ODK Offers Leadership Trophy To Fraternity

Omicron Delta Kappa, national honorary fraternity for men, will award a highly coveted trophy to the outstanding leadership fraternity on the Rollins campus.

A point system has been drawn up by the members of O.D.K. as a basis for selection of the leading fraternity. The point system is based primarily on individual participation and achievements in all campus activities.

The group with the most individual participation and achievements will win the cup.

It is the only trophy of its type awarded at Rollins and is expected to stimulate and encourage student participation in campus activities.

The O.D.K. Leadership Trophy

will be presented this year at the annual Honor's Day activities.

The officers of O.D.K. are president Dan Matthews, vice-president Jim Bocook, secretary-treasurer Steve Demopolous.

Other members are Don Wilson, Don Tauscher, Jim Robinson, Connie Butler, Jim Graaskamp, Dr. Saute, Dean Justice, Dr. Waite, Dean Enyhart, and Riley Jones. Membership in O.D.K. is conferred only upon upper division men who have distinguished themselves scholastically, through leadership, service and character.

Members pledge themselves to the college and work to perpetuate the ideals of the fraternity.

HATTERS DEFEAT ROLLINS IN PHI SOCIETY QUIZZ

Rollins went down in defeat before a superior Stetson team in the fast-paced Phi Society Quiz Show last Thursday evening.

Although the two teams were within five points of each other at half-time, the final score was 235-140 in favor of the visiting Hatters.

Peter Dearing posed the questions in the half-hour show which was aired over WPRK at 9 p.m. Such questions as "What is the capital of Nevada?" "What is a ruminant?" and "What historic river did Caesar cross?" were duck soup for the Rollins contestants, while Stetson came through on questions like "Why doesn't a lake freeze from the bottom up instead of vice-versa?" "When was Christ born?" and "From what date is the age of a race horse calculated?"

The Stetson team, all members of the Phi Society, a freshman honorary fraternity, were C. C. Sellers, Peggy Livingstone, Randy Ritter, Morris Foster, and Chuck Sanks. Dr. Minor pushed buttons and buzzers as time keeper.

George Pont was announcer for the program, and Professor R. F. Erickson of Stetson, president of the Central Florida Association of Phi Beta Kappa, gave the half-time "commercial" on the purpose and meaning of Phi Society.

The program was taped and played as a delayed broadcast over WPBS in Deland.

The Deland broadcast is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 11.

George Smathers, Florida Senator, To Address Graduating Seniors

Senator George A. Smathers

BISHOP JUHAN TO SPEAK AT BACCALAUREATE

Senator George A. Smathers, junior senator from Florida will deliver the commencement address at Rollins College graduation exercises, Friday, June 3, at 10 a.m. in Knowles Memorial Chapel.

Bishop Frank A. Juhan will deliver the address at the Baccalaureate service in the chapel at 10:30 a.m. Sunday May 29.

Among his degrees Senator Smathers holds a B.A. degree, 1936, and a law degree, 1938, from the University of Florida. Senator Smathers, who was invited to deliver the address by members of the Senior Class, was elected to the U. S. Senate November 7, 1950 and has served as senator for five years.

Since 1938, when he practiced law in Miami, Senator Smathers has been assistant U. S. attorney, elected to 80th congress in 1946, re-elected to 81st congress in 1948, and elected to U. S. senate in 1950.

The Senator's home is Miami where he is a member of the Odd Fellows, Elks, American Legion, VFW, Kiwanis Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Young Democratic Clubs of Florida, American Veterans of World War II.

Bishop Juhan is the Episcopal Bishop of North Florida and was consecrated bishop of Florida November 25, 1924. He gave the invocation at the Convocation service in the Chapel during Founder's Week.

He is listed in Who's Who in American and is trustee of the University of the South. Bishop Juhan was President of Province at Seawee from 1938-44.

Bishop Juhan, who now resides in St. Augustine, Florida, plans to retire sometime in the near future.

Council Appoints Future Standing Committees

Standing Committees for the coming year were appointed at last Monday's Student Council meeting.

They are: Social, Jim Davis, Cynthia Wellenkamp; Traffic, chairman Pres Hull, Jane Moody, Jerry Rowland; Student-Faculty Disciplinary, Lee Beard, Bud Bilenski, Gloria Steudel, Phyllis Lockwood, Bob Finney; Student-Faculty, Matt Sinnot, Fran Swicegood, Gordon Hahn; Pelican, Tony Antoville; Council Lights, George Kosty.

President Dennis Folken with the aid of the student deans drew up the list of members on the committees for 1955-56. Following the reading of the list, the council approved the committee members.

The motion to send a letter to the State Department stating that Russian students comply with all immigration laws was passed. It had been tabled previously awaiting decision by the groups.

The letter to the State Department will be signed by President Folken. It will represent the opinion of the majority of the student body.

The council also gave their approval to a suggestion that each sorority be allowed to have its president and rush chairman on campus during Orientation week.

This will be in addition to the two members of each groups already represented on the Welcome Committee and those girls representing other campus organizations, such as Libra and Chapel Staff.

Joe Dhallenega reported that the Aquasium can be acquired for the Senior Dance, which will take place May 28. He also contacted Freddy Castro concerning the price of his orchestra. Joe will proceed with plans for the dance.

Ken Paehl announced that he has talked to Mr. Hufstader about forming a glee club next year.

He asked the representatives to find out how many in their group would be interested. Rollins hasn't had a Glee Club for two years.

Denny Folken smiles proudly as he is tapped for O.D.K. by Don Wilson. Denny was tapped for the national honorary service fraternity list Tuesday, May 10 at 9:10 a.m. in Prof. Greenhut's class.

It was quite a surprise for Sue Dunn, sitting, and Sis Atlas, extreme right, when they were tapped for Libra last Monday night in the Beanery. Also pictured are: Nancy Corse and Carol Farquharson.

The Royal Flush

"The Royal Flush" being student written, student produced, student directed, and student acted stands as a supreme example of Rollins College products.

Rollins emphasizes the individual, and the Independent Women's Show each year offers opportunity to many students in many fields to prove himself. These four years we spend in college are the years for experiment with our talents and interests, for later the trial and error system isn't acceptable.

The success of the show from year to year is proof of the great amount of interest, talent, and effort our student body contains. The production, although sponsored by the Independent Women, is open to anyone.

By offering the Annie Russell Theatre as a laboratory, Rollins achieves a quality of teaching seldom accomplished in class room lectures.

Cordially Invited

In typical Rollins tradition, President Hugh McKean invited a representative group of Rollins students to his home Tuesday for an all day session of discussion concerning the college.

In a method not often practiced in schools, this informal get-together is another fine example of Rollins' atmosphere. Student-administration and student-faculty relationships are greatly strengthened by such procedure. Understanding and friendship are promoted on both sides as problems are discussed from each point of view. President McKean becomes better acquainted with next year's student leaders and they, of course, grow to be familiar with him, his attitudes, and his manner.

It is tradition such as this that is causing Rollins to improve steadily each year within itself and in the estimation of the public. Evidence of which lies in the three fold increase in applications and representatives of the college being invited to speak or participate in forums and meetings across the country.

Rollins wouldn't be Rollins without casual, yet important sessions.

TGIF

TGIF is a saying prevalent among all institutions where education is the prime concern.

The meaning needs explanation to no one. But another factor involved is that Friday represents to a large number of people a starting point for a trip. Here at Rollins extensive travel by car is achieved each weekend, especially during spring term when the beaches become so alluring and faraway towns so tempting.

We as students have been lucky for a long time, although there have been close moments, but it would be well to keep in mind that most accidents occur on Saturday and Sunday and, oddly enough, most often when the car is traveling straight ahead.

Let's make it a point to still be together come the end of the term.

Letters to the Editor

317 Connor Dorm.
Chapel Hill, N. C.
May 6, 1955

Dear Sue,

Congratulations on your new post. John DeGrove, Sandy Hirt, and many other Rollinsites are watching Rollins activities with interest here at Chapel Hill.

I've been amused, as I read the Sandspur, over the past few months, by the poison pen diatribes of Face McFarlain. His assault on the Freshmen class, however, seems to be taken somewhat seriously by a few of its members, so I'd like to record some observations for those who aren't fully aware of the past nature of Face's campus role.

Face was tutored by collegiate versions of the Wild Ones when he began at Rollins. They drove cars that sounded like garbage cans rolling down hill. When the creation of sound effects on Holt Avenue lost its savor, one member of this group took to pedalling around campus on an English bike with a beret perched on his head and a cigarette holder jutting from his mouth. Face, also, took up the pastime even to bicycling around the Center. Those boys taught Face that the more gall one had, the more attention he would receive.

Considering that Face's competition has graduated, and considering that his poison pen has grown more skillful, why not accept him as Rollins' court jester?

Cordially yours,
George D. Saute

SORRY - WRONG CHUTE!! WE'LL CLEAN IT UP

LAWRENCE, KAS.—(ACP)—A couple here got an unpleasant surprise one night when two basketfuls of trash came tumbling into their living room. It seems they lived in the basement of a three story house, the top floor of which was occupied by a group of University students.

The students didn't realize that the basement was occupied, the University Daily Kansan reports, and decided to empty their wastepaper basket down an old laundry chute. The chute opened right into the middle of the couple's living room.

The students planned to nail the chute up this weekend.

BACK TO THE STREET, YOU LOU!

I've finally figured out what makes TV audience-participation shows so repulsive. It's the Man On The Street, the grinning buffoon, who comes in from the farm in hopes of winning a refrigerator.

It's rather curious, in a way, that a television program should spend thousands each week for expert directors, technicians and announcers — men with professional polish and experience — and then build the entire show around some joker who has never been on the stage before.

When I turn on a television set I expect to be entertained — professionally. When I want to see the Man On The Street I'll go out on the street.

—Observations by Don Miller, The Carroll News (John Carroll University, University Heights, Ohio)—ACP.

WHAT COMES AFTER A—THE PRETZEL LOOK?

(ACP)—Christian Dior's new "A" look got this unhappy review from Joan Misiewicz, feature writer for the Simmons College News, at Boston:

We were a little too young for his "new look," a little older for his "flat look," yet not old enough for his "H bomb look." Now that we have finally made it, we don't have to put up with his "A" look!

Spring fashions, 1955, present the "A" line — slender shoulders for the apex, sides slanting to a full base, with the "A" crossing anywhere on the waistline from the high empire to the low medieval. But who wants to look like an upside down ice cream cone?

The Chapel Tower

By T. S. Darrah

Believe it or not there were a number of good books written before you were born. I am not thinking of the Classics, but books of lesser stature that will go down in the annals of literature. Books that are just fun to read belong in this category. I commend to you Rebecca McCann's "The Cheerful Cherub." This was published long ago, in 1927. Here are two ditties from it that

Darrah I like.

"Be kind to dumb animals and give small birds a crumb."

"Be kind to human beings too—they're sometimes pretty dumb."

"Of all the many crimes my wicked past bestrewing, I most regret the ones that someone caught me doing."

When Mr. Robert Hufstader arrived at Rollins he was met by an ambivalent student body. Some students correctly saw him as a capable director of the Music Department while others strutted in his presence in hopes of finding in his art an importance missing in their own. The attack on Mr. Hufstader was short lived but unfortunately it did inflict some damage. These strutters or self ordained critics abandoned their attack on Mr. Hufstader when Mr. Peter Dearing arrived on the scene.

It seems paradoxical that these pseudo-critics find delight in slandering those in the creative arts because their censorious remarks appear to be as creative as a term paper. If ever there need be a personification of the word dilettante, semanticists have only to look at the Rollins critic.

Mr. Dearing was under attack from the moment he took over the direction of the Annie Russell Theatre. I have heard a barrage of asinine comments waged against this able director. Even this column (under another by-line) was used as an instrument to deride him.

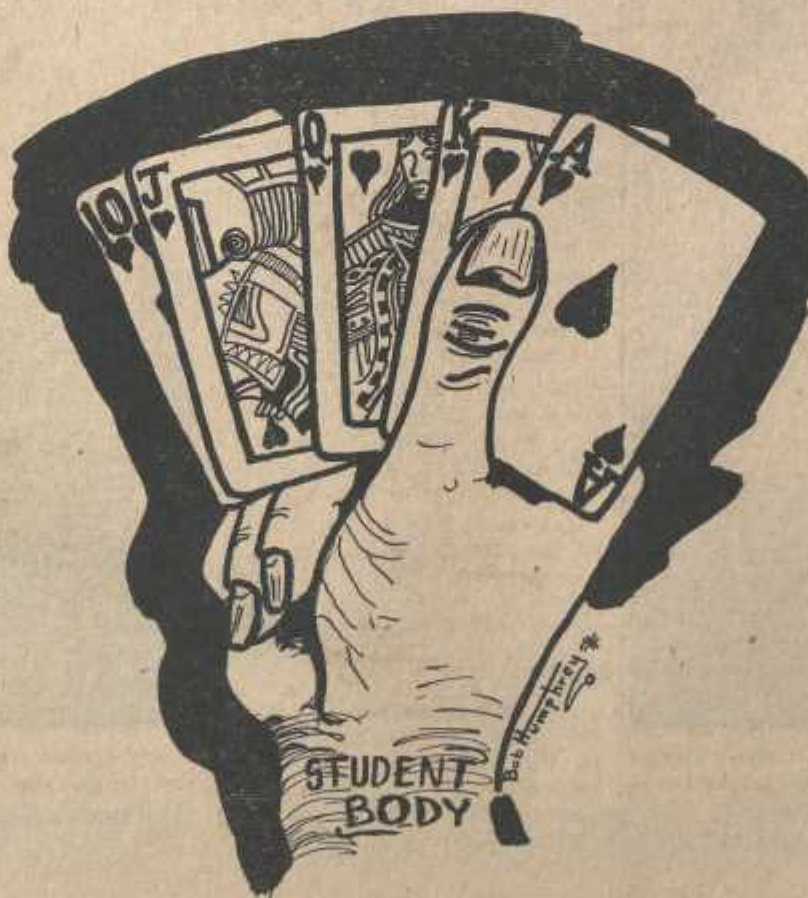

No aspect of Mr. Dearing has escaped this criticism — even his beard has been subjected to ridicule. I wonder if the delineators of quasi criticism could wage an effective battle against the record Mr. Dearing has made during the past year?

Aside from rejuvenating a putrescent theater department by completely smashing the long established Rollins star system, Mr. Dearing introduced two experimental productions that were invaluable in aiding the student actors. His direction of Midsummer Night's Dream was listed first in terms of Student popularity (based on attendance records) and The Skin of Our Teeth was rated third.

During the year eleven hundred students saw the six Annie Russell productions. Over one hundred students took part in the productions and one hundred and ninety seven students took at least one Theatre Arts course during the year.

A Midsummer Night's Dream, apart from being the best attended student production of the year, was the best box office play for April since records have been kept, and it played to three times as much money as any of the other April shows, Shakespearean or otherwise. Incidentally, there were fourteen students in this production as against seven adult townspeople and two faculty members.

Because we have an enlightened president and a loyal student body, both Mr. Hufstader and Mr. Dearing will return next year. This is evidence that the irrational banter of our critics is most ineffective. If these people have an insatiable desire to criticize, let's hope that in the future they reserve judgment until new members of the faculty have been given a chance to prove themselves.

Frances Chapman, Pianist, Presents Recital May 18

The Rollins College Conservatory of Music will present Frances Chapman, pianist, in her Senior Recital Wednesday, May 18, in Annie Russell Theatre, 8:30 p.m.

Miss Chapman, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Chapman, Orlando, is a pupil of Walter "Songlift", a Rollins singing group which toured Air Force bases in Bermuda, Iceland, and Massachusetts.

While a student at Lakeview High School, Birmingham, Ala., Miss Chapman entered the Junior Division of the National Federation of Music Club and won several superior ratings. She has also won superior ratings the past two years in the Collegiate Division.

Her program: Toccata in D, Allegro, Adagio-Fugato, Adagio-Fugue, by Bach; Sonata Opus 90, Mit Lebhaftigkeit, Nicht zu geschwind, by Beethoven; Capriccio Opus 76 No. 2, Intermezzo Opus 116 No. 6, Rhapsody Opus 119 No. 4, all by Brahms; Etude Opus 8 No. 5, by Scriabine; The Maiden and the Nightingale, by Granados; Rhapsody Opus 11 No. 3, by Dohnanyi.

Children Present "The Spring Thing" At ART May 16

Children enrolled in the Courses for the Community at Rollins College will present their annual spring program "The Spring Thing" at 7:30 p.m. Monday, May 16, in Annie Russell Theatre.

The program is the cooperative effort of students of Mrs. Barbara Zeigler, instructor in modern dance and rhythmic; Peter Dearing, instructor of Junior Acting; and Mrs. Joy Winslow, instructor of art.

An original playette entitled "Young Will Shakespeare: A Midwinter Night's Dream" will be performed by the acting and dance students. There will be an exhibit of art work in the theatre lobby.

The art students also designed and made the programs for the production.

Chapman

Sigma Xi Presents 3rd Book-A-Year

Sigma Xi Club of Rollins College has presented its third Book-A-Year membership to Mills Memorial Library in memory of Dr. Philip Mitchell, author, lecturer and Professor Emeritus at Brown University, who died Feb. 2, 1955.

Participating in "The Royal Flush" are left to right: Tony Laynge, Ford Ochne, and Sally Sowers. The musical production sponsored by the Independent Women and written by Dewey Anderson, will run May 11-14 in the Annie Russell Theatre. The curtain rises at 8:30 p.m.

Faculty Passes Motions On Library Offenders

The Faculty passed the following motions in a meeting held Monday, May 4 at the Morse Art Gallery.

1. The penalty for damages to library property will be a fine covering the damages and expulsion from the college. This matter will be in the hands of the Dean of the college.
2. Students who do not check out materials from the library will be reported to the student deans for disciplinary action.
3. The penalty for undue and repeated noise in the library is that the student will be asked to leave the library and will be forbidden the use of the library for study purposes for the remainder of the term.

These rules were proposed to the faculty by the Student and Faculty library committees, who met in a joint meeting of the two committees last week. The rules were decided upon and forwarded to the faculty for approval.

This action was provoked by the student's misuse of the library books that have been taken out unsigned for, never returned and those returned damaged badly.

The library committees feel these rules are necessary.

FRIS RECEIVES SPECIAL MERIT FOR ESSAY

Karen Jean Fris, a junior at Rollins, has been awarded a special Certificate of Merit for her "Best-of-College" essay on sterling silver design in the Reed & Barton's Annual Scholarship Program.

Her essay was selected by the company's Scholarship Advisory Board from more than five thousand entries as being one of the outstanding essays in this competition.

The letter informing her of this award stated that Karen narrowly missed winning one of the three top scholarships awarded.

The Reed & Barton Scholarship Advisory Board is composed of academic officials of 20 of the leading colleges and universities in the United States as follows: University of Chicago, University of Colorado, University of Georgia, University of Louisville, University of Maryland, Michigan State College, Middlebury College, New Jersey College for Women, Purdue University, Skidmore College, Pembroke College, University of New Mexico, Oberlin College, Sweet Briar College and Vanderbilt University.

This Competitive Program was conducted this March at 150 colleges and universities throughout America.

Recent Art Exhibit At Morse Extended Through May 18

An exhibition of sculpture and paintings from the collection of Norton Gallery and School of Art, West Palm Beach, will continue at Morse Gallery of Art, Rollins college, through Wednesday, May 18.

Entitled "Sculpture and Paintings from the Twentieth Century," the exhibit includes a larger number of pieces of contemporary sculpture than have heretofore been shown in this area. Included are the works of Pablo Picasso, Edgar Degas, Alexander Calder, Henry Moore, Jacques Lipchitz, Paul Klee, Henri Matisse, Albin Polasek and Fernand Leger.

Several examples of sculpture by Constance Ortmayer, Professor of Sculpture at Rollins, are also on display.

FIVE PIANISTS WIN TOP AWARD

Five piano pupils of Prof. Walter Charmbury of the Rollins College Conservatory of Music received first rating gold medal awards as winners in the 1955 National Piano Recording Festival.

Winners were: Frances Chapman and Ronald Fishbaugh, Orlando; Diane Herblin, Maitland; Mary Marsh, Silver Spring, Md.; and Sallie Rubinstein, Yonkers, N. Y.

Fishbaugh was judged best in his class for the second year and received a cash prize of $125. The others received varying sums of cash.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick L.

"That's what happens after you've gone to Beans for four years."

Ann Todd And Mary Enck Begin Television Career

Two familiar faces around campus all year, last week became two familiar faces to local TV viewers.

The two girls, Mary Enck and Ann Todd, have reached the first step in what looks to be a promising television career. For they are doing TV commercials for the Lincoln-Mercury program, "Pictorial News of the Week," sponsored by Central Florida Motors in Orlando, every Thursday evening from 5:45 to 6:00 o'clock.

Mary and Ann heard of the opening through Mr. Frutchey, their radio "coach" who told them of the representative of the Lincoln-Mercury agency who had heard them one night on WPRK. At his request, Mr. Frutchey had the girls audition for the agency first at WPRK and later at the television station. Needless to say, both girls reported being "scared to death."

At Rollins, the girls can be found almost any night around WPRK, Ann working mostly "on the board" in the control room, and Mary holding down the distaff side of the nightly "Campus Capers" show.

Both girls have had work in radio and television before. Ann, a sophomore from Winter Park, is familiar to students as a cheerleader and a member of Race Relations Club. She is the Pi Phi rush chairman and was student chairman of Founder's Day this year.

Frutchey reports that she is "one of the most promising of this year's crop of students." As far as television work is concerned, Ann recalls appearing on a high school panel show over a Miami TV station.

Mary, who hails from Ashland, Ohio, transferred to Rollins in her junior year from Ohio Wesleyan, where she was a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority.

A Theatre Arts major, she has been outstanding in her years at Rollins. She is co-feature editor of the Sandspur, a member of Phi Beta, Theta Alpha Phi, the Rollins Players, and the Rollins Radio Artists. She is also president of Mayflower Hall.

In the theatre, she has appeared in such plays as "Detective Story," "The Young and Fair," "The Curious Savage," "Midsummer Night's Dream," and last year's Phi Beta show.

Mary has also worked backstage on several productions and is this year's director of the Phi Beta play, "Mr. Angel."

During the past two summers, Mary has been women's director of programs at station WATG in Ashland.

As far as future plans, Mary would like to continue her work in radio, television and the theatre.

Here you have the story of two Rollins coeds whose talents have led them into professional work. Tune your sets to WDBO every Thursday night around 5:45 and watch the selling power of Lincoln-Mercury, boosted by two of your favorite Rollins gals.

SANDSPURS GIVE IDEA OF CAMPUS 20 YEARS AGO

In the interest of history, your reporter dug into the archives in the Mills Memorial Library and came up with some facts about life at Rollins twenty years ago.

In a Sandspur dated October 2, 1935, a headline stating the opening of Rollins' 51st year, was followed by this story.

"Among the important improvements has been the installation of an air conditioning system at a cost of about $1,000 in the college dining hall. This new system, installed by George C. Cartwright Jr., drops the temperature of the dining hall 25 degrees within 15 minutes and keeps the air constantly freshened. Other improvements in the dining hall include the installation of shower baths for the student waiters and employees."

Another Sandspur, dated Oct. 9, 1935, informed readers that the local Rho Lambda Nu fraternity had just received favorable action from the last convention of Sigma Nu fraternity and that they were now in the process of undergoing the routine formalities of petitioning.

The question asked by the Inquiring Reporter for the week of Nov. 13, 1935 was: "What is your honest opinion of the 'rat' court?" The only student intelligent answer said, "Rollins is the first place I ever saw a 'Rat Court.' By the way, Rollins is also the first place I ever saw a lot of things."

The Dec. 11, 1935 Sandspur found Prof. Allen, Smith, McKean and Stone all losing their matches in the annual faculty tennis tournament.

"If you could, what would be the first change you would make at Rollins?" was the question asked by the Inquiring Reporter in the Oct. 30, 1935 Sandspur.

One optimistic student advocated "the addition in menus in the 'Beanery' of complete wine and cocktail lists. This would certainly make certain students come to breakfast."

Another student summed it up thusly, "Move the Art Studio to where the Conservatory is now and move the Conservatory to the middle of Lake Maitland."

A jaunt down the state was on the agenda for the arbiter last Saturday. Mode of travel was an open chariot. Destination Cypress Gardens. Object of trip, Inter-Collegiate Ski-Meet. Had lunch on the terrace with Sue Dunn, Jo Davis, and Earlene Roberts, who were stuffing themselves liberally on double peach short-cake. While hopping over the numerous little bridges that cover the canals, bumped into "Beanie" Roth and Mackie Weiss who were entertaining out-of-town friends. It seemed that Beanie was slightly surprised to see Conga. Among those seated around the lake were a few Delta Chis and friends, many who traveled down to appear in the show . . . Dedi Cadle, Dick Stewart; Phyllis Lockwood, Pres Hull; Sally Nye, John Opdyke to name a few. Was glad to see an X Rollins student Joe Leaming who performed admirably for Florida Southern.

SENIOR JANE LAVERTY COMBINES PERSONALITY WITH ACTIVITIES

By Mary Enck

"Pert" and "boundless energy" are two terms which easily describe one of Rollins' most outstanding graduating seniors, Jane Laverty.

You could hardly guess from her 5' 1" frame that Jane is one of the most energetic coeds on campus. However, you can't help noticing the pep and spark of her personality.

"Lav," as Janie is better known here at Rollins, is literally in everything. In her four years of school, she has been the News Editor of the Sandspur and "R" Book Editor. "Lav" is also a member of the Community Service Club, Chapel Staff, Libra, Key Society, Fiesta Committee, and Orientation Committee.

This year, Janie has devoted much time to WPRK, the Rollins radio station. She was elected a member of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities and elected as Secretary of the senior class. Many of us have also seen this blue-eyed gal cheering for the Rollins teams in her capacity as Captain of the cheerleaders.

A member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, Jane has held several offices.

Hailing from Frankfort, Indiana, Janie came to Rollins as a freshman. During her four years she majored in English and has put it to good use in her extra-curricular journalistic work on Sandspur, Tomokan, and the R Book.

Like any other Rollins gal, Jane is a sports enthusiast. Her favorite "participating" sports seem to be golf and water skiing, while baseball is her favorite spectator sport.

In fact, Jane has been a Cleveland Indian fan for years!

Being a senior, Jane will carry with her many fond memories of college life. Included in these memories will be not only times of fun, but times of hard work. Janie is sure that she will never forget all the wonderful weekends at the Pelican, as well as the many times she returned to the campus with "a good sunburn." As for the hard work, many are the nights she and other staff members burned the midnight oil in the Sandspur and Tomokan offices. But, Janie feels very definitely that it was all worth the lost sleep. Many of the most enjoyable "working" hours were spent at W.P.R.K. "I only wish," says Janie, "that Rollins would have had radio courses to offer for my entire four years. It is certainly excellent training for anyone."

As for her future plans, Janie is rather undecided. She hopes to get a position in Washington with a governmental agency, and also hopes to continue her work along the journalistic line. Her pet ambition is that she might continue studying in Europe for a year or so.

If we know Janie, she will accomplish all three.

Illinois Tech News Ed. On Probation For Slapstick Joke

The editor of the Technology News and four sub-editors of the Illinois Institute of Technology weekly newspaper were removed from their posts and placed on disciplinary probation.

Action came from the Disciplinary Committee because of use of a banned "Slapstick" title over a "suggestive joke." The Slapstick column was banned last fall by the office of the Dean of Students.

According to the chairman of the Publications Board, "it will be approximately one month before the next issue appears." The board will consider a dean's suggestion to "find people who would be interested in newspaper work, whether they have had experience on Technology News or not."

E Pluribus Nihili

In every athletic event, nothing is really decided until the last man is out, so to speak. Sunday afternoon exemplifies this as the K.A.'s won their second consecutive annual swimming meet.

The many fans who saw the finish of the meet recall the last three yards of the freestyle relay, or the case of the unconcerned lane marker. It was, of course, a tragic break for the Deltas, but one can't win them all.

To those who were uncertain as to the ultimate outcome of the meet; if the Deltas had won the relay, it would have been a tie and what happens in such a case, I don't know.

Despite the facts the crew team almost lost a coach and Fleet wore a shirt, the day's racing was run off superbly, and about six unclassified people suddenly became athletic heroes.

Carpenter

teams who brought home more bacon for the already overflowing athletic freezer. For a change, more students are better aware of the "quiet men" on the campus. All in all, it was an extremely athletic weekend.

By the time this issue is published, the Independent Women's show will be one day old and from what I've seen and heard, it's tops.

The music, excellent in the main, is overdone in spots by a good book and better lyrics.

The idea is cute, and I think college students are capable of handling farce plots. A great deal of work has gone into this show, and despite Harper's and TV, it should be seen by all.

The fact that one man along with one or two more students can sit down and conceive in a matter of minutes a radio show that will bring in phone calls from off campus during the show, and congratulatory letters the following day is proof positive that WPRK is listened to and enjoyed in spite of some student sarcasm.

Like the theater and the teams, WPRK is a strong bond between college and community relations. Those who know the station will venture to say it's one of the best relationships Rollins has.

Two girls from the studio, Ann Todd and Mary Enck, have gone one step farther and now have commercial spots on WDBO, TV. Regardless of TV glory, etc., it still is a stronger link between Rollins and the townsfolk. Through the small parts our students play, our town and county get to know the college on a more adult level.

"ROYAL FLUSH" MUSICAL IS AT ANNIE RUSSELL

"The Royal Flush," written by Dewey Anderson and under the sponsorship of the Independent Women's group, opened last night at the Annie Russell Theatre.

The musical, a farcical presentation of medieval English court intrigue in all its glory, is highlighted by songs and dances of a variety of moods and messages, all written by Anderson.

Principal parts are held by Dick Dixon, Sylvia Graves, Sally Sowers, Bill Hardy, Ford Oehne, and Tony Laynge.

The play is under the direction of Joan Jennings, last year's Phi Beta play director. Camma Ward is in charge of costumes and sets while Ford Oehne handles choreography.

Others taking part in the production are Bruce Beal, Marcia Ramsdell, Joyanne Herbert, Cyndy Wellenkamp, Ann Palmer, Ann Bowers and Carleton Clark. Also included is a large cast of dancers and singers.

Anderson's musical promises to be another in the long line of successes backed by the Independent Women, including last year's production "The Little Green Bottle."

"The Royal Flush" will continue tonight and tomorrow night. Tickets are on sale at the Annie Russell box office.

All students and members of the Rollins Family as well as others interested in good music and acting are invited to attend this production.

KA WINS SWIM TITLE FOR 2ND STRAIGHT YEAR

The K.A.'s won the Intramural Swim meet held at the Rollins waterfront Sunday as a result of Delta Chi Frank Ledgerwood's entanglement with a lane rope in the 200 yard relay.

Taking second place behind the two-time champion's, K. A., was Sigma Nu. Delta Chi and X-Club finished third and fourth in the four way meet. Acting as spectators rather than competitors were the Indies and the Lambda Chi's.

Winners in the swimming competition were John Allman of K.A. in the 100 yard dash. The 50 yard backstroke was won by Dick Dickson. Clubber Jim Boeook raced to a victory in the 50 yard dash and then repeated in the 50 yard breast stroke. The Delta Chi's Bob Finney took diving honors. Dick Potter swam to a victory in the 220 yard free style.

Going into the 200 yard relay, the Delts needed a first place to cinch a tie with the front-running K.A.'s. For the first three legs of the relay Delta Chi held the edge on the K. A.'s. Then anchorman Ledgerwood took to the water for what was to be the final lap pursued by Allman. However, just when a Delta Chi victory seemed assured, Ledgerwood fouled himself in the lane ropes allowing Allman the win and the K.A.'s their second straight swimming championship.

X CLUB DEFEATS DELTS TO GAIN SOFTBALL TIE

An X-Club uprising in the last of the sixth inning dropped the Delta Chi's into a first place tie with the Club in an intramural softball game Monday afternoon.

Leading 4-1 and having given up only four hits to the Clubs sluggers, the Delts looked like they had made a strong bid for their third straight championship. Then in the sixth Jim Boeook lashed into a Sprayregen pitch for a home-run that scored base runner Dick Costello. With two runs in, Dinga and Emerson got into the spirit of things with back to back hits. Hal Durant followed the hit parade with one of his own bringing across the plate Dinga and Emerson for the tying and winning runs.

Should both the Club and Delta Chi survive the remainder of the season which ends May 19 a play-off will be necessary. However the Delts must first get by the up-set minded Indies today and, then the K.A.'s while the Club needs only victories over Sigma Nu and Lambda Chi to close out the season.

Coach U. T. Bradley holds the state crew trophy after Rollins won permanent possession with its third state title in four seasons.

Crew Keeps State Trophy; To Row In Dad Vail Sat.

The Rollins Tars, who thus far this year have proven themselves to be the scourge of small college crews, swept to their seventh consecutive win and their third Florida State Championship as they defeated Florida Southern and Tampa in the State Regatta Saturday on Lake Maitland.

Covering the mile and three-sixteenths course in 6:06, the Tars finished two lengths in front of Southern and three and a half lengths in front of last place Tampa in the tri-meet.

In winning the Florida State Rowing Championship for the third straight time Dr. U. T. Bradley's big veteran shell automatically acquired permanent possession of the Lakeland Exchange Cup Trophy. It is a trophy that is awarded to the top Florida crew each season.

Reputed to be the eight to win in the regatta, Rollins fulfilled the expectations of their press clippings by easily paddling their way past Southern and Tampa. In spite of stroke Frank Thompson losing his seat twice during the race, Rollins led all the way. Thompson kept the cadence at an even 28-30 strokes per minute understroking both crews.

The Rollins J.V. came in second to Tampa's J.V. with Southern bringing up the rear. It was a surprise to Brad that his second line crew even finished let alone take second place as the crew had not been near the water for two weeks.

Yesterday afternoon the varsity left town for an excursion to the Dad Vail Regatta to be held on the Schuylkill River in Philadelphia on Saturday. Rollins will be rowing against Amherst, American International College, the defending champion Dartmouth, La Salle, Brown and Marieta of Ohio. Rollins has finished second for the past six years in this regatta.

Netters Split Even In Southern Trip, Play FSC Today

The Rollins tennis team climaxed its 1955 season today in Lakeland, opposing Florida Southern.

The Tars' record for the season is 10-6 after they split four matches on their Southern trip last week. The Tars blasted Washington and Lee, 9-0, and edged Virginia, 5-4, but lost matches to Duke, 7-2, and Presbyterian, 5-4.

The losses to Duke and Presbyterian were the second to each of the teams. The highlight of the trip was the near-upset of Presbyterian, one of the South's best teams. The Tars, playing without Nano Garcia on the trip, nevertheless came within a whisker of upsetting the South Carolinians, losing in the third doubles match.

Golfers have been sweltering at Dubs for the past two weeks in the intramural match play tournament. The championship match between Marlene Stewart and Barb McIntire, originally scheduled Wednesday, has been postponed. Marlene recently developed an acute case of tonsillitis and is under treatment at the Winter Park Hospital. We hope she'll be back on her feet.

Shooting for first flight glories yesterday were Martha Leavitt and Jackie Crinigan. Ann Todd and Bonnie Edwards vied for second flight honors. Roma Neundorf and Anne Richardson lost to McIntire and Stewart in the beginning championship play-offs May 4. Unlike last year's matches, daily practices between these four "pros" proved that anyone of these girls was capable of winning the tournament.

Next on the agenda is archery on May 13-14. To qualify (and you must do it today), each girl is required to score 100 points and a minimum of two girls must represent her group. The Columbia Round system will be used.

Only three days left to build up for the swim meet on Sunday. Those placing first, second and third in the preliminaries, Sunday at 11:00, shall compete in the afternoon finals. Each group is required to enter five events; a maximum of two girls in each.

Sunday's events and last year's times are: 25 yd. freestyle, 13.8; 25 yd. breast-stroke, 17.3; 25 yd. back, 17.7; 50 yd. freestyle, 31.4; 50 yd. relay, 2:27.8; finally, the vigorous plunge, 62 ft. Beat that! From all observations, the new crop of swimmers at Rollins will better these records.

GOLFERS CLIMB IN SOUTHERN; BOYNTON STARS

Frank Boynton became the first Rollins golfer in three years to qualify for the individual championship of the Southern Intercollegiate championships, and Rollins as a team climbed four notches over their 1954 placing in the meet held last Thursday through Saturday in Athens, Ga.

Playing with a field which coach Dan Nyimicz calls "even faster than the National Intercollegiate," Boynton, the first Tar golfer since Billy Key in 1952 to qualify, finished fifteenth among collegiate golfers from all over the South. He fired a 74-74, 148 to qualify, with 150 needed to qualify for the meet, and then shot 76-72 in his two rounds Saturday for 296.

The Rollins team as a whole, sliced 31 strokes off its 1954 total, finishing with a 612, to place them fifteenth among the 22 competing schools. Denny Folken, who last season missed qualifying by a single stroke with a 154, had a 152, only two strokes off, this season.

Dick Sucher and Bruce Remsburg each had 156's for the two qualifying rounds.

"The undergraduate is a lot of things . . . But it is important to keep in mind that he is an undergraduate because he lives and works within a specific context—the purposes of his college."

" . . . There are those who tell us that the basic trouble with the liberal arts college is that it really has no purpose . . . Without attempting here the impossibility of conclusive proof, I suggest that the American liberal arts college . . . can find a significant, even unique, mission in the quality of its historic purpose: to see men made whole in both competence and conscience."

Haldeman

John S. Dickey, president of Dartmouth College, discussing the role of the modern liberal arts college and its undergraduates in his Atlantic Monthly article "Conscience and the Undergraduate" from which these excerpts were taken, has brought some very pertinent problems to the forefront.

It is this duality of purpose that each liberal arts college, including Rollins, attempts to offer its students. Whether it be called personal education or diversified education, the purpose towards which the liberal arts college strives is in the end virtually the same, to offer the undergraduate something more than "competence" in a single profession or avocation, to produce the whole man.

When members of the Rollins basketball team are dropped from scholarship, it brings up the question of whether an athlete should be deprived of a college education simply because he has failed as an athlete. It brings up this point at Rollins, because Rollins is a liberal arts college, because Rollins is a small college, and because Rollins students in day to day contact with athletes, regard them not as athletes but as individuals. A part of the Rollins student body that hasn't been in a gymnasium since high school associates freely with the basketball player socially and in class. The basketball player, playing against squads with which Rollins has very little natural rivalry and he himself has never heard of before coming to school here, before apathetic cheering sections, is given little incentive to play ball. However, because it is a small school, and because there are few restrictions placed upon athletes, he fits into the social and scholastic structure of the college and is in a position to contribute to and profit from the liberal arts education.

But at the same time full scholarships are given for basketball. There is a basketball coach who is here to win ball games. The basketball player is being given the advantages of an education to help him win those games. There are only a certain number of scholarships given. If the ballplayers that he has do not win ball games, he must either stand pat with those ballplayers, or drop them from scholarship to make room for someone who will win ballgames.

Right or not, the main purpose of giving athletic scholarships is to win ball games. The dropping of a few boys from athletic scholarship in a large school would make no ripple, because the athletes know that if they fail to make the grade athletically, there is no place for them. They are allowed a much smaller orbit of social existence and usually placed under much more stringent training requirements.

Tars Clinch FIBC Crown, Stretch Win Streak To 10

The Rollins Tars sewed up their third consecutive state championship and first since the organization of the Florida Intercollegiate Baseball Conference last weekend, blasting Miami, 8-3 and 8-2, in a pair of games in Coral Gables.

It was the ninth and tenth wins in a row for the Tars, who face Stetson tomorrow and Saturday at Harper-Shepherd field to climax the 1955 regular season.

The first win in Coral Gables gave Rollins a 5-1 Conference record and assured them of no worse than a tie in Conference play. The second Miami game did not count in Conference standings, but Rollins wrapped up the crown with its victory over Florida Southern Tuesday.

Senior lefthander Bill Cary and freshman righthander Harry Bennett combined to hurl a couple of five-hitters at the Hurricanes.

Meantime the Tars backed them up with a pair of extra base attacks as they made it four in a row over the Hurricanes.

The three way combination of catcher Don Finnigan, leftfielder Connie Mack Butler and shortstop Nick Vancho led the first game attack. The Tars twice put together two run rallies as Finnigan walked, Butler doubled him in and Vancho singled Butler across. Finnigan scored three times in all.

Cary struck out seven and walked only two in the opener, giving up only one earned run in notching his fifth win against a single loss.

Bennett, making his second start of the season his second successful one, hurled no-hit ball for the first four innings of the second game. He struck out 10 men in all in picking up his second win without a defeat.

Al Fantuzzi with a pair of doubles and Jim Doran with a double and a triple led the eight-hit Rollins attack in the second game.

All was not good news for the Tars during the series, however, as senior rightfielder Dave Robinson was lost for the remainder of the season when he fell hard on his left shoulder making a diving catch of a low liner to get Bennett out of a jam in the fifth inning. Robinson pulled three ligaments in his shoulder.

Sophomore Ra Moody will probably play for Robinson if the Tars are reinvented to the N.C.A.A. playoffs. Infielder Dickie Williams, a service returnee to the Tars, may

ROLLINS WOMEN TAKE WATER SKI CHAMPIONSHIP

For the third time in as many years the Rollins woman's water skiing team, in competition for the Florida Intercollegiate Water Skiing Championship held at Cypress Gardens Saturday, won and retired the women's trophy. This was the sixth title Rollins women have earned in the last seven years.

The Rollins male contingent came in third in the men's division behind first place Florida Southern College and runner-up University of Miami.

Spearheaded by Page Blackmore, Sally True, Paula Crandall and Sally Nye, the Tar Belles captured 2,3,4,5, spots respectively in the slalom event. Marge Payton of Florida Southern defended her slalom win of last year.

The Rollins girls bowed to Barbara Goode of Southern in trick skiing but managed to place 2,3,4,5, in this phase of the meet.

Though failing to take any first places the Rollins girls amassed a total of 1233 1/2 points to Southern's 991 1/2 which enabled them to take permanent possession of the woman's trophy.

Southern and Miami outclassed the Rollins men skiing team mainly because the two teams were using professional skiers employed by Cypress Gardens but representing their schools in this intercollegiate contest.

The Men's National Water Skiing Champion, Butch Rosenberg, won the men's slalom. Rollins' Frank Ledgerwood placed fourth.

Bob Goddard and Bob Finney of Rollins gained second and third positions in trick skiing.

Science Students Present Open House Tomorrow

The Rollins Scientific Society will present its annual Science Open House this Friday, May 13, at Knowles Science Hall from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from 7-9 p.m.

Exhibits have been prepared by the Physics, Chemistry, Biology and Mathematics departments. Among them are a "Parade of Animals" by the Biology department; a graph indicating the availability of job opportunities in the field of Mathematics; suspension of a water droplet by means of stroboscopic light by the Physics department; and a demonstration of a mercury arc by the Chemistry department.

Along with the display of equipment, there will be numerous experiments, exhibitions of chemical procedure, and demonstrations of laboratory techniques.

Science students in Central Florida high schools have been issued a special invitation to attend the Open House, which is open to the public. Last year approximately 1500 people attended.

The Rollins Scientific Society is designed to bring together students interested in discussing and hearing about advancements within the several fields of science. Joe Mulson is president of the Society.

CHEM. PROBLEMS TO BE DISCUSSED SAT. AFTERNOON

The High School Teachers section of the American Chemistry Society will meet in the Knowles Science Hall Saturday afternoon to partake in panel discussions about problems in chemistry teaching in college and high schools.

The panel will consist of two high school teachers, one college student and two college professors, Dr. Carroll of the Rollins Science department and Professor Krebs from the University of Florida.

The purpose of the panel and meeting is to stimulate chemistry teaching in high schools.

Also on the agenda is a one-hour demonstration about radioactivity by Professor Krebs and a demonstration session displaying easy experiments for high school teaching. All students are invited to attend.

The American Chemistry Society is holding their annual meeting at the Orange Court Hotel in Orlando this Friday and Saturday, May 13-14.
