turned day before yesterday from riding my first circuit. I attended 13 courts. . . . [When] I defended a Spaniard accused of petty larceny . . . I succeeded in keeping the Court and jury in a constant uproar [but] my client received the next morning 10 lashes. . . . Next day I succeeded in a case. . . . Considering that I have read law scarcely 3 months I conceive that I have done well enough."

Soldier and Servant: John Freeman Young, Second Bishop of Florida. By Edgar Legare Pennington, S.T.D. (Church Missions Publishing Company, Hartford, Connecticut, 1939) 63 p. wrappers, fifty cents.

Dr. Pennington once contributed to the QUARTERLY: Some Experiences of Bishop Young (XV. 35-50) a narrative of the bishop's travels and adventures through the wilderness of central Florida in the 1870's, then beginning to be settled. More of his experiences, together with an account of his establishing the Episcopal church in that region, now give a glimpse of the beginnings of some of its towns and make a record of interest as well as of historical value.

The author, who is the historian of his church in Florida, published last year A History of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Florida (see QUARTERLY XVII, 64) and is now writing a History of the Church of England in British East and West Florida.
