COLLEGE HOST TO FIPA-FISGA

ROLLINS PICKS DELEGATES TO ATTEND MEET

Rollins will be officially represented at the FISGA-FIPA convention, being held on the Rollins campus this weekend, by three government and five press delegates.

Jerry O'Brien, official, and Robin Metzger and Louis Ingram, alternates, will represent the Rollins Student Association at the meetings of the FISGA. They were appointed by SC president Hal Broda with the counsel of FISGA head Jon Dunn-Rankin.

Chuck Lambeth, official, and Marcia Mattox, Clason Kyle, Alice Berastegui, and Sue Dunn, alternates, will represent the Publications Union. They were appointed by FIPA leader Bruce Lee.

The Constitutions of the Rollins Student Association and Publications Union will be among the materials distributed to visiting delegates from the University of Miami, Florida State University, Florida Southern College, Tampa University, Barry College, Bethune-Cookman College, Florida Normal College, Stetson University, who will be attending this spring 1953 convention.

Registration, under the supervision of Chuck Lambeth, is quartered in the Sandspur office. Louis Ingram was instrumental in arranging housing, Hal Broda meeting places, and Dan Pinger speakers.

The social committee under Dick Lesneski has planned recreation time each afternoon of the convention for swimming, tennis and just lounging.

Delegates also will have an opportunity to see tonight's performance of the current Annie Russell production of Othello.

HOWARD LOCKE KKA PRESIDENT VISITS CAMPUS

The Alpha Psi chapter of the Kappa Alpha Order will entertain the national president of the Order, Howard Locke, this weekend. The Orlando alumni are staging the "first convivial" with an Open House Friday evening for Kappa Alpha members and a Province meeting on Saturday.

With the national president will be the national secretary, Ransome Bassett, and several Province directors. The membership of the University of Miami, University of Florida, and Florida State University Chapters will be present on the Rollins campus at the time.

The meeting will be held at the country estate of KA alumnus Wellborn Phillips.

Bits 'O News

In a spine tingling ball game Tuesday, the University of Florida came from behind to defeat the Tars 9-8.

Professor Allen announces that Sally Beauchamp, Katherine Vockroth, Rosalie Brodie, Carmen Lampe, Babette Skinner, Harry Chauncey, Wally Moon, Jack Randolph, and Dick Lesneskie have earned enough points for membership in Rollins Players. The points are awarded for outstanding work done in the Fred Stone and Annie Russell Theatres.

Front, left, is Sir Gladwyn Jebb with Rollins President McKean in the procession to the Chapel where Sir Gladwyn spoke last Sunday.

Sir Gladwyn Draws Crowds To Chapel

In spite of heavy rains, Sir Gladwyn Jebb, permanent representative of the United Kingdom to the UN, drew a capacity crowd to Knowles Memorial Chapel Sunday morning for the second Convocation of the year.

Sir Gladwyn, visiting Rollins to receive a doctorate of laws, delivered his address from the pulpit after President McKean had conferred the degree.

Sir Gladwyn was optimistic in his outlook on the West's chances in the event of a third world war. He felt, however, that such a conflict would enlarge our problems and possibly wreck our way of life.

STUART JAMES AWARDED GEB FELLOWSHIP

Last week it was announced that Professor Stuart James had been awarded a scholarship to Harvard's summer school for graduate work in English. This week, Professor James received word that he had been awarded a General Education Board fellowship for graduate study in literature, which is one of the most valuable scholarships offered in higher education.

Under the provisions of the fellowship James may study for not more than 12 months at the school of his choice. He has selected the University of Washington in Seattle where he earned his Master of Arts degree in 1950.

In the letter informing Professor James of his award, the General Education Board stated that "this award was made with complete confidence in your ability to do distinguished graduate work."

"So long as we avoid World War III, there is no problem which in the long run cannot be solved by the exercise of international reason", Jebb declared.

While admitting the weaknesses of the organization, Jebb vigorously defended the United Nations as humanity's hope for avoiding a new world conflict.

"When you hear people running down the United Nations and calling it a useless talking-shop, ask them what their own solution is for the problem of organizing international peace," Sir Gladwyn challenged.

"People who talk that way," Jebb continued, "are viewing things as they would like them to be, and not as they are."

"Don't allow them just to ride off with the suggestion that we must have a world state, or we must abolish nations, or the United Nations must make decisions and enforce them for all such phrases are mere escapisms." "Do not let them get away with the even more dangerous suggestion that the only real solution for our difficulties is for the Western world to arm to the teeth and then simply enforce its political solutions."

"For another world war, though it may be necessary to repel aggression, can only make our problems worse... No doubt we should ultimately defeat the other side, but only at the expense of destroying our own way of life and our own civilization."

"It seems common sense... to begin with the simpler problems and then move on to the more complex ones. But if there is to be progress, it must be on the basis of concrete achievement."

To get genuine harmony, the free world "must be ready to meet the Russians half way — more than half way, as Pres. Eisenhower put it," Jebb stated.

Two State Groups Convene On Rollins Campus Today

Rollins College is host to the spring 1953 convention of the FISGA and FIPA today, tomorrow, and Saturday. These statewide student government and press organizations are meeting to discuss problems of the student press and government, and to organize for the coming year.

According to Convention Secretary Liz Stephens, the Florida Intercollegiate Press Association will devote most of its time to the grading of high school newspapers. The idea, as expressed by FIPA president Bruce Lee, is to stimulate interest in journalism in Florida secondary schools.

COUNCIL URGES STUDENTS TO ATTEND CONV.

By Donna Knox
Sandspur Council Reporter

Meetings of the Intercollegiate Press and Student Government Associations start here Friday Morning and will be scheduled through Saturday afternoon. All meetings are open and Council President Hal Broda urges students to attend as many meetings as possible.

Jerry O'Brien is seated as delegate to the F.I.S.G.A. with Louis Ingram and Robin Metzger as alternates. Rollins Delegate to the Press Convention is Chuck Lambeth with Marcia Mattox, Clason Kyle, Sue Dunn and Shorty Berastegui as alternates.

Hal Broda, with Council's approval, appointed Harry Chauncy next year's Fiesta Chairman.

The traffic committee reports that twelve traffic violators have not appeared to pay fines and that social groups will be asked to put pressure on delinquents if fines are not paid at the next traffic court.

On a motion from John De Carville, Council appropriated $25 to add to the $20 collected from students to pay the expenses of broadcasting the Rollins-Florida games from Gainesville next Tuesday and Wednesday. The $25 Council has voted to spend depends on the office of public-relations' willingness to appropriate the additional $20 needed.

FIPA FOUNDED HERE IN 1920

(Reprint from The Sandspur of March 27, 1920)

The Florida Collegiate Press Association had its inception at Rollins College during Founders Week of this year.

It was, in fact, an outgrowth of the convivial spirit of the Sandspur Banquet held Friday evening, February 20, 1920, when, after that "feast of reason and flow of soul", the editors of The Flamingo, The Southern, and The Sandspur met to discuss ways and means of co-operation in the common field of college journalism. Mr. Dye, of The Alligator, was not present but subsequently communicated his hearty approval of the action.

This end, they decided, could best be accomplished through a college press association.

Miss Marie Bryan reports that the copies of the Constitution have been sent out and that she is waiting for the replies. All reports indicate that the proposal of a college press association will be met by enthusiastic support in every instance and that it only remains for the papers themselves to get busy on matters of detail.

The agenda of the Florida Intercollegiate Student Government Association will highlight an instructive session on parliamentary order, as well as panel discussions on such topics as the problems of student discipline and the extent of student authority.

The convention gets underway at ten o'clock this morning with a joint session in the Fred Stone Theatre. Dean Theodore Darrah, dean of the Knowles Memorial Chapel, will deliver the invocation, and Rollins' president Hugh F. McKean will say a few words of welcome. Jon Dunn-Rankin, president of the FISGA, will preside.

The chief speaker of the opening meeting is Ned Brown, an editor of the Orlando Evening Star.

The two groups will meet separately this afternoon to consider internal matters and organize for the balance of the convention.

Dr. Frank Johnson, of the Rollins history faculty, will lead the Saturday morning FISGA program on parliamentary procedure.

Dean of the College Edwin R. Walker will address the final joint session of the convention at 3:00 PM on Saturday. His topic will be "Ethics in Press and Government."

The new officers of both groups will be introduced at the Saturday afternoon windup meeting. And outgoing and incoming administrations will meet in executive session following the general meeting.

This spring 1953 convention of the FISGA-FIPA will conclude with the traditional banquet at 7:30 PM on Saturday evening.

Rollins students are welcomed as auditors of both the press and government sessions. However, they are refused the right to speak in meetings unless they have paid the $3.00 observer fee.

The press group will be meeting in the Sandspur office for most of its sessions. The government delegates will be deployed in Woolson House, the Chapel conference room, the Kappa Alpha Theta and Kappa Kappa Gamma lodges, and the Fred Stone Theatre.

Rollins Claims Both Convention Heads In Lee & Dunn-Rankin

The 1952-53 presidents of both the FISGA and FIPA are Rollins students, the only time in the history of the two statewide organizations that both leaders were elected concurrently from the same college.

At the spring convention at the University of Miami, Jon Dunn-Rankin was elected to the presidency of the Florida Intercollegiate Student Government Association. And Bruce Lee, recently elected editor of the Sandspur, was named Florida Intercollegiate Press Association president.

SPIRIT OF '53

The following is quoted from the Sandspur of February 27, 1953:

This year's senior class is by no means setting a good example for underclassmen in so far as school spirit is concerned. Less than half the seniors marched in the convocation procession Monday, and last October the first and only senior class meeting was held up twenty minutes while upperclassmen rushed about the campus rounding up enough seniors for a quorum to legally elect class officers. Hope next year's fourth-year-class sets a faster pace.

Last Sunday, in a brilliant display of spirit and solidarity, the "Class of '53" marched in massed formation to hear Sir Gladwyn Jebb deliver the Convocation Address. The tramping of the group's sixteen pairs of feet shook the ground and impressed every one who witnessed the ceremony. Assuredly, Sir Gladwyn Jebb, permanent representative of the United Kingdom to the United Nations, must have been particularly impressed.

It is a pity that the senior class has failed to fulfill its fundamental obligations to itself and to the college.

Many have had valid excuses for not attending meetings and other functions, but the proportion is all out of order. If the same situations occurred in the respective senior's social organizations, their actions could not be tolerated because of the chaotic conditions they would create.

On the basis of the Senior Class' showing, perhaps the administration should make the convocation ceremonies compulsory.

That should not be necessary. Students should realize that there are certain obligations that they should accept and perform. They should realize that there are certain things that are more important than the self.

But nevertheless, one wonders if there will be enough seniors around June 6 to warrant holding graduation exercises.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB

If anything, last week proved that mens groups could get together, spend time practicing and sing. The campus sing proved that there could be a good men's glee club at Rollins.

The times the groups held practices were many and varied. Sometimes they were held after lunch, sometimes after dinner and sometimes after 10:30 at night. Behind these times lies the reason why there hasn't been a men's glee club in the past. Most of the men are too busy during the day to practice for more than half an hour at a time unless they cut classes, practices and social activities.

If some method could be approved by the administration allowing men to hold a hour-long practice either during the morning seminar or immediately after lunch, the growth of a men's glee club would be assured.

The Chapel Tower

A pompous character completed his order to the Dining Car waiter with: "And for dessert I'll have Plum Pudding."

"Sorry, Sir. We don't have plum pudding."

"What?" shouted the passenger. "No Plum Pudding. Why I'm one of this roads biggest customers and once I travel on your line and I can't get the food I want."

The steward called the waiter aside and suggested wiring ahead to the next station. In a few minutes the pudding and sauce came aboard.

With obvious pleasure the waiter brought in the pudding. But the passenger slammed down his napkin and stomped out of the car saying, "Keep it. I'd rather be mad."

People are like that. Enough said! Be sure you are different.

GIRLS AT PRINCETON?

Princeton, N. J. — (A.C.P.) —

Princeton officials had their values jolted the other day when they received a letter from a midwestern girl (addressed to the Dean of Women):

"I am sincerely thinking about attending your university and would like some information in regards to tuition, board, books, and a part-time job if possible."

Some information on the size of the school and the campus and the situation of the dorm and sorority houses along with any other information would be desired.

Since Princeton had no dean of women, Assistant Dean of the College, Hamilton Cottier, did the honors. He told her it would be useless to send the information she requested. Princeton does not accept women students.

VOCATION AND LIBERAL ART

New York, N. Y. — (I.P.) —

The liberal arts colleges have been too afraid of the word "vocation." President Millicent C. McIntosh of Barnard College declares in her biennial report, released here recently, adding that "teaching which is truly liberal will fit students to use subject matter for work, and at the same time will relate to the great human problems faced by every individual."

"Courses which deliberately make these connections should be given side by side with those purely theoretical or historical, just as we have for years accepted the necessity of laboratory work in the study of science and statistics as a tool for the economist," she says.

Quoting the Oxford English Dictionary definition of the word vocation — "the particular function or station to which a person is called by God" — President McIntosh continues: "We cannot escape from the broad vocational implications of a college curriculum, even though we may resist them as allowing the market place to invade the world of the scholar."

"Always, however, we must keep in mind the primary purpose of the liberal arts, which will guide us in avoiding work that is trivial or purely technical. We must also seek out material which in itself has substance and depth, and which will expose our students to great ideas."

Mrs. McIntosh holds that whatever trains and cultivates the mind and spirit is fit material for the curriculum, and that whatever problem of society presents a need for solution "by devoted, educated human beings" may be the business of the enlightened college teacher.

"I look forward to a day when the liberal arts college will no longer be self-conscious or defensive about academic learning," she says. "By combining in our students the scholar's training with the sensitive conscience, we shall make our full contribution to our generation."

"We must confess to failure if we send our students out with many 'courses' to their credit but no vocational sense; that is, no particular station or function to which they feel themselves called. We have failed also if they find themselves inadequate to meet the lives they actually lead, be these in the home, in the professions, or in business."

AN "OVERSIGHT"

University of Wyoming —

(A.C.P.) — The University of Wyoming has a board of a dozen trustees, but nobody is certain about its legality.

It's all the fault of Acting Governor C. J. Rogers who has appointed too many Republicans to the board — which is against the state law. The law says that no more than seven members of the board may be registered in the same party.

At present there are eight Republicans on the board.

Gov. Rogers says it's all an "oversight," and adds, "I don't know what we can do about it now." He claims the mixup occurred because "I understood one of the appointees was a Democrat."

Meanwhile, Democratic state legislators are pressing for a constitutional showdown. They want the recent appointments to be declared null and void.

'ROUND ROLLINS

By Jon Dunn-Rankin

Names in the News: FIPA and FISGA statewide student press and government organizations, convening the spring 1953 convention on the Rollins campus today . . . Jack and Marcia Rich, naming their first-born Jonathan. (Of course it's going to be a boy!) Other Rollins Jonathans: Jonathan D. (son of Theodore S.) Darrah, Jonathan Whitney Peterson, Jonathan Dunn-Rankin . . . The recent Rollins Art Show at the Argent Gallery in New York City, listing on its guest register, an informant tells us, the name Christine Jorgenson . . . Miss Alice Dean Kelly, instructor in English, being awarded a Fulbright teaching grant to Zocherstraat, Amsterdam, The Netherlands, beginning September 1, 1953 . . . Dr. Irvin Stock, ranking by a count of the catalogue as Rollins fifteenth Ph.D. on its ninety-member faculty . . . Frank Ledgerwood III, born Tuesday April 21, son of Frank and Grace Ledgerwood, great-grandson of the late Hamilton Holt.

Lightening Strikes Twice: Stuart James, instructor in English, not only gets a Harvard summer school scholarship, but a twelve-month Rockefeller Foundation General Education Board fellowship at the University of Washington: expenses to and from, full tuition, and a monthly stipend to boot.

Howard Bailey, director of the current Annie Russell opus, the Immortal Bard's Othello, tells us the eight-man, three-woman cast is one of the smallest in the acting history of the play. We got out our Complete Works and totaled up Shakespeare's original listing. Results: eight named male parts, plus Duke of Venice, Clown, other Senators, Sailor, Messenger, Herald, officers, gentlemen, musicians, and attendants, and the three women, Desdemona, Bianca, and Emilia.

Sure Signs o' Spring: As if the April weather weren't enough of a seasonal barometer, a brilliant red, black, and white woodpecker has moved into the water oaks between Carnegie and Orlando Halls. His bright crimson crest is offset by jet body feathers with a band of gleaming white seen in flight spanning his wingspread . . . Other signs: The scrubbed and spruced up marker to the Walk of Fame, with letters newly etched in black . . . The coatless faculty, addicted more and more to sport shirts in a bow to the climate and the custom of spring.

In last week's column, the intent was: "Holt designed a method to bring teacher and taught into the greatest and most effective contact." We assume "teacher and thought" have always enjoyed a profitable acquaintance.

Eureka: While crossing a darkened campus the other night, we discovered a solution to the hazard of the late night lightless Horseshoe. We merely flipped a switch, and there was light!

College Announces Korean Vet Scholarship Program

Rollins College, this week announced a scholarship program for an unlimited number of qualified veterans, through which yearly awards of from $250 to $500 will be added to the educational benefits of the Korean G.I. Bill. Financial need and other qualifications will govern the scholarships, says Pres. Hugh F. McKean.

The program will begin with the 1953-54 school year. Scholarships awarded during the next four months will enable holders to attend the fall term which opens Sept. 27.

McKean listed two important reasons for the program: the achievements of World War II veterans at Rollins and limitations of the Korean G.I. Bill.

"Following World War II," he said, "some of the best students at Rollins were veterans. The Korean bill does not cover the cost of education at this college, which has limited enrollment, small classes, and a more costly type education than found at many colleges."

The Korean G.I. Bill, provides in its educational benefits for a monthly training allowance of $110 for single veterans. Veterans with one dependent receive $135, and those with two or more $165. No other money is given the veteran student, who must pay room, board, tuition, and other expenses from the allowance.

The World War II bill provided a smaller cash payment but took care of tuition, books, laboratory fees, etc.

Chi O-KA Beachcombers Ball

Beachcombers Flood Orange Ct. For Dance

The Chi-Omega-Kappa Alpha Beachcomber's Ball, held last Saturday in the ballroom of the Orange Court Hotel, was one of the high-lights of this year.

The crowd of several hundred, danced under colored lights to the music of Ed Cushing and his orchestra.

One of the main attractions, however, was the great variety of costumes, in hats, shorts, skirts, etc. The X Clubber's walking shorts, Dick Colabella and Babette Skinner's burlesque, Reidell's knee Bermuda's, made the evening a memorable one.

Some of the more distinguished "Beachcombers" were chaperones: Mr. and Mrs. Don Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rich, Dean and Mrs. Edwin Walker, Dean Marion Cleveland, Mrs. Margaret Fitzgerald, and Mrs. Cordelia Weber.

MILLCENT FORD WILL STUDY IN FRENCH COLLEGE

The first of three scholarships awarded through the French department has been announced by Mme. Collete Van Boecop, professor of French civilization.

Millicent Ford, a senior from Orange, Conn. has won a scholarship for study in France. She will attend the University of Grenoble this summer.

Miss Ford, during her visit abroad, will be a guest in Paris of the parents of Rollins student Bernard Tannier. Tannier is attending Rollins this year on the scholarship given last year through the French Festival.

Two other scholarship winners will be announced later. One is for another Rollins student to attend Laval University, Quebec, Canada, and the third for a worthy French or Dutch student to study for one year at Rollins.

The scholarship to Laval University is made possible by the Canadian government, which annually places the responsibility for selecting the Rollins student in the hands of Mme. Van Boecop.

The other two scholarships were given to the college this year through the annual French Festival, which Mme. Van Boecop holds in the spring of each year. She had set for her goal this year $2,000, and received $2,391.92 with the help of "some special personal friends."

Production Of Shakespeare's "Othello" Terminates Year's ART Program

By Peter Albert Sturdevant

It is oft easier to judge a man when he is injected into a trying situation than it is during a period of normality — for to a big man, normality is a lull. Last night we witnessed a metamorphosis at great purport. We saw a noble Moor, rich of speech, short of will, quick to act, and sensitive to regret. The actor was Buck Class who was given a chance to do something which taxed his ability, and instead of laughing and turning his back, he flung himself into the work and came out with the finest performance of this theatre season.

Averill Goodrich's Desdemona was a perfect foil for the Arabic anger. She was clever and sweet, then she became confused and stoic, finally a child begging for her life: "Kill me tomorrow, let me live tonight." We were sorry that due to the abridged version, Desdemona could not take a longer time in expiring as she does in the full length "Othello" for we are sure that Miss Goodrich's ability could have carried her to the cathartic mood of angelic forgiveness.

Charles Mendell turned the page back for us to the birth of motion pictures by being enough the villain to draw a few hisses. The role of Diago is one of the most difficult in the theater and was not mis-used. Mr. Mendell was excellent in his chorus-life soliloquies and in his "hail fellow well met" scenes. However he could vary his asides so that they be not confused with the pre-running of the play. Also, he must project more in his speech concerning his offended dignity "till love no friend, sith love breeds such offense". The dramatic mis-use of his "honesty" should be defended more hotly.

Ronald Trumbull was a clean spoken and upright Cassio. He well portrays the Lt. in his corps, but should resolve the entire action with more affectionate sorrow when he speaks to Othello, "for he was great of heart."

A Shakespearean cast which contained not one member who remounted his or her lines was Hank Shannon and Tally Merritt — two old hands at the Annie Russell who graduate this year. Both have contributed a great deal of excellent work to the aesthetic stomach of this college and as is usually the case, are controlled and polished cogs in the machinery of a play.

Sonia Dorwit adding humor as Bianca, Alex Johnson as Brabantio, John De Grove as the Duke, Peter Martin as Lodovico, Albert Dealman as Montano, and Leland Kimball as a sergeant round out a fine cast which make for good theater at the Annie Russell.

Skiing Suydam Family Received Many Awards

By Clason Kyle

Where is the best place to view Mr. Henry Suydam?

Well, I would suggest that you go down to the Skier's Beach on Lake Virginia, plant yourself firmly in the path of the oncoming speedboat, and as it slows down to dunk its skier, you splash through the water and climb aboard.

You get a good look for the first time at Henry Suydam. You discover him to be a slim, hard muscled man with an almost permanent smile which displays a regular set of white teeth that contrast well against his deep tan.

Next, you discover him to be both eager and patient, patient with the almost rank beginner who is skiing (?) behind the boat, and eager to answer any and all questions shouted at him over the roar of the speedboat.

"How long have you and your son Skillman been skiing?" was the question to which came the amazing reply of "only five years."

Equally amazing is the story behind the Suydams taking up the sport. They first saw a movie short on the subject, and then one Sunday afternoon toured down to Cypress Gardens to see the water ski show of Dick Pope, Sr. This latter was all it took to sell father and son on this sport which was rapidly growing in popularity.

Returning home, they commissioned the old family rowboat with a 22 horsepower Johnson outboard motor, and proceeded to teach themselves to ski. Hard work is what Mr. Suydam attributes to be the basis for the success that he and Skillman have enjoyed. Mr. Suydam had been a four letter man in prep school athletics when he lost his left arm, just below the elbow. Sure, it took him longer to learn to ski than it would someone not handicapped, but he learned well. "I can do anything the others can do, including the 360's," said Mr. Suydam with modest pride. The 360's has reference to the number of degrees in one complete turn.

There was a senior student back in 1949 at Rollins who was doing a good deal of water skiing. In fact he was the first Intercollegiate Water Ski Champion. Name? Dick Every of Daytona Beach. Dick gave Mr. Suydam some pointers, HENRY SUYDAM gives pointers to Rollins students before taking to skis. Many alumni coached by Suydam are now skiing professionally.

What sort of success did all this hard work bring? Henry Suydam has collected more championships than any other performer in the nation, with son Skillman not too far behind. Their trophy collection is a sight to behold. With hardly more than a year of skiing to his credit, Skillman entered the '49 Dixie Water Ski Tournament at Cypress Gardens, where he had received his first inspiration. He came away with the Junior Boy's Championship to his credit.

1949 and '50 were banner years for Skillman. Soon he was top among the National Juniors, winning the Championship in 1949. He was able to successfully defend his Junior Title in '50. Also in '50, he won the World's Junior Title. This title he still holds, as there has not been another World's Tournament since.

Father Suydam was not to be outdone by Skillman. By 1950 Mr. Suydam had given up his job to become a full time ski coach at Rollins. First this championship and then that one began to fall his way. At the previously mentioned World Tournament in 1950, Mr. Suydam won the Veterans Division Championship.

At the National's in 1951, Skillman at the age of 17, had advanced to the men's division, where his stiffest competition was Rollins graduate Dick Pope, Jr. The National Tournament was held at Lake Placid, New York that year, and Dick was favored to win his fourth consecutive Men's Championship. The Water Ski Championship is based on points earned in all the three skiing events — jumping, trick riding, and slalom.

Dick and Skillman were deadlocked all the way. It was only when Dick missed a buoy in a terrific slalom duel that Skillman was able to nose him out for the overall National Men's Championship crown.

And who won the over-35-year-of-age Veteran's Division of the National Championship? None other than Mr. Henry Suydam, who this writer judges to be over 35 in years, but hardly over 21 in spirit and enthusiasm.

And where is the best place to view Skillman Suydam? Well, that's pretty hard to say. He can be spotted tooling his convertible to and from school, or out to the crew shed where he occupied a seat in the varsity shell. He can be found indulging in a game of pool in the basement of the K. A. house, of which he is a newly initiated member. Or, he may be seen apple polishing Dean Darrah after a New Testament class.

Skillman is tall, handsome, and has the same warm smile that his father possesses. It is felt that perhaps he doesn't give enough breaks to campus lovelies, but there is some rumor circulating about, that there is a girl at Tallahassee who may have the inside track.

Last year, the Suydams were unable to make connections on the National Tournament, and were forced to pass it up.

and Skillman received some jumping advice from Dick Pope, Jr., and that is all the formal instruction the Suydams have ever had.

In fact, Mr. Suydam says that neither he nor Skillman have more than average ability. They had to learn by the "fall method." But this has proved invaluable experience which Mr. Suydam has passed on to his many talented skiers. Currently he named Bob Goddard and Jidge Wood as among his top pupils.

Helms Waits For Miami Runner

Brophy Wins First College Start In Tar 3-1 Defeat Of Hurricanes

After losing the first game of the Miami series, the Rollins Tars came back to stop the Miami Hurricanes 3-1 behind the four hit hurling of pitcher - outfielder, Art Brophy. After using three pitchers the day before in a vain attempt to stop a red-hot Miami ball club, Coach Justice gave Art his first starting assignment of the year, and was well rewarded as Brophy pitched and batted his way to a triumph.

The Tars' winning run came in the fifth frame when, after Freddie Talbot walked, Connie Mack Butler pounded Miami moundsman, Jack Marnhout's first offering over the right-center field fence, and trotted across the platter with the big tally.

Brophy

After giving up an unearned run in the third inning, Brophy held the Hurricanes for the final six frames, facing only one extra batter and allowing Miami only two hits and one walk. Both late inning hits were erased as the Tar keystone combination teamed up for a pair of twin-killings.

Butler, Brophy, Del Helms, and

Al Daynor led the Tar hitters, the last three collecting two hits apiece off Marhout and Marty Kazan, who came in in the seventh.

Miami's lone run came in the third as the 'Cane hurler blasted a double to center and stretched the hit into three bases as the Tar third baseman errored on the throw. He later scored on a single to left from the bat of Bob Taro.

The opening game of the series was a slug-fest as six hurlers, three for each club, paraded to the hill and only the last Miami moundsman, Larry Murphy had any measure of success.

Behind 9-5 coming into the top of the eighth Miami found the range against Tar reliever, Bob Leader, and later Bill Cary, to push over two markers in the eighth and three more in the ninth taking the victory 10-9. In their end of the ninth the Tars put men on first and second with no outs, only to have the threat dissolve as, on an attempted sacrifice the Rollins batter missed the bunt and Vancho then reached first on a fielder's choice and went around to third on a wild pitch to set up the tying run only to have the last man thrown out on a roller to third base.

Four hits, one Helm's triple, put the Tars into the lead in the six by a 7-5 count. Kichefski came in for the 'Cane and retired the side, but was then pounded for two more in the eighth until Larry Murphy came in to put out the side and be slated to get the win after the Tar's vain try in the last of the ninth.

The annual State Play Day usually held between all the colleges in Florida, has been cancelled this year. Rollins and Stetson will still have a Sports Day, however, this Saturday, May 2, at Stetson.

The usual all-round program of sports will be followed, with only basketball and swimming being dropped. We will send teams to participate in tennis, golf, softball, volleyball, and archery. Although there is never an actual tabulation of wins and thus no eventual winner of the meet, Rollins in the past has won more than its share of the events at this state get-together. Here's betting that the teams this year will be equally successful.

Chatham

Cars are needed to take the girls up to Stetson. Anyone who can take a group of girls please contact Sara Jane. They will leave at 8:30 Saturday morning from Carnegie Hall.

The unusual amount of golf being played by the girls out at Dubs this past week can be explained only one way—as Clyde would say—"It's time for intramurals!"

Each group entered in the golf tournament will have three girls playing. The two lowest qualifying scores from each group will be taken as the team score.

The competition is expected to be keen in all flights, but especially the championship flight. The trophy was won last year by the Kappas, who with Barb Bremmerman and Donna Knox will be trying for a repeat.

Yours truly will feebly attempt to retain the individual title. They'll be gunning at me from all sides, though. In addition to Barb and Donna, Mary Ann McDonald for the Alpha Phis, Marilyn Klumb for the Indies, and Marlene Stewart, Theta, will be doing their best.

The volleyball season is quickly coming to a close with only two games remaining for each group.

Still remaining in the undefeated column are the Thetas, who had a close call in their 43-31 victory over the Gamma Phis. The Gamma Phis led at the half in this exciting game.

The Kappas got into the win column this week as they won 40-25 over Pi Phi, and 38-30 over Alpha Phi.

KA'S HOLD LEAD IN FIRST HALF DELTS WIN 5-2

As the first half of the softball season comes to a close, the K.A.s are in the lead with the Delts pulling into the runner-up spot by taking the Lambda Chi nine 5-2, Monday afternoon.

The Delts scored the first marker of the game in the opening stanza as Sid Katz broke up a play at first allowing Jerry Sprayregen to charge in from third. They scored three more in the fifth and added the final tally in the seventh, while the Lambda Chis hit their stride against Delt hurler Don Anderson only in the last inning as they pushed across two runs.

Both infields were tight as three double plays and even an attempted triple-killing, showed up the almost errorless ball displayed by both teams.

The big game of the week will be played Friday as the league-leading K.A.s take on the X Club. If Julian "The Colonel" Cunningham can put the K.A.s in the win column in this game, they will be still the only undefeated club in the league.

Millet Takes Match In Tar Loss To Miami

By John Joy

An ill wind blew in on the heels of the Miami Hurricanes as they defeated the Rollins tennis team 5-3, Saturday afternoon.

The ill wind took the form of severe leg cramps which forced Memo Garcia to default his match when he was within two points of a victory which would have tied the score at 4-4.

An appreciative crowd watched one of the best matches played on the number one court in recent years, as Alfredo Millet defeated Orlando Garrido, 9-7, 6-3. Both men were in excellent form and brought repeated applause from the spectators. As the first set progressed, Alfredo found himself and was never in grave danger.

Ed Scheer won the only other Tar singles victory as he defeated Jerry Slobin, 7-5, 6-4. Millet and Danel defeated Garrido and Slobin in doubles, 9-7, 6-1.

NINE DROPS FSC WITH HUTSELL'S TWO-HIT EFFORT

By Jim Locke

All those who contend that pitching is a lost art in this era of the "rabbit" ball were not on hand at Harper-Shepherd Field, the 22nd, to watch the Rollins Tars down a stubborn Florida Southern nine, 1-0.

The game saw Frank Hutsell tied up in a grueling mound duel with Florida Southern ace, Charlie Senger.

From the first inning, Hutsell was the master, as he threw an assortment of curves and change-ups that literally mesmerized the Moccasins. While Frank was throwing his two-hitter, the Tars were able to nick Senger for seven well scattered hits, five of these coming from the potent bats of Talbot and Brophy. However it wasn't until the ninth inning that the Justicemen were able to push across the winning run.

With the bases loaded, diminutive Tar catcher, Don Finnigan, rifled a sharp grounder that proved too hot for the shortstop to handle as the ball bounced off his leg allowing the tally.

The only threat to the Moccasins prior to the ninth frame, came in the eighth and failed to materialize.

The Scoreboard

By CHUCK LAMBETH

The Student Council, which has been showing an unprecedented and welcome interest in both varsity and intramural sports, came up with three plans for improvement in the student body's sometimes failing interest in athletics, Monday night.

Lambeth

First on the list was the appointment of a student to serve as an ex officio member of the faculty board on intercollegiate athletics. With a student sitting in on these meetings and reporting to Council, the student body will have factual information concerning the basic policies of Rollins College in varsity athletics, as opposed to the conglomerations of hearsay which have caused hard feelings in the past. The answers to such questions as; "Why don't we play so-and-so in baseball?", "What is the Rollins attitude toward the 'purity code' of athletics?" and many others can be examined by the students themselves.

The second proposal allowed students to follow the Tar nine in its two-game series with Florida at Gainesville this week. By agreeing to supply part of the funds for a play-by-play broadcast of the Gainesville series thru the facilities of WPRK, the Council allowed many students to sit over a cup of coffee in the Center and hear a description of the games by the station's sportscasters.

In an attempt to liven up the crew races as a spectator sport, a loudspeaker hook-up, working from a short range radio in the official launch and broadcasting to the on-lookers at the crew shack, has been arranged. This system is scheduled to be given a trial run in the Florida State Regatta on Lake Maitland, Saturday morning.

Last week The Sandspur made an error in the reporting the results of the intramural golf matches held during the week. The actual results were as follows: McGuire beat Bill Ross 8 and 7 and Boggess defeated Bill Teunis 6 and 4.

The semi-final matches in this competition will be played off next week.

The results of the tennis match played with Miami Saturday afternoon place the Tars in the unfortunate position of being unable to attain a top national ranking this year. Even if the team is able to top North Carolina, ranked number one in the East, they will still have two losses to a high-ranked Miami squad and so will be unable to place above the spot assigned to the Hurricanes.

This same Miami team has the distinction of being the only team to beat the Tars since Jim McDougall took over as coach in 1947.

Bentley Takes Honors As Tars Club W. Illinois 20-7

The Tars golf team trampled Western Illinois State, 20-7, Saturday afternoon on the Dubsdread links. Leading 5-4 over the Illinois club, the Tars roared into the back nine and drove their way to 13 point victory.

Larry Bentley and Bill Boggess, the Tars top men, were also the top of the proverbial totem pole as they shut out the visiting State men, 9-0. Larry picked up his three points from Crovetti by firing a one over par 72, and earning top medalist honors for the day. "Shank" Boggess won his three markers with a 75 round. Larry and Bill also made a clean sweep of their four-ball match for another three points.

In the other contests of the day, Tar Terry Temple defeated Traverso 2 to 1, while teammate Tim McGuire split his match with Vicini 1½ to 1½. The four-ball match was split also with McGuire and Temple shooting 77 and 79 respectively.

Denny Folken skunked Chapman 3 to 0 and Bruce Remsberg took one point from Heaton while losing two. Folken and Remsberg also won their four-ball match 2 to 1.

Tars Bentley, Boggess, McGuire and Temple are competing in the Southern Intercollegiate Tournament this week in Athens, Georgia.

Six Outstanding Students Receive Big Scholarships

Rollins College today announced the awarding of six scholarships worth $24,000 to outstanding students of secondary schools.

The awards are four year scholarships of $4,000 each, and are among a group offered in cooperation with the University Club of Winter Park.

Three men and three women have been selected. Each ranks in the upper fourth of his high school graduating class, and has shown leadership in extra-curricular activities.

The men are Peter Wellman Adams, Wellesley, Mass.; James Lee Brediger, Navarre, Ohio; and Gordon S. Hahn, Philadelphia.

The women are Darlene J. Dicks, Indianapolis, Ind.; Nancy G. McMillan, Willimantic, Conn.; and Frances Swicegood, Arlington, Va.

Announcement will be made soon of additional scholarships to Central Florida students and other students who show ability, need, and the promise of unusual achievement. More than 40 percent of the students at Rollins College receive some kind of financial aid.

The above winners have been exceptionally prominent in student activities. Adams is vice president of the student council at Wellesley High School, a member of the dramatic club, and a member of the basketball and baseball teams, as well as football manager.

Brediger served on the staff of the school annual at Brewster High School, Ohio, and lettered in basketball for three years. He was also a member of the band and choir, and received literary awards. Hahn was a student council delegate, was active in Y. M. C. A. work, and was winner of various scholastic honor awards at Central High School in Philadelphia.

Miss Dicks was a member of the National Honor Society and numerous musical groups. She won the regional scholastic art gold key and the Girl's Athletic Association state plaque award as well as a first division rating in state solo and ensemble contests.

Miss McMillan was treasurer of the Student Council at Windham High School, Willimantic, Conn. She was also secretary of the athletic council, an officer in the grange, and member of the Latin, French, and Dolphin Clubs and of numerous intramural sports teams. She also took part in choir and band activities and was choral accompanist for the Connecticut All-State Chorus.

Miss Swicegood was a member of the Beta Club at Washington-Lee High School in Arlington, and of the French Honor Society. She was secretary of her home room, member of the Washington-Lee Choir, secretary-treasurer of the Stagecraft Club, and a member of the French Club, Art Club, magazine staff, annual staff, and newspaper staff.

Delta Chi's And Thetas Victorious in Campus Sing

Mary Marsh directs the Thetas in their win over the Alpha Phis at the Campus Sing last Friday in the Center patio. Their selected song was "Some Enchanted Evening." No picture was available of the Delta Chis, winner over the Sigma Nu's for the men with their interpretation of "Sea Fever."

SENIORS TALK WITH JEBB ON BRITISH STATE

Internationally minded members of the Senior class and representatives of the press interviewed Sir Gladwyn Jebb under the broiling light of a television newsreel camera last Sunday after Sir Gladwyn's speech to Convocation. This discussion, in which Sir Gladwyn spoke frankly and unhesitatingly about British policy and British personalities at home and abroad, was tape-recorded exclusively for next week's edition of the Sandspur Forum.

Questions ranged from "What is Winston Churchill like?" to "In your speech were you talking about a world government with powers to enforce its decisions?"

G. D. Saute, moderator of the Forum, corresponded with Paul Wright, Sir Gladwyn Jebb's press attache at the United Nations to arrange the broadcasting of the informal conference.

Last night Mr. Norman Cousins, famous writer, editor, and peace enthusiast, was interviewed by Daninger, Alex Johnson, and Bud Reich on the Forum.

Carmen Lampe Is Librarian

Three weeks ago, Carmen Lampe replaced Rod Collins, who is now music director at W.P.R.K., as Record Librarian. She works in conjunction with Ben Ayer, Program Director of the Rollins College radio station.

Besides filing records, which are sent to W. P.R.K. by the N.A.E.B. Tape Network and other educational networks, she also numbers all incoming records and places them in their correct positions in the files. Further-

Lampe more her job entails handling transcription recordings sent to W.P.R.K. from the B.B.C. and Radio France along with others, making sure that they are available for use on the air and returning them to the stations from whence they came.

Carmen, a member of Pi Beta Phi, is active in other campus activities, and is an outstanding tennis athlete, ranking second on the women's tennis ladder.

CLASS TOURS ORLANDO BANK ON FIELD TRIP

Thursday, April 23, Dr. J. H. Robinson's Business Management class toured the First National Bank of Orlando. The group was welcomed by President Capehart who was followed by four men giving brief talks on various phases of banking.

Refreshments of coffee and cokes were served and the group was then taken through the entire bank by Mr. Wm. McGuire, a Rollins graduate.

Highlights of the tour included a view of the newest IBM banking machines, the vaults, a projection machine showing cancelled checks on microfilm, and the Basement Deposit Receiving Department.
