NEW WOMENS' HOURS SET

Chauncey Reports Fiesta Nets $628.57; Council Passes Motion Allowing Class Of 1957 To Organize

Harry Chauncey, Fiesta Chairman, reported in Student Council meeting Monday night that the net profit on this year's Fiesta amounted to $628.57.

Bill Karslake announced that the social rules revisions are now in the hands of the faculty and will be voted on before the Student Council meeting of May 10.

Official plans are set for the Senior Dance which will be held Saturday, May 22 from 9:30 until 12:30. Girls will be given 1:30 permission to attend the dance. Freddy Castro's orchestra will play for the dance which will be held in the Coliseum patio.

Panhellenic revised rush rules for next year were read in meeting. The principle change concerns the informal teas. These teas will be included in orientation week activities making it necessary for all upperclass women to be back on campus during this week.

It was moved, seconded and passed that the class of 1957 be allowed to organize for 1954-55 on a one year trial basis, electing officers this spring term for next year.

SPECIAL STAGE TO BE ERECTED FOR "ROBERTS"

The Rollins Players' production of "Mr. Roberts" by Joshua Logan and Thomas Heggen, to be presented May 25-30, will be the first presentation of this outstanding Broadway hit actually on the water. The action of the play takes place on an old cargo ship "some" where in the South Pacific during World War II.

A special stage will be erected on Lake Virginia, on the Rollins College campus, and the setting will be built up so that it has the appearance of an actual boat. The "boat" will be anchored a few feet from the shores of the lake, with the audience sitting on the bankside. Gun mounts will be built on either side of the stage to form "tormentors" which enclose the action, and the back cabin-wall, adjoining the front part of the deck, will consist of sliding panels, which will open up when the action shifts from the deck to within the cabin. Tropical foliage will be

The Photographic Department has announced that it is now in a position to offer for sale photos of the Annie Russell plays for the last two years.

Displays of these prints are available in the College Bookstore and orders may be placed there for delivery before the end of this college year.

Any seniors who wish to have their portraits taken in cap and gown before graduation ceremonies may arrange for this by contacting Mr. Lyman Huntington in his office in the basement of Mills Memorial Library between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. every weekday.

Children To Present Two Piano Festivals

Two massed piano festivals will be given by Central Florida children of the piano classes of Rollins College Courses for the Community at the Winter Park Woman's Club next week.

Younger children will play Wednesday May 12, and older students Thursday May 13, both at 8 p.m.

Since there is practically no literature for a piano "orchestra" it was necessary to make arrangements from solo editions. This was done as a creative project by the children in the classes.

The young performers are pupils of Jane McInvale, Marion Marwick, Phyllis Sias and Margaret Smith.

Dr. Emeny Talks To The Rollins Family As Guest Speaker Of IRC

Dr. Brooks Emeny, international lecturer and writer on world affairs from Princeton, N. J., spoke to members of the Rollins family in Weelsen House Monday afternoon. Community Service, Race Relations Club and the faculty co-operated with the International Relations Club to bring Dr. Emeny to the Rollins campus.

Included in his speech was the idea that young people should become aware of their position in the world of today. He also informed the group as to how International Relations Clubs should operate and the standards it should keep.

The discussion period was informal and students were urged to ask questions.

After the faculty left, Dr. Emeny talked to the officers of the three groups about what young people should be getting out of college.

Dr. Emeny is the father of Faith Emeny, Rollins senior.

EDITORIALS

SENIORS SHOULD CHOOSE
WHO'S WHO NOMINEES

Early this fall a group of anonymous juniors met and selected this year's group of nominees to represent Rollins in the publication, "Who's Who in American Colleges." Their selections, like those of any anonymous group of this type, have been questioned and partially so due to the fact that they were anonymous enough that their authority did not seem to stand behind their decisions.

This situation does not befit the honor and benefit which members of "Who's Who" are destined to receive, and we would like to propose an alternate method of selection.

Those persons selected on the Who's Who of 1954 are certainly qualified to take an objective outlook upon choices for next year's group of nominees. They are seniors and have seen the junior class develop through three years of college life. They have been selected to Who's Who due to the fact that they are student leaders in varied fields and therefore will be impartial in their selections of next year's group.

They understand the importance of this nomination in out-of-college life and its reflection upon Rollins College in the caliber of the candidates chosen. And, they will not feel obligated to nominate any exact number of persons to Who's Who since those individuals will not be in the room while the selections are being made.

Therefore it is suggested that the Who's Who group on the Rollins campus be made a self-perpetuating organization, with the duty of nominating the next fall's choices for Who's Who before they leave through graduation in the spring.

SOPHOMORES ON TRIAL

The Student Council has approved the Class of 1957's request for permission to organize during its sophomore year through the election of officers. This has been approved only on a trial basis.

As stated in discussion, this organization shall be dedicated to the preservation of the Class of 1957 as a class, and as such will be of great aid to the newly reorganized Alumni Association.

The present senior and freshman classes have elected their officers also, but these officers had stated duties to perform when they took office. The motion, as passed by Council, has given the sophomore class of next year a carte blanche to organize under the benevolent wing of the Student Council, but with its purposes to be decided after the elections.

Since this group has not submitted a charter or set any ideals, the Student Council should reconsider its action pending receipt of definite plans.

It has always been considered very bad business practice to endorse an organization without having even the vaguest notion of its purposes.

The Student Council deals in big business; its actions effect all 550 students of this college.

The Chapel Tower

T. S. Darrah

Dean Inge of St. Paul's was known as the "Gloomy Dean" but he did shed some light on a dark subject. "A man is a good judge of his own sex, a bad judge of the other. And the same is true of a girl. The worst mistakes would be avoided if a young man was careful to choose a girl who has good women for her friends, and if a girl was careful to choose a man who is liked and respected by good men."

This has been said before. But this is the season of the year when it most needs to be said. It is spring.

World News In Brief

By BRUCE LEE

New factors are forcing the Communists to take another look at the war in Indo-China. In the past, sad experiences have taught Communists that the little wars may start cheaply, but before they're over, they tend to be very expensive. For example, there is a new anti-Communist Army that has been trained and equipped by the U. S. standing ready throughout Korea.

In the meantime, France and the U. S. now are building a native army like the Republic of Korea forces and the U. S. is talking of creating a 10-nation force to defend Southeast Asia — in short, the war is getting more expensive for the Communists.

But the Indo-China war is also becoming an even more urgent military crisis for the United States.

The cash cost of the war, or 80% of it, is now being paid by the American taxpayers, while U. S. globemasters manned by U. S. Air Force crews are ferrying French paratroopers from Paris to the Indo-China bases. American civilians are already flying and fighting in the war. American ground crews are active in servicing American planes which are used by the French while American paratroopers are supervising the loading of supplies for the besieged forces in French and native anti-Communist garrisons. So far, no American casualties have been reported in the Indo-Chinese war.

Letters to the Editor

Mr. Hugh Ferguson McKean,
President Rollins College
Winter Park, Florida

Dear Mr. McKean:

We have been accorded the privilege of interviewing a considerable number of Rollins College students in the Class of 1954. The arrangements for these interviews were very capably handled by Dr. David Robbins, Dr. Melvin Greenhut and Mrs. Emily Merrill. The hospitality and cooperation accorded to Mr. Gordon Williamson and myself during these interviews by Dr. Robbins, Dr. Greenhut and Mrs. Merrill was most commendable. It is our further opinion that your Placement Bureau, besides being in most capable hands, is rendering an outstanding service to both the Rollins College student body and industry generally.

The outstanding spirit, enthusiasm and great respect for your institution which was exhibited by the undergraduates with whom we came in contact

Dear Sir:

The Florida gubernatorial elections are over and regardless of the winner one point should be emphasized: Rollins College supported no one candidate in the election.

This fact is shown by the distinctive posters advocating not one, but two, of the candidates which have been circulated all over the Rollins campus.

Why these posters were put up in the first place is a matter of opinion but they would seem to have been a waste of time and money since there are few if any registered Florida voters on the campus. Also, it seems to have been a waste of time to put "Vote for honest Joe while on your campus was not only very impressive but a real tribute to your institution.

We greatly appreciate the privilege and pleasure of working with you and your capable Placement Bureau, and assure you of our keen interest and desire to further serve the needs of Rollins College and its student body. I am sorry that I did not have the opportunity to meet with you personally, and hope to have this pleasure in the not too distant future. Prior to my next visit to your campus I will endeavor to make an appointment suitable to your convenience, and at that time will be most happy to discuss with you your thoughts on how we may further serve the needs of Rollins College.

Very truly yours,

Blow" stickers on the windshields of Rollins cars since they had only a decided nuisance value in having to be taken off before one could drive safely.

Let's face it, the Student Center and the Beanery of the Rollins campus are definitely not the place for gubernatorial campaign posters and it is doubtful if either of the candidates represented would advocate such doubtfully favorable publicity.

Some sort of a regulation should be made to prevent a recurrence of these actions in the future.

Sincerely,

The Student Mirror

USA, (Hunter Arrow) — A bill which will allow deductions for income tax purposes of expenses incurred in the education of a dependent has been introduced in the House of Representatives. Under the current federal law, the taxpayer is allowed no deductions for the expenses incurred in the education of a college student.

Several university newspapers have come out strongly in favor of measures now under consideration by the U. S. Congress for allowing parents to deduct the costs of their children's education from income tax returns. While state institutions have been able to keep tuition costs at a low level because they receive direct subsidies, private institutions have been forced to raise their fees.

A trend has thus been initiated which could eventually lead to a situation wherein the private educational institution can be attended only by those in the high income brackets. (Cornell Daily Sun/Cavillier Daily, University of Virginia.)

'ROUND ROLLINS
by Louis Ingram

By LOUIS INGRAM

The President planned a party, Rollins skiers went to Cypress Gardens, "Mr. Roberts" was cast; Phi Beta will produce "Black Chiffon", and "The Little Green Bottle" will open tonight. These are the highlights around the campus this week, and here are the stories behind them . . .

President McKean called an all-college assembly to explain to the students his idea for an all-college party. He and Mr. Tiedtke would like to be hosts to the entire student body. They had planned to import a band from Miami, and give the party a Hawaiian flavor. To most everybody this sounded like a good idea.

The Rollins ski team went to Cypress Gardens last Saturday to participate in the annual Inter-collegiate Water Skiing Tournament. The girls team won the day, but the boys wound up third in the field of three. In spite of this Skillman Suydam not only came home with top honors in the tourney, but also with Nancy Cooper — former Rollins student and Gardens' skier.

There were quite a few students from the various schools there to support their teams in this ever more popular sport.

Mosquitoes from all over Central Florida are converging on the Lakefront in order to get their seats early for the forthcoming production of "Mr. Roberts". This will be the first time that this play has been presented in the water . . . er . . . on the water. This event will probably lead to more and more Lakefront activities, but it would be rather a misapprehension to think that this area was not already being exploited. With casting completed, the show will soon begin to take shape under the direction of Wilbur (as I live and breathe) Dorsett.

It is questionable if the script will have quite the same savage authenticity after the "necessary" expurgations. No sailor I ever knew would say "Oh, golly gee. I haven't had a date in eighteen months", or anything like it. Actually much of the script is to be used as is.

One wondered, on seeing several signs, what the Lambie Pis were doing sponsoring a musical event. Don't be confused, for while the Kappa Lambda Pis are rather musical, they whistle a much different tune than the Pi Kappa Lambdas, who are real musicians.

* * *

Phi Beta will present "Black Chiffon" under the direction of Joan Jennings at the end of the year, and tonight the Independent Women open their annual musical. This year's show is "The Little Green Bottle", a little green opus by Howard Richards, who collaborated with himself two years ago to bring us "The Prince of Erratta."

Founding Of Rollins Is Immortalized

HANNA, MCKEAN UNVEIL PLAQUE AT DEDICATION

A plaque commemorating the incorporation of Rollins College 69 years ago was unveiled at the Florida State Bank Building of Sanford last Wednesday at a ceremony attended by Sanford and Rollins officials.

Dr. Frederick L. Lewton, a student at Rollins before 1890, gave a sort dedicatory address. Other speakers were Dr. Fred P. Ensminger, a graduate of Rollins in 1897, who spoke on the founding of the college; Dr. A. J. Hanna, vice-president, spoke on "The Development of Rollins College"; and President Hugh F. McKean on "Rollins Today." McKean also unveiled the plaque.

The Rollins Singers, the student choral group, sang several numbers. Dr. Ensminger offered the invocation, and Dr. J. Bernard Root, Minister of Congregational Church, Sanford, pronounced the benediction. George Touhy, Sanford, acted as master of ceremonies.

LT. BOZE WILL VISIT ROLLINS FOR AIR FORCE

The latest phase of "Progressive Education" teaches students mathematics at 600 miles an hour, said an Air Force training specialist here today.

However, he added, it's not exactly a quick way to an education. 1st Lt. William E. Boze, Commander of Aviation Cadet Selection Detachment No. 303 currently is visiting the city to brief local high school graduates and college students on Air Force flying training program.

He noted that after about nine months of instructions, most Air Force pilot trainees advance to basic training in the speedy 900 mile per hour T-33 jet trainers.

"In about 80 hours of in-flight training in jets," he said, "our boys get training in higher mathematics, virtually from soup to nuts. Take instrument flying for instance. That constitutes only about a tenth of their flying training in basic.

"There you study such subjects as radio direction finding, to solve problems involving aural-null procedures, 180 degree ambiguity and calculation of time and distance from radio beacon stations.

"That all sounds very confusing to the layman and believe me, it is as complex as it sounds. But by the time our trainees complete the course, they can figure those and a dozen other problems in a matter of seconds."

But, Lt. Boze conceded that Cadets aren't necessarily Einsteins.

"At least they're not when they enter the training program. But they're pretty close to it when they get out."

Lt. Boze and his Detachment will be at Rollins College, May 6, 1954 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. to interview prospective Air Force Aviation Cadets. Current requirements include men who are single, between 19 and 26½, in good physical condition and high school graduates.

VA Announces Third Anniversary of Post-Korean GI Insurance

More than 100,000 veterans have taken out approximately $890 million in special post-Korean GI insurance, Veterans Administration announced on the third anniversary of Public Law 23, 82nd Congress, enacted April 25, 1951.

Generally, this post-Korean insurance contains the same provisions as National Service Life Insurance, or World War II insurance, except that no dividends are payable and premium rates and death payments are based on different actuarial tables. However, the veteran has the same choice of beneficiaries and may elect to have the proceeds paid in one sum at his death or in installments if he prefers.

There are two types of post-Korean insurance available to those discharged after April 25, 1951. The first is term insurance, which may not be converted to permanent plan, but may be renewed every five years.

The second type is available only to veterans with a service-connected disability.

College Group Gives Program For Children

The College and Career Club of Rollins presented a program of various entertaining acts at the Methodist Children's Home in Sanford, Florida Sunday.

Featured on the program was Clark Warren and his magic show.

Other Rollins students participating in the entertainment were Pat Cook, Carrie Lee Keen, Shirley Leach, and Jane Hunsicker.

A picnic supper was enjoyed by the group following the program.

All Aboard for Lou and Jim

Cook, Ingram Review Rollins Features On Weekly WPRK Almanac Broadcasts

By ANN WALKER

Have you ever wondered about the sounds coming from Lake Virginia at night? Who are these talented people running around campus? Who won the Kentucky Derby 27 years ago? Who sell the best Bermuda shorts in Winter Park?

All these questions and their answers are the type used by Louie Ingram and Jim Cook on their special feature program, "Almanac." This program is heard every Tuesday and Thursday at 7:00 P. M. over WPRK.

"Almanac" is the only program of its type heard at Rollins. It is the radio version of Dave Garaway's television program, "Today."

World news headlines are next on the agenda. Everyone can get in the show at this time. People passing through the radio station are called in and each person reads one headline. Louis Ingram likes to have different voices on each headline.

The person reading the headline reads it as he wishes with no rehearsal beforehand. Louis and Jim feel this gives the program a new kind of twist.

Dr. Frank Johnson, professor of Political Science at Rollins, writes the News Analysis for the "Almanac." This is read by either Jim or Louie.

World news spotlights the program next. An almanac is used here and, of course, this is where the name of the show comes from. News of today and the news of what happened 17, 27 and 37 years on the same date is given at this time. Some editorializing is done here. The popular record of the year gone back to is played. If possible, the record by the person who made the song popular is the one played. Then the top tune at Rollins is played.

Jokes are told throughout the show but one part of the program is put aside for "Today's Grin," a few humorous stories told by Louie.

"The Word for Today," similar to that used by a prominent national newscaster is then given.

Local and state news of Florida and campus news is presented by one of the announcers. This includes news of the citrus crop, political news of the coming gubernatorial elections, news of Orlando and Winter Park and what is happening at Rollins in the drama, art and music vein.

If you're curious as to what is happening in the world of sports, whether, local, national, or campus, sports highlights will be of interest to you. Jim Cook gives all the needed details.

"If You're Interested," is soon going to be added to the attractions of "Almanac." This classified ad section will give news of art, drama and music.

The special feature part of the program is headed by Jim Cook. Each week there is a different feature. At the recent Annie Russell production, "The Young and Fair," Louie and Jim held an opening night interview with some of the people who came to see the play. Other special features soon to be heard are an interview with the engineer of a train. This interview will be tape-recorded in the engine room of a moving train. The listener will hear all the sounds and signals of a train in motion. Collegiate sounds, another special feature, will be heard in the near future. Sounds heard on the Rollins campus, such as a classroom, the Student Center, a bull session, the Conservatory, a play rehearsal and Lake Virginia at night are some of the sounds that will be heard.

"Almanac" is written, narrated, produced and directed by — you guessed it — Louie Ingram and Jim Cook. Rod Collins and Elmer Puddington are the engineers and special advisors.

FILLING SPACE

By ROSS FLEISCHMANN

While Easter greeting cards were being withdrawn from store windows with one hand, the merchants other hand was busy placing Mother's Day cards in their place.

The sentiments expressed in these cards, could for the most part be put to a dual purpose by Rollins students. For among all the staff members of the college, there is no other group as patient, kind and understanding as the house mothers.

In considering the place of the housemother, maybe the students could be found guilty of treating these members of the family as the proverbial mother-in-law.

It isn't often on our campus that there are deliberate examples of ill-treatment directed towards the resident heads. But at times, there are unintentional events which don't tend to make life very easy or enjoyable for the housemother. Just a little thought and foresight on the part of all of us would prevent such occurrences.

The administration, too, could stand to look over their policy. The housemother isn't a disciplinarian, a censor of bad language, nor a supervisor to see that the maid does the work. Rather, she is a person with a love of young people, devoted to her job of making a home out of a 20 room dormitory.

The activities of these women

Fleischmann are many. They attend every campus function they can, from baseball games to chapel services. When they aren't present, you know that we have their moral support in all undertakings.

Yes, they are a wonderful group. Not only will they give you ideas for a column, they can inspire one. A happy Mother's Day to all of them.

This was a party week-end.

Wednesday the Kappas had a friends party at Jean Roger's beach. Among those there were Alison Dessau, Jane Laverty, Jane Smith, Barbara Cox, Allee Chatham and Phyllis Lockwood. It seems the Kappas got frisky and snatched some of their guest's clothing.

Thursday the KA's gave a party for the Thetas. It was held at the Mansion. There was dancing under the stars, delicious cokes and marshmallows, and swimming in beautiful Lake Virginia. (The plug was for Harry Smith, the new and striving activities chairman.)

Friday Bob Whitlaw played host at a party at Starbuck Springs for the Sigma Nus and their dates. Brian Bird supplied the entertainment by dancing an Indian war dance around the fire and throwing girls into the water to the alligators. Among his unsuspecting victims was his date, Ann Webster. Others there were Nancy Mac-Millin, Dave Smith, Shirley Malcolm, Tom Hulihan, Jege Jackson, Chuck Weisman, Billie Jo Whipple and Bob Bell. The party was a great success even if the alligators sat too close for comfort.

It was the Theta Pelican last week-end. It's rumored that the sun was a little too hot and that the police were overly enthusiastic in giving speeding tickets. It is also understood that Stretch and Steve tend to argue excessively over the bridge table. Among those seen frying on the beach were Geri Pacino, John Boyle, Jo Davis, Jim Bocook, Sue Moll, Bob Harding, Allee Chatham, and Ross Fleischmann.

Some of those seen in the hay were Ann Schuyler, Pres Hull; Bebo Boothby, Norm Gross; Dave Bowen, Kathy Cooper; Barbara Reuter, Bill Cost; Irene Drake, Jerry Cambell. Everyone had a good time and all were very happy when they got home.

Rollins girls were well represented at Spring Frolics at Gainesville last weekend. Jane Laverty, Barbie Moynahan, Mary Ann Norton, Dot Campbell, and Cindy Wellenkamp attended.

Sunday the highest honorary society on campus initiated. The new Lambie Pi's are: Pres Hull, Rayna Kasover, Pat Feise, Mat Sinnott, Kazem Barakat, Abdy Taheri, Skip Vogel, Trinket Smith, and Jim Davis. Congratulations and have fun!

EDUCATION AND LIFE; A FEW CHOICE COMMENTS

Education is not a commodity. Not being material, it cannot be paid for.

It is sometimes easy to lose sight of this fact among the various charges and fees connected with acquisition of an education, but its disregard leads to a loss of perspective and purpose.

When you buy coal, you pay by the ton — the more you get, the more you pay. But when you "buy" an education, you pay one fee — an entrance fee ... The student who gets the most from his schooling and the one who gets the least, pay the same rate.

Education is an unending process. Classes, extracurricular activities, outside reading, social events — all can be made part of an education. Payment of fees confers the right to all of these. Their use is up to the individual.

A college education is a marvelous thing. Here are some of the errors that turned up when a general information test was given at the University of Oregon:

Fjord—a Swedish automobile;
Iran—Bible of the Mohammedans;
Nicotine—the man who discovered cigarettes;
Scotland Yard—two feet, ten inches;
Concubine—when several businesses combine.

PETER AND THE WOLF, A FABLE

By VERNON BUTTRAM

Paused at the edge of the woods, Peter waited eagerly for the dogs to drive out the wolf. He could hear their excited barks in the distance as they hunted, and he knew they, too, wanted blood. Hopes, despair, prayers followed one another through his mind as he watched for some sight of the wolf. If he could be only lucky enough to make the kill! But no, nothing that he could recall in his past life suggested that he could be so lucky.

He remembered how hard he had tried to win a free game at pin ball and then, just as he almost had one, how someone had accidentally bumped against the machine and made it tilt. He remembered how in Rollins he had been rushed by two fraternities, how during the confusion of a beer party he had pledged both of them, and how as a result neither of them activated him. He remembered how his girl had been stolen by a rival tennis player from Florida Southern. But what plagued him most was his failing freshman English under a new professor. If he could only prove his worth to his new girl by bringing her back a stuffed wolf instead of just a common, overgrown teddy bear.

Suddenly a miracle! The wolf emerged, running rapidly in his direction. Peter pumped his carbine furiously, but the bullets only zinged past the wolf. The thought occurred to him that he had met the creature before — as the rival tennis player. He pumped his carbine harder, but the bullets still zinged past the wolf. Then on the last pump, as the wolf leaped for his throat, a bullet hit the mark between the savage eyes. Peter had his present. "But," he thought, "I still can't get over his resemblance to that Southern tennis player."

Netters Defeat University Of Florida To End 1954 Season; Three To Graduate

The 1954 tennis season ended on both a happy and a sad note for the Rollins netters when they defeated the University of Florida on the Rollins courts Saturday afternoon, 7-2.

The win gave the Tars ten wins in thirteen matches against a topflight schedule for a bright note, but not so bright is the task of rebuilding facing Coach Jim McDougall with the exit of three senior standbys from the squad.

Alfredo Millet wound up three seasons of play in the number one, and two spots for Rollins with a straight set, 6-3, 6-1 win over the Gators' John Hires, and kept his invincible skein as a doubles partner alive for the second consecutive year by teaming with Memo Garcia to defeat Francis Ingram and Ed Kassatly, 2-6 6-0, 6-0, 6-2.

Millet's Mexican Davis Cup teammate and partner in running up a long unbeaten record in collegiate doubles play, Alberto Danel, was not present to play his final match with the Tars as his wife had just given birth to a baby girl. Nor was Ed Scheer, the other senior on the squad, who jumped from the intramural ranks a couple of years ago to play some strong tennis for the Tars.

Two of the men Rollins will be depending upon next season contributed to the win over the Gators. Guy Filosof, playing in the number six singles, defeated Bishop Edwards, 6-1, 6-2. Filosof was also called upon to play with Charley Warden in the number two doubles match against John Hires and Augie LeCann when Eduardo Garcia was seized with stomach cramps while losing his singles match to Bill Hutcherson, 7-5, 6-4, 8-10.

Paul Driscoll joined George Longshore in the number three doubles to defeat Hutcherson and Edwards, 7-5, 11-9. Hires and LeCann defeated Warden and Filosof, 6-3, 6-2 for the other Gator point.

The Tars had just returned from a trip through the Southeast, where they defeated Virginia, and Duke, while absorbing their third loss of the season from North Carolina, ranked third in the country a year ago, 6-3. It was the first time in six seasons that a team other than Miami had defeated the Tars.

The Tarheel match also marked the second loss of the season for Millet. He was dropped in straight sets by Herb Browne, 6-3, 6-4.

The 1953 record showed wins over Presbyterian, Duke (twice), Virginia, Stetson (twice), Concordia, Florida State (twice), and Florida, and two losses to Miami and one to North Carolina.

Alfredo Millet Strains To Make Return In Match With Florida.

GOLFERS RETURN FROM INTERCOLL TO PLAY STETSON AT DUBS, SAT.

The Rollins golf team returned from Athens, Georgia and the Southern Intercollegiate last week without picking up any championships, but "far more seasoned and ready to go back next year" according to Coach Dan Nyimicz.

The Tars were hampered in team play because they could enter but four players in the team tournament whereas a team was allowed to count the best four scores of six players entered.

None of the Rollins players qualified for the individual championship, although Denny Folken just missed by two strokes. A 150 was needed to qualify and Folken, after posting a 74 during the first day, had one bad hole on the back side of the second eighteen holes for a 78.

Bill Boggess had an 81-80, 161 for the two days while Ed Dinga turned in scores of 84-76 for a 160 and Bruce Remsburg had an 86-82, 168.

The Tars will climax their 1954 season at Dubsread Saturday at 1:30, meeting Stetson. Rollins defeated the Hatters in Sanford in April, 13½-4½.

The Locker Room

by Dick Haldeman

With the tennis season a thing of the past and the Tars crew and baseball home seasons over, those people not lucky enough to travel to Lakeland or Coral Gables this weekend can do little but sit at home and keep their fingers crossed for a win in the State Regatta and another state crew championship, for a baseball sweep over Miami, another state baseball crown and—well, who knows.

The stay-at-homes can, however, spend a pleasant Sunday afternoon competing in or watching one of the highlights of the intramural sports season—the boys' intramural swimming meet. And this year's meet shapes up as tight a race as last spring's scramble which saw winning X Club, Kappa Alpha, and Delta Chi all end within three points of each other.

All the main principals in that meet have returned—Jim Bock of the X Club, who stroked to wins in the 50 yard freestyle and 50 yard breaststroke events and swam on the Club's winning relay team, Pete Doran who won both the 100 and 220 yard freestyle events for the KA's, and Sam Barley who stroked his way to the backstroke win for Delta Chi.

The meet will also have a lot to do with who wins the intramural trophy. After Dick McFarlain of the X Club nosed out Kenny Pahel of Delta Chi, one-up in 36 holes last week to win the intramural golf championship, the intramural standings underwent a little shuffling with the Club increasing its lead and the Deltas replacing Sigma Nu in second place by 2½ points.

The standings now read:

X Club	940
Delta Chi	852½
Sigma Nu	850

Kappa Alpha	767½
Lambda Chi	475
Indies	355

The Intramural softball season passed its half way point last week with Delta Chi continuing to hold a game edge over the Independent men by virtue of a six-run rally in the seventh inning to defeat Kappa Alpha, 9-8. The X Club, meantime, was upset by Sigma Nu Monday, 15-14, to fall out of a tie for second place. The all important Indie-Delt game was rained out Saturday and has not yet been rescheduled.

It's all too easy Haldeman to write about lack of school spirit, but much harder to find any evidence of it at Rollins lately, at least at the spring sports events.

Marty Cohen, editor of the Miami Hurricane, the University newspaper, came to Winter Park to watch the Hurricane tennis and baseball squads last month and was amazed at the school spirit here. "And this from a school with only 600 undergraduates," he writes. If he can only exclaim the same thing at a Rollins basketball game next winter, we will have accomplished something.

Gal-axy of Sports

by Alison Dessau

Rain-soaked golfers, playing in the Girls Intramural Golf Tournament, got off to a good start last week. All the qualifying cards were in on time and the first round was played May 1.

The tournament started off in the championship flight with Roma Neundorff winning over Sally Savage. Next Barbara Bremerman beat June Levitt, and finally Marlene Stewart topped Mary Lou Tullock. Allee Chatham then got a bye into the second round.

Dessau

For first flight players, Jackie Chippari defeated Marjean Booth and Bobbie Feidt beat Jane Laverty. Sue Reed won her match with Mary Lou Voor. The bye in this group was drawn by Barby Moynahan.

Winning players in the second flight were Robin Metzger who played Jerry Faulkner, Sally Sowers, who came up against Darlene Dicks, and Ann Todd, who defeated Joyanne Herbert. Marijo Boulware got the bye.

The second round was played May 4 and the finals will come up May 7. All players competing for the championship title in the three classes must play 18 holes of golf.

As we reach the end of the volleyball season, the Pi Phi's are still ahead with no losses. They won their games against the Kappas, 28-21, and also beat the Phi Mu's 46-14. Congratulations to an undefeated team.

Theta is close behind the winners having won seven out of eight games, with their victories over both the Alpha Phis, 38-14, and the Indies, 36-21. They also won a close match with the Kappas, 32-26.

The Phi Mus won over the Indies, 48-18, and the Chi O's, 45-23; the Alpha Phi's took the Chi O's 56-19 and were taken by the Indies, 31-29. The Gamma Phi's handed the Indies 44-24.

TARS WILL RACE IN FLA. REGATTA

Having won the favorites' role from many eastern writers for the Dad Vail Regatta just nine days off, the Rollins crew will still have to put first things first and defeat Florida Southern and Tampa to retain their state championship in the State Championship Regatta in Lakeland Saturday.

The Tars have already rowed Southern twice this year, losing by less than a length in Lakeland but defeating the Mocs by two lengths at Lake Maitland. Southern will have the advantage of its home course again Saturday.

Some comparison may be drawn between the results of races rowed between the Tar and F.S.C. shells this year and last. The Moccassins defeated Rollins at Lakeland last spring, but were defeated in the State Regatta by only a few scant feet on Rollins' home course at Lake Maitland. Coach U. T. Bradley's men then made things emphatic by finishing ahead of Southern again in the Dad Vail Regatta in Philadelphia.

ROLLINS GIRLS WIN WATER SKI CHAMPIONSHIP

Rollins girls returned from Cypress Gardens Saturday with their second sports championship within two weeks, as the girls ski team, captained by Sally Evinrude, easily won the women's division of the annual Intercollegiate Water-Ski Championships, chalking up 2,844 points.

The Rollins boys finished third behind Florida Southern, despite first places in the slalom and tricks events by Skillman Suydam, appearing on skis for only the fourth time this year.

Joan Benson won first place in the women's trick riding, and after Barbara Brush of Florida Southern finishing second came three more Rollins Misses, Sally Nye finishing third, Nancy Siebens fourth and Jean Pennington fifth.

Sally Evinrude finished second behind Margie Maypole of Florida Southern in the women's slalom, with Marie Saute of Rollins third, Jean Pennington fourth, and another Tarbelle, Paula Crandall fifth.

Suydam, former U. S. national champion and Rollins captain, performed brilliantly in the trick running event, doing a front to back, back to front twistabout, referred to as a 180-180, a 360° turn off the ramp, three 360's without hesitation, and 180-180-360 on one ski.

Louis Ingram finished sixth, Bob Goddard seventh, and Bob Finney ninth in the slalom, while Ingram also won a seventh place in the trick riding event.

It was the first time in three years that the Rollins boys had not come out on top in the Championships. The Intercollegiates were run off between the four shows at Cypress Gardens.

Tars To Risk State Record Against Hurricanes, Hatters

The Rollins Tars will put their hopes for a second consecutive state championship on the line on foreign diamonds this week, as they travel to first Coral Gables tomorrow for a weekend two game series with Miami; and then to DeLand Tuesday afternoon for a season-ending series against the Stetson Hatters Tuesday and Wednesday.

A possible NCAA tournament bid may also rest with the results of the four contests.

The Tars met the Hatters in a two game series Tuesday and Wednesday of this week at Harper-Shepherd field to end their home season. They defeated Miami twice at Harper-Shepherd three weeks ago, but not without a struggle. The Tars had to come from behind to defeat the Hurricanes, 8-7 in the opener of that series on Connie Butler's two homeruns, before winning the second game 5-1 behind Bill Carey.

Stetson represents a team much improved over its early season performance. After losing six of their first eight games, the Hatters won five out of their next seven.

Stetson has split with Florida

Southern, won three of four from Florida State and split four games with Miami this season. The Hatters are led by veteran third baseman Stan Marks, who is clipping the ball at a near .500 mark for the season, and two tough-to-beat pitchers, lefthander Buz Reynolds and righthander Jerry Boxer.

Miami will be trying to emerge from a recent slump that started when they lost the series in Winter Park. The Hurricanes have posted less than a .500 percentage for the season, but much of their competition has been from professional and semi-pro squads.

Miami lefthander Frank Vicendese was the chief thorn in the Tars back during the first series between Rollins and Miami, smashing a three-run homer in the first tilt and ruining Cary's shutout with another circuit clout in the second game.

Cary, Art Brophy, and Don Tauscher will probably draw starting pitching spots during the four games for Rollins. Ace Jack Marout and freshman Ken Sanders will carry the Miami pitching load.
