsread last Sunday.

Pi Phis Win at Dubs With 35 Point Total

The Annual Rollins Intramural Horse Show held Sunday at Dubs Riding Stable was won by Pi Beta Phi. In spite of threatening showers, the show, under the direction of Mrs. Anna N. Wheeler, went off as scheduled.

Rosalie Brodie and Virginia Walker tallied 10 points each for the Pi Phis in their close 35-33 win over the Gamma Phis. Rosalie won blue ribbons in both the Advanced Class and the Side Saddle, while Virginia won the Jumping and the Bareback Classes.

Sis Atlans, riding for Gamma Phi, also tied for individual scoring honors with 10 points. She won her Advanced Class and Bareback Class. She also took top honors in Mrs. Wheeler's special Cup Class for advanced riders. This special event was for those girls who won a ribbon in the Advanced Classes and had taken riding for one term from Mrs. Wheeler.

In addition to Sis's efforts, Jackie Kevorkian won her Side Saddle Class and Phoebe Quaintance won her Intermediate Class for the Gamma Phis.

In the two Beginner's Classes, Gail Donaldson won first place for the Gamma Phis and Nancy Siebens won a blue ribbon for the Thetas.

The Pi Phis won the first of their victories when Frances Draffan took her Intermediate Class. Rosalie Brodie then followed up with first place wins in both her Advanced and Side Saddle Classes. Two more blue ribbons and ten points came their way when Virginia Walker took the Jumping Class and her Bareback Class.

The Horse Show Committee consisted of Sara Jane Dorsey, Women's Physical Education Director; Rosalie Brodie, Student Chairman; and Janet Patton, Assistant Women's Physical Education Director.

Mrs. Virginia Robinson, noted equitation judge from Tampa, Florida, judged the riders in every class. Mr. Asher Peter, of Orlando, was ringmaster and announcer. Three members of the girl's Club, Nancy Corse, Marilyn Shinton, and Carolyn McCue, assisted the committee in the ring.

Crew At Lakeland; Nine Takes On Miami; Tennis Next Weekend

During the next week the sports calendar will hit a high point with three varsity teams competing in important contests.

The crew leaves to race Florida Southern tomorrow in what promises to be the toughest dual match of the season. The Southern eight has taken on all comers this year and has the same varsity record as the Tars boast. The Tar shell may be weakened by the loss of the regular number three man, Skillman Suydam, but is still in good enough shape to give the boys from Southern a tough race.

Baseball

The Tars have looked great all season and, if they can get by Cincinnati and Miami this week, will be set for the important series with Florida later in the month.

Tennis

On April 25 the tennis squad will take on Miami at home in a return match. The Tars lost the first to Miami 7-2 on Miami's home court and will be pointing to avenge that defeat next week.

KA's Hold Softball Lead Indies 24-Lambda Chi 22

In the third week of intramural competition the K.A.'s have taken the lead with two victories and no defeats. With "Colonel" Cunningham doing the mound chores they downed the Deltas on opening day and went on to take a weaker Sigma Nu nine last Thursday.

The second place Deltas, after their initial loss, upset the defending champs, the X Club; then took their second win Monday, rolling over Sigma Nu 12-3.

Three clubs are fighting it out for third place. The Indies moved into this triangle by taking another "track meet." This time they out-slugged the Lambda Chi's 24-22 in the season's longest contest. A long homer in the sixth frame by Jim Vickers, and a leaping catch by indie right-fielder Abdie Taheri, high-lighted this unusual ballgame.

The final and possibly deciding game of the first half competition will be played on April 30 with the K.A.'s tangling with a powerful X Club nine and Lamar Brantley on the hill. If the Club takes this one the first half will probably be thrown into a three way tie for first place, with the K.A.'s and the Deltas rounding out the "Big Three."

The standings as of April 13 are as follows:

	Wins	Losses
Kappa Alpha	2	0
Delta Chi	2	1
X Club	1	1
Independents	1	1
Lambda Chi Alpha	1	1
Sigma Nu	0	3

Library Record Collection Loans Out 1600 Platters

On April 23, 1952, an event took place at Rollins College which has had a growing influence on the students who use the record listening rooms of the library.

On that April day, students Dan Haight and Dubac Preece became the first users of the record collection, begun by the students in memory of Dr. Hamilton Holt.

Now, less than a year later, the record book shows that at least 1600 records have been borrowed by students, exclusive of class listenings, to use in the two listening rooms. The record collection has been augmented and while still small, contains some of the world's finest music.

Among the listeners on one occasion was Mr. Paul Hudson, president of the Davella-Mills foundation which made possible the Mills Memorial Library through its generosity.

Out of curiosity the names were counted, and on April 8, 1600 records had been handed over the desk. Some are for class assignments and many others just for enjoyment itself or to serve as a pleasant background for studying.

As one college official said, "It is not just the music majors, it is the others, majors in Business Administration and other fields who are using them."

The record collection and listening room is one of several new facilities offered Rollins students in the modern, air-conditioned structure. In the basement are broadcasting studios of radio station WPRK, the college operated FM station, plus a microfilm and microcard reading room, photographic studios, and projection studio which seats 56 for both 16mm and 35mm films.

The library staff feels that the record collection is one of the most popular and beneficial to the college of all the new facilities, and has become an important part of college life.

McCarthy In Forum Spotlight Next Week

Senator McCarthy, long a front page feature of the nation's press, is the controversial topic of the Sandspur Radio Forum next Wednesday night at 8:30 over WPRK.

WILL. SHAKESPEARE ON STAGE IS ANNIE RUSSELL'S FINALE

The Rollins players will present as their final performance of the season in the Annie Russell Theatre, Shakespeare's "Othello" beginning April 28. The student cast is directed by Howard Bailey.

Playing the role of Iago in "Othello" will be Charles S. Mendell, Jr., professor of English at Rollins. Buck Class is cast as Othello and Averill Goodrich, as Desdemona.

Others in the cast are Tally Mer-his creation of suspicion and jealousy in the mind of Othello, destroys a man of faith and courage, as nations and individuals turn peoples against one another by like methods today.

Thus the theme will be brought home to the modern audience without destroying Shakespeare's basic philosophy or intent.

Setting and lighting will be by Dick Verigan, and costumes rented from Brooks of New York City.

Being shown through Saturday of this week at the Fred Stone is its final production, "Duet For Two Hands". Directed by Prof. Don Allen, it has an all-student cast including Jack Randolph, Leland Kimball, Babette Skinner, Chesta Hosmer and Lettie Stouder.

Rollins students are admitted free to "Othello" on presentation of Student Association cards at the box office for tickets. The box office will open beginning April 21 from 2 to 5 p.m.

Cast as Emily; Ronald Trumbull as Cassio; Sonia Dorwitt as Bianca; Alex Johnson as Brabantio; John DeGrove as the Duke; Pete Larkin as Lodovico; Albert Dealaman as Montano; Leland Kimball as a Sergeant and Henry Shannon as Roderigo.

The play is directed to emphasize the pertinence of Iago's machinations and lying to the present world situation. The setting will be an army camp, and all male characters will be soldiers. The cutting of the play brings out how Iago, by his lying and
